An Opening Salute!

Extraordinary Purchases from the

ALEXANDER and ANDERSON

WHOLESALE STOCK, TORONTO.

Business must be made interesting; and invaluable opportunities frequently come from the unfortunate mistakes of others, which shrewdness helps us to profit by. Nothwithstanding the heavy blockade of mammoth boxes and bales of New Fall Goods almost daily occuring in front of our store doors, an opportunity has just come our way of securing a very large quantity of household goods out of the regular channels. The wholesale stock of MESSRS. ALEXANDER & ANDERSON was placed on sale last week by Wyld, Grassett & Darling, of Toronto, of which we bought very largely at a very low price on the Dollar. We may state at once that it will be impossible to duplicate these extraordinary values—as the prices have been marked on a scale considerably lower than wholesale inventory list prices.

ON FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 9th.

We place this immense purchase on sale, and for each succeeding day shoppers will reap the benefit. The stock embraces—

Dress Goods, Black Silks, Dress Trimmings, Damask Tablings, Towels, Towellings, Napkins, Fancy Household Linens, Sheetings, Pillow Casings, Made-up Pillow Cases, Embroideries, Handkerchiefs, Ribbons, Veilings, Hosiery, Tapestry Carpets, English Linoleums and other Housefurnishings.

Every piece of goods is this season's style and the choice of any one means perfect satisfaction. No circumstance can arise to make conditions better to buy Dress Goods at lower prices.

EMPRESS OF AUSTRIA

Murdered by an Italian Anarchist at Geneva.

HER MAJESTY WAS STABBED.

The Assassin Captured Red-Handed—Grief of the Emperor Francis Joseph—The Austrian Court Plunged Into Mourning—Messages of Sympathy, Including One From Queen Victoria.

Geneva, Switzerland, Sept. 12.—The Empress of Austria was assassinated at the Hotel Beaurivago Saturday afternoon by an Anarchist, who was arrested. The Empress had been stopping at the hotel for several days.

It appears that Her Majesty was walking from her hotel to the landing place of the steamer at about 1 o'clock when an Italian Anarchist suddenly approached and stabbed her to the heart. The Empress fell, got up again and was carried to the steamer unconscious. The boat started, but, seeing the Empress had not recovered consciousness, the captain returned and the Empress was carried to the Hotel Beaurivago, where she expired.

Her Majesty was carried to the hotel on a stretcher, which was hastily improvised with oars and sail cloth. Doctors and priests were immediately summoned, and a telegram was sent to Emperor Francis Joseph. All efforts to revive Her Majesty were unavailing, and she expired at 3 o'clock.

The medical examination showed that the assassin must have used a small triangular file. After striking the blow he ran along the Rue Des Alpes, with the evident intention of entering the Square Des Alpes, but before reaching it he was seized by two cabmen who had witnessed the crime. They handed him over to a boatman and a gendarme, who conveyed him to the police station.

The prisoner made no resistance. He even sang as he walked along, saying, "I did it," and "She must be dead."

Later, when taken to the court house and interrogated by a magistrate in the presence of three members of the Local Government and the police officials, he pretended not to know French, and refused to answer questions. The police, on searching him, found a document, showing his name to be Luigi Lauchent, born in Paris in 1873, and an Italian soldier.

The assassin, while being interrogated by the magistrate, said he came to Geneva with the intention of killing the Duc D Orleans, but the latter had already left.

Luccesi confessed that he had been an Anarchist since he was 18 years old. "If all Anarchists did their duty as I have done mine," he said, "bourgeois society would soon disappear."

The Geneva police had no notice of the visit of the Empress to the city.

The Countess Sztaray, one of the Empress' ladies in waiting, telegraphed the awful news to Adjutant-General Count Paar, who received the message about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and upon him fell the painful task of informing the Emperor. When Count Paar informed the Emperor of the murder His Majesty was wholly overcome. He sank to the ground groaning, and cried: "Am I not to be spared any pain or grief in this world?"

Late Saturday evening the Emperor said to the Lord Chamberlain, Prince Lichtenstein: "It is incomprehensible that anyone should lay a hand upon a woman who throughout her life has done nothing but good actions."

Everyone sympathizes in the terrible misfortune which has befallen the monarch, who seems to be chosen by destiny to suffer the direst misfortunes, which have reached their crowning height in the year of his jubilee. But those who know him are persuaded that his deep religious feeling and sense of duty will sustain him.

Indescribable Grief at Vienna.

Vennia, Sept. 12.—The news of the assassination became known here shortly before 6 o'clock p.m. on Saturday. It spread like lightning. The streets were suddenly filled with multitudes of people, many becoming impassable for vehicles. Extra editions were issued by all the papers. Many Viennese considered the report incredible, until the semi-official Wiener Abend Post appeared confirming the statement of the other papers. All the papers accompanied the announcement with warm tributes to the Empress. They were eagerly snatched from the hands of the sellers and were read aloud to groups of citizens. An indescribable grief overspread the people. The performances at the Court theatres and the Jubilee Exhibition have been cancelled.

BRITISH ROYALTY'S SYMPATHY.

Horror at the Crime and Sympathy for the Bereaved Emperor.

London, Sept. 12.—Queen Victoria and the Prince and Princess of Wales telegraphed their condolences to Emperor Francis Joseph.

The Court Circular yesterday says: "The Queen received last evening, with feelings of the utmost consternation, the startling news of the terrible crime. The Queen mourns profoundly the loss of Her Imperial Majesty, with whom she had been on terms of friendship for many years. She feels likewise most deeply for the honored and bereaved Emperor, who has experienced so many trials during his long and beneficial reign."

Switzerland's Grief.

Berne, Switzerland, Sept. 12.—The Federal Council met yesterday morning and sent a very sympathetic and condolatory telegram to Emperor Francis Joseph.

Sketch of the Empress.

The Empress of Austria, wife of Francis Joseph, Emperor of Austria and King of Hungary, was born Dec. 24, 1837. She was a daughter of Duke Maximilian of Bavaria, and was married April 24, 1854. They had three children, the Archduchess Gisela, who is married to Prince Luitpold of Bavaria, the Archduke Rudolph, who married Princess Stephanie of Belgium, and who was seemingly assassinated in 1889, and the Archduchess Marie Valerie, who married the Archduke Franz Salvator of Austria-Tuscany. The late Empress was an enthusiastic horsewoman.

Plans for the Funeral.

Vienna, Sept. 12.—The plans for the funeral of the late Empress contemplate bringing the remains to Vienna Thursday, lying in state on Friday and the obsequies of interment on Saturday.

All the Archdukes and Archduchess Marie Valerie have arrived at Schoenbrunn. The Emperor Francis Joseph has not yet left Schoenbrunn. The Crown Princess Stephanie, who has been staying at Darmstadt, has been summoned. The Emperor's fortitude is the topic of universal admiration. He is bearing up manfully, despite the terrible shock which, in view of his age, had inspired the gravest apprehension. Although at first stunned and then slightly hysterical, he soon regained his self control and displayed remarkable calmness. Occasionally, however, completely overpowered by his grief, he moaned piteously, repeatedly sobbing the name of the Empress.

The court will go into mourning for six months. The shock of the news crazed one of the court servants, who rushed from the palace to Burgplatz shrieking, "Where is the murderer of our Empress." Despatches of condolence are arriving at the palace from all parts of the world, testifying to profound horror and sympathy.

AGUINALDO'S CONQUEST.

Nearly the Whole Island of Luzon in the Hands of Insurgents.

London, Sept. 12.—The Manila correspondent of the Times, telegraphing Sept. 9, says: "The insurgent conquest of the Island of Luzon is rapidly approaching completion. Recent authentic reports announce the capture of successive Spanish positions and at present the rebels control every foot of the island except Manila, Cavite and a small portion of the Province of Albay.

"They hold over 9,000 Spanish prisoners and have recently captured several thousand rifles, some cannon, a large quantity of ammunition and several small armed steamers."

The Methodist Conference.

Toronto, Sept. 12.—The interest in the 20th century million dollar scheme was manifested by the attendance at the conference on Saturday. The entire morning was taken up with a discussion of the fund. The talk, with little exception proceeded upon the pleasing assumption that the fund would be raised, and, indeed, if it had been actually lying upon the table before the delegates Saturday morning, they could not have debated the disposal of it with more animation. As regards finality, however, little was done, and the matter again lies over until Monday afternoon.

Li Hung Chang's Dismissal.

Pekin, Sept. 12.—An Imperial edict announcing that the Emperor has no further need of Li Hung Chang's services as a Minister of the Chinese Foreign Office was promulgated Thursday. It is a short, curt dismissal, for which no reasons are given. He presumably remains in office as Grand Secretary. The news of Li Hung Chang's dismissal was not unexpected. A growing distrust of the great Chinese statesman has been observable for some time past among his colleagues. It is expected that Russia will strenuously endeavor to bring about the reinstatement of Li Hung Chang.

In certain parts of Persia the thermometer stays at 100 degrees night and day for the greater part of the summer, while so unbearable a temperature as 130 degrees is not unknown in that country.

NOT A VESTIGE LEFT

Of the Pride and Glory of New Westminster, B. C.

THE CITY SWEPT BY THE FLAMES

People Homeless and Destitute—No Stores or Places of Shelter for the Victims of the Fire—Blazing Ships Carry the Fire Along Water Front—Loss $2,500,000.

Vancouver, B.C., Sept. 12.—The entire business centre of New Westminster today is a smouldering heap of brick, mortar and debris. Not a vestige is left of the city's pride and glory of yesterday. The loss is enormous, amounting to millions of dollars.

At 11.30 Saturday night a fire broke out on the river steamer Edgar, lying in front of Brakeman & Ker's produce warehouse, adjoining the city public market. The warehouse speedily caught fire, and as there was a stiff gale blowing at the time from up the river, the flames in no time reached the market buildings. Then they spread with marvelous rapidity to the brick building in which the Columbian newspaper was printed, a large four-storey edifice.

Fire Ships Afloat.

By this time the Edgar had drifted from her mooring at the wharf and set fire to two other river boats, which, in parting with their lines, drifted down the stream alongside the wharves and warehouses, setting everything along the water front on fire for a distance of close upon three-quarters of a mile, resulting in the complete destruction of the wharves, the warehouses, the railway tracks, the Canadian Pacific depot, a freight car being lowered at the market, one of the fire halls, a couple of canneries, with their contents, including several thousand cases of canned salmon. The westward progress of the fire along the water front was stopped at the railway wharf.

Paralleling the devastation along the water front, the business blocks on Columbia street, a distance close upon three-quarters of a mile, were speedily falling victims to the devouring element. From Front street to Royal avenue in a short time became a solid mass of flames, licking up as if it were tinder everything in its pathway. Front street from the market building westward was a solid business quarter of the city, occupied by whites and Chinese.

Both sides of Columbia street were solidly built of handsome expensive brick blocks, including the post office and other Dominion Government offices, the Colonial and Guichon Hotels, the Banks of Montreal and British Columbia, the Columbian and Sun newspapers, the club, Masonic Temple, grocery, dry goods and hardware stores, every one of which was consumed in an incredibly short space of time. Fanned by the wind, the flames spread northwesterly along the brow of the high ground in the direction of Royal avenue, whose great width only stopped what would have been practically a wiping out of the city.

The Property Destroyed.

North of Columbia street stood the handsome new Provincial Court House and office of the Government officials. This building was erected to replace the one burned eight years ago. Nothing but the vault and the charred walls are left of it. The City Hall building also fell a victim to the flames.

The numerous beautiful residences which adorned the site of the hill from Fourth street in the east to Tenth street in the west, and Royal avenue, south side, on the north were likewise burned. Nothing remains now to indicate where stood costly and beautiful homes of well-to-do people but the scorching fruit tree and the bare brick chimney. One residence, that of Alex. Ewen, the well-known salmon cannery king, cost $35,000.

The Area Burned Over.

The area of buildings consumed may be briefly stated to extend from east to west fully three-quarters of a mile, and from the water front to Royal avenue, a full half mile. With the exception of ex-Sheriff Armstrong's house and a small cottage, every other semblance of a building, stone, brick, frame or shack, have been swept away. There are but three stores, and they are small frame ones, left in the city; only two hotels, and these are a long distance apart.

Holy Trinity, the Baptist and Methodist churches were consumed, with contents.

The jail was on fire several times, but the inmates, with water buckets, put the embryo flames out, as well as helping themselves, so it is reported, to their liberty.

The Vancouver Fire Brigade sent a contingent over, covering the distance of 12 miles in an hour and a quarter. They rendered effective service in staying the progress of the fire in the east and west. At 9 o'clock a meeting of the citizens of Vancouver was held in the Board of Trade rooms. Relief committees were organized and several carloads of provisions, bedding, utensils and tents went by train and tramway. Relief in this line was badly wanted.

Eleven Hundred Homeless.

About eleven hundred are rendered homeless and many destitute. The steamer City of Nanaimo at the time of writing is en route for New Westminster direct, with provisions, tents, etc., in charge of Lieut.-Col. Peters and a deputation from the City Council. The Mayor and aldermen of Vancouver and city officials are in New Westminster consulting with the officials there as to the best means to adopt for relief.

As yet there is but one life lost due to the fire. A Chinese merchant was found dead, grasping in his nerveless clutch two bags of gold. He had died of fright.

The wife of a Front street resident, who had been ailing for some time, died during the night, caused, it is believed, by fright. The destruction was over by 3 o'clock in the morning, by which hour a most lurid and harrowing picture presented itself. People had to flee for their lives from place to place. There are numerous incidents of remarkable bravery.

Creeping Consumption

Do not think for a single moment that consumption will ever strike you a sudden blow. It does not come that way.

It creeps its way along.

First, you think it is a little cold; nothing but a little hacking cough; then a little loss in weight; then a harder cough; then the fever and the night sweats.

The suddenness comes when you have a hemorrhage.

Better stop the disease while it is yet creeping.

You can do it with

YUKON YARNS.

No Government should desire to escape fair criticism of its administration, but any Government has a right to object to wholesale denunciation and misrepresentation, invented or founded on alleged facts for which there is no probable foundation. The Dominion Government's administration of the Klondyke has been viciously assailed by the Journalistic representatives of the yellow journal. Yankee miners, naturally hostile to regulations for the mining districts of the Yukon, which require the enforcement of law and the maintenance order, have told slanderous stories of the manner in which affairs have been administered in the Klondyke. This is natural —"no rogue ever felt the halter draw with good opinion of the law." But it is not to be expected that Canadian journals for the mere desire to make paltry political capital hould join with such characters to discredit the Government, and thereby play into the hands of the enemies of the country. According to Major Walsh, the returned administrator of the territory, there is no foundation for the complaints and insinuations made by disgruntled miners and spread broad cast by party sheets. The Major, in an interview with the Montreal Herald, said that before he had left Dawson, he had requested the public to send in any charges they had against any official in the employ of the Government. He had also had a request made from the platform at a mass meeting that if people who were accusing the officials and employees of the Government would present charges to him they would be thoroughly investigated. To this there was not a single response, which is the best possible evidence of the utter falsity of the charges that have been made.

THE Mail and Empire says :—"We want two-cent postage and we want it without delay." This is interesting—merely, however, as a sample of "cheek"—from a journal that has done everything in its power to hamper Mr. Mulock in his scheme of postage reform and imperial penny postage. While the party the organ speaks for, and shrieks for, were in power eighteen years muddling and mixing the Post Office Department and plunging it deeper and deeper into the slough of deficit, the Mail helped the good work on and never once raised its voice in advocacy of a single reform. Now it demands two-cent postage at once.

SOME PERTINENT QUERIES.

(Chicago Interior.)

Our liberties, our laws, our literature our learning, our enterprising spirit, the land we stand upon, was won for us by England. Wolfe won for us on the heights of Abraham, every foot of land between the Alleghanies and the Mississippi. But, for the most decisive victory this would now be an appanage of France—and we would not be here at all. Mexico, with its peculiar Spanish and Indian population, would now extend up to Alaska. Do we hate England on account of Blackstone's commentaries, Shakspeare, Walter Scott, Bobby Burns, Tennyson, or because she stuck to Napoleon, the butcher of Europe, sparing neither blood nor money till she stopped him?

By the way, where would Germany be but for England? What makes the difference between Jena and Waterloo? Emperor William hates England! Where would he be but for England?

CHEMONG

To the Editor of the Examiner:

As an unprejudiced observer and a disinterested visitor I feel bound to record my experience of this unique and delightful spot and to express my surprise that, comparatively speaking, so few of our local residents visit it or enjoy it in the way they should do, for the place abounds with material as well as created advantages. In the first place the drive from Peterborough is a short and easy one of six miles, the road is good and pleasant and a short distance from the sixth mile stone is situated a most comfortable hotel, called the Park Hotel. Here I have stayed have dined and observed the pleasant golf, tea and dancing parties going on all through the summer. Mr. Fobert, the proprietor, tells me he can accommodate fifty people comfortably and my experience leads me to say that he can do this well and at reasonable cost. The table is well furnished and the food excellent. baths are in the house and a bathing house belonging to the hotel on the lake shore. Pure cold spring water is available for temperance people and a glass of good beer for those who are less fortunate. Fish caught in the lake is a staple article of diet and milk from the hotel cows always to hand. The hotel charges are reasonable and visitors will find everything very satisfactory. But this is not all about Chemong. The Park is, of course, the centre of attraction and extends about a mile and a half long the shore of the lake and occupies a space extending over 50 to 75 acres, covered with turf and dotted over with pine and other trees, the aroma from which is of a most salutary and pleasant description. Throughout the Park are scattered summer cottages, belonging to parties living in Peterborough and elsewhere. Many of these cottages, which are furnished with all necessaries, can be rented for a moderate sum by responsible tenants, and being within easy distance of the lake, are very enjoyable during the summer and autumn, as well as the spring months. The lake itself abounds with fish and many a bass and lunge have been taken from its waters. Boats, fishing lines, baits, etc., are supplied by Mr. Pope, who acts as a kind of go-between of the place and is nice and obliging. The views and excursions from Chemong are extensive and delightful. A boat runs daily on the lake and an excursion steamer can always be hired for trips to Stony Lake and round to Lakefield. And last, but not least, there is Ennismore with its lovely Roman Catholic cathedral of the Holy Cross or "the Cross," as it is called, splendidly situated on the crest of the hill and visible for miles around. The bridge leading to which from Bridgenorth and Chemong is of unique construction and well worthy of a visit, floating as it does across the lake and affording a roadway of more than a mile long, connecting the Peterborough district with Ennismore. The construction of this bridge is composed of baulks of timber securely lashed together, upon which lumber wide enough for a roadway is placed, after the manner of pontoon bridges of military construction. The whole is a piece of admirable construction and usefulness.

So much for Chemong and its advantages to Peterborough and the district. The village of Bridgenorth is fairly well supplied with shops. The best of meat, good bread and butter and at the post office sundry and many useful commodities may be had. There is a Nonconformist church in the village and it is to be hoped that the time may not be far distant when a chapel of ease to the Church of England in Peterborough be an established fact.

The Industrial.

Toronto, Sept. 12. — Approximately there were 350,000 people who attended the Industrial Fair here during the past two weeks. Previous to this year Li Hung Chang's (Labor Day) held the record for attendance, but this year that record was beaten on Labor Day, Sept. 5, with 43,500 gate paying visitors; Farmers' Day, Sept. 7, with 46,000 g.p.v.; and Americans' Day, Sept. 8, with 50,000 g.p.v. Children's Day there were 52,000, but this is not counted as a competitor. The total receipts at the gate this year were $97,640, an increase over last year of $22,904.

A man may dress as well as his own good judgment and the assistance of an artistic tailor may elect. He may take his "tubs" but if his digestive organs are out of order, he will have an unwholesome appearance. His complexion and the white of his eyes will have a yellowish cast. His tongue will be coated, appetite poor, his teeth rusty, his breath abominable. He is one big unmistakable sign of constipation. The quickest, surest, easiest way to cure this trouble is to take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are made of refined, concentrated vegetable extracts. Nothing in the least harmful enters into their composition. They hunt down all impurities, and "make them move on." They are the product of of many years' study and pratice. Dr. Pierce cannot afford to put forth a worthless article.

A LIVERPOOL ADVANCE.

The Wheat Markets on Saturday—Heavy Receipts From the Northwest—The Latest Prices.

Saturday Evening, Sept. 10.

The chief feature in the grain market today was the issuance of the United States Government crop report this afternoon. It makes the condition of wheat the same as at the same date last year, and the corn condition 84.1, against 84.2 on the same date last year and 87 a month ago.

On the Chicago board, all deliveries were strong early, but later dropped a clear cent a bushel, closing at about the bottom figures of the day. The large Northwest receipts for the day constituted an important bearish factor. Corn eased off ½c in sympathy and on failure of frost to materialize.

On the Liverpool board, wheat futures to-day advanced ⅝d to ¾d per cental, and corn was unsteady.

A YOUNG GIRL'S ESCAPE.

Saved from being a Nervous Wreck BY MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS.

For the benefit of Canadian mothers, who have daughters who are weak, pale, run down or nervous, Mrs. Belanger, 123 Rideau Street, Ottawa, Ontario, made the following statement, so that no one need suffer through ignorance of the right remedy to use: "My daughter suffered very much from heart troubles at times. Often she was so bad that she could not speak, but had to sit and gasp for breath. She was so extremely nervous that her limbs would fairly shake and tremble. Frequently she would have to leave school; and finally she grew so weak that we were much alarmed about her health. I gave her many remedies, but they did not seem to do her any good.

Then I heard of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and got a box of them, and they have indeed worked wonders with her. I can recommend them very highly as the best remedy I ever heard of for complaints similar to those from which my daughter suffered."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills never fail to do good. They cure palpitation, faintness, dizziness, smothering sensation, weakness, nervousness, sleeplessness, anaemia, female troubles and general debility. Sold by all druggists at 50c. a box or three boxes for $1.25. T. Milburn & Co., Toronto, Ontario.

LAXA-LIVER PILLS act on the system in an easy and natural manner, removing all poisons and impurities. They cure Constipation, Sick Headache, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Jaundice and Liver Complaint. Price 25c., all druggists. Every pill guaranteed to give satisfaction or money refunded.

PIGS IN QUARANTINE.

Hog Cholera Symptoms in Carleton County—Experts Are Investigating.

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—Dr. A. E. James, Dominion Veterinary Inspector, has placed five piggeries in Carleton County under quarantine, as there is very strong evidence that hogs in all of them are affected by hog cholera. Inspector Hornidge of the city markets suspected hogs offered for sale of being diseased. Dr. James inspected the piggeries, which he has since quarantined, and found symptoms that made him believe the animals were affected by genuine hog cholera. On Thursday he had Professor Baker of McGill University come to Ottawa, and with the professor he made a careful examination of one of the hogs which was slaughtered. The professor was satisfied that the case was one of hog cholera, but to remove all possibility of doubt, it was decided to have an examination made by a bacteriologist. This examination is now being made at McGill University, Montreal. The piggeries quarantined contain from 5 to 30 hogs each.

RIVALS A MIRACLE.

Mr. George C. Chalker's Terrible Sufferings Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Howsey's Rapids, Sept. 12—Mr. George C. Chalker, of this place, tells a remarkable story of restoration to sound health, that rivals the far-famed St Anne de Beaupre cures.

Briefly Mr. Chalker's story is as follows: "I suffered horribly for years, from Kidney Disease. I could do no heavy work. My pain was almost unendurable. No remedy did me the least good till I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Six boxes of this wonderful medicine have cured me completely—made a new man of me. I cannot speak highly enough of them. I can state with the utmost confidence that Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure the very worst case of Kidney Disease.

Chesterfield Superficiality.

Chesterfield's idea of excellence was essentially superficial, for his praise of solid acquirement and genuine principle is always coupled with the assertion of their entire inutility if unaccompanied by grace, external polish and an agreeable manifestation. He omits all consideration of their intrinsic worth and absolute dignity; their value to the individual, according to him, is wholly proportioned to his skill in using them in a social form.

In one of his earlier letters to Philip Stanhope he writes: "What an advantage has a graceful speaker with genteel motions, a handsome figure, over one who shall speak full as much good sense, but who is destitute of these ornaments. In business how prevalent are the graces, how detrimental is the want of them! If you should not acquire manners, all the rest will be of little use to you. By manners I mean engaging, insinuating, shining manners, a distinguished politeness, an almost irresistible address, a superior gracefulness in all you say and do." He would have manners overlay individuality and goes so far as to declare that a soldier is a brute, a scholar, a pedant and a philosopher, a cynic without good breeding.—Gentleman's Magazine.

A Former Chinese Fleet.

It consisted chiefly of old junks which had not been in the water for more than 30 years. During this lengthened period the sea had receded, and the land had formed to the extent of more than a mile, the consequence being that these ancient vessels were high and dry, their masts, sails and gear had rotted away from the long exposure to the sun and rain, the paint had peeled from their sides, and, in some cases, the very planking had been stolen for firewood. —"Pioneering In Formosa," by W. A. Pickering.

Moved Nine Million Pounds.

American engineers have just performed a feat at Bismarck, N. D., which has never before been equaled. It took them an entire year to make their preparations, and when all was ready they moved a pier of the Northern Pacific railway bridge, weighing 9,000,000 pounds, about four feet in a few minutes.

The allowance of the lord mayor of London, up to the mayoralty of Sir Sidney Waterlow in 1872, was $40,000 annually, but it was increased in that year to $50,000, at which sum it has ever since remained.

There is an American hotel at Limon, Porto Rico. It is called the Grand. It rests on piers set in the coral reef where ceaseless spray from the nearby surf reflects rainbow tints in the sunlight.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

A Valuable Addition to the Museum Contributed by Chief Paudash, of Hiawatha.

Councillor McWilliams has just secured another valuable curio for the Historical Society, which will prove quite an addition to the museum.

The new contribution is a medal which was presented to the grandfather of the present Chief Paudash, of the Hiawatha reserve, by Geo. III. for services rendered in the war of 1812.

The medal was presented in 1814 and is of solid silver, being probably three inches in diameter and an eighth of an inch in thickness. On one side is the bust of Geo. III. in raised relief, around the edge being the words, "Georgius III. Dei Gratia Brittanarium Rex F. D." On the reverse side is the British coat of arms.

There are very few of these medals in existence and Chief Paudash is deserving of the special thanks of the Society for the valuable gift which he is making through Mr. McWilliams.

British Columbia Mine Owner.

The following from the Kootenaian, Kaleo, British Columbia, mentions as a mine owner a Peterborough boy, Mr. "Bob" Stenson, eldest son of Mr. J. T. Stenson, town:" The Edris group, owned by H. M. Richardson, R. Pollock, R. J. Stenson, J. C. Hanson and Jas. Lathem, consisting of a group of five claims, were located on Aug. 13th, on the head of Davis Creek. Sample assays were made yesterday by Jas. Cook, and the locators are confident they have a big property if surface indications count for anything. Some galena appears in the lead which assayed 60 ounces in silver. A picked sample ran $81.02 in free milling gold, while an average from the lead taken over 2000, feet, ran $26 40 in gold. The owners will put a force of men to work at once developing the property."

The ladies will be interested in learning of the important changes which have recently taken place in Mrs. Ensign's corset factory. For over ten years Mrs. Ensign's corset factory has occupied the premises in Snowden's block, and during that period her business has grown to such an extent that about three years ago it was found necessary to enlarge the capacity of the machines. At that time an additional set of new sewing machines were installed under the Singer work-board system, operated by electricity. These premises have again outgrown their usefulness. The demands for Mrs. Ensign's health and bygene corsets and other goods have steadily increased, so as to require the removal to the present new premises. The new factory is now located nearer the front street, being more conveniently situated near the corner of George, next door to Turnbull's millinery store on Simcoe street. Here a very complete and compact corset factory has been fitted up. The front office has a wide plate glass front, and the interior is admirably arranged for business purposes. The private fitting room for ordered corsets is conveniently placed, both for ease of access and for good light. The operating room is run by a one-horse Kay & Co. motor, which now runs fifteen machines fitted with the Singer work-board system, capable of turning out a very large amount of work. These machines consist of binders, flossers and joiners, all of the Singer Co.'s manufacture, with centre bobbins, and which run at a rapid speed. Mr. J. H. Greer, electrician, had charge of the work of connecting the plant and installing the machinery. Mrs. Ensign has shown special aptitude in catering to the wants of the ladies of Peterborough for ordered corsets during these past ten years. Out-of-town orders have also grown very fast, and shipments are made direct to many points in Ontario and as far north as Winnipeg. In her splendid new premises and with those improved facilities, Mrs. Ensign hopes to meet these growing demands and to fill all orders with greater promptness.

HONOURABLE DISCHARGE FOR FRED. ELMHIRST.

HE WAS PROVEN NOT TO BE A SPANISH SPY.

Arrived in Montreal From Atlanta Georgia, Where he was Confined for a Month on Suspicion.

(Special to The Examiner.)

Montreal, Sept. 12—Frad. Elmhirst, of Peterborough, who joined the 3rd U. S. Cavalry at the outbreak of the Spanish-American war, has arrived here from Atlanta, Georgia, where he was confined for a month on suspicion of being a Spanish spy. He received an honourable discharge.

Elmhirst is the son of Mr. Philip Elmhirst, of Otonabee, and when the reports reached Peterborough concerning his arrest great anxiety was felt on his behalf by his relatives. Mr. John Lang, M. P., had already solicited the interference of the Dominion Government in the matter, when the prisoner received his discharge.

OBITUARY.

Death of Mrs. Jane Moyse, in Cobourg, Last Week.

The Cobourg Sentinel-Star says: Yesterday there was laid at rest in St. Peter's cemetery one of the most respected and well known old ladies of Cobourg. We refer to the late Mrs. Jane B. Moyse, relict of the late Thomas Moyse.

The deceased was a native of Cornwall, England, where she was married, and came to Canada over 40 years ago, and settled in Cobourg.

Her husband was drowned at the breaking away of the factory dam 34 years ago, where two other citizens also lost their lives at the same time.

The old lady, who came in from Peterborough four weeks ago, was visiting at the residence of Mrs. W. B. Thomas, Ball street, where she died after a few days' illness at the ripe old age of 74 years.

Of seven children—four boys and three girls—two survive, Mrs. Edward Carr, of Peterborough, and Mr. A. Moyse, of Toronto. Mrs. Moyse was much beloved by a very large number of friends, being remarkable for her kindness of heart and her geniality of disposition.

SHOOTING DEER.

The East Against the West—Replies to Department's Request.

The Toronto Star remarks:—Replies have been sent in to nearly all the letters sent out by the Game Warden asking for suggested changes in the game law as regards the shooting of deer. From the tone of the replies there will be no changes in the game law.

There is one question in dispute. The solid East is enthusiastic for the shooting of deer in the water. This is opposed by the solid West and the solid North. As the Department has strong ideas on the subject, there will probably be no change in the law.

A few men ask for a month's shooting and some want the limit raised, but the question of water shooting is the serious one.

CHURCH CHIMES.

Miss Vina Belleghem sang the solo parts in excellent voice in the anthem "Oh, Be Joyful," in the Charlotte street church last night.

Mr. F. Skitch took the solo in good voice in the offertory selection, "Nearer my God to Thee," in the Charlotte street church yesterday morning.

Mrs. (Dr.) Scott sang "In the Secret of His Presence," yesterday morning in the Murray street Baptist church, with most pleasing effect.

Mrs. Blackstock's (Toronto) favourite hymn "Only Waiting," was sung as an anthem by St. Paul's church choir yesterday morning in fine harmony.

Rev. Mr. Best of Rossland, B.C., preached two powerful sermons in the Murray street Baptist church yesterday, and greatly pleased the congregation with his apt illustrations.

A quartette composed of Miss V. Belleghem and Miss M. Stephens and Messrs. W. J. Squire and F. Skitch gave a fine rendering of "Home at Last," in the Charlotte street Methodist church last evening.

"We Thank Thee, O Father," was the title of the morning anthem in the Charlotte street Methodist church yesterday. The solo was well taken by Miss Vina Belleghem, who also took the duet with Miss Stephens.

Electric light has replaced the Rochester lamps in the Park street Baptist church and steps are being taken to have the entire interior renovated The woodwork is to be repainted and the walls and ceiling calcimined and freshly tinted.

Mr. Herbert Taylor, son of Mr. Wm. Taylor, of town, preached a most impressive and eloquent sermon in the Charlotte street church. Mr. Taylor is a first year student at Albert College, Belleville, and gives promise of becoming one of the best speakers ever graduating from that institution. His many friends who heard his address yesterday were delighted with his fine command of language and the clearness with which his points were made.

The pulpit of the George street Methodist church was occupied on Sunday by Rev. S G. Stone, D.D., brother of Mr. E. B. Stone of town. Last year Dr. Stone was president of the Toronto Conference, and his two discourses yesterday commanded the closest attention. His convincing style of address, combined with a rare command of language has won for Dr. Stone the reputation of being one of the ablest speakers of the day in the Methodist church, and, consequently, at both morning and evening services yesterday the big church was crowded with large congregations, whose attention was a fit tribute to the speaker's power. The morning discourse was founded on the words, "He saved others, Himself he cannot save." In the evening the subject was "God's Love."

LETTERS FROM STONY LAKE.

A FEW REMARKS FROM "JEAN" OF THE EAST END.

Norwood-on-the-Lake has a Fair Champion Who Stands up for That Portion of Old Stony.

STONY LAKE, Aug., '98.

My Dear M——:—I wrote you last not long after our arrival and now the camping season is nearly over and one wakens with a start to find that summer too is almost gone and already there is something in the fast shortening days of that pensiveness which heralds the approach of autumn. The shadows of night steal a march upon the days and gently but swiftly veil their evening glory. We often miss the sunsets because we forget to look for them until they are gone. One long, happy holiday it has been—very real indeed and yet like a dream of delight so quickly has it passed! What shall I tell you about first? I must not waste too much time on preliminaries, for I have so much to tell that I scarcely know where to begin. Let me see, there was the camp fire at "The Rocklands,' One of the relics of old-time camp-life is the camp-fire. It brings to our minds a picture of the early days of Stony Lake before the "pale-face" had entirely driven the Indian away from these happy hunting and fishing grounds, when it was considered quite civilized to live in a tent instead of genuine wigwam, and these picturesque canvas abodes had not yet given place to the more commodious structures which now adorn our shores.

The residence of Mr. W. E. Roxburg stands in a sheltered nook with great rocks in front reaching out into the water, forming the two arms of a beautiful little harbour. Down on one of these rocky points was built the great pile of logs, so soon to be consumed for the entertainment of the guests who were seated up further on the shore—some on logs and some on rugs and boat-cushions spread upon the grass. In the back-ground the thick green foliage and nestling in the midst of it the little cottage, in the front the waters of the lake beating against their rocky shores—and in the centre of the picture the jolly old camp fire sending up its fantastic flames on high to the very tip top of the tall old tree in the middle—leaping, crackling, sparkling, jumping with delight—chasing one another in a mad frolic of ecstasy—lighting up the shore and the merry faces of the party gathered there, while lake and sky grew blacker in contrast and the mournful singing of the wind through the branches gave one the impression of something weird and uncanny in one's surroundings. This impression was heightened by a genuine ghost story told by the Rev. Mr. Anderson in that dry droll way peculiar to the good Scotch Presbyterian divine. Miss McIntosh gave us "Saunders McGlashin's Courtship," and Miss Kate Lewis "Mice at Play." Miss Ethel Brown and Mrs. Sanderson, of Peterborough, sang very sweetly, and Mr. Frank Roxburgh delighted his audience with "True till Death." One of the most remarkable items on the programme, however, was the duet sung by Mr. Gerald Roxburg and Mr. Wilson Cameron and rendered more effective by the very emphatic gestures illustrative of its sublime tragedy. It consisted of the following stanza repeated ten times:

"One there was a clucker dabbed at a man,
And he died frae fear—he died frae fear."

The party at Rocklands sang "Soldiers of the Queen," and "Firebells," and the guests took their departure to the strains of the good old chorus, "Auld Lang Syne,"—one by one each boat received its passengers and glided out from the quiet little harbour towards home, everyone feeling the better for this merry social gathering.

We had the pleasure of attending another of those delightful camp fires given by Mr. and Mrs. Davidson of Salmon Island Notwithstanding an unfavourable wind, Mr. Davidson at the risk of having his property injured, set a match to the huge pile down on the rocks and a magnificent blaze was the result. Showers of sparks flew over the cottage, but the gentlemen present organized a fire brigade and kept water on the roof and verandahs so that nothing was injured. Mr. Davidson and Dr. Jory also did heroic work parading the rocks upon the shore with small sauce pans of water which they poured here and there upon the sparks as the ignited the grass which had been dried by the intense heat of the fire. Mrs. Davidson introduced an innovation in the form of cocoa and cake, which I must say was very much appreciated, for the evening was chilly and the guests were glad to draw closely around the cheery fire as they sipped their hot cocoa. After the singing of some choruses the proceedings were brought to a close in the good old ortodox way, the company standing and joining hands in a circle as their voices blended in the familar words:—

"Should auld acquaintance be forgot
And never brought to mind?
Should auld acquaintance be forgot
And days o' lang syne?
And here is a hand my trusty friend,
And gie's a hand o' thine,
And we'll take a cup o' kindness yet
For auld lang Syne.

But dear me! here I am again dwelling so long upon this one feature of our camp life and how shall I find time to tell you of our annual regatta, our picnics at Eel's Creek, White Lake, Young's Point and Julian, and last but not least, our fishing excursions. "What do you do out there anyway?" said one gentleman to another a few days ago. Gentleman No. 2 found some difficulty in explaining, and I am afraid that gentleman No. 1 went away with the impression that we were sad idlers, but as I told you before we do not feel like idlers—nor is it idling to fish and bathe and go picnicing if thereby the overwrought nerves are rested, the tired body regains its strength, light comes back to the eye, colour to the cheek and elasticity to the footsteps. Away for a while from the fret and worry—from the formalities of social life—out upon the rocks with the sky above us, the trees around us and the waves at our feet—with the fresh breath of heaven cool upon our brow, we gain fresh energy for the battle of life—our ideas are broadened—the largeness of the universe enfolds us, uplifts us and we rise above the littlenesses of life which may become so oppressive.

On Thursday, Aug. 18th the annual regatta was held at Juniper Island and Mr. Buck very kindly took a tow of sixteen boats from "Norwood-on-the-Lake." As we reached Juniper the "Ruby" circled round and round in front of the island like a kitten playing with its tail, until the bow of the yacht reached the stern of the last skiff and the circle was complete. From the party in the small boats arose the thrilling strains of "The Maple Leaf," and down to the shore hurry scurry came the kodak men to take their views. There was not a large crowd at Juniper when the Ruby arrived, but one after another the little yachts came in and the crowd soon began to gather. Then came the races. One of the most interesting was the ladies' tandem paddle race, which was won by Miss Roxburgh and Miss Birdsall from Norwood-on-the-Lake. Mr. Wilson Cameron and Mr. Frank Roxburgh won the canoe sailing race. The tub race and the upset and hurry-scurry races created a great deal of amusement. Altogether the scene presented a very gay appearance, the bright costumes of the campers lending to it colour and variety. The pretty little yacht owned by the American party at Boschink, was gaily decorated with flags in honour of the occasion, but was all alone in her glory, as none of the other boats had been ambitous enough to don their holiday attire. These touches of colour here and there add much to the picturesqueness of the scene.

A number of campers had brought lunch baskets with them and remained for the concert in the evening, and others who had not brought any lunch purchased it at the Juniper camp store, where they found the proprietor, Mr. Robinson, very attentive and obliging, though he must have been nearly worried to death trying to serve half a dozen different parties at once. The tables in the pavilion were nearly all utilized by the different lunch parties. The programme rendered during the evening was quite ordinary with the exception of two recitations given by Miss Burns, of Toronto,—"There, Little Girl, don't Cry" and "A Small Boy's Recitation.' These two selections were very different, but the contrast only rendered them more effective. This year's regatta we did not consider as successful as last year's. There were crowds of people there but they seemed to be standing apart chatting with one another rather than watching the races attentively. The number who took part in some of the races was not as large nor was the interest manifested as great as last year.

Why should not "Norwood-on-the-Lake" hold a regatta and concert of their own? Competition might be beneficial and the beauties of our eastern end of the lake are still unknown to many of the westerners. We believe that there have been complaints made that the easterners have not taken sufficient interest in the regattas, concerts, &c., but why was it this year that though several gentlemen from "Norwood-on-the-Lake" were prominent members of the Campers' Association they received no intimation concerning the management of the regatta or concert, nor were they given any part or lot in it? On the Friday after the regatta Mr. Buck took another large tow-party—seventy people in all—down to Young's Point to picnic for the day and witness a baseball match between the westerners and easterners. This latter feature of the programme did not prove very exciting. Something seemed to go wrong in the beginning as there was a good deal of difficulty in securing a ball and something seemed to continue wrong—there being a good deal of difficulty in securing players—the gentlemen from the western end of the lake evidently preferring the society of the ladies and the privilege of holding umbrellas over them to a game of baseball in the heat. However, after much persuasion a sufficient number of players took the field and the game began. Then another difficulty arose, the old ball collapsed and had to be patched up which operation, strange to say, somewhat interrupted the progress of the game. Just here the players decided that perhaps they would play football. However, the baseball was again resumed and the game completed with the score in favour of the easterners. Hurrah! for Norwood-on-the-Lake! A remarkable feature of the day's programme was the procession led by General Brock from the picnic grounds to the baseball field. The General himself looked very warlike and magnificent in a pair of knickerbockers cut after a most curious and wonderful pattern, with a huge red bandanna handkerchief tucked in his belt and a sword of ye olden tyme over his shoulder. We who had already reached the field were first made aware of the approach of this procession by the strange medley of sounds borne towards us from the direction of the picnic grounds. Tin pans, horns and many other musical instruments of like quaint and curious workmanship must have lent their aid in the production of this wonderful medley. Then the procession itself, with torn and tattered banners floating in the breeze, slowly filed into sight, looking, not very martial, but quite gay and jaunty, and wearing an air of elation plainly indicative of victory in its real battle with the contents of the lunch baskets left behind on the picnic grounds

At six o'clock the Ruby whistled and the excursionists by twos and threes wended their way back to the boats. A steamer bound for Lakefield was passing through the locks as our party embarked. The most delightful part of this most delightful day was the tow home in the cool of the evening. Did you ever tow in a small boat behind a larger? If not you cannot understand what a feeling of delight takes possession of one as one is borne along, gently, swiftly, without any exertion on one's own part. A feeling, too, of one's own insignificance in the midst of the great world of trees and rocks, and sky and water. One could almost fancy oneself in a twentieth century air ship moving, perhaps, at its slowest pace were it not for the fussy pulling of the little yacht ahead—but pshaw! why might not that be old Jove in somewhat of a splutter over our invasion of his territory! Through Clear Lake, past the pretty cottages, some of them brightly illuminated with many coloured lights, past Juniper with its floating population of shoppers and pleasure seekers, on through Big Bay and past Mt. Julian, towering up in the west, then Boschink, then "Norwood-on-the-Lake" and home! The three rousing cheers that greeted Mr. Buck as each skiff reached its designation only conveyed to him the gratitude felt by every member of the party for such a day of pleasure genuine and unalloyed.

One difficulty that has thus far presented itself at Stony Lake and has somewhat interfered with the proper observance of the Sabbath is that there have been no regular Sunday services held for the campers at "Norwood-on-the-Lake." Service has been held at the small country church belonging to the Stony Lake settlement every other Sunday, but the walk from Crow's landing to the church is so long and tiresome, especially when the heat is intense, that many of the campers have been unable to attend oftener than once or twice during the whole season, though "The Rocklands" and "Killarney" certainly did their duty in this respect this summer. It has been suggested several times that it would be better if services could be held at least once on Sunday at some point within easy reach of all the campers, but no action has been taken in the matter until this summer, when Dr.

THAT BAND CASE.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—In Saturday's issue of the EXAMINER there appears a reference to a Division Court case, Miller vs. Fire Brigade Band, which is misleading. The article states judgment was given for full amount sued against Robt. Beach, treasurer of the band, and dismissed as against the Executive Committee, the judge holding that the Executive was not responsible for the treasurer's action. In the first place judgment was not given Mr. Miller for full amount of his claim, as only one-seventh of the costs was on Mr. Beach, while Mr. Miller has to pay the remaining six-seventh, practically all the costs in the case. As a matter of fact Mr. Miller was tendered by the band in settlement of his claim, considerably more than he secured by rushing into court. The statement that judgment was given against Mr. Beach, while true, is misleading. Mr. Beach simply acted in the matter as directed by the band, and consequently as far as he is concerned personally is no more guilty of wrong doing, if his action can be so designated, than any other member of the band. As to Mr. Miller's further claim against the band, perhaps the less he says about the matter at present the better. It is quite possible that his claim question may be possessed of back action qualities.

JOS. CROWE,
President 57th Batt. Band.

THE CHRISTIAN VOTERS AND THE PLEBISCITE.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—Some years ago a professor in the University of New Brunswick made the following statement, which as it bears a vital relation to the plebiscite, at least as far as Christian voters are concerned, I ask you to kindly re-publish:—

"Politics (not 'party' politics) is religion, and every exercise of the franchise is an act of worship."

Let the deep import of this be grasped and submitted to and we know how Christian voters will act on the 29th.

Another statement worth repeating is: "Whatever is morally wrong can never be commercially right." Then Christian voters would cease squaring moral distinctions to suit their economic theories. Failing all else let them answer the question—"What would Jesus do in reference to the liquor traffic? Then we know how they will vote on the 29th, and how they will act after it is carried.

"Take my ballot; grant I may Always vote just as I pray,
May in everything from hence
Give Thee the pre-eminence."

Piles Cured without the use of Knife, by Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment.

Mr. Geo. Browne, painter, of Woodville, Ont., Victoria Co, says:—"For thirteen years I was a sufferer from bleeding piles and the intense agony which I passed through during those years and relief I obtained by Chase's Ointment prompts me to give this testimonial. My physician wished me to have an operation but I felt I could be cured without the knife. Three boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment stopped the bleed- and effected a permanent cure."

TURNBULL'S
FALL OPENING.

Mantles, Dress Goods, and Silks.

TUESDAY, SEPT. 13th and Following Days.

For the past few months we have been busy searching every available market for the above goods for the Fall trade, and have succeeded in getting what we think the cheapest and best selected Stock we have ever shown. Our trade is rapidly increasing in these lines owing to the quality and values of the goods we handle and we have bought more largely than ever, anticipating a still larger trade.

The store will be specially decorated next week, commencing on Tuesday the 13th, when we will be pleased to have you look through and give the display a thorough inspection believing it will lead to future trade.

It is scarcely necessary to say we were wide enough awake to have all our stock through the customs before the change in duty and that our customers will secure the benefit in the prices.

SPECIAL ATTRACTIONS.

We will have as Special Attractions during the week about 20 colours of Fancy Dress Goods, worth 40c. and 50c., which we will sell at 25c. About 25 pieces worth 60c., for 35c. You should come early and secure some of these, as we will not have them again.

STORE WILL BE OPEN THURSDAY EVENING. On Thursday Evening the store will be kept open which will give you an opportunity of seeing the colours by electric light.

NEW DRESSMAKER.—We have secured the services of MISS QUINN, who needs no recommendation to those who know her, to take charge of our Dressmaking Department. All work guaranteed satisfactory and turned out promptly.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

To the Public:

I wish to thank the public in general and my customers in particular for the patronage extended during the time I have been in business under the firm name of MORRIS & HOWDEN, as Butchers and Meat Dealers, and also since the retirement of Mr. W. G. Howden.

I have sold my business and good-will to MR. H. P. KENNEDY who will combine it with his own at the store in the Opera House Block, No. 340 George St. Telephone No. 275.

I have engaged with Mr. Kennedy as assistant in his Live Stock Business, but will make it a point to be at the store every Saturday, commencing Sept. 17th, where I hope to meet all my old customers, who will, I am sure, be pleased with the service we can give.

I am sure that Mr. Kennedy's extensive operations in the Live Stock trade, place him in a position to do better, and to give better value than is given anywhere else. I have recognized this for some time and know that his facilities to supply Meats place him at the head in this line of trade.

Trusting in my new position to receive the support of all my old customers.

I remain respectfully,

W. D. MORRIS.

CAN'T ENJOY LIFE

Because of nervousness, dyspepsia, heart trouble, etc. Lots of people just have to sit and look on while their healthy, vigorous friends have all the enjoyment of a strong and robust body. Dr. Ward's Pills will bring back health, strength, snap, vim and energy to even the weakest and weariest of suffering humankind.

A BAD INVESTMENT MADE GOOD.

I have half a gross of empty bottles upon my shelves. Everything my neighbors and friends would tell me to try I would go straight away to the drug store and purchase. I was in a terrible condition from dyspepsia and liver troubles and was getting worse all the time. I was so discouraged buying one medicine and the other and receiving no benefit that I was about giving up all hope of ever getting better, when my husband brought me home a box of Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, which he said had been highly recommended to him. I began using them at once, when, to my great surprise, I felt better in a very short time and continued them for about two weeks more which cured me entirely. I have not the least sign of dyspepsia or liver troubles now, and have also gained several pounds in weight.

Signed, ANNIE E. GAUNTLEY,
King Street, Berlin, Ont.

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents per box, 5 boxes for $2.00, at druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by The Dr. Ward Co., 71 Victoria St., Toronto. Book of information free.

FASHION AND FABRIC.

The ridiculous fashion of making the edge of the dress skirt on the front and sides an inch or two longer than the height of the wearer grows apace.

White crape, white mousseline de soie and white taffeta silk are beautifully combined in elegant fete and evening toilets for the summer. The waists are trimmed with real laces.

A very large portion of the smart summer hats are low crowned, broad brimmed, tilted well over the eyes, far up at the back and trimmed right across the front with a number of spreading wings.

Among the robes de luxe for autumn wear will be those of very rich but exceedingly flexible and lustrous watered silk in black, made in princess form with elaborate trimmings on the front from shoulder to skirt hem.

The lace yokes on some of the handsome hot weather evening toilets are shaped deepest on the sides, meeting under the arms, and are either curved or pointed upward to shorten them exactly in the center of the yoke front and back.

The chief feature of the new collarettes and fichus is the excess of ribbon, lace and chiffon lavished upon them. With the exception of the trim little collets accompanying tailor made traveling costumes all the models are befrilled and beruched from neck to farthest edge.

The fancy waists for next season will be quite as elaborate and intricate in their effects and trimmings as those of the summer. The airy yokes, vests, chemisettes, guimpes and plastrons will merely be changed for those of rich brocade, plain and fancy velvet, tucked and shirred silk.

Beware of the circular skirt, unless you have a perfect figure and your goods are of heavy satin brocade or other very firm material. If you are at all stout, your rounded circular skirt, minus a perpendicular line, will make you look stouter. If you are very thin, it is the worst choice you can make.—New York Post.

A PRICELESS NECESSITY.

Kidney Disease Cannot Hurt when Dodd's Kidney Pills are Used.

Healthy kidneys are absolutely necessary for the production of pure blood.

Pure blood is absolutely necessary for good health—yes for life itself.

If the kidneys are weak, or diseased, the blood is impure, poisonous, and the general health breaks down, before the attack of specific disease.

Dodd's Kidney Pills restore weak and diseased kidneys to health and strength. They stimulate them to proper action, enabling them to filter the poison out of the blood.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only medicine known that can and will do this. Therefore, they are priceless and indispensable. All forms of Kidney Disease are cured by them.

Dodd's Kidney Pills have a unique record—Twenty thousand cures, not one failure. You should try a box.

A Modern Fable.

Once upon a time a Tramp was sorely in need of Something to eat, and, approaching a Farmhouse, he spake unto the Farmer, saying, "If you will give me the Wherewithal to satisfy the Cravings of the inner Man, I will kill all the Rats about the place." "Agreed," said the Tiller of the Soil, and he ordered his Good Wife to give the Tramp a Square meal. After the Tramp had Devoured everything in sight he went to the wood pile and selected a stout Club; then, seating Himself on the Porch, he said to the Farmer, "Now bring on your Rats."

SOLDIERS IN CHINA.

QUEER METHODS WHICH MAKE THEM WORTHLESS AS FIGHTERS.

To Become a Soldier Is to Lose Caste, and Good Men Are Not Used For Warriors. Crazy Tactics In the War With Japan. Pepper Versus Bullets.

Major A. E. J. Cavendish, First Argyll and Sutherland highlanders, D. A. A. G., Dublin district (late military attache with the Chinese army), writing in The Journal of the United Service Institution, says that in many respects the army of China presents a curious example of the survival of the unfittest. In the broad outlines its scheme is simple and suited to the country. Nevertheless, with the characteristic Chinese love of detail, in its minutiæ, it is exceeding complex. Owing to an equally characteristic want of exactitude, although returns as rendered by separate accountants are often beautifully worked out to the thousandth part of a tael, yet in a combination of these returns nothing balances.

For members of parliament who cavil at the intricacies of the British estimates I can imagine no worse punishment in the future life than to be set by satan to unravel the mysteries of the Chinese military budget. Every province has its separate "army," for which the viceroy or governor is responsible, and in 14 of these it consists of Tartar and Chinese soldiers in certain fixed proportions. Any deficiencies in the military budgets of the poorer provinces are met by contributions from the central provinces, "the belly of China." Grouping all these "armies" together, the troops fall into four great categories—namely, (1) Tartar soldiers or banner men; (2) green regiments or Chinese territorial force; (3) fighting braves; (4) disciplined troops.

The writer gives an interesting account of these forces, and proceeding to general remarks, says: Much of the utter inefficiency of China's army is explained by the native saying, "Do not use good steel to make a nail nor take a good man to make a soldier," which is most thoroughly acted up to. The "absence of nerves" and the animal ferocity of the Chinaman admirably adapt him for the deliberate extermination which characterizes the suppression of a revolt, but in real courage the abnegation of self under danger, he is woefully deficient. He will do much for pay, he will fight when his rage is aroused, but his passion, violent as a typhoon, as quickly passes away. On almost every occasion in 1894-5 the Chinese troops refused to stand up to the despised Japanese. Small wonder, when of the hundreds of thousands who since 1862 have been "drilled" with foreign weapons, not one in 50,000 has been taught their proper use. Musketry and artillery practice is limited generally to handling the weapons, and instruction in the use of rifles and field guns is not thought necessary—nay, it is opposed. In January, 1895, several thousands of men had been collected at Shan-hai-Kuan, under General Wuta-cheng, to re-enforce the army in Manchuria. New rifles and field guns had been served out, and the force was to move early in February, yet on Jan. 20 the men fired their rifles for the first time, and barely 1 per cent of hits on a target 200 yards distant ensued. As for the guns, not a soul knew how to load them or set a fuse, and when at length one was fired with the aid of the foreigners present, the ammunition was so defective that, although the gun was laid for 3,000 yards, the shell only traveled 350. Yet these men were sent north to fight at Tien-chuang-tai without further training, instruction by a foreigner having been haughtily refused.

To be a soldier is to lose caste in China, to imbibe foreign notions is worse still and incurs the hatred and suspicion of the civilians, who in reality govern the army and navy, so much so that to be a graduate of the foreign schools is an almost certain bar to promotion. In the military and other schools established by Sir Robert Hart and the viceroys at Peking and elsewhere the students have to be bribed to attend, so as to compensate them for the social disadvantages of foreign education. If we add to this the natural contempt for foreigners ingrained in the Chinese nature, we have potent causes for the willful laziness and ignorance of officers, which is truly appalling. Alas, that they should add cowardice as well!

The commander in chief at Shan-hai-Kuan told me he did not believe in musketry instruction for all. It was quite sufficient to have ten good shots in each "wing" to pick off the Japanese officers. His other theory was that the troops were defeated because they fought hungry, in which he was partially right. His remedy was to draw up his men in five lines. The first would fight for two hours, and then retire to dinner, the second line, having meanwhile dined, would take its place, and so on. Thus he would get ten hours' fighting, and every one would be fed.

A general near there, being ordered to keep a sharp lookout for the Japanese, whose landing was hourly expected, did so by asking the railway station master to send two coolies to the coast to look for the enemy! His was the plan of arming his men with bags of pepper to be thrown in the faces of the Japanese, who while engaged in sneezing would all be slain by the Chinese spearmen!

It seems a libel on the human race to say that out of the manhood of 800,000,000 of Chinese a body of good soldiers cannot be made, and with the example of the army which has been evolved from the Egyptian fellaheen it may be premature to call it impossible. But China herself cannot do it. The very best human material and the most elaborate instruction would be wasted under the existing native official, who steadily resists all reform in his maladministration. Nevertheless the docile soldiers and sailors of China have never yet had a chance of showing under proper management what are their real capabilities. Should they under European tutelage ever prove themselves in any numbers to be of real military value, the "Yellow Terror" may not be a mere figment of the superheated brain.—London Globe.

PHOTOGRAPHING A MONKEY.

He Is the Hardest of All Brutes to Get Before the Camera.

"One of the most difficult brutes to photograph is the monkey," said a man in New York who makes a business of taking the pictures of all sorts of animals and birds. "You may try as much as you like, but you will never succeed in making a monkey look straight into the center of a camera for even a second. Its glance always shifts off to one side or the other. Nor will it ever catch your eye full or fix its own upon yours, and I have come to the conclusion that a monkey cannot look at a camera any more than it can look a human being in the face.

"Take a dog's head in your two hands and look into its eyes. The beast will return your gaze, not for long perhaps, for the contemplation of human intelligence distresses all animals. But it is not so with the monkey. Hold its head as patiently as you please between your hands, and it will cast its eyes up to the ceiling and keep on winking or cast them down to the floor as if asleep or twist them around in a most absurd fashion to look over one side or the other, but never, oven in passing by it, will it catch yours.

"Why is this? I don't know, unless it is that the animal has some secret regarding our own origin that it does not wish us to find out. However, if they are bashful, they are very inquisitive, and if I were to leave my camera unguarded for ten minutes in a cage containing a dozen monkeys half the family would be busy taking photographs of the other half."—Washington Star.

She and the Hog.

Into the hands of an elderly matron of much dignity and some distinction came not long ago the diary kept by her father, a worthy but imperfectly literate farmer of a remote country village. With a cluster of her own children gathered about her and peeping over her shoulder she turned the faded leaves of the little volume containing the records of the year in which she was born and paused finally at the day of her birth. This is what she read:

"Nov. 11 killed the hogg the scales bruk wen whaying so do not nowe exact wayte but he was a very fine hevy hogg darter Loisa b. 7¼ pounds."

It was not an entry to enhance the self esteem of "darter Loisa," perhaps, but it is one now often hilariously quoted by her children and never resented by herself, even though it relegates so unmistakably to second place after the hog in the ancestral annals, such a trifle as the advent of a baby not heavy enough to break any scales or merit a commendatory adjective.—Youth's Companion.

North American Life
ASSURANCE CO.

OFFICE OF W. A. MURRAY & Co., 17 to 27 King St., East, Toronto,

Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, N.A. L.:

DEAR SIR,—In answer to your request for me to decide upon one of the following options offered me for settlement of my 15-payment Life Investment Policy for $5,000 which has matured this year, viz:

1st to take the value of the Policy in Cash	$3,000.00
2nd, or fully paid-up insurance for	3,280.00
3rd, or take the profits in cash	2,050 25

and continue my policy without further payments being required from me, such policy participating in future profits.

I find it somewhat difficult to make a decision either of the three options being so satisfactory. I am certainly very much pleased with the results offered me, and as I find many others are giving full testimony to the profit-earning power of this company. I do not hesitate to give my endorsement as well, that the North American Life is one of our strongest Canadian institutions to day giving first class results on Investment Policies, on a safe and conservative basis. I find that my policy, which was originally a Life by fifteen payments, has become an Endowment at the end of the Investment period.

According to the novels of Richardson and his contemporaries, in the olden days men used to admire women who screamed upon the least provocation and fainted on all opportunities. Richardson's heroines were always toppling out of their chairs, falling in a "dead faint" in their lovers' arms, having their stays cut and their hands slapped, their temples bathed and their noses smelling-salted.

Both the women and the men have changed radically since those days. The modern man does not admire the fainting woman, neither does he marry her. If by chance he does, he is only a man, and lives to regret it. There is no reason why any woman should be a fainting woman. General bodily weakness and nervousness in women are due to weakness or disease of the delicate, special organs of the sex. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific and unfailing remedy for all disorders of this description. It imparts health and strength to the sensitive and susceptible organs upon which a woman's general health is largely dependent. It quiets and tones up the nerves, restores the vigor of youth, rounds out the emaciated form, imparts the glow of health to the complexion and transforms weak, sickly, nervous invalids into new, healthy, happy women. It fits for wifehood and motherhood.

"Words fail to describe my suffering before using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. Sallie Key, of Tampico, Granger Co., Texas. "I had inflammation, irritation and profuse flowing and was very nervous and suffered terribly at all times. My feet and limbs were cold. I had palpitation of the heart, and my back was so weak that I could not turn myself in bed. The thought of food sickened me. My kidneys were very badly affected. I had been down six months. I could not sleep night or day and had given up all hope. My husband got me some of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I took it for five months and at the end of that time could walk a mile and do all my own housework. I am sure I would be in my grave if it had not been for the 'Favorite Prescription.'"

STORY OF A HAT.

Revealing the Secret of Its Two Trips Around a Table.

A number of literary men were at one time gathered in a well known chophouse in New York. The conversation was of course brilliant, and the repartee sparkled with mirth and wit. During a lull in the talk the door slowly opened, and an old southern darky, grizzled with age, poked his head in and then slowly drew his body in after him. A waiter started to eject him, when one of the gentlemen cried:

"Wait a moment. Let's see what the old boy wants."

The darky bobbed up to the table where this gentleman sat and held out his hat. Throwing a wink to his neighbors, the gentleman took the hat and, making a show of placing something into it, passed it on to the next man, who did likewise. The hat made a tour of the room, to the puzzled wonder of the darky. The last to receive it solemnly handed it back with a polite bow, saying:

"There, sir, don't you think you have something to be thankful for?"

The old darky looked solemnly around the company and, mechanically taking the hat, he said:

"Gen'men, I'ze indeed glad dat I got eben de hat back!"

The reply was so thoroughly enjoyed by the company that the darky left the place a much richer man than when he had entered it.—Kansas City World.

If You Are Troubled.

With those painful and annoying corns, try Dr. Russell's Corn Cure. It will most effectually remove them, roots and all without the slightest pain, in from three to five days. No other remedy has been so highly recommended by its users as this remedy. Sold by Ormond and Walsh 25 cents.

The Greater Light.

When we were at New York, Professor Simpson and I went one night to the observatory. We found the astronomer by the light of a small candle groping about for his instruments and arranging the telescope. But when we had got the star full in view he blew out his little candle. He had now got the light of the world, and the candle served only to obscure his view. The dim light of your reason is of use only if it bring you to the Great Light, and take care lest instead of this it should serve to keep you from him.—Henry Drummond.

Opposed to Walking.

Most Chinese mandarins pass the whole of their lives without taking a single yard of exercise. The late Nanking viceroy (father of the Marquis Tseng) was considered a remarkable character because he always walked 1,000 steps a day in his private garden. Under no circumstances whatever is a mandarin ever seen on foot in his own jurisdiction.

An Invitation.

"You don't object to a contributor dropping into poetry once in awhile, I presume?" said the caller, with an affable smile.

"Certainly not, sir. Sit down," replied the editor, pushing the waste paper basket toward him.—Pick Me Up.

THE ONLY HOPE!

For Victims of Bright's Disease is Dodd's Kidney Pills.

War and intemperance, with all their miseries and fatalities, are not responsible for as many deaths as have been caused by Bright's Disease. Yet, there is a way of resisting it; of drawing its poisoned fangs, and making it as harmless as a summer breeze. That great medicine, Dodd's Kidney Pills, has cured thousands of the worst cases. It never fails to cure, hopeless as the case may seem.

Would you safely shield your loved ones from the fatal grip of this curse of mankind—Bright's Disease? Then use Dodd's Kidney Pills, the only cure on earth for this disease.

TOWN GOT THE BEST OF IT.

Ex-Clerk of Barrie Went to Law and It Did Not Pay Him.

Barrie, Sept. 10.—When the late Town Clerk, who was also Police Court Clerk, was relieved of duty on Dec. 31 last, $55 due for the registration of births, marriages and deaths during 1897, was withheld from him by the present council on the ground that he was not entitled to it by the town bylaws, though he had been receiving such moneys for 20 years. The ex-clerk sued in the Division Court and got judgment for the amount. By thus authorizing the council he, figuratively speaking, put his finger into a hornet's nest, for the town auditors, Thomas Beecroft of Barrie, and W. H. Cross of Toronto, had in the meantime discovered discrepancies in the police court accounts, as kept by the ex-clerk, the amount coming to the town being $391.26, divided into some 180 items. The town at once put in a counter claim, covering the $55, and after fighting it long enough to reveal to the public not a very satisfactory state of affairs, the ex-clerk, through his lawyer, admitted the claim with costs. This left a balance of $335.63, which the council, at its regular meeting on Monday night, ordered their solicitor to proceed at once and collect.

WHITE CAPS AFTER BLACKS.

Negroes Driven Out of the Cotton Districts Becoming Troublesome.

Texarkana, Ark., Sept. 10.—Texarkana is in a state of alarm over the large number of idle negros who throng the town, and the citizens are organizing vigilance committees for the protection of their property. The unusual influx of negroes recently is due to the operations of bands of White Caps in the Titus, Cass, Red River, Hopkins and other counties in the cotton districts of North Texas, whence thousands of negroes have fled on account of notices being posted and in some cases violence being used to run them out. These people, being run out of the cotton fields, have sought refuge in the towns, and Texarkana has been the refuge of a large number.

A trustworthy colored man from Titus County says that while a number of his race were at work in a field a mob of White Caps concealed in a fence corner, opened fire on them. The negroes fled, leaving three of their number behind, wounded and perhaps killed. Other similar incidents are reported by incoming negroes.

A REMARKABLE CASE

A Plattsville Lady Rescued by Dodd's Kidney Pills from Terrible Danger.

Plattsville, Ont., Aug. 29—The Echo, published here, report the remarkable cure of a well-known lady, Mrs. J. Barnett, who had two years suffered from Nervousness, Rheumatism, Back-ache, Sleeplessness, pains in the head and eyes and general weakness.

Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her.

To an Echo reporter, Mrs Barnett said: "I had no appetite, I could not sleep, I was a physical wreck.

"I was treated by doctors, but their medicine gave me no relief.

"I started taking Dodd's Kidney Pills, and before I finished one box, I had improved noticeably. I have taken twelve boxes in all, and am now completely recovered. I ascribe my recovery to Dodd's Kidney Pills alone."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are a positive cure—the only cure,—for Kidney Diseases of all forms. They have never failed.

His Addition.

A down east correspondent recalls a story told in the last century of a schoolboy named Eells, who had a teacher named Bascom. The lad afterward became a noted preacher. One day his teacher set for a copy in the boy's writing book, "Eels are an ordinary fish." The boy copied it very carefully and added, "Eels were an ordinary fish till Bascom (has come)."—New York Times.

The Cold Shoulder.

It was once customary in France when a guest had remained too long for the host to serve a cold shoulder of mutton instead of a hot roast. This was the origin of the phrase "to give the cold shoulder."

Raw from Her Toes to Her Knees

DR. CHASE MAKES A WONDERFUL CURE

Mrs. Knight, 17 Hanover Place, Toronto, makes the following statement:—

My mother, Mrs. Wright, who lives at Norval, near Doncaster, suffered a summer and winter with Eczema in her feet. She could not walk, and very seldom got any sleep. It became so bad that she was perfectly raw from the toes to the knees. After trying every available remedy without receiving any benefit, and almost hopeless of relief, she was advised to try Dr. Chase's Ointment. She has altogether used 8 boxes since commencing, but with the happiest results, for she is now completely cured. There is but one scar on one of her feet, a memento of her fearful suffering condition. Any person desiring further testimony in this case is at liberty to communicate with Mrs. Wright at her address, Norval P.O.

Mrs. Knight says after such a grand success, is it any wonder we recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment?

DIVER ESCAPES A SHARK.

A Thrilling Experience at a Wharf in South African Waters.

One of the local divers named Batten has experienced a shock and a narrow escape, says The Cape Argus. He had been engaged to recover a few heavy rails which had fallen overboard between a steamer and the main wharf. The rails were found and one had been hauled to the surface when Batten perceived a young shark swimming around him. Having omitted to arm himself with the usual diver's knife, Batten moved to the boat and secured a weapon, intending to stab the shark if opportunity presented itself. On descending to the bottom again, however, Batten did not see the prowling "monster" and proceeded to the rails which remained to be hoisted. He was about to attack the next rail when, to his surprise and alarm, he noticed a huge shark, approximately 16 feet long, lying right across the rails.

The diver was in a quandary, because retreat from such a monster was exceedingly dangerous, while open hostilities with the knife would have been almost suicidal, not only on account of the size of the shark, but on account of its being literally sheathed with barnacles. Further, although the shark lay almost motionless, not a single rail could be touched without disturbing it. With a view to frightening the shark Batten suddenly released all the air contained in his suit, which act caused a cloud of bubbles to rise from the escape valve. The shark did not budge, and when the suit had refilled Batten made several feints as if to stab his enemy, but again without the desired effect. Then the monster made the first move. Steadily he rolled over on his back, showing a long white belly, and opened and shut an enormous mouth, framed with rows of ivory white sawlike teeth. Batten wisely waited for no more, but dipped the escape valve, causing him to rise rapidly to the surface. He lost no time in scrambling up the ladder into the boat out of harm's way. A number of people spent a great part of the afternoon in endeavoring to hook the shark. Various kinds of bait were tried, but without success.

Dear.

It is natural for a rich man to become familiar with a professional man he hires and to address his physician as "My dear doctor." But to his solicitor he would not say "My dear lawyer!" although the legal man's fee would be quite as good.—New Orleans Picayune.

NERVOUS DIARRHŒA.

Many Speakers, Actors, Singers and Clergymen Suffer from Diarrhœa when they appear in public

It can be prevented by taking a few doses of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

There are many people whom nervous excitement of any kind effects in a remarkable manner, causing diarrhœa. I knew an estimable clergyman who was afflicted every time he appeared in public. He could get nothing to check this distressing condition of the bowels, until he tried Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. It acted like a charm in his case, and he always carried a bottle of the remedy with him afterwards. Some men have had to retire from public life altogether on account of their trouble becoming chronic. There is no need of this, however, as Dr. Fowler's Strawberry can control and cure the severest cases.

It is not a new or untried remedy, as it has a record of over forty years of cures to its credit and is recognized on all hands as the only reliable remedy ever offered to the public as a safe and certain cure for diarrhœa, dysentery, colic, cramps, cholera, cholera morbus and summer complaint, whether of children or adults.

The price of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is 35 cts. a bottle, and we would warn you against accepting any substitute or imitation. Many of these are positively dangerous and you are risking your life when you take them.

LETTERS FROM STONY LAKE.

Jory called upon Rev. Mr. Somerville and asked him if he would be willing to talk to a number of the campers on Sunday evening, provided that a sufficient number assembled at "Stoneage." A notice was posted up on Saturday, and on the following evening quite a number were present. It was proposed that next summer if it were at all possible, a pavilion be erected at the eastern end of the lake, and it was decided that until such a building were erected the open air services be continued at "Stoneage." Mr. Roxburgh, Mr. Lees and Dr. Jory were appointed a committee to take charge of all arrangements in connection with such services. Very pleasant and refreshing is an evening open air service, held during the heat of summer. Hymns and prayers and sermons seem more effective when one is out in the open, seated with one's back against a rock, above no other roof than the sky, around space unlimited unconfined by walls of stone or brick or wood, over all a solemn hush, the sleepy birds having gone to rest that mortals, undisturbed, might sing their hymns of praise to the great Creator! There is something in the stillness and beauty of the evening and in the limitless freedom around and above us that makes us conscious of His presence, and so the yearnings of the spirit rise "through nature up to nature's God."

One of the most charming of the summer cottages at Stony Lake is "Maple Hurst," the residenee of Miss M. P. Williams, of Norwood. Standing quite high on its rocky foundation "Maple Hurst" catches every breeze that blows, and yet in the hammock in its cosy corner on the big verandah you can recline quite comfortably at any time, sheltered from sun and wind. The inhabitants of "Maple Hurst" though are much too civilized for genuine camp life, and the poor Indians, should they happen to wander in some day for supper would stand abashed at sight of the snowy damask adorning the hospitable board — the well-appointed sleeping apartments and bath room — the bright, cosy parlour—and, outside, alack-a-day! vegetable and flower gardens, forsooth! The fine, high ceilings form one of the attractive features of this cottage, making the rooms airy, cool and pleasant. Just a short distance from "Maple Hurst" is the new residence of the Rev. Mr. Gibson of Norwood, a very pretty one-story cottage, situated on an island of almost solid rock.

No camp on the lake is more genuinely cosy and comfortable than "Water Lee Brae." Mr. R. W. Waters of Norwood, and Mr. R. Lees, Science master in the St. Thomas Collegiate Institute, are old-time campers of the days of Ubique Club fame, and understand well how to take solid comfort in camp life, and we have been told that two of the merriest parties on the lake are the folk of "Water-Lee" and "Camp Killarney." Sometimes they have camp fires together and then the only trouble wish Mr. Waters is that he will go home early, but 'tis not much wonder, poor man, for his slumbers are frequently disturbed, sometimes by noisy "Water-Lee" and sometimes perhaps by the musical sounds from "Camp Killarney" as No. 3 calls out in a voice resembling that of the strong-lunged individual who calls out the trains at the Union depot, Toronto, "Good night, No. 1—No. 2—2½—No. 4—4½—No. 5—5½ and No. 6½.

"To be sure these people will fish, but what is camp life without fishing! Thus saith a certain oracle on the subject, a certain Dr. who lives at "Killarney." "Killarney" has two true fish-stories as follows:—"The Dr. one day caught seventeen bass in an hour, and if you do not believe me when I tell you it is true you can see a picture of the any time you take the trouble to call at "Killarney." 'Twould have been the crowning happiness of Jack's life if he had just been along that day! Then two other members of the party were out boating one evening and as they paddled in toward shore, hearing a splash in the water beside the boat the gentleman thrust in his hand and pulled in a huge salmon. It was duly weighed and found to be a seventeen poynder. It was living when brought to shore, but its moments were numbered and a post mortem was held and the disease pronounced "localized peritonitis." After this it was cremated. "Killarney" was not christened until this summer, though 'tis now two summers old. The difficulty was to decide upon a name for the child, but Dr. Ford finally consented to have it called by this good old Irish name, notwithstanding his strong English prejudices. During one of his flying visits at Norwood-on-the-Lake the ceremony was performed, the Dr. making an eloquent speech upon the occasion. Several members of the party were anxious that the name should be "Sunset Cottage," for from the big verandah of "Killarney" they have a full view of the beauty and splendor of the sunsets. This name, however, was considered altogether too sentimental and poetical by certain unromantic male members of the party and sure they forgot all about "Killarney" being just as poetical.

"Music there for echo dwells,
Makes each sound a harmony,
Many-voiced the chorus swells,
Till it faints in ecstasy,
With the charmful tints below
Seems the heaven above to vie,
All rich colours that we know
Tinge the cloud-wreaths in that sky.
Wings of angels so might shine,
Glancing back soft light divine,
Beauty's home Killarney, ever fair Killarney."

A pretty sight is "Killarney" at night, with a camp-fire going down on the rocky beach, lighting up the white trunks of the little birches along the shore. To float in a canoe upon the water in front, or to lounge in a hammock upon the verandah, or recline upon the immense sofa that comfortably holds five or six, and watch the blaze through the trees at "Killarney!" Ah me!

"Angels wonder not that man
Here would fain prolong life's span,
Beauty's home, Killarney,
Ever fair Killarney!"

And now, surely I must hasten or I will tire you with this voluminous epistle. Outside the rain falls, and I am reminded again that "the melancholy days have come." Soon Jack Frost will arrive to dye the leaves of these wooded isles with a thousand brilliant hues of red and yellow and green. Then he will breathe upon Stony Lake, and in spite of Old Sol, will bind up its waters for another winter! Good-bye, Norwood-on-the Lake, and au revoir, for though winter may do its worst, summer is sure to follow! And good-bye, my friend, When you next hear from me, we shall be back once more in the midst of the old busy life, often longing amid its small worries for a glimpse of this quiet spot.

Ever faithfully yours,
JEAN.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Interesting Items of Local and General Interest.

LACROSSE.

The Canadian athletic world will in all probability be subjected to a second startling sensation within the year. On January 17th followers of amateur athletics were bewildered on learning of the expulsion by the Amateur Athletic Association of Canada of the entire Capital Lacrosse Club, of Ottawa, and the Berlin Hockey Club, of Berlin, Ont.

From developments this week, another wholesale exposure is likely to occur. Again the champion Capitals are implicated. It is said on Monday of this week four Capital lacrosse players, Pat Murphy, Herb Ralph, Geo. Donaldson and D Durkin, assisted the Smith's Falls Club at Smith's Falls against Perth. The result of the game was an overwhelming defeat for the home team, notwithstanding the presence of the four Capital men on the team. Charges of bribery and throwing the game were preferred against the Ottawa importations, and on the strength of certain well defined rumours emanating from Perth sources, the incensed Smith's Falls Club officials placed themselves in communication with the Shamrock Lacrosse Club yesterday, it is said, divulging most incriminating evidence concerning the four Capital men, in their relationship with the Smith's Falls club.

The Shamrocks and Capitals play a championship match at Montreal to-day, and as the matter now stands the Montreal club are in a position to irrevocably retire four of their opponents from amateur athletics. The Shamrocks failing to take the charges up against the Capital men, the Smith's Falls club will place in the hands of Secretary Herbert Brown, of the A.A.A. of C., the damaging evidence.

The Smith's Falls lacrosse club lost considerable money in wagers on the game, and are therefore greatly chagrined at the result, and have adopted this course in getting even with the Ottawa men. Unless thrown out by the Senior Five Club League, the case will not be dealt with until the approaching meeting of the Amateur Athletic Association of Canada in Montreal late this month.

Pat Murphy is the star of the Capital lacrosse team; a member of the Ottawa College football team, and also of the Capital hockey club. Ralph Donaldson and Durkin are both young lacrosse players of exceptional promise.

CRICKET AT CAMPBELLFORD.

Warkworth cricketers were defeated in their return match with Campbellford yesterday by one innings and seven runs. Campbellford made 113, Warkworth 25 and 81. For the Campbellford team E. Nancarrow got 23, F. Bonnycastle 19, P. Heenan 15. For Warkworth, J. Platt 18, A. Weatherson 16, McMillan 11. Jimmie Blute, a Campbellford junior, played his first cricket match and done excellent bowling for his team, getting four wickets for eleven runs in the first innings, and five for ten in the second.

THE WHEEL.

The much talked of race between Davidson and Walker will not take place Thursday next, but will have to be postponed as Walker will have to be in Port Hope and Orono on business all week.

The unique technical objection that a bicycle rider occupying the rear seat of a tandem is irresponsible for the course pursued by the person steering the wheel, which was raised in the county police court, Ottawa, by Mr, A. D. Sturrock, when he was charged with riding a bicycle in the above manner on the sidewalks of Hintonburg, has evidently had the desired effect, inasmuch as the prosecution has withdrawn its case against Mr. Sturrock.

When the matter came up in court the prosecution wished to discontinue the case, which abrogated the necessity of Magistrate Smith rendering a decision on this interesting point. Mr. H. B. Woodland, who rode on the front seat of the tandem and steered it to the sidewalk, taking along with him his unsusceptible companion, pleaded guilty by proxy, and a fine of $1 was imposed. As requested, the case against Mr. Sturrock was dismissed.

Mr. Sturrock's successful plea that he was not responsible for riding a bicycle on a sidewalk because he was on the rear end of a tandem and couldn't steer, will meet with a responsive thrill of admiration in many riders who can't steer well enough on the front seat of a single wheel to keep off sidewalks.

GROSS CRUELTY TO A HORSE.

To the Editor of the Examiner :

SIR,—I send you an extract from a London (England) suburban paper, in order that your readers may see how cruelty to horses is punished there.

Yours truly,
ROYAL SOCIETY PREVENTION CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.

Peterborough, Sept. 9th.

"Frederick Turner, Hawthorn-grove, a carman, was charged with cruelty to a horse.—Defendant did not appear.—Warrant Officer Kalle said he served the summons on the landlord, who said he would give it to defendant if he returned.—The Bench were not satisfied that the man knew of the summons.—Mr. Colam, barrister, who prosecuted, asked that the evidence might be taken for the convenience of witnesses.—This course was adopted. Mrs. Montague Fowler, now resident at the Beulah Spa Hotel, said on Friday, July 22nd, she was in a lady's house in Belvedere-road. Hearing a noise outside, she went to the window, and saw a man leading a horse down the hill (which is exceptionally steep). The cart was laden with gravel, and had a man lying on it at the back. Defendant was leading the horse. The cart had Mr. Winnifrith's name upon it. Defendant was saying to the horse, "Come on, and take care you don't break your neck." Witness said to the defendant, "That load is too heavy." The man at the back said, "No it ain't, miss." Witness said, "If you have an accident or not, I shall report you for overloading. Witness ran back into house and got her hat, and came out. She saw the horse fall twice and scramble up. When she reached the bottom of the hill the horse was crumpled up under the cart, and was bleeding from the hocks. She herself put up the prop, and went to the horse's head and patted it. She then told the man to tilt up the cart, and said to him, "If you had taken my warning this would not have happened," Defendant replied, "I am very sorry, I did not know." When the horse got up she said, "Loosen it from the harness." It was taken out, and walked very stiffly. She looked at the wounds on the hocks, and told defendant to have them properly attended to, and she told him not to work the animal again till it was well. The road was such that its danger must be apparent to anyone. Inspector Laird, R.S.P.C.A., gave the result of an interview with defendant. He told witness he knew he ought not to have gone down this road, but he got a bit behind that day and so took a short cut. The wound in the near hock was six inches long, three inches wide and three long, cut to the bone; the offside hock wound was three inches wide and three long. This concluded this case so far as it could be carried. Warrant issued for the man's arrest.....

Another case arose out of this. Mr. Wm. Lewington, Hawthorn grove, manager to Mr. Winnifrith, was summoned for allowing the same horse to be worked when unfit, and Harry Jackson was charged with working it. Mrs. Montague Fowler again stepped into the box, and detailed the nature of the horse's injuries at Belvedere road. In her opinion the animal ought not to have been worked. Inspector Laird stated that on the day after the accident he went to Hawthorn-grove. He asked Mr. Lewington to let him see the horse, and Mr. Lewington replied that he had sent it to Tatsfield, a 30-mile journey. He told witness he had dressed the animal's hocks the night before to stop the bleeding. At eight o'clock that night the animal returned. Mr. Lewington told him that he sent the animal out to wear off the stiffness. On July 29th he found the animal at work in Tudor-road. He had it examined by a veterinary surgeon then. It was unfit for work. Mr. Israel Print, the veterinary surgeon confirmed the evidence of lameness on July 27th. During the whole time since the accident it would have been impossible to work the animal without pain. Lewington denied knowledge that the horse was lame, or he would not have sent it out. Lewington was fined £5, veterinary fee £1 1s., 7s. 6d. costs, or one month; Jackson was fined £1, 7s. 6d. costs, or seven days. Money paid.

Men's Hats, Men's Shoes, Men's Clothing, Men's Underwear, Men's Furnishings, All Under One Roof!

The first calendar month of Autumn, 1898, will bring us up to the greatest business we have ever known. Measure it by bulk, weight, dollars or transactions, we get the same great result—BIGGER THAN EVER BEFORE.

What makes Gough Bros. so distinctly Gough Bros is the SPIRIT that actuates their business—all the time striving to serve our customers better and better—shortening the road from producer to consumer, and saving to buyers every penny of cost.

We maintain our well earned title of "THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MEN"—our fixed aim has been and will contiuue to be, to sell a $20 suit for $15. The suit you paid $17.50 for we can duplicate for $12.50. You may think our prices are sometimes too low—too low for good clothing—but if special prices or unusual discounts are given us, we take them off to you to make larger sales.

First Instalment of Fall Goods.

66 CASES—14 Huge Cases of Clothing and Furnishings, 40 Cases of Boots and Shoes, 12 Cases Hats and Caps.

Clothing—everything is brand new, fresh and clean—the handsomest and best Tailored Ready-to-Wear Clothing ever shown in Peterborough—selected for Peterborough's best trade.

HATS and CAPS.

We're able to discount the trade, because of unusual buying power. We go direct to the makers and insure fine qualities by knowing what to buy and what to let alone. If you're a judge of quality, it won't take any talking from the salesmen.

—On the finest Fur Fedora Hats we take off 35c., and ask only $1.65.
—On the best Fur Felt Stiff Hats we take off 50c., and ask only $2.00.
—On Men's Knockabout Hats we take off 20c., and ask only 35c.
—On Men's Silk Hats, latest styles, we take off 50c. and 75c., and ask only $3.00 and $3.75.
—Youths and Boys in same proportion.

BOOTS and SHOES

Warranted not to crack, nor take in washing. Ours isn't the common kind of Boots and Shoes. If anybody can beat the quality, the style, the price, we'll quit the business.

—On the best $3 Men's Selected Shape Balmoral or Congress, we take off 40c, and ask only $2.60.
—On the best Men's Fine Hand-Made Balmorals we take off 35c., and ask only $1.65.
—On the best Fine Patent Leather Oxford Shoes, turn soles, we take off 45c., and ask only $1.40.
—On the best French Dongola Kid Button (common sense) we take off 90c., and ask only $1.50.
—Misses', Boys', and Children's in same proportion.

CORRECTING A MISTAKE—Who sells the cheapest goods — themerchant who is compelled to buy in one higgling market, and is tied down to one grasping manufacturer, or the merchant who has the freedom of all the competing markets and manufacturers of the world? Do men buy Hats cheaper where nothing but Hats are sold, or Boots cheaper where nothing but Boots are sold, or Clothing cheaper where nothing but Clothing is sold? Might as well expect a farmer to do as well for his family by raising nothing but Pumpkins as if he raised a mixed crop.

EDWIN BAKER'S STORY

Indicates Political Corruption in South Ontario.

HE BOUGHT VOTES AT $5 EACH.

Says That Mr. Smith, Ex-M.P., Supplied the Money to Use in Cedar Dale—Rumor That Mr. Calder Will Abandon the Seat—Evidence of Conservative Association Officials.

Whitby, Sept. 13.—Before Mr. Justice Osler and Mr. Justice Ferguson yesterday morning the trial was begun of the petition presented by J. E. Lamblyn, on behalf of the Reformers of South Ontario, against the return of Charles Calder, elected on March 1 by a majority of 96 over Hon. John Dryden, the former member for the riding. There was a large gathering of electors in the court room when proceedings began at 11 o'clock, representing both sides of politics. Mr. Dryden and Mr. Calder were both in town, and were warmly greeted by their political friends. Counsel in the case are Messrs. C. J. Holman, A. G. Sleight and L. K. Murton for the petitioner, and Messrs. Wallace Nesbitt, W. D. McPherson, T. A. McGillivray and J. B. Dow for the respondent.

In a few words of preliminary explanation Mr. Holman said the election was held on March 1, and Mr. Calder's majority was 96. There was no intention to have a scrutiny. He announced that he desired to amend the charges by adding another charge regarding the alleged bribery of David Lockwood by W. A. Thomas of Oshawa. He had only been put in possession of the facts before the court met, and had not been able to give notice. The court instructed the counsel for the defence to take notice of the application.

Mr. Nesbitt's request for a postponement of the trial because the respondent was not ready to proceed with Case 35 was not granted.

Officials as Witnesses.

John Burns, secretary of the Liberal Conservative Association, was the first witness. He was questioned in the minutest fashion as to the membership of the association and the mode of election, and when he got through witness had seemingly revealed the political pedigree of every Conservative in the riding. To Mr. Nesbitt, Mr. Burns said the parties were very much broken up last election, and he believed that matters not of a strictly public nature had influenced the fates against Hon. John Dryden at last election.

Fred. Hare, secretary of the Young Conservative Club, Oshawa, was then put in the box and questioned regarding the organization of the club and members elected at different times to office.

John Keeler, a committeeman for Mr. Calder, gave evidence as to organization.

Received $2 for His Vote.

John Sherrin, a voter at Cedar Dale at last election, was called, and gave the first evidence as to corruption. Edwin Baker had called on him and asked him to vote for Mr. Calder. He called me up to the front room, said Sherin, and put $2 on the table. He told me that after the election he would give me more, but he never did. (Laughter and cries of "Order.") That was on the morning of the election, and after I picked up the bill I went right in with him and voted. Baker did not give me the money out of his own hands. I found it on the table.

Five Dollars a Vote.

Edwin Baker, one time accountant of the Cedar Dale Works at Oshawa, in this county, was the next witness.

He swore: I met William Smith, ex-M.P., in the Royal Hotel in this town, before the election last March. We talked about the probability of the vote at Cedar Dale, where I knew the voters well. He asked if I thought I could change 20 votes. I said I could with $100. Smith said he'd give it to me, and to go ahead and do it. I was to go on and contract for the votes and he'd make it good to me.

He gave me $10 to spend around Cedar Dale in the hotels. I spent it in treating electors while canvassing for Caldar in Cedar Dale and South Oshawa. It was spent in the two hotels there, Kilpatrick's and Mallet's. I saw Smith next at the Queen's Hotel in Oshawa the afternoon before the election. Election day I voted 1¼ miles north of Whitby town, then drove at once six miles to Cedar Dale and worked all day. I saw Lewis Luke there. He came down with some money. He gave me $40. I told him about Smith and the $100. Luke said $40 was all he had. I canvassed John Sherrin and gave him $2 for voting for Calder. Austin McGrail, Patrick Sherrin, Fred. McLean, William Hayes, Joseph McGrail, Arthur Stapleton and John McGrail each got $5 for their votes. I offered Edward Morris $5, but he would not take it. He wanted $10. There were others I don't remember that I paid to vote for Calder. I next saw Smith a day or two after polling in front of the hotel in Columbus, where he lives. He agreed to meet me at the Queen's, in Oshawa, that evening at 9. He did, first in the lobby, next upstairs in a private room. He gave me an order on Luke for $30. He went over the list of votes I had bought. I had a list and gave it to him. I paid money to others besides those I've named. I presented the order to Luke, and he said he hadn't the money. I then went to Smith, and he said he didn't understand it, for Luke had the money. I saw Luke again and he paid me.

This evidence created a sensation in the crowded court room while the witness was giving it.

Mr. Nesbitt arose and asked for an adjournment before beginning his cross-examination. He knew nothing of the witness, and wished to see Mr. Smith and consider with him before going on. It was probable, Mr. Nesbitt said, that the result would be to shorten his cross-examination and possibly to economize the time of the court in the rest of the proceedings.

Hon. John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture, whose seat in the Ontario Legislature Mr. Calder won from him last March, was an interested spectator during the day.

May Abandon the Seat.

Negotiations, it is asserted, have been entered into for the vacation of the seat, but nothing definite has been arranged and the case may go on again to-day.

CHOOSES A SUMMARY TRIAL.

The County Judge of Oxford Will Try Middleton Sept. 27.

Woodstock, Sept. 13.—Reginald Launcelot Middleton, alias McDonald, will be tried summarily and by the county judge. This was the course decided upon by the prisoner's solicitors. Middleton himself made the election, and the judge announced that he would try the case on Sept. 27, providing the parties were ready to proceed.

ONE STEP NEARER DEATH.

Hammond Taken to Bracebridge From Barrie—Radcliffe on Hand.

Bracebridge, Ont., Sept. 13.—The Pacific express that brought W. J. Hammond from Barrie to Bracebridge yesterday afternoon, was one hour late. The large crowd at the station were anxiously awaiting its arrival, but they were doomed to disappointment. When the train came in Hammond was hustled off the rear car into a closed carriage by Detective Greer, who drove off at a rapid rate to the jail before the anxious crowd were aware of what had happened. When they did know, however, there was a mad rush for the rear of the train, but they were too late. Hammond was gone.

Radcliffe, the hangman, arrived on the same train, and the work of erecting a scaffold will be begun to-day under his supervision.

The execution will be strictly private none but those legally entitled will be allowed inside the jail walls.

Montreal, Que., Sept. 13.—Fred. Elmirist of Peterboro, who joined the 3rd U. S. cavalry at the outbreak of the Spanish-American war, has arrived here from Atlanta, Georgia, where he was confined for a month on suspicion of being a Spanish spy. He was given an honorable discharge.

Policy Not Cancelled.

Toronto, Sept. 13.—The Sons of Scotland sued yesterday before Chief Justice Meredith to have cancelled the policy of $1,000 which, in 1894, the society issued to Richard Faulker of St. Mary's. The society claimed misrepresentation as to age. The action was dismissed.

A Republican Victory.

Portland, Me., Sept. 13.—The Republicans carried everything in the elections in this State yesterday. Congressmen Thomas B. Reed, Nelson Dingley, Burleigh and Boutell all received big majorities.

BLACK FLAG OF DEATH

With White Skull and Crossbones Raised at New Westminster

BEFORE THE CITY WAS FIRED.

Sensational Story That Former Convicts in the Penitentiary, Out of Revenge, Set Fire to the British Columbia Town—The Government Tents Now Cover the Homeless People.

Vancouver, B.C., Sept. 13. — There have been the most sensational developments in the Westminster fire, to the effect that the city was burned down by penitentiary prisoners. The story is not credited by the city officials, who claim it is a hoax and a strange coincidence, but the story is being thoroughly investigated by the insurance companies. At 10.30 o'clock, half an hour before the fire started, as Mr. and Mrs. Peebles were passing the Public school, built on the high eminence overlooking the Fraser River front, an incipient blaze was first noticed. They were surprised to see two men hoisting a black flag at half-mast on the flagpole. They asked who was dead. The men replied: "No one." They fastened the flag and ran into the city, where they met an Indian named Pere Peter, whom they offered $5 to row them across the river. Peter was suspicious, and declined.

In half an hour fire broke out, the flames coming from a pile of hay in a locked shed on the wharf.

The Black Flag Hoisted.

A watchman close by heard a man screaming inside as the building burst into flames, and two men hoisted a black flag, which, when taken down the next day, was found to have a white skull and crossbones sewn in the centre. They were the same men, from the description, that asked the Indian to row them across the river, and the same men who, half an hour after the fire started, were paddling for their lives from it.

The theory advanced is that three prisoners, recently discharged from the Provincial Penitentiary here, who had frequently threatened to do for Westminster when they got out, carried out their intentions, that the black flag with the white skull and crossbones left floating over the destroyed city on the limits of the fire zone was a symbol of the revenge as well as a signal to confederates on the wharf to touch a match to the city, and that the screams of agony emanating from the shed where the fire started were the cries of agony and hopeless terror of the fiend who fell a victim to his own hellish design.

HOUSED IN TENTS.

New Westminster's Homeless People in Temporary Shelter.

Vancouver, B.C., Sept. 13.—At New Westminster yesterday morning there were many peculiar scenes. On the wide, open space, just beyond where the fearful fire stopped, a row of tents has arisen. The Provincial Government and Vancouver authorities have housed in tents, lent by the Militia Department, all homeless sufferers. Blankets by hundreds formed beds, and the burned-out families seem to be as comfortable as possible under the circumstances. All through the unfortunate victims have borne the ruin stoically. All through the hours of the conflagration they were calm as death. Now they are just the same. Their losses have made them almost insensible to thought. During the fire, save for the roaring of the flames and shouting of firemen and Chinese, all was quiet. No crying or panic was seen or heard in the crowds of burnt-out and destitute people.

As usual at fires, a number of robberies took place, and more than one store was pillaged. The Chief of Police, when asked if there had been any arrests on account of the looting, answered in the negative.

Already active merchants of the Royal City are starting rebuilding stores and renewing business. Annandale, the grocer, whose premises were totally destroyed, started building new stores in the afternoon, and will be open to-day. He is nothing if not energetic.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1898.

AN OTTAWA LETTER.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

OTTAWA, Sept. 10.—The address of the Hon. Mr. Patterson, M. P., Minister of Customs last Tuesday before the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, contains some useful and significant statistics. After remarking that agriculture and lumbering were the leading industries of the country, the Minister delared that the manufacturing industries were also making very rapid strides, emphasing his statement by quoting from export returns. In 1878 the value of Canadian manufactures was $4,127,755, in 1888, ten years later, the increase was $33,550, or a total of $4 161,282, in 1898, after another decade, the figures had risen to $10,639,227,[illegible] an increase of $6,500,000, or more than 150 per cent. Of this increase more than $1,000,000 is credited to the last twelve months, and as the increase of business in this department with Great Britain has increased from $3,617,128 in 1897 to $4,900,484 in 1898, the entire increase, and more, too, has been in the trade within the Empire. As the Minister observed, nothing could be more satisfactory than the fact that Canadian goods were finding a great market in Britain.

THE GOVERNMENT ENDORSED.

Following the Minister, Mr. Geo. H. Bertram, M.P., the great ship-builder, spoke of the vast improvement in the quality of Canadian manufactures which were able to compete successfully with Amer can goods and sell on their own reputation. Subsequently, in the course of his address, Vice President P. W. Ellis, who is certainly not considered an ardent Liberal, declared that the Government of the day enjoyed, the approbation of the manufacturers and deservingly so.

While, as the Minister of Customs remarked in opening, agriculture and lumbering are our most important industries, there is no reason why the Dominion should not take a first class position as a manufacturing power as well, and it is, therefore, gratifying to note the improvement which is already manifesting itself under the less restrictive tariff conditions now prevailing.

NO NEED TO URGE A WILLING HORSE.

The local Conservative paper treats its readers to a lengthy article upon the proposed Pacific cable, urging the Goverment to take action thereon. It is satisfactory to find the worthy "Citizen," and its contemporaries interesting themselves in Imperial development, even at this late date, but the Federal Government's record during the past two years is a fair guarantee that Canada's policy in this important matter will be thoroughly progressive and up to date.

WHAT ABOUT "BROKEN PLEDGES."

There is not so much space given in Conservative journals, just now to the discussion of the "broken pre-election promises" of the Government. The platform upon which the election of 1896 was fought, contained many planks. The first declared for tariff reform and freer trade; the obligation then undertaken has been well met as far as existing conditions would permit in the period that has elapsed,—too well met some critics declare. Another plank declared for enlarged markets and reciprocity with the United States if such could be obtained on fair and liberal terms; while the efforts of the Government in other directions are rapidly securing the larger markets and making the need for reciprocity far less felt, no reasonable effort is being spared to follow up the endeavour of the past and improve trade relations with the republic to the south.

A third plank declared for purity of administration and condemned corruption; though opportunities for boodling and misappropriation of the national resources were never so abundant and accessible, the most searching investigation by the Opposition during the last two sessions failed to disclose a single dollar wrongly expended. Other planks declared for a repeal of the Dominion Franchise Act, for a remodeling of the Superannuation Scheme and for the submitting of the Prohibition Question to a Dominion Plebiscite; all these promises have been redeemed, and only half the Parliamentary term over. Other planks such as the repeal of the gerrymander act and a fair redistribution of seats, the reform of the Senate, etc., are simply waiting their turn and at present rate of progress, the Laurier Government will meet the electors at the next general election with a longer list of redeemed pledges than any Federal Government in Canada since Confederation.

FRUIT FOR GREAT BRITAIN.

After a somewhat extended stay in Great Britain with the Minister of Agriculture for the purpose of making personal investigation into the condition of the fruit market, Professor Robertson, of the Experimental Farm, has returned to Ottawa full of enthusiasm for the future of the Canadian fruit trade with the Old Country. He declared that there is a big market for pears, peaches, apples, tomatoes, plums and grapes, and for the first time it is now possible, owing to the cold storage facilities that have been created through the Department of Agriculture to ship these extremely perishable goods to London and to place them before the consumer in perfect condition. The trial shipments, which have been already made, have proved an unqualified success, when the suggestions offered by the Government as to sorting and packing have been carefully followed. The Commissioner is satisfied that there is an unlimited market for Canadian fruits which will find ready sale at prices that will handsomely remunerate the Canadian producer. The details of transportation have been very carefully worked out, and the only chance of any want of success will arise from negligence and carelessness on the part of the shipper.

IT WILL ALL COME IN TIME.

The Oppositionists seem to be very prone to rush to extremes; they cannot take things moderately, but must go either too fast or too slow. They had little sympathy, for instance, with the efforts of the Government to secure Imperial penny postage, and even went so far as to openly ridicule the earnest work of the Postmaster General towards that end, but now that victory has crowned those efforts, they are shouting loudly for reduced Dominion rates too. The Government has already promised to grant these as soon as it can be done without too great a financial loss, so let our impetuous friends have patience. It isn't reasonable to expect the Liberals to accomplish in two years all that Conservatives failed to do in twenty. Possibly this impatience arises from a determination to create a deficit somewhere or by some means. The anticipated loss from the reduced Imperial rate will be so insignificant that it has got be created somewhere else.

THE STORIES REPUDIATED.

Professional detractors of the Administration made a big tactical error when they began to credit the sensational narratives from the gold fields to specific individuals. So long as they clipped from the American "yellow" journals or simply introduced the yarn with the line "It is reported that, etc.," there was no danger of a denial, but when they ventured to be more definite and credit the stories to Major Walsh, Inspector Constantine, Dr. Matthewman and so on, they made a mistake, for without exception every story that has been so credited to reputable travellers has been promptly and emphatically repudiated at the first opportunity.

MAKE MUSCLE!

Every Man and Woman Can Enjoy Health and Strength.

If They Will Use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets to Change Their Food Into Rich Blood to Make Muscle, Bone and Sinew.

Why are the men of to-day weaker, less vigourous, more puny, than those of a century ago?

Because we live a more rapid life. Because we keep late hours, bolt our food, ruin our digestive systems, in a word, because we burn the candle of life at both ends, and make no provision to replace it.

This is why men are weaker; women have to bear the daily burden of pain, and why men and women are short-lived.

What can we do in this case?

We can remedy the evil; we can become strong, robust and healthy, active, vigourous, and clear-brained, enjoying long life, and all its pleasures by making up for the waste that always attends the wear and tear of daily life. How can we do this?

By making new blood, rich, health-giving blood; by making new muscles, bone and sinew, that will take the place of those worn out daily and hourly.

This can be done in one way—one way only. That way is by ensuring perfect digestion. If our food is perfectly digested, it forms rich, healthy blood.

Rich, pure, healthy blood forms bone, muscle, sinew and nerves.

These are necessary to good health, strength and vigor.

If you use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets—one after each meal—"every bite" of food you eat will be promptly and thoroughly digested.

It makes no difference whether your stomach is out of order or not, Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest the food themselves.

Then a fully supply of rich, strong blood is ensured. That means health, strength, vigor, and the power to enjoy life and its opportunities.

METHODIST DISCIPLINE.

Discussed at the Methodist Conference—Mr. Edward Gurney's Startling Speech—The Million Dollar Scheme.

Toronto, Sept. 13.—The Methodist Conference yesterday afternoon again debated the 20th century million dollar scheme, and then remitted the details back to the committee again.

The Question of Dancing.

The report of the Committee on Discipline practically admitted the validity of dancing, card playing and theatre-going for Methodists. As the majority was so narrow, Dr. Mills thought he was justified in moving an amendment to the recommendation of his committee. He was not in favor of reckless sensational denunciation. Sermons on special subjects, such as dancing, gambling, etc., did not the slightest good, except to draw attention to the minister himself. Wesley's rules could not be expected to be up-to-date now. Dr. Mills believed that Christ knew all about dancing, and He did not forbid it. By implication He sanctioned it. The father in the parable welcomed the prodigal son with music and dancing.

"Was our Saviour in favor of the sexes dancing together?" asked Judge Chesley, but Dr. Mills was not clear on the point.

Dr. Antliff declared that if these things were not definitely forbidden in God's Word they were prohibited constructively.

Mr. S. F. Lezier of Hamilton said that the Methodist Church had worked under the discipline for over a hundred years without that note appended.

Dr. Crowthers pleaded for ample discussion of this most important subject. Dancing and card playing must be judged from their fruits.

Mr. Gurney's Speech.

Edward Gurney moved: "These general rules are to be interpreted in harmony with the teachings of the New Testament, which call for the consecration of our whole life to the service of Christ, and which make purity, justice and charity supreme in the heart of all Christians."

Mr. Gurney, in supporting his motion, said that every man of the conference knew that a law not enforced was an evil. The law against dancing was not being enforced. (Uproar.)

"I could name you," said Mr. Gurney, "men of high position in Toronto, members of the Methodist body, who violate this rule openly and persistently, and there is never a word said."

"You don't interfere with my kitchen arrangements," he said again, "and what right have you to declare to me what I must teach my children?"

Mr. Gurney further informed the conference that if they were consistent they would eject a man holding such views as himself from their body. Mr Gurney upheld the view of a previous speaker that these absurd restrictions were driving great numbers from the Methodist Church. He was capable of interpreting the Scriptures for himself and would allow no one to do it for him. There was no question of morality in the whole business. If Mr. Moore really believed what he said about hell and damnation for dancers and card players, he was a candidate for a lunatic asylum.

Mr. Moore—What I said was true.

Mr. Gurney—You're another. It was absolute nonsense.

Chancellor Burwash seconded Mr. Gurney's motion. In the spirit of calmness and in the fear of God was the question to be dealt with. Such declarations as that appended to the discipline when removed might seem to open the door to license.

"You can't produce high moral results by specific rules, but you must teach men and women to act upon principles."

Dr. Maclaren said that Dr. Burwash's scheme, taken in its logical conclusion, would utterly wipe out the discilpine.

At this point a motion of adjournment prevailed.

The evening session was wholly taken up by a discussion of the question of prohibition. Speeches were delivered by Rev. W. Dobson of Halifax, who held the liquor trade bad in itself and entitled to no protection; Mr. N. W. Rowell, who did not think the revenue question a difficult one, and Rev. Leo Gaetz of Brandon, who dwelt on the personal liberty aspect of the question.

Diamond Dyes are the Favourites of all Wise Women.

Used by the Best Dyers in the World.

In the colouring of cotton and wool rags and yarns for carpet, rug and mat making, Diamond Dyes are almost universally used. By their use colouring can be done in one-fourth the time and at far less expense than with the old fashioned dyestuffs, while the Diamond Dyes are far more brilliant and durable.

Diamond Dyes are fast to light, and if you use these dyes your home-made carpets, rugs and mats will be as bright after years of wear, as the most expensive foreign goods. Diamond Dyes are fast to soap and water, and goods coloured by them can be freely washed, and will be brighter and better for it. Of no other dyes is this true. When you prepare for your home dyeing work, do not be deceived by imitation package or soap grease dyes; the Diamond Dyes are used by the best prize dyers; you need them to make a success of your work.

Paine's Celery Compound is the Mighty Rescuer.

Mr. Forsythe says: "I am pleased to Recommend Paine's Celery Compound; I Believe it is the Best Medicine in the World."

WELLS & RICHARDSON CO.

GENTLEMEN,—For two years I was in a low condition of health, suffering from nervousness, fainting spells, pain in the head, stomach troubles and loss of appetite. I was under the care of two doctors, but received no benefit from their treatment. I also used two bottles of a recommended patent medicine, but no good results came. I was then advised by a neighbour to use your wonderful medicine, Paine's Celery Compound. The use of this marvellous preparation soon produced the very best results. I am glad to report that my health is improved in every respect: I am stronger, sleep better, and my appetite is good and natural. I am pleased to recommend Paine's Celery Compound to all sick people, as I believe it is the best medicine in the world.

Yours truly,
A. FORSYTHE,

Summary Conversion.

Hawaiians all became "Christians" through the simple process of an edict—kapoo—of one of the sturdy old Kamehamehas. That worthy king, observing that it was easier to kill an enemy with a rifle than with a club, and that the rifle was the invention of the Christians, took a short cut through the theological mazes of the missionaries who were trying to convert his subjects, and announced that all Hawaiians were from that moment Christians. As he added that he would knock on the head any who objected, the thing was done as fast as his couriers could deliver his message to his loving subjects.—New York World.

One of Disraeli's Epigrams.

Disraeli's epigrams were pointed and doubled edged, and this one, given by Mr. George Russell in his diary, is about as sharp as Disraeli could make it. Some one had asked Disraeli if he had read the Greville memoirs. Now, there never had been much amity between him and the Grevilles, and so he said: "I do not feel attracted to them. I knew the author, and he was the most conceited person with whom I have been brought in contact, although I have read Cicero and known Bulwer Lytton."

SCROFULA.

"My little boy, aged 7 years and 15 months, was a victim of Scrofula on the face, which all the doctors said was incurable. To tell the truth he was so bad that I could not bear to look at him. At last I tried a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and before it was half used he was gaining, and by the time he had three bottles used he was completely cured. I cannot say too much in recommendation of B.B.B. to all who suffer as he did." JOSEPH P. LABELLE, Manwake P.O., Que.

There can be no question about it. Burdock Blood Bitters has no equal for the cure of Sores and Ulcers of the most chronic and malignant nature. Through its powerful blood purifying properties, it gets at the source of disease and completely eradicates it from the system.

WHEAT HIGHER

Monday Evening, Sept. 12.

Large Northwest receipts and the increased Russian and Danubian shipments caused a weak feeling in wheat on the Chicago board early this morning, but the remarkable depletion of the world's stocks and the consequent good demand for and premium upon the cash article soon caused an upward turn of about a cent a bushel on all deliveries. The close was ½c above Saturday's final figures.

Paris wheat closed 5 to 10 centimes higher, with flour 10 to 15 centimes lower.

On the Liverpool board to-day, spot red winter wheat declined ½d per cental, and future deliveries closed nearly a penny lower than on Saturday.

The United States Government crop report for September, placing America's coming corn crop at 1,900,000,000 bushels, caused a break in Chicago prices of over half a cent to-day.

Visible and Afloat.

As compared with a week ago, the visible supply of wheat in Canada and the United States has increased 1,259,000 bushels, that of corn has increased 506,000 bushels, and that of oats has increased 38,000 bushels.

To recapitulate, the visible supply of wheat in Canada and the United States, together with that afloat to Europe, is 23,846,000 bushels, against 22,827,000 bushels a week ago, and 37,686,000 bushels a year ago.

ASSURANCE CO.

OFFICE OF W. A. MURRAY & CO.,
17 to 27 King St., East, Toronto.

Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, N.A.L. :

DEAR SIR,—In answer to your request for me to decide upon one of the following options offered me for settlement of my 15-payment Life Investment Policy for $5,000 which has matured this year, viz:

1st to take the value of the Policy in Cash	$5,000.00
2nd, or fully paid-up insurance for	3,280.00
3rd, or take the profits in cash and continue my policy without further payments being required from me, one policy participating in future profits.	2,050 25

I find it somewhat difficult to make a decision either of the three options being so satisfactory. I am certainly very much pleased with the results offered me, and as I find many others are giving full testimony to the profit-earning power of this company, I do not hesitate to give my endorsement as well, that the North American Life is one of our strongest Canadian institutions to day giving first class results on Investment Policies, on a safe and conservative basis. I find that my policy, which was originally a Life by fifteen payments, has become an Endowment at the end of the Investment period.

Five public officials of Kingston, Jamaica, have been warned by anonymous letters that they are to be assassinated, "as a reward for their oppression." The Speaker of the Legislative Assembly was assassinated on Sept. 2.

E. A. Callahan, a private in the First United States Volunteers (immunes) was shot dead Sunday night at Galveston, Texas, by a policeman named Henry Owens. Jack Elliott, Callahan's companion, was also wounded in the abdomen.

Four silverware factories at Meriden, Conn., have received offers from the International Silver Company, a concern capitalized at $20,000,000, for purchase of their outfits, worth $1,850,000. The idea is to combine all silverware manufactories.

In the Exchequer Court judgment has been given in the case of the Queen v. Justice Armour for $14,158 in connection with the expropriation of land on the Trent Valley canal. The Government offered $6,680, but he declined, and now the court gives the above amount.

The 20-round bout for the lightweight championship of the world between Frank Erne of Buffalo and Kid Lavigne, that was to have been the opening contest at the Hawthorne Athletic Club at Cheektowaga, was stopped by Sheriff Kilgallon before the men came together in the arena.

A. D. Sturrock was on the rear seat of a tandem bicycle when it left the road and wheeled along the sidewalk near Hintonburg, Ottawa. In court he objected to being fined, and claimed he had to go wherever the steersman chose. The objection was upheld, and the case against Mr. Sturrock dismissed. The man on the front seat was fined $1.

Paine's Celery Compound is the Mighty Rescuer.

Mr. Forsythe says: "I am pleased to Recommend Paine's Celery Compound; I Believe it is the Best Medicine in the World."

WELLS & RICHARDSON CO.

GENTLEMEN,—For two years I was in a low condition of health, suffering from nervousness, fainting spells, pain in the head, stomach troubles and loss of appetite. I was under the care of two doctors, but received no benefit from their treatment. I also used two bottles of a recommended patent medicine, but no good results came. I was then advised by a neighbour to use your wonderful medicine, Paine's Celery Compound. The use of this marvellous preparation soon produced the very best results. I am glad to report that my health is improved in every respect: I am stronger, sleep better, and my appetite is good and natural. I am pleased to recommend Paine's Celery Compound to all sick people, as I believe it is the best medicine in the world.

Yours truly,
A. FORSYTHE,

Summary Conversion.

Hawaiians all became "Christians" through the simple process of an edict—kapoo—of one of the sturdy old Kamehamehas. That worthy king, observing that it was easier to kill an enemy with a rifle than with a club, and that the rifle was the invention of the Christians, took a short cut through the theological mazes of the missionaries who were trying to convert his subjects, and announced that all Hawaiians were from that moment Christians. As he added that he would knock on the head any who objected, the thing was done as fast as his couriers could deliver his message to his loving subjects.—New York World.

One of Disraeli's Epigrams.

Disraeli's epigrams were pointed and doubled edged, and this one, given by Mr. George Russell in his diary, is about as sharp as Disraeli could make it. Some one had asked Disraeli if he had read the Greville memoirs. Now, there never had been much amity between him and the Grevilles, and so he said: "I do not feel attracted to them. I knew the author, and he was the most conceited person with whom I have been brought in contact, although I have read Cicero and known Bulwer Lytton."

WHEAT HIGHER

Monday Evening, Sept. 12.

Large Northwest receipts and the increased Russian and Danubian shipments caused a weak feeling in wheat on the Chicago board early this morning, but the remarkable depletion of the world's stocks and the consequent good demand for and premium upon the cash article soon caused an upward turn of about a cent a bushel on all deliveries. The close was ½c above Saturday's final figures.

Paris wheat closed 5 to 10 centimes higher, with flour 10 to 15 centimes lower.

On the Liverpool board to-day, spot red winter wheat declined ½d per cental, and future deliveries closed nearly a penny lower than on Saturday.

The United States Government crop report for September, placing America's coming corn crop at 1,900,000,000 bushels, caused a break in Chicago prices of over half a cent to-day.

Visible and Afloat.

As compared with a week ago, the visible supply of wheat in Canada and the United States has increased 1,239,000 bushels, that of corn has increased 506,000 bushels, and that of oats has increased 38,000 bushels.

To recapitulate, the visible supply of wheat in Canada and the United States, together with that afloat to Europe, is 23,846,000 bushels, against 22,827,000 bushels a week ago, and 37,686,000 bushels a year ago.

The butchers were present in large numbers, and trade was fair, with prices about the same as on Thursday for pretty good cattle, but common stock were not nearly so plentiful as on that day and brought better prices. East Buffalo, Sept. 12.—Cattle—There were 220 loads on sale, including 91 loads of Canadian stockers. The proportion of desirable grades of export and choice handy fat butchers and the good kind of stockers was light, while the demand opened quite as lively. At the opening some of the export kind sold 10c to 15c higher than last Monday, on the basis of a scarcity and a difference in values, and good handy fat butcher cattle were 10c to 15c higher, being comparatively scarce. Stockers of the top grades sold strong, but under grades easier. Fresh cows and springers were very scarce, only about eight loads, and under an active demand were higher by full $3 to $5 per head. Sheep and Lambs—The market was in a good position, with about 55 loads on sale and an active demand for the choice grades, which were in moderate supply. There were 10½ loads of Canada lambs. Western lambs sold higher than last Monday, and about 15c lower than Saturday's close. Choice to extra were quotable at $6.40 to $6.60; good to choice, $6 to $6.40; common to fair, $5 to $5.75. Sheep, choice to extra strictly wethers, $4.75 to $4.90; good to choice do., $4.50 to $4.75; mixed sheep, $4.40 to $4.65; yearlings, $4.75 to $5; common to fair sheep, $3 to $3.50. APPALLING DEATH

From Kidney Disease Prevented by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

"Kidney Disease." Do you know what it means? It means that the kidneys are either rotten, or rotting; the blood is full of poisonous, death-dealing corruption; that the Kidneys can't do their work; that the victim is a walking charnel-house; that his hours are numbered; that the victim MUST take Dodd's Kidney Pills if he does not want to die.

Have you Kidney Disease? Is your skin hot and dry; memory failing; breath short; urine, reddish, or pale colored; does it scald when passing; is your appetite changeable; do your ankles swell; have you bitter taste in the mouth on getting up mornings; is there a brick-dust deposit in your urine?

Any of these signs is proof positive of Kidney Disease. Will you be cured, or will you die? Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only means on earth that will cure you. They never fail.

OFFICE OF W. A. MURRAY & CO.,

Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, N.L.A. Co.:

DEAR SIR,—In answer to your request for me to decide upon one of the following options offered me for settlement of my 15-payment Life Investment Policy for $5,000 which has matured this year, viz:

1st to take the value of the Policy in Cash..... $5,000.00
2nd, or fully paid-up insurance for..... 3,290.00
3rd, or take the profits in cash 2,050 25 and continue my policy without further payments being required from me, such policy participating in future profits.

I find it somewhat difficult to make a decision either of the three options being so satisfactory. I am certainly very much pleased with the results offered me, and as I find many others are giving full testimony to the profit-earning power of this company, I do not hesitate to give my endorsement as well, that the North American Life is one of our strongest Canadian institutions to day giving first class results on Investment Policies, on a safe and conservative basis. I find that my policy, which was originally a Life by fifteen payments, has become an Endowment at the end of the Investment period.

Let Common Sense Dictate.

It is necessary to know when to let a good thing go, as well as a bad. We remember the story of the Irishman who had a bull by the tail which went careering around a ten acre field with Pat clinging for dear life to its caudal appendage. "Let go, Pat!" shouted his friends in alarm. "Shure, whin I get a good chance that's what I'll do," said Pat. Let common sense dictate how you'll act on this question of probition, just as many people are doing in buying their Groceries, Wines and Liquors at Henry & Co.'s for cash, in order to reap the benefit of their 10 per cent. discount.—HENRY & Co., 341 George street.

DEATH OF ROBT. TULLY.

He Passed Away at Noon To-day at the Age of Sixty Nine Years—Born in North Monaghan.

The death of Mr. Robt. Tully took place at noon to day at the family residence, No. 277 Stewart street. Mr. Tully has been a sufferer from asthma for many years and as his years grew on him his constitution weakened and recently dropsy supervened. During the summer he was unable to be out except on one occasion in August, when he went for a drive with his brother Rev. David Tully, of Media, Pa., who was here on a visit. On Wednesday last he took to his bed and since Saturday has been perfectly powerless.

The deceased was one of the oldest as well as one of the best known and most highly respected residents of the county. He was born in 1829 in North Monaghan, about two miles from the town boundary, being a son of the late Andrew Tully. After residing on the farm until about twenty-five years ago, he moved into town, leading a semi-retired life, conducting a grocery and egg business for a time.

His connection with St. Andrew's Presbyterian church is too well known for comment. During the last twenty-five or thirty years he has been an elder in the church, and as such has won the respect of the entire congregation. For many years he was also representative elder to the Presbyterian Synod.

The deceased was twice married, his first wife being Elizabeth Fowler, daughter of the late Wm. Fowler, and sister of Mr. Wm. Fowler, of town.

The marriage took place on Nov. 15th, 1855. No children were born to the union, and Mrs. Tully passed away on Feb. 6th, 1864. Later Mr. Tully again married, being wedded to Miss Melinda McKee, daughter of Mr. Gordon McKee of town, who still survives him with one daughter, aged eight years.

Mr. Tully was one of a family of ten children—eight boys and two girls. Of this number those surviving are Rev. David Tully of Media, Pennsylvania; Geo. Tully of Iowa, and Mrs. Hugh McKee. Rev. Andrew P. Tully of Randolph, Iowa, is a nephew of the deceased.

No arrangements have been made for the funeral as yet.

AWARDED $14,158.

The Claim of Chief Justice Armour et al. for Land Expropriated for the Trent Valley Canal.

Justice Burbidge, in the Exchequer Court, Ottawa, yesterday morning, awarded the sum of $14,158 to Chief Justice Armour et al. in settlement of their claim for land on the route of the Trent Valley Canal, expropriated by the Government.

The Government had tendered $6,860 before the case went to court. With the $14,158 is included interest from May, 1896.

The defendant, Henry Cox, of Ashburnham, gets $1,300 and full costs.

Messrs. E. B. Edwards and J. W. Bennett, appeared for the Government, Messrs. B. B. Osler and Allen Aylesworth, appeared for Judge Armour, and Messrs. E. B. Stone and R. M. Denniston for Henry Cox, the tenant.

SHOULD BE DISCARDED.

The Long Skirt is a Nuisance to Lady Bicycle Riders—An Accident.

An illustration of the danger existing in the long skirt worn by ladies whilst wheeling could be seen a day or two ago, when, as a fair 'cyclist was coasting down Hunter street, the skirt was caught in the quickly revolving pedals, with the result that 'cyclist and wheel became involuntarily resolved into a tangled-up heap on the roadway.

Fortunately no serious injuries resulted as the accident took place a little east of the Cathedral. If the fall had occurred on the hill below Rubidge street, where the wheel would have gained a high rate of speed, the consequences might have been serious.

A RUSSEL ROAD-ROLLER READY FOR WORK IN MAY

THE COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE MADE A CHOICE LAST NIGHT.

The Fight was Between the Pitts and the Russel Steam Roller—Indiscreet Zeal Turns the Trembling Balance.

At a meeting of the Committee of the Whole Council held last evening there were present Mayor Davis, and Councillors Best, Robertson, W. H. White, Denne, Allen, Hamilton, Dawson, Cobb, McWilliams, Meldrum and J. M. White.

A deputation was present from the Peterborough Light and Power Company. Mr. Arthur Stevenson was the spokesman, and explained that he was present through a request preferred by the Manufacturers' Committee to the effect that as the company were contemplating erecting a new building, it should be put up in Peterborough and not on the east side of the river. He stated that the company was willing to accede to the request provided exemption from taxes was granted on the new building for ten years. It was intended to expend in the neighbourhood of fifteen or twenty thousand dollars on the new power house. He understood that exemption from school taxes could not be granted, but the company was prepared to pay these.

Mr. W. H. Hill spoke along the same line pointing out that the Light and Power Company were not in reality asking anything from the town but were in reality about to pay in than had previously been asked from them, and at the end of ten years the full amount could be collected yearly.

Mr. Richard Hall stated that if the Light and Power Company moved their power house to the west side of the river the Dickson Company was prepared to widen the raceway in order to furnish fifteen hundred horse power or more than double the present power. The raceway would be increased in width from 26 feet to 52 feet. He asked that as the London street bridge over the present raceway was in a dangerous condition that the town erect a new one over the widened raceway when the work was completed. If the town would consent to do this the Dickson Company was prepared to build the middle pier, leaving the town to bear the expense of only the two abutments and the superstructure.

Mr. Edw. Wade was called to show the outlay to which the Dickson Company would be subject in widening the raceway. He stated that $4 000 would be expended on the piers and that there would be at least 5,000 yards of "hard pan" removed at a cost of fifty or sixty cents a yard. A flume would be placed in the raceway at a cost of $5,000, and altogether about $50,000 would be expended.

PROMPT CONSIDERATION

of these propositions was promised by the members, and then Mr. McDonald, of the Sawyer-Massey firm, representing the Russel steam roller, was heard, as well as Mr. Dewey, of the Buffalo Pitts roller.

It was decided after hearing the two representatives of the competing firms elaborate on the different good points of their respective rollers, to ask them to tender again for delivery in May, giving their final figures.

When the tenders were opened it was found that a 31,500 pound Buffalo Pitts roller was offered for $2 950, and a Russel of the same weight for $3.000.

Councillor McWilliams and Denne moved the acceptance of the Buffalo Pitts tender, and in amendment Councillors Hamilton and Robertson moved that the offer of the Russel tender be accepted.

The amendment carried.

When the representatives of the two companies were extolling the merits of their rollers, Mr. Dewey stated that in Toronto the Russel roller had been unable to ascend a slight grade to the platform when being shipped away and that the Buffalo-Pitts roller had been hitched to it and drew it up. This statement was contradicted by Mr. McDonald, who superintended the shipment of the roller and was present at the time.

Quite a few votes were changed in consequence of the disproval of this statement.

FRANK FOBES SENTENCED.

He Will Spend One Month in Gaol for Breaking Gaol With Mart Marshall.

In the Court of Assize to-day before Justice Meredith, Frank Fobes pleaded guilty to a charge of gaolbreaking, stating in extenuation that he had been led into the crime by his fellow prisoner, Mart Marshall, who is now spending a term in the penitentiary at Kingston.

After dilating on the seriousness of the crime, and stating that a penalty of seven years' imprisonment could be inflicted, Justice Meredith went on to say that all of the officials of the gaol with whom Fobes had come into contact, had made such favourable reports on his conduct, that he was inclined to give him another chance, and therefore inflicted the light sentence of one month in gaol.

The civil non-jury case of Brisbois vs. Laverdure & Corry is now on, in which the plaintiff is suing to recover $543, for gravel contracted for by the defendants.

D. O'Connell for plaintiff; Watson, Q.C., and W. H. Moore for defendants.

The only other case on the docket is Telford vs. Lilly and LePlante.

A BEAUTIFUL FUNERAL CAR.

A Splendid Addition to Mr. D. Belleghem's Undertaking Establishment.

Mr. D. Belleghem didn't go to the Industrial Exhibition for nothing. As a result of his visit there arrived at his warerooms yesterday what may well be called the finest hearse—or as the refined nomenclature of the age would style it—funeral car—made. Mr. Belleghem saw at the Exhibition a hearse so chaste in its design, so rich and tasteful in its ornamentation, that with a desire to have the best he opened negotiations with the builder, Mr. A. B. Greer, of London, Ont., and it came into his possession and, as stated, arrived at his warerooms yesterday. This funeral car is plain and solid with a richness and solemnity of effect that comports well with the solemnity of its use. The body is exceedingly simple and richly effective in design. Each side consists of three plate glass panels, flanked by heavy carved pilasters of Doric design. The carvings are plain and rich in effect. The plate glass panels are all curved and the central one on the side is bevelled, and it presents a view of the interior with its solid mahogany floor and its side railing of rich design in wrought silver. The front and rear are each provided with a double carved plate glass panel. The interior hangings are of black broadcloth, fringed with heavy silk and caught up with large silk tassels. The roof is severely plain, without a single meretricious ornament. The elevated seat is provided with a hummercloth of black broadcloth, with silk fringe. Altogether this funeral car has a simple, rich and solemn dignity in excellent taste and in every way worthy of the use to which it is devoted. It is without doubt a funeral car that is unsurpassed in any city of the Dominion, for good taste and becoming richness of effect. Mr. Belleghem's enterprise in thus meeting the demands of his trade is worthy of every commendation and practical encouragement.

Piles Cured without the use of Knife, by Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment.

Mr. Geo. Browne, painter, of Woodville, Ont., Victoria Co, says:— "For thirteen years I was a sufferer from bleeding piles and the intense agony which I passed through during those years and relief I obtained by Chase's Ointment prompts me to give this testimonial. My physician wished me to have an operation but I felt I could be cured without the knife. Three boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment stopped the bleeding and effected a permanent cure."

PUBLIC SCHOOL DOMESTIC SCIENCE.

Mrs. Hoodless' New Text Book on the Subject.

Life is essential to usefulness; a dead man or woman is of no use in the world. Our physical life is preserved by means of food and it is self-evident that the better the food and the better prepared for assimilation, the better for the life it nourishes. Therefore the necessity of popularising a knowledge of good cooking. We are all, by sad experience, able to sympathise with David Garrick's epigrammatic growl—"Heaven sends us good meat, but the devil send us cooks." It is safe to say that a great proportion of domestic unhappiness and the evils that result from it are due to bad cooking; for where there is bad cooking there is almost certain to be undesirable conditions throughout the whole range of home life. The necessity of teaching our girls to become efficient cooks is apparent and to meet this necessity Mrs. John Hoodless, of "Eastcourt" Hamilton, Ont., a lady well known in Peterborough, has prepared for use in schools a text book entitled "Public School Domestic Science," which has been authorized by the Education Department of Ontario and may be used in High or Public Schools if so directed by the trustees. The book is excellently printed on good paper in clear type and contains about 200 pages of well arranged matter, eminently pertinent to its purpose. The book, especially the first part, is more concerned in the presentation in simple, effective form of principles than in details; which must be supplied by the teacher. The preface contains very practical suggestions to the teacher as to the mode of presenting the subjects of the text, which deal with the composition of food material, its classification, the nutritive qualities of food, adaptation of food to the several periods of life, and deals particularly with the special qualities of meats, vegetables and fruits, beverages and condiments. Then comes the real raison d'etre of the book, the chapter on "Preparing Food," which includes directions ab initio—the quality of fuels, the making and care of a fire and measurement of ingredients, mixing, etc., a time table for cooking breads, cakes and puddings, and baking meats, etc. Then follow about a hundred and fifty receipes for preparing all sorts of food and the making of all sorts of dishes, closing with practical hints to young house keepers with regard to domestic arrangement, with a chapter on ventilation and sanitation laundry work and caring for invalids, hints on foods for school children, etc. In fact, nothing essential to making the book a practical text book for the instruction of school girls seems to have been omitted. The matter is to the point, expressed in simple, direct language and admirably arranged. Mrs. Hoodless is to be heartily congratulated upon the excellence of the text book she has prepared. It is to be hoped that so valuable an aid to the teaching of domestic science in our schools will be taken advantage of. Practical education is a desiderstum of the age; and if we introduce the imparting of technical knowledge into our schools, we shall certainly be lacking in appreciation of what is due society if we fail to provide for instruction in the fundamental of the highest human conditions, in the best means of making the material bounties of Providence conduce to the happiness of our homes, and the production and preservation of robust health, without which degeneration of the race will result. The national importance of the truth involved in "a sound mind in a sound body," can only be realized through the national superiority of our bread and butter.

PETERBOROUGH'S NEW CHURCH.

The Bethany Mission Has Commenced The Erection of a new Place of Worship.

The Bethany Mission has decided on erecting a building for the purpose of Divine worship and as stated last week in the EXAMINER the site decided on is the vacant lot just south of J. J. Howden's meat market on George street.

The work of excavating the foundations has already been undertaken and Mr. J. E. Belcher is preparing the plans and specifications for the erection of the edifice.

The new church will be of red brick, 42x70 feet in size with six and a half feet projections on the north and south sides. That on the north will be used for the purposes of a baptistry and in front of it will be the platform from which the officiating minister will conduct the services. The projection on the south side will be utilized for an entrance. Another entrance will be made at the southeast corner of the building. The seats will be iron chairs cushioned, and will be placed in ampitheatre form. There will be accommodation to seat 425 comfortably, with room for the placing of additional chairs in the aisles and at the rear.

The building will be of sufficient height to admit of the erection of a gallery later on, should additional seating capacity be required. The interior is to be finished in light colours, the ceiling to be of natural wood and the walls of white brick. Access to the church will be gained by a flight of steps, ample room being left beneath the edifice for a spacious basement for Sunday school and other purposes.

The work will only be proceeded with as money is furnished, as it is the intention to present it to the Almighty entirely free from debt. Sufficient funds are already in hand to defray the cost of erecting the walls and placing the roof thereon, so that the work will be pushed forward rapidly to get this much accomplished before winter, and it is hoped the entire edifice will be completed by spring.

A GRAND OPPORTUNITY.

Evening School Opens at Y. M. C. A. on October 3rd.

The full announcement in reference to what the Y. M. C. A. offers this season to the young men of Peterborough will be published in a few days. A few facts are given now in reference to the evening school in practical educational subjects. This is the second year for the evening classes.

The plans now completed give an excellent opportunity to young men who are employed in the daytime and who wish to help themselves. Promotion, higher salaries and the best opportunities await the capable and reliable young man.

This year the privileges of the school will be free to all Association members. Only one condition will be asked as a guarantee of attendance and that is a deposit fee of $1, which will be returned if 75 per cent. of the studies are attended by the pupil.

Four first-class instructors have been secured. All of them engage in the work because they desire to help young men.

The following are the courses and the instructors with the class hours:

Book keeping, Thursday, at 8 o'clock. Instructor, Mr. P. Gillespie, Principal West Ward School.

Penmanship, Thursday, 7.30 o'clock. Mr. Gillespie, Instructor.

Arithmetic, elementary and advanced, Thursdays at 8 o'clock. Instructor, Mr. M. A. Sorsoleil, assistant principal South Ward School.

Already many enquiries are being made. Young men should enroll at once. The Educational Committee is composed of Messrs. A. E. Dixon, F. Brownscombe, W. Borland, W. H. Hill, G. S. Bell, M. A. Sorsoleil and C. H. Bradburn.

PLEBISCITE DAY AND THE HOTELS.

Must Hotels be Closed When the Vote on Prohibition is Taken?—Conflict of Authority.

There is a conflict of authorities over the point whether the licensed houses of Ontario must or must not be closed on the day of the plebiscite. On the one side it is urged that the Plebiscite Act provides, as regards the prohibition vote, that "the same proceedings, as nearly as may be, shall be had as in the case of a general Dominion election under the Dominion Elections Act, and the Franchise Act of 1898, subject to instructions from the Governor-in-Council," and that the closing of hotels is clearly compulsory under the statute first referred to. On the other hand, it is argued that the section of the Plebiscite Act quoted applies merely to the proceedings connected with the recording of the vote and cannot by any stretch of imagination be made to apply to the hotels. It is expected that the law officers of the Crown will come to a decision on the issue, and that their instructions will be sent to the various hotelkeepers' associations of the province.

SINGLE TAX VS. PROHIBITION.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I notice there is to be a meeting to talk over Single Tax to-night, and this suggests to me the relation of this form of justice to the proposed enactment of Prohibition. Prohibition is intended to remedy a great evil, but whether it will effect this is a problem. Why would it not be wise to begin at the root of the trouble and reconstruct social conditions and eliminate social injustice on the basis of the single tax? Intemperance springs very largely from the desperation brought about by the hard conditions attendant on landlordism and the present odious tenure of land. A more just distribution of the goods of the world and more equal chances to the masses would bring about a general condition of thrift and an absence of the grinding injustice that breeds discontent and invites a resort to the false comfort of the intoxicating cup. We create conditions of injustice, and while retaining these conditions grope around for some far-fetched remedy. While coddling the cause we, like children, try to do away with the effect.

Yours, etc.,

PEOPLE GETTING OLD.

As age advances, vitality retreats. Old people find themselves tired, listless, dyspeptic and lacking in strength. They lose interest in the active affairs of life, and may either become chronic complainers, burdening their friends, or they may, by using Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills be made bright, cheery, happy and healthy, as witness the following interesting example. The words of those who have lived many years carry wisdom with them. Why not profit by them?

WISE WORDS.

Nothing does a right-thinking man more good than helping his neighbors, especially the sick and weary. In recommending Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, and helping to bring them before the public, I feel that I am truly helping my neighbors. Both my wife and myself have used these Pills and derived great benefit from them. We are getting along in years, and like many others feel the need of a tonic and strengthening medicine. My blood was thin and impoverished, and my wife was miserable with general debility, brought on by dyspepsia. We used many kinds of medicine, but nothing did so much good as the Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills.

Yours very truly,
Signed, MR. & MRS. CLARK, Victoria St., Glencoe, Ont.

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents per box, 5 boxes for $2.00, at druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by The Dr. Ward Co., 71 Victoria St, Toronto. Book of information free.

HE EARNED IT.

It Was Worth More Than a Dime to Stand the Lecture.

"Mister," whined the professional, "can't you spare a few pennies to help a pore man along?"

"My friend," replied the elderly Bostonian, pausing in his leisurely walk and eying him from head to foot, "you don't look like a man who needs to beg for a living. On the contrary, you have every appearance of being an indolent, worthless vagabond, whose only ambition is to go through life with as little work as possible. Is the world any better, think you, for your living in it? Do you entertain the idea that your fellow men are under the slightest obligation to bear the burden of your support or any part of it? If you do, my friend, you are making a serious mistake. I venture the assertion that you drink beer enough every year of your life to swim in, and yet I will undertake to say that you have not had a bath of any kind since the Mexican war. Men like you are a useless burden on society. You are not worth the atmosphere you displace. The oxygen you consume is a total waste. If you had one molecule of manhood in your composition, you would starve before you would resort to mendicancy. I speak strongly, because I have deep convictions on this subject. Voluntary pauperism, sir, in the nineteenth century is one of the most discouraging facts the latter day optimist has to face. It seems to me in itself the refutation of the theory or postulate known as the 'survival of the fittest.' To encourage vagabondage, therefore, by contributing of the fruits of legitimate industry to keep it alive is to commit an offense against society—considered in its larger aspect, to undermine the foundations of one's own dwelling and turn the guns of the fortress of civilization against its own citadel. Yet, as you have listened patiently to this exposition of my personal convictions concerning pauperism, I will reward your patience by a contribution, which you may consider you have thereby fairly earned."

The moldy pilgrim accepted the dime extended to him by the elderly Bostonian, inspected it carefully and put it in his pocket.

"I'll take it, sir," he said in an injured tone, "but it ain't enough, considerin."—Chicago Chronicle.

A man may dress as well as his own good judgment and the assistance of an artistic tailor may elect. He may take his "tube" but if his digestive organs are out of order, he will have an unwholesome appearance. His complexion and the white of his eyes will have a yellowish cast. His tongue will be coated, appetite poor, his teeth rusty, his breath abominable. He is one big unmistakable sign of constipation. The quickest, surest, easiest way to cure this trouble is to take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are made of refined, concentrated vegetable extracts. Nothing in the least harmful enters into their composition. They hunt down all impurities, and "make them move on." They are the product of many years' study and pratice. Dr. Pierce cannot afford to put forth a worthless article.

NAPANEE CASE AGAIN.

Frank Lefebvre Arrested at Gentilly, Que., With Forged Bank Bills in His Possession.

Montreal, Sept. 12.—Frank Lefebvre has been arrested at Gentilly, near Three Rivers, Que., and it is evident that the arrest will have an important bearing on the coming trial of Ponton, Pare, et al at Napanee. It has already been told of the passing of some of the Dominion Bank, Napanee, forged ten dollar bills at Three Rivers during the recent exhibition, of the arrest and honorable acquittal of a well-known Montreal saloonkeeper. With his acquittal Secretary Collins of the Montreal Detective Department went to Three Rivers and took up the search. He learned that an effort had been made by a man to open an account at the Hochelaga Bank. Manager Herbert of the bank detected about twenty of the forged bills in the $1,800 which the man wanted to deposit. From the description of the man who wanted to open the account, Collins arrested Frank Lefebvre, who admitted that he had the forged bills, knew that they were forged and passed some of them. He said that he got them from his wife, and she in turn said she received them from a bank, but declined to say which one. She, too, is held to await enquiries.

A search of Lefebvre's house was made and $485 in gold, $200 in American bills and $500 in Canadian bills was found. The two were taken to Three Rivers and will come before a magistrate to-day.

Bail for Mackie.

Napanee, Ont., Sept. 12.—Judge Price of Kingston came here Saturday by appointment to fix the amount of bail for Robert Mackie, who has been confined in jail since the preliminary investigation of the bank robbery case. The judge fixed the amount of bail at $2,500 for two sureties and Mackie's own bond for $5,000. It is understood Mackie's sureties will be here on Monday to arrange for his release.

SUICIDES AT HAMILTON.

Hamilton Bay Claims Two Women Who Were Ill and Despondent.

Hamilton, Sept. 12.—Two women—one a resident of Hamilton and the other of Aldershot—ended their lives by drowning in the bay. On Friday afternoon Mrs. Charles Forsyth, wife of the proprietor of the Kenny House, Aldershot, asked her husband for the key of the boathouse, as she wished to go for a row. Mr. Forsyth asked her to wait until their oldest son returned from school, and shortly after 4 o'clock the two started for the boathouse. While the son was getting out the boat Mrs. Forsyth walked to the end of the landing and jumped into the bay. When the boy missed his mother he informed his father, and a search was made, resulting in the dead body being found in about ten feet of water, not far from the shore. Deceased had been in poor health for some time, and she became despondent.

The second suicide was Mrs. Watt, wife of John Watt, tailor, Macnab street north. She left her home on Friday evening, saying she was going for a walk, her head ached. When she did not return home a search was made for her by members of the family without avail. The mystery was cleared about 8 o'clock Saturday morning, when Mrs. Watt's body was found in the bay. An inquest was opened before Coroner Balfe and adjourned. Mrs. Watt had been troubled with nervous disease all summer.

BRITISH-AMERICAN TRADE.

The Balance Is Against Great Britain by Over $400,000,000 a Year.

Washington, Sept. 10.—The fact that British imports into the United States have fallen off greatly in the last year, while American exports to Great Britain have been increased, has been announced from time to time during the year, but the full year's figures, just presented by the Treasury Bureau of Statistics, brings to the surface some interesting details not heretofore published. These show that, while the exports from the United States to the United Kingdom have increased 12 per cent., the imports from the United Kingdom have fallen off 35 per cent. The exports from the United States to the United Kingdom during the past year were in round numbers five times as much as the imports from the United Kingdom, the figures of the Bureau of Statistics being: Imports from the United Kingdom, $109,138,365; exports to the United Kingdom, $540,860,-152.

LOYALTY.

Two friends I have, long loved and trusted long,
One, turning ever toward life's fairer side
And fearing lest it slip his grasp, would hide
From his soul's inward eye all sight of wrong,
Brings me the world's uncomprehending praise
As friendship's highest tribute, sees in shame
Of mine or willful blunder naught to claim
Deep felt repentance, but in countless ways
Finds pardon for me ever and again
Because I am no worse than other men.

The second, looking up toward heaven's light,
Yet works in stifling fog and close drawn fray,
Mid want, doubt, selfish greed, where men must pray
As, groping, they seek out lost gleams of right.
Scanning my life with love's clear eyes, he sees
My flimsy talents, old mistakes, low ends
And when I wear earth's laurels but commends
With stern "Thou canst do better things than these."
Oh, keen soul reader, judge me of these two.
Which, think you, is the false friend, which the true?
—Ruth Huntington Sessions in Century.

The Mexican Cook.

A good Mexican cook relieves the mistress of the house of worry and responsibility in a manner that is almost unknown in the United States. The cook is given so much a day, and with this amount she will purchase each morning all the provisions for the day, including even the staples that are usually bought in large quantities in other countries. On $1 a day a cook will provide a very good table for a family of three or four and get enough beans and tortillas and chile to set the servants' table besides. They can really do better than their mistresses, because they can usually drive sharper bargains with the marketmen of their own class, and they have more patience to haggle over the last penny.—Modern Mexico.

Speed of Electricity.

The speed of electricity is so great that its passage from point to point along a conducting wire may be regarded as practically instantaneous. Various attempts have been made to measure the rate at which it travels, and observers with delicate instruments have affirmed that it was not less than 114,000 miles per second, and in one or two places its speed was as high as 240,000 miles.

Unless the proper precautions are taken, death will lurk in every home. It dogs the footsteps of husband, wife and children alike. If the husband is an ambitious man, the chances are that he will overwork and overworry and take insufficient time to rest, eat and sleep. At first he may feel but trifling ill effects from his indiscretion. Then he will suffer from headaches, loss of appetite, loss of sleep, lassitude in the morning, drowsiness during the day and a general "out-of-sorts" feeling. If these conditions are neglected, almost any serious malady may be the result. Frequently it is some nervous disorder or dread consumption. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best medicine for hard-working men. It gives edge to the appetite, makes digestion and assimilation perfect, invigorates the liver and purifies and enriches the blood. It is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder. It cures 98 per cent. of all cases of chronic or lingering, bronchial, throat and lung affections.

All too frequently, death dogs the footsteps of the wife, in the guise of weakness and disease of the delicate and important organs that bear the burdens of wifehood and maternity. There is an unfailing cure for disorders of this nature. It is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It acts directly on the sensitive organs concerned, making them strong, healthy and vigorous. It fits for wifehood and motherhood.

They are sold at all medicine stores.

During early childhood death lurks in every corner for these fragile innocents. The mother can only protect her babes by acquiring some practical medical knowledge. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser imparts this knowledge. For a paper-covered copy send 31 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of customs and mailing only, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N.Y. THE GIRL AND HER COLLEGE.

The Training Received Is Undoubtedly of Inestimable Benefit to Her.

"It is sometimes argued that the college unfits a woman for domestic life," writes Edward Bok in The Ladies' Home Journal. "That is true, I think, only so far as a girl can or cannot adapt herself from one condition to another. The difference between the college and the home is simply the difference between all training and real work in the world. If a college course is rightly understood and taken advantage of, it will prepare rather than unfit a girl for the wisest government of a house. If she has used her time and opportunities at college well, her training of system and discipline will prove of the first importance to her in conducting the domestic machinery. Aside from the direct application of her training to her work, she has the great advantage of resources of mental refreshment when moments of leisure come to her. The domestic courses, now being so generally introduced into the curriculum of our girls' colleges, also give a practical value to a college education for a girl which it did not possess a few years ago. The value of these courses lies in the foundation which they give a girl to build upon.

"All things being equal, a college training is unquestionably a source of inestimable value to a girl, as it is to a man, and she is the better equipped for her duties of wife and mother because of it. Knowledge is always valuable. Yet it does not by any means follow that a girl unable to go through college is at a disadvantage with her girl friend who did. Where it is feasible and possible it is an excellent part of a girl's equipment, and its advantages will come back to her a thousandfold in her future years. But in the majority of cases a college training is not feasible or possible. If going to college simply means to a girl's mind the fun to be had, it is infinitely better that she should remain at home. If a girl is inclined to be selfish and hungers simply for a brilliant career, it is wisest that the softening influences of a home remain her portion. If she is physically not strong, the home care is a thousand times better for her than the best care she can procure at any school or college."

ON ACCUMULATING MONEY.

The Place to Begin, Mr. Gozzleby Thinks, Is Right Where a Man Is.

"Why, say," said Mr. Gozzleby, "the more I think of it the more I think that the place for a man to begin is right where he is. I don't see how going west, or going south, or going any other place is going to keep him unless he's got it in him. Even in fast growing places with a tremendous boom on the bulk of the people work for day's wages, just as they do here. The people there don't all get rich, by a long shot, and the comparatively few that accumulate wealth get it by the exercise of the same qualities that command wealth everywhere—namely, ability to recognize opportunities and promptness to seize them.

"Opportunities exist everywhere, but the number of really great opportunities is always proportionately small, and these are always taken up by the men who have not only brains, but courage. Luck may strike a man occasionally, but the chances are millions to one against it, and it never strikes a man who waits for it. Money of course gives a man greatly added power. The rich man can seize opportunities that the poor man can't touch. But pretty much all the rich men in this country were once poor. They made the money themselves, as every man has the right to do for himself. It may be put in here that it is a mighty good thing for a man to have a few hundred dollars laid by. It may come handy any time. Get ahead a little.

"As to the place to begin there is none any better than right where a man is. He sees the difficulties there, familiar as he is with his surroundings, but it's just the same 50 miles or 1,000 miles west. There where everything is new to him the conditions might seem easier and more favorable, but in reality they are just the same. The great majority of men there are plugging away for a mere existence, and here, as in his own town, the men who are making the money are the men of brains and courage and enterprise and frugality.

"In other words, it is not the place, but the man himself that counts. Any place will do. The great thing is to make the beginning."—New York Sun.

When the Hat Talks.

"No man—that is, no man of any character, mental strength or purpose in life—ever puts his hat on in the same way for every occasion," writes Robert J. Burdette of "Tongueless Liars" in The Ladies' Home Journal. "He makes it speak a varied language—a perfect polyglot of a hat. It not only interprets characters, but moods. It is eloquent as music. A man can train it to say anything. He applauds and defies, cajoles and threatens with it by his manner of wearing it. I once saw a preacher—and a better man it would be hard to find—put on his hat one day at an association before he got half way to the door. And if he had said ever so softly with his eloquent lips what he yelled with that hat they would have cast him out of the synagogue into utter darkness and condemnation."

RIVALS A MIRACLE.

Mr. George C. Chalker's Terrible Sufferings Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Howsey's Rapids, Sept. 12—Mr. George C. Chalker, of this place, tells a remarkable story of restoration to sound health, that rivals the far-famed St Anne de Beaupre cures.

Briefly Mr. Chalker's story is as follows: "I suffered horribly for years, from Kidney Disease. I could do no heavy work. My pain was almost unendurable. No remedy did me the least good till I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Six boxes of this wonderful medicine have cured me completely—made a new man of me. I cannot speak highly enough of them. I can state with the utmost confidence that Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure the very worst case of Kidney Disease.

THE SIGN LANGUAGE.

An Occasion When Its Use Was Not a Flattering Success.

He is spending a month or two in Vienna. He speaks English fluently, he speaks French a little, he can read Italian after a fashion, but he knows no German whatever. In Vienna one day his stylographic pen had one of its chronic attacks of inertia. He blew into one end of it. He sucked the other end of it. He unscrewed it and breathed very violently through its tip. He tapped it gently but steadily on to the blotting pad of his desk. He shook it in the air before him and behind him and all around him, but it made no mark. Then he walked the floor with it and opened the window to throw it out. He raised up his voice and said words about it, and he cried aloud in his wrath. And, lo, when he was not expecting it, it flowed suddenly and profusely—not upon his letter paper, but upon the knees of a new pair of light tweed trousers!

Then he said more words, and he took the trousers, done up as nearly as possible to resemble a roll of music, to the scourer and cleaner upon the next block. In order to explain that the stains were of ink, not of stove polish or of shoe polish, he called the attention of the cleaner and scourer in charge to a bottle of writing fluid upon the nearest desk. He pointed at the ink, and he pointed at the spots. He nodded his head and said "sic" several times.

The scourer and cleaner in charge had a keen sense of the situation and replied, "Yah! Yah!" And he said, "Yah! Yah!" And they both smiled and felt that they understood each other and that the cause of "the confusion of tongues" had been overcome!

When his light tweed trousers were returned to him the next week, they were dyed a uniform inky black!—Harper's Magazine.

Payn as an Anecdotist.

Payn was superlative as an anecdotist. Good stories seemed to have a natural instinct for resorting to him. Often as I used to see him I always thought myself defrauded if I did not come away with some fresh and amusing narrative. On such occasions my family found me out and used to reproach me if I did not bring back some telling anecdote. It must clearly be my own fault. I was certainly not the rose, but I had been near the rose.

Payn's fertility in this respect no doubt implied more study than might be obvious to his readers. He was fond of the literature in which such harvests are to be reaped, and "crammed," if I may say so, for his work conscientiously, though more, it seemed, from spontaneous delight in it than from deliberate purpose. And, then, the charm of his talk and his hearty sociability made it a duty for every one to help him and to repay him as far as possible in kind. The man bursting with a good story found a special pleasure in pouring it into so responsive an ear, and Payn became a perpetually flowing fountain of delightful talk.—Leslie Stephen in Good Words.

Raised . . . From a Bed of Sickness . . .

SIMCOE, Jan. 18th, 1897.

Messrs. Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Gentlemen—For over five months I was confined to my bed, not being able to move. The best medical skill was called in, all treating me for catarrh of the stomach, but to no avail. I could not eat the most simple food without being in dreadful misery, and found no relief until same was vomited up. After spending a large sum in medical advice, I was advised to try a box of Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure. I purchased a box from J. Austin and Company, Simcoe, and to my surprise found great relief. Not being able to eat I tried a box of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills; the pains left me the third day. My appetite has been fully restored. I consider myself perfectly cured, and feel as well as when a young woman, although I am 65 years old at present. I was almost a shadow, now I am as fleshy as before my sickness. Have used only three boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and two boxes of Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure. I can do my house work as usual. I am positive that my marvellous cure (which I think it is) is due purely to Dr. Chase's remedies, which I have used. I can honestly recommend the same to any persons suffering from symptoms similar to mine. Wishing you every success,

Yours truly,

MRS. ANN CHURCHILL, Sr.

HOLIDAYS IN MANILA.

At One Time There Were Over Forty In Every Year.

Manila loves holidays. At one time there were over 40 in each year. The number has been sadly diminished, though there are still 13 left, I understand. Each pueblo has its saint, and on that saint's day the inhabitants give themselves over, as they do on the great holidays of the church, to music, fireworks, cockfighting, processions, etc.

Almost all these processions took place at night, and the effect was most picturesque. There would be a line of marchers, men, women and children, walking in single file on each side of the street, every one with a lighted candle in his hand. Often there would be thousands of people walking in these processions, and all the while it was moving tens of thousands of rockets and bombs would be fired. These rockets and bombs are homemade. The rockets consist only of a joint of bamboo filled with powder, exploding with great noise, but with little light. The bombs are simply a handful of powder tightly wrapped with hemp. They cost a mere trifle, but make a great noise, and no fiesta is complete without plenty of them.

The most curious procession is participated in only by natives and the poorer mestizos. It takes place, if I remember rightly, during holy week and is a high solemnity. Every one walking in the procession is robed in his grave clothes. The garment is a long, loose gray robe with a hood, and it comes to the ground. The effect is very strange, and as the people go they repeat continually, "Santa Maria, Madre de Dios, ora pro nobis!" It may seem strange that grave clothes are provided before they are needed, but in Manila they are considered a prime necessity, and every native owns those clothes, even if he is bare of all other.—Wallace Cumming in Century.

He Didn't Know About Hairpins.

"By Jove," exclaimed the bridegroom as he sat down and tugged away at his mustache, "this is too bad!"

They had just arrived at Niagara Falls, and the porter had bowed himself out after carrying up a trunk that weighed 487 pounds, for which he received a 50 cent tip.

The frightened girl dropped her traveling hat upon the center table and stood as if transfixed, with one of her gloves half off.

"What is it, Harry?" she asked.

"This is a fine go!" he muttered. "I wonder how in the world I ever came to do such a foolish thing."

Then he felt in his pockets again and cast a helpless look at the big trunk.

"You—you haven't lost your pocketbook, have you?" she asked.

"No, darling," he answered, "but I left my keys at home, and the one that opens your trunk is among them."

"Oh, is that all?" she exclaimed, with a happy little sigh. "Here"—and she removed a hairpin from her rich brown locks—"open it with this. Now I know that I am the only girl in whom you ever took a real interest. Otherwise you would have known. Ah, Harry, dear, I'm so happy!"—Cleveland Leader.

Coughs and colds need not be endured; they can be cured, and that quickly.

Many mixtures are temporary in effect, but Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites is a permanent remedy.

The oil feeds the blood and warms the body; the hypophosphites tone up the nerves; the glycerine soothes the inflamed throat and lungs.

The combination cures. This may prevent serious lung troubles.

What a Knot Is.

Probably there is no nautical term more frequently used than the word "knot." The word is synonymous with the nautical mile, or 6,080.27 feet, while, as every one knows, the geographical mile is 5,280 feet. This would make the knot equal to 1 15-100 of geographical miles, and therefore, in order to compare the speed of a boat expressed in knots with a railroad train, it is necessary to multiply the speed in knots by 1 15-100.

Another point to be remembered is that speed means a distance traveled in unit time, so when one speaks of a boat having a speed of 20 knots it is not necessary or proper to add per hour, as the word itself when employed as a unit of speed signifies nautical miles per hour. A cruiser that makes 21 knots travels 24.15 geographical miles per hour.—Philadelphia Record.

HUMAN SACRIFICES

On the Altar of Diabetes, Saved by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

Hardly a family in the country is free from Diabetes. Great thirst, failing sight, numbness in the thighs, bleeding gums, swollen ankles, emaciation, nervousness, pale or turbid urine, loss of sexual power, decaying teeth, pains in the loins or small of the back, are all positive signs that Diabetes is in the system.

Do you know how it ends? In DEATH. A premature, horrible, agonised, pitiful death. The victim has no peace, no ease in life. His days are filled with tortures. His nights are waking dreams of agony. He longs to die, yet fears the terrors of his end. He dies, a bloated, fetid, repulsive mass of corruption. That is the only end of unchecked Diabetes. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it. They drive it out of the system thoroughly, create new, clean blood, rebuild the diseased kidneys, and restore robust health.

THE INSTRUCTOR'S VISITS.

Before asking for bids President Robertson called the roll of factories visited by Instructor Kerr three times during the season. It was arranged that his salary—$9 08—per factory—be paid as soon as all had been visited the designated number of times.

ALL WERE SERVED ALIKE.

When the bidding opened Mr. Whitton led off with 7¾c for selections, which was raised by Mr. Cook to 7⅞. Mr. Whitton bettered by calling the even 8, which elicited from President Robertson the encouraging remark, "That's the way—if the other buyers do as well, we'll have a good board."

Mr. Fitzgerald then reached his limit by offering a sixteenth better and called Star, Mariposa, Cambray, Oakwood, Bobcaygeon and North Ops, all accepting.

Mr. Whitton called 8 1-16c for a further selection, and picked Omemee, Dunsford, Janetville, Fenelon Falls, North Verulam, Reaboro, Maple Leaf, Cameron and Lorneville, all accepting.

Mr. Cook offered 8c for further selections, but the factories named refused. He then raised to 8 1-16c, and secured Palestine, Red Rock, Little Britain and Pine Grove. An offer to pay the same for Sutton make if sent to Peterborough for inspection was refused by the salesman, who said he felt certain the maker would not consent.

The board was then cleared (Sutton excepted) by Mr. Whitton offering 8 1 16c for Minden, subject to inspection at Lindsay.

Mr. Whitton explained that he had purchased Sutton cheese subject to Belleville inspection, and found short weight, but the maker had refused to make allowance for the deficiency. That was the reason that he did not like to bid on that factory. Buyers do not pretend to be more honest than other men, but when they bought cheese they wanted 16 ounces for every pound paid for.

The salesman for Sutton factory said he was glad the matter had been mentioned. The factory had been making cheese for a long time but no trouble had ever arisen as to short weight except with Mr. Watkins.

Mr. N. L. Campbell said the same trouble had occurred in the case of Lorneville factory, and they had blamed the buyers, but found out later on that it had been due to tight boxes.

Mr. Whitton said it was not reasonable to suppose the buyers would pass the make of other factories as correct in weight and object to Sutton's case unless they had proper grounds. The maker might be perfectly conscientious in thinking he was being unfairly treated, but there was reason for the trouble somewhere. Very often when weighing cheese, makers take the scales to the cheese instead of carrying the cheese to the scales, and in this way the platform often became uneven and the weigher was deceived.

Buyer Fitzgerald, vice-president of the Peterborough Central Fair, said he would like to see a number of the Lindsay factories compete at the coming Peterborough fair. Substantial prizes were being offered and he would guarantee factories exhibiting the highest September price for their cheese.

Mr. Whitton said the invitation should be taken advantage of. A number of the factories made superior cheese and had a fair chance to beat the Peterborough exhibitors on their own ground.

The board then adjourned to meet again on Saturday, Sept 24th, at 11 o'clock.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eye.

The last of the harvest excursions to the Northwest left this afternoon on the C.P.R., a large number boarding the 2.28 p.m. train at the local depot.

The pile driver and a big gang of men are at work in the C.P.R. yards renewing the railroad and highway bridges over the creek.

Several cargoes of Dakota grain are expected at Midland in a few days, and shipping may begin to-morrow. About 1,200 carloads will go east and 800 via Toronto. The Manitoba grain will not begin to move for several weeks yet owing to delay in threshing, caused by bad weather.

The Monetary Times in an article describing the work of re-building the Victoria Bridge, Montreal, says: The capacity of the new bridge will be vastly greater than that of the old, not only by reason of the double track but because of its weight carrying capacity. Nor is this the only bridge on the Grand Trunk system which is being fitted for the heavier traffic, and the competitive conditions of to-day. The old tubular bridge at St. Anne's over the Ottawa is to come down. In various parts of Ontario and Quebec, and we presume all over its through line, bridges and culverts are being strengthened, curves altered, grades reduced, so that heavier trains may be hauled and better time made. The question whether a locomotive is able to haul forty loaded freight cars or thirty by certain stages, say from Chicago to Montreal, makes a wonderful difference in the earning powers of the railway. The extra ten cars per train, or even five, may at the ruinously low freight rates sometimes adopted by the too numerous trunk lines to the seaboard, mean all the difference between a profit and loss.

A PRICELESS NECESSITY.

Kidney Disease Cannot Hurt when Dodd's Kidney Pills are Used.

Healthy kidneys are absolutely necessary for the production of pure blood.

Pure blood is absolutely necessary for good health—yes for life itself.

If the kidneys are weak, or diseased, the blood is impure, poisonous, and the general health breaks down, before the attack of specific disease.

Dodd's Kidney Pills restore weak and diseased kidneys to health and strength. They stimulate them to proper action, enabling them to filter the poison out of the blood.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only medicine known that can and will do this. Therefore, they are priceless and indispensable. All forms of Kidney Disease are cured by them.

Dodd's Kidney Pills have a unique record—Twenty thousand cures, not one failure. You should try a box.

A GOOD HORSE GONE.

Thursday night Dr. Clark's mare, Jennie Wilkes, was suddenly attacked with inflammation of the bowels, and in spite of the best attention she died at about noon yesterday. The doctor's mare was a well-bred beast and a splendid driver. She is a direct descendant of the thoroughbred Messenger, imported from England, 1780, a progenitor of the best trotting stock in America, upon which Stonehenghe, the celebrated British authority on the horse, says he has had a greater influence than all other horses combined. Jennie Wilkes' grandsire was Red Wilkes, the fastest descendant of George Wilkes, the great trotter. She was purchased for $300 by Mr. Robert Hall, at the Toronto Exhibition, about five years ago, and from him passed to Dr. Clarke.

CORRECTING A MISTAKE—Who sells the cheapest goods — themerchant who is compelled to buy in one higgling market, and is tied down to one grasping manufacturer, or the merchant who has the freedom of all the competing markets and manufacturers of the world? Do men buy Hats cheaper where nothing but Hats are sold, or Boots cheaper where nothing but Boots are sold, or Clothing cheaper where nothing but Clothing is sold? Might as well expect a farmer to do as well for his family by raising nothing but Pumpkins as if he raised a mixed crop.

ANGER OF AUSTRIANS

Bitterly Directed Against the Italians In Their Midst.

A PEDLAR LYNCHED AT GRATZ.

In the Death Chamber of the Murdered Empress—The Remains Blessed—The Kindly Swiss Thanked by the Austrian Representatives—The Coffin Closed—The Funeral Arrangements.

London, Sept. 14.—Special despatches from Vienna say the entire Austria-Hungarian empire is infuriated against the Italians, as a result of the assassination of the Empress Elizabeth, and that violent anti-Italian demonstrations have taken place at Trieste, where the Italians and natives have been fighting in the streets with sticks and stones, sometimes using revolvers. Six deaths are reported to have occurred there, and the troops were called out to suppress the disturbances.

At Gratz an Italian pedlar has been lynched, and at Vienna full fifteen hundred Italians employed on the municipal works have been summarily dismissed in order to avert a popular revolt, and the Italian Embassy there is guarded by a strong body of infantry.

The anti-Italian demonstrations in Austria have made a deep impression here. The newspapers urge the Government to see that Italians are protected from unjustifiable attacks. Numbers of Italian workmen are returning to Italy, owing to the threats of Austrians.

"Death to the King!"

Rome, Sept. 14.—The police have arrested an Italian named Siles, who was distributing an anarchist manifesto signed by "the Revolutionary Committee." When seized he shouted, "Long live Anarchy," "Death to the King." The police were interfered with and several persons on both sides were hurt.

THE DEATH CHAMBER.

Last Scenes at Geneva When the Austrian Representatives Were Present—The Funeral Arrangements.

Geneva, Switzerland, Sept. 14.—On the arrival here yesterday of the representatives of the Austrian court they were conducted to the death chamber and viewed the remains of the Empress. The ladies of the party were particularly affected.

The Bishop of Freibourg, the Arch-Priest of the Cathedral of Notre Dame, and several Geneva ecclesiastics in full canonicals blessed the remains in the presence of the court personages, each of whom sprinkled the body with holy water.

President Ruffy and the members of the Federal Council came from Berne in a body officially to tender the nation's sympathy. Large crowds of citizens, with heads bared, surrounded the depot.

Replying to President Ruffy's address of sympathy, Count Von Kuefstein, the Austrian Minister, thanked the Swiss people, "who in these unhappy days have given evidence of so great sympathy with the Austrians."

The coffin has been closed and nobody, not even Emperor Francis Joseph, will see the face again. The body was finally enveloped in a black faille dress, the hair arranged with a diadem over the forehead and the hands folded lightly together, holding a cross and rosary. White roses formed a garland around the whole body, concealing the white satin lining of the coffin. Few have seen Her Majesty's features, as her face, most of the time, has been covered with a white cloth, while a white flowered veil has covered the whole coffin.

Funeral Arrangements.

Vienna, Sept. 14.—The arrangements for the funeral ceremonies were published last evening. The body of the Empress Elizabeth will lie in state in the Hofburg on Friday and during the forenoon of Saturday, and the interment will take place at the Capucin Church at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Kings Will Attend the Funeral.

The Kings of Saxony, Servia and Roumania, with an immense and notable assemblage, will attend the funeral.

CANDIA'S HORROR.

600 Men, Women and Children Were Burned Alive—An Ultimatum to the Turks.

Candia, Crete, Sept. 14.—Reinforcements continue to arrive and there are now 2,000 British troops here besides the international squadron of ten warships.

This Man Says 600.

London, Sept. 14.—The correspondent of the Times at Candia, Island of Crete, who has just landed after five days in the roadstead, says: "About 600 men, women and children were either burned alive or massacred in the outbreak last week. The Turkish troops are now patrolling and blockading the streets. The Mussulmans are ransacking the ruins of the burned quarter of the town, where the devastation is complete. Blood is visible everywhere. Such bodies of the slain as were not burned were removed yesterday in carts and buried outside the town limits."

ULTIMATUM TO THE TURKS.

British Admiral Wants Ringleaders and Disarmament in 48 Hours.

Candia, Island of Crete, Sept. 14.—Rear-Admiral Gerard Noel, commander of the British naval forces in Cretan waters, yesterday issued an ultimatum to Edhem Pasha, the Turkish Military Governor of Crete, demanding that within 48 hours he should deliver up the ringleaders of the recent outbreak and massacre, surrender the fort and ramparts commanding the town, and disarm the Mussulman troops.

'TWAS SHEPPARD, FIREBUG.

That Set Fire to the City of New Westminster Last Sunday—Arrested and Held for Eight Days.

Vancouver, Sept. 14.—News has just reached here from New Westminster that a man has been arrested, and has confessed to having started the fire which destroyed the city of New Westminster last Sunday. The name of the prisoner is J. Sheppard, who was recently released from the New Westminster penitentiary, after serving a sentence of one year for housebreaking. The prisoner came before Magistrate Corbould yesterday morning. The police asked for a remand for eight days, which was granted. No evidence of any kind was taken.

Some of the Losers.

The losses of eight insurance companies by the New Westminster fire have been computed as follows: Connecticut $75,000, Phoenix of London $80,000, North British & Mercantile $48,000, Sun $15,000, Royal $44,000, London & Lancashire $75,000, Liverpool, London & Globe $20,000, Union $35,000.

Boilermakers who have been engaged on the C.P.R. steamship Athenian for several weeks, went out on strike yesterday. They have been getting $2.75 to $3 per day, and think they are entitled to $3.25, the wages fixed by the union.

THE PRESIDENT ANGRY.

Peace Will Not Be Declared Until the Spaniards Return Cuban and Porto Rican Records.

Washington, D.C., Sept. 14.—President McKinley is much incensed at the report which has reached him that the Spaniards in Porto Rico and Cuba are sending to Spain the court records and other documents pertaining to the Government and the control of those islands. He has instructed the members of the American military commission now in session at San Juan and Havana to protest strongly against the removal of these papers, and to announce that if they find that any of them have been sent away, that peace will not be declared until they have been returned.

Spain Adopts the Protocol.

Madrid, Sept. 14.—The Senate at yesterday's session definitely adopted the Hispano-American protocol.

Shafter's Report Brought Down.

Washington, D.C., Sept. 14.—General Shafter yesterday submitted to the War Department his report on Santiago campaign, covering not only the battle of Santiago, but the entire progress of the military invasion of Cuba. The report is a voluminous document, covering, with the supplementary reports of division commanders, about 200 typewritten pages. Of this General Shafter's report forms about half. It will not be made public until the President and Secretary Alger have considered its contents.

Ontario Man Drowned in B.C.

Nelson, B.C., Sept. 14. — Kenneth McDiarmid of Martinville, Ont., was drowned at Slocan Junction. He was fording the river on horseback, when on reaching the shore his horse stumbled and fell back, both horse and rider being swept away by the swift current. He was about 25 years of age.

Dr. Holmes of New York has identified the head of the dismembered woman found at Bridgeport, Conn., as that of Rachael Warner, a professional nurse whom he frequently treated. He says she told him that her husband treated her cruelly. There is now no doubt that the woman was murdered and her body cut up to throw the police off the clue.

There was a chapter of accidents in Nova Scotia yesterday. At Molega Mines, Queen County, an explosion occurred, killing Rupert Devaney and Clarence Boyle. WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1898.

MR. WIMAN ON CANADA.

Mr. Erastus Wiman, once very widely known throughout Canada for his advocacy of commercial union, contributes an interesting article to the Buffalo Express. Mr. Wiman is still a strong believer in the freest possible trade between the two countries, but the lessons he is trying to teach the Americans is that they need the trade of Canada, and that Canada is growing stronger and more independent. Annexation is out of the question; commercial union is probably out of the question:

> "The Canada of to-day is vastly different from the Canada of 1854, when the reciprocity treaty of that year was inaugurated. If at the repeal of that treaty in 1866, she could stand the rebuff at the hands of the United States that she then met with, she is much more competent to stand alone to-day. If, in 1866, a practically sudden cessation of commerce with her best customer could be borne without even so much as a faltering of fealty to Great Britain, Canada can to-day by the progress she has made, by self development and her magnificent strides in foreign commerce sustain herself even though her trade with the United States is limited to its present volume. She is more self-contained and self-supporting, and the growth of her commerce with the mother country has put her in such a position of independence that not only her loyalty but her ability to sustain herself and make a profit is infinitely greater than it was at the expiration of the old reciprocity treaty. More than this, the spirit of her people has been roused to a resolution of independence—not an independence of Great Britain, which, perhaps, at one time was possible, but an independence of the United States, resulting from the unnecessary and unjustifiable exactions finding their severest illustrations in the agricultural sections of the McKinley and Dingley tariffs."

Mr. Wiman goes into the lumber question in detail, and arrives at this conclusion: "It will thus be seen that the relation between the two countries, in respect to lumber, indicates a perfect reversal of the conditions prevailing during the old reciprocity treaty. Canada is no longer a suppliant in this respects. The United States may now occupy that position, and not only in respect to timber as to one of the most important elements in her progress, but in regard to other things also." The article contains a good view of the recent progress of Canada, and will tend to dispel the lingering relics of the illusion that this country depends for its prosperity on the United States. The moral is that the two nations must henceforth meet as equals.—Globe.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

In referring to the trial of the South Ontario election petition, the Mail and Empire speaks in slighting terms, of one of the witnesses who testified to receiving a bribe for his vote, as "an ex-convict." That is not surprising. An ex-convict is the very man one can fancy as having few scruples as to selling his vote. The Mail wouldn't certainly expect a clergyman to figure in such a role would it?

We shall never reach the perfect condition. No sooner do we look forward to removing one form of evil than another crops up. By the adoption of prohibition we may hope to put a stop to the evil and misery produced by alcohol. But alcohol will still continue its work of destruction, even if prohibition can be effectively enforced. Alcohol is used in the manufacture of smokeless powder, now so largely employed for purposes of national murder. The United States has given the contract for a million pounds of smokeless powder, Uncle Sam to furnish the alcohol.

A big surplus of over a million and a half dollars ($1,575,881) is a pretty conclusive answer to the prophecies of blue ruin which Conservative seers uttered on the advent of a Liberal Government to power. Mr. Foster, the Conservative Government Finance Minister, prophesied that the Liberal Government couldn't possibly rub along a year without a deficit of three and a quarter million. Instead we have a million and a half to the good and the prophet is therefore only out about five million in his bilious estimate. With large additional expenditures on capital account, militia, public works, etc., this is a magnificent showing, and is most convincing proof that the Liberal Government are not only capable but careful administrators. Taking the public service as a whole it was never in a more satisfactory state.

FURTHER IMPROVEMENTS IN PRODUCTION.

Prof. Robertson in his report says:—Since there is an active demand in the home markets of Canada, as well as in Great Britain, for fine creamery butter made during the winter, and since it is quite practicable to carry on the business in such a way as to produce a good article, what is needed is such further improvement in the methods of producing and handling milk and in the methods of manufacturing and marketing butter as will reduce the cost as low as possible and give the product the highest exchange value. At the dairyman's home-end of the business, there are difficulties still to be overcome.

A milking cow is a sensitive animal, and responds quickly in her milk-yield to favourable or unfavourable conditions. A comfortable stable is essential to profitable winter dairying. The requisites are that the stable be well lighted, and moderately warm. The temperature should not go below 45 degrees, nor above 65. It should be kept clean and the cows must be kept clean. Currying the cows once a day in the stable will often increase the yield of milk per cow, and add as much to the net revenue from the herd as though the price of butter was raised two cents a pound. An uncomfortable condition will prevent a cow from giving her maximum yield of milk, and will not conduce towards letting milk be of the best quality. Where the cow stables are old and badly constructed, they may be made at least comfortable in a temporary way by nailing boards around the inside, and stuffing closely between them and the outside wall with straw.

It is a good plan to whitewash the inside of the cow stable twice a year. That practice in the stables of Great Britain has contributed greatly to the healthfulness of the cattle, and doubtless also to their productiveness.

The corn should be cut in the autumn before there is any risk of frost, which would damage it to some extent, if it came before the cutting was completed. After it is partly dried, it may be stored loosely, with the stalks standing on end in a shed, barn or loft. The stalks should never be laid on their sides in large bulk or they will heat and mould. If the corn be left in in the field tied securely at the tops by hay rope, straw rope, or binding twine, it will keep with little waste until later in the fall, when it can be taken to the barnyard, where a contrivance can be made almost as serviceable for a small lot of corn as a silo. It is not a new plan for those who live in Western Ontario, but it is new to the people in many parts of Canada. It consists in taking a number of forked stakes and driving them into the ground By laying poles in the forks, one can make a simple corn trestle. By laying down a few old rails, like the base for a stack, the corn can be placed on end, leaning against that trestle to the thickness of two or three feet on both sides. Then ordinary rails or poles can be placed on the outside of the corn, on both sides, lengthwise, the whole being tied near the top of the corn by hay or straw ropes. Then, if a few boards be put on the top and on both sides—allowing them to overlap—they will shed all the rain. The corn stalks can be fed from the end, with very little more waste than when the crop is put in a silo; and the outlay required for stooking or stacking it in that way is very little. Any man can make a contrivance of that kind in a few hours. I have found that method to be quite successful in past years, and the main risk incurred, is that if one puts straw on the rails for a foundation, it will be a harbour for mice, but baring this difficulty, the corn "saries" will and then is only a little weathering of the outside stalks.

A PRICELESS NECESSITY.

Kidney Disease Cannot Hurt when Dodd's Kidney Pills are Used.

Healthy kidneys are absolutely necessary for the production of pure blood.

Pure blood is absolutely necessary for good health—yes for life itself.

If the kidneys are weak, or diseased, the blood is impure, poisonous, and the general health breaks down, before the attack of specific disease.

Dodd's Kidney Pills restore weak and diseased kidneys to health and strength. They stimulate them to proper action, enabling them to filter the poison out of the blood.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only medicine known that can and will do this. Therefore, they are priceless and indispensable. All forms of Kidney Disease are cured by them.

Dodd's Kidney Pills have a unique record—Twenty thousand cures, not one failure. You should try a box.

BRIBERY WAS PROVEN

Twelve Charges Clearly Sustained in South Ontario.

CALDER'S ELECTION VOIDED.

The Means Used to Defeat Hon. John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture—The Respondent Must Pay the Costs—Cross-Petition Dismissed—Mr. Dryden Congratulated on the Result.

Whitby, Sept 14.—It was expected that an arrangement would be made by which South Ontario would be declared vacant when the court met yesterday morning, but Mr. Calder's counsel decided to go on and take the chance of discrediting the sensational testimony of Edwin Baker, the young man who swore that he had bought eight voters at prices ranging from $2 to $5, with money supplied by Mr Lewis Luke, a prominent friend of Mr. Calder, on the order of Mr. William Smith, ex-M P. The effect of Baker's evidence was unquestionably damaging to a fatal extent, and it was recognized that if it could not be beaten down the case might as well be given up. Accordingly, Mr. Nesbitt directed all his energies to smashing Baker's evidence. The latter on cross-examination stuck to his story and amplified the details. He could, he said, give no complete list of the persons he bought, but he had given Smith a copy of the list; he would have it.

"Oh," said Mr. Nesbitt, "we'll see about that presently."

The Copy of the Order.

The witness, continuing, said he had paid all the voters $5 each, except Sherin. He described the meeting in Oshawa with Mr. Smith, at which an arrangement was made for the conference at the Queen's Hotel. Senator Perley was with Mr. Smith in the cutter when witness saw him, but witness did not know whether the Senator would recognize him. In speaking of the order he received from Mr. Smith on Luke, witness said that he had made a copy of the order. Pressed as to when he made the copy, Baker was very reticent. Mr. Justice Osler sternly said that if there was any shuffling he might get no certificate of protection. Baker said he would tell all he knew, and then admitted that he wrote a copy of the order on Luke, and had given it to Mr. Holman, the lawyer, in Toronto, over a month ago.

Mr. Holman produced the copy of the order, and it was filed among the documents in the court.

Mr. Nesbitt took the witness over the various cases of bribery in detail.

"Why did you give Patrick Sherin, the father, $5 and his son John only $2?" questioned Mr. Nesbitt.

"We reckoned John a little simple, and not worth as much as his father."

A copy of the order given by William Smith to Lewis Luke for $30 was produced. The order, Baker declared, he copied, because at first Luke declined to pay over the amount. He could not say why he had copied the order.

Throughout the cross-examination Baker gave his answers with considerable reticence, and more than once Mr. Justice Osler reminded him that if there was any shuffling in giving evidence the certificate granting exemption from prosecution might be withheld. Baker told of a trip to Toronto to see Holman, Mr. Bryden's counsel. He said it was a very common thing for him to go up to Toronto. He did so once or twice a week, to see baseball matches, lacrosse matches, etc., and glove contests. Yes, and cockfights, maybe.

"Ever go into a poker game?"

"Sometimes."

"Ever in a gentleman's game of poker?"

"There is no such thing as a gentleman's game."

The witness admitted that while accountant at the A. S. Whiting Co., Oshawa, he had a shortage of about $600 and left the country for a month or so. He could not say who made the shortage good.

Fred. McLean was one of those whom Baker said he had given $5. McLean swore $5 was given him in consideration of a vote for Calder. Baker had shown him how to mark the ballot and had instructed him to mark a light cross opposite Calder's name. Baker had a copy of the ballot with him at the time.

"Who have you seen in regard to your evidence?"

"I saw Baker."

"Did you see anyone else?"

"Yes, I saw Mr. William Smith. He drove up with Lem. Brooks one day, and Brooks asked me if it was true I had received $5 for voting for Calder. I said it was true."

"What did Mr. Smith say?"

Couldn't Wiggle Out of It.

"He asked me if there was any way I could wiggle out of it."

Austin McGrail also admitted having received five dollars for his vote for Calder. He, too, had been shown by Baker how to mark his ballot. McGrail said William Smith had seen him. He was told by Mr. Smith to be careful how he talked.

Cases 1 and 2, next taken up, was the alleged payment of money for the votes of Bill Pennock and Dan Fenton of Whitevale and Pickering, by W. D. Hagerman. They were an amusing pair of witnesses, Bill and Dan, and at times the dignity of their lordships was barely able to bear up against the humor of the situation. Bill Pennock's story in the first person in effect runs thus:

"Bill Hagerman said to me, 'Ain't you going down to vote?' 'No, I'm not,' says I. 'I'll make it worth your while,' says he. 'How much worth my while?' says I. 'A couple of dollars worth your while,' says he. I told him it had to be, and to leave the $2 with me. He said no, they may swear you. I turned to Dan Fenton and said, 'Whatever you do Dan I'll do.' Dan said to me, 'We've always voted Tory, but if we can get a little money it's just as well.' "

Case 62 gone into was a charge against William Beare, an employe of the People's Coal Company, of receiving for his vote half a ton of coal from John J. Moorehouse. Mr. Moorehouse, it appears, was the manager of the company at Oshawa, and on the order of W. H. Thomas gave Beare half a ton of coal, telling him to vote as he liked.

"Thomas," said the witness, "asked me if Mr. Moorehouse had said anything about my vote. I said yes, and then he told me if that was not enough he'd see I got more."

"Did you pay for the coal?"

"No."

"Did you sell your vote for half a ton of coal?" asked Mr. Nesbitt.

"That was the calculation."

The witness declared he had never polled a Tory vote before.

Mr. Moorehouse was then placed in the box, and was giving evidence when the court rose.

In the afternoon, Mr. Smith, ex-M.P., categorically denied ever having giving Calder either money or order on Mr. Luke for money with which to buy votes.

The Election Voided.

Judges Osler and Ferguson voided the election of Mr. Charles Calder, the respondent paying the costs. The cross-petition was dismissed with costs. Mr. Dryden was warmly congratulated on the result.

This decision was reached shortly after 6 o'clock when 12 cases out of the 138 on the petition had been decided by the court as proved. Mr. Nesbitt, for respondent, had admitted the sub-agency of Edward Baker, which permitted the court to find eight cases of bribery by Baker as proven. The other four were made up of two cases of giving coal for votes by W. H. Thomas in Oshawa, where William Beare got half a ton and David Lookwood a ton for voting for Calder, and two cases of the payment of $3 each to two voters not to vote at all. These last were Aaron Harmon of Prince Albert, in Reach Township, whose polling place is Raglan, five miles south, in East Whitby, and George H. Banbury, a voter in Claremont, Pickering Township.

The judges reserved their decision upon the question of bribery, and those proved to have been bribed are to be reported and lose their civil rights for a period of years.

Piles Cured without the use of Knife, by Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment.

Mr. Geo. Browne, painter, of Woodville, Ont., Victoria Co, says:—"For thirteen years I was a sufferer from bleeding piles and the intense agony which I passed through during those years and relief I obtained by Chase's Ointment prompts me to give this testimonial. My physician wished me to have an operation but I felt I could be cured without the knife. Three boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment stopped the bleeding and effected a permanent cure."

Fell to the Ground.

Ottawa, Sept. 13.—Mr. B. Barker, a metalworker, aged 25, in the employ of McKinley & Northwood, fell from the dome of the new Main Building at the Exhibition grounds, to the ground, a distance of 60 feet. Both his legs were fractured near the ankle, and his spine and ribs severely bruised. He had a miraculous escape from death, and is now resting easily. Hopes are entertained for his recovery.

Mr. Hoyle, M.P.P., Safe.

Whitby, Sept. 13.—Before the election court adjourned yesterday Mr. Frank Denton, on behalf of the petitioner in North Ontario, said he had no evidence to offer, wherefore the case was dismissed. Mr. Hoyle, Conservative, therefore retains his seat.

RISING WHEAT.

A Sharp Advance in Liverpool Futures—Export Demand Good—The Latest Quotations.

Tuesday Evening, Sept. 13.

The Liverpool wheat market was strong to-day. Spot red winter closed 2d per cental higher than yesterday; this month's delivery 1¾d, the December option 1½d and the March option 1¼d higher. Paris wheat closed 5 centimes lower to 15 centimes higher for the day's session.

This response of Liverpool to yesterday's advance in American markets caused Chicago prices to move upwards again to-day, and the movement was helped by the good export demand, said by a rise of a cent a bushel in Northwest quotations. All deliveries advanced about a clear cent on the Chicago board, and over half the gain was retained at the close.

THE CRISIS NEARING.

French Newspapers Regard the Situation as Serious.

Paris, Sept. 14.—The Rappel and the Matin yesterday said that at the Cabinet Council the Minister for War, General Zurlinden, explained his reasons for opposing a revision of the Dreyfus case. The Premier, M. Brisson, and the Minister of Education, M. Bourgeois, urged General Zurlinden to change his determination, but the President, M. Faure, sided with the Minister for War and an excited discussion followed and the council was adjourned until the afternoon, when calmness was restored. M. Bourgeois then pointed out the consequences of the crisis, and further discussion of the matter was adjourned until Saturday next.

The newspapers here are unanimous in expressing the opinion that the situation is serious. They say that temporarizing will only delay the decision, which, if favorable to a revision of the case, will cause the resignation of General Zurlinden, and which, if hostile, will lead to a withdrawal from the Cabinet of M. Brisson and will result in a general crisis.

Travellers

Should always carry with them a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

The change of food and water to which those who travel are subject, often produces an attack of Diarrhœa, which is as unpleasant and discomforting as it may be dangerous. A bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry in your grip is a guarantee of safety. On the first indication of Cramps, Colic, Diarrhœa or Dysentery, a few doses will promptly check further advance of these diseases.

It is an old, reliable remedy, with over forty years' of cures to its credit, whose merit is recognized everywhere and one that the doctors recommend in preference to all others.

Sold by medicine dealers everywhere at 35c. a bottle. Always insist on the genuine, as many of the imitations are highly dangerous.

North American Life

ASSURANCE CO.

OFFICE OF W. A. MURRAY & CO., 17 to 27 King St., East, Toronto.

Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, N.A. L.:

DEAR SIR,—In answer to your request for me to decide upon one of the following options offered me for settlement of my 15-payment Life Investment Policy for $5,000 which has matured this year, viz:

1st to take the value of the Policy in Cash	$5,000.00
2nd, or fully paid-up insurance for	8,280.00
3rd, or take the profits in cash and continue my policy without further payments being required from me, such policy participating in future profits.	2,050 25

I find it somewhat difficult to make a decision either of the three options being so satisfactory. I am certainly very much pleased with the results offered me, and as I find many others are giving full testimony to the profit-earning power of this company, I do not hesitate to give my endorsement as well, that the North American Life is one of our strongest Canadian institutions to day giving first-class results on Investment Policies, on a safe and conservative basis. I find that my policy, which was originally a Life by fifteen payments, has become an Endowment at the end of the Investment period.

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

Dodd's Kidney Pills ALWAYS CURE.

Let Common Sense Dictate.

It is necessary to know when to let a good thing go, as well as a bad. We remember the story of the Irishman who had a bull by the tail which went careering around a ten acre field with Pat clinging for dear life to its caudal appendage. "Let go, Pat!" shouted his friends in alarm. "Shure, whin I get a good chance that's what I'll do," said Pat. Let common sense dictate how you'll act on this question of Prohibition, just as many people are doing in buying their Groceries, Wines and Liquors at Henry & Co.'s for cash, in order to reap the benefit of their 10 per cent. discount.—HENRY & Co., 341 George street.

HAS THE OTONABEE CLAIMED ANOTHER VICTIM?

DISAPPEARANCE OF ROBT. MURNEY, OF SOUTH MONAGHAN.

His Canoe Was Found Floating in the River and is Recognized, as Well as its Contents, by His Brother-in-law.

Great fears are entertained concerning the safety of Robert Murney, brother-in-law of Thompson Huggins, farmer, South Monaghan.

The young man nas been missing since last Friday, and to-day Mr. Huggins came to town and recognised some things which belonged to Murney, at the police station, which were found floating in an empty canoe on the river.

LAST FRIDAY

as Mr. Goselin, driver for the Matthews Co., was paddling up the river, he met a young fellow in a canoe, who on seeing him, asked him to hurry his chum up if he met him. Shortly afterwards Mr. Goselin came across an empty canoe, and paddling alongside, took it to the bank and drew it up on shore. On Saturday he sent word to the police of the matter.

On Sunday morning Mr. Maybee, the gardener, saw the same canoe again afloat, and going after it drew it up on the bank, and brought a basket which was in it up to the police station. The basket contained a pair of pants, a pair of overalls, a hat, a pipe and some dishes.

NOTHING COULD BE LEARNED

of the things until Mr. Huggins called in at police headquarters to-day and recognized the things as belonging to Murney, who has been living with him lately, and for the last two weeks has been "frogging" on the river with another young man by the name of John Bonner, who also hails from South Monaghan.

The two young men came up to town on Friday morning, and Bonner started off for the frogging grounds in the afternoon, but was never rejoined by his chum.

There seems little doubt but that in some way Murney overbalanced himself and fell out of the canoe without upsetting it, and it is improbable that anything further will ever be learned of the manner in which he came to his death, in case he has been drowned.

MR. JAS. McCREARY BURGLARIZED

His Residence Was Broken Into and Ransacked From Top to Bottom.

The residence of Mr. James McCreary, No. 11 Walton street, was found by his neighbours this morning to have been broken open, apparently during the night, and ransacked from top to bottom. Bureau and sideboard drawers were removed and turned upside down on the floor in the search for valuables and every pantry, closet and sideboard was evidently thoroughly searched.

As the family are absent from town it cannot be ascertained the extent of the losses, but as there was quite a quantity of silverware in the house which is missing, the thieves evidently made a big haul.

The police have the matter in their hands.

Deceased formerly resided in Toronto, and came here to live about a year ago. He was the father of Mr. W. F. Johnston, general manager of the Massey-Harris works, and of Mrs. Adams of the Queen's hotel, Port Hope. In the absence of the nephew from town funeral arrangements are not decided upon.

The death of Mrs. John Steele, formerly of 476 Park street, who went to the capital about a year ago, took place at Ottawa. The remains will arrive in town this afternoon, and the funeral will proceed from the C. P. R. station on the arrival of the 4.25 train from the east.

YESTERDAY'S RUNAWAY.

Dr. King's Fine Black Mare Gets Away from Him Through the Breakage of a Bolt.

A bad runaway occurred on Charlotte street at noon yesterday, when the iron bolt in the whiffletree of Dr. King's buggy broke and startled his mare to such an extent as to cause her to bolt.

The driver made an ineffectual attempt to get out on the animal's back, but falling was thrown violently into the centre of the road, and a minute later Dr. King landed up against Mr. R. B. McKee's fence amidst the ruins of the buggy. The mare ran on up to a point near the Peterborough Protestant Home, where she was caught.

The doctor and his driver were very fortunate in escaping without injury. The horse was slightly cut about the rear legs, but not to an extent to affect her usefulness.

THE SESSION OF ST. ANDREW'S.

Resolution of Appreciation in Relation to the Late Robert Tully.

The Session desires to place on record the profound sense of sorrow at the death of Mr. Robert Tully, for eighteen years an elder of the church. Through all these years he has borne a lofty character for integrity and uprightness, has always taken the deepest interest in the affairs of the congregation and of the Presbyterian church at large. He was a man of very strong confidence in God and faith in his Redeemer, and ever sought to manifest constant devotion, with a gentle humility born of a due regard to the work of the grace of God and a submission to the will of the Almighty. Conscious as he ever was of his dependence on God, and clothed with a righteousness imputed by God, he was always, and under all circumstances, a true example to the whole congregation and was ever faithful in the discharge or the office of elder—a true bishop of the souls placed under his charge. We pray God that His great love may be bestowed upon his wife and child—that they may be given grace in their hour of great trial.

MEDICAL SCIENCE ADVANCES.

Positive Cure for Asthma Discovered.

It has long been recognized by medical scientists throughout the world that nature has supplied all creation with some remedy in the vegetable or mineral kingdom, wherewith all forms of ailments can be cured, but it was not until the discovery by Stanley of the wonderful Kola plant along Congo River in Africa that asthma was permanently curable. In fact, it was not until the investigations made by Dr. Clarke some years later that this disease was found curable ; he found that by combining the extract of Kola Nut with other vegetable extracts the compound obtained would permanently cure Asthma. Clarke's Kola Compound was then tried on over 100 cases in different hospitals, with the marvelous result that over 95 per cent. were permanently cured in less than 60 days' trdatment. Clarke's Kola Compound is now recognized to be the only permanent cure for this dreaded disease. Sold by Ormand and Walsh. Free sample bottle sent to any person. Mention this paper. ARRESTED AS A SPY.

But Released by the United States Govornment.

WAS ANXIOUS TO SEE THE WAR.

Thinks He was Mistaken for Someone Else, and Nearly Died of Maleria Fever—He was Never Examined—After His Release From Custody Managed to get his Discharge From Service.

(Montreal Herald.)

Mr. Fred. Elmhirst, of Peterborough, Ont., passed through Montreal on his way to his home, having just came from Atlanta, Ga. He went south to take part in the American Spanish war, and has had an experience such as few would envy him.

He had just returned from a trip to England, and having been a soldier all his life, he thought it would be a nice thing to get mixed up in the struggle which was then imminent. He held certificates, first class ones, too, from three military colleges in both cavalry and artillery tactics, and had little trouble in being accepted as a member of the third regular United States Cavalry. After he had been in Tampa about a month, he was suddenly put under arrest one day on the charge of being a Spanish spy.

"I had not then, and have not now, the faintest idea," he said, "of why they arrested me as such, and the only way I can explain their action is that I was taken for some one else. There are several people of the same name or a name resembling mine, Elmhirst, and perhaps that accounted for it." At any rate, he was first at Tampa, and after staying there for some time, was sent under escort to the military prison at Fort McPherson.

"I was ill with malarial fever," he said, "about the time I was arrested, and though they wanted me to go the military hospital at Fort McPherson, I refused, because there were at that time about a hundred and fifty cases of typhoid fever there, and I knew that if in my enfeebled state I once contracted the latter disease, I would never survive it, and I would rather have had a bullet through me than have died like a dog there, like so many others of the United States forces."

He never had any direct charges brought against him, and he never was examined. After his discharge he found out that when the United States military authorities saw there was nothing to prove against him as a spy, they kept him on a charge of fraudulent enlistment, and even that charge would no hold for lack of evidence.

"I was very ill," he said, "all the time I was in prison, and I am certain that another month of confinement would have

BEEN THE END OF ME.

So when they told me that I could get my discharge, I was naturally very glad. My discharge was not a dishonourable one, and it was given me because I had only enlisted for the duration of the war. I can assure you that I would not give the City of Montreal for the whole of the States of Georgia and Florida, or for that matter for the entire south."

"How do the American soldiers compare with the Canadian and English soldiers ?" he was asked.

"As men they compare very favourably and I have not the slightest doubt but they are just as brave and just as much attached to their country, but their tactics and their ways of drilling are far inferior to those of the British soldiers. My treatment was the same as that meted out to the United States military prisoners, who had no such a ridiculous charge as mine hanging over their heads. I think the newspapers have since proven that this was not of the best. Even in the Southern cities, like Tampa, the sanitary condition is not by any means good, and you can imagine what it was in the guardhouse and the prison. Saloons and gambling houses are thicker than flies in the South, and are open all day Sunday. If I had not possessed a very strong constitution, I would never havesurvived my experience."

As it is, Mr. Elmhirst appears sallow and emaciated from his sufferings, but he is a most pleasant looking young man, with nice brown eyes, and gives one the impression of being anything but a spy. He is pleasant spoken, and is very well educated. His father is a very highly respected cattle merchant. The young man left this morning for his home.

THE ASSIZES.

Court Was Only in Session One Day —Five Civil Non Jury Cases on the List.

At the Assizes, which opened yesterday before Justice Meredith, the Grand Jury was composed as follows : Messrs. A Z Burnham, Otonabee ; Jos Howson, Asphodel ; Frank Mason, Geo S Matthews, Jno McClellan, Jos Mitchell, Benj Shortly, Jas Stewart, W C Turner, J C Turnbull and Jos. A. White, Peterborough ; Jos B Peoples, Belmont ; Samuel Stenson, Smith.

Mr. B. Shortly was selected foreman, and during the afternoon the following presentment was put in :

THE PRESENTMENT.

To His Lordship, Mr. Justice Meredith :

We, as a body of Grand Jurors, respectfully beg to congratulate your Lordship upon the lightness of the criminal docket at the present fall assizes, there being only one criminal case before us, which certainly reflects great credit on the town and county of Peterborough. We have visited the gaol and found everything clean and in good order. We consider the present way of heating the corridors very dangerous—only old-fashioned wood stoves with old pipes running from one end of the corridors to the other and would recommend a more modern way of heating. We would also recommend electric lights to be placed in each corridor, also electric alarms be placed in the centre cell of each corridor. In conclusion we are pleased to note that the sanitary improvements, connecting with the town sewer, are being carried out throughout the gaol, which is a step in the right direction for the health and comfort of the gaol inmates. All of which is respectfully submitted.

B. SHORTLY,
Foreman.

His Lordship after hearing the presentment read, dismissed the Grand Jury after adding his congratulations on the absence of crime and decrease in useless litigation in the town and county.

THE CIVIL LIST.

The two civil cases on the list were then taken up, and as both were non-jury cases the petit jury was dismissed.

Briebois v. Corry & Layerdure. This was a case in which the plaintiff claimed $39 for sand and gravel delivered, and damages to the amount of about $400 for refusal to accept gravel and for wrongful prevention to the plaintiff in delivering the gravel. A counter claim was entered by the defendant for $156.98 for overpayment.

Judgment for the plaintiff for $39. No costs to either party. Judgment for the plaintiff on the defendant's counter claim, with costs.

D. O'Connell for plaintiff ; Geo. Watson, Q. C., and W. H. Moore for defendants.

Telford vs. Lilley and Leplante—An action brought by Wm. G. Telford, farmer, Smith, against Emeline Lilly and N. T. Leplante, Peterborough, in which the plaintiff claims that the defendants be ordered to pay to the plaintiff the amount due him for principal and interest under two mortgages given to him by the late Wm. Lilley. The defendant Laplante also held mortgages against the property of the late Wm. Lilley, under power of which the mortgaged premises were conveyed to the said N. T. Leplante.

A. P. Poussettee, Q.C., for plaintiff ; E. B. Stone for defendant, Lilly, and Edmison for defendant, Laplante.

The action was dismissed with costs, and as this was the last case on the docket, the court adjourned.

Walking on Air.

The feeling of buoyancy produced by the action of Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills is remarkable. One feels bright and active, energetic and full of snap and vim. Rich red blood fills the veins, and the nerves tingle with the sensation of youthful life and vigor.

TREMBLING HANDS AND SHAKY MEMORY. A HAMILTON MAN'S EXPERIENCE WITH A NEW MEDICINE.

DEAR SIRS,—
I have spent half a fortune in doctors' bills, all to no avail. These Pills seemed to reach the seat of disease at once, and they also seemed to possess a remarkable influence over me. The violent palpitation of the heart, the trembling of the hands, the loss of masculine vigor, the frightful dreams, the loss of memory and general collapse of the entire system, have yielded to Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills. Great were the results from the use of four boxes of these Pills. I am enjoying the very best of health. I fully believe they are able to do for others as much as they have done for me. Before using them I was a miserable wreck. To-day I am a well man.

Yours truly,
THOS. FLYNN, 51 Elgin St., Hamilton, Ont.

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents per box, 5 boxes for $2.00, at druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by The Dr. Ward Co., 71 Victoria St., Toronto. Book of information free.

BUYING CANARIES.

The Change That Came Over a Young Diplomat's Fancy.

One of our Washington bird merchants tells a good story to illustrate the wavering course of young love's fitful fever. Something over a year ago a swell young diplomat, wearing a trim little white topcoat over his dress suit, came rushing into the store one night and asked to see the canaries.

"I weesh you would be so verra kind to show me ze canary—ze verra fines' you haf."

A number of the little wooden cages were set out before him, and he looked at bird after bird, but did not seem to find what he wanted.

"I vill tell you why I want ze canary," he said at length. "I haf met a verra lofy young lady. She ees beautiful. She ees verra fine. I vill gif her ze canary—ze verra fines' you haf. How much ees zat canary?"

"The price of that canary," said the bird store man, "is $5."

"Oh, zat ees not enough! I want ze verra fines' canary you haf."

The dealer went again to the shelf where he kept his stock of yellow songsters and brought out a bird the price of which on ordinary occasions was the same as that of the rest. He would have been glad any time to get a $5 bill for him.

"There," he said, "is an exceptionally good singer. That is a trained bird. The price is $15."

"Oh, zat ees ze bird! Now ze cage."

He bought a $10 cage, and, leaving directions where the bird and the cage were to be sent, rushed out as fast as he came, evidently thoroughly satisfied with his purchase.

A few days ago the same young man came into the store and again asked for a canary.

The dealer's eyes snapped. He saw another chance to sell a $15 bird in a $10 cage.

He briskly set out the finest canaries he had and gave stiff prices on them. But the diplomat didn't warm up a bit. He shrugged his shoulders and kept saying: "Too much! Too much!"

Finally he threw up his hands and expostulated:

"Ze price ees too high. Haf you a cheaper bird? Zis canary ees not for a beautiful young lady. I am married now, and a $3 bird will do."

The dealer made the best of the situation and sold him a $3 bird and a $2 cage, and he trotted off seemingly as happy as he was a year ago after paying five times as much for the same thing.—Washington Star.

$1,575,881 SURPLUS.

A Very Handsome Showing by the Dominion Government for the Fiscal Year of 1897-98.

Ottawa Sept. 13.—The accounts for the fiscal year of 1897-98 have been closed and it is possible to state with certainty what the financial position of the country is. The most significant and gratifying fact afforded by the statement which has been prepared by the Finance Department is that the year ends with the magnificent surplus of $1,575,881. Financial buoyancy and trade activity have combined to produce this result, which, though it disappoints the direful prophecies of financial distress indulged in by the opponents of the Government, must bring joy to the heart of every Canadian. The dimensions of the surplus are creditable to the Government, but remembering the financial history of the past few years, which presents nothing but a series of deficits, the production of a favorable balance of any size would have been regarded as a praiseworthy achievement. This is the first time that a balance has appeared upon the right side of the accounts since 1893. The deficit in 1894 was $1,210,233; in 1895, $4,154,876; in 1896, $530,551, and in 1897, $519,000. It is well known that the late Government during the last year that they were in office starved the public services and allowed the militia force to go undrilled in an effort to make a favorable showing for the election, and it was a creditable performance for their successors to come out of the year 1896-97 with a deficit as small as half a million dollars.

LOOKS LIKE WAR.

Reinforcements Have Been Sent From France for the Expedition in Central Africa.

London, Sept. 13.—The Daily Chronicle says this morning that it has learned that a military expedition, including sixteen officers and non-commissioned officers, sailed from Pauillac, France, last Friday with a view of reinforcing the French expedition in Central Africa under Major Marchand. Great secrecy, the Daily Chronicle observes, is maintained in the matter, but the departure of the expedition is believed to confirm the report of the arrival of Major Marchand at Fashoda, on the White Nile, above Khartoum.

It Seems to Be True.

Paris, Sept. 13.—The Temps and Liberte says to-day that the French Government has been made aware of the arrival of the expedition under Major Marchand at Fashoda.

ANARCHY IN EUROPE.

All Civilized Society Asking How It Can Protect Itself From the Red-Handed Assassins.

London, Sept. 13.—The assassination of the Empress of Austria has caused a thrill of horror throughout Europe, and indignation is expressed in all the capitals. The law-abiding people are unanimous in asking the question, "How can society protect itself against Anarchism?" There is special indignation that the latest victim of the bloodthirsty wretches should have been the royal lady, who during her whole life has done nothing but good. The best circles of Italy are profoundly grieved because the assassin is a native of that sunny land, and King Humbert has written with his own hand a message of condolence to the bereaved Emperor. The Pope wired the aged monarch as follows: "May God give the strength of resignation to our dear son Joseph, who in so short a period has been tried by so many misfortunes. We pray that God may bestow upon the house of Hapsburg that peace and tranquility which it merits by reason of its sentiments toward the church and the papacy."

The Anarchists of London are greatly excited, fearing that this outrage may have the effect of shutting them out from their only refuge, London. Scotland Yard authorities have a strong suspicion that the crime was plotted in London, and extraordinary vigilance is being exercised by the detectives. All arrivals from the continent are being closely watched.

It has been found that the assassin's weapon penetrated the heart of the Empress over three inches, and only the remarkable vitality of the victim enabled her to walk 50 yards, as she did, to the steamer, after the wound had been inflicted.

ATTENDED MASS.

The Aged Monarch Showed Intense Grief, But Maintained His Faith.

Vienna, Sept. 13.—The Emperor of Austria and his daughter attended mass yesterday morning in the private chapel of the Schonbrunn Palace. His Majesty showed evidence of intense grief, but he said he did not lose faith in God, and expressed a wish for confession and communion.

During the day the Emperor re-read, with much emotion, a passage in the last letter he received from the Empress, in which she expressed herself with being pleased at the prospect of returning to Vienna in a few days in order to witness the jubilee festivities.

His Majesty discharged state duties yesterday with the usual earnestness, and insisted upon replying personally to the numberless messages of sympathy he had received since the assassination of the Empress.

Hidden Weakness.

Just as we sometimes see a tree or pole apparently strong and sound come crashing down with a sudden crash because of some undetected process of decay, so no matter how good an appearance a woman may present, if she is subject to any hidden weakness, gradually sapping away and undermining her vitality, some day her entire constitution will give way and leave her a prostrate physical wreck.

The average doctor gives a little something for the headache and a little something else for the backache and still another thing for the nerves and so on, never once reaching the hidden weakness in the distinctly feminine organism.

The vast experience and special practice of Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., in treating women's diseases, enables him to understand and cope successfully with these particular ailments. Any woman may feel the utmost confidence in consulting him by mail. She will receive, free of cost, sound professional advice whereby her health may, in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred, be promptly and permanently restored. All correspondence is held to be sacredly confidential.

A lady living in Coshocton Co., Ohio, Mrs. W. T. Stanton, of Elisafield, writes: "I had female weakness very bad for nearly three years. Had dragging down pains in and above my hips and such dreadful pains in the back and top of my head (just as though someone was lifting me by the hair). Had no ambition, would try to work a few days then would have to lie in bed for a long time. No tongue can express the suffering I endured. I had much pain at monthly periods. I doctored most of the time with as good a physician as there is in the state, but had no ease only when I was quiet and off my feet and then I had more or less pain in my head. When I began taking Dr. Pierce's medicines I weighed 102 pounds, and was very pale and weak. I took twelve bottles of his 'Favorite Prescription' and seven of the 'Golden Medical Discovery.' Now I feel like a different person. Have no pain in my head, can do all the work for myself, husband and one child; am gaining in flesh. I feel it is through God's mercy and your wonderful medicines that I am cured."

NAVAL GUN PRACTICE

HOW IT IS CONDUCTED ON UNCLE SAM'S SHIPS OF WAR.

Stringent Rules Govern the Seven Trials That Each Vessel Must Make Each Year. Conditions of Actual Battle Observed as Nearly as Possible.

There are two kinds of target practice required in our navy—that known as sea practice and record practice. Stringent rules have been provided by the department proscribing six sea practices and one record practice annually, and any failure to hold such practice must be fully explained, and only in the case of the most cogent reasons will the omission of target practice or the failure to properly expend the allowance of ammunition be considered justifiable. If vessels are in port when target practice is due, they are compelled to get under way, proceed to sea and carry out their instructions. The object of attack is a triangular sail of three sides attached to an upright pole of about 15 feet in height stuck in a wooden frame which serves as a float, and at a distance of a mile this little affair is scarcely visible to the eye, and yet our great battleships and cruisers steaming at eight or ten knots frequently destroy it at a distance of two miles.

Sea practice with great guns is conducted either on or off soundings at ranges varying from 800 to 3,000 yards, the ship steaming at any rate the commanding officer may direct. This practice is intended to simulate as nearly as possible the conditions of actual battle, and the rules of the navy require that the details of observing the fall of shots and the accuracy of fire shall not be allowed to unduly interfere with the spirited and continuous fire. Guns are loaded and fired just as quickly as they would be if the ship were engaging an enemy. The rate of speed varies anywhere from bare steerage way to that of highest rate under forced draft.

The entire crew is at quarters, and battle hatches are down; the ships stripped clear. The doctors get out their saws and knives, and hammocks are slung for lowering the supposed injured to the operating room below. The captain takes his place in the conning tower, the secondary batteries are manned, marines stationed in the military tops, and the ship and her crew to all intent and purposes are ready to engage an imaginary enemy.

Then the battle opens. Like great swans the graceful cruisers circle around the target, letting go first one battery and then the other as they come up on the other side. The great ponderous battleships pour in their mammoth projectiles, and if the pole has not been knocked to pieces at the end of 15 minutes it is because the practice is not up to the navy standard.

It costs the government very little to construct these targets, and any ship can make one in a few hours, and for this reason a good many can be destroyed in the course of a few hours' practice without the government losing more than $100. But it is not so with the ammunition. Every time a 13 inch gun is fired off at full service charge the 1,100 pound projectile, backed by 500 pounds of powder, is hurled into the sea. The powder costs $1 a pound and the projectile about $200. Regular armor piercing projectiles, the kind that are employed in actual battle, when some heavily belted steel ship is to be penetrated, are never used in target practice. They are too costly, and the same results can be obtained with the cast iron or semiarmor piercing type. The target practice, therefore, while valuable in the results, is expensive to the country.

Regulations of the navy department require that at two sea practices each year the ships shall be cleared for action and men stationed as in actual battle, with necessary officers, aids and quartermaster in conning tower and all other officers at their stations. Ammunition is supplied in the manner that would be actually necessary in battle, and, except in cases of emergency, orders shall be given by the means that would be employed in battle.

As often as once each year the whole or part of the secondary battery allowance for one sea practice is expended at night, searchlights being used to illuminate the target and disclose its presence so that an accurate fire may be maintained. There are few sights more inspiring and brilliant than a great fleet performing evolutions at night and using the powerful searchlights in picking up the little white target as it bobs about on the undulating waves. The skies are brilliantly lighted, and great white paths cut the darkness if the moon be obscured and bring out boldly the great floating fortresses in picturesqueness. Little target practice is indulged in at night, however, as it is often difficult to find the object of attack at a greater distance than a mile or two.

In the days of the old smoothbore gun, which passed away with the development of the modern rifled ordnance and steel side ships, target practice was not so general or expensive as that of today. Neither were the weapons so accurate. Fifteen or 20 men were required to handle one of the old 8 inch guns, where six can now load, fire and operate the powerful 13 inch guns of our battleships. The gun was loaded by a tedious process and fired with a primer, trained by heavy spikes and run out by ropes manned by men. Today the big guns are practically loaded by electricity or hydraulics, and the powder is ignited by electricity, the guns trained by the same motive power and the whole operation of fighting these formidable pieces conducted by one-half the men necessary 15 years ago to work a gun whose range of effectiveness was not over a mile. Several minutes were required to sponge, load and fire the old gun. Now for the quick firing 6 inch at least a dozen shots can be discharged in a minute.

Officers of the American navy are directed to make target practice of all kinds instructive. Men are instructed as to the part of the target at which to aim in order to secure the best average of effective shots, and it has been noted that at great gun practice the best results are obtained by aiming not at the water line, but at a point about 2½ feet above it. These regulations have been strictly carried out, and they account for the wonderful precision of fire attained by ships of the American navy, which now are rightly classed as the best target hitters afloat.—Boston Herald.

DYING BY INCHES!

But Dodd's Kidney Pills will Yet Renew Life.

Thousands of persons die in the prime of life because doctors think Bright's Disease and Diabetes incurable. But Dodd's Kidney Pills cure them both. They have cured thousands of cases.

These diseases and other Kidney complaints are as common as ordinary colds. But people don't realize that they are afflicted till the disease has eaten deep into the system. Even then, Dodd's Kidney Pills will positively cure.

Thousands of people are dying on their feet, but do not realize it. They notice one or more of these symptoms: shortness of breath, loss of memory, failing sight, ravenous appetite, pale or reddish urine, with brick-colored deposit, scalding when urinating, constipation, nervousness, pains in the loins. Their only hope is Dodd's Kidney Pills. They won't fail. They never do.

RIVALS A MIRACLE.

Mr. George C. Chalker's Terrible Sufferings Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Howsey's Rapids, Sept. 12—Mr. George C. Chalker, of this place, tells a remarkable story of restoration to sound health, that rivals the far-famed St Anne de Beaupre cures.

Briefly Mr. Chalker's story is as follows: "I suffered horribly for years, from Kidney Disease. I could do no heavy work. My pain was almost unendurable. No remedy did me the least good till I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Six boxes of this wonderful medicine have cured me completely—made a new man of me. I cannot speak highly enough of them. I can state with the utmost confidence that Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure the very worst case of Kidney Disease.

Rats on Ironclads.

Confronted with the difficulties which modern builders and householders put in the way of rats in drains, floors and skirtings, the black rat would probably be baffled, while the sagacious gray rat still remains more or less master of the situation. The case of the rat is typical of the value of brain power. Routine, which is the usual condition of animal existence, does not exist for them. They have to face "reconstructions" of their common surroundings at any given moment, and their resources and adaptability have seldom been found wanting.

Ship rats have survived the era of steam and steel and only recently thrived so successfully in a big ironclad that they made her majesty's ship Colossus almost uninhabitable. House rats have learned how to cope with gas fittings, lead pipes, brick drains and cement floors. "Sewer rats" have made themselves a name coeval with modern urban sanitation, and others are now learning to live in "cold stores" and eat chilled meat and game in an atmosphere where breath turns into snow.—London Spectator.

Women and Tips.

Women don't give tips as readily as men, don't subscribe as liberally to miscellaneous objects, like bargain counters better than men do, are more alert in saving small sums, cheapening domestic service and household supplies and such matters. Why? Not because they are meaner than men, but because they have less money and more time.

The average man who earns money and has it to spend is an economist of time. Minutes are of more value to him than dimes or "nickels." He pays readily for prompt service, does not consider small differences of price, but expedites his progress through the day by any minor disbursements that seem expedient. If he is a hardworked man, he likes to save thought and bother as well as time, and would often rather pay than think. He is apt to consider, not always wisely, that his time and thought are more profitably spent in earning money than in saving it by driblets.—Harper's Bazar.

All Nerves.

Many people say they are "all nerves," easily startled or upset, easily worried and irritated. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are just the remedy which such people require. They restore perfect harmony of the nerve centres and give new nerve force to shattered nervous systems.

Test the KIDNEYS

They are the Great Feeders of our Bodies

The Purity of the Blood is Dependent on their Cleansing Powers

There's a time to all, old and young, man or woman, when poor health brings trouble, anxiety, and burdens hard to stand up under, and one's efforts to rid himself or herself seem only to be baffled at every turn, and we are prone to grow discouraged.

That is not the time to give up—but the time for action, the time to seek out the seat of the trouble, and act as your best judgment and the experience of others will help you, guarding against mistakes in the treatment adopted for your particular ailment.

MR. GEORGE BENNER,
WIARTON, ONTARIO, says:—

As a life saver to mankind, I hereby state what Dr. A. W. Chase's K.-L. Pills did for me. For nearly four years I was greatly troubled with Constipation and general weakness in the Kidneys, and in my perilous position was strongly advised to use Chase's Pills, and to-day I can safely and truthfully state that they have saved my life.

Where the Parson Went.

In a small village in Gloucestershire the clergyman was out visiting, but was expected back to preach on the Sunday. Early on Sunday morning, however, the parish clerk received a message from the clergyman to say he would not be able to preach, as he was going to "officiate" for another clergyman. As the service drew near the clerk rang the bell, and when the time was up and the people were assembled he went into the pulpit and addressed them thus, "This is to give notice that the parson will not be able to preach here today, as he is gone 'a-fishing' along with another parson."—Pearson's Weekly.

THE SINGLE-TAXERS HAVE ORGANIZED.

A MEETING FOR THAT PURPOSE WAS HELD LAST EVENING.

Mr. J. B. Oke was Elected Chairman' Mr. Geo. Ball Financial Secretary, And Dr. Rose Corresponding Secretary.

A meeting of citizens was held last evening in Lech's hall for the purpose of organizing a local branch of the Single Tax Association. Mr. J. B. Oke was elected chairman, and Mr. Geo. Ball, Financial Secretary, and Dr. Rose, Corresponding Secretary. Quite a large membership was secured at the initial meeting and it is hoped that the branch will be a large and flourishing one before the winter is over.

The National Single Taxer, a weekly journal published at Minneapolis and devoted to the interests of the followers of Henry George, publishes in its issue of August 10 an interesting letter from Henry George, jr. The letter gives a good account of the attitude of the two great English political parties towards the taxation of land values. Following is the letter as it appeared in the Single Taxer:

London; July 20.—When again the war drum shall have ceased to beat and our people shall have returned to the ways of peace, one of the early results of the era of good feeling among the English-speaking peoples will be to thrust upon the attention of Americans a question that is fast assuming first place in the practical politics of the British Empire—a question which in the United States is known as the single tax.

It is urged here that the British colony of New Zealand was the only English-speaking country to escape the world-wide commercial depression of the last few years, because by laying a tax on land values she reduced land speculation and forced vacant land into use, consequently reduced all ground rents and thereby relieved all renters of land, whether farmers, timber cutters, grazers, manufacturers, merchants or mere dwellers, which sent such a thrill of prosperity through every channel of industry throughout New Zealand as to keep every workman busy. It is pointed out that, seeing this, the Australian colony of New South Wales, after a protracted political fight, put a special tax upon land values, with results much like those witnessed in New Zealand; and, furthermore, that the policy of instituting a land value tax is rising as the first question in political contests in Natal, South Africa, and in other British colonies.

THE MOVEMENT IN ENGLAND.

But it is in Great Britain and Ireland that the question has assumed its greatest importance. Two hundred and sixty town councils and other local authorities in Great Britain, including those of the two greatest cities in the empire—London and Glasgow—have petitioned Parliament for the right to raise local revenue from land values, and this is supported by commercial bodies and almost unanimously by the trades unions, which here are much stronger than they are in the United States. So clear has this question grown in the local affairs of London for instance, that in the County Council election last March it became the chief cry, and the vast influence of great land owners as the Dukes of Westminister and Bedford, combined with threats of the Tory Government, was thrown solidly against it. But the Liberal party candidates, known locally as "Progressives," were elected with an overwhelming majority.

But nothing can be done in these local bodies respecting the incidence of taxation without the consent of Parliament, so that all pressure in favour of taxing land values is gathering against that body.

LIBERAL PARTY ACTION.

Now the Tory party, which is the landlord's party, stands as a rock for "vested rights," and it is likely to be joined by the old Whig element in the Liberal party in Parliament that any general attack is made on land values. So long as they hold control of Parliament no step in Imperial taxation will be taken toward the single tax, nor will the local governments get authority to go to land values for their municipal revenues.

It is to the Radicals and the mass of the the Liberal party—to such men as those who forced the repeal of the corn laws, the extension of the franchise, and the establishment of Public Schools—that those who favour the taxation of land values now look.

And the Liberal party, bending to popular will, has in many ways committed itself to the principle. In its party platform, known here as the Newcastle programme, it declares for a "reform in the land laws such as will secure . . . the just taxation of land values and ground rents."

THE RESOLUTION.

And at the conference last November of the Scottish Liberal Association, composed of representatives of all the Liberal associations in Scotland, it was unanimously declared:

"That, whereas the land question lies at the root of the social problem; that land monopoly, which is directly caused by the value of land being exempt from taxation, forces labour into involuntary idleness, and thus creates an unemployed class; and, whereas, the values of land are created by the presence, industry and growth of the people, this conference is of opinion that the taxation of land values should occupy a foremost place in the programme of the Liberal party, to be dealt with at the earliest possible moment by—

"First, the abolition of the breakfast table duties—the duties on tea, coffee, cocoa, dried fruits, etc.

"Second, the substitution of a direct tax on the value of land, apart from improvements.

"Third, the reform of the valuation acts to provide for the separate scheduling in the valuation returns of the values of land and the values of improvement, with a view to separate assessment, etc.

LEADERS ON THE QUESTION.

This showing that the Liberal party is pretty well committed to the principles of taxing land values, the question arises how do the Liberal party leaders stand? Sir William Harcourt, the party leader in the House of Commons, stands on record as saying that "the question of ground values affects the whole country, local and Imperial, and ought to be considered in any plan of local taxation." Ex-Premier Rosebery says:—"The taxation of ground values is a principle which will not be allowed to die until it has been carried into effect. It is a principle which is becoming universally established, because it has been acknowledged to be both just and sound." John Morley says: "I cannot doubt that the principle involved in what is called the question of ground values is one which must make quicker and quicker way into the minds and opinions of the people. It will be thought an intolerable thing that men should derive enormous increments of income from the growth of towns to which they have contributed nothing. . . . that they shall be able to go on throttling towns, as they are well known to do. It is impossible to suppose that the system will not be vigorously, persistently and successfully attacked."

WHAT IS LOOKED FOR.

This much for the Liberal party principles and the Liberal party leaders. What of their followers in Parliament? There is nothing that shows just how the present members stand, as the question has not been raised in any formal way, and has not even been brought to a vote, except when, on March 8, 1895, even the Tories not daring to challenge a division, it was unanimously resolved by the House, on Mr. Provand's proposal, "That no system of taxation can be equitable unless it includes the direct assessment of the enhanced value of land due to the increase of population and wealth and the growth of towns."

The best "straws to show the wind" are in the bye-elections, as they tend to show how the next Parliament will stand. In these contests to fill vacancies in the House since the last general election in 1895 the Liberal side has done a good deal more than hold its own, and all of these successful Liberal candidates, save two, during the canvass, announced themselves in favour of the taxation of land values, and were elected on the understanding that they would do what they could to press that question forward.

The political prophets see in these results indications that the country will return a Liberal majority at the next general election, which cannot be deferred later than 1901, and which may come much sooner. Alfred Billson, a Liberal, elected triumphantly at a bye-election from the constituency of Halifax, tells me that the result in his contest makes him confident that "if Sir William Harcourt would make an appeal on the question of the taxation of land values he would sweep the country on that issue at the next general election."

Of course, this is but one man's view, but the strong probability remains that the Liberals will carry the next election, and in that event the almost certainty is that there will be a substantial agreement on the question of taxing land values among a sufficiently large number of Liberals in the House to constitute such a voting influence as no party leaders can ignore.

Nor, having decided to tax land values, is there a constitution or a Supreme Court to bar the action of such a Parliament. Precedent is the only constitution recognized by Parliament, and British history blazes with precedents for the taxation of land values. Even if no precedent existed, Parliament could act and make one; for the British Parliament is absolute and can do whatever it wills.

Eczema TEN YEARS

Suffered Untold Agonies. Limbs Swollen So Could Not Get About.

Ablest Physicians Signally Failed. Was Absolutely Disheartened. Had Lost All Hope.

Gave Cuticura A Trial, Which Resulted in Absolute and Perfect Cure.

For ten years I suffered untold agonies from that dread disease Eczema, my lower limbs most of the time being so swollen and broken out that I could hardly go about. I had to wear slippers so that I could move about at all. My brother, a physician of thirty years' practice and extensive experience, had tried in vain to effect a cure and signally failed. I tried other physicians of splendid ability with like results, and had reached that point where I became absolutely disheartened, and in fact had lost all hope, when a friend induced me to give CUTICURA REMEDIES a trial. I used two cakes of CUTICURA SOAP and two boxes of CUTICURA (ointment), and it resulted in an absolute and permanent cure. I am now perfectly cured, sound as a dollar, and to CUTICURA REMEDIES I attribute my almost miraculous cure. I refer all interested to the Postmaster of this place, any of the ministers, the prominent business men, and all of the citizens of our vicinity indiscriminately, and especially to my friend, John A. B. Shippey, attorney at law, who persuaded me to give CUTICURA REMEDIES a trial.

FISH PROPAGATION.

Interesting Information about Reproductive Methods.

Mr. D. W. Dumble in answer to enquiries, has received the following letter from the Superintendent of Hatcheries, Caledonia, N. Y.:

CALEDONIA, N.Y., Sept. 7th, 1898.

Mr. D. W. Dumble, Peterborough, Ont.,

MY DEAR SIR,—Commissioner C. H. Babcock referred your letter of the 22nd to me, with the request that I give you what information possible.

The salmon or lake trout in your lakes should be caught during the summer by trolling with small suckers or chubs on a very long line that is leaded, so that it will fish very near the bottom, as they are a fish that are found in the deepest and coldest waters of the lakes. Your Dominion Government should supply your lakes with young salmon trout.

Please understand that no one ever hatched black bass artificially. If your waters are protected during the winter and until the bass are all through spawning in July, there will be no trouble about the bass being exterminated, but all illegal fishing must be stopped.

The mascallonge are very difficult to hatch. They require entirely different treatment from almost any other fish. I don't think they are hatched artificially except in this state and, perhaps, Wisconsin. The N. Y. State Commission hatch all of their mascallonge at Chautauqua Lake in Chautauqua County and what fry were planted in the St. Lawrence at Clayton came from the Chautauqua Lake Hatchery.

It would be impossible for me to give you information so that you could successfully hatch maskinonge. It would be necessary for you to send men to Chautauqua Lake that were familiar with handling fish, and they would have to spend at least one or two hatching seasons there before they would become competent enough to successfully do the business.

It is not necessary to have a building for the hatchery. Eggs can be hatched in wire boxes in the lake. The greatest items of expense are the pound nets, boats, hatching boxes and labour or time of men.

We are experimenting in the propogation of maskinonge every season, and are making considerable progress. They are a very peculiar fish to raise, but this year we succeeded in raising a very few up to five inches in length.

If I can give you any further information I will be glad to do so. I remain,

Yours truly,
J. ANNIN, JR.,
Supt. of Hatcheries.

—On the best $3 Men's Selected Shape Balmoral or Congress, we take off 40c, and ask only $2.60.
—On the best Men's Fine Hand-Made Balmorals we take off 35c., and ask only $1.65.

—On the best French Dongola Kid Button (common sense) we take off 30c., and ask only $1.60.
—Misses', Boys', and Children's in same proportion.

CORRECTING A MISTAKE—Who sells the cheapest goods — themerchant who is compelled to buy in one higgling market, and is tied down to one grasping manufacturer, or the merchant who has the freedom of all the competing markets and manufacturers of the world? Do men buy Hats cheaper where nothing but Hats are sold, or Boots cheaper where nothing but Boots are sold, or Clothing cheaper where nothing but Clothing is sold? Might as well expect a farmer to do as well for his family by raising nothing but Pumpkins as if he raised a mixed crop.

GOVERNMENT'S DUTY

Is to Prohibit the Traffic in Intoxicating Drinks,

SAYS METHODIST CONFERENCE.

The Report of the Temperance Committee Finally Passed—The 20th Century Million Dollar Fund Scheme, Somewhat Amended, Is Endorsed—Big Day for the Reception of Reports.

Toronto, Sept. 15.—The Methodist conference held two sessions yesterday, though the morning one was not of the regular kind. It was a meeting of the body in sections, and the matters under consideration were of sectional interest.

Greetings from the Genesee conference, now sitting on the other side, were received and a suitable reply ordered.

After the reception of the reports of the Committees on the Superannuation Fund, the Education Committee, and the Itinerancy and Transfer, the Temperance Committee, which had been commanded to rescind its former declaration "that the liquor traffic cannot be legalized without sin," proposed as a substitute the wording, "that the traffic in intoxicating drinks as beverages is immoral, and it is the duty of the Government to prohibit it." This was adopted. The committee had recommended also as a policy that Methodists should support in elections only candidates pledged to support prohibition. After discussion, the order of the committee was changed to a recommendation.

By the order of the day the Twentieth Century Fund project came up next for discussion. The committee having taken into consideration the recommendations passed in previous sessions of the conference, reported a second time on the proposed distribution of the fund when raised. The report was ranged under two headings. First, it recommended that St. James' Church be not included under the Twentieth Century Fund, but that it be made the object of a separate appeal to the church at large. Secondly, re distribution of the fund the contributers to the fund were to be allowed to state to what particular object they wished their subscription credited. They were to be allowed a choice among education, superannuation, church relief, missions, and General Conference Fund.

After an animated discussion, by the vote of the conference all reference to St. James' in the report was eliminated. The recommendations of the committee were then adopted without further change. The Fund Committee was further empowered to appoint an executive of seven.

A formal declaration of sympathy for St. James' was then passed by the conference.

Conference then listened to the reports on insurance, business, the latter authorizing Dr. Briggs to receive contributions for Methodist sufferers in the New Westminster fire; billeting, and Conference expenses. The meeting adjourned till today at 9 o'clock.

PERILS OF ASHCROFT ROUTE.

Hundreds of Prospectors Must Have Help or Some Will Die.

Vancouver, Sept. 15.—Fearful reports have been received about distressed miners on the Ashcroft route into the Yukon. It was said that between 500 and 1,000 prospectors, many completely destitute, were strung out along the route, and that help would have to reach them soon or they would die. This rumor is confirmed by a party of Manitobans who, travel-worn and disheartened at their failure to reach the gold country by way of Ashcroft, arrived at Telegraph Creek about Sept 1. They took a river steamer to Wrangel, and reached Vancouver yesterday on the steamer Coquitlam.

WRECK AND RESCUE.

Norwegian Lumber Ship From Quebec for Greenock Went Down.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 15.—The Norwegian ship America, Captain Dahl, from Quebec for Greenock, Scotland, with a large cargo of lumber, was wrecked in mid-ocean by a hurricane on Sept. 4, her crew of 18 men being rescued by the British steamer Marengo, and landed here yesterday afternoon.. The America left Quebec on Aug. 19.

HOG CHOLERA AT OTTAWA.

The Bacteriological Investigation Proves Its Existence Conclusively—Dr. Barker to Make a Thorough Inspection.

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—The bacteriological examination of the remains of some of the hogs that recently died in the vicinity of Ottawa from what was supposed to be hog cholera has been completed by McGill University authorities. As a result of the examination the disease has been pronounced hog cholera. This was stated yesterday by Mr. W. B. Scarth, Deputy Minister of the Department of Agriculture. As a result of the examination Dr. Barker of Montreal was sent for, and will make a thorough inspection of the farms where the disease is said to exist. To-day, in company with Drs. James and Perley, he will go over the ground. Dr. Barker is acting inspector in the absence of Dominion Veterinarian McEachran.

Poultry fattening stations, as schools, are to be opened by the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, Quebec and Winnipeg. They will be under the direction of Prof. Robertson. Prof. Robertson found that in England they were quite a money-making institution. Fowls ordinarily weighing from three to three and a half pounds can, by proper feeding and attention, in about three or four weeks be conditioned up to seven pounds weight.

His Excellency Lord Aberdeen will be given a public reception on the occasion of his opening the Central Canada Exhibition on Monday. He will be received at the depot by the members of the Civic and Exhibition Reception Committees, and driven with a cavalry escort and guard of honor to the grounds. After the opening lunch will be served in a marquee, and then His Excellency will be escorted back to his train.

W. J. HAMMOND.

Brief Resume of the Crime for Which He Paid the Penalty—Sentenced After Two Trials.

Bracebridge, Sept. 15.—In the gaol yard here early this morning William J Hammond paid the penalty on the scaffold for one of the most cold blooded murders in the criminal annals of Canada. The scaffold was low, the drop being a hole dug in the earth. The execution, in accordance with the determination of Sheriff Beddes, was very secret, the scaffold being enclosed, and the wooden wall of the yard had been considerably heightened. Only those legally entitled to be there were present. Hangman Radcliffe officiated, and there was the usual inquest and the usual verdict after the dread event had been accomplished.

Hammond's Crime.

On November 16, 1895, Hammond married Katie Tough in Buffalo, under the name of Jones, and at the end of a week went to New York, where he remained three weeks, and succeeded in getting two policies on his wife's life, one in the Provincial Provident, for $3,000, and the other in the Metropolitan, for $2,000. Another application he made was refused.

Then they went to Toronto, where they lived apart, he working as a clerk in Hargrave's drug store on Queen street west. Later the wife returned to her home in Bracebrdge, and on March 5, 1896, she was found on the street, between her home and Hammond's father's, in a dying condition. The poison she had taken was prussic acid, given by Hammond as medicine. At the time their marriage had not been made public.

Hammond's first trial lasted four days, and the jury disagreed. His second trial, which began on December 1, before Chief Justice Meredith, lasted three days. The defence was that the girl had committed suicide. B. B. Osler appeared for the Crown, and E. F. B. Johnston for the prisoner.

Tobacco Factory Talked Of.

Windsor, Ont., Sept. 15.—Messrs Ferguson and the Goldstein Bros., tobacco manufacturers of Montreal, are here making an inspection of the tobacco fields in Essex and Kent counties. If they find that the land is capable of sufficient production they intend to start a factory for the manufacture of smoking and chewing tobacco. Essex and Kent counties are the greatest tobacco growing counties in the Dominion, with a '98 crop of eight million pounds. The parts of Quebec bordering on the Gulf come next in production, with some three million pounds this year. The product per acre is about three-fourths of a ton.

Battleship Contracts Awarded.

Washington, D.C., Sept. 15.—The contracts for the three new battleships have been awarded. One vessel goes to the Cramps, another to the Newport News Ship-Building Company and the third to the Union Iron Works, San Francisco. They will be of 12,500 tons displacement.

300 PEOPLE KILLED.

Kingston, Capital of St. Vincent, Destroyed.

40,000 PERSONS HOMELESS.

A Most Violent Cyclone Ravages the Island—Bodies of the Dead Being Buried in Trenches—Thousands Are Starving or Being Fed at the Public Expense.

London, Sept. 15.—Advices were received here last night saying that a terrible hurricane swept over Barbadoes, in the Windward group of the Lesser Antilles. Two hundred persons have been killed and 40,000 rendered homeless.

Further Details.

St. Thomas, Danish West Indies, Sept. 15.—A boat from the Island of St. Vincent, 100 miles west of Barbadoes arrived yesterday at the Island of Grenada, and reports that St. Vincent has experienced the most violent and destructive cyclone ever known there. Kingston, the capital of St Vincent, is totally destroyed. It is estimated that 300 lives have been lost in that island, and that 20,000 people are homeless. The bodies of the dead are being buried in trenches. Thousands are starving or being fed at the public expense.

HAVE LEFT GENEVA.

The Remains of the Late Empress Taken to Vienna to Be Interred Beside Prince Rudolph.

Geneva, Switzerland, Sept. 15.—The casket containing the remains of the late Empress of Austria, borne on a four-horse car and followed by two other cars almost buried in floral offerings, was conveyed to the railroad station here at 8.30 yesterday morning. An enormous concourse of people witnessed the ceremony. The cortege was led by the representatives of the Imperial court, followed by the Federal Council, headed by the President and the Genevese Council.

The firemen lined the streets. The brilliant sunshine made a striking contrast to the gloomy aspect of the mourners. The funeral car was ornamented with silver wreaths, was surmounted by a silver cross and had white plumes at each corner. The casket was of polished oak, with silver mountings. It was almost hidden beneath floral tributes. On the arrival of the hearse at the railroad station, which was hung with black drapery, the coffin was removed, the remains of the Empress were ceremoniously blessed and the casket was placed in the railroad car, which was then hermetically sealed. After this the Austrian officials embarked on the train, and it departed from this city.

First Interment Temporary.

Vienna, Sept. 15.—In accordance with the Emperor's wishes, the remains of his wife, the late Empress Elizabeth, will be interred beside those of the Crown Prince Rudolph. The interment of Saturday, therefore, will be only temporary.

CLIMBED MOUNT ILLIMANI.

Sir William Martin Conway, Celebrated Explorer, Did the Trick.

London, Sept. 15.—The Daily Chronicle this morning says it has received a despatch from Sir William Martin Conway, the celebrated explorer, dated at La Paz, Bolivia, announcing his successful ascent of Mount Illimani, one of the loftiest mountains of the Bolivian Andes, East Cordillera, about 25 miles east of La Paz. Sir William asserts that the ascent of 22,500 feet occupied five days. On the fourth day the Indians employed to carry the expedition's baggage bolted. The party suffered great weakness during the last hour they were on the summit, but no actual illness. Sir William Conway describes the view from the top as "astounding."

REFUSE TO WITHDRAW TROOPS.

Turkey Is Defiant, Alleging That the British Provoked Disorder.

Constantinople, Sept. 15.—The Turkish Government has sent a circular to the powers, alleging that the British provoked the disorders at Candia, claiming that the present situation is due to the measures adopted by the powers in Crete, and protesting against the bombardment of Candia. Finally, the Porte announces its refusal to withdraw the Turkish troops from Crete, in spite of the decision of the admirals that such a step is absolutely necessary.

The circular has made a bad impression in diplomatic circles.

The Bashi Bazouks.

Candia, Island of Crete, Sept. 15.—The Bashi Bazouks have consented to disarm, providing their arms are delivered to the Turkish authorities.

The Mussulman authorities, in view of the admirals' ultimatum, have already arrested 20 ringleaders of the recent massacres here.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

LINDSAY lawyers have little reason to complain of governmental recognition of their abilities and deserts. Two Q. C.'s and two judges within a short time should satisfy their aspirations. Mr. Barron was recently appointed Junior Judge of Perth, and now Mr. McIntyre has been appointed Junior Judge for Ontario.

THE Opposition argued that the defeat of Hon John Dryden, on March 1st, was a revolt against his administrative methods. The action of the court in unseating Mr. Calder is a revolt against the election methods of the Opposition. From the methods adopted to defeat the Minister of Agriculture, it would seam that there was greater need of election detectives than election constables in South Ontario.

SINCE the Dominion general elections of 1890, there have been thirty-one bye-elections, and in twenty-nine of these Liberals were returned. Not only have the Liberals held every seat opened which were Liberal at the general elections, but have gained eight seats from the Conservatives. In other words, the Liberal majority in Parliament is sixteen on a division stronger than at the close of polling in June, 1896; and out of thirty-three elections the Conservatives have barely managed to hold two seats.

THE Toronto News, Conservative says: "The revelations at the South Ontario election trial are calculated to make Canadians blush for their country. Voters who make merchandise of the franchise are a disgrace to the country." Yet the News was among these Opposition journals which declared that the results of the election giving a substantial majority to the government was a defeat, and that the country was against the government." Public opinion at so much a head is something that does'nt count very much.

Is it safe to assume that, as it advocates well argue, if the principle of single tax had prevailed generally in Europe such truculent desperadoes as Luccessi, who assassinated the Empress of Austria, would have never developed. He makes the oppression of the poor by the great the justification for his crime. Of course it is no justification, still the fact remains that he acted as if it were and the result is the same as if he were the executioner of justice instead of being a mere vulgar murderer. If the principles of equal justice prevailed, men would not have the excuse the anarchists suffering under the crushing weight of oppression seem to think they have.

TWO YEARS' WORK.

The Laurier Government has held office for only two years, and during that time has accomplished very nearly as much for Canada as was accomplished during the whole eighteen years of Conservative administration.

The German and Belgian anti-Imperial treaties have been abolished.

A tariff giving a twenty-five per cent. preference to British products has been adopted.

A generous measure of tariff reform has been given; supplies have been cheapened, agriculture relieved and the home market improved; the established industries of the country have not been prejudiced by reckless and impracticable legislation.

The franchise act has been abolished and a saving of $200,000 a year on each revision of the voters' list effected.

The total trade of the country has been increased from $239,025,360 in 1896 to $304,091,620 in 1897.

There has been a great increase in the

EARNING OF RAILWAYS,

the business of the banks and exchanges and the transactions at the clearing houses.

The Crow's Nest Railway is building, control of the mountain pass is retained, running rights are secured for future competitors, railway monopoly is checked, coal prices fixed and coal monopoly prevented.

By the construction of the Crow's Nest road cheap coal will be supplied for smelting, prices of smelting reduced, many doubtful mines made dividend-payers, the mining industry of the Kootenay established on a permanent basis, and the country secured in the greatest of all attractions to capital and population.

Freight rates, through the Crow's Nest bargain, have been reduced to eastern trades and western settlers, and on grain shipments a very large sum will be saved to the farmers of Manitoba and the Territories.

The deepening of the canals will shortly be accomplished, rates of carriage thereby reduced and to producers, a vastly greater volume of western traffic brought through Canada and Canadian ports, and the Canadian carrying trade vastly benefitted.

Measures have been taken for better communication with Prince Edward Island, and to improve the elevator and transportation facilities at St. John and Halifax.

The Intercolonial has been extended to Montreal with a view to increase of traffic and the wiping out of the huge annual deficits on the Government railway.

The one-sided bargain by which the business agents of the Intercolonial were handicapped and the best paying traffic of the Government road fed to the Canadian Pacific has been abrogated.

Extensive improvements are to be made in Montreal harbour, accommodation for more and better vessels provided, more competition had, and thus to the final markets secured, and the St. Lawrence brought nearer its inevitable destiny as the great freight route of the continent.

Annual drill of the militia is enforced the militia and permanent forces better organized, the equipment improved, system and method introduced, and the defence forces of the country generally placed on a better footing.

The Yukon has been opened up without cost to older Canada, law and order are well observed throughout all the remote territory, and a splendid revenue from customs, mining licenses and royalties is flowing into the treasury.

A steady stream of population is pouring into the west, sales of railway and Government lands have been greatly increased, and at last we seem to be getting that long-desired increase of population that will with prosperous homes, increase the home market for all our producers and manufacturers, increase also wages and prices, and with more backs to bear the burden, lighten for every citizen of the country the load of debt and taxation.

We are soon to have Imperial as well as Canadian penny postage.

The deficit in the Post office Department has been reduced by the splendid work of Mr. Mulock from $700,000 to $40,000, while the mail service has been materially improved ond extended.

A postal note system and a rapid delivery service has been established.

The British policy of a permanent civil service and permanent deputy heads, except in cases of flagrant offensive partizanship, has been accepted and settled as the permanent policy of Canada.

The relations of Canada with Great Britain, with other British colonies and with the United States have been greatly improved, and national and commercial, is likely to be brought about by the Quebec Conference.

Best of all, the hateful policy of coercion has been abandoned, the western Provinces are secured in their rights of self-government, conciliation is doing what force could not do, there are signs of a disposition to extend generous treatment to the religious minority in Manitoba, Quebec has learned that the highest officers of the State are open to her sons, that no race or Province holds an inferior place in this British confederation, and that the religious quarrels that rent old France for many long and terrible years are not to have resurrection in Canada.

It is the growing time. At last we are a united people. Population is coming. Trade is increased. Prosperity is spreading. Taxation is lightening. The lines of our destiny are permanently settled. We are to be a British-Canadian nation, the second power of the new world, and to Sir Wilfrid Laurier more than to any other man, or all other men, we owe gratitude for the wonderful change that these two last years have brought about in the condition and prospects of the Canadian people.—Globe.

SOURCES OF FLAVOURS IN BUTTER.

The following is taken from the report of the Dominion Commissioner of Agriculture and Dairying: The flavour of butter comes from one of three or from all of three sources. The butter-fat has a slight flavour which is much more preceptible in the milk of fresh-calved cows, than in the milk of those which have been milking for more than six months. Another flavour in butter, although not an essential one, is the flavour which results from the addition of salt. The third and important flavour of butter is that which comes from the ripening of the cream. That is a flavour which can be controlled very largely by the manner in which the cream is prepared for churning. The fermentation, or ripening of the cream, is brought about by minute forms of life which get into the milk or the cream from the atmosphere, the utensils, the cow or the milker. The action of these low forms of life on milk or cream is fermentation; and they produce a flavour and odour, in other words a taste and smell, peculiar to themselves. If the atmosphere of a stable or dairy building smells offensive, then the strong probability is that the minute forms of life present in the atmosphere will produce similar offensive smells in the dairy products made from the milk or cream exposed to it. On the other hand, if the atmosphere of the dairy building has an agreeable smell, the butter or cheese made from milk or cream exposed to it, will likely have a flavour and odour which are agreeable. In some cases where bacteria, which become the causes of such undesirable odours and flavours, have contaminated the milk or cream, the practice of pasteurizing it can be adopted with advantage. The word pasteurizing come from the name of that most eminent and beneficent Frenchman, Louis Pasteur, who did so much to discover the conditions under which the most minute forms of life exist. By the heating of milk or cream to a temperature of about 155 degrees Fahr., and maintaining it at that temperature for five minutes, nearly all the living organisms which it contains are destroyed. That temperature does not quite sterilize the milk or cream, or destroy all forms of life, in spore or fully developed form, which may exist there. But for practical commercial purposes it destroys the forms of life which in the ripening of cream or the curing of cheese produce undesirable flavours. When cream has been pasteurized there should be added to it a small quantity of cream, butter milk or skim milk, containing these forms of life of ferments which by their action produce the flavours and odours of a desirable sort. That is called a "fermentation starter."

HUMAN SACRIFICES

On the Altar of Diabetes, Saved by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

Hardly a family in the country is free from Diabetes. Great thirst, failing sight, numbness in the thighs, bleeding gums, swollen ankles, emaciation, nervou ness, pale or turbid urine, loss of sexual power, decaying teeth, pains in the loins or small of the back, are all positive signs that Diabetes is in the system.

Do you know how it ends? IN DEATH. A premature, horrible, agonised, pitiful death. The victim has no peace, no ease in life. His days are filled with tortures. His nights are waking dreams of agony. He longs to die, yet fears the terrors of his end. He dies, a bloated, fetid, repulsive mass of corruption. That is the only end of unchecked Diabetes. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it. They drive it out of the system thoroughly, create new, clean blood, rebuild the diseased kidneys, and restore robust health.

LORD HERSCHELL'S PROMISE.

British High Commissioner Will Do What He Can to Protect British and Canadian Interests.

Toronto, Sept. 15.—Lord Herschell and his son drove round the town in the forenoon yesterday, with Hon. A. S. Hardy and Mr. Thomas Hodgins.

In the afternoon Lord Herschell, accompanied by Mayor Shaw, paid a visit to the new Civic Buildings, and was shown through by Architect Lennox. The noble lord expressed a very high opinion of the architecture and structure. Before leaving the party was photographed. It will be interesting to note that this carriage was the first conveyance to drive up to the buildings.

Lord Herschell Dined.

Last night the Toronto Board of Trade entertained Lord Herschell at dinner at the Toronto Club. The gathering was significant on account of the strong pro-British feeling that characterized the speeches, and also the opinion repeatedly expressed that the rights of Canada ought to be protected in the negotiations now going on at Quebec. But still more significant than these assertions on behalf of Canada was the square cut assertion of Lord Herschell that he was determined to devote whatever energy, whatever force and whatever capacity he had for mastering details to protecting the interests of Canada, and the interests of the Empire. This assertion of His Lordship evoked the highest and warmest appreciation on the part of the company.

Mr. Elias Rogers, the president of the Board of Trade, was in the chair, and on his right were Lord Herschell, the guest of the evening. Sir William Meredith, Chief Justice of the Court of Appeal, and Hon. William Mulock, and on his left Hon. A. S. Hardy, Premier of Ontario.

The speeches of the evening were made by Lord Herschell and by Dr. Parkyn. Very good speeches were also made by Mr. Hardy, Mr. Mulock, Mr. E. B. Osler, Mr. M. R. Blain and Col. Davidson. In a few fitting phrases Mr. Rogers proposed the health of Lord Herschell, which was drunk with great enthusiasm.

Will Stand for Canada.

The following is the excerpt of Lord Herschell's speech referred to above:

I can assure you that my best powers, such as they are, will be devoted to serving Canada and the interests of Canada upon the mission in which I am engaged. I shall argue your case as earnestly, as strenuously and further your interests as far as I can, as ardently as if I were myself a native-born Canadian. (Cheers.)

$10,000 Worth of Goods Have Reached the Suffering City—The Alleged Incendiarism.

Vancouver, Sept. 15.—It is estimated that over $10,000 worth of goods have already reached New Westminster for relief purposes. The people of New Westminster are deeply grateful for all these kind tokens from different Dominion cities.

A PREMATURE BLAST

Hurls Three Railway Laborers 700 Feet to Death.

Winnipeg, Sept. 15.—A frightful accident by which three railroad laborers lost their lives occurred on the Robson-Penticton railway construction in British Columbia last week.

The scene of the accident was about seven miles below Brooklyn, where John Kinnear, Oscar Anderson, Tom Lanebeau and Dan Ryan had a sub-contract. Two blasts were being prepared, one of eight kegs and the other of twenty kegs of powder. In loading the second charge, after twelve kegs had been put in, the hole became stopped and Lanebeau used an iron spoon to clear the opening, when instantly the blast went off and Lanebeau, Kinnear and Anderson were hurled 700 feet down the mountain side and died a few minutes after striking. Ryan was thrown 15 feet and escaped without injury. All the victims were young men about 25 years of age, and were without families.

The Preliminary Examination Before Magistrate Jelfs at Hamilton.

Hamilton, Sept. 15.—The preliminary examination into the criminal charges laid against A. L. Stares, of the late firm of furniture dealers, and W. B. Cook, a clerk, began before Magistrate Jelfs yesterday and lasted all day. Three charges were laid against the defendants. They were charged with conspiracy to defraud the creditors of the firm, with stealing goods and with stealing $1 from Assignee Lamb. They pleaded not guilty and declined to elect. A host of witnesses was called.

The case was adjourned till to-day. About a dozen witnesses have yet to be called for the prosecution. The prisoners were admitted to bail of $1,600.

HON. MR. MULOCK.

Toronto Honors the Man Who Brought Imperial Penny Postage to a Practical Finality.

Toronto, Sept. 15.—The reception tendered to Hon. William Mulock, Postmaster-General, by the Board of Trade yesterday was largely attended by Toronto's prominent business men of both shades of politics. The addresses were largely of a congratulatory nature, and this feeling was generously emphasized by those politically opposed to Mr. Mulock. Members of the board took advantage of the occasion to urge upon the Postmaster-General the advisability of establishing a one cent rate for cities and a two-cent domestic rate.

The Board of Trade presented the Hon. Wm. Mulock, Postmaster General, with a resolution expressing its "high appreciation of the brilliant services rendered by him in bringing to a successful conclusion the adoption of 'Imperial penny postage' throughout a vast portion of the British Empire." The resolution was very handsomely engrossed in Greek letters of a dead black, and was in book form, bound in heavy morocco, with the following gilt inscription on the back: "To the Hon. William Mulock from the Board of Trade, Toronto."

Prior to the presentation President Rogers and others made complimentary speeches, which culminated in Mr. E. B. Osler, M.P., saying to Mr. Mulock, "I think you are a credit to Canada."

Mr. Mulock, in reply, said he was heartily in accord with a two-cent rate in Canada, but could not go ahead of the public view in the matter. He looked for an increased revenue in the reduction of Imperial postage, at any rate the re-imposition of postage in newspapers next January would compensate for any loss. The two-cent rate in Canada would come later when the foregoing postage scheme had been given time to work, and the one-cent rate was still further in the future. Mr. Mulock stated that in January next, for the first time in Canadian history, he expected the Post Office Department to be self-sustaining. The announcement was greeted with cheers.

OFFICE OF W. A. MURRAY & CO.,

Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, N.A.L.:

DEAR SIR,—In answer to your request for me to decide upon one of the following options offered me for settlement of my 15-payment Life Investment Policy for $5,000 which has matured this year, viz:

1st to take the value of the Policy in Cash	$5,000.00
2nd, or fully paid-up insurance for	3,280.00
3rd, or take the profits in cash and continue my policy without further payments being required from me, such policy participating in future profits.	2,080 25

I find it somewhat difficult to make a decision either of the three options being so satisfactory. I am certainly very much pleased with the results offered me, and as I find many others are giving full testimony to the profit-earning power of this company. I do not hesitate to give my endorsement as well, that the North American Life is one of our strongest Canadian institutions to day giving first class results on Investment Policies, on a safe and conservative basis. I find that my policy, which was originally a Life by fifteen payments, has become an Endowment at the end of the Investment period.

Honouring the Bride.

The Belleville Intelligencer furnishes an interesting society note: A widower on Franck street took unto himself a wife last evening and his friends decided to have some fun out of the event. About 8 30 a large number of them visited the residence of the bridal couple. The groom was called for and in response put in an appearance on the verandah. He apologized on the ground of poverty for not being able to offer the party some solid refreshments, but he would not allow them to depart without partaking in some way of his hospitality. He entered the house and soon returned with a pitcher and a glass. A rush was made for the verandah when the groom started to ladle out the liquid, but alas the bright deams were shattered for it proved to be nothing but cold water. After the visitors had been refreshed, the groom made another little speech, and in response to loud calls for the bride, re-entered the house and soon re-appeared with the young lady, who was in an appropriate state of confusion and blushes. The proud groom then held a lantern so that the crowd might get a good view of the second prize he had drawn in the matrimonial lottery. Their curiosity satisfied, the visitors gave three cheers for the happy couple and departed.

NO DOUBT OF THE DROWNING NOW.

The Body of Mr. Robert Murney Recovered.

Yesterday a young man named Bell discovered near Robinson's Island, in the river, the body of Mr. Robert Murney, of South Monaghan, who has been missing since Friday last. Yesterday's EXAMINER contained particulars of the circumstances which justified, as is now shown, the fear that the young man had been drowned. The deceased was well-known in the township in which he lived—with his brother-in-law, Mr. T. Huggins, both his parents being dead.

THE STONE CRUSHER.

The Ponderous Machine at Work To-day.

Yesterday and the previous day the new stone crusher erected upon the vacant lot on King street was given a little practice work. To-day it entered upon its work in earnest, and is converting granite hardheads into crushed granite for pavement facing. The machine is not lonesome, for it is tenderly watched over by the Mayor, Councillor Dawson, the Street Inspector, several gentlemen connected with the William Hamilton Works, and a liberal contingent of the general public, who take almost as warm an interest in assisting the stone crusher as they do in helping the contractors of the pavement work with their presence and countenance.

The crusher does its work well, but like a great many persons, raises considerable dust, which is a serious inconvenience to close residents, to the windward of the machine. It will have to be boxed in in someway to prevent this serious form of annoyance.

A QUIET CATHEDRAL WEDDING.

Mr. Francis Burnie and Miss Margaret Grauess McGarrity United in Marriage.

Yesterday Ven. Archdeacon Cassey performed the solemn ceremony that united in the holy bonds of matrimony, Francis Burnie of York county, and Margaret Frances McGarrity, daughter of the late Arthur McGarrity On account of recent domestic affliction the wedding was a very quiet one, only the most immediate relatives of the parties being present. The bride was assisted by her sister Miss Charlotte McGarrity, and Mr. J.J. Burnie, of Gravenhurst, was groomsman. The newly wed will take residence in York County.

AN ALLEGED FIREBUG.

A Marmora Woman on Trial for Arson —A Burning Bed.

Mrs. Empey of Marmora, who has been in the Belleville jail for nearly a week on a charge of arson, was arraigned before Judge Fralick yesterday, and elected to be tried by the county judge. The date of her trial was fixed for Tuesday next. It is alleged that she poured coal oil on a bed in a house near Marmora jointly owned by herself and Matthew Maloney and occupied by the latter. The bed was then fired and some of the contents destroyed. The house had only been insured the week before the fire. Mr. P. J. M. Anderson acted for the Crown, Mr. S. J. Cooley appeared for the private prosecution, Matthew Moloney, and Mr. E. Guss Porter defended the prisoner.

PERSONAL.

Miss A. Bowman, of Cobourg, is visiting relatives in town.

Mr. Carroll C. Dyke of Peterborough, says the Post, called on Lindsay friends on Wednesday.

Mrs. Thomas Dale and daughter, Florence, have returned home after having spent two weeks with relatives near Fenella.

Mr. I. S. Levvy, the artist, Mrs. Levvy and Mrs. Robert Walton, her mother, have returned to town after a very enjoyable fortnight outing at Idyl Wyld.

Miss G. K. Shaw, of Chicago, Ill., is visiting in town with her brother Mr. W. A. Shaw No. 211 Park St. Miss Shaw has recently graduated from the Western University in Music.

Mr. Jabez Miller, of Port Hope, a prominent Oddfellow, on the eve of his departure to reside in Winnipeg, was presented with an illuminated address and silver tipped walking stick by his brethren.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Chambers of Winnipeg, Manitoba, are in town for a few days the guest of Mrs. Chambers' mother, Mrs. Brooks, McDonel street. Their numerous friends in Peterborough are glad to see them.

Mrs. J. H. Simmons, of Atlanta, Georgia, after spending a very pleasant month in town, the guest of Mrs. (Dr.) Morrison, returned home this morning greatly improved in health by the bracing air of her native town.

Mr. W. J. Montgomery, of the Ontario Bank, in which he has been employed for seven years, has been promoted to the position of accountant in the offices of the bank in Port Arthur. Mr. Montgomery's departure will be greatly regretted by the hosts of friends he has made during his seven years residence in Peterborough. In the arena of manly sports Mr. Montgomery took a prominent place. He not only took an active interest in their promotion, but as a participant he was amongst the best in whatever game he entered. In hockey, cricket, curling, golf, lawn tennis and football, he was a leading spirit as well as a leading player. His association in these pastimes always reflected credit upon himself, and the spirit with which he was actuated and his preeminence as a player was but in keeping with the personal popularity he enjoyed. In social circles Mr. Montgomery was unusually popular, his unaffected genialty and his genuineness of character made him a general favourite. He will be greatly missed not only in the relations mentioned but also in the bank offices, where he achieved, by his obliging demeanour and business aptitude, a large popularity with the customers of the bank. A host of good wishes, mingled with the equally numerous regrets, will follow Mr Montgomery to his new home and sphere of duty.

ASHBURNHAM WATERWORKS.

Good Progress Being Made by the Contractor in Charge.

Work on the construction of a system of waterworks for the village of Ashburnham is being rapidly pushed forward. The staff of men employed thereon is at present operating in the river north of the Hunter street bridge, excavating the bed of the stream, and it is expected that in a day or so the pipes will be securely laid under the Otonabee. This is the most important and tedious portion of the contract, and as soon as this is completed the staff of men will be increased for the digging of the mains up through the village. The waterworks pipes arrived a few days ago, were switched on to the railway siding at McAllister's mill, and are being distributed along the route of the mains to day.

A CRIMINALLY DANGEROUS PRACTICE.

Indiscriminate Shooting in the Country a Source of Danger.

It was to be thought that the tragic death of the late Essie Thornton would have taught caution to the amateur sportsmen who spend a great deal of time in popping at everything and hitting nothing in particular except by accident. But these persons still continue the criminally careless use of firearms, which resulted in the death of a valuable horse. Mr. Jos. Giles, who resides at Mount Wallis, nearly opposite Wallis' Grove, North Monaghan, reports a few days ago he heard considerable shooting going on in the vicinity. Next morning he went into the field to get his horse. He found the animal lying helpless and examination showed that its leg was broken by a bullet, which had pierced it through and through. To save the suffering, as recovery was not possible, the horse, a valuable one for driving purposes, had to be killed.

On Saturday several persons were shooting in the vicinity of Mr. Giles' residence, and they even had the impudence to enter upon his premises near his house, and fire at birds, etc. That same day Mr. Goodfellow in the vicinity had a horse shot, and it was not the fault of the reckless marksman that it was not shot in a vital spot.

If statute law or common law does not provide for the prevention of the dangerous practice of indiscriminate shooting, the law of common sense ought to teach the most idiotic that such a practice is dangerous to human life, as well as to the brute creation, both of which are generally abroad in the fields at this time of year.

THE POLICE COURT RECORD.

At the police court this morning a vag was discharged on condition of his leaving town.

A drunk was arraigned—being loaded he was discharged.

Four lads were arraigned, charged with stealing from the Grand Trunk Railway station empty beer bottles held for shipment to the breweries. They pleaded guilty. Three of the smallest boys were allowed to go on suspended sentence. The remaining lad was ordered to receive half-a-dozen lashes with a raw hide to be administered by the father. The punishment was laid on in the presence of the Chief, and the boy expressed his appreciation of the punishment by vigorous howling. The parents were ordered to pay the price of the five dozen of bottles stolen from time to time.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1898.

MR. DRYDEN AND HIS CRITICS.

The result of the trial of the South Ontario election appeal, the unseating of Mr. Calder, the nominally elected Conservative member, as a consequence of the most shameless bribery and flagrant corruption, effectively pricks the only remaining of the vain-glorious bubbles which the Opposition leaders and organs have, like over-grown school boys, been so industriously blowing for the past five months. Ever since the first of March this ridiculous exhibition of childishness has been going on. First they had the Government crushingly defeated, and the Opposition in the power they have been vainly seeking for over a quarter of a century; then when that vaunt was discredited, we had election protests entered against the return of the Liberal members by the score, and as a result of the trial the Liberals were to be swept from the treasury benches like chaff before the wind. They will perhaps have the courage to bring half a dozen election petitions to trial, but after South Ontario it is probable that even this number will be reduced. When the special session was announced the air was lurid with the threats of a terrible onslaught on the Government that was to end in a political cataclysm that would involve the Government in ruin and disgrace. The threatened bouleversement ended in one of the tamest displays of Opposition aggression that ever discredited a provincial party. The mountain laboured and brought forth a mouse. There was great cry and little wool, and that only that on the mythical Hodgins ram. A chief point of attack was that upon Hon. Mr. Hardy for retaining Messrs. Gibson and Dryden in the Cabinet when they were without seats in the House and the plea that the return of their opponents was contested was scouted; but the unseating of Mr. Dryden's opponent in South Ontario justified the prescience of the Premier in regard to the manner in which that short-lived victory by Mr. Calder was won. The Premier was justified on perhaps higher grounds. It was universally agreed that the holder of a portfolio of a department, dealing with the largest and most important industry of the country, must be a gentleman very specifically fitted for the discharge of its duties. Such a man was Mr. Dryden—a practical farmer, who has showed his ability as such by his success; a man thoroughly in sympathy with the extension of the farmers' opportunities for success; a man of tactful energy in advocating their interests; a man cautiously bold in the advocacy and adoption of measures to advance the success of the farmer, to make his labours more productive and profitable. In fine, it is to be admitted by the fair-minded that no man in the Province, or Dominion, is better equipped by nature, by special knowledge, administrative abilities and broad outlook, than Hon. John Dryden for the portfolio of Agriculture; a circumstance which amply justified Hon. Mr. Hardy in retaining his services, especially when the attack on his opponent's seat was pending; another circumstance that makes his justification doubly pertinent. Judged by the results of the election trial in south Ontario, Hon. John Dryden should have been the representative of that riding since the first of March last. Mr. Calder was shown to have no right to the seat that was nominally won by a course of bribery of almost unparalleled political immorality. When only a dozen out of the three or four dozen charges laid was ventilated and their justification so promptly and amply proved, we have furnished a slight suggestion of the terrible corruption that would have been revealed had the whole of the charges been probed to the bottom. The Opposition was not only beaten in the general elections, but they have been covered with discomfiture in every one of the various stands they have taken in their assault upon the government since the first of March. A political party that made so good a fight in the general elections, and so signally failed in their undertakings since, would not be unjustly treated if the success that attended their first named efforts was to be ascribed more to the influence of accident than to ability on their part.

DEER HUNTING.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—My attention has been drawn to the letter of "Nimrod." It is fair presentation of the writer's views from his standpoint—his letter contends for still hunting as against hunting with hounds. He intimates that a season of two weeks is long enough; that hunting with dogs worries the deer at a season when they should be left alone; that shooting a deer in the water is not sportsmanlike and that the venison so shot is injured.

I will admit that if deer were not hunted at all it would be better for them; that it is a great satisfaction to a hunter to go out and stalk and shoot a deer—hitting him just where he desires. I also admit that the meat of a beast killed when its flesh is cold is in its best condition. Admitting all this I ask how many men are sufficiently familiar with wood-craft that they can go alone into a wilderness—travel over brush, fallen timber and roughness of every kind for a day, or half a day and always know their way back? How many men can go so quietly through a bush as not to break a twig, or startle the deer. How many men without snow on the ground can track a deer? Can it be done at all?

Having sighted a deer how many men can plant the bullet on the bull's eye.

Having shot a deer how many men can single handed, or in pairs even get it to camp?

Is not the toil to two or more men of dragging a deer over miles of rocks, brush and fallen timber more than the pleasure of the chase?

It may be that Oct. 15th to Nov. 15th is not the best period in the year for saving deer, but the old season began 15th Oct., and there was little complaint of deer spoiling.

Now "Nimrod's" argument may be all right from the standpoint of a back woodsman. These men don't want the hunters from the front to go out into what they claim as their preserve. I could tell you of some of these alleged still hunters who boast that some seasons they kill from 60 to 80 deer. These men are so jealous of the outside hunters that they poison and shoot their dogs while keeping dogs of their own. Now the man from the front goes largely for the mere outing—a pleasant rest and change of life. They are not as a rule skilled woodsmen. They could not without snow venture out into a wilderness to seek for deer, and mayhap they could not plant their bullet every time as accurately as "Nimrod"; but surely "Nimrod" would not make regulations that suited only experts like himself. Such regulations would give him and the other few like him—if there is such another—all the sport, and their poor brothers from the front would have to stay at home. Now the deer are made for a purpose—and from the days of "Nimrod" they were hunted by hunters, and so it will ever be unless the Government prohibits by its regulations.

These are of course different standpoints from which to consider the question. Fair argument may be put forth from each side—let the argument be dealt with without personalities and no doubt in time the right measure will be arrived at.

Nimrod suggests that the conclusions of the Government Game Commissioners are in support of the present law. Permit me to say that he is mistaken. The Commission is in favour of a change. They desire a longer season, and shooting with dogs and in the water—vide the recent letter in the World of Mr. H. P. Dwight, the Chairman of the Board. I am, sir,

Your obedient servant

D. W. DUMBLE.

HASTINGS' CIVIC HOLIDAY.

Our Village Cousins Show Themselves "Dead Game" Sports.

Yesterday was Hastings' civic holiday, and it was a great success, although owing to the illness of Rev. Father McGuire, his picnic, which was to have been the great feature, was a disappointment. However, one doesn't catch Hastings napping when there's the ghost of a chance for sport.

Among the sports was a cricket match between teams representing married and single men, which though the result was an even score by the respective teams, was still a moral victory for the married men. The result being a tie, showed a sympathy with the tie that binds the Benedicts to their fate.

The Havelock team came to play baseball, but being disappointed in their expected opponents, Hastings filled the breach and rattled together a scratch team, which gave the visitors so hot a game that the result was again a tie in a seven innings game.

Another evidence of sporting spirit. The Warkworth football team came to play a match with Gore's Landing. The Lakesiders failed to turn up, and the Warkworth boys were leaving in disgust. They met a Hastings boy on his wheel. When he heard the state of things, he was "on deck" for the good name of the village. He told the football boys that they should not be disappointed. If they would return to the village he would guarantee a game. A scratch team of Hastings pig-skin punchers was got together, and they succeeded in giving the Warkworth boys a little more than they wanted, winning the match handsomely.

It is a little remarkable that so many of the contests resulted virtually in a draw. The Hastings sports were no doubt hospitably willing to meet their visitors in another kind of "a draw," and "Hank" says that you could bet your bottom chip that that wouldn't have been a tie.

PRO PROHIBITION.

A Rally at Bridgenorth.

A mass meeting in the interests of prohibition was held at Bridgenorth last night with a small attendance.

Rev. W. T. Harrison, Methodist minister, occupied the chair and the principal speaker was Rev. O. C. Elliott, who spoke of the evils of strong drink in relation to the individual, the home, to society, the difficulty of restraining the traffic under a license system and the merits of prohibition as an effective remedy.

Rev. C. E. McLeod and Mr. George W. Powell also gave short addresses.

Mr. R. C. Heard was elected local president and Mr. Percy Udy local vice president of the central committee.

Let Common Sense Dictate.

It is necessary to know when to let a good thing go, as well as a bad. We remember the story of the Irishman who had a bull by the tail which went careering around a ten acre field with Pat clinging for dear life to its caudal appendage. "Let go, Pat!" shouted his friends in alarm. "Shure, whin I get a good chance that's what I'll do," said Pat. Let common sense dictate how you'll act on this question of Prohibition, just as many people are doing in buying their Groceries, Wines and Liquors at Henry & Co.'s for cash, in order to reap the benefit of their 10 per cent. discount.—HENRY & Co., 341 George street.

I have sold my business and good-will to MR. H. P. KENNEDY who will combine it with his own at the store in the Opera House Block, No 340 George St. Telephone No. 275.

I have engaged with Mr. Kennedy as assistant in his Live Stock Business, but will make it a point to be at the store every Saturday, commencing Sept. 17th, where I hope to meet all my old customers, who will, I am sure, be pleased with the service we can give.

CAUGHT IN A MOWER.

Terrible Accident to a Young Lady who was Thrown on to the Knives of a Mowing Machine.

Cannington, Ont., Sept. 14—Yesterday, while Miss Annie Murray, daughter of Jas. Murray, a farmer, near Cresswell, was driving a mower, cutting red clover, the horses took fright and ran away, throwing the unfortunate young lady into the mower knives, completely severing the left arm below the elbow, causing also frightful lacerated wounds, with great loss of bone of right arm between the elbow and wrist, and a comminuted fracture of both bones of the right leg below the knee, besides severe contusions and lacerations on other parts of her body. Drs. Gillespie, of Cannington, McPhail, of Manilla, and Jardine, of Sunderland, were immediately called, and amputation of the left arm below the shoulder, resection of the bones of the right arm, and adjustment of fractured leg were performed. Though in a state of partial collapse, she went through the operations well, and was resting quietly at a late hour last night. Very little hopes are entertained of her recovery.

CAN'T EAT.

FOOD is the fuel that feeds the fires of life. Digestion is the process that turns the fuel into energy. Few possess perfect digestion. If your digestion is imperfect, if you cannot eat what you like without discomfort, if you cannot eat when you ought to eat, the time has come when you should take Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills. Hunger is the best Sauce. Take these Pills and get hungry. You may eat what you want if you take Dr. Ward's Pills.

WHAT THEIR MERITS ARE:

My system was entirely rejuvenated by the use of Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, and I consider them a marvellous strength and nerve builder for dyspepsia. I was so sick and miserable that I seemed to have no life or energy left in me. I suffered so at times that I thought death would be better for me. I had tried Doctors and different kinds of medicines, but all failed to do me any good. I am in every way now a well woman, and have been for months. Before using these Pills I was so sick that I could not keep anything in my stomach. I was under the opinion that dyspepsia could not be cured, but now I am satisfied it can be cured, for I am able to eat like any healthy woman and feel better in every way. They have built me up also,—I now weigh several pounds more than I ever did before. In conclusion, I would advise every woman afflicted with poor digestion to give Dr. Ward's Pills a trial.

MRS. L. E. WATSON, Port Colborne, Ont.

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents per box, 5 boxes for $2.00, at druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by The Dr. Ward Co., 71 Victoria St., Toronto. Book of information free.

MILITIA REFORMS.

Gen. Hutton Says Our Militia Is Really Part of the British Army—A Mobilization System.

Quebec, Sept. 14.—The local officers of the militia, who called upon General Hutton yesterday, appear much pleased with their reception. The General entertained them to refreshments in the ladies' ordinary of the Frontenac and talked to them of their profession and of the improvements which he desired to make in Canadian military matters. He reminded them that the Canadian army, to which they belonged, was really part of the British army, and he spoke of the camaraderie that should subsist in it. He wished them one and all to speak to him in case he failed at any time to recognize them.

Amongst the principal wants of the Canadian military system that he desired to supply was a system of mobilization, a medical service and a commissariat and transport department.

General Hutton intends, if possible, to take command himself of the camp at Levis next year, and is considering the propriety of having the city battalions in camp with him for the last couple of days.

A brigade church parade has been decided upon for Sunday, Oct. 2, and will be commanded by the General in person. It is probable that a detachment of marines and blue jackets from the fleet will accompany the land forces.

Entirely Without Foundation.

Amsterdam, Sept. 14.—It was semi-officially announced yesterday that the report of the attempted assassination of Queen Wilhelmina and the shooting of Countess Limburg-Stirum was entirely without foundation.

A man may dress as well as his own good judgment and the assistance of an artistic tailor may elect. He may take his "tubs" but if his digestive organs are out of order, he will have an unwholesome appearance. His complexion and the white of his eyes will have a yellowish cast. His tongue will be coated, appetite poor, his teeth rusty, his breath abominable. He is one big unmistakable sign of constipation. The quickest, surest, easiest way to cure this trouble is to take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are made of refined, concentrated vegetable extracts. Nothing in the least harmful enters into their composition. They hunt down all impurities, and "make them move on." They are the product of of many years' study and pratice. Dr. Pierce cannot afford to put forth a worthless article.

Scarcely Complimentary.

The incumbent of a country vicarage had long a thorn in his side in the shape of a crusty old farmer, who delighted in opposing and annoying the vicar in every possible way. The parson, having been offered another living, accepted it, mainly to escape his tormentor. Taking leave of the parish, he called upon the farmer and was surprised and even touched by the man's evident regret and sorrow for his departure.

"Why, I thought you would be glad to get rid of me," exclaimed the vicar.

The farmer shook his head solumnly.

"Nay, nay!" he said in a broken voice. "You see, sir, I've lived here for nigh on 40 years, and my experience of our parsons is that there's never a bad un goes but a wuss un comes."—Pearson's Weekly.

AUDIT OF WEST ZORRA.

Treasurer Sutherland Holds the Confidence of the Council—Provincial Auditors Roughly Handled.

Woodstock, Ont., Sept. 14.—The recent audit of the books of West Zorra's treasurer, Mr. E. L. Sutherland, was the subject of a three hours' discussion at the meeting of the Township Council at Youngsville yesterday afternoon. After the report of Auditor Macpherson was read, and a supplementary statement from Inspector Laing, the reeve called upon E. L. Sutherland, clerk and treasurer of the township, who, in addressing the members, had fortified himself with a written statement. It was then moved by Deputy Reeve W. H. Sutherland, seconded by Councillor George Campbell, and

"Resolved that this council having heard the report of Mr. Macpherson and the supplementary report of Mr. Macpherson and Mr. Laing, and having considered the same and the statements therein, and after considering the evidence taken by Mr. Laing in their presence, are of opinion that the auditors' reports do not, in several particulars, fairly represent the treasurer and his accounts with the township, and further that, in the supplementary report there are a number of statements as to the acts or wishes of this council which are not correct in fact, and were not expressed or done by the council as in said report stated. This council do hereby instruct A. S. Ball, their solicitor, to have the conduct of Mr. Laing, Provincial Auditor, and of Mr. Macpherson, appointed by him, brought before the Hon. R. Harcourt, Provincial Treasurer, for investigation as to the manner in which the audit had been conducted, as in the opinion of this council the reports are not fair ones on the face of the evidence produced, and that in the meantime the account of Mr. Macpherson be not paid."

RAW PULP WOOD.

An Influential Meeting at Montreal Pronounces on Its Export to the United States.

Montreal, Sept. 14.—There was an important meeting here yesterday of the pulp and paper manufacturers of the Dominion, when, after a full discussion, the following resolution was adopted:

"It is the sense of this meeting that an export duty be immediately placed on all pulp wood exported from Canada (no matter in what shape or size), which would be equivalent to the present import duty on Canadian pulp entering the United States, unless the United States admit all Canadian pulp, both chemical and mechanical, free of all import duty."

Mr. John Forman presided, and the following firms were represented: E. B. Eddy, Hull; John McFarlane of the Canada Paper Co., J. F. Patton of the Dominion Fibre Co., J. Davy of Merriton, H. F. Clerihue of the Sault Ste. Marie Pulp & Paper mills, W. G. Jones of the Acadia mills, Halifax; Hamilton & Ayers, Lachute; Flo Souey of Temiscouata, J. R. Barbee of Georgetown, Ont., the St. Raymond Co., and the Fraserville Co.

It was stated at the meeting that the great mill at Grand Mere, in which Secretary Alger and Sir William Van Horne are interested, will not export any pulp, but that their entire output will be made into paper on the spot.

THE LICENSE LAW.

The Methodist Conference Considers the Report on Temperance.

Toronto, Sept. 14.—At the opening of the session of the General Conference yesterday afternoon a telegram from the President of the Columbian Methodist College, New Westminster, B.C., was read, stating that the college building was filled with refugees, and asking for aid. This was referred to the Business Committee.

After the reading of several reports, which were adopted or returned to the different committees to be altered, the discussion on the report of the Committee on Discipline was resumed, but after a warm discussion the vote decided in favor of leaving the original rule about dancing, card playing, etc., unchanged.

The report of the Committee on Temperance was then introduced by Dr. D. L. Breathour, and the first clause, "That the liquor traffic cannot be legalized without sin." drew forth a storm.

The conference was so divided that the report was returned to the committee.

The conference then adjourned.

The evening session was devoted to a welcome to Rev. J. Bond, representative of the Motherland, and to listening to eloquent accounts of the growth of Methodism in the Northern and Southern States by the representatives of the two sections.

CAUSE FOR ANNOYANCE.

Sir James Grant's Prompt Action to Counteract It.

Ottawa, Sept. 14.—There is annoyance in departmental and other circles here at the publication by the London paper To-day of stories that the officials in the Yukon territory are corrupt. Sir James Grant, who has just returned from England, noticed the despatch, and promptly cabled to a prominent friend in London that such stories should be accepted with the utmost caution. Judge Dugas of Montreal has been appointed to succeed Judge McGuire in the Yukon. Judge McGuire is now on his way back to the Northwest.

LORD HERSCHELL BANQUETTED.

He Promises to Do What He Can to Solve the Trade Difficulty.

Toronto, Sept. 14.—Lord Farrer Herschell, ex-Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain, and President of the Quebec International Commission, arrived in town yesterday, in company with his son. His Lordship was dined at the Queen's as the guest of the city.

After luncheon the distinguished British jurist was toasted, and in the course of his reply promised in substance to do all in his power to solve satisfactorily to Canada the trade difficulty between this country and the United States. He acknowledged the courtesy of the city's representatives and alluded in general terms to the Anglo-Saxon good feeling. But to the press representatives he maintained a most discrete silence on all timely topics.

Last night the learned lord was given a complimentary dinner at the residence of Hon. William Mulock.

THE MARKET FIRMS.

After Early Weakness Wheat Advanced in Chicago—Liverpool Unchanged—The Latest Prices.

Wednesday Evening, Sept. 14.

On the Liverpool board to-day, September wheat closed at yesterday's final figures, but the December and March options were off ⅜d and ½d per cental, respectively.

Disease is a great and treacherous ocean. Man ever stands upon its shore and gazes out over its calm surface without a thought of danger. It licks his feet—it advances and recedes almost playfully—but all the same it will crack his bones and eat him, and wipe the crimson foam from its jaws as if nothing had happend, as it has been doing ever since the world began.

A man who carelessly saunters along the shore of the insatiate sea of disease, will some day encounter a great storm in the form of some fatal malady and will be engulfed. Because a man does not have to go to bed when he suffers from a trivial indigestion, because he does not have to give up work when he gets nervous and cannot sleep at night, because he can still force down an unsatisfactory meal when he is suffering from loss of appetite, because by strong effort he can add a column of figures with aching head—is no reason that these disorders are trifling or to be neglected. They are the warnings of serious sickness. A man who promptly heeds them, and resorts to the right remedy, will speedily recover his usual health. The man who neglects them will find that he is in the grip of consumption, some nervous disorder, or some other dread malady, due to improper or insufficient nutrition. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best of all medicines for men and women who suffer in this way. It restores the lost appetite, facilitates the flow of digestive juices, invigorates the liver, purifies and enriches the blood and tones and builds up the nerves. It cures 98 per cent. of all chronic, bronchial, throat and lung affections, and is an unfailing remedy for nervous prostration. Medicine dealers sell it.

DEADLY SEA SNAKES.

VILE REPTILES THAT INFEST THE WATERS OF THE PHILIPPINES.

The Venom of These Serpents Is More Fatal Than That of the Cobra and a Mere Scratch From Their Fangs Will Produce Serious Results.

Not only do various reptiles and other queer creatures abound in the forests and swamps of the Philippines, but the surrounding water of these interesting islands team with veritable sea serpents. These strange creatures, which pass their entire existence in the water, possess deadly fangs. They are a great menace to the fishermen, who are constantly exposed to their attacks.

Technically speaking, science has named the group the Hydrophidæ. They differ from the terrestrial snakes only in the possession of a flat, paddle-like tail. These reptiles inhabit the tropical seas of the old world and occasionally attain a length of 8 feet. Dr. Rudolph Weber, professor of drawing in Princeton university, observed large numbers of these creatures while on a steamer bound for Sumatra. Dr. Weber was in charge of a scientific expedition and naturally took special notice of them. He says that when the vessel was some 50 miles off the coast myriads of sea snakes could be seen swimming about as far as the eye could reach. They kept upon the surface, and several distinct species were recognized among them.

During calm weather these reptiles may be seen sunning themselves upon the surface of the sea, remaining motionless except for a slight undulation caused by the movement of the water. When alarmed, the agile reptiles dive like arrows, leaving a train of bubbles behind them. Some species are extremely brilliant in coloration, being bright yellow, banded with black, while others are tinted with delicate shades of green.

The food of sea snakes consists entirely of fishes. Frequently fishes armed with long sharp spines fall victims to their appetites. Among these are the apogons and siluroids, which are furnished with spines three and five inches long. But these do not embarrass the voracious reptile in the least. The victim is first killed by the snake's poison, after which it is swallowed head first. The spines, naturally pointing toward the tail of the victim, and being relaxed in death, are compressed against the body of the fish as deglutition proceeds. While in search of their prey, sea snakes sometimes venture a short distance up the mouth of large rivers.

Dr. Weber records an instance where he was fishing in one of the rivers on the east coast of Sumatra. He was using a dragnet and had cornered a number of medium sized fish. As the net was being brought in, two large sea snakes suddenly made their appearance inside. They showed no signs of uneasiness at capture, but were hurriedly gobbling down the cornered fishes. Nor did they cease operations until the last fish had disappeared, when the formidable creatures made their escape.

Being air breathers, the sea snakes lead a similar existence to the whale. Scientists have expressed much interest as to how long they can remain under water. Professor R. P. Witfield of the American Museum of Natural History, while dragging for corals, saw a large sea snake lying motionless among some coral growths, some eight feet below the surface. It showed no signs of fear and remained in the same position for half an hour. The venom of these reptiles is even more deadly than that of the cobra. The fangs are very short, and consequently do not penetrate so deep as the fangs of most serpents, but only a scratch from them is necessary to produce serious results. Owing to their great shyness accidents are very rare. When cornered, they snap upon a victim. As the eyes are adapted only for use in the water they strike blindly when brought into the air, although living for days when removed from their native element.

Many specimens hauled up in fishermen's nets have been sent to zoological gardens. The London gardens even went so far as to build a special tank for their accommodation. But these captured specimns either die en route or a short time after being placed in captivity. Seeking a dark corner of their tank, they refuse all food and ultimately starve to death. Around the numerous volcanic islands of the Malayan archipelago these reptiles are particularly numerous. Frequent eruptions occur among these islands, which are hardly more than the body of the volcano.

During the time of an eruption the few people residing near by take to the water in their boats to escape the rain of ashes and mud.

It is generally a case of jumping from the frying pan into the fire, however. At such times the sea becomes uncomfortably warm from its close proximity to the burning mountain, and the sea snakes swim wildly about for escape. They endeavor to climb over the gunwales of the refugees' boats, while they twine their bodies in great masses about the forward chains.

When about to lay their eggs, these serpents approach the shore. The eggs are laid above high water mark and left to hatch by the heat of the sun. Many creatures prey upon the young reptiles. Among their enemies are sharks and other large fishes, while the adults, in spite of their death dealing fangs, fall victims to sea eagles and large gulls. After the great typhoons, which are common in the Philippines and their vicinity, many of these creatures may be found along the beach, where they have been cast up during the storm and killed by the violent pounding of the waves.—New York Times.

THE ONLY HOPE!

For Victims of Bright's Disease is Dodd's Kidney Pills.

War and intemperance, with all their miseries and fatalities, are not responsible for as many deaths as have been caused by Bright's Disease. Yet, there is a way of resisting it; of drawing its poisoned fangs, and making it as harmless as a summer breeze. That great medicine, Dodd's Kidney Pills, has cured thousands of the worst cases. It never fails to cure, hopeless as the case may seem.

Would you safely shield your loved ones from the fatal grip of this curse of mankind—Bright's Disease? Then use Dodd's Kidney Pills, the only cure on earth for this disease.

RIVALS A MIRACLE.

Mr. George C. Chalker's Terrible Sufferings Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Howsey's Rapids, Sept. 12—Mr. George C. Chalker, of this place, tells a remarkable story of restoration to sound health, that rivals the far-famed St. Anne de Beaupre cures.

Briefly Mr. Chalker's story is as follows: "I suffered horribly for years, from Kidney Disease. I could do no heavy work. My pain was almost unendurable. No remedy did me the least good till I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Six boxes of this wonderful medicine have cured me completely—made a new man of me. I cannot speak highly enough of them. I can state with the utmost confidence that Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure the very worst case of Kidney Disease.

Why He Failed.

A Wellington Chinese trader known as William Joe Gett, formerly a Chinese interpreter, failed some time ago. Here is an extract from his "statement of the causes of bankruptcy," which, written in red ink, covered four pages of foolscap. After detailing his trading experiences the Celestial writes:—

"I see my troubles endless to come. I can't get my money to pay. I am helpless. During last three years over 86 creditors support my business. During last two months not a one let me have a penny on tick. Fish never can live in a dry pond without water. Engine can't move along without well supply of coal. Boy can't fly his kite without tail on it. Housekeeper pour out all tea to the cup no refilled water—how she give you more tea you require? All empty out just the way like my business."—Sydney Mail.

Banana Flour.

The next dietetic fad is going to be banana flour. Manufacturers are experimenting in this direction and promise soon a meal that will keep as long as wheat flour and make a much more nutritious bread. As already the craze for whole wheat flour is passing, this new albumen will undoubtedly meet a quick welcome when it comes. The use of the banana has developed its great value as an article of food, and the great army of banana consumers are prepared to accept eagerly its further development.—New York Post.

..Dr. Chase's Ointment..

His suffering from Ulcerating Piles Cured.

He says:—I was troubled with itching piles for five years, and was badly ulcerated. They were very painful, so much so that I could not sleep. I tried almost every remedy heard of, and was recommended to use Dr. Chase's Ointment. I purchased a box, and from the first application got such relief that I was satisfied a cure would be made. I used in all two boxes, and am now completely cured.

Every remedy given by Dr. Chase cost years of study and research, and with an eye single to its adaptation for the ailments for which it was intended. Dr. Chase detested cure-alls, and it has been proven ten thousand times that not one of his formulas leave a bad after-effect. Dr. Chase's Ointment is based on lanoline, and the best physicians prescribe it.

STERN DISCIPLINE.

It Is Necessary In War and the Soldier Must Learn to Submit.

One of Detroit's retired officers, who fought in two wars and helped for years to restrain the savage outbreaks of our Indians, thus delivered himself to the writer:

"The very hardest lesson a young American has to learn when he enters the army is that of obedience. For the first time, his individual authority is dethroned. He is as fractious as a thoroughbred colt that long rebels against the whip and spur. It is hard for him to understand that his freedom of action must be subordinated to military necessity. He chafes, if he does not openly rebel, but when once whipped into line he makes the best soldier on earth.

"My first drillmaster had been my friend and the friend of my family from my boyhood up. We had hunted and fished and courted together and exchanged secrets with a freedom that does not obtain among brothers. One day, early in my experience as a soldier, and while everything was being hurried with a view to getting us into Mexico, we had been drilling till I felt ready to drop. The repeated orders struck pain to my ears and I would have conscientiously sworn that my musket weighed a ton. At length, when within easy earshot of him, I shouted, 'For heaven's sake, Bob, stop this tomfoolery and let's go over to the tavern.'

"He never looked at me but roared, 'Corporal, take that man and drill him like the devil.'

"The corporal did, and I thought I'd die of exhaustion. I fully meant to challenge the drillmaster and whip him if he declined, but he succeeded in making me understand the imperative necessity of unquestioning obedience in the soldier. It's tough with the raw recruit, but the quicker he learns his part the better it is for all concerned."—Detroit Free Press.

Didn't Appreciate the Joke.

One of the great practical jokers of the British navy was one Jack Hathorn. He was officer of the watch in the day when it was customary for the guard to present arms to the officer commanding the vessel whenever he left or boarded the ship. One day Captain Burdett remarked, as they were going through this ceremony before he went ashore: "Mr. Hathorn, I am tired of this guard. Don't call it again when I come back."

Hathorn did not, but he managed to surprise the captain quite as thoroughly as if he had. When that dignitary came over the side on his return, he found 20 of the afterguard down on their hands and knees with swabs serving them for manes and tails, the mizzentop men on their backs with cutlasses drawn. Hathorn himself was astride a quartermaster. The captain was distinctly not delighted with the spectacle, whereupon Hathorn explained that he supposed that after the old fashion had proved so tiresome a reception by cavalry might prove welcome.

Hathorn was dismissed the service for this bit of pleasantry.—San Francisco Argonaut.

"Ah, but I don't know you well enough, Mr. Peters," said the young lady, blushing, as she withdrew behind her fan.—London Telegraph.

LACROSSE.

The appended statement has been filed by the secretary of the lacrosse club with the C. L. A. and was read this afternoon at the meeting of the Judiciary in Toronto in reply to the complaint of Orillia, regarding the spectators crowding on the field in Peterborough on Friday last :

Regarding the complaint of the Orillias we do not think that the Judiciary has jurisdiction in the matter until the complainants comply with Article X. You can see the justice of this contention when I explain that it was Wednesday morning that I received a copy of the Orillia "complaint," and only yesterday that the President's letter was to hand stating that complaint had been made. There has therefore been no opportunity of securing declarations in support of the statements which are appended unless the Judiciary takes the trouble of ascertaining their truth by application to the personal references which I mention.

The games played in recent years between the Orillias and Peterboroughs were "clean," and the clubs most friendly, as evidenced by the fact that Orillia generally opened the season by playing an exhibition game in Peterborough, their players remaining in town all night and being given a good time generally. Bad feeling was first shown at the scheduled semi-final match played in Orillia last year. The Orillias were beaten in Peterborough by four or five goals, and the return match was very rough, as can be proven by reference to Dr. Heggie, of Brampton, the referee, or to Mr. Thompson Beattie, Toronto, and Mr. Cameron, of Beaverton, the umpires. Dr. Heggie can give evidence as to the number of Orillia players whom he retired to the fence, Quinn being relegated to that position no less than three times, on each occasion having used the knee. This player seems to be kept in reserve for the benefit of the Peterborough players as he has been played against no other clubs this year.

Beattie was threatened to such an extent by the Orillia players that he had finally to assert his rights and warn them that a repitition of the offence would cause him to exercise his prerogative and retire the offender. The home team went even further with Cameron, attacking him openly, and when he raised his umbrella to signify Peterborough's scoring a goal it was cut in two by a blow from Quinn's stick. Cameron was then mobbed by the Orillia crowd and was rescued with difficulty by the referee. The Peterborough's were stoned on their way to the station and Cameron was again roughly used and had to go into hiding until he could get away.

These three officials were all appointed by the Association and with the exception of Mr. Beattie, unknown to the Peterboroughs, until they were seen on the field.

We would ask the Association to have these details corroborated by reference to these gentlemen.

This season Orillia played in Peterborough first. Mr. O'Laughlin refereed the game. No Peterborough player was ever warned. M. O'Connor was warned several times and finally retired for the game for cross checking another player into the fence after he had delivered the ball. When the return match was played in Orillia the Peterboroughs were so roughly handled that I went on the field, personally, to order the men off, but was forbidden to do so by the referee, who stated that our bond held us to play the game out. It was in this match that Lynch was deliberately cut down by M. O'Connor in accord with a threat to this effect which he had made a few minutes previous. The referee did not witness the attack.

Lynch had to be taken in a hack to a physician's and the train held half an hour until he had his wound dressed. There were nine stitches put in. Other Peterborough players were also cut open, but did not have a doctor's attendance until reaching home. The Orillia papers in their next issue stated that applications would be made to have Quinn and O'Connor expelled from the Association for their manner of play. This is significant.

When Peterborough played in Beaverton a number of the Orillia players were present and endeavoured to make things as unpleasant for the Peterborough's as possible calling to them from the side of the field, urging the Beaverton men "to cut them down" and body them, and inciting the spectators to use insulting language as directed against the visiting team.

In Orillia on the occasion of the first senior match being played there, Lynch and John McCabe were cut so badly about the head as to necessitate stitching.

Bolton Kean's action on Toronto Island is too well known to need comment. The remarks of the Toronto press in the matter were to the point. An Orillia player and one from Peterborough became involved in an impromptue wrestling match. The Peterborough man was on top when Lionel King seized him by the shoulders to pull him off. As he did so Kean sprang from his position on the track beside me, where we were acting as timekeepers, and ran down into the field kicking King in the groin, with such force as to materially affect his play during the match and cause him considerable trouble since. Whilst the referee was ordering Kean to leave the enclosure entirely, O'Connor suddenly advanced and without any cause or provocation felled Hogarth to the ground by a blow. The accounts published in the Toronto papers of Kean's action and of the dirty play of Quinn, O'Connor and Churchill is recalled to your recollection. These accounts should be unprejudiced. The effect on the Peterborough patrons of the game on reading them was feared, particularly as Mr. King is a warm favourite in town, and when the Orillias came to Peterborough for the final game in the senior series the grounds were roped in for the first time this season, and five special constables, as well as two policemen in uniform, were engaged to keep the crowd off the field in case of any difficulty arising.

The trouble was started by M. O'Connor knocking King down by striking him across the face with his stick when King was passing him to go behind the flags after the ball. King returned the blow, and as a consequence was ruled off, but O'Connor went with him, as the referee had seen his assault of King in the first place. The crowd at this juncture was hard to restrain, and become even more so when a moment later King was deliberately tripped by Yeates, Orillia's field captain, who received a warning from the referee. Previous to the match the referee was asked by me what action he would take in the event of a field captain interfering in the play and he stated that he had as much authority over him as over a player. After warning Yeates he told me that he then understood why I had asked him the question.

The crowd only rushed on the field once, and that was when Thompson and McCabe closed. McCabe was checking Thompson closely and took the ball from him. Thompson call him a ——— ———, and McCabe struck him with his stick. When the men came together the crowd came on the field. Referee Jackson gave our field captain two minutes in which to clear the field and on Orillia objecting to play he gave them two minutes in which to line up their team. The field was cleared within the specified time, but when it was ascertained that Quinn and O'Connor had deserted the team the Orillias refused to line up. The referee then gave the game to Peterborough by default according to Section 8, Rule VI.

We do not think the Orillia in a position to complain being put out of count the moment they refused to abide by the referee's decision when he ordered them to continue play.

Concerning the general play of the two teams in regard to roughness the Council is referred to any team which has visited Orillia or to any team which have played in Peterborough.

BRODIE'S WOOLLEN MILLS SCORCHED.

Mr. A. W. Brodie Gets the Same Hot Luck in Hespler as He Did Once in Peterborough.

Hespler, Ont., Sept, 14.—At an early hour this morning flames were discovered by Mr. A. W. Brodie's night hands issuing from the mill in the rear. The alarm was at once sounded, and Mr. Brodie's private brigade was at work as soon as possible. The general brigade responded promptly, and with it all the inhabitants of the town, who gave their assistance in helping the fire service, which, after a hard struggle with the flames, succeeded in getting them under control, and thus saving the main part of the mill. The shoddy mill addition, together with the large stables and much lumber which was about the yard were destroyed. The firemen succeeded in getting the flames extinguished beyond any further danger of it relighting by 2.30 a.m.

CORRECTING A MISTAKE—Who sells the cheapest goods — themerchant who is compelled to buy in one higgling market, and is tied down to one grasping manufacturer, or the merchant who has the freedom of all the competing markets and manufacturers of the world? Do men buy Hats cheaper where nothing but Hats are sold, or Boots cheaper where nothing but Boots are sold, or Clothing cheaper where nothing but Clothing is sold? Might as well expect a farmer to do as well for his family by raising nothing but Pumpkins as if he raised a mixed crop.

JOURNALISM IN DAWSON.

Rapid Delivery Under Difficulties.

The Klondike Nugget, one of the two papers published at Dawson, laments over the trouble of finding its town subscribers who pay $24 a year for the privilege of getting a semi-weekly edition. A paragraph in a recent issue explains the difficulty by saying that it is very hard to find some of the houses according to addresses left at the office. Among those mentioned were "cabin with the screen door." "the slab house facing the river," "the big tent with two stovepipes," and "the cabin three doors south of where all the dogs are."

Plaster Days of the Past.

Previous to the introduction of Griffiths' Menthol Liniment, belladonna, menthol and porus plasters were extensively used. For pains in any part of the body Griffiths' Menthol Liniment is superior to plasters of any kind. It immediately penetrates to the painful parts, relieving in a few minutes. Sold by Ormond & Walsh, 25 cents.

Does it Pay to Paint?

There is nothing that adds to the selling value or the renting value of a house like good paint—there is nothing that makes home more home-like than good paint.

It pays to paint. The better the paint, the better it pays.

THE SHERWIN-WILLIAMS PAINT

pays in the beginning because it goes so far—pays in the end because it lasts so long, and looks so well, as long as it lasts. There is no paint like it for beauty and durability, for economy and satisfaction.

Ask the dealer for it.

RUSSIA ON TOP AGAIN

Gains All Her Demands in the New Chwang Contract.

THE BRITISH PREMIER YIELDS.

Marchand at Fashoda—A Boat Captain Says French Flag Is Floating There—Grave Crisis in France—President Faure Attempts to Bulldoze the Brisson Cabinet.

London, Sept. 16.—The Pekin correspondent of the Times says: "Despite Lord Salisbury's declaration that he would brook no interference from any other power in the Niu-Chwang Railway loan contract, he has now yielded to all the conditions Russia has imposed. As a result, negotiations with the English syndicate have been broken off, and those with the Russian Chinese Bank have been resumed."

TURKEY YIELDS PARTIALLY.

43 Ringleaders of Cretan Riots Have Been Handed Over.

Candia, Island of Creto, Sept. 16.—An aide-de-camp of Djovad Pasha boarded the British flagship yesterday evening and announced that 39 houses from which the British troops had been fired upon had been demolished and that 113 of the ringleaders of the disturbances had been arrested.

Forty-three of the ringleaders who had been arrested were delivered to the British Admiral, and it was considered probable that all the terms of his ultimatum would be complied with without resistance.

WILL HISTORY BE REPEATED?

President Faure Takes the First Step to a Revolution—A Very Grave Crisis, Indeed.

Paris, Sept. 16.—France is on the brink of the gravest crisis since the birth of the third Republic.

The situation is briefly this: Premier Brisson and all the members of the Cabinet, with the exception of Gen. Zurlinden, Minister of War, and possibly Lockroy, are convinced of the absolute necessity of revision of the Dreyfus case, in the interests alike of justice and of the State. General Brugere has signified his willingness to take the portfolio of War, and accept revision. At Saturday's meeting of the Cabinet a decision will be taken, and it is certain that revision will be decreed. President Faure has caused it to be rumored that he will resign if it is granted. No one believes that he will resign, but everyone sees that the threat to do so is a desperate expedient to get rid at one blow of Brisson's Cabinet, and, it is fondly hoped, of revision also.

First Step Towards Revolution.

But Faure's unconstitutional action in directly interfering with responsibility in the Cabinet affords an example of the lawlessness in high places which is the first step towards revolution. He is accused of aiming at a dictatorship, and if he succeeds in destroying the Brisson Cabinet it will be the act of a dictator.

The Dreyfus agitation can now be suppressed only by the exercise of arbitrary power. President Faure has made himself the champion of the army and its tainted chiefs, who will do anything to avoid the exposure that revision would entail, and they are ready to place that arbitrary power in his hands. A military coup d'etat is therefore freely conjectured as the probable outcome of the crisis should President Faure's effort to bulldoze the Brisson Cabinet fail.

The Echo de Paris says M. Zola is in Switzerland, and that he will return to Paris early in the month of October. He is said to be preparing an address to the public, which will be posted in the principal towns of France.

MARCHAND AT FASHODA.

A Boat Captain Says the French Flag Is Floating There.

London, Sept. 16.—The Daily Telegraph's special correspondent with the Anglo Egyptian forces in the Soudan telegraphed that he has had an interview with the captain of a boat which has returned from Fashoda and that the captain's description of the flag raised there leaves no doubt that it is French.

The captain says the garrison at Fashoda menaced him and would have sunk his boat if they had possessed a gun. After getting out of the zone of the garrison's fire the captain landed and ascertained from natives that the Dervishes at Fashoda had been attacked by a force of eight European and a hundred Senegalese soldiers, who defeated the Dervishes, killed a hundred, and drove the rest in precipitate flight from the town.

The Daily Telegraph's correspondent says: "There is no doubt that this is the Marchand expedition."

The despatch was sent from Assouan and the captain interviewed belonged to the steamer Tewfikieh, one of the Dervish steamers, which surrendered to General Kitchener on its return from Fashoda.

The correspondent describes General Kitchener's efforts to prevent the news reaching England. He says:

"I wired this identical news a week ago from Omdurman. The Sirdar flatly refused to allow any correspondent to accompany him south of Omdurman or to go independently. He compelled us to sell our horses and camels and then told us that unless we returned northward forthwith, he could not guarantee us transportation. General Kitchener has sent 1,800 Soudanese, 200 men of the Cameron Highlanders, two batteries of Nordenfeldt mountain guns and several Maxims, on board the gunboats Sultan and Sheika. The Sirdar accompanies the force on the steamer Dal. Probably they have already arrived at Fashoda."

The correspondent says also, detailing an earlier movement, that the gunboat Sultan was sent up the Blue Nile to intercept a Dervish garrison, 2,500 strong, coming to reinforce the Khalifa. The gunboat found and engaged the enemy, killing a thousand and driving the remainder back.

He adds: "It is officially announced that the Khalifa is now surrounded and must be taken alive or dead within a few days."

The Imperial Funeral Train.

Vienna, Sept. 16.—The funeral train bearing the remains of the late Empress of Austria entered the Empire last night. Everywhere there were vast, silent crowds and the tolling of bells. Many floral wreaths were brought to the train to be placed on the casket. The Governor and officials of the Tyrol were drawn up on the platform of the railroad station at Innsbruck when the train arrived there.

NEWS FROM MANILA.

General Otis Says Business Is Progressing Favorably.

Washington, Sept. 16.—General Otis yesterday cabled the War Department as follows: Manila, Sept. 15—Affairs much more satisfactory. Demands for withdrawal of insurgent forces complied with and all withdrawn or withdrawing today, except small forces in outlying districts, which are not obeying the insurgent leader. Aguinaldo requests a few days in which to withdraw them by detachment and punish their commanding officers. Over two thousand already withdrawn. No commission granted insurgents, but strict compliance with demands of 8th inst. required. General good feeling prevailing. Manila quiet and business progressing favorably. No difficulty anticipated. Have been compelled to confine Spanish prisoners temporarily within limits of walled city.

(Signed) Otis, Commanding.

Everything Progressing Favorably.

San Juan, Island of Porto Rico, Sept. 16.—The meeting of the Spanish and American Evacuation Commissions yesterday lasted two hours. The American commissioners stood firmly, and were met in a proper spirit by the Spaniards. The latter displayed no disposition to delay the work in hand. The American commissioners say everything is progressing favorably.

Laborers Want Philippines Held.

Barcelona, Sept. 16.—The National Labor Society has sent a petition to the Government, asking is to do everything possible to retain possession of the Philippine Islands and to demand a preferential tariff in Cuba and Porto Rico for Spanish goods.

WILL BROOK NO DELAY.

Admirals at Candia Are Determined to Disarm the Turks.

Canea, Island of Crete, Sept. 16.—The admirals of the international fleet at Candia have rejected the request of the Turkish authorities for an extension of the time in which to comply with the ultimatum to Edhem Pasha, Turkish Military Governor of Crete, demanding that within 48 hours he should deliver up the ringleaders of the recent outbreak and massacre, surrender the forts and ramparts commanding the town, and disarm the Mussulman troops. It is reported that Mr. Riddle, secretary of the American Legation at Constantinople, is coming here in connection with the American demand for compensation for the destruction of the American Consulate.

Will They Be Reconciled?

Pekin, Sept. 16.—The Marquis Ito, the Japanese statesman, who is understood to be visiting China for the purpose of arranging an offensive and defensive alliance between China and Japan, was received here by notabilities specially ordered by the Emperor to welcome the distinguished visitor.

MULOCK'S TRIUMPH.

British Empire League Banquets the Postmaster-General.

LORD HERSCHELL WAS PRESENT

Tributes to Mr. Mulock's Work in the Cause of Imperial Penny Postage—His Modest and Eloquent Reply to the Speakers of the Evening—Sir Oliver Mowat.

Toronto, Sept. 16.—The banquet tendered to the Hon. William Mulock, Postmaster-General, by the British Empire League at the National Club last evening was one of the most brilliant functions ever held in the club. The banquet to Mr. Mulock was "in recognition of his services in the cause of Imperial penny postage," and in the course of the proceedings it was made evident that the feeling in favor of a united empire is no longer a sentiment confined to a few, but has become the very foundation stone of Canadian national policy. Sir Oliver Mowat pointed out that one of the most remarkable features of his recent tour through the province was the unanimity shown in desiring that Canada shall always remain an integral part of the Britannic Empire. Lieut.-Col. Denison, chairman of the banquet, also paid a warm tribute to the splendid service of Mr. Mulock in drawing closer the bonds of the Empire. These sentiments were cheered to the echo by a gathering composed of prominent men of both political parties, of leading business men, all that is best in the civic life of Toronto, as well as visitors from other cities and provinces. Not only so, but among the guests of the evening was Lord Herschell, the representative of the Imperial Isle, who in the enthusiasm of those present saw how strong is the link binding Canada to the Motherland. A stirring incident of the evening was the march of the Royal Grenadiers past the club while the banquet was in progress. As the head of the column reached the National the regiment halted and the band played "Rule Britannia." As the regiment wheeled into line and resumed its march Lord Herschell, who had to leave early to catch a train, came down the steps, his face beaming with the pleasure that he felt at seeing the British scarlet. The central figure of the evening, of course, was Mr. Mulock, who was assured in prose and in song that he is not merely a jolly good fellow but also a daisy. In his reply to the toast of his health the Postmaster-General struck a firm note of Imperial unity, and modestly disclaimed the large measure of credit for Imperial penny postage that had been bestowed on him. He praised the work of the British Empire League and of the patriotic public men of England, who are to-day consecrating their lives for the consolidation of the greatest Empire the world had seen.

STARES-COOK CONSPIRACY.

Some Sensational Evidence in the Case at Hamilton Prosecution Ended—Case Enlarged Till Tuesday.

Hamilton, Sept. 16.—The hearing of the charges of conspiracy preferred against A. L. Stares and W. B. Cook was continued at the Police Court yesterday. Bailiff William Hunter swore that while he was in charge of defendant's store on the night of Aug. 8, a number of leases disappeared. He mentioned the fact to Cook next morning and the latter replied that that had nothing to do with the assignment.

Harris Koleskey and his wife, whose store is near by that of the prisoner's, swore that they saw goods being moved out of prisoner's store at the back in the night time in July and August.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson, Ashley street, gave evidence of Cook collecting money from them after the assignment.

Mrs. De Nunn, King William street, gave similar evidence affecting Stares. An employe of the Hamilton Steamboat Company produced its books, showing the shipment of several large quantities of furniture to Toronto during July. Two consignments were delivered to Mr. J. Clancey.

Sensational Testimony.

At the afternoon session of the examination some sensational testimony was given. Auctioneer Cull testified to the purchase of $73 worth of goods from Stares & Cook, who signed a receipt saying they owned the goods absolutely. The prisoners called on him twice and asked him to buy new goods from them. The last occasion was on the evening of Aug. 6, the evening they assigned, when they offered some upholstered goods. He agreed to call at their store on Monday morning, and he did so, only to find bailiffs in possession.

Assignee Lamb testified that the stock book showed that there were no upholstered goods in the place when the assignment was made, a few hours after the prisoners called on Cull.

Thomas Moran, wagon maker, said he sold a wagon to Stares for $30 cash, but he never got the cash, as he could not get his eyes on Stares between the time of the sale and the assignment. After the assignment Stares remarked to him: "We owe you about $100." He made no reply to this, so Stares told him to file a claim for $100, so he'd have enough for a "divvy" afterwards. Moran asked him if he'd have to swear to the statement and Stares said: "Yes, we can swear to anything."

Andrew Cowan of the G.T.R. swore that according to the books of the company, Stares & Co. shipped goods to Ottawa, Muskoka and to Toronto between July 8 and Aug. 1. The goods sent to Toronto were billed to W. J. Clancey.

At 5 o'clock the prosecution rested its case and the magistrate asked the counsel for the defendants if he intended to offer any evidence. Mr. Carscallen replied yes, so the case was enlarged till next Tuesday.

Evacuated the Suburbs.

Manila, Sept. 15.—The insurgents evacuated the suburbs of Manila yesterday. They did so in a grand march, in which nearly 3,000 men took part, carrying rifles, colors waving, bands playing, and shouting "Vive Americanos!" "Vive Philippinos Libres!"

Did you ever See a Snow Storm in Summer?

We never did; but we have seen the clothing at this time of the year so covered with dandruff that it looked as if it had been out in a regular snow-storm.

No need of this snowstorm.

As the summer sun would melt the falling snow so will

Ayer's Hair Vigor

melt these flakes of dandruff in the scalp. It goes further than this: it prevents their formation.

It has still other properties: it will restore color to gray hair in just ten times out of every ten cases.

And it does even more: it feeds and nourishes the roots of the hair. Thin hair becomes thick hair; and short hair becomes long hair.

We have a book on the Hair and Scalp. It is yours, for the asking.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the use of the Vigor, write the doctor about it. Probably there is some difficulty with your general system which may be easily removed. Address,

Daily Examiner.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A million and a half of increase in revenue with decreased taxation is an important proof of the condition of thrift of the business of Canada. The Conservative journals are hard to please. They attribute the increase to burdensome taxation and at the same time condemn the Government for refusing to maintain a high rate of taxation. To meet the logic of facts requires a deal of squirming.

THE banquet tendered by the Board of Trade of Toronto to Hon. Mulock, Post Master General, is a valuable tribute of appreciation of his efforts to efficiently administer his department, which has immensely improved both in character, improvement and extension of service, and that at reduced cost, so that a deficit of $700,000 a year has been reduced to $46,000. Increased efficiency with decreased expenditure is the ideal of good administration.

THE Montreal Star has all the unreasoning rabidness of a political pervert. It founds a screed upon the statement—a perfect assumption—that the government intends to delay the bye elections till after the vote in the prohibition plebiscite. The fact is the bye elections will be brought on, and all held on the same day too, at the conclusion of the Quebec conference. The Star insinuates that the Government is afraid to bring on these elections. The past record shows what reason they have to be afraid, according to the results of the thirty odd bye elections held since 1896. In these the Conservatives have only carried two seats held by them, and the Government carried all the rest, including eight constituencies wrestled from the Conservatives. The government has no reasons, judging by this record, to fear the bye elections.

MAKE THE FARM ATTRACTIVE.

(By Thomas Southworth, Clerk of Forestry for Ontario.)

The cause of the exodus from the country to the cities, which is so marked a characteristic of modern life, has of late years excited much discussion among students of political economy and social science. Various reasons have been assigned for this tendency on the part of young people to forsake the old homestead and the vocation of agriculture for the crowded centres of population and the illusory chances of success in business, the professions, or the ranks of mechanical industry. The apparently greater profits and less arduous toil of sedentary and intellectual callings, the attractions of the stir and bustle of the streets and markets in contrast with the dullness and monotony of rural life, have been regarded as material factors in the problem. No doubt each of these causes has had a considerable influence in promoting the flow of population city-ward, but it may fairly be questioned whether any one of them has stimulated the movement to so large a degree as the failure on the part of farmers to make the homestead attractive and furnish those pleasant associations of childhood and youth which have so strong an influence on the after life. The boy or girl who can only look back to memories of unremitting toil with a lack of those reasonable pleasures and relaxations which sweeten labour, amid sordid and unattractive surroundings, can not be censured for seeking pleasanter associations and resolving to bring up his own family under more pleasant and refining influences. Life in the cities in these days of electric cars, open parks and shaded avenues is so much pleasanter in many ways that the duty which farmers owe to themselves and posterity of making the farm life pleasant and agreeable as an offset to city attractions cannot be too strongly emphasized.

It would be beyond the scope of this article to touch upon many aspects of this problem or to indicate the numerous directions in which the social spirit and the sense of good taste and beauty might advantageously be cultivated. There is just one feature out of many which I wish especially to refer to as a most important influence in brightening and beautifying the homestead and making it a spot to be remembered in after years with pleasurable associations. Nearly all the charm and poetry of a country landscape lies in the trees; a treeless area, however fertile in grain or pasture, excites no such feelings of admiration as are involuntarily aroused by the sight of a picturesque, well wooded expanse with its lofty trunks and spreading, luxuriant foliage. The terrible sense of loneliness and desolation experienced by so many settlers on the prairies where the land spreads around them on every side meeting the horizon without a break, is due entirely to the lack of trees. A well-clothed plain, where the vista is broken and diversified by stretches of woodland or groups of trees, excite no such painful feeling of dreariness and isolation. A treeless farm is a very unattractive place. The buildings are exposed to heat and storm; there is no grateful shade to furnish a refreshing coolness during the intervals of rest, and the sun glares down, heating the whole house so that it remains hot and close, even through the night, when it is cool out of doors. The ugliness of a building unbroken by porch or verandah, as is often the case, may be redeemed and the place made handsome and picturesque by a background of trees. The absence of trees about the house and fields gives the locality a hard, bare, unfertile aspect, even though the soil may be rich and yield good returns. It is no wonder that children reared in such a home are anxious to leave it, that the natural sense of beauty is repelled by such bare and bleak surroundings, and that after a visit to the city, with its leafy avenues and well-kept lawns, they seek to leave a place which has become the more unendurable by contrast.

The absence of trees upon the farm is so easily remedied that the farmer who allows his homestead to be without them is much less excusable than for other deprivations which cannot be supplied except at considerable expense. Trees, in most cases in Ontario, cost nothing except the labour incurred in transplanting them from the nearest bush; and the returns, not merely in comfort and attractiveness, but eventually in actual cash value, would justify a much larger outlay. A well-shaded farm is more valuable than one destitute of trees. Even the man who is too lazy or neglectful to plant, or shrinks from the task because "there's no money in it," would instinctively give the preference to a farm with ample shade around the house and outbuildings and rows of maples or evergeens along the lanes or between the fields, over one destitute of this natural adornment. He might not perhaps know why he did so, but the look of comfort and the home-like air of the well-shaded farm would surely turn the scale in its favour. In planting trees, either for shade or for ornament, about the farm, there are a few points which should be carefully borne in mind.

In transplanting young trees from the bush, it is always advisable to obtain them from the edge of the wood, or where it is comparatively open, as trees growing in such situations are much hardier than those growing in dense shade. The trees selected should not be too large. The smaller the tree the easier it will be to secure the roots comparatively uninjured, and when the roots are much cut or torn, the crown of the trees needs to be pruned to a corresponding degree, which retards the growth. Even seedlings a foot or less in height make rapid growth, and in the course of a few years will often be better developed than trees moved when seven or eight feet high. A time in the spring or fall, when the ground is wet, should be chosen for the work, as the trees can then be taken up in better condition and with less chance of their roots being dried up or broken before replanting, and so losing their vitality. To prevent the roots from drying, it may sometimes be necessary to moisten and keep them covered if brought from any distance. It is unnecessary to say that nursery-grown trees will afford the desired shade and ornament much sooner than the saplings taken from the forest, but the cash expenditure will of course be greater.

Trees should not be planted too close to the house, but at such a reasonable distance as not to exclude the sunlight and cause dampness. It is a very common mistake to plant trees within a few feet of windows, overlooking the fact that when the tree attains any considerable size the light will be completely shut out. Those who plant should have in mind the space the tree will occupy when fully developed and make their calculations with regard to distances accordingly.

If broad-leaved trees are preferred, no species is more suitable for general planting than the hard or sugar maple, which is a clean, graceful tree and of fairly rapid growth. Where the fields are large, as fields should be, maples may be planted along the boundaries. When they attain a sufficient growth they will serve instead of fence posts by stringing wires from tree to tree. Where there is no sugar bush on the farm a sufficient number of maples planted in this manner or in other situations can be made to yield good returns in sugar or syrup.

In planting for ornament or shelter, apart from shade, spruce trees and Norway pines are good varieties. The evergreens give the house a cheery, comfortable aspect in the winter season, and are an effective protection against the violence of the wind. They make desirable wind breaks, either by themselves or interspersed with hard woods, especially if planted to the north or northwest.

Care must be taken in planting, especially if the soil is sterile and poor, to see that the roots are properly spread in the hole instead of being simply jammed in, and are crushed or broken by being violently stamped down. If the ground is at all dry, the trees should be freely watered until well established. It is well to remember that they require nourishment just the same as any other one, and some good rich soil should always be put in the hole if the land is not naturally good. If soil from the woods is not readily obtainable, well-rotted stable manure should be mixed with the soil taken from the hole or placed about the tree after planting as a mulch. Unrotted manure should not be allowed to come in direct contact with the roots.

Young trees, properly planted and well looked after, often attain a respectable size much sooner than is generally supposed. At the Experimental Farm at Ottawa, young pines ten inches high planted in 1889, had reached the height of over fifteen feet in eight years, and elms had grown from ten inches to over eighteen feet high in the same time.

AN OBJECT LESSON

In the Conduct of Elections—How the New System is Coming Out in Actual Work.

The prohibition plebiscite bids fair to prove of lasting value to the Government as an object lesson on the practical working of the new electoral system, being the first trial that the provincial voters' lists have had for federal purposes.

The Secretary of State, who has charge of the plebiscite arrangements, has had ample opportunity of seeing how the thing is going to work. The returning officers have been furnished with directions as plain and explicit as could be, and to these was added an admonitory notice from the Auditor-General as to expenditures, which had almost frightened some of the returning officers into throwing up their commissions. The returning officer in no case has much chance for making any profit out of his appointmen. It is more the bestowal of an honour than a means of emolument, but the Auditor-General has laid down a code of charges which he considered adequate, but which, to the eyes of the returning officer would almost leave him in debt. The latter does not take it as part of his duty, for instance, to haggle with parties as to what would be the proper rental for a polling booth. There is one other source of friction which has to do with the lists themselves, the returning officers looking apparently to Ottawa instead of to the provincial authorities.—Ottawa Free Press.

DEVELOPMENT OF INDUSTRIES.

Through the Influence of Patented Inventions.

Prior to January 1st, 1881, 236,136 patents (not including 9,957 Patents granted prior to 1836), were issued by the United States. These included all patented inventions exhibited at the Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia, an exposition of which the most striking and important feature was its display of the improvements in industrial arts brought about by American invention, a display which was a revelation to all who visited that exposition and was justly attributed to the stimulus given to inventors by the United States Patent System. It was believed by many that the inventions there exhibited represented the highest development possible, that there was no further room for improvement in many of the arts at least. Yet, the effect of this exposition was not, as might have been expected, to discourage invention and to convince inventors that nothing more remained to be done, that the field of invention was exhausted, but to largely stimulate invention. For three years after this exposition, the number of applications for patent received was less each year by fully one thousand than in 1876; but in 1886 the number was nearly one thousand more; in 1881 nearly five thousand more. In 1882 ten thousand more than in 1876 were received. Last year the number received was, by six thousand, more than twice the number received in 1876.—Marion & Marion, Patent Solicitors, Montreal.

Kidney Disease Cannot Hurt when Dodd's Kidney Pills are Used.

Healthy kidneys are absolutely necessary for the production of pure blood.

Pure blood is absolutely necessary for good health—yes for life itself.

Dodd's Kidney Pills restore weak and diseased kidneys to health and strength. They stimulate them to proper action, enabling them to filter the poison out of the blood.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only medicine known that can and will do this. Therefore, they are priceless and indispensable. All forms of Kidney Disease are cured by them.

Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, N.A. L.:

DEAR SIR.—In answer to your request for me to decide upon one of the following options offered me for settlement of my 15-payment Life Investment Policy for $5,000 which has matured this year, viz:

1st to take the value of the Policy in Cash	$5,000.00
2nd, or fully paid-up insurance for	3,280.00
3rd, or take the profits in cash	2,050 25

and continue my policy without further payments being required from me, the policy participating in future profits.

I find it somewhat difficult to make a decision either of the three options being so satisfactory. I am certainly very much pleased with the results offered me, and as I find many others are giving full testimony to the profit-earning power of this company, I do not hesitate to give my endorsement as well, that the North American Life is one of our strongest Canadian institutions to day giving first class results on Investment Policies, on a safe and conservative basis. I find that my policy, which was originally a Life by fifteen payments, has become an Endownment at the end of the Investment period.

METHODIST ELECTIONS.

The Conference at Toronto Selects Its Officers for the Term—The Successful Candidates.

Toronto, Sept. 16.—There were two sessions of the Methodist Conference yesterday. The morning session was devoted to reading reports, and there was no discussion worth mentioning. Mr. Edward Gurney, on the Mission Report, said he had discovered since he went on the board that the popular assertion that it took a dollar to get a cent to the heathen was a falsehood. There was no closer run institution anywhere than the Missionary Society. In answer to Mr. Matthews, Dr. Briggs said the cost of the Guardian, apart from the editor's salary, was $500 for rent and $1,400 for the maintenance of the several departments of the paper.

The Yukon missionary's letter stated that the mission there could not be made self-sustaining. A log church 50 by 24 cost about $10,000, and horses were worth $10 an hour. He asked for further instructions.

A vote was passed granting the Metropolitan Church sexton $40 for his extra labor and expense. The journal secretary's salary was fixed at $100.

Mr. A. Shaw of Kingston read the report of the Book and Publishing Committee in the afternoon. It proposed a scheme to amalgamate the Wesleyan and the Christian Guardian.

The conference then proceeded to elect officers for the next term, as follows:

Book Steward—Rev. Dr. Briggs, he receiving 220 out of the 228 votes cast.

Book Steward, eastern section—Mr. S. F. Huestis, only 12 votes being against him.

Editor of the Christian Guardian—Rev. Dr. Courtice, the final ballot being: Dr. Courtice 126 votes, Dr. Dewart 70, Dr. Ross and Dr. Lanceley 13 votes apiece.

Editor Methodist Magazine—Mr. W. H. Withrow.

Editor of the Wesleyan—Mr. George J. Bond.

Missionary Secretary—Rev. Dr. Sutherland.

Associate do.—Rev. Dr. Henderson.

Treasurers Missionary Society — Dr. Sutherland and J. A. M. Aikens, Q.C.

Gen. Supt. Northwest Missions—James Woodsworth.

Secretary of Education—Rev. Dr. Potts.

Secretary of Epworth Leagues—Rev. Mr. Grews.

Superannuation and Supernumery Committee—Clerical Secretary, Rev. Dr. Griffin; lay secretary, Mr. Edward Gurney.

Conference met again this morning at 9 o'clock.

Haultain Stands for Rights.

Winnipeg, Sept. 15.—Premier Haultain made his annual financial statement in the Northwest Legislature at Regina yesterday, and then passed on to a review of the advantages and disadvantages of the Territories becoming a Province. Some locally ambitious people wanted to divide the Territories into provinces, but he had not heard a reason for such a course that he could respect. He was totally opposed to such a division, and held that the Territories were entitled to every acre of territory if they were erected into a province. There were strictly legal rights which could be successfully urged if need be before the highest tribunal in the empire.

ADVANCE IN FUTURES.

Wheat Went Up Strongly in Chicago and Liverpool—Good Export Demand —The Prices.

Thursday Evening, Sept. 15.

The Liverpool wheat market was very strong to-day. Spot red winter advanced a clear 2d per cental, this month's delivery rose 2⅝d, and the December and March options gained 1½d and 1⅝d respectively. The upturn was caused by the covering of shorts.

The cables announcing these advances had a buoyant effect upon the Chicago market, which opened up a good ½c per bushel above yesterday's close. The good demand for cash wheat, an advance in the price of that article at Duluth, big clearances, smaller primary receipts, and the taking of 90 loads for export at the seaboard, all combined to support the elevation of quotations. This month's delivery of contract wheat rose 2⅝c, the December option 1½c, and the May article ⅜c. On profit taking, nearly half of the gain was lost, but the market closed strong at a good premium over yesterday's final figures.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

East Buffalo, N.Y., Sept. 15.—Cattle—The offerings were four loads, principally western cattle, which sold to the local trade at strong Monday's prices. Calves were in light supply, good demand and strong at the quoted prices. Choice to extra, $7.30 to $7.75; good to choice, $7 to $7.50.

Sheep and Lambs—The market opened rather slow, with 20 loads on sale, including eight loads of Canada lambs. Prices were lower, as outside reports were not encouraging, so the trade dragged rather heavily. Ewe and wether lambs were scarce and wanted and were strong enough, but outside of that the trade was slow on lambs. Fancy sheep were scarce. Lambs, choice to extra were quotable $6 to $6.25; good to choice, $5.75 to $6; buckey lambs, $5.50 to $5.85; common to fair, $5 to $5.50; sheep, choice to fancy, $4.75 to $5; mixed, $4 to $4.75; good to choice, $4.40 to $5; common to fair, $3 to $3.50. At the close there were about five loads left over.

Hogs—The market opened 10c lower, with more liberal offerings, a total of 25 loads for the day. There was a sharp demand for pigs for shipment on the early flyer, and prices were a surprise, being $4.20 to $4.25, while Yorkers were on the basis of $4.30. Compared with York prices yesterday at $4.40, and pigs at $4.10, there was a wide and sudden difference. At the close they were 10c lower.

WESTWARD HO!

Many Manitoba People Being Cured of Heart and Nerve Troubles.

Mr. A. Wilson, of Clearwater, Relates His Experience.

Not only in the East, but also in the great Western provinces of the Dominion, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are steadily gaining the confidence of the people.

Wherever there is a weak heart or shattered nervous system they restore them to perfect vigor; run-down, worn-out constitutions they build up, strengthen and renew, and give new hope to downcast, despairing, sickly men and women.

"I can recommend Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills as the best thing I know of for weak and nervous people. When I first commenced taking them I was in an extremely weak condition. I was nervous and easily startled, sometimes I would start in my sleep and it would be a long time before I could get asleep again.

"Shortness of breath and dizzy spells would come over me at times and often I thought my end was near.

"Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have changed all that. They have strengthened my nerves and built up my health so that I am a new man. I consider them simply wonderful." A. Wilson, Clearwater, Man.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c. a box or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all druggists, T. Milburn & Co., Toronto, Ontario.

The Real Widow Brown.

If you want to enjoy a long, hearty laugh of 180 minutes go and see "The Real Widow Brown," which comes to the Opera House Tuesday evening, September 20th. It possesses the essential virtues of a real farce-comedy—clean, pure, exhilarating—and with sufficient spice of captivating songs and clever dances to make it one of the best drawing attractions on the road. The author has built an ingenious plot on which the laughable incidents hinge, a seemingly strange anamoly, as the average farce-comedy is as barren of plot as the Klondyke is of dress suit cases. Its cardinal object is to make you laugh; you may have a thousand domestic and business cares, but you'll forget them for the three hours you spend in the fascinating company of "The Real Widow Brown."

ASHBURNHAM WATERWORKS CONTRACT.

Explanation of the Present Condition of Affairs.

A good deal of rumour, unfounded in fact, is circulating regarding an alleged difficulty between Messrs. McQuillan & Co., contractors for the waterworks extension to Ashburnham, and the village council. There is no difficulty of the kind rumoured.

The contractors found as the work of putting in the main under the river progressed that it could not be carried on by hand to meet the conditions of the specifications, which were drawn with a view of securing a permanently satisfactory job. The contractors proposed a modification of the specifications. To this the council at a conference held last night would not agree, and to-day a member of the firm went to London to procure mechanical appliances to procure the necessary dredging. Work was suspended at the river and tranferred to Lake street, where the workmen are now engaged.

MEMORIAL SERVICE.

Held in St. Andrew's Church out of Respect to the Late Robert Tully.

The memorial service in St. Andrew's church yesterday afternoon was attended by a large number of the congregation and of the citizens of Peterborough. After prayer at the house the funeral proceeded to the church, where at three o'clock the service was begun by singing "A Few More Years shall Roll." Rev. Wm. Bennett, clerk of the Presbytery of Peterborough, made the opening prayer. After Scripture readings the pastor, Rev. J. G. Potter addressed the audience, taking as the basis of his remark Psalms xxxvii., 37: "Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright, for the end of that man is peace." The speaker referred to the unusual intimacy that had existed between himself and the deceased as senior elder, and in closing appealed to his people to seek at all times to present such a life as under the scrutiny of others would be an example of Godliness.

Rev. Dr. Torrance, as Moderator of the Presbytery, spoke in very warm terms of fidelity of Mr. Tully to the work of the church and Presbytery. He referred to the fact that his father had been an elder for years under the pastorate of Rev. Mr. Roger, while his brother, Mr. Wm. Tully, had been an elder in St. Paul's for years, and two other brothers were in the gospel ministry.

During the entrance and withdrawal of the cortege from the church edifice, the organist, Miss Mary Grant, played very effectively "The Dead March in Saul."

COUNTY POLICE COURT.

Two Cases to be Dealt With on Monday Next.

Geo. Moncrief was before County Police Edmison this morning, charged with the theft of a plough from S. J. Steel. He was remanded until Monday. On behalf of the defendant Mr. E. B. Stone made a statement that Steele had boarded with Moncrief for over a year, and owed him considerable money. He wished to leave in the absence of Mr. Moncrief and the latter's wife refused to let him take the plough away until he had settled up. Hence the charge.

Another case will also come before Magistrate Edmison on Monday. One Graham, of Norwood, is charged with the theft of a bicycle from Mr. Robertson and will then be given a hearing.

THRASHED WITH A RAWHIDE.

A Young Lad Gets a Taste of a New Kind of Punishment.

Frank Frost received a thrashing with the big rawhide at the police court this morning, being the sentence imposed on him for the theft of a quantity of ale bottles at the Grand Trunk freight sheds.

This is the kind of punishment that will be meted out to young lads in the future, and the effect should be salutary as a rawhide is not a thing to laugh over afterwards, as is the case when a fine has been imposed, which is paid by the parents of the offender.

HARVEST FESTIVAL IN ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.

Special Services Were Held in That Edifice Yesterday.

CHURCH BEAUTIFULLY DECORATED.

Rev. F. C. C. Heathcote, of Toronto, Delivered the Sermon on the Subject of Grateful Rejoicing.

The annual Harvest Festival in connection with St. John's church was held last night under most favourable auspices. Liberal contributions of all kinds of grain, vegetables and flowers had been sent in from all quarters beforehand, and had been tastefully arranged in the church. Amongst the many beautiful arrangements could be seen symbols of every type of the direct and indirect products of the ground. Never before has there been such a large collection of grains sent in. As was fitting, the altar was quietly and oh astely decorated with bread and grapes. The chancel and furniture were a mass of bloom and floral beauty, and further down the church the sheaves and other product of the farm were liberally strewn about. A great deal of kind labour was bestowed on the WORK OF DECORATING.

Mrs. A. P. Poussette had charge of the chancel work and that in the nave of the church was superintended by Mrs. P. Campbell.

At ten o'clock in the morning the festival services were begun by a celebration of the Holy Communion, in which a large number participated. In the evening at 8 o'clock the church was filled to overflowing. The choir entered at the front door, singing "Come, ye Thankful People, Come."

Rev. E. V. Stevenson took the first part of the service, and Rev. W. L. Armitage read the lesson. The Rector addressed a few words of hearty welcome to those who had assembled to unite in the service of thanksgiving, and took the opportunity of welcoming to the church the preacher, who in bygone years was a worshipper in St. John's.

The sermon was delivered by Rev. F. C. Heathcote of Toronto, who preached from Philliplans, iv chap. 4th verse.: "Rejoice in the Lord alway, and again I say rejoice." The subject of the sermon was "faithful rejoicing," and the speaker by his held the attention of the congregation to the end. He told of a short inscription on a gateway which read "Think, and thank."

The first factor in Thanksgiving was thinking. The man who thought was a grateful man. Still there were men whose thoughts ran in so selfish and narrow a channel that they became more and more morose and disaffected. They spoke slightingly of the promises of God, never having tried to put them into effect. A cheerful, thankful temperment was after all largely a matter of education, and it was most important that we should concentrate our energies in this direction. God desired all his creature to be happy, surrounded them with blessings and gave them means by using which they could gain thankful hearts. One of these means was sympathy with others. In brightening the lives of others we often found the secret way of brightening our own. We should look on the bright side of life, associate with our brethren in praising God and train ourselves so that we might begin on earth to find pleasure in praising Him.

WANTED TO SUICIDE.

Was Going to Kill Himself Because he Could Get no Beer.

A resident of Ashburnham became very angry with his family last evening on account of them depriving him of his beer and throwing out a quantity which he had on hand.

His threats of suicide were uttered with such vehemence that it was considered necessary to send for Constable Fitzgerald, who succeeded in quieting the old man and restoring peace and harmony.

DIED IN HER CHAIR.

Sudden Demise of Mrs. John Bennett Last Evening Whist at the Tea Table.

The death of Mrs. John Bennett, River Road, Otonabee, took place very suddenly last evening. The old lady was at tea with the rest of the family and half finished her meal when she suddenly sat back in her chair and expired without saying a word. She had been ailing for a number of years being partially paralyzed and although her death was not unexpected, it came as a very sudden shock to her family and friends, as during the day she had driven up to Peterborough and appeared more than unusually bright and cheerful.

The deceased was 71 years of age and leaves a husband and large family to mourn her loss. She was a daughter of the late David McKague, of Emily, and a sister of Mrs. Wm. Dawson, of Ashburnham.

The funeral will take place from the homestead, River Road, Otonabee, at 2.30 o'clock to-morrow afternoon, interment being in the Little Lake Cemetery.

Special this week at Miss Melville's, Infants Jackets from 48c up, 138 Hunter Street.

A SEPTEMBER WEDDING.

Nuptials of Miss Violet McDonald and Mr. Wm. Proctor Yesterday Afternoon.

A pretty wedding took place yesterday afternoon, at five o'clock, in the Park street Baptist church, when the marriage was solemnized of Miss Violet McDonald, eldest daughter of Mr. Henry McDonald, Stewart street, and Mr. Wm. Proctor, of Pittsburg.

The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. O. C. Elliott, the bride being given away by her father.

The bride was charmingly attired in a costume of green with purple velvet and white chiffon trimmings and carried a bouquet of cream roses. She was assisted by her sister, Miss Rose McDonald, who was prettily costumed in blue muslin and carried pink roses.

The groomsman was Mr. James D'Russia.

After the conclusion of the ceremony the wedding party repaired to the residence of the bride's father, where a reception was held during the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Proctor leave at noon to-morrow for Ottawa, where they will remain until Tuesday, proceeding then to their future home in Pittsburg. A number of very handsome gifts were received.

At a meeting of the Finance Committee last night, with Chairman Dunne presiding, it was decided to recommend the council to renew the franchise of the Bell Telephone Company, on the same terms as previously.

On the certificate of the street inspector the treasurer was instructed to pay the expenses connected with fitting up and operating the stone crusher.

When the Sewerage Committee met, Councillor Best took the chair. Tenders for additional sewerage extension as called for in the specifications were received as follows:

Councillor Dawson took the chair when the Street and Bridge Committee went into session. Tenders for the iron work for the new bridges were received as follows:

ANNUAL MEETING OF HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

A YEAR OF GRADUAL, BUT SUBSTANTIAL PROGRESS.

The Several Reports Presented—The Officers Elected—Honorary Membership Conferred.

The second annual meeting of the Town and County of Peterborough Historical Society was held at the rooms in the Victoria Museum last night.

There were present the president, Col. H. C. Rogers, in the chair, Mr. T. A. S. Hay, secretary; Miss Halliday, Miss Stewart, Messrs. E. B. Edwards, Richard Hall, J. McCaig, J. H. Burnham and Dr. Bell.

After routine the president gave a brief verbal report of the condition of the society during the past year. Though as great progress had not been made as desired, yet it was a pleasure to state that there had been steady and substantial, if slow progress.

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

Mr. Hay, secretary, presented his annual report, as follows:

To the President and Members of the Peterborough Historical Society:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:—As secretary, I have the honour of presenting my second annual report.

The past year has been another disappointing one as regards activity among the members and committees.

With a membership roll of 92, not more than thirty per cent. have taken an active interest in the work or paid their membership fees.

During the year there have been six general meetings and eight committee meetings. Owing to the want of proper heating and lighting of our rooms at Victoria Museum by arrangement with the Y. M. C. A. all meetings during the winter and spring were held in one of the lecture rooms of that institution.

I beg to remind members that fees for the ensuing year are now due and the treasurer will be glad to receive them. To those in arrears I would say that the finances cannot be kept in satisfactory condition without prompt payment and would remind them that the constitution provides that the names of members in arrears for one year may be removed from the roll at the option of the Executive Council.

In the election of members for the Executive Council for the ensuing year, please bear in mind that this committee is the most important of all and to insure the success of the Society it should be composed of active members, who can be depended upon to work when necessary and to have the good of the society always in view.

The work done during the year may be summarized as follows:

(1) MUSEUM—The Society was granted the following sums for the purpose of fitting up the Museum: $360 by the Town Council, and $100 by the County Council, on condition that the Society raised $100.

Mrs Strickland kindly offered to undertake the task for the Society, which he accomplished in a wonderfully short time. By his energy and well know persuasive powers he put the Society in possession of a substantial fund to make a beginning for the museum.

These funds are held by the Museum Committee and are being judiciously expended for this object.

The work has been almost suspended during the summer months on account of illness and death of a member of the family occupying the building.

The collection of material, however, has gone on steadily, although somewhat slowly.

To members of the Society I would say that we are pledged to make a success of this museum. The whole work of collecting material should not be left to the Museum Committee. There are opportunities for every one, and if each member will make a special effort success will be assured, as was instanced by the wonderful collection exhibited in the Art Loan Exhibition held last winter by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y.M.C.A.

(2) HISTORICAL PAPERS AND LECTURES.—On December 16th, Miss Fitzgibbon of Toronto, gave her lecture on "Laura Secord" to the Society. The lecture was illustrated with stereopticon views by Mr. Roy, and was very much appreciated. Several ladies assisted by a musical programme.

A paper by Mr. J. H. Coyne, president of the Ontario Historical Society, entitled "The Value of History," and procured for us by the kindness of Miss Fitzgibbon, was read, and was considered well worthy of being read a second time before our society.

A very interesting paper by Miss Dunlop on "Early Reminiscences of Peterborough," was read. Being generally of a local character, and containing, as it did, very much historical information in concise form, it will prove of value to the Society.

It is to be regretted that more papers of this kind have not been forthcoming. Memory is very frail, and the only way to preserve such information is to deposit it in the archives of such in institution as ours.

In this direction it was hoped that we might awaken the minds of the county school pupils by offering prizes for historical essays. A circular having this object in view was printed and distributed throughout the whole county, through the kindness of Mr. J. Coyle Brown, county school inspector. I regret to say that no response has been received.

An effort has been made by this society and others to get assistance from the Educational Department of Ontario for the purpose of systematically procuring information from the early settlers, who are fast disappearing without leaving any record of their experiences. The Hon. G. W. Ross, Minister of Education, is quite alive to the importance of this and has procured a small grant from the Government, with the hope of more in the future.

We were not represented at the annual meeting of the Ontario Society, with which we are affiliated, not at any of their very interesting meetings held in Niagara, Brantford and Toronto. We seem to have been the only county society not represented by at least one delegate. This partly accounts for our want of progress as a society.

In conclusion allow me to thank the members who so faithfully assisted at the meetings held during the past year, without whose help the officers would have felt much discouraged.

T. A. S. HAY,
Secretary.

Peterborough, Sept. 15, 1898.

Mr. J. H. Burnham, in speaking to the report said he had no reason to join in the pessimistic views expressed by some of the members. He had met large numbers of persons who were in warm sympathy with the society and its objects and would be brought into practical touch if the conditions were made favourable. He instanced Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Edwards, of Douro, who had a large number of curios which they had devoted to the museum with the assurance that their sons, who reside at Warsaw, would place at the secretary's disposal the very large quantity of curiosities they have collected. In recognition of the action of Mr. and Mrs. Edwards they were by resolution, moved by Mr. Hay, seconded by Mr. Edwards, made honourary members of the society.

The report of the treasurer, Miss Halliday, showed a small credit balance of $9 00. The statement was duly audited by Messrs. Richard Hall and E.B Edwards and found correct.

President—Col. H. C. Rogers, re elected.

Vice-Presidents — Messrs. J. B. McWilliams, Richard Hall and H. T. Strickland.

Representatives on Museum Board—Messrs. T. A. S. Hay, H. T. Strickland and Dr. Burnham.

During the course of the evening frequent and earnest reference was made to the indefatigable labours of the secretary, Mr. T. A. S. Hay, who has been as unremitting as he has been successful in promoting its interests, and his re-election with spontaneous unaminity was a recognition of the value of his services.

The meeting then adjourned with the understanding that at the next meeting a paper relating to the early days of the Township of Belmont would be read.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

To the Public:

I wish to thank the public in general and my customers in particular for the patronage extended during the time I have been in business under the firm name of MORRIS & HOWDEN, as Butchers and Meat Dealers, and also since the retirement of Mr. W. G. Howden.

I have sold my business and good-will to MR. H. P. KENNEDY who will combine it with his own at the store in the Opera House Block, No 340 George St. Telephone No. 275.

I have engaged with Mr. Kennedy as assistant in his Live Stock Business, but will make it a point to be at the store every Saturday, commencing Sept. 17th, where I hope to meet all my old customers, who will, I am sure, be pleased with the service we can give.

I am sure that Mr. Kennedy's extensive operations in the Live Stock trade, place him in a position to do better, and to give better value than is given anywhere else. I have recognized this for some time and know that his facilities to supply Meats place him at the head in this line of trade.

Trusting in my new position to receive the support of all my old customers

I remain respectfully,

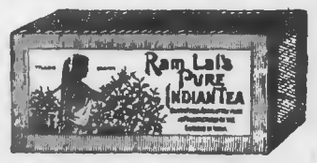
W. D. MORRIS

Good Value in Tea

Is measured by

Strength and Quality.

Where is the economy in buying a 25 cent tea and then using three times the quantity that would be required of Ram Lal's Pure Indian Tea. You can't get a good quality of liquor out of a cheap tea no matter how much of it you use. You may get a strong bitter taste but not the delicate flavor and fragrant aroma that comes only from the tender leaves. Ram Lal's Tea is grown Pure Indian pean supervision. The tea is manufactured on the gardens in India and comes in sealed packets with all the strength and freshness retained.



Ram Lal's Tea is a Pure Indian Blend and does not "go off" in quality.

THIS CERTIFICATE

Brings Forth a Story.

BOWMANVILLE, ONT.

We, the undersigned, certify that the health of the Rev. R. A. Bilkey has for months been deteriorating, and that he is now suffering from severe nervous prostration, and urgently requires immediate and prolonged rest. J. W. McLaughlin, M.D., A. Beith, M.D., L. Holland Reid, M.R.C.S., etc.

THIS INTERVIEW TELLS IT.

A reporter called on the Rev. R. A. Bilkey, rector St. John's (Episcopal) Church, Bowmanville, Ontario, during a church function, and on congratulating him on the great change for the better in his appearance, the reverend gentleman said, "It is due entirely to Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills.

"I suffered for over three years from extreme nervousness, weakness and prostration, and could not obtain relief. A few months ago it became only too apparent that extreme nervous prostration had set in, as I lost flesh and appetite rapidly. Three of our four medical men pronounced me in urgent need of immediate and prolonged rest in order to build up my nervous system, giving me a certificate to that effect. About this time, by pure accident, Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills were brought to my notice. I decided to try them, and on doing so a decided change for the better took place at once. I have since continued taking the pills, with continued and marked benefit and improvement. My appetite has returned. I am gaining in flesh steadily, and my general health is now good. Further, I am sure that these results are due to the action of Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, and I have every confidence that they will do for others all that they have done for me."

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are sold at 50c. per box, 6 boxes for $2, at Druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by the Dr. Ward Co., 71 Victoria Street, Toronto. Book of information free.

TWO HUMOROUS BROTHERS.

They Won Wagers on the Strength of Their Own Homeliness.

Many years ago there were two brothers, named Joel and Jonathan, who were famous throughout Wayne county, Ind., because they were both such frights. One day they were on their way to Cincinnati by wagon in the days of the old canal. The wagon was of the covered variety, and only Joel was visible to the natural eye as the vehicle plunged into and out of the chuck holes that infested the way. Joel was said to be the next to the ugliest man in all the country round, and his brother took precedence.

The two brothers met a stranger, who, attracted by the supremely homely face of Joel, stopped his horse and said:

"Excuse me, my friend, but would you mind tellin me your name?"

In a sepulchral tone that fitted well the hideous face Joel replied:

"Well, I guess I hain't never done nothin that would make me ashamed to tell my name. My name is Joel"—

"Where do you live, if it is a fair question?"

"I live in Wayne county, Indianny."

"Well, stranger, I've seen much of Indianny, but I'll bet you $10 that you're the ugliest man in the state."

"Well, I hain't no gamblin man," replied Joel, "but I hain't never seen nothin in the Scriptur' ag'in bettin on a sure thing, an I'll jest take that bet."

Turning to the wagon cover and peering into its depths he called:

"Jonathan, stick your head out hyer."

Jonathan did as he was requested.

The stranger paid the money without a word of complaint.—New York Mail and Express.

A business man is not the most patient creature in the world. He cannot wait to hear any long-drawn-out story of the cause of his ailment. He does'nt care two straws about a fine spun theory of how he should treat himself. He may be predisposed to scrofula or consumption. "That," he will tell you, "has nothing to do with the case." He wants to be well. If he can be cured, write out a prescription and send in your bill. So here's the first part of the proposition.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a microbe hunter ad killer. Many persons of scrofulous blood encourage the breaking out of unsightly sores, to prevent the disease going to the lungs. There is no need of this state of dread and discomfort. Purify the blood. It can be done. "Golden Medical Discovery" will cure 98 per cent. of all consumptive cases, also of all lingering bronchial, throat and lung diseases.

Gooseberries on Trees.

Travelers in Burma see many strange things, and perhaps one of the strangest is the way in which some kinds of fruit grow.

For instance, gooseberries that at home grow on small bushes in this part of the world grow on trees over 25 feet high. They are not a soft, pulpy fruit, but are as hard as marbles.

The real Burman grapes also grow on high trees and not on vines. They hang from the branches and trunk of the tree in clusters on a long stalk and are covered with a thick outer skin, which cannot be eaten.

The cashew, or monkey nut, is also peculiar and consists of a large, juicy fruit of soft pulp, with its nut or kernel attached to the outside of the fruit at the end farthest from the stalk from which it hangs.—London Standard.

A Logical Conclusion.

In a recent Walla Walla divorce suit, in which the defendant failed to appear, the referee made the following report:

"The plaintiff appearing in person and by her attorney, and the defendant not appearing and no one appearing for him, therefore he did not appear."—Walla Walla Statesman.

FIJI'S FIERY ORDEAL

NATIVES WALK BAREFOOTED IN A WHITE HOT FURNACE.

A Weird Performance, Deliberate and Without Deception, That Baffles Comprehension and For Which There Is No Plausible Explanation.

The island of Benga, where the fiery ordeal takes place, was the supposed residence of some of the old gods of Fiji and was therefore considered a sacred land. First of all, it is necessary to explain the native lovo, or oven, in which the masawe root is baked. This oven is merely a more or less circular hole or hollow dug and prepared in the ground with a diameter of from 18 feet to 24 feet. The oven is next filled with rough logs of firewood, piled up nine or ten feet. On the logs are placed a great number of water worn stones, varying in weight from eight pounds or ten pounds to one hundredweight. It may here be explained that the masawe is a Dracena, with fibrous roots as large as a yam, and full of sugar. These roots are baked in the lovo for four days. The fire for the ordeal is lighted in the masawe oven before daybreak and burns for several hours—that is to say, until all the stones on the top, big and little, have fallen through into the hole and become almost white with heat. Then of course nothing remains but a quantity of charred embers and a few half burned logs. In due time the embers are dragged or fished out by means of vines attached to long sticks, the end of the vine having a running loop, which is placed over the log. The burned logs and embers having been removed, green sticks, 18 or 20 feet long, are then inserted into the oven among the heaps of hot stones, and, using these as levers, the stones are distributed evenly over the surface of the whole floor of the earth oven. Sometimes the heat is so terrific that the operators are unable directly to manipulate the levers themselves, so they are compelled to rest the poles on the sides of the oven, and then pull on them by means of vine ropes. The Fijians who take part in this ceremony make for themselves out of the broad banana leaf a special kind of garment to shelter their bodies from the heat given off by the white hot stones.

When the big embers have been removed, the wood ashes are swept away by means of whisks fastened to the ends of long sticks, and then nothing remains in the oven save the clean layer of glowing stones. These preliminaries occupy about half an hour, and then all is ready for the ceremony itself. At a given signal the performers, barelegged and barefooted, excepting for the anklets of dried fern leaves, crowd into the pit and begin walking leisurely about as if on a fashionable promenade.

Here is the narrative of a person who witnessed the ceremony: "Jonathan, a native magistrate, led the way into the pit, closely followed by 14 others. They marched round about the oven, moving slowly and leisurely and treading firmly on the redhot stones. The spectacle held me spellbound. Every moment I expected my nostrils to be assailed with the smell of burning human flesh, but it was not so, and as I looked in the faces of the men strolling about in the lovo I could see no emotion whatever depicted, but merely the inscrutable impassivity of feature common to many savage races.

Some of the bystanders threw bundles of green leaves and branches into the oven, and then immediately the men inside were half hidden in the clouds of steam that arose from the hissing, boiling sap. Handkerchiefs were also thrown in and afforded an unmistakable proof that there was 'no deception.' Before these lace trifles reached the floor of the oven they were alight and almost consumed by the great heat. Presently Jonathan and his followers marched out of the inferno and were promptly examined by the governor's commissioner. Not only was there not the least trace of burning, but even their anklets, which were of dried fern leaves, were not so much as singed."

Jonathan himself was closely cross examined by the government officials present—of whom he stood in great awe—and he declared with perfect candor: "There is no trick. Why should there be? I and my forefathers have done this thing for generations, long before the white man came into the islands. Some of us may not believe the legend of the Fairy Chief Moliwai, but I do believe that it has been given to my tribe to pass unharmed at all times through the masawe oven." Another official eyewitness declares "the men had not anointed themselves with any preparation whatsoever." Traders, missionaries and others who have witnessed the ceremony cannot explain it, and some have endeavored to do the thing themselves, with the most horrible and disastrous results.

One official theory, given by Lord Stanmore's aid-de-camp, is contained in the following: "I venture to think that the ordinary mortal who visits tropical climes has no idea of the amount of heat the natives can bear on the soles of their feet. Let any one put his hand upon a rock or object on which the tropical sun has been playing for hours, and the result will be that he will find himself extremely anxious to withdraw it as speedily as possible. The native, however, can go all day on the rocks and not feel the heat."

Lord Stanmore himself, however, in a letter to the writer, directly contradicts the inference here conveyed. "If we accept this theory," he says in effect, "the thing excites no wonder. It is not, however, the case that the natives' feet are so insensible. I have often seen the hardiest of natives crossing a short extent of the shingly bed of a river in the hot sunshine, compelled to run off and cool their feet in the stream, being utterly unable to bear the heat of the sun warmed stones." And Lord Stanmore's testimony is conclusive. In his opinion the thing is simply inexplicable, and a better theory will have to be found than the callousness of the performers' feet.—Maurice Delcasse in World-Wide Magazine.

ON A BIKE BUILT FOR TWO.

And the Startling News Was Not Known Until Afterward.

A cyclist whom we will call Baxter was strolling along the avenue when he noticed a pretty girl in a neat cycling costume standing by a tandem. She had her back turned to him, but he saw she wore a trim costume, had a neat ankle and a nicely arranged lot of hair. Baxter is very particular about a girl's hair. This girl looked so attractive that he paused. There was something pathetic in her attitude, he thought. Was she waiting for a cavalier to join her on the tandem? A wild idea entered Baxter's head. He would do a daring thing. He walked up to the girl. She turned a frank, merry face on him as he approached.

"Pardon me," he laughingly said, "but are you looking for an accompanist?" and he pointed to the tandem.

"Well," she smilingly answered, "now that you mention it, I guess I am."

A moment later they were whirling up the street. When it began to grow dark, they turned back.

"My tandem?" cried the girl. "Why, it isn't my tandem."

"Not your tandem?" shouted Baxter. "Whose is it, then?"

"Why," said the girl, "I thought it was yours."

"Heavens, no!" groaned Baxter.

"But you acted as if it was yours," said the girl.

"What shall we do?" moaned the girl.

"Take it back," said Baxter.

So they rode back in silence, and when they were about a block away the girl said:

"I guess I'll stop here."

Leaving the tandem as near to the place where he saw it as he could, he scuttled away in the darkness.—Cycling Gazette.

A Method In His Manner.

It was raining cats and dogs outside, and the Columbus avenue car was crowded. A young woman stood looking from one seated man to another, but the men would not budge. She looked timidly, then appealingly, then daggers, but they did not care.

Finally the worst dressed and roughest looking man in the car got up.

"Here is a seat for you, mum," he said suavely.

"Oh, thank you ever so much," said the young lady, shooting glances at the other men which said, "You are gentlemen, but this uneducated laborer could give you a lesson in manners."

Presently she was shifting about on her seat, shielding now her face, now her white stand up collar and looking, with a troubled face, at a point in the ceiling from which the water came down at irregular intervals in splashes as big as a cent.

The well dressed men buried their smiles in their newspapers. The laborer, now ensconced in a corner near the driver, gave his vis-a-vis a wink.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

The entire area of the United States is placed at 1,835,017,692 acres, of which 741,702,865 acres are now owned by individuals or by corporations or states or have passed out of the control of the general government.

DRILLING INTO A CORAL REEF.

Royal Society of London Makes Progress in the Pacific.

Sydney, Australia, Sept. 13.—News has been received here of the progress of the scientific party under the auspices of the Royal Society of London, guided by Professor Finckh, who left Sydney June 1 for Funafute Island, Samoan group, to complete the work of boring with a diamond drill the atoll at Funafute, to prove the nature of the original foundation upon which the corals began to build. Scientists have reached 720 feet, and have struck into dolomitic rock. The natives at first watched the proceedings with superstitious awe and declined to aid in putting the heavy machinery in place, but afterwards hundreds of them offered their services gratis, and brought messages of welcome from the chiefs of several tribes. The final result of the important investigation will reach here, it is expected, in a few days.

When you or any member of your family is attacked, you want a remedy you are positive will cure. These diseases are too serious, too rapidly fatal, if neglected, for experimenting with cheap and dangerous imitations of the genuine Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. You want something that will, without fail, touch the spot and check the advance of the disease promptly.

Mrs. Middleton Wray writes from Schomberg, Ont., as follows: "Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is the best remedy I know of for Summer Complaint and Bowel Diseases of children. I have used it in our family for the past seventeen years and never had occasion to call in the doctor for these troubles, as the Fowler's Extract always worked like a charm."

M. McFADDEN, Undertaker and Dealer in Description of Furniture HUNTER STREET, WEST

D. BELLEGHEM, Leading Undertaker

Can be found day or night at his Warerooms Hunter Street, or at his residence adjoining his Warerooms. Telephone Communication.

In the olden times it was no uncommon occurrence for sentitive, delicate women to be beheaded for frivial or imaginary offences. In this respect the world has made great strides. Nevertheless, women still suffer death in a slower and more torturesome form, and for no offence whatever, save a little ignorance, or possibly, a little neglect.

The woman who suffers from weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organs, whether she realizes it or not, is being slowly but surely tortured to death. She suffers almost continually with sick headache. She has pains in the back, what she calls "stitches" in the side and shooting pains everywhere. She experiences burning and dragging down sensations. She becomes weak, nervous and despondent. She neglects her home, and is petulant with her husband. If she consults the average physician, there is not one chance in ten that he will hit upon the real cause of her trouble. He will attribute her bad feelings to stomach, liver, heart or nervous trouble. A woman in this condition should consult some eminent and skillful specialist who has had a wide experience. Dr. R. V. Pierce, for thirty years chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., has, with the assistance of a staff of able physicians, prescribed for many thousands of women. He has invented a wonderful medicine for ailing women, known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It has stood the test for thirty years. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned in wifehood and motherhood, making them strong and well. It allays inflammation, heals ulceration, soothes pain and tones and builds up the nerves. It transforms weak, nervous women into healthy, happy wives and mothers.

"I was an invalid for over a year with change of life," writes Mrs. C. Smith, of Orr, Cascade Co., Mont. "Had pains across the pit of my stomach and such extreme weakness I could hardly walk. I took one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and five of his 'Favorite Prescription' and am entirely well."

EATING IN GERMANY.

THE SARCASMS OF A VICTIM WHO SURVIVED ITS CHARMS.

He Kicks All the Way Down the Bill of Fare and Is Particularly Irritated Over a Dish of Powdered Horse Radish Served With Frozen Whipped Cream.

When you have examined the constitution of the German cuisine, you are tempted to grow loquacious. You are conscious of having discovered that the psychology of a nation cannot be constructed upon a mere analysis of its made dishes. Your estimate of Brillat-Savarin sinks. He could not tell you what you are, even from all the menus of your lifetime. Freiligrath's philosophic conclusion that "man is what he eats" you straightway qualify as true only when referring to cannibalism. And you will aver that only in the case of paleolithic man can you construct a man from the crumbs that fall from his dinner table. And this you will want to prove, and consequently will grow talkative with presenting of much evidence.

And yet, in your sane moments, you will have a sneaking affection for the statement that a German is a German because he eats what he eats. As a general rule he may be said to eat five times a day. But his hunger is constantly being stilled.

He starts early in the day with a cup of cafe au lait and a small buttered roll. This keeps him going till 11 o'clock, when he demolishes a slice of buttered rye bread spread with slices of hard boiled egg, raw chopped beef or cheese. This he washes down with a glass of ale, thus stilling his inner man till dinner time. Dinner takes place toward 1 o'clock and consists of soup (generally nourishing), a plate of meat, with potatoes and fruit (cranberries, prunes or apricots), occasionally cheese, seldom sweets, rarely a green vegetable.

Three hours later coffee is taken, served with a piece of cake or thick bread and butter. This is the hour precious to the gossip and the busybody, the time for spreading scandal. Toward 8 o'clock the appetite again asserts itself. The hour of the ubiquitous sausages has arrived. Their name is legion, and they share the honors with slices of ham, smoked goose breast, pieces of raw pickled herring, and in summer hard boiled eggs and potato salad.

Such is the German method of spreading the meals over the day. Of course there are exceptions. Many families have two ample meals a day, but the bulk of the population eats mostly buttered bread and snacks. In justice to Germany one must say that the fare in many a home will compare favorably with that of many an American family.

In the German restaurant the cuisine is on the whole monotonous and the food singularly insipid. All meats seem to have the same flavor, all are served with the same heavy, viscous sauce, and invariably escorted with the same soaplike potatoes. Stodginess and heaviness are the great blots on the German fare. The element of variety, too, seems considered superfluous.

In the concrete the subject is almost too painful to face, the difficulty being to steer clear of exclamations denoting positive offensiveness. Some of the kickshaws which figure regularly upon the German table are reputed to be most sustaining. They certainly are intensely and ostentatiously wonder inspiring.

One preparation is everywhere met with under the name (more or less phonetically spelled) of beefsteak a la tartare. Its basis is raw chopped beef; this, spread out into a pat of elliptical shape, is crowned with the raw yolk of an egg, raw finely chopped onion is sprinkled over it, a garniture of gherkins is added, and the whole is eaten with much gusto and no worse consequences than a durable thirst.

In many of the dishes you discover all the humor, feeling and imagination of a Wagnerian composition. You find the resolute desire to build up harmony upon discord. Of this nature may be considered the traditional menu of New Year's eve, carp, pancake and punch. These three, brought into immediate juxtaposition and consumed in plethoric quantities, generally have the desired effect—that of inducing a hysterical good humor.

For stodginess nothing beats the favorite dish, panache. It consists of pickled pork, sour cabbage and a puree of split peas boiled down to the consistency of stiff dough. Experiments on this mass produce deplorable capers and cause one to grunt mournfully. A variety of this diet is found in Berlin. You substitute boiled balls of dough and indifferent prunes for the peas and cabbage, and you have the dish popularly termed "the Silesian kingdom of heaven." Cold eels, imbedded in a translucid, glutinous substance, figure in all workmen's taverns, while roast goose is de rigueur for all solemnities.

A dainty which we have recently met with in Berlin recalled Darwin's remark that "hardly any experiment is so absurd as not to be worth trying." It consisted of finely powdered horse radish served up with frozen whipped cream.

One may sum up one's judgment by saying of German cooking what the art critic said of nature, "It has infinite potentialities." Not the least of these is its ambition to discover victims that survive its charms only in the form that the walls of Jericho survived the trumpet blast of Joshua.—Lippincott's Magazine.

Protected Carrier Pigeons.

Carrier pigeons in China are protected from birds of prey by a little apparatus consisting of thin bamboo tubes fastened to the birds' bodies with thread passed beneath the wings. As the pigeon flies along the action of the air through the tubes produces a shrill whistling sound, which keeps birds of prey at a respectful distance.

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

Dodd's Kidney Pills ALWAYS CURE.

RIVALS A MIRACLE.

Mr. George C. Chalker's Terrible Sufferings Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Howsey's Rapids, Sept. 12—Mr. George C. Chalker, of this place, tells a remarkable story of restoration to sound health, that rivals the far-famed St. Anne de Beaupre cures.

Briefly Mr. Chalker's story is as follows: "I suffered horribly for years, from Kidney Disease. I could do no heavy work. My pain was almost unendurable. No remedy did me the least good till I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Six boxes of this wonderful medicine have cured me completely—made a new man of me. I cannot speak highly enough of them. I can state with the utmost confidence that Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure the very worst case of Kidney Disease.

He Got His Leave.

The Rev. Robert Nourse relates this story in The Congregationalist:

On a certain Sunday morning the orderly of the colonel of the Eighth Ohio presented himself before that officer. "Everything all right, colonel?" he asked. After looking around and finding that the tent had been put in order and his boots blacked he replied in the affirmative. "I have a favor to ask," said the orderly. "State it," said the colonel. "I beg that I may go off today, colonel, and go a little earlier and remain a little later." "For what reasons?" demanded the colonel. The orderly produced a letter and said, "Sir, I have received this from the president, and he invites me to dine at the White House."

The president of the United States is in every way to be ranked among the great rulers of the world. But the genuine and unaffected democracy of the man who now holds that exalted office is shown in this incident, which could not be paralleled in any other country in the world.

Santiago's Distinction.

Santiago de Cuba has an ecclesiastical distinction, and that is that it is the oldest bishopric in the western world. When all Pennsylvania was a traceless waste, an archbishop ruled a see of no mean proportions from that city and under that title. From the city of Santiago also went out the two great missionaries to the Indians and negroes, the first, Las Casas, who evangelized nearly all Central America, and the second, St. Peter Claver, who worked among the negroes of Brazil.—Philadelphia Call.

Millionaires' Street.

The latest census proves that in upper Fifth avenue there is a stretch of houses a mile and a half long that contains dozens of millionaires. It is for its length the highest socially, the most architecturally handsome and by far the most wealthy street in the world.—New York Telegram.

The Catarrh Clutch

This Disgusting Malady is at the Throat of 900 of every 1,000 of our Country's Population.

This Is Not Hearsay. It is Borne Out by Carefully Compiled Statistics of Diseases Most Prevalent. Its Development is Watched Carefully Because it is so Sure a forerunner of Consumption if Neglected. Most Catarrh Cures Contain Cocaine, which is a Dangerous Narcotic, and Prof. Heys, of the Ontario School of Chemistry and Pharmacy, says:—

"After an examination made from samples procured on the open market, I declare that there is no COCAINE contained in the preparation of Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure." Most astonishing results are daily coming into Dr. Chase's office of the cures made. Here are a few in condensed form. We ask you to call or write to the following parties if at all sceptical:

OSWALD BURKHARDT, 159 PORTLAND STREET, TORONTO, suffered from Catarrh for nine years, and was cured by Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure.

MR. J. PALMER, HAIR DRESSER, 673 QUEEN STREET WEST, TORONTO, could not sleep for years on account of the mucus dropping into the throat; cured by Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure.

MR. WHITCOMBE, OF THE METHODIST BOOK ROOM, TORONTO, suffered for two years; cured by one box of Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure.

MRS. COWLE, 467 QUEEN STREET EAST, TORONTO, thirteen years ago was attacked with Hay Fever. Never knew what it was to have any relief until she used Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure. If anyone troubled with Catarrh calls on Mrs. Cowle she will give her endorsation as to her cure.

BISMARCK.

Bismarck never moved to the right or the left when the aggrandizement of Germany was at stake.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Great man he was—great of will and brain—but he represented the instincts of a nation and was therefore the head of colossal events.—St. Louis Republic.

Of Bismarck it can now be said without hesitation he is in historical importance the greatest figure in political history since the death of Napoleon.—New York Tribune.

Gladstone was a democrat; Bismarck was an autocrat. Gladstone believed that authority rested in the people; Bismarck upheld the belief of the divine right of kings to govern.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

In his death all Germany, all the world, feels that a great natural force is gone. The most commanding figure of his time, one of the most commanding figures of all time, is henceforth only a memory instead of a possession.—New York Herald.

Bismarck's most dramatic triumph was the crowning of Emperor William at Versailles, but his genius was never more conspicuous than in the consolidation of the empire and the creation of alliances which would secure its future.—Baltimore American.

BABY SUPERSTITIONS.

Don't let a baby tread barefoot on a table; it will get sore feet.

A child will be puny if you put a hat on its head before it is a year old.

If a bachelor wheels about an empty baby carriage, he will never marry.

Coral beads and bells hung about the neck of a child will protect it from many evils.

If the baby has a decline of flesh, feed the cat out of the same dish, and she will run down and the baby will get well.

If a child is backward in speaking, take two loaves that have stuck together in the baking and break them apart over his head.

It is an old custom the first time a child is taken out of doors to put a silver coin in its little hand, so it will always gain money in the world.

Some old fashioned people believe that to measure a baby who is puny and sick will make it grow stronger, but others say to measure it will bring death.

If an orphan child comes to visit or live in your house, it is the best of luck. God looks out for them, and "good fortune will smile upon you like the summer sun."

Starving Children.

Thousands of well-fed children are starving, simply because their food is not of the right kind. They are thin, pale, and delicate. Scott's Emulsion will change all this. It gives vim and vigor, flesh, and force.

Sawfishes.

The pristiophoridæ, or sawfishes, are perhaps the most terrible in appearance of all the shark tribe. They are really a connecting link between the sharks and rays, partaking largely of the characteristics of the latter. The head is prolonged into a bony shaft varying in length and width, according to the size of the individual, but attaining a length of three feet and a width at the base of nine inches. On either side it is furnished with pointed teeth some distance apart, the whole weapon forming a formidable double edged saw carried horizontally. Neither does this awe inspiring monster attack man. It feeds upon the soft parts of certain sluggish fish, which it disembowels with the saw. Its teeth are few and feeble, and unless hard pressed by hunger it does not prey on garbage.—Spectator

LACROSSE.

The matter of the Orillia complaint in regard to being roughly handled in Peterborough on the occasion of the lacrosse match here on Sept. 9th was taken up by the Judiciary of the C. L. A. yesterday. The referee's decision in giving the game to Peterborough was upheld, but the match was nevertheless ordered to be played over again on neutral ground. In giving the match to Peterborough when the Orillias refused to continue play, the referee refused to announce a score. Peterborough's argument was that as the Orillias defaulted the score should be similar to that which would have been given if the team had not come at all. The referee denied having given the game "by default" although having used that expression before witnesses here.

After hearing the matter discussed for over two hours the Judiciary decided that that the game must be played over again. It was then urged by the Peterborough representatives that the match should be played in town. To this Orillia agreed, providing the president would referee the game and protection was guaranteed. The president refused to act and gave the two clubs until the 22nd to agree as to grounds and officials.

The decision of the referee was and was not upheld in the matter. The President after announcing that the decision should stand giving the match to Peterborough, then asked some one to move that the game be played over again. The council refused to cancel the lead that Orillia has in the series of three goals.

The matter of rough play on the part of the Peterboroughs was not gone into, the referee stating that the local men were no more to blame than the Orillias, which makes the decision of the Judiciary appear all the more inconsistent.

The rules clearly state that a game must be called and ordered to be played over again on neutral grounds provided a crowd persists in coming on the field. In Peterborough the crowd was on the field but once, and the referee stated yesterday that he considered the field clear when he ordered the game to proceed. He did not think the case could be governed by the rule, as the crowd did not persist in coming on the field after being sent off.

Peterborough was given no chance to offer any defence in the case, and not knowing what manner of complaint was to be made had no evidence to offer in rebuttal. On stating this the representatives were told that no matter how much evidence was brought in the game would have to played over again anyway. This settled the matter and the local delegates threw up the sponge.

After having been treated in this manner by the Judiciary it is not probable that the Peterboroughs will consent to meet the Orillias again.

A meeting of the Executive of the lacrosse club will be held at 7.30 this evening in the secretary's office.

The lacrosse team may go to Perth on the 21st, as the Easterners are very anxious to return the hospitality which was shown them on July 1st here.

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

A large number turned out yesterday and indulged in a good practice. The boys are fast rounding into shape and will soon be prepared to meet all comers. Tomorrow at 4 o'clock a practice game will be played between the following teams:—

I.		II.
Sandford Hall	back	Mooney
G Burnham	halves	W Hamilton
R Collins		V McWilliams
L King		F Lefevre
Kelly	quarter	A McClellan
C Gauthing	scrimmage	H Burnham
Lebar		Collier
J McPherson		C Bell
Reade	wings	Ardagh
Collins		Crossley
Ritchie		McBain
Mathias		Hogarth
Lynch		Phelan
Glover		J McCabe
Dunlop		Manson
		G Bell

Any others who wish to play are requested to turn out to-morrow. Miles Hamilton, the popular manager of the team, was watching the practice and gave the boys some valuable hints yesterday. The management would like to see some of the old time players, who have retired from active participation in the game, over to assist in coaching the boys.

A TRIBUTE TO A FAITHFUL DOG.

Done to Death by the Bullets and Bludgeon of a Zealous "Cop."

"Fidele H. Holland" writes:—"What kind of a dog he was I know not. He may have been a thoroughbred with a pedigree, or he may have been a mongrel "cur of low degree," but whatever he was he was "faithful unto death," and deserved praise instead of bullets from revolvers and blows from the batons of the constables who destroyed him.

"A certain man fell a victim to strong drink, and succumbed to its baleful influence on his way homeward. He had a friend who followed him faithfully, a poor dumb brute—his dog. One thing about a faithful dog is that he does not mind one wag of his tail whether his master is intoxicated or sober: he loves him just the same; that is much more than can often be said of human friendship. Poverty, intemperance, dishonesty, immorality and even cruelty cannot drive away your faithful dog—but either of these is apt to drive your human friend away. So much for the friendship of a dog. The certain man who fell by the wayside was faithfully guarded by his dog. Hour after hour, probably, the dumb creature sat by his prostrate companion, and watched him. Now the dog had reasoning powers; he argued in his canine mind that his master needed his care, that if he was found alone he might fare badly, so he stayed close by him and refused to let anyone touch the unconscious disciple of Bacchus. Then there arrived on the scene constables, who proceeded to attempt to take the dog's master to the lockup but poor doggie fought them off and battled bravely for his charge's freedom. I do not like to have to write what happened. This is a Christian country, and Canadians are very tenacious of their claims to philanthrophy, their general Christian principles and high standard of civilization, and what occurred on the dog's refusal to desert his helpless charge is hardly what one expects to hear could happen in a civilized Christian country, and in a town said to be second to none in judicial government. The poor dog was shot and finally beaten to death, and all for guarding his master. Poor dog! Brutal constable! But where is the S.P.C.A. in the town? Is there not a branch of the society there? If not, are there no tender-hearted women? Are there no men of kindly feeling to champion the cause of the poor dumb brutes in the place where this outrage occurred? If there are it is time for them to put a stop to such brutality for the honour and reputation of their town, if for no other reason."

ST. ANDREW'S Y. P. S. C. E.

Satisfactory Progress in the Work.

Although we have not heard from St. Andrew's Y. P. S. C. E. for some time through the newspapers the work has been going on and the meetings for the past two months have been under the supervision of the Session. Our regular business meeting was held on Monday evening last. Owing to the absence of the President, the Vice-President conducted the business of the evening. A number of the committees reported the work that had been done during the holiday months.

Miss Forsyth presented the topic, which was "It's Young People's Societies, its Work." Coming under the wing of the Presbytery, thus inviting them in friendly intercourse, tends very much to promote the welfare and usefulness to the church of the young people. She showed how it led to the cultivation of spiritual life in the study of the doctrines, history and work of the church, and the support of missionary, educational and benevolent schemes. We were pleased to have with us Rev. Mr. Day and Mr. McMullen. Mr. Day, Secretary of the Sabbath School Association, spoke in feeling terms of the wide avenues of usefulness in which the young people can be engaged. He closed with the warning against being at ease in Zion, after which Mr. McMullen offered prayer. The meeting closed in the usual way. Mr. Potter pronounced the benediction.

RAILROAD FARES TO THE PACIFIC COAST DOUBLED.

The End of Cheap Travelling in Sight—New Tariffs Issued to Take Effect on the 25th.

The railway rates from Toronto to the Pacific Coast will be about double what they now are when the rate war is brought to an end. The Grand Trunk Railway yesterday issued a new tariff, withdrawing the tariff issued on Wednesday, and again advancing rates from points in the Eastern States and the Suspension Bridge to the Pacific Coast. The new tariff is from stations in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and New York to all points on the Pacific Coast, including Vancouver, Victoria, New Westminster, Nelson and Rossland. The rate from the Suspension Bridge, N.Y., to Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster is $72.50 first and $60 second class. Neither the Canadian Pacific nor the Grand Trunk have announced rates from Eastern Canada, but it is probable that the rates from the Suspension Bridge will also apply from Toronto. At any rate there will be very little difference between the two rates. Before the rate war started rates from here were $61.20 first and $55 80 second class by the Canadian Pacific, and $73.90 first and $62 50 second by the Grand Trunk and American lines. Now the Canadian Pacific will charge just what the Grand Trunk and the American competitors are charging. The present cut rates are $35 first and $25 second class, so that the new rates are slightly more than double, and all travellers will have to pay them after Sept. 25.

The Canadian Pacific has formally notified the trunk lines that the new tariffs restoring rates are in preparation and rates to St. Paul, Minneapolis and Sault Ste Marie will be the same as the lowest differential rates between Chicago and Minneapolis. Tariffs are also being prepared on rates to the Pacific Coast via the Soo line and Port Arthur which will be the lowest of any differential rate via the American routes.

THE OUTLOOK.

The Outlook continues to give its readers a week-to-week history of the events of the war. In addition to the valuable letters of Mr. Geo. Kennan, which will still continue, although for a moment interrupted by an attack of fever, which compelled Mr. Kennan to return to this country from Cuba. The Outlook has printed many extracts from private letters about the war, is publishing from time to time extracts from "A Trooper's Diary," (being a diary of a young Amherst student who is now in Manilla), and, of course, gives in addition a connected history of events as they occur. The September Magazine Number contains an illustrated article on "Santiago after the Surrender," by Anna N. Benjemin, an instalment of "A Trooper's Diary," an account of "The Fight of the Rough Riders" as told by a private in one of the troops, an editorial examination of "Secretary Alger's Defence," and in other ways shows an active interest in the events preceding the declaration of peace. From the CROWN of the Head To the SOLES of the Feet!

WE COVER ALL.

Men's Hats, Men's Shoes, Men's Clothing, Men's Underwear, Men's Furnishings, All Under One Roof!

The first calendar month of Autumn, 1898, will bring us up to the greatest business we have ever known. Measure it by bulk, weight, dollars or transactions, we get the same great result—BIGGER THAN EVER BEFORE.

What makes Gough Bros. so distinctly Gough Bros. is the SPIRIT that actuates their business—all the time striving to serve our customers better and better—shortening the road from producer to consumer, and saving to buyers every penny of cost.

We maintain our well earned title of "THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MEN"—our fixed aim has been and will continue to be, to sell a $20 suit for $15. The suit you paid $17.50 for we can duplicate for $12.50. You may think our prices are sometimes too low—too low for good clothing—but if special prices or unusual discounts are given us, we take them off to you to make larger sales.

First Instalment of Fall Goods.

66 CASES—14 Huge Cases of Clothing and Furnishings, 40 Cases of Boots and Shoes, 12 Cases Hats and Caps.

Clothing—everything is brand new, fresh and clean—the handsomest and best Tailored Ready-to-Wear Clothing ever shown in Peterborough—selected for Peterborough's best trade.

HATS and CAPS.

We're able to discount the trade, because of unusual buying power. We go direct to the makers and insure fine qualities by knowing what to buy and what to let alone. If you're a judge of quality, it won't take any talking from the salesmen.

—On the finest Fur Fedora Hats we take off 35c., and ask only $1.65.
—On the best Fur Felt Stiff Hats we take off 50c., and ask only $2.00.
—On Men's Knockabout Hats we take off 20c., and ask only 35c.
—On Men's Silk Hats, latest styles, we take off 50c. and 75c., and ask only $3.00 and $3.75.
—Youths and Boys in same proportion.

BOOTS and SHOES

Warranted not to crack, nor take in washing. Ours isn't the common kind of Boots and Shoes. If anybody can beat the quality, the style, the price, we'll quit the business.

—On the best $3 Men's Selected Shape Balmoral or Congress, we take off 40c, and ask only $2.60.
—On the best Men's Fine Hand-Made Balmorals we take off 35c., and ask only $1.65.
—On the best Fine Patent Leather Oxford Shoes, turn soles, we take off 45c., and ask only $1.40.
—On the best French Dongola Kid Button (common sense) we take off 30c., and ask only $1.50.
—Misses', Boys', and Children's in same proportion.

CORRECTING A MISTAKE—Who sells the cheapest goods — themerchant who is compelled to buy in one higgling market, and is tied down to one grasping manufacturer, or the merchant who has the freedom of all the competing markets and manufacturers of the world? Do men buy Hats cheaper where nothing but Hats are sold, or Boots cheaper where nothing but Boots are sold, or Clothing cheaper where nothing but Clothing is sold? Might as well expect a farmer to do as well for his family by raising nothing but Pumpkins as if he raised a mixed crop.

20,000 ARE STARVING

As the Result of the Worst Storm of the Century.

300 PEOPLE WERE KILLED.

Terrible Effects of the Hurricane in the West Indies—St. Vincent Suffered Most Severely—Relief Funds Being Raised—Cargoes of Food—Message From the Queen.

Kingston, Jamaica, Sept. 17. — The hurricane of Sunday was undoubtedly the worst similar visitation experienced by the West Indies during the century, not excepting those of 1819 and 1867, both in violence and extent. The hurricane swept along the island chain from Barbadoes westward to St. Vincent, and thence northward to St. Kitts, where it was last heard from.

Barbadoes suffered mostly from the rain, which destroyed the crops and roads, as it did at St. Lucia and other islands, while the center of the storm swept St. Vincent and Guadaloup.

Details received from St. Vincent show that an unparalled destruction of life and property has taken place there. Out of a population of 41,000, 300 were killed and 20,000 were injured and rendered homeless. Besides this, owing to the complete destruction of the provisions, they are all starving. The island has been absolutely gutted by the wind and floods from the mountains, in addition to the waves along the coast.

There has been great loss to shipping along the track of the cyclone.

Relief funds are being raised in response to an appeal from the Governor of St. Vincent, where all descriptions of food and clothing and other necessaries were lost in the general destruction. The demand for building materials is unlimited.

The Queen's Sympathy.

London, Sept. 17.—Queen Victoria has sent a message of sympathy with the sufferers from the hurricane to the Governor of Barbadoes, and the Secretary of State for the Colonies, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, has also forwarded him a sympathetic message from the United States, where Mr. Chamberlain is now on a visit. The Governor of Barbadoes has renewed his appeal for aid. He cables that three-quarters of the population are without shelter and food, and that they are crowding into the populous centres, which, he explains, will not accommodate their own inhabitants.

Cargoes of food have been ordered to supply the immediate wants of the sufferers, but the relief must be continued and must be kept up for a long time to come.

ANGRY DONS.

The Man Who Surrendered Santiago Mobbed by the Spaniards—Gen. Linares to Count de Almenas.

Vigo, Spain, Sept. 17.—A crowd of about 700 people besieged the house of Gen. Toral yesterday, demanding that the troops which arrived here the day before from Santiago de Cuba on board the Spanish steamer Leon XIII., be immediately landed. They proceeded to the quays, cheering the troops, and were with difficulty dispersed by soldiers of the garrison. Afterwards, a crowd of about 1,500 people returned to the quays, and, when they saw the soldiers landing barefooted and nearly naked, they became infuriated and surrounded Gen. Toral's house, hooting and hissing, and stoning the building. Eventually the Spanish general succeeded in escaping to the Leon XIII. On learning this the mob gathered on the dock and stoned the steamer for half an hour, smashing the cabin windows. Eventually the Leon XIII. was obliged to leave the place where she was moored.

Gen. Linares to Count de Almenas.

Madrid, Sept. 17.—El Liberal says that General Linares, former Governor of the Province of Santiago de Cuba, has wired Count de Almenas as follows: "The responsibility for our misfortunes is directly traceable to persons like you, bearing titles and holding seats in the Chamber for their own benefit, who imagine they can with impunity injure those who suffered silently, and even attempt to divert their rewards. I, who honorably fought, reply to your accusations with disdain." This can mean nothing less than a duel when the two men meet.

PUBLIC VIEWED THE REMAINS.

Body of the Empress Laid in State in the Chapel at Hofburg.

Vienna, Sept. 17.—The public was permitted to view the casket containing the remains of the late Empress of Austria yesterday. It reposed on a catafalque in the chapel of Hofburg, where masses for the repose of the soul of the deceased were celebrated incessantly at three altars until noon.

Serious Rioting at Ho Chau.

London, Sept. 17.—The Shanghai correspondent of the Daily News says reports have been received there of serious rioting at Ho Chau, 50 miles from Chung Kiang. The American and French missions have been attacked and the latter burned.

A FISHERMAN SUNK.

Str. Gloucester Sinks the Sch. Alice Jordan and Nine of Her Crew Were Drowned.

Boston, Sept. 17.—The steamship Gloucester of the Merchants & Miners' Transportation Company, which arrived here yesterday forenoon from Baltimore, reports that at 1.30 o'clock in the morning she collided with the Gloucester schooner Alice Jordan off Martha's Vineyard and that nine of the Jordan's crew were drowned. Seven of the crew were saved and brought here on the Gloucester.

When north of Cottage City about 1.40 o'clock in the morning just after the big boat had steamed through Vineyard Sound, she crashed into a Gloucester fisherman that had sailed across her bows. The schooner, which afterwards proved to be the Alice C. Jordan of Gloucester, was cut down to the water's edge and rapidly filled. The officers on the Gloucester stopped the steamer at once and ordered the boats lowered. The schooner sank in a few minutes and before nine of the crew, who were asleep below, could reach the deck. The captain and six of the Jordan's men were taken from the water by the Gloucester's crew. The commander of the fisherman, Captain Jeremiah H. Warren, climbed in the rigging when his vessel was struck and was also rescued. The boats of the Gloucester searched for a long time for traces of the nine missing men, but nothing more was seen of them.

Captain F. M. Howes of the Gloucester says that the steamer had all her lights burning at the time of the accident and that his vessel was in no way to blame for the collision. The weather was cloudy and the night quite dark.

Captain Warren of the Jordan stated that the most of his crew were men recently shipped at Gloucester and that he did not know the names of those lost. It is thought that most of them were Nova Scotians.

JUDGE McGUIRE AT VANCOUVER.

A Positive Denial of the Charges of Corruption in the Klondike.

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 17.—Judge McGuire said yesterday that there had been no charges made against the administration of justice, so he was only indirectly concerned. He accepted the position one year and was leaving before his year was up. He had been accused of acting as correspondent of the Toronto Globe. He pleaded guilty to writing three news letters to that paper, but would give anybody $100 for every line of politics he found in them.

Regarding the leasing of the ground on the water front at Dawson City, 60 foot was taken off the road, which was too wide, and leased for one year at $30,000. This amount was appropriated for aiding two hospital buildings, building a Government road, and subsidizing the fire brigade. The shacks built on the ground are very flimsy and will be cracked like egg shells and washed away by the first ice flow. The contract can be terminated in one month.

"I do not know of a single corrupt act on the part of any Dominion official at Dawson," said Judge McGuire. "Placed under oath to-day I could give no instance of crookedness."

The Ottawa Temperance Rally.

Ottawa, Sept. 17.—The degree of interest taken in the plebiscite campaign by the people of Ottawa may be indicated by the statement that the dual attraction of the appearance of Hon. Sidney Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, and Hon. George E. Foster on the same platform to deliver temperance addresses did not bring together a crowd large enough to fill Harmony Hall. Mr. Fisher, as a prohibitionist, spoke only for himself and not for the Government, and Mr. Foster urged those who believed in prohibition to be sure and vote.

Crofton strongly denies his guilt. After serving one year for a similar crime, he went to Dyea, Alaska, where he struck it rich, and was on his way east to spend the winter when arrested.

WORSE THAN EARTHQUAKE.

Explosion at the Hamilton Powder Company's Works at Beloeil, Quebec.

St. Hilaire, Que., Sept. 17.—A severe shock, seemingly of earthquake, was felt here and in the surrounding district at 2.30 o'clock yesterday morning. It was caused by an explosion in the mixing-room of one of the mills of the Hamilton Powder Company at Beloeil. The building was totally destroyed, but no lives were lost. The shock here was more severe than that caused by any earthquake known to the oldest inhabitant. Windows and doors of buildings six miles away flew open and consternation reigned amongst the inhabitants.

Said to Be Six Times Wed.

Toronto, Sept. 17.—Henry O'Brien, brought from Perth, was in the dock at the Police Court yesterday. The prisoner is said to have six wives, but only two are residents of the city. He was not asked to plead or elect, but was remanded until next Thursday. The Magistrate refused an application for bail.

Fate of a Fisherman.

Simcoe, Ont., Sept. 17.—An inquest was held yesterday on the body of George Smith at St. William's, Coroner Hayes presiding. The jury brought in a verdict of accidental death. Smith was a fisherman and lived at Normandale. On Friday last he started for Long Point Bay in a sailboat. It is supposed that during the storm that raged that night he was struck by the boom of his boat and knocked into the bay and drowned.

Did you ever See a Snow Storm in Summer?

We never did; but we have seen the clothing at this time of the year so covered with dandruff that it looked as if it had been out in a regular snow-storm.

No need of this snowstorm.

As the summer sun would melt the falling snow so will

Ayer's Hair Vigor

melt these flakes of dandruff in the scalp. It goes further than this: it prevents their formation.

It has still other properties: it will restore color to gray hair in just ten times out of every ten cases.

And it does even more: it feeds and nourishes the roots of the hair. Thin hair becomes thick hair; and short hair becomes long hair.

We have a book on the Hair and Scalp. It is yours, for the asking.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the use of the Vigor, write the doctor about it. Probably there is some difficulty with your general system which may be easily removed. Address,

ONE OF MR. MULOCK'S ADMIRERS.

The magnanimity of the Mail and Empire is affecting. It treats political affairs and its political opponents, with wonderful fairness, liberality and ingenuousness. Its attitude towards Hon. Mr. Mulock, Postmaster General, is a case in point. The organ conceived it its duty, doubtless with the intention of stimulating Mr. Mulock's efforts in procuring the great boon of Imperial Penny Postage, to belittle his actions, cast doubt on his sincerity, minimise his zeal and put every obstacle possible in his way. This encouragement having operated to assist in Mr. Mulock's success, the Mail and Empire at once demanded, as the most pressing necessity, the adoption of a two cent letter rate for the Dominion. The Postmaster-General has so cleverly conducted his department, and with so greatly increased efficiency, that he has almost wiped out an immense deficit, and the organ evidently feels that under such management, with the reduced domestic postal rates, the department could be made to pay. Hence the clamour made for a two-cent rate, though the Mail and Empire, during the eighteen years the party it represented was in power, did not feel called upon to demand such a reform at the hands of its friends or even to demand an administration of the post office department that would bring receipts within cannon shot of expenditures. This implied lack of confidence in the ability of its political friends and in their regard for the best interests of the country, shows that the organ is not hide-bound in its party loyalty, but is dominated by a broad, non-partizan spirit. This is further evidenced by its attitude towards Mr. Mulock since his return from England.

The Mail and Empire having in mind the signal honours recently conferred upon Mr. Mulock by two of the most important and influential of the non-partizan organizations of the Dominion—the Toronto Board of Trade and the British Empire League—by whose members Mr. Mulock was banquetted, magnanimously refers to the "artificial Mulock boom," and hints at the minister "getting up banquets" in his own honour. In its simplicity, the organ reasons that banquets to distinguished citizens operate automatically, that funds by their own inherent motion place themselves to the credit of a spontaneously constituted committee, that caterers, musicians and other agencies of a great banquet, by intrinsic inspiration arrange the essentials and concomitants of such a function, that invitations write and despatch themselves, like Puck's world-girdling achievement, to their destination, and that the whole affair comes off with the eerie independence of human intervention of a fairy dance. It is generous and loyal of the Mail and Empire to give the most prominent Conservatives of Toronto the credit of being the catspaw of a designing, self-seeking, vain-glorious wardheeler like Mr. Mulock, and of having the splendid hypocrisy to stand up before the world and pay a tribute to his services to his country, and to the Empire, such as is seldom paid to a citizen, without meaning a word of it all, and, as the Mail would lead one to infer, for the consideration of a dollar or two. The Conservative organ in this regard, is a disgrace not only to high class journalism but is a shining credit to gutter journalism. Its shameful hounding of Mr. Mulock, especially, is a strong evidence of the great work he has accomplished. When the course of a public man leaves room only for the criticism implied in the disgraceful diatribes, dictated by bilious envy, of the official organ of a great party, no stronger confirmation of the justification of the eulogies of the foremost men of the Dominion, including the foremost men of the party opposed to him, no stronger evidence of the distinguished character of his public services could be furnished or desired.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

"JOHN DRYDEN'S turn has come," says the Brantford Expositor, and Mr. Calder's turn-down has also come.

IT is not slander to say in view of the management of the Spanish-American war that a miss is as good as a Miles,

MR. CALDER, erstwhile of South Ontario, did not keep his seat long enough to injure his health by the acquirement of sedentary habits.

EVERY bullet has its billet, and the Methodist Conference will do well, the London Advertiser thinks, to put a bullet into the billet system.

IT'S a wonder the Conservative organs have not taunted the Liberal Government with inconsistency in having anything to do with a Sir-plus.

THEY believe in goods roads in England, and find that it pays to look well after them. The largest item of expenditure by the Mother Country is that for the maintenance of main highways. Last year, according to official returns collected by the Imperial officers, the County Councils actually repaired 15,235 miles of these roads, and spent over $4,200,000 on them, or $275 per mile. Good roads pay every-There. They are easy to keep in good repair once they are properly constructed. The British municipal authorities are as careful of thier roads as are the railway managers of their roadbeds.

THERE are, it is estimated, 300,000 miles of highway roads in the United States, but most of them are scarcely worthy to be called roads. Great Britain has 120 miles of highways, and these as a rule are the best in the world. Germany has 275,000 miles of roads, and some of them are as poor as the roadways of a great country can be. France, which has taken an enlightened view of the good roads question for many years and has spent by governmental or local authority over $1,000,000,000 on highways, has a road mileage of 330,000—more than any other country. Russia, with an enormous area, has only 70,000 miles of roadbeds, while Italy, a smaller country, has 55,000.

AN extensive commercial concern, to be known as the Canadian Produce Corporation, and having, it is said, a capital of $1,000,000, mainly supplied by Englishmen, has been formed for the purpose of promoting a greater volume of trade in food products between this country and Great Britain. To accomplish this it will open up a large number of wholesale and retail establishments in the city of London, and no doubt other important centres will be reached in a similar manner. Heretofore it has been a disadvantage to Canada that her food products have lost their identity in the markets of Great Britain, and have been an almost unknown quantity, so far as the consumer is concerned. If an agency can be found that will maintain Canadian food depots and keep up the quality of the products there displayed, a great boom to our trade with the Mother Country is sure to result. It might be a good thing if such companies were put in receipt of some government subvention, and compelled in return therefor to submit to proper supervision.

MR. CALDER IN THE LEGISLATURE.

During the recent session of the Legislature it was a pet grievance of the Opposition that the Government was forcing its measures on the country by means of a "constable-elected majority." The contention was that they had no right to vote, that they were holding seats which of right belonged to Mr. St. John and other injured Conservative gentlemen. The Opposition were also extremely anxious that election matters should be left to the courts. The courts have begun their work, and the only person who is shown to have no right to sit in the Legislature is Mr. Calder, the Conservative who was supposed to represent South Ontario. True, he does not appear to have received the votes of any of those terrible constables but he did receive the votes of persons whose motives were connected with sums of money ranging from $2 to $5. When thirteen cases had been tried and twelve proven Mr. Calder gave up the contest and acknowledged that he was not fairly elected.

Had it not been for Mr. Hardy's thoughtful kindness in calling the Legislature together in the summer, Mr. Calder would not have been in the Legislature at all. Of course, having been invited along with the rest, he is not to be blamed for coming and voting, and acting in all respects as if he had been properly elected. Among other acts which he performed in this capacity was his vote for a resolution expressing regret for the absence of Mr. Dryden, or, to quote the words, "its regret that the Government has met the Legislative Assembly for the despatch of business with two members of the Executive, the heads respectively of two of the most important departments of the Government, without seats in the Legislative Assembly, having been defeated at the last general election." Mr. Calder is now aware that Mr. Dryden's regrettable absence was due to the acts of Mr. Calder's wicked agent. It is to be expected therefore, that he will show his anxiety for Mr. Dryden's presence in the House by allowing him to be returned unopposed. In this event we feel sure that the Minister of Agriculture will forgive his opponent for usurping his seat for a few brief weeks of the harvesting season. Thus everybody will be happy, and a grave constitutional crisis will be brought to an end.

The Government also gave Mr. Calder an opportunity of making a speech. Mr. Calder, says the Mail report, "began a very effective speech by gracefully attributing to the principles of the Conservative party the victory he has gained over the Minister of Agriculture." We do not suppose that Mr. Calder intended to do the Conserv tive party the injustice of representing that its principles involve the distribution of largesse in various forms. This was where the agent got in his fell work. It is an additional argument for an election by acclamation that it will not enable the agent to redeat his operations.—Globe.

CHAMBERLAIN'S PUNGENT ANSWER.

That is a rather shrewd reply of Joseph Chamberlain in answer to the enterprising interviewer's question as to when Great Britain would probably get out of Fgypt in view of her latest triumph there. "About the time the United States has settled all the difficulties she has tackled in Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines—perhaps sooner," said the wily Joseph, with a wink, persumably. The moral of which would seem to be that people who are considering the matter of occupying glass houses should not ask embarrassing questions.

LABOUR'S PRIVILEGE IN CANADA,

Montveal Witness.

On Labour Day the labouring people of America celebrated their annual holiday in honour of labour, and the events of recent years, in so far as the amelioration of the labouring man's position is concerned, well merit celebration. Shorter hours, better sanitat on both in homes and workshops, mutual benefit societies, with the much discussed "lodge doctor," and a host of other advantages and conditions, have rendered the labouring man very much more comfortable than in times past, without, on this continent at least, greatly curtailing his income. The labouring man in Canada perhaps enjoys more solid comfort than his fellows elsewhere. There are no fierce strikes, where passions are aroused upon both sides, a fact that speaks well for the justice and honesty of both employer and employees Food is not expensive, and the labourer in Canada, unlike his fellow in Europe, enjoys abundance of nourishing meat and drink. Wages are good, and for some time employment has been steady, while, to crown all, he is within easy reach of a magnificent stretch of prairie land, where, if he is thrifty and ambitious, he can secure a homestead, and the beginning of a home for future generations

AN ASSASSIN.

Dyspepsia is the Murderer of Health and Happiness.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are the Avengers—They Banish Dyspepsia, Indigestion and all Other Stomach Troubles.

Dyspepsia is an assassin foul and treacherous. It acts like the viper that the humane man found frozen on the roadside, and which he warmed to life and strength by his cheerful fireside. It repaid him by stinging him.

Dyspepsia strikes when every prospect points to good health. When a man or a woman enjoys the best food it makes its attack.

Many people blame their food when they are afflicted by dyspepsia. But it is not the food that causes the trouble.

If the stomach is in good health it will digest the food. That's its business. That's what it is there for.

But if it is "out of order," it can't digest the food, any more than you can work when you are sick.

That is when, and why Dyspepsia comes.

It is plain then, that the only way to get rid of Dyspepsia, is to put the stomach in such condition that it can properly digest the food.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets do this. And while they are toning and strengthening the stomach, to enable it to do its work as it ought to do, they do its work—that is, they digest the food.

You see, therefore, that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are the great, in fact, the only cure for Dyspepsia, for they are the only remedy on earth that can do these two things.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are not cathartic. But, with each box of them, there goes a supply of small brown Tablets, the best, surest, and gentlest laxatives ever made.

These, with Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, put both stomach and bowels in perfectly healthy condition. Try them. They'll pay you a thousandfold.

WOMEN OFTEN OBJECT

When the husband or son joins a Court in a Society because it takes up one or two nights a month, but when they are bereaved of their helpmeet and receive the Insurance so long worked and planned for by the loved one who has been called hence, opinion changes quickly. There are no stronger friends of the Canadian Order of Foresters than the 3,500 widows and orphans who have been kept from possible want and poverty by the Insurance and Sick Benefit moneys paid by the Society. This is not a charity, the money is fairly earned, and not the least part of the consideration is the self-sacrificing work of the Brethren who attend lodge and conduct the business of the society without fee or price for their services. It is for the benefit of wives, sons and daughters, fathers and mothers, that the C.O.F. carries on its great work, and its noble principles have been amply sustained by Canadian womanhood.

Benefits. Each Court may provide for Sick and Funeral Benefits and the attendance of a skilled physician during illness.

The High Court gives a weekly allowance of from $3 to $8 during illness or disability as provided in the Sick and Funeral Benefit Law, and on the death of a member contributes $30 towards his funeral expenses.

After satisfactory proof of the death of a member in good standing, the wife, children, or designated payees of deceased, receive from the Order the amount of insurance provided for, as named in their Insurance Certificate or Certificates, which may be $500, $1,000, $1,500 or $2,000.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Pethick, of Rochester, spent last week in the village visiting friends.

Mr. John Dinwoodie is able to go out now, but on crutches. It will be some time before his ankle will sustain him.

Our local News editor left here ostensibly to take in the Toronto Fair, but on going found greater attraction at a way station, where he stayed off for a few days.

Miss Merita Nelson is visiting friends in Lindsay.

The Lakefield fall fair will be held this year on Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 21st and 22nd, instead of October 4th and 5th as previously announced. Farmers and others should make a note of this and take it in, as it is among the first fairs this season in the district, and will, from all reports, surpass anything of the kind in former years. The directors are putting their best foot foremost to make this one their most successful fairs. Handsome bills are out announcing the fact.

Asthma Cure vs. Asthma Relief.

It is a recognized fact among those suffering from Asthma that the longer they use the temporary relief Asthma remedies which require to be burned, the worse they become, until it loses its effect entirely. Clarke's Kola Compound is not among this class, but will permanently cure the worst case of asthma in from 60 to 90 days. Mr. F. J. Painton, proprietor of Painton Music Store, Vancouver, B. C., writes : "I have been a great sufferer from asthma in its worst form for over 15 years, and had consulted many physicians both in England and Canada, but obtained no relief. A friend of mine who had been cured by the Kola Compound advised me to try it, and three bottles have entirely cured me ; it is now over two years since my recovery and asthma has not troubled me since ; and previous to taking Clarke's Kola Compound I have many nights had to sit up nearly all night. It is truly a wonderful remedy, and it affords me much pleasure in attesting my appreciation of anything so worthy." Clarke's Kola Compound is sold by Ormond & Walsh. Free sample bottle sent to any person. Mention this paper. Address The Griffiths & Macpherson Co., 121 Church street, Toronto, or Vancouver, B. C., sole Canadian agents.

LASSWADE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Miss Cassie McFadden is home from Lakefield on a visit.

Mrs. Youman and Miss E.A. Bullied were the guests of Mrs. Dingman and Maud, yesterday.

Constable Robinson from Campbellford, was on a business trip here last week.

The frost is banging off well this fall.

On Saturday, Sept. 3rd, Mr. John McFadden was taken very ill at Mr. J. Radcliffe's while attending the thrashing. He was taken home in a critical condition. The doctor has been in attendance two days.

On Thursday night at 12 o'clock Charles Wease drove to Mr. McFadden's for the doctor to attend his brother Louis. While he was ahead of the doctor carrying a lantern, he suddenly stopped walking, the horse knocking him down and injuring him severely. This morning Charles is far worse than Louis. Sympathy is extended Mr. and Mrs. Wease in their trouble.

The threshing machine has got as far as S. Bullied's.

Miss Moffatt, the new teacher at No. 13 school, is giving good satisfaction.

—The Merchants' and Buyers' Benefit Association, a coupon scheme which was introduced in Peterborough and elsewhere in Ontario some time ago, is alleged to be defunct. Of late the scheme has been run by a Toronto lawyer, who has dropped $1,200 trying to bolster it up.

FRENCH TO BE OUSTED

Fashoda to Be Claimed as Egyptian Territory.

KITCHENER HAS AUTHORITY.

The Dreyfus Affair Is, However, Causing More Immediate Excitement in France, But Marchand's Expulsion May Wake the Indifferent Frenchmen Up—Rumor of Fighting in Crete.

Paris, Sept. 17.—Official circles and the public generally are in no way perturbed by the news from Fashoda. On the contrary they appear to be indifferent. Much greater excitement prevails respecting the Dreyfus affair. It is understood that M. Marquejouls, Minister of Commerce; M. Tillaye, Minister of Public Works, and M. Biger, Minister of Agriculture, will accompany General Zurlinden, Minister of War, in retiring.

TO EXPEL THE FRENCH.

Gen. Kitchener Will Present Britain's Ultimatum and if Necessary Act.

London, Sept. 17.—A despatch to the Morning Post from Cairo says that General Kitchener has absolute authority to claim Fashoda as Egyptian territory, and to expel the present occupants, forcibly if necessary. Fashoda, the correspondent says, will then be occupied by an Egyptian garrison.

The Daily Telegraph's Cairo correspondent says that General Kitchener intends to present an ultimatum, demanding that the French expedition under Major Marchand quit Fashoda forthwith.

Rumor of Fighting in Crete.

Athens, Sept. 17.—It is rumored that a conflict between insurgents and Turkish troops has occurred near Candia.

Will There Be a Revision?

Paris, Sept. 17.—The newspapers here say the Minister of Justice, M. Sarrien, has completed the examination of the documents in the Dreyfus case and that he will communicate to the Minister at the Cabinet Council to be held to-day. The general opinion is that the Cabinet will adopt the proposal for a revision of the case unanimously, with the exception of the Minister of War, General Zurlinden, who has informed the Minister of Justice that he intended to resign if it should develop that he does not agree with his colleagues. According to the Gaulois, the result of the decision of the Minister of Justice will be a Ministerial crisis, as other Ministers will also resign.

Mr. Curzon's Successor.

London, Sept. 17.—Mr. George Wyndham, Conservative member of Parliament for Dover since 1889, has been appointed Under-Secretary to the Foreign Office, in succession to Right Hon. George N. Curzon, the newly appointed Indian Viceroy.

Up in a Balloon Over Five Miles.

London, Sept. 17.—Next to the highest balloon ascension on record was made here yesterday from the Crystal Palace, Sydenham, by Stanley Spencer, aeronaut, and Dr. Berson. The balloon, which was inflated with pure hydrogen and has a capacity of 58,500 cubic feet, attained an altitude of 27,500 feet. At a height of 25,000 feet the air was so rarefied that the occupants of the car were compelled to breathe compressed oxygen by tubes. The temperature was 61 degrees below freezing point.

A PRICELESS NECESSITY.

Kidney Disease Cannot Hurt when Dodd's Kidney Pills are Used.

Healthy kidneys are absolutely necessary for the production of pure blood.

Pure blood is absolutely necessary for good health—yes for life itself.

If the kidneys are weak, or diseased, the blood is impure, poisonous, and the general health breaks down, before the attack of specific disease.

Dodd's Kidney Pills restore weak and diseased kidneys to health and strength. They stimulate them to proper action, enabling them to filter the poison out of the blood.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only medicine known that can and will do this. Therefore, they are priceless and indispensable. All forms of Kidney Disease are cured by them.

Dodd's Kidney Pills have a unique record—Twenty thousand cures, not one failure. You should try a box.

RATE WAR RIDICULOUS.

Seventy-Five Cents From Buffalo to Rochester and Return.

Buffalo, N.Y., Sept. 17.—The rate cutting war between railroads running east from Buffalo has reached what a prominent ticket agent yesterday called "the ridiculous stage." Round-trip tickets were put on sale by the Erie road between Buffalo and Rochester at 75c. This is a drop of $2.25 and makes the rate one-third of a cent per mile. The other roads are expected to meet the cut.

She was married several years ago to Dr. Thomas H. Burchard. She is described as a woman of great beauty. The wedding was attended by Mrs. Sanford's father and by Mr. Sanford's children and grandchildren.

FUTURES HEAVY.

Wheat Took a Turn Downward for Futures, Although Immediate Delivery Was Higher - Prices.

Friday Evening, Sept. 16.

On the Liverpool board to-day, wheat for immediate delivery advanced sharply, and futures opened up at an advance over yesterday's close. At the close spot wheat held the advance of 1d to 2d per central, but late futures showed a decline of ¾d to 1d as compared with the previous final figures.

The weakness of futures at Liverpool made itself felt at Chicago, and this month's delivery declined 1⅝c, while the December and May options fell off ⅜c and ⅝c, respectively. The set-back was helped by large Northwest receipts and by a slump in cash prices at Duluth. The Chicago close was near the bottom.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

East Buffalo, N.Y., Sept. 16.—There was one load of sale cattle, which was sold at strong Monday prices. Calves were in light supply, active demand and higher. Choice to extra were quotable $7.75 to $8; good to choice, $7.25 to $7.75. The outside figure was more readily obtainable than yesterday, when only a few sold at $8.

Sheep and Lambs—The offerings were too liberal for the demand and generally ruled lower, except sheep, which were firm, being in proportionately light supply. The total offerings were 40 loads, including 10 loads left over, the latter fact having the usual depressing effect on prices. Lambs sold principally on the basis of $5.50 to $5.75, with a few sales of fancy selected at $6, but in the latter case it was usually small bunches. Choice to extra, $5.25 to $5.50; common to fair, $4.50 to $5. Sheep, choice to extra, $4.50 to $4.75; good to choice, $4.25 to $4.50; common to fair, $3 to $3.50. There were seven loads left over at the close.

The Declining Birth Rate.

Montreal, Sept. 16.—At the Provincial Synod yesterday, Rev. Mr. Williams of Stratford presented a resolution to the Synod, viewing with much anxiety the low birth rate in Ontario, and memorializing the Government to inquire whether if this was due to defective registration or to a more serious cause. This will be discussed at a later date.

The resolution stated that the birth rate in the Province of Ontario for some years, 20.7 per thousand of the population, is lower than the birth rate of France.

CONSTIPATION.

In the summer especially should the bowels be kept free, so that no poisonous material shall remain in the system to ferment and decay and infect the whole body. No remedy has yet been found equal to B.B.B. for curing Constipation, even the most chronic and stubborn cases yield to its influence.

"I cannot say too much in favor of Burdock Blood Bitters, as there is no remedy equal to it for the Cure of Constipation. We always keep it in the house as a general family medicine, and would not be without it." MRS. JACOB MOSHER, Pictou Landing, N.S.

B.B.B. not only cures Constipation, but is the best remedy known for Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Jaundice, Liver Complaint, Kidney Disease and Blood Humors.

PROTECTION FOR OUR LOVED ONES.

Paine's Celery Compound a Safe Medicine for Every Home.

A FAMILY FRIEND IN TIMES OF SICKNESS.

One ailing, sick or diseased member of a family will mar and disturb the happiness of the entire household. In some homes, the breadwinner or father is laid low, or it may be the mother, that ever-present guardian angel is, owing to illness, unable to look after the wants and comforts of her little ones. Sometimes a son or daughter is robbed of buoyant spirits and youthful health, becomes a prey to disease and suffering.

Any such case as we have mentioned will make its influences felt amongst those most deeply interested. The physician is called in to fight against disease, and long, weary days are passed with perhaps little benefit to the sick one, and increasing anxiety and tremendous cost to the family in moderate circumstances.

When sickness comes to a family that make Paine's Celery Compound their chosen medicine, how different the situation! There is always perfect confidence of success and cure, and a safety that no heavy doctors' bills will be forthcoming.

If the patient is suffering from the kidney or liver troubles, rheumatism, neuralgia, stomach ailments or blood diseases, Paine's Celery Compound is far more efficacious and life-giving than anything else on earth. The sick ones soon get strong and well, and feel the life current once more flowing joyously through every vein. Paine's Celery Compound as a family medicine is a heaven-sent blessing to our people.

We all have a certain weakness for widows, especially when they are as captivating as "The Real Widow Brown," which comes to the Opera House, Tuesday evening, Sept. 20th, chaperoned by the able mangement of Mr. A. It is a farce-comedy of the most amusing type, replete with bright songs and merry dances interpreted by some of the best artists in the theatrical world. It possesses a decidedly amusing plot full of absurd complications and yet withal clean and pure. Seats are now on sale at the uptown Grand Trunk Railway office.

GAVE HIM A SEND OFF.

Peterborough's Most Popular Athlete Has Left for the West—How as Appreciated.

Last evening representatives from every branch of athletic sport gathered in the Oriental hotel for the purpose of bidding farewell to Mr. W. J. Montgomery, who has been promoted to the position of accountant of the Port Arthur branch of the Ontario Bank.

On assembling in the parlour Mr. J. H. Burnham stepped forward and on behalf of the cricketers expressed the regret of the club at Mr. Montgomery's departure in a very neat speech in which he complimented the guest of the evening on the position which he had always taken in athletic circles in endeavouring to promote clean sport. Mr. Myles Hamilton then presented Mr. Montgomery with a set of brushes inscribed with his mongram in silver.

On behalf of the Hockey Club Mr. H. R. H. Kenner then addressed Mr. Montgomery, speaking in highly eulogistic terms of his connection with the game in Peterborough, being known as the "father of hockey."

Mr. Lionel King then presented the hockey club's gift, consisting of a sterling silver tobacco jar and a silver mounted pipe.

Mr. W. D. Parker expressed the regret of the lawn tennis club at losing one who for so many years had been their champion, and Mr. R. B. Rogers spoke to the same effect on behalf of the rugby football club.

"Monty" was completely bowled out by the many expressions of good will which were expressed by the different speakers, and stated that he felt bad enough about leaving town even before he was aware of the manner in which he was appreciated in town. In the event of a hockey club being formed in Port Arthur, he guaranteed to bring them on a trip to Peterborough.

The evening was brought to a close by a game supper, which was served at Welsh's restaurant, and was tendered Mr. Montgomery by his friends who have been boarding at the same place with him. A number of the bankers also participated. Teddy Welsh outdid himself in the supper which he served. It certainly reflected a great deal of credit on his skill as a caterer.

Mr. Montgomery left this afternoon for the West.

CHARLOTTE STREET CHOIR.

The Members Remember Two of Their Number About to Share Connubial Joys.

The members of the choir of the Charlotte street Methodist church met at the residence of Mr. A. L. Davis last evening and spent several hours very pleasantly.

During the evening Mayor Davis read the following address to Miss Batten and Mr. Parsons, whose nuptials have been announced for next week:

Miss Batten and Mr. Parsons:

DEAR FRIENDS:—Your fellow members of the choir of the Charlotte street church take advantage of this opportunity, on the occasion of your approaching assumption of closer relations, to offer their cordial congratulations and to extend their best wishes for future happiness.

During the course of the effective service you have contributed as faithful members of the choir, we have learned to hold you both in the highest esteem, and we assure you that in both in a social and musical sense your absence will be greatly felt. In witness of the friendly feelings you merits have created, we ask your acceptance of this dinner and tea service as a momento of past pleasant intercourse, coupled with the earnest wish that it may assist in contributing to the comfort and convenience of your future home, in which, as well as in all the relations of your lives, we hope the musical harmony in which you have participated will be equalled by the domestic harmony and the highest happiness in all the years of your earthly career.

Signed on behalf of the choir,

After Mr. Parsons had suitably acknowledged the handsome present, refreshments were served, bringing a delightful evening to a close.

THE M'CREARY ROBBERY.

Mrs. McCreary Returns Home and Ascertains What Things Have Disappeared.

The police find it hard to determine whether it was boys or men who broke into Mr. James McCreary's residence, on Walton street. The work is eminently that of boys, yet what boys should want with Mr. McCreary's clothing is what makes the case puzzling.

Mrs. McCreary has returned to town and has a fair idea of the things which are missing. A serge suit, a broadcloth suit and the trousers of a dress suit belonging to Mr. McCreary have disappeared, as well as a number of his outing shirts and some undershirts as well. The intruders did not understand, apparently how to force locks, as the sideboard was not broken into. The drawers were removed and an effort was made, by reaching in, to remove the silverware, but the pieces were too large to be drawn through the opening, although some silver napkin rings were secured in the drawers and a fine set of silver cutlery was taken. A visit was paid to the cellar and the contents of half a dozen bottles of wine and a bottle of brandy either drunk or spilled. A jug of cider was brought up into the dining room and as an evidence that the police were hard on the trail of the thieves the table cloth was yet damp from the cider spilled upon it when it was discovered that the house had been broken into.

Upstairs an effort was made to open certain bureau drawers which were locked and in failing in this someone has scratched across the front of the bureau the words "You next time." A peculiar fact exists in the circumstance that every comb in the house has disappeared whilst none of the brushes were molested.

Mrs. McCreary places the loss, altogether, at about $100.

THE EXHIBITION.

The Board Met Last Evening and Completed the Prize List.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Peterborough Central Exhibition, held last evening in the council chamber, there were present President Fitzgerald and Messrs. Bennett, Vance, Garbutt, Winch and Stothart.

It was arranged that an engagement be made with the 57th Battalion Band for both afternoons and one evening.

Mr. Thos. Hall was appointed superintendent of the inside of the main building, with instructions to engage his own assistants.

The heats in the trot or pace will be also three out of five, instead of two out of three.

In ladies' work the section of carved wood work will be added to the prize list. As this is something new a large number of entries are expected in this class.

FIRE IN EMILY.

Mr. Sidney Bailey's Fine Brick Residence Totally Destroyed Yesterday.

At about half past four o'clock yesterday afternoon a spark from the chimney lit on the roof of Mr. Sidney Bailey's house on lot 22, concession 3, Emily, near Fowler's Corners.

The men were away from the house at the time and by the time they could be summoned the fine structure was a mass of flames. No efforts could save it and the attention of all was concentrated in an endeavour to prevent the barn buildings, only 25 feet away, from taking fire. Fortunately a favourable wind blew the sparks in an opposite direction and by keeping the barn roof wet buildings, which are large and well-built, were saved.

The house was insured through Messrs. Cox & Davis in the Royal for $1,000 and is a total loss. It was valued at $3,000.

OBITUARY.

The Late Mrs. Thomas J. Sabin.

After an illness of about two and a half years from heart disease, Jane Martha Fairman, relict of the late Thomas J. Sabin, passed away at the family residence, 46 Chamberlen street. What adds to the severity of the family affliction is the fact of her demise following so closely upon the lamentable death of Mr. Sabin, who was accidentally drowned in Little Lake on July 18th. The deceased lady was born in Crayford, Kent, England, and was united in marriage to her late husband at Crayford church, Bexley Heath, on Nov. 13th, 1869, and shortly after came to reside in Peterborough. Mrs. Sabin was, since her residence in Peterborough in her days of health, a zealous participant in the church work of St. John's, and more recently of All Saints. She leaves behind to lament her loss, eight children, the youngest 12 years of age. The funeral takes place from the family residence to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, to the Little Lake Cemetery.

ALMOST A CENTENARIAN.

Demise of Jeremiah O'Shea, in Asphodel, on Sunday Last.

Mr. Jeremiah O'Shea, who died at his residence, lot 12, con. 7, Asphodel, on Sunday, September 4th, was a native of the parish of Askeaton, County Limerick, Ireland. He, with his brother, came to this country in the early part of the present century. At that time this part of the country was nothing more than what might be called a "howling wilderness" infested, as it was, by bears, wolves and venomous reptiles, and many and interesting have been the narrations related by Mr. O'Shea of the adventures, hardships and privations incident to life in those early days.

The O'Shea family first settled in the vicinity of the town of Cobourg, having shortly afterwards removed to the farm on which the late Mr. O'Shea had resided continuously for about seventy years and where, with Christian resignation, his death occurred on the morning of Sunday, Sept. 4th. Quite early in life deceased was called upon to assume the responsibility of the family, his father having been drowned in Rice Lake while attempting to cross it on his way to Cobourg.

Mr. O'Shea was married in 1843 to one Ellen Brennan, of Merrickville, Ont., a very estimable lady, whom he survived some seventeen years and by whom he had a family of three sons and two daughters, all living. Thomas and John being in California, U. S., and Michael on the old homestead with his sisters Mary and Nellie.

Mr. O'Shea had within him all the essentials that go to make up good citizenship. He was law-abiding and temperate, faithful and respectful to his family, generous and sympathetic to friends and neighbours and was upright and honourable in his relation towards men.

His funeral took place on Tuesday, Sept. 6th, the procession going first to St. Paul's church, Norwood, where Rev. Father Conway, after divine service, feelingly alluded to his graces and merits; thence to the cemetery where the mortal remains of a good, a tender, a patient Christian man were forever laid at rest. Requiescat en pace.—Com.

A LEGAL COMPLICATION.

Four Years in the Courts Fighting over a Farm in Otonabee—The Case Still in the Lawyers' Hands.

A farm in Otonabee, which was originally owned by the late David Henderson, sr., is the subject of litigation in the Court of Appeal at Osgoode Hall, Toronto. It has been over four years in the courts, and the history of the case illustrates the complications of the law.

The farm in question was occupied by Robert Henderson, a married son of the late David Henderson, sr., and it was the intention of the owner to give it to him eventually. Robert pre deceased his father, and the latter declined to give the farm to the widow, and when he died the executors of the estate, who were two sons, named David, jr., and John H., endeavoured to gain possession of the estate. Their suit was successful against the widow of Robert. She appealed and had the verdict reversed by the Divisional Court. The case was taken to the Court of Appeal, and the original verdict was sustained. The widow had a daughter named Mossie and she claimed the farm. At the trial the executors were successful, and the young girl appealed unsuccessfully to the Divisional Court. She has now another appeal in the Court of Appeal.

During the litigation Mrs. Robert Henderson and her daughter have occupied the farm in dispute.

NORWOOD WEDDING.

Celebration of the Nuptials of Miss Blanche Fry and Mr. Geo. Cumming.

A happy event took place at the Baptist parsonage, Norwood, on Wednesday afternoon, when Mr. George Cumming, operator at Blairton, and youngest son of Mr. James Cumming, sr., of Norwood, and Miss Blanche Fry, daughter of Mr. J. S. Fry, also of this place, were married by the Rev. Wm. Peer.

The bride was attended by Miss Fanny King, of Peterborough, and the groom by Mr. Fred Prout, of Marmora.

After the ceremony the happy young couple took the westbound train for Toronto and Hamilton, where they will spend a few days with friends. The bride was the recipient of a number of handsome presents, including a gold watch, the gift of the groom, and a beautiful clock from the groomsman.

A COOL CUSTOMER.

He Tries to Get Away With a Bicycle in Norwood, but is Collared.

A tramp who gave his name as John Graham, and said that his home was in Boston, was brought before J. B. Pearce, Esq., Warden of the County, at Norwood on Wednesday afternoon on the charge of stealing a bicycle belonging to Mr. Archie Robinson, of that village. According to the evidence given by Mr. Robinson, Graham went to the electric light station at 11.15 p m. Tuesday, and after remaining for a few minutes, took his departure. At 11 30 when Mr. Robinson shut down for the night he discovered that his bicycle which he had left outside the door had been stolen. Securing a light he followed the track up into the village and on towards Hastings. He met Mr. F. Raddon coming into the village, who informed him that he had passed a man with a bicycle below the hop yard. Mr. Raddon returned with him, and they overtook the thief at Mr. R. Ferguson's, where he had stopped to fix the seat of his wheel. They then secured the services of Constable Iles who took charge of the man and placed him in the lock up. Mr. Pearce remanded him to appear before the County Police Magistrate at Peterborough.

ARE VERY WRATHY.

Lindsay Steamboat Owners Think They are Suffering a Hardship.

The Lindsay Post says: "Some of our local steamboat men are "wrathy" as a result of the visit of Inspector R. W. Errett, of Peterborough. It appears that for some reason a section of the marine law compelling the registration and inspection of steam yachts, palace barges and scows has not been enforced on these waters, and Mr. Errett has been deputed by the department to ascertain the names of the delinquents and compel them to pay their just dues. The yacht men think it is quite proper that the owners of waterlogged and rotten scows should be made suffer, while the steamboat men consider it only fair that passenger-carrying yachts should have to pass a rigid inspection, but say to have scows inspected yearly is pushing a good thing too far. We understand that several boat-owners will have to pay considerable sums."

CORUNDUM IN THE COUNTY.

An English Syndicate Which is Operating Near Stony Lake.

We have obtained information from persons residing in Methuen township, that last week two tons of corundum was shipped from a mine about a mile southeast of Big Mountain Lake, and only three miles from the head of Stony Lake. The mining is superintended by Mr. F. Lewis, who is from England and represents an English syndicate. As yet he has only commenced operations with a few men—"getting out samples," as he says' but the force will be increased later on.

Several fine veins of this valuable mineral which is attracting so much attention among mining men, have been discovered on a property only about a mile and a half from the one above mentioned, and this, too, will no doubt be operated soon. The first named property is owned by a syndicate, and the other by a man residing in Northumberland county. It is estimated that both properties will turn out large quantities of corundum.

THE CANADIAN CLOAK TRADE.

A Peterborough Merchant's Opinion of the American Bid for it.

"Crerand's Cloak Journal," published monthly by W. F. Crerand & Co., New York, some time since sent out a large number of copies of circular letters addressed to certain members of the Canadian retail dry goods trade. The circular is as follows:

"Do you not believe that the retail cloak trade of Canada would be quickened and its profits increased by the use of goods made in the United States rather than in Germany, provided American manufacturers were enabled by tariff changes or otherwise, to meet European prices on these goods?

"Would not Canadian retailers derive an immense advantage from the greater facility with which orders for current needs could be placed in the United States, and from the reduction in their stocks which would follow the substitution of cloaks and suits made in this country for those now imported from Europe?

"From the comparison which you have undoubtedly made between New York and Berlin goods, do you not believe that the former are better adapted to the Canadian market than the latter?"

Among the replies received was the following from Mr. Robert Fair of the Golden Lion:

It affords me much pleasure to submit the following from the standpoint of a Canadian merchant who has been depending largely on Berlin for these garments for the past twelve to fifteen years.

The cloak trade in Canada has undergone a marked change during the past few years. Canadian enterprise has been experimenting, and in some measure quite successfully, in the production of ladies' outer garments made up from our own domestic and imported cloths.

I am free to admit, however, that whenever we are of necessity compelled to look to other countries for certain lines—all things being equal—the close proximity of our American neighbours would undoubtedly give the New York markets a very decided advantage.

The American cloaks are very favourably received by Canadians, as the styles are much appreciated, and, altogether, well adapted to the tastes of the Canadian people.

The demand for American styles for some time has been growing very noticeably.

Besides, as you suggest, the facility with which current needs could be executed from New York or other American centres would be a great benefit to the retail merchant in lessening the evil of carrying heavy stocks.

Can't Sleep.

The weary vigils of the night, anxious hours that drag like days. How often they come, and how unwelcome they are. A system robbed by sleeplessness of natural rest cannot be vigorous and strong. The nerves are at fault and must be built up. Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are the remedy that cured

MISS EMMA TEMPLE.

HERE IS WHAT SHE SAYS:

At last, after eight months of physical weakness and nervous prostration, caused by over exertion and want of rest,—during which time I suffered greatly on account of the shattered condition of my nerves, and for which I was unable to find any relief. I have found a medicine (Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills) that in three months made my nerves strong, removed all nervous troubles, built up my physical system and made me strong and well. They removed despondency, and in consequence of taking your valuable Pills I look forward to the future hopefully. I have to thank your great cure for nervousness and bodily weakness for my present good health and strength.

Yours truly,
Signed, EMMA TEMPLE, Hastings, Ont.

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents per box, 5 boxes for $2.00, at druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by The Dr. Ward Co., 71 Victoria St., Toronto. Book of information free.

WILL THE ALLANS GET IT?

Report in London That Canada Is to Have a Fast Line After All.

London, Sept 16.—The Financial News says the Allan Steamship Company will probably secure the contract for the fast Atlantic steamers. Negotiations, it states, point to a satisfactory settlement which will give Canada a fast Atlantic line. Among Canadians here it is the emphatic opinion that no contract should be awarded without tenders being called for.

Every mail brings a large number of letters from Canada which are overweight, and, therefore, call for the payment of double postage. Canadian correspondents, it appears, never weigh their letters, and the inconvenience arising is such as to create the opinion that the matter deserves the early attention of Hon. William Mu look.

A picture of Halifax in 1750 has been discovered in the British Museum.

A Canadian postage stamp, value seven pence half-penny, Halifax currency, or sixpence sterling, was sold by auction yesterday, bringing $9, or three hundred and sixty times its nominal value. This stamp became obsolete in 1857.

VESUVIUS VOMITS FIRE.

The Old Volcano Is Presenting a Grandly Awful Spectacle.

Naples, Sept. 16.—Mount Vesuvius is now presenting the grandest spectacle since 1872, due to a violent outburst of activity. The central crater and a number of new mouths are vomiting lava and ashes. Three imposing streams are flowing down the mountain side, burning the chestnut woods at the base of Monte Somma, nearly reaching the observatory, destroying part of the funicular railroad leading thereto, and threatening the barracks of the carbineers.

A business man is not the most patient creature in the world. He cannot wait to hear any long drawn-out story of the cause of his ailment. He does'nt care two straws about a fine spun theory of how he should treat himself. He may be predisposed to scrofula or consumption. "That," he will tell you, "has nothing to do with the case." He wants to be well. If he can be cured, write out a prescription and send in your bill. So here's the first part of the proposition.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a microbe hunter ad killer. Many persons of scrofulous blood encourage the breaking out of unsightly sores, to prevent the disease going to the lungs. There is no need of this state of dread and discomfort. Purify the blood. It can be done. "Golden Medical Discovery" will cure 98 per cent. of all consumptive cases, also of all lingering bronchial, throat and lung diseases.

The Murder Still a Mystery.

Bridgeport, Conn., Sept. 15.—The police are working steadily on the mill pond murder mystery. There have been a number of more or less positive identifications. The body was not that of Rachel Warner, as a reporter has found her alive. J. W. Butterfield avers that the body is that of Mrs. John Collins, the wife of a machinist in Bridgeport. His identification is so positive that the police place great reliance upon it.

KATIE TOUGH'S MURDERER.

W. J. Hammond Makes an Ambiguous Confession on the Scaffold—Additional Particulars of the Hanging.

Bracebridge, Ont., Sept. 16.—The tolling of the town bell yesterday morning at five minutes to eight o'clock announced to the citizens of Bracebridge that the first execution for murder in the judicial district of Muskoka was about to take place, and it warned William James Hammond that his last hour on earth had arrived.

The condemned man put in a wretched day on Tuesday. He paced his cell almost continuously. On Wednesday he was calm and resigned, and wept a great deal. In expressing sympathy for his father, he said: "Is there anything that I can do which will add to your peace of mind?" The father said: "To know that you are prepared to die would be my greatest consolation."

The son expressed the hope that he was prepared to die. He said the Bible is full of promises. "I claim those promises," and clasping the Bible, he said: "I love this book."

The Rev. Mr. Leith attended him to the last. Hammond rested well Wednesday night, and had his breakfast next morning as usual. At 8 o'clock the sheriff and his assistant, Dr. Steele, jail physician, Dr. Bridgeland, M.P.P., Constable McFayden, Radcliffe and Magistrates Boyer and Sword, entered the jail. The sheriff firmly adhered to his determination to exclude the representatives of the press.

At ten minutes after 8 o'clock the drop was heard by the crowd on the street, and at a signal from the sheriff the black flag was raised from the Town Hall.

Dr. Steele examined the body, and found that death was instantaneous.

Immediately thereafter the summonses were issued to the jurors, the hour for meeting being 9 o'clock.

On the scaffold Hammond said: "I am guilty in one sense and innocent in another." He walked firmly to the scaffold and behaved bravely. It is stated that when visited by his father the other day Hammond said that he was not alone in the crime.

You Need the Best.

The Diamond Dyes Colour all Classes of Goods.

Diamond Dyes, as far as general usefulness is concerned, are far ahead of all the adulterated package and soap grease dyes now before the public. These crude package dyes and soap grease mixtures are very limited in their powers. 'Tis true, they give a semblance of colour to thin and flimsy fabrics, but when tried on good dress materials and heavier goods such as flannels, worsteds, tweeds and cloths, they are simply worthless.

The Diamond Dyes, owing to their great powers of penetration, their perfect solidity and depth of shade, their purity and brilliancy, are adapted for all classes of goods from the thinnest gauze to the heaviest tweeds. This great range of work, possible only to the Diamond Dyes, is what has made them so popular all over the world.

If you would do your dyeing work in proper style, use the Diamond Dyes. Avoid all imitation package and soap preparations. The Diamond Dyes are first and best for home use.

La Grippe and Nervous Prostration Had Brought Captain Copp Near to Death—South American Nervine was the Life Saver.

"I was ailing for nearly four years with nervous prostration. I tried many remedies and was treated by physicians without any permanent benefit. A year ago I took la grippe, which greatly aggravated my trouble. My friends despaired of my recovery. I was induced to try South American Nervine, and was rejoiced to get almost instant relief. I have used four bottles and feel myself completely cured. I believe it's the best remedy known for the nerves and blood." Wm. M. Copp, Newcastle, N.B. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

METHODIST CONFERENCE.

Superannuation, Itinerancy and Transfers—The Length of a Pastor's Term Decided by Report's Adoption.

Toronto, Sept. 17.—At the General Conference of the Methodist Church yesterday morning reports were read concerning the eastern Superannuation and Ministers' Widows' Funds, missions and Union church relief. The report of the committee on the Superannuation Fund recommended that the loans made to the General Conference fund be kept within a limit of $20,000. Rev. A. B. Chambers moved to amend the present plan for the superannuation of ministers. He proposed a provision that a minister having served forty years in the itinerancy should, if he desired, have the privilege of superannuation. Judge Dean of Lindsay seconded the proposition. The amendment was lost, but the clause stating that ministers applying for superannuation should pass a medical examination was passed. The report was then adopted.

In the afternoon after some warm discussion the following item was carried respecting the length of the pastoral term. "That the proviso in sub-section 4, paragraph 140, be amended to read: Provided, however, that at the request of the Quarterly Board, expressed by a majority of three-quarters of those present, and voting by ballot at a regular meeting (due notice of the meeting having been given that the pastoral supply will be considered thereat) the Stationing Committee may appoint a minister to a station for four or five years in succession."

For the balance of the afternoon delegations from the Congregationalists and the British Methodist Episcopal Church were received.

Mr. Goetz introduced the transfer question again in the evening. He was vehemently opposed to the finding of the committee.

Dr. Conrtice of the Guardian was the next speaker of importance. He had given the subject careful study, he said, and he outlined his conclusions with considerable minuteness. The matter of transfer, he protested, had degenerated into a bartering of salaries. He suggested a committee of seven, to meet once in four years to promote the circulation of ministers through the different conferences. The scheme would work for patriotism and for united Methodism.

Dr. Langford said the crowded condition of the conferences was at the bottom of it.

In the end the committee was sustained in the item.

The consent of the minister to be transferred is of no account whatever.

BRIDGEPORT MYSTERY SOLVED.

Marion Grace Perkins Was the Name of the Dismembered Woman.

Middleboro, Mass., Sept. 17.—Joshua L. Perkins of this town has returned from Bridgeport, Conn., where he identified the remains of the young woman found in the Yellow Mill Pond near that city recently, as those of his daughter, Marion Grace Perkins. Mrs. Perkins was overcome by the intelligence that her husband brought home and is prostrated by the shock.

Their daughter was 21 years old, and had been missing from home since Aug. 25, when she left here ostensibly to go to Onset, where she was to visit friends.

Mr. Perkins is a miller. He is highly respected and his daughter had an excellent reputation.

The body has been cut into seven pieces; the head, the upper trunk, the lower trunk and two sections made of each leg, and in none of them was the cut jagged or unsteady.

Physicians are satisfied that a criminal operation had been performed. The girl had a suitor.

Canadian Girl Married a Traveling Man and Was Deserted.

Buffalo, Sept. 16.—Ethel Stokes, a pretty Canadian girl, 20 years old, was found wandering on Main street by the police last night. She was taken to the police station, and, on being searched, a bottle of laudanum was found in her pocket. To Matron Church of the First Police Precinct she told a pitiable story, which in effect was that three months ago she married a traveling man in Chatham, Ont., against the wishes of her parents. A few days ago he deserted her, and rather than go back home she set out to find him. She believed him to be in Buffalo and came here. All she had left was 35 cents. She walked the streets all day yesterday in the hope of meeting him, and, being discouraged, bought the laudanum. She would not admit, however, that she intended to take the stuff. Her parents have been notified of her whereabouts.

Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, N.A. L.:

DEAR SIR,—In answer to your request for me to decide upon one of the following options offered me for settlement of my 15-payment Life Investment Policy for $5,000 which has matured this year, viz:

1st to take the value of the Policy in Cash	$5,000.00
2nd, or fully paid-up insurance for	8,280.00
3rd, or take the profits in cash	2,050 25

and continue my policy without further payments being required from me, such policy participating in future profits.

I find it somewhat difficult to make a decision either of the three options being so satisfactory. I am certainly very much pleased with the results offered me, and as I find many others are giving full testimony to the profit-earning power of this company, I do not hesitate to give my endorsement as well, that the North American Life is one of our strongest Canadian institutions to day giving first class results on Investment Policies, on a safe and conservative basis. I find that my policy, which was originally a Life by fifteen payments, has become an Endowment at the end of the Investment period.

It is sad and disappointing for a father to rear a son, spend hard-earned money for his education, work to insure him an advantageous start in life, and build castles in the air about the boy's future, only to have him killed off in the early years of manhood by the dread disease consumption.

Until recent years consumption was considered an incurable disease. Now it is known to tens of thousands that Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures 98 per cent. of all cases if taken in the early stages of the disease. It also cures bronchitis, laryngitis, throat and nasal troubles and all allied diseases of the air-passages. It is the best blood-maker and flesh-builder, the best general tonic and nerve restorative. It gives a keen edge to the appetite, corrects the impaired digestion, promotes the flow of digestive juices, facilitates the production of chyle in the lower stomach, or intestines, invigorates the liver and purifies and enriches the blood. It tears down old and inert tissues and builds up new, firm, muscular tissues of health. It strengthens the heart's action, promotes the circulation of the blood to every part of the body and deepens the breathing, thus supplying the blood with vitalizing oxygen. Thousands have testified to its merits. The dealer who offers something else as "just as good" is dishonest.

"I never was very strong and then I had La Grippe," writes Mrs. Gracie G. Smith, of 480 13th St., Salem, Oregon. "I had a cough and felt tired all the time. I took three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and two of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and two vials of 'Pleasant Pellets.' I have better health now than for many years."

A GREAT BOAT RACE.

THE BENNINGTON'S CRACK CREW GOT A COSTLY SURPRISE.

The Story of a Fourth of July Rowing Contest at Honolulu Which Emptied the Pockets and Lacerated the Feelings of Uncle Sam's Jackies.

"About as dismal a Fourth of July as ever I experienced on board a man-o'-war," said an ex-sailor of the navy now living in Washington to a reporter, "was Independence day not many years ago down in the harbor of Honolulu. The Bennington had an all star racing boat's crew. The eight had just happened to be assigned to the Bennington in a bunch before she left for her Pacific cruise, and several of the oarsmen had been members of the Columbia's crack boat's crew that walloped all of the British navy's boats' crews in English waters a few years before.

The Bennington's cutter was one of the best in the navy, and she had been built for a racer. Before we left the Mare Island navy yard for south Pacific waters the ship's racing crew had easily beaten all of the other crews of the ships lying at the yard, including the tiptop crew of the Olympia and the Boston's fine crew. We thought that we were about as warm as they make 'em after our crew put it on so many other man-o'-war crews, giving them a couple of minutes the start of us, too, on numerous occasions and still beating them disgracefully.

"The people of Honolulu arranged an aquatic festival for the Fourth of July—the Americans down there celebrated the Fourth just as enthusiastically as we do up here—and the Bennington's crew figured in it largely. Our ship's colors were at the fore in the two races that were run with picked Kanaka crews, and the third and last race of the day was one in which our crackajack eight was to figure, the other races having been won by subcrews practically picked at random from among the strongest seamen.

"We thought this race was at our mercy. It was to be a four sided affair—one crew of Kanaka sugar field workers, a crew of Kanaka policemen and the racing crew of the yacht Eleanor, belonging to Mr. Slater of Providence, that had pulled into Honolulu harbor from Japan a few days before. Our crew didn't pay much attention to the yacht's racing crew and were only figuring on the distance they could beat the crew of Kanaka policemen, which seemed the most formidable.

"The race was over the four mile course carefully blocked out in the harbor—which was very smooth—by the Honolulu aquatic sportsmen, and the start was first rate. There wasn't a man, fore or aft, on the Bennington that didn't stand to go broke to the extent of at least a month's pay on the success of the Bennington's crew, and we had to give 3 to 1, too, for it was generally conceded that we had the race at our mercy.

"The start, as I said, was good, and the Bennington's crew showed in front first and started out apparently to make a runaway race of it. The Kanaka policemen's crew trailed after them, pulling steadily, then the Kanaka sugar workers and, a good ten lengths to the rear, the Eleanor's crew. This was the way it looked for the finish when the Bennington's crew rounded the stakeboat and started for the return trip.

"Some of the Honolulu men who had their money up on the two Kanaka crews actually began to square accounts, and the cry, 'It's all over—Bennington!' was heard all over the bay. When the stakeboat was rounded, it was noticed that the Eleanor's boat was sort of getting a move on itself, and the men were working like machines at a long, steady stroke that certainly looked as if it was cutting down the Bennington's lead and the lead of the two Kanaka boats.

"Two minutes after the stakeboat was rounded the Eleanor's gang were right abreast of the Kanaka cutters and gaining on them with every stroke, and the cox'un of the Bennington's cutter, hearing the yells of warning from the Bennington bluejackets ashore, looked behind him and saw the Eleanor cutter only two lengths behind him and coming like an electric launch. Our crew was tired, and that's all there was about it.

"The Eleanor's crew had held themselves in for the finish, and they certainly did make a Garrison finish of it. The yacht's cutter shot ahead of our cutter a good mile from home, and then, to make the thing more galling, the crew actually stopped rowing until the Bennington's crew was alongside again. Then they took to the oars again, and from then on it was a howling farce. The Eleanor's crew just romped their cutter in ten lengths ahead of our cutter and the Kanakas a quarter of a mile in the rear.

"You never saw such a disgusted lot of men in your life as the men and officers on the Bennington. The Eleanor's ship company had taken all of the 3 to 1 money they could get on board our ship, for they knew they had a good thing up their sleeve. The Eleanor's crew on the whole trip around the world that was wound up at San Francisco had not been beaten once in a cutter race, and the yacht's sailors had made all kinds of money in betting on their crew. It was a minor sort of consolation for us when we found out that five of the Eleanor's racing crew were ex-American man-o'-war's men."—Washington Star.

JOHN REDDY'S CASE

Should Give Encouragement to all Victims of Lumbago.

Mr. Reddy Suffered Intensely for Two Years—His Sleep was Broken and Unrefreshing—Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Him.

Toronto, Sept. 16th—Who has not suffered from Lumbago?

There are very few people who are not tortured by what is commonly called "Backache," "Lame Back," "Pain in the Small of the Back," etc.

These are the everyday names for Lumbago. And Lumbago is a severe form of Chronic Rheumatism, which keeps its victims in perpetual misery.

Lumbago attacks the old and the young. The longer you have had it, the worse it is.

Lumbago is caused by Uric Acid in the blood. Uric Acid is a poison which the kidneys should filter out of the blood, and which should be expelled from the system in the urine.

When the kidneys are weak, diseased or overworked, they cannot properly do the duty they are intended to. Instead of being strained out of the blood, the Uric Acid is left in it, goes through the system, settles in the joints and muscles, and causes Lumbago and Rheumatism.

Lumbago can be cured only by making the Kidneys do their work properly, and filter the Uric Acid out of the blood.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only medicine that can make the kidneys do this. Dodd's Kidney Pills make the kidneys perfectly healthy and strong.

Mr. John Reddy, 178 Mutual street, Toronto, can prove this. He says: "I suffered with Lumbago and Kidney Disease for two years. My sufferings were terribly severe, and I could get no sound sleep.

"I was advised to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, but laughed at the idea of them helping me. I did get a box, however, and received such benefit that I bought more. I have used five boxes in all, and am completely cured."

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure all Kidney Diseases. They cost only fifty cents a box.

THE ONLY HOPE!

For Victims of Bright's Disease is Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Yet, there is a way of resisting it; of drawing its poisoned fangs, and making it as harmless as a summer breeze. That great medicine, Dodd's Kidney Pills, has cured thousands of the worst cases. It never fails to cure, hopeless as the case may seem.

A STRANGE CASE.

MR. JAS. CROSGREY, OF PORT HOPE TELLS AN INTERESTING STORY.

His Right Leg Was Swollen to Three Times Its Natural Size—Ulcers Followed and For a Year and a Half Doctors' Treatment Failed to Help Him.

From the Port Hope Times.

"It was nearly as large as that telephone pole." These words were used by Mr. Jas. Crosgrey, for eight years a resident of Port Hope, Ont. Mr. Crosgrey is in the employ of Mr. R. K. Scott, who has a feed store on Walton street, and is well and favourably known in town and vicinity. Less than two years ago Mr. Cosgrey was the recipient of much sympathy on account of a severe affliction which befel him, depriving him of the use of his right leg, and from doing any labour except a few odd days' work. His recovery was wrought so suddenly and completely that the Times considered the matter would be of sufficient interest to its readers to obtain an interview with Mr. Crosgrey. In substance Mr. Crosgrey told the following story of his illness:—"In April, 1895, I was laid up for seven weeks with typhoid fever, my right leg began to swell. It was very painful indeed, and in a few weeks it was three times its natural size—nearly as large as that telephone pole," and he pointed to a stick of timber ten inches in diameter." Nothing the doctor did gave me any relief, and I consulted another with the same result. I suffered for nearly five months when I noticed that the swelling began to decrease and I became hopeful of recovery. But the improvements only continued for a short time and then the swelling became greater and two big ulcers formed on the inside of the leg above the ankle. These ulcers were right through to the bone and you could put that much into them," and Mr. Crosgrey indicated on his thumb an object an inch in length. "For the next year and a half I was treated by four or five doctors but my leg and the ulcers were as bad as ever. The doctors pronounced the disease phlebitis or inflamation of the veins. They didn't seem to know what to do for me, however, and I despaired of getting well." Mr. Crosgrey's relief came in a strange manner, almost by chance one might say. He tells of it this way:—"I had a relative living near Treswater, named William Baptist. He heard of my condition and sent word to me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. His reason for recommending them, he stated, was because they had cured him of serious trouble in both legs, when all else had failed. I decided to try them and in less than five weeks the ulcers were completely healed and the swelling in my legs disappeared. The ulcers never returned and my leg is just about as sound as the other one. I know that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills alone cured me when doctors and all other medicines failed and I am willing that the details of my illness and cure be made known." Mr. Crosgrey who is 41 years of age, is now at work every day. The nature of his work, that of lifting heavy bags of flour and feed, is proof of his complete recovery. He is a life long friend of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and never lets an opportunity pass of speaking a good word for them.

The above statement was sworn to before the undersigned at Port Hope, on the 17th day of February, 1899.

THE COOKBOOK.

Don't cook oatmeal in hot weather. Substitute rice, cracked wheat and other wheat preparations for oatmeal, which is too heat producing. Oatmeal contains three times as much fat as cornmeal.

Peas should always be shelled the same day they are to be used, as otherwise much of their sweetness is dissipated. Save the water in which they are cooked, add milk, season and serve with croutons for soup.

Do you love to have your meats tender? Then never allow them to boil when cooking in water. Tough meats become tender by proper cooking, while the reverse of this is equally true. Indeed hard boiling in salted water will toughen the best piece of meat ever sold. Consequently always let the kettle simmer on the back of the stove.

PANBESA'S LETTER.

An Account of an Egyptian City Thirty Centuries Ago.

Probably the oldest letter in the world is the letter of Panbesa, written 15 centuries before Christ to his friend Amenemapt, a scribe.

The manuscript is of perishable papyrus, and it is amazing that it should have survived for more than 30 centuries and still be legible.

It is preserved in the collection of the British museum. It has been several times translated during the present century. It presents an interesting picture of life in Egypt in the time of Rameses II. It is more in the nature of a literary production, a poem composed in celebration of the visit of Pharaoh to the city of Pa-Rameses, than an ordinary letter of today.

Panbesa "greets his lord, the scribe Amenemapt, to whom be life, health and strength," and then goes on to describe the verdant fields, the thrashing floors, the vineyards, the groves of olives, the orchards of figs, the great daily markets, with their fish and waterfowl and swarms of purchasers.

The citizens had their "sweet wine of Khemi, pomegranate wine and wine from the vineyards," and to these they added "beer of Kati."

There was music in plenty furnished by the singers of the school of Memphis.

On the whole, Pa-Rameses seems to have been a pleasant place to live in. "The lesser folk are there equal with the great folk," and Panbesa writes that its maidens were "in holiday attire every day" with locks "redolent of perfumed oil."—Washington Star.

PROHIBITION.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Having noticed in your paper that if any person wished to give their opinion on the coming election, space would be granted, I forward the appended communication. The question to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquor is a subject I have given very little thought. The question to be solved is, is it right to license and sell strong drink? Any right minded person who will look square into the world and hell holes where it is sold and see the wretchedness and misery of millions of the human race who are ruined both body and soul by the use of it, they would say it is a sin to sell to my fellow man that which I know has caused so much wickedness and crime on the face of God's earth. I think the Government did well to license it, as it would not be fair for the seller to reap all the profit on it. If the majority of the people are in favour of the sale of liquor they will have it any way, and if the Government did not get some of the boodle the liquor men would have it all. Some people say, "see what the liquor men do for the country." But our barley keeps hundreds of men employed and pays the Government millions of dollars per annum." The farmer could sell his barley just the same to other markets, and what difference does it make to him as long as he gets paid for it where it goes to?

When up in Western Ontario several weeks ago I heard that a noted whisky maker came to the town and opened up a rum shop some twenty years ago. He then started a distillery. He died not long ago and left eight million dollars. What good did he do for the country but make stuff to burn the heart out of people and send them to the devil? And he gets eight million dollars for that. Where would the country be if everyone was to follow his example? We could not live. I consider a farmer who looks after his farm and grows a good crop worth a thousand such men. Look at the poverty and wretchedness, in England—mostly caused through drink—among the working people, and they come out here and want help to support their children in orphan homes. I will leave it to any good-minded person to take a look into the east end of London, as I have done. They would say drink is a curse to this fair world. Every person hopes to get to heaven and it is written "drunkards cannot enter the kingdom of heaven." Where will they go? Why, with the rich man, who, when he was in hell, lifted up his eyes and seen Lazarus happy in heaven, and called to him to bring him a little water to cool his parched tongue, but it was too late; there was a great gulf fixed between them. He was a doomed man throughout eternity. I don't see how any honest-minded Christian can vote for the sale of liquor. Remember the liquor seller will hunt up every person he can to vote for it and if you miss voting, they gain two votes. While the liquor people look on the abstainers as enemies of theirs, they are really their best friends and they don't know it. If the taxes are higher the abstainers are so kind as to pay even higher taxes if necessary to help lift up the fallen and make better men out of them. Look and live.

Yours,
ABSTAINER.

WHAT IT WILL COST.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR:—In fairness to all concerned, the people ought to be fully informed, before casting their votes on the Prohibition Plebiscite, what the cost of the total abolition of the traffic will be, namely in the loss of revenue to the Dominion and Provincial treasuries and the municipalities of this Province.

Therefore I wish to submit the following official figures for 1895-6, the last year for which the returns have been officially promulgated:

DOMINION OF CANADA.

Excise	$5,811,991
Customs—Spirits, wines and liquors imported	2,406,540

PROVINCE OF ONTARIO.

Provincial revenue	$ 273,213
Municipal revenue	342,076
Total revenue for 1895-6	$8,833,921

To the foregoing annual revenue of nearly nine millions of dollars there would have to be added a very large sum—stated at from $12,000,000 to $15,000,000—as compensation to the manufacturers of spirits, wine, cider, etc., that is if Mr. Blake's declaration, when leader of the Liberal party, that there could be no prohibition unless accompanied by compensation, were not ignored.

The only statistics obtainable upon this point are contained in the census of 1891, and there can be no doubt that those figures fall far short of present values. Following are the returns as given in the census:

	Capital invested.	Hands employed.	Total value of products.
Breweries	$4,592,990	1411	$4,768,447
Cider making	74,821	270	31,450
Distilleries	1,803,100	285	1,790,800

These figures do not give the total amount involved in dealing with this question. Be that as it may, the money consideration is of small moment if the passing of a prohibitory law would effectually prohibit.

Yours, etc.,

TEACHERS' CONVENTION.

An Important Meeting Which is to be Held Next Month in Ashburnham.

On Oct. 14th and 15th the teachers of the County of Peterborough will convene in Ashburnham Public School to exchange ideas, to discuss points of importance in school work and to listen to lectures on modern education by men highly qualified to deliver them.

It is most important to each individual school, to each teacher and to the cause of education generally that each teacher shall attend such conventions. The progress in education continues from year to year, and no teacher can afford to allow him or herself to ignore these advances, else they labour at a disadvantage, under which they must sooner or later give way. Besides this, any teacher will become, in time, if left isolated from current ideas, painfully local, and is apt to stake the issues and concentrate energies on insignificant hobbies.

We have all found ourselves on this backward side path and have felt the relief on hearing the hallo! which brought us to the better travelled road.

To trustees, too, this meeting is equally important. Many mistakes and hindrances in school progress are due to an imperfect knowledge on the part of trustees as to the wants of school and teacher. There is fast forming a better basis of understanding between trustees and teachers, and it is to be hoped that this will continue to grow from year to year. On Saturday morning there will be dealt with matters of very great interest to trustees, and they are especially invited to attend. Morning session begins at 9 o'clock.

On the evening of Friday, Oct. 14th, there will be given an entertainment which, we trust, will not fail to please all those who kindly lend their patronage. The small admission fee of 10c will be charged to partly defray the expenses of the convention.

Our fellow workers of the town are cordially invited to attend the sessions.

The Ashburnham School Board has kindly given the use of the school for the convention.

I recommend CUTICURA to all afflicted with skin diseases.

THE WHEEL.

It is almost time the Victorias brought off their annual road race.

Jimmy Michael went out of training on Sunday last, and is now comfortably established at Sheepshead Bay strack, where he will put in the time riding the horses. Once more it is rumoured that the little Welshman will forsake the cycle track and devote his time to the runners.

From the CROWN of the Head To the SOLES of the Feet!

WE COVER ALL.

Men's Hats, Men's Shoes, Men's Clothing, Men's Underwear, Men's Furnishings, All Under One Roof!

The first calendar month of Autumn, 1898, will bring us up to the greatest business we have ever known. Measure it by bulk, weight, dollars or transactions, we get the same great result—BIGGER THAN EVER BEFORE.

What makes Gough Bros. so distinctly Gough Bros. is the SPIRIT that actuates their business—all the time striving to serve our customers better and better—shortening the road from producer to consumer, and saving to buyers every penny of cost.

We maintain our well earned title of "THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MEN"—our fixed aim has been and will continue to be, to sell a $20 suit for $15. The suit you paid $17.50 for we can duplicate for $12.50. You may think our prices are sometimes too low—too low for good clothing—but if special prices or unusual discounts are given us, we take them off to you to make larger sales.

First Instalment of Fall Goods.

66 CASES—14 Huge Cases of Clothing and Furnishings, 40 Cases of Boots and Shoes, 12 Cases Hats and Caps.

Clothing—everything is brand new, fresh and clean—the handsomest and best Tailored Ready-to-Wear Clothing ever shown in Peterborough—selected for Peterborough's best trade.

HATS and CAPS.

We're able to discount the trade, because of unusual buying power. We go direct to the makers and insure fine qualities by knowing what to buy and what to let alone. If you're a judge of quality, it won't take any talking from the salesmen.

—On the finest Fur Fedora Hats we take off 35c., and ask only $1.65.
—On the best Fur Felt Stiff Hats we take off 50c., and ask only $2.00.
—On Men's Knockabout Hats we take off 20c., and ask only 35c.
—On Men's Silk Hats, latest styles, we take off 50c. and 75c., and ask only $3.00 and $3.75.
—Youths and Boys in same proportion.

BOOTS and SHOES

Warranted not to crack, nor take in washing. Ours isn't the common kind of Boots and Shoes. If anybody can beat the quality, the style, the price, we'll quit the business.

—On the best $3 Men's Selected Shape Balmoral or Congress, we take off 40c, and ask only $2.60.
—On the best Men's Fine Hand-Made Balmorals we take off 35c., and ask only $1.65.
—On the best Fine Patent Leather Oxford Shoes, turn soles, we take off 45c., and ask only $1.40.
—On the best French Dongola Kid Button (common sense) we take off 30c., and ask only $1.50.
—Misses', Boys', and Children's in same proportion.

CORRECTING A MISTAKE—Who sells the cheapest goods — themerchant who is compelled to buy in one higgling market, and is tied down to one grasping manufacturer, or the merchant who has the freedom of all the competing markets and manufacturers of the world? Do men buy Hats cheaper where nothing but Hats are sold, or Boots cheaper where nothing but Boots are sold, or Clothing cheaper where nothing but Clothing is sold? Might as well expect a farmer to do as well for his family by raising nothing but Pumpkins as if he raised a mixed crop.

THE STR. JONES SUNK

Struck in Collision by the Steamer Pacific of Collingwood.

WENT DOWN IN EIGHT MINUTES

Three Passengers on Board the Jones, Together With the Crew, Were Saved by the Pacific and Taken to Gore Bay—Captain and Mate Remain at the Wreck.

Wiarton, Ont., Sept. 19.—The steamer J. H. Jones of Wiarton was sunk in a collision off Kagwong, on Manitoulin Island, with the steamer Pacific of Collingwood, about 12.05 Saturday morning. The Pacific was coming out from Kagwong; the Jones was going in. She was struck by the Pacific on the forward port bow. She immediately started to settle and sank in about eight minutes. Only three passengers and crew were on board, all of whom were saved and taken on board the Pacific to Gore Bay. The Jones had a large cargo of merchandise and supplies on board, also a considerable sum of money, which was also lost. The captain and mate are still at the wreck. The Jones was insured for $7,000.

B. C. BYE-ELECTIONS.

The Four Members of the Government Elected by Acclamation.

Vancouver, B.C., Sept. 19.—All the members of the new Provincial Government except Hon. Dr. McKechnie having accepted offers of emolument, had to offer themselves for re-election. Therefore Saturday was nomination day in Vancouver city, West Yale and the Nelson riding of West Kootenay, in the bye-elections for the return of the four members. Hon. Messrs. Cotton and Martin were elected by acclamation in Vancouver and the same will doubtless be the case with regard to Premier Semlin and Hon. Mr. Hume.

An Abolished Office.

Victoria, Sept. 19.—The Provincial Librarian, Mr. E. R. Gosnell, has been notified the position he occupied with great credit for some time has been abolished and his services will be dispensed with. Miss Wooled, stneographer and typewriter in the secretary's office, has also been dismissed.

RISING FROM ITS ASHES.

New Westminster and Its Prospects a Week After the Fire.

Vancouver, B.C., Sept. 19.—Just a week has elapsed since the big fire in New Westminster. Although the scene in the city to-day is sufficiently heartbreaking, it is evident everywhere that the Royal City is pluckily rising from its ashes. Saturday, at a public meeting, votes of thank were passed, expressing heartfelt gratitude to the citizens of Vancouver, Victoria, Seattle and all the cities and towns in Eastern Canada from whence help came.

The fire is not yet out. Smouldering ashes still demand the attention of fire brigade men, under the superintendence of Acting Chief Watson.

Preparations are already under way for commencing operations immediately or next spring on more than 25 substantial and handsome brick buildings, to take the place of some of those destroyed, and before long the indications are more of such structures will be arranged for.

The Dominion Government engineer has received instructions from Ottawa to erect a temporary building at the rear of the burned one, for the purpose of post office, customs house and land office work.

The Bank of Montreal has purchased the lot on which the Y.M.C.A. Hall stood, and will erect a solid brick building thereon for banking purposes. The bank manager in New Westminster, Mr. G. D. Bremner, has written to the mayor to say that he is instructed to place to the credit of the relief fund a first instalment of $500, and if more is needed he will add to this amount.

Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, the president of the Bank of Montreal, has telegraphed $1,000 as his subscription toward the relief fund.

The Bank of British Columbia has contributed $500 towards the relief fund.

The Province of Manitoba has sent $1,000, the wholesale grocers of Toronto $100 additional, and the Second Battalion, Fifth Regiment Band, Victoria, $64 towards the relief fund.

Friday the Columbian, the old-established newspaper whose fortunes have been burned up with those of New Westminster, made its re appearance.

DID HE KILL HIMSELF.

James Smylie of Petrolea, Ont., Found Dead in a Detroit Hotel.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 19.—A middle aged man, giving his name as James Smylie of Petroleq, Ont., registered at the Merchants' Hotel. He complained of not feeling well and was shown to his room at once. At noon Saturday the chambermaid reported that she could not get into the room. The door was forced open. Smylie lay on the bed dead. Beside him was a piece of paper on which he had started to write a note, and on a stand was an empty pill box. Coroner Dickson took charge of the remains, and ordered an inquest for to day.

Three Men Were Drowned.

Revelstoke, B.C., Sept. 19.—In the Columbia River, a few miles north of Revelstoke, five men with a boat loaded with provisions, were going through the rapids when they lost control of their boat, which capsized and the contents and men were thrown in the water. Three of the men, named Rawlinson, Doyle and Allen, were drowned. The bodies have not yet been recovered. The boat and freight are a complete loss.

SUNDAY'S STORM.

Nothing Like the Hurricane That Visited Montreal, Quebec, in 30 Years—James McKenzie Killed.

Montreal, Sept. 19.—Montreal experienced a fierce wind and rainstorm Sunday evening. About 5 o'clock a regular hurricane set in, followed by a hailstorm The hail was as large as nuts and covered the streets like snow The wind did a great deal of damage, trees being uprooted and thousands of panes of glass being smashed.

The storm was of unprecedented violence, and it is claimed that nothing like this hurricane has been experienced here for 30 years. Trees were broken, windows shattered in all directions and the wires were sadly disarranged. One fatal and several minor accidents are reported. A young man named James McKenzie, a brass moulder, took hold of a hanging wire and was killed instantly.

HAIL AT HASTINGS.

Terrific Storm Sunday Afternoon Which Smashed Many Windows.

Hastings, Ont., Sept. 19.—A terrific hail storm, accompanied with lightning and rain, passed over this locality Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The hailstones varied in size from a cherry to a hen's egg. Nearly every window on the north side of the stores and dwellings was damaged. The large window on the north end of the Catholic Church was completely demolished and the rain, pouring in, did considerable damage to the altar furnishings.

HISTORIC PLACE BURNED.

Fort Douglas at Which the First Court in British Columbia Was Held.

Vancouver, B.C., Sept. 19.—Historic Fort Douglas, a town at the head of Harrison River, has been completely destroyed by fire. The first court in British Columbia was held there. The fire was started by a girl putting on too big a fire in the stove, igniting a quantity of fire wood. It is a strange coincidence that Westminster and Fort Douglas were burned about the same time. The latter was named after Governor Douglas, and the site of the former was chosen and named by Governor Douglas at the command of the Queen.

DAWSON REACHED.

The Mounted Police, Via Edmonton a Year Ago, Have Arrived at the Yukon City—A Big Suit.

Ottawa, Sept. 19.—It is reported here that the Mounted Policemen who went in by Edmonton a year ago have now reached Dawson City.

Contractor Viau of Hull has taken out an injunction against the Chaudiere manufacturers to prevent them from continuing the work of raising the dam situated above the E. B. Eddy paper mills, on the north shore. His grievances are that his property, situated on the shore near by, will be flooded and thereby lose much of its value. It is said that the two firms mostly interested in this huge work are the Ottawa Electric Company and the E. B. Eddy Company. The dam on a length of over 800 feet will be raised two feet with lumber and stone. A sixty-foot section of the dam, which was carried away last spring, is being rebuilt.

An Economical Man.

Doctor—I left you a dozen pills and told you to take one every two hours, and yet there are 11 left. You didn't obey my orders.

Patient—Yes, I did, doctor. I took the same pill every time. There wasn't any use in wasting a new pill as long as I couldn't swallow the first one.—Vim.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE political situation in the United States is rising into importance over the subsiding excitement of the war period. If the Hispano-American war has only given the people a brief "rest" from politics, it will not be regarded as an unmixed evil. The State elections in Vermont, recently held, indicate a failure in Republican strength that gives great courage to the Democrats, who hail the Vermont vote as an indication of a general revulsion of feeling that will produce a Democratic victory when the crucial struggle comes. Naturally the Republicans make light of the signs thrown out by Vermont. However, in addition to the routine list of sins the Republican Administration will have to answer to, there is the conduct of the war. The politicians made war and the people suffered and are paying for it roundly. The Republicans have a heavy responsibility to meet in this regard and unless they can clear their skirts there will be little necessity to invite the average elector to tread upon the tail of their coat.

LORD HERSCHELL ON CANADA.

Gauging his impressions by the speech delivered at the banquet given in his honour at Toronto, two considerations have found weight with Lord Herschell since he began the study of Canada at close quarters. He finds food for pleasant reflection in the fact that this Dominion, whose prospects impress him so favourably, is part and parcel of that Empire in whose services his own energies have been for many years unsparingly devoted. In the second place he seems to have at once discerned the importance to Canada and to the Empire of the fact that for some thousands of miles the southern boundary of Canada constitutes the northern border of the territory occupied by another English-speaking community. With the free trader's instinct Lord Herschell arrives without delay at the conclusion that advantages are certain to be derived by both countries whenever the boundary is reduced to its true purpose of defining territorial limitations, and when it ceases to be an obstacle to international trade. His Lordship has thus at once placed himself in close communion with Canadians by setting clearly before himself those possibilities of trade disturbance with which Canadians must expect to be confronted, and by disposing his mind towards finding the surest way to avert disagreements between the two peoples who represent on this continent the institutions and traditions of Great Britain.

It must be gratifying to that large numbers of Canadians who have always contended for the most cordial agreement between the two countries and for the employment of conciliatory measures rather than those of retaliation, when a statesman of Lord Herschell's distinction announces his belief that the freest possible commercial intercourse must tend to lessen the causes of disagreement and perhaps to allay them altogether. As there is only one quarter from which an attack on Canada need ever be anticipated, it is the part of wisdom and true statesmanship to avert the likelihood of such an attack by removing all possible motive for it. It is in this beneficent spirit the Quebec Conference has been called together. It is a peculiar coincidence and one to whose significance Canadians cannot close their eyes, that while the Quebec Conference is in session a deputation of British military men arrive in the country to prepare a general scheme of national defence. We cannot help thinking that in trying to effect an arrangement for freedom of commerce between the two countries, the commissioners are doing more to ensure the continuance of peace on this continent than all the military experts who could be sent hither could do for the safe-guarding of the Canadian frontier. It is to our interest and immediate profit to buy freely from the United States. If they will buy more from us than they do at present so much the better, but even if they do not it is still profitable to buy from them. Even should the conference fail, as we hope most earnestly it will not, a continuance of the present enlightened policy at Ottawa must have the effect desired by those who wish to see friendly relations maintained.—Montreal Herald.

A MATERIAL ASSET.

We are reminded of the commercial value of scenery to a country when we learn that Switzerland's greatest industry the entertainment of tourists, has been officially computed to bring in 115,000,000 francs a year. This is one third more than the whole revenue of the Swiss Confederacy, and the tourists go to Switzerland to view her scenery. Such a material view of the uses of the natural advantages of a country may prove shocking to the æsthetic mind. But is it any more improper to make money out of a hotel for tourists on the shores of a beautiful lake than to make money out of a sawmill on the same site, worked by the power of the water of that lake? Not a bit of it; and besides, the hotel is likely to be the more picturesque building of the two. East as well as west Canadians have valuable assets in scenery which attracts the lover of beauty. It is their duty to make the most of this undoubted asset Cape Briton and the Annapolis Valley, the St. John and the St. Lawrence rivers, Muskoka, the lakes in Peterborough County and northward, and the Rocky Mountains. There are well known and well visited. But there are a hundred other attractive localities which only need to be made known to become popular as health resorts or recreation grounds for strangers.

A FREAKISH PROPOSAL.

A strange freak was the proposal of an Atlantic steamship company to carry the Canadian mails between Montreal and Bristol, free of charge. The offer was declined and properly so. No one can afford to do such work as this for nothing, and Canada can afford to pay a reasonable price for the service she needs. The route proposed is not an established one, and we cannot permit the question of route to be settled by accident. Nevertheless an an English mail, brought by the Elder-Dempster line, has come that way and made good time. The fight against a swift Atlantic service, though resting on some solid grounds, has owed much of its force to the existence of steamships not of the swiftest, whose owners do not want to see them supplanted. In such fights the forces that make for inferiority are generally worsted in the end.

TEMPERANCE BEER.

"Temperance beer" is the latest device for getting round the license laws in the Province of Quebec. With low grades of beer, as of cider, it is a question of more or less alcohol. No line can be drawn at which it can be said that the alcohol will not produce the ordinary effect, if only enough of it is taken; and the only safe thing is to treat all these drinks alike; to permit none to be sold without the restraints which the license law imposes. Besides, justice to the holders of licenses requires that this be done. A large number of these places has sprung up in Montreal, and it is only fair that they should be put under some form of license, for reasons of revenue and police administration.—Monetary Timec.

SENSIBLE ACTION.

The United States and Canada have arranged to do some sensible things in common. They have, for example, international gatherings of medical men, of life and fire assurance me; conventions of fire fighters, of fruit-growers, of educators. And last week there was held in Boston a meeting of the International Association of Factory Inspectors. Mr. James Mitchell, of Quebec, was elected the vice-president, and the place of the next meeting will be either Montreal or Quebec; which of the two it will be is to be settled by a vote of the Canadian delegates. The longer this sort of friendly and useful interminglirg is kept up the less likely the Washington politicians will be to keep the two countries from making arrangements for trade reciprocity which the broad-minded business men perceive would be for the benefit of both.—Monetary Times.

FISHER AND FOSTER.

They Bury the Political Hatchet for the Moment, in the Plebiscite Ballot Box.

By what happy inspiration did Harmony Hall, Ottawa, get its mellifluous name? We do not know whether Harmony Hall is generally used for choir practice or for cock-fighting; whether the young people of the Washington of the North mostly do congregate there for their tea-meetings or whether the chappies of the Capital have friendly gathering there for mutual improvement in the noble art of self-defence. But after last night's meeting let nobody question the appropriateness of the name, for it was in Harmony Hall that the two rival heavyweights, George Foster of York, and Sidney Fisher, of Brome, stood up together. The expression "stood up together" is not to be understood in the sense that our valued colleague, the Sporting Editor, would use it; we mean that New Brunswick's pride and the Eastern Township's game chicken occupied the same ring, that is to say the same platform, together, and that nothing was ever seen to beat Foster's affection for Fisher, unless possibly it were Fsher's affection for Foster.

The contest was for the blue ribbon—we mean to say the object of the meeting was to advance the cause of which the blue ribbon is symbolic. It was a case of pull brewer, pull devil, pull Fisher, pull Foster, and the Demon Rum felt his knees tremble when he saw Fisher and Foster pulling together.—Montreal Star.

AN OTTAWA LETTER.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

An uneasy feeling still appears to prevail in same quarters that a general election may not be very far away, though the most careful investigation affords but little ground for such a belief, unless it be to galvanize the rank and file of the Conservative party into some kind of activity and enthusiasm against the Tuppers, father and son, Hon. Mr. Foster and many other ex-ministers and prominent party men have been very active during the hot weather in various parts of the Dominion, addressing meetings, urging their followers to organize, expatiating upon the horrors of Liberal government and pointing to the present condition of the country for proof thereof.

Organization is a splendid thing and universally recognized as an essential to successful effort whether in politics or anything else but the enthusiasm which is necessary to sustained effort will scarcely be produced by such unsubstantial means as a general election scare at this juncture for it is difficult to imagine more favourable conditions upon which the Government might, if it chose, appeal to the country just now.

A WINNING RECORD.

The new franchise law promised before the last election is now in existence and in addition to saving the country $200,000 a year in revision expenses, it may be relied upon to give a fair opportunity to the electorate to pronounce their unbiased opinion, which is all that any Liberal Government has ever desired.

The improved trade relations with the Old Country, resulting from the fulfilment of another pre election promise to reform the tariff, has done more than any other human act to bring about the present prosperous era, with its accompanying increases in the business of the railways, and the banks, the manufacturer and the merchant. The securing of the benefits of Imperial penny postage, which will be followed as quickly as possible by a similar reduction in domestic mail charges, will afford improved conditions for commercial intercourse at home and abroad, while the deficit in the Postoffice Department is rapidly disappearing. The deepening of the St. Lawrence Canals, now so near completion, will provide valuable facilities for the carrying of Canada's products to the seaboard, which have never been before enjoyed.

PROSPERITY IN THE WEST.

The statesmanship displayed in framing the Crow's Nest Railway contract with the C.P.R., by which very substantial reductions were obtained in the matter of transporation rates, is turning thousands of dollars into the pockets of the western farmers that previously went to the railway; the reserving of certain mineral rights in the Crow's Nest district will secure cheap coal and give an impetus to mining industries in that important section that will be more and more appreciated as time goes on; while the securing of running powers through the Pass to all competitors, has destroyed the monopoly which has so retarded the business of the West, and leaves the way open to healthy competition.

The wise administration of the Yukon has brought large sums into the public treasury, and in spite of the factious opposition and malignant criticism of opponents, has won the admiration of the world. A liberal and progressive immigration policy is opening up the West at an unprecedented rate, and bringing in, in ever increasing numbers, stalwart settlers who will aid in building up our nation.

The efforts of the Minister of Agriculture to disseminate knowledge regarding the conditions of the British fruit trade has given a tremendous impetus to certain departments of agriculture, which is being further advantaged by the efforts of the various Local Legislatures.

EFFICIENCY AND ECONOMY.

The radical reforms in Canada's civil service superannuation scheme is saving large sums to the public exchequer. The careful administration of the public funds, while providing for all necessary public works, and giving an impetus to trade and commerce, has resulted in a surplus of a million and a half, a surplus which has not been equalled in very many years. Every department of government is being prudently, honestly and efficiently managed, and in spite of the most searching investigations and assidious following up of every rumour and suspicion, however slight, the Opposition has failed to discover even the suggestion of wrong doing or malfeasance of office or betrayal of the public trust.

Looking over such a record there might appear to be some ground for the idea that the Government may be contemplating an appeal to the country, for it is difficult to imagine conditions that would be more favourable to victory. But the Government cannot afford to disregard the public welfare simply to gratify a personal desire for endorsation, and unless some momentous question of public policy demands an expression of popular opinion, it is not probable that the people will be put to the expense and turmoil of a general election two or three years before it is required by law.

AFFAIRS IN FRANCE.

A Marked Change in Public Feeling Concerning Dreyfus.

CABINET DECIDES ON THE CASE

The Documents Will Be Sent to a Special Commission—Gen. Zurlinden Resigns and His Place as Minister of War Is Promptly Filled—The Feeling Acute—News by Cable.

Paris, Sept. 19.—At a meeting of the Cabinet Ministers Saturday it was decided to submit the documents in the Dreyfus case to a commission to be selected by the Minister of Justice M. Sarrien. The Minister for War, General Zurlinden, and the Minister of Public Works, Senator Tillaye, left before the Council adjourned, which is interpreted as meaning that they do not agree with their colleagues in this matter, and they intend to reign.

As he was leaving Elysee Palace, after the Cabinet meeting, a large crowd of people cheered the Premier, M. Brisson, with cries of "Vive la revision!" apparently showing that popular feeling was changing in favor of a re-opening of the Dreyfus case.

General Zurlinden has sent his written resignation to Premier Brisson, as follows: "I have the honor to beg you to receive my resignation as Minister of War. An exhaustive study of the papers in the Dreyfus case has convinced me too fully of his guilt for me to accept, as the head of the army, any other solution than that of the maintenance of the judgment in its entirety."

New Ministers Appointed.

Later in the day another Cabinet Council was held, at which General Chanoine, commander of the first division of the first army corps, Department of the North, and the Pas de Calais was appointed Minister for War, in succession to General Zurlinden, and Senator Godin, representing French India, was appointed Minister of Public Works, succeeding M. Tillaye who also resigned.

France Is Conciliatory.

London, Sept. 19.—From Cairo and from an entirely independent source the Daily Mail learns that France has assumed a conciliatory attitude towards Great Britain and has declared that the expedition of Marchand is quite unofficial. The Sirdar will offer to take Major Marchand to Cairo, and it is probable that the Major will accept and that Fashoda will be occupied by Egyptian troops.

NOEL'S DEMAND,

That the Mussulman Population of Crete Must Be Disarmed, Acceded to by the Sultan.

Candia, Island of Crete, Sept. 19.—Admiral Noel, the British naval commander here, handed Edhem Pasha, the Turkish Governor, Friday evening, a demand for the disarmament of the Mussulman population. The Pasha is awaiting the instructions of the Turkish Government on the subject.

The Sultan Accedes to the Demand.

Candia, Island of Crete, Sept. 19.—The Sultan has ordered Djevad Pasha, the military commander in Crete, to accede to the demand of British Admiral Noel for disarmament, thus complying with the whole ultimatum of the admiral. A British military detachment yesterday occupied the entrance to the fort, and it is rumored that the Ottoman troops will be withdrawn and British forces will occupy the town.

Among the prisoners already handed over to Admiral Noel are two who are credited with being the ringleaders in the attack on the British camp.

THE LAST RITES.

An Impressive Ceremony at Vienna on Saturday—Emperor William Was in Attendance.

Vienna, Sept. 19.—Emperor Francis Joseph at 9 o'clock Saturday morning received the special representatives of foreign sovereigns. An hour later he received the visit from the sovereigns, with the exception of the King of Saxony, whom he personally greeted at the railroad station.

The funeral was celebrated with impressive ceremonies during the afternoon. An imposing procession proceeded slowly from the Hofburg chapel to the Church of Capuchins. The houses along the route were deeply draped with black, and the streets were crowded with people bearing mourning emblems.

The funeral car was drawn by eight horses, and was escorted by a large force of troops, and a long train of dignitaries.

The church was draped with black, and the Cardinal-Archbishop of Vienna, Mgr. Grusoha, officiated.

The services were brief, and, when they were finished, the casket was lifted from the catafalque and borne down the stairway to the vaults, where the final benediction was pronounced.

Emperor Francis Joseph, Prince Hohenlohe, the German Imperial Chancellor, and Baron Von Buelow, the German Minister for Foreign Affairs, received Emperor William at the railroad station. The Emperors shook hands and kissed each other's cheeks three times.

THOUGH THE WAR IS OVER,

The Poor Are Still Dying in the Streets of Cuban Towns.

Havana, via Key West, Sept. 19.—Reports from Matanzas state that dreadful conditions prevail there. The poor are dying in the public streets and highways at an average of four or five daily. Besides the 27 unburied bodies before reported, the bodies of four men and women who have died from starvation were found in the street; one child almost dead from hunger was found close to the wall of El Oriente Foundry. This condition of things in the neighboring seaport towns demands instant attention.

Remains With the Government.

London, Sept. 17.—The election held to-day for the seat in Parliament made vacant by the death of Mr. Arthur Pease, Liberal-Unionist, resulted in the return of Mr. Pike-Pease, the Liberal-Unionist candidate, by a majority of 1,408 votes over his Liberal opponent, Mr. Owen C. Phillips. The polling was as follows: Mr. Pike-Pease, Liberal-Unionist, 3,447. Mr. Owen C. Phillips, Liberal, 2,039. Liberal-Unionist majority, 1,408. ALPINE HEROISM.

An Appalling Season's List of Fatalities in the Alps—An Englishman and Guide Killed.

London, Sept. 19.—The season's record of Alpine fatalities is appalling. This week has added several to the list. It also brings one of the most splendid stories of heroism ever told.

Prof. Nasse, well known in Berlin as the assistant of Prof. Bergman, and Dr. Borchardt, with two guides, the four men roped together, were crossing the Pix Baine over a snow bridge, which was considered safe by the guides. The bridge gave way and the leading guide and Prof. Nasse fell into a crevasse. Nasse had the rope around his chest and hung in mid-air.

A half-hour later, to relieve this intolerable strain, the leading guide cut the rope between himself and Prof. Nasse, and disappeared into the depths. The other guide and Dr. Borchardt were then able to pull Prof. Nasse up, but he was dead.

It is cheering to know that the guide who so willingly offered his life was not killed, but was found unhurt by the rescue party.

Englishman and Guide Killed.

Chamounix, Sept. 19.—An Englishman named Binns and a guide, who accompanied him, while making the descent of the Aiguille de Charmoz, fell, and both were killed.

MOUNT VESUVIUS IS RUMBLING.

Large Quantities of Lava Flowing Near the Crater.

Rome, Sept. 19.—The activity of Mount Vesuvius is increasing. Deep rumblings and explosions are heard in the crater and these are followed by the vomiting forth of great quantities of lava and ashes. A torrent of lava half a mile wide is flowing near the crater. A little way down the mountain the stream divides into three branches, from 20 to 50 yards wide, with a velocity of 35 yards an hour. All the villages in the neighborhood are sprinkled with ashes. Some of the wells have dried up. Many pine groves and vineyards have been destroyed. The spectacle at night is magnificent.

The observatory, which originally stood at a height of 610 metres, is now only 97 metres above the sea level, owing to the sinking of the ground. Seven new craters have formed around the central one, and this has not tended to diminish the fears formerly felt, which were based upon the eruption of stones and scoria, similar to that which occurred in 1872.

Du Bosc Transferred Again.

Madrid, Sept. 19.—The Official Gazette publishes the announcement of the appointment of Senor Montero Rios, President of the Senate; Senor Abarzuza, Senor Garnica, General Cerero and Senor Villarrutia as the Spanish Peace Commissioners.

Senors Du Bosc and Aranguren, formerly secretaries to the Spanish Legation at Washington, have been transferred from St. Petersburg to Vienna.

Non-Phosphorus Match Invented.

London, Sept. 19.—Kohlmann Rosenthal, an Englishman, and Dr. Von Komocki, a Berlin chemist, declare that they have invented a match that will strike anywhere and no phosphorus is used in it. This invention, they say, will do away with the horrors of necrosis, to which employes in match factories are subject.

Penalty of Getting Whipped.

Madrid, Sept. 19.—The Supreme Council of War has decided to suspend Admiral Montijo and Major Sostoa, director of the Cadiz Arsenal.

A MOTORMAN'S ESCAPE.

How Benjamin Bacon Escaped From a Terrible Position.

Toronto, Sept. 19—Mr. Benjamin Bacon, motorman, No. 150, in the employ of the Toronto Street Railway Co. tells the following story of his escape from a situation in which death menaced him daily.

"I have, for a year past been a great sufferer from severe pains in my back. My doctor told me I had the first stage of Bright's Disease. He could not help me, nor did the many advertised medicines do me any good. At length, I gave Dodd's Kidney Pills a trial. The result is that today I am a new man, sound and well and strong in every respect."

A man of irregular habits will find one of Milburn's Sterling Headache Powders taken in the morning clear his head, steady his nerves and put him in shape for his day's work. Price 10c and 25c.

Mr. Enos Bornberry, Tuscarora, writes: "I am pleased to say that Dr Thomas' Eclectric Oil is all that you claim it to be, as we have been using it for years, both internally and externally, and have always received benefit from its use. It is our family medicine, and I take great pleasure in recommending it."

REV. DR. JOHN HALL IS DEAD.

Great New York Presbyterian Divine Passes Away at Bangor, Ireland.

Belfast, Ireland, Sept. 19.—The Rev. John Hall of New York died Saturday morning at Bangor, County Down.

Dr. Hall was on his annual visit to Europe. He died at his sister's residence. His health has been broken down and he had been seriously ill for two days before his death. He had hoped to return to New York shortly and had already engaged passage on a steamer for himself and wife.

Dr. Hall's death was due to heart failure. His wife and sons, the Rev. "Tom" Hall and Prof. Robert Hall, were present at the bedside of the deceased when he passed away.

The Rev. John Hall was born in County Armagh, Ireland, on July 31, 1829. He was of Scotch descent. When 18 years of age young Hall entered Belfast College. In 1849 he was licensed to preach. During the year 1867 Dr. Hall was a delegate from the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Ireland to the Presbyterian Church in the United States, and after his return to Ireland he received a call to the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church in New York. He accepted it, and entered upon his labors in November, 1867. A new church edifice was erected for Dr. Hall in 1875, at a cost of about $1,000,000. He was an author of many devotional works, and was known in Canada by reason of having preached many church dedicatory sermons twenty years ago and prior to that period.

MARKETS FOR SEVEN DAYS.

Wheat in Chicago and Liverpool Fluctuated Somewhat—Ontario Farmers Asking More Than Export Price.

Saturday Evening, Sept. 17.

This week's wheat markets have exhibited some irregularity with the tendency of prices decidedly upward. On the Chicago board since Saturday last this month's delivery has advanced 2¾c per bushel and the Dec. and March options 1⅝c and 1c respectively. The cause of the upturn has been the failure of receipts to more than meet actual requirements and a consequent appreciation in the value of the cash article in Northwest markets. Farmers are believed to be stacking their wheat and postponing threshing until better prices arrive. Liverpool has fully responded and on that market spot red winter is to-day quoted 4½d per cental, the Sept. delivery 2¾d and the December option 1d higher than a week ago.

As for new Ontario wheat the price asked by farmers is still away above export possibilities and consequently none is moving. Farmers seem to be in a position to wait, though they seem likely to be disappointed if they look for higher prices. Millers are paying 65c at north and west points for current supplies.

HE SEEMS THOROUGHLY BAD.

A Small Boy Who, Though Only Nine Years Old, has Gotten Into Trouble a Great Many Times.

A nine year old lad by the name of Willie Cooper was arrested by the Chief of Police this morning, charged with breaking into W. H. Meldrum's mill on Simcoe street yesterday. This is not the first time by any means that the boy has rendered himself amenable to the law and although young in years he is old in vice, as will be vouched for by the police.

When the Chief heard of the burglary at Meldrum's he went down and examined the premises, finding that entrance had been gained through breaking the glass in a window in a slide door and opening it by removing the fastening.

The till was broken open, but as the business is largely transacted by cheque, through the bank, and what loose money was on hand had been placed in the safe the young burglar got nothing for his trouble. Recognizing the style of work as that effected by young Cooper on previous occasions, the chief suspected that he was at the bottom of the affair and his suspicions were greatly strengthened when just beside Cooper's gate he found, hidden away in some debris, a portion of one of the crossbars of the window, which had been broken out. He arrested the boy on suspicion and the lad acknowledged his guilt, urging that something in his heart made him break into the mill. He said that he was sorry afterwards and intended going and telling the Chief about it. Chief Roezel told him that he was afraid that he might forget to come, and so arrested him.

Young Cooper has been mixed up in a number of similar affairs before, and in order that he might not be sent to a reformatory, his parents promised to send him out of town to school if he was turned over to their care. On inquiry, however, the school question proved to be too expensive, and the boy was sent to friends in Hamilton. He had not been there long when he was at his old tricks and broke into a house. He was caught and brought up in the Hamilton police court, where he was allowed to go on condition that he left for home immediately. His parents on being made aware of this, asked permission of Chief Roezel to bring the boy back, and was told that if he behaved himself he would not be molested, but he is evidently incorrigible. On appearing before Mr. R. S. Davidson, J. P., this morning he was remanded until the return of Police Magistrate Dumble, who is absent from town.

HORSE THIEVES AROUND

An Animal Stolen in Orillia on Friday Last.

Chief Roezel this morning received a card from Geo. H. Clark, Orillia's chief constable, containing the following description of a horse which was stolen from there on the evening of Sept. 16th:—Dark brown mare, about thirteen hands high, white stripe in face to point of nose, seven years old, right hind foot white to fetlock, spavin on one hind leg, tail worn short by switching. Think thief had two-wheel gig, leading mare behind; started to go north but may have changed course. Arrest any person found in possession of mare and wire."

"Are," asks a young man with court plaster on his head, yet, "any of the Orillia lacrosse players missing?"

COUNTY POLICE COURT,

Geo. Monorief Honourably Discharged —A Bicycle Case From Norwood.

The charge of theft against Geo. Monorief was dismissed by Magistrate Edmison this afternoon, it being plainly shown that the plough in question was not taken with criminal, but it was kept on contra account, Steele, the plaintiff, owing Monorief quite a sum of money.

Mr. E. B. Stone appeared for the defence.

In the case of John Graham, of Norwood, charged with the theft of a bicycle, he was sentenced to one month in gaol.

THOSE SEWER TRAPS.

Better Provision Should be Made for Carrying off the Surface Water.

The openings into the sewer for carrying off the surface water from the streets have proven entirely inadequate for the purpose for which they were constructed, and this point should receive attention now that additional sewer contracts have been let.

It has been suggested by some of the citizens that the raised cage gratings over these entrances, instead of the flat ones now used, would not become clogged so easily, but whether it is the fault of the gratings or not, the fact exists that the sewer in this respect does not give satisfaction.

THE PETERBOROUGH CENTRAL EXHIBITION.

The Beautiful Bank of Commerce Clydesdale Silver Medal.

The Bank of Commerce, Peterborough, has handed to the Central Exhibition Committee a very handsome silver medal, to be given as a special prize for the best Clydesdale horse or mare at the show. The medal is beautifully worked out and reflects much credit on the artist. The giving of this prize is another illustration of the interest the Bank of Commerce has always shown in the promotion of the welfare of the farming community.

The medal in itself has much intrinsic beauty and value. In design and workmanship it is a veritable work of art. It is a trifle over two inches and a quarter diameter and about a quarter of an inch in thickness, of solid sterling silver. The face of it is a circular depression occupying the full surface of the medal, except a raised circumference about a quarter of an inch in breadth, broken at the top by the raised representation of the coat of arms of the bank and bears in circular form the name of the bank also. Upon this smooth surface is space for the name of the lucky owner of the best Clydesdale horse or mare shown at the Central Exhibition. The obverse of the medal bears a beautifully wrought wreath in high relief, composed of a skilfully combined representation of the fruits of the farm, vine and garden, which incloses a farm scene, the house in the distance and in the foreground a grouping of various kinds of farm stock.

A NOVEL EXPERIENCE.

First Impressions of the Lacunar St. Lawrence of the North.

We are all familiar with the frequently-recurring story of some old stay-at-home dame in the remote country districts turning up who has never seen a railway train. But it is left to Peterborough to furnish a business citizen who has been in town several years, who never saw Stony Lake, or was upon its silvery surface, till a day or two ago. A well-known business citizen whose bustling qualities are suggested by the fact that his Christian pre-nomen which he received at the baptismal font, is not brisk enough for business purposes, and that he substitutes "Alive" for it in his advertisements, for being a live business man he is a large advertiser. The other day this citizen went out with two or three other citizens to assist a compatriot in closing his Stony Lake "hunting" lodge for the season. The cis-Atlantic Gaul in question, with a misty idea that partridges and black duck were as plentiful at Stony Lake as bass and lunge, took a gun and a small cart-load of cartridges, with him. During his voyage on the lake, whose beauty, like every visitor, he greatly admired, he fired indiscriminately at everything animate and inanimate in sight and there is only one slight accident to record. After he had been reduced to the last cartridge with a blind confidence in the chapter of chances, he drew a careful bead on Eagle Mount and by some perversity of fate a few grains of shot grazed one corner of it. His friends contemplate signalizing the occasion by presenting him with a medal, but the exact form it will take has not been decided upon, and may never be presented, unless the price of the silence of his friends is forthcoming in the shape of a fist full of the first importation of Havana Diaz y Garcias, since the cruel war is over.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

THE EXAMINER has received a letter from a correspondent which does not come under our offer to insert letters relating to the plebiscite. On all hands it is admitted that the intemperate use of intoxicating drink is an evil. That point requires no argument. The question is how to prevent the evil. Prohibition is believed by some to be a remedy, and by others to be no remedy. The discussion was invited upon this point, and letters to secure insertion could have reference to this circumstance. The plebiscite will be taken on Sept. 29th to ascertain how public opinion is divided upon the subject of prohibition, which is the debateable subject. The question of the evils of intemperance are conceded by everybody, and there is, therefore, no room for discussion upon that point.

Daily Examiner.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1898.

PRO-PROHIBITION.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—While in town to-day I noticed some flaring posters, which urged people to vote against prohibition on the ground that it would need a tax of two dollars per head to raise the revenue of the country, which would be lost in the event of a prohibitory law being put in force. They also quote words of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, which he is reported to have used, to the effect that direct taxation would be necessary. Now, sir, since the Premier was reported to have made that statement, he has made another in which he says that direct taxation is not the only way of raising the revenue required.

Now, Mr. Editor, if you will allow me to quote the opinions of some of the greatest statesmen the world has ever seen, I think it will show conclusively that not only would there be no direct taxation, but that the revenue would not be impaired in the slightest degree.

The Rt. Hon. Joseph Chamberlain says: "If I could destroy to-morrow the desire for strong drink in the people of England, we should see our taxes reduced by millions sterling. We should see our gaols and workhouses empty. We should see more lives saved in twelve months than are consumed in a century of bitter and savage war."

There is nothing about direct taxation there. The opinion of Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone is just as decided:—

"Gentlemen, you need not give yourselves any trouble about revenue. The question of revenue must never stand in the way of needed reforms. Besides, with a sober population, not wasting their earnings, I shall know where to obtain the revenue." And again he says: "The great plague of drunkenness is a national curse, calamity and scandal."

Hon. Sir Leonard Tilley says: "For many years I was Finance Minister of Canada, and I have stated over and over again that the financial question is the weakest objection that could be raised against prohibition. In the great fires of St. John in 1877, $20,000,000 worth of property was destroyed. The insurance derived from this was $8,000,000. Suppose I were to suggest to the people of St. John to-day that if they burned their city they would get another $8,000,000, people would say I was mad. Yet this is exactly the principle the Government of Canada is acting upon in raising a revenue from the liquor traffic."

These are very strong statements, and are made by most eminent statesmen. Equally strong assertions have been made by Sir Oliver Mowat, Hon. Geo. E Foster, Sir Stafford Northcote, Sir William Vernon Harcourt, Cobden, John Bright, and scores of others, who "think before they speak."

Therefore it seems to me to be the direst nonsense to mention direct taxation in connection with the prohibition of the liquor traffic.

A crisis and a duty
Have come to us to-day.
The sword of power is tendered us
Our country's curse to slay.

In freedom's cause then use it,
No patriot can do less;
For God, and Home and Canada,
Let every vote be "YES."

Score a vote for Canada on September 29th.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your kindness, I remain,

Yours sincerely,
PRO PATRIA.

A SPRINGVILLE WELCOME,

Festivities in Honour of Rev. A. J. McMullen, on His Return Home With a Bride.

On the occasion of the return of Rev. Mr. McMullen with his bride (nee Miss Allison of Sarnia), the ladies of the congregation had provided edibles in abundance and gathered at the manse and prepared a sumptuous supper, awaiting the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. McMullen, on the 7.40 C.P.R. train from Toronto. Upon the arrival of the wedded party a formal reception was held, after which all were invited to partake of the good things that the ladies had provided. After justice had been done to the inner man, Mr. T. M. Hunter was called upon to read, on behalf of the congregation, the following address:

Rev. A. J. McMullen:

REV. AND DEAR SIR:—We, the members of your Springville congregation, take the liberty of extending you our cordial congratulations on the important occasion of your marriage, and also of extending a most hearty and respectful welcome to your wife. Though she is a stranger to us in a social sense, yet for the sake of our love and esteem for you, we welcome her to our midst, assuring you both that if, as we believe, she is as worthy of our respect and possesses as many high qualities of head and heart, as in one year of acquaintance and of your faithful service, we have found you to possess, we have the highest reasons to widen our range of congratulation—to congratulate yourself and Mrs. McMullen, as well as ourselves, upon the change in your condition, that adds another—one we feel well qualified to adorn it—to our social circle. Permit us, in conclusion, to offer you this little emblem of our respectful feelings towards you and to join in wishing yourself and Mrs. McMullen the greatest happiness in the new estate upon which you have entered and to both a long life of usefulness in your high calling.

Rev. Mr. McMullen, for himself and on behalf of his wife, gracefully and warmly expressed his appreciation of, and thanks for, the cordial welcome extended them, for the tasteful and handsome gift and for the kindly and encouraging sentiments of the address.

The present from the congregation was a handsome set of china dishes of the latest design. The party left at a late hour, after having spent a very pleasant first meeting with their pastor and his estimable wife in their new sphere of domestic life.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.

Interesting Address on Sunday Evening by Mr. D. Galloway.

At the largely attended service in St. Andrew's church on Sunday evening, Mr. D. Galloway occupied the pulpit and delivered an impressive address. Rev. L. S. Hall, of Knox College, Toronto, who had conducted the service in the morning, assisted in the preliminary service.

The speaker began his remarks by referring to the life of suffering he had endured, but he had found a Friend whose love had surrounded, comforted and sustained him It was of this great Friend that he would speak to-night. His text was a part of the 14th verse of the 5th Chapter of St. Paul's Epistle to the Corinthians: "The love of Christ constraineth us." After pointing out the hopeless condition of the sinner whose only hope of rescue was in God, who had, by the gift of his Son, supplied a plan for the rescue of the perishing. The preacher said that nothing could describe the matchless, incomprehensible and boundless love of Christ. We could, however, know what sacrifice and self denial had constrained Christ to give Himself for the redemption of lost and fallen man. The constraining power of the love of Christ was made manifest in the lives of the apostles and early Christians, and of all the Christian heroes that have brightened every page of history. The speaker then went on to enter into detail of the life and work of the most noted philanthropists who had been constrained by the love of Christ to devote their lives to perpetual self-sacrifice for the up lifting of the fallen and degraded. Every heart the love of Christ entered was constrained to a life of self-sacrifice. No matter what the form of faith they professed, if persons were not influenced in their lives by the law of love, their faith was of non-effect. The speaker then went on to speak of something which he said was not generally believed by Christians, namely, if we were condemned in the day of judgment we should not be condemned for the evil deeds we had done, but for the deeds of love we might have done but did not do."

During the offertory the choir sang "Lead, Kindly Light" in an excellent manner.

VILLERS SUNDAY SCHOOL.

The Annual Meeting Was Held on Sept. 15th—Most Satisfactory Reports Received.

The annual meeting of Villers Sunday school was held in the school room on the evening of Thursday, Sept. 15 h, 1898.

The meeting, with Mr. A. Gillespie, as chairman, was opened with singing, followed by prayer by Mr. Lancaster, superintendent of the school.

The report of the school for the past year was read as follows:

During the past year we have had service in our school on every Sunday and I think in some ways our school has greatly improved. Our meetings, as you all know, are held one Sunday in the forenoon and the next in the afternoon, so that the superintendent and teachers, and also some of the scholars can attend their church services. In former years the forenoon meetings were very small, but this year they have been much better attended. Scholars who never came in the forenoon before have become quite regular attendants so that although the number on the roll is not quite so large as formerly still the attendance is much more satisfactory.

I think too that the school has gained spiritually. A number of the members of the Bible class who never taught before have this year been teaching classes; also the teachers as well as some of the older scholars have been able to aid the Superintendent in opening and closing the school with prayer. The order in the school has been, I think, as good as in former years.

In the primary department we have made some improvement by separating them from the main school by curtains. We have also provided the teacher with the large picture roll, which is a great help to her in teaching the little ones.

We have in connection with our school a library containing 186 books, but as it has been pretty well read, we decided decided some time ago to get some new books. A subscription was taken among the people belonging to the school, to which I think they responded very freely, as we received $19 80. We have therefore purchased seventy-five new books, and expect to have our library in working order next Sunday.

We have now on our roll eight teachers and officers, consisting of a superintendent, who is also our Bible class teacher, five teachers, a librarian and a secretary-treasurer.

Our superintendent has shown us all a good example in attendance, as he has attended fifty-two (or every) Sundays in the year. The attendance of the teachers and officers is as follows:—

Miss A. Elmhirst, 41. Mr. R. N. Weir, 37. Mr. Weir, as you all know, is not here during the holidays, which accounts for his low attendance. Mrs. Brough, 38. Owing to sickness in her family Mrs. Brough was not able to attend during the first quarter of this year. Miss A. Bathgate, 21. This class has only been formed for a short time, as it is composed of some scholars who graduated from the infant class. Miss E. M. Nelson, 47. Miss E. M. Weir, secretary, 51. Mr. Alex. Wood, 25. Mr. Wood cannot be with us at our forenoon meetings, but as our books are only distributed every two weeks he is always on hand to attend to his duties as librarian.

I think, taking everything into consideration, that the teachers have been very faithful to their duties. And just here I might say that we are indebted to the Sunday School Committee of the Y.P.S.C.E. for the way in which they have filled the places of absent teachers.

The scholars showing the best attendance in each class are:

Class 1	Jennie Wood	34
" 2	Robert Hope and Wm Faux	38
" 3	Lizzie Robertson	53
" 4	James Brough	42
" 5	Ethel Weir	46
" 6	Mary Wood	62

The number of scholars on the roll is 64; the average attendance 42; the largest attendance on one Sunday, 57. The average daily collection is 57c; total receipts for the year, $51.95; expenditure, $42 23, leaving a balance on hand of $9 72. This is the school fund alone. Besides this we have a missionary fund, having set aside one Sunday in each month on which the collection taken in the school is to be used for missionary purposes. The amount collected for this fund is $12 31. Of this we have spent $2.50 for Home Missions and sent $5 to the Home Mission Fund of the Presbyterian church, leaving a balance on hand of $4 81.

We have, I think, great reason to be thankful for the prosperity of our school in the past, and although, perhaps, we may not be able to see as great results as we would like, we should not be impatient nor discouraged. We are told to "cast our bread upon the waters and we shall find it after many days," and if we are only faithful to the trust which God has committed to us, we will some day be rewarded by hearing those welcome words, "Well done thou good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

E. M. WEIR,
Secretary.

Mr. Lancaster then addressed the meeting thanking the teachers and officers, also the scholars, for their good attendance. He then resigned his office as superintendent, saying that as he had held this position for quite a number of years, he thought the school might like a change.

A vote was taken, resulting in Mr. Lancaster being unanimously re-elected.

The teachers and officers were also re-elected.

After singing the hymn, "Blest be the tie that binds," the meeting was closed with prayer by Miss Bathgate.

Dr. Russell's Corn cure has relieved more suffering humanity from this cause of annoyance than all other means combined. I have half a gross of empty bottles upon my shelves. Everything my neighbors and friends would tell me to try I would go straight away to the drug store and purchase. I was in a terrible condition from dyspepsia and liver troubles and was getting worse all the time. I was so discouraged buying one medicine and the other and receiving no benefit that I was about giving up all hope of ever getting better, when my husband brought me home a box of Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, which he said had been highly recommended to him. I began using them at once, when, to my great surprise, I felt better in a very short time and continued them for about two weeks more which cured me entirely. I have not the least sign of dyspepsia or liver troubles now, and have also gained several pounds in weight.

Signed, ANNIE E. GAUNTLEY,
King Street, Berlin, Ont.

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents per box, 5 boxes for $2.00, at druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by The Dr. Ward Co., 71 Victoria St., Toronto. Book of information free.

A MODERN SOLOMON.

The Dogs In an Arabian Family Made to Tell the Truth.

A recent French judgment may be cited as an illustration of Arab manners and Gallic astuteness. An Arab was traveling through the interior with his wife. He was on donkey back, and she was afoot. By came a rich Arab on horseback and offered her a lift behind him. She accepted and presently, in the course of the journey, confided that she was unhappily married. Her companion proposed a plan by which she might elope with him, and she agreed to it readily. Accordingly when they came to a branch road they increased their pace and paid no heed to the protestations of the husband, who was soon left behind. He succeeded in tracking them to the horseman's village, only to find that precautions had been taken against his arrival, for all asserted that they had known the runaway pair for many years as man and wife and that the real husband must be an impudent impostor.

The unfortunate man had recourse to the French, who were at first puzzled how to act in the face of a village's unanimous testimony. At last a happy thought occurred to the judge. He placed the real husband's dogs in one room and those of the other man in another and confronted the woman with both. Arab dogs are very faithful to their own households and very fierce toward all strangers, so, though she did her utmost to irritate her own dogs, they could not be restrained from fawning on her, and, though she lavished every blandishment toward the dogs of her new home they barked and showed their teeth with ever increasing fury. The judge thereupon ordered her to be given back to her husband, and he placarded the village with the following notice. "The testimony of one dog is here more to be believed than that of ten Arabs." As a dog is one of the Arab's worst terms of opprobrium, this notice was deemed a worse punishment than fines or imprisonment.—London Post.

A business man is not the most patient creature in the world. He cannot wait to hear any long-drawn-out story of the cause of his ailment. He does'nt care two straws about a fine spun theory of how he should treat himself. He may be predisposed to scrofula or consumption. "That," he will tell you, "has nothing to do with the case." He wants to be well. If he can be cured, write out a prescription and send in your bill. So here's the first part of the proposition.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a microbe hunter ad killer. Many persons of scrofulous blood encourage the breaking out of unsightly sores, to prevent the disease going to the lungs. There is no need of this state of dread and discomfort. Purify the blood. It can be done. "Golden Medical Discovery" will cure 98 per cent. of all consumptive cases, also of all lingering bronchial, throat and lung diseases.

He Could Steer.

A member of the crew of the Yankee tells The Electrical Review of an incident that happened aboard that vessel during the recent cruise. Said he:

"We were out at sea, and one of the boys—you know him—was doing his trick at the wheel. Commander Brownson came up alongside him and after watching him a few minutes said, 'You steer very well, my man.' Billy just saluted, being up on naval etiquette. 'Been practicing since you joined the ship?' asked Brownson. 'No, sir; I haven't been practicing much,' said Billy. 'Well, you handle this ship as if you'd steered before,' said Brownson. 'Yes, sir,' said Billy; 'I have.' 'Where?' said Brownson. 'All along the Atlantic coast,' says Billy. 'What did you steer?' says Brownson. 'My own steam yacht, sir,' says Billy. 'How big is she?' says Brownson after a pause. 'About 1,000 tons, sir,' says Billy. 'I—I see,' says Brownson. 'Thank'ee, sir,' says Billy, saluting. And the 'old man' went to his stateroom."

Baby Beauty.

You always think of a pretty baby as plump and chubby. Scott's Emulsion gives just this plumpness; not too fat, just enough for the dimples to come. Babies like it, too.

THE AUGUST FINANCES.

A Satisfactory Increase in the Revenue Over Corresponding Month of Last Year.

Ottawa, Sept. 17.—The financial statement for August shows a satisfactory increase in the revenue over the corresponding month of last year, as well as for the two months of the new financial year, compared with a similar period of 1897. The revenue for August totalled $3,673,617, as against $3,878,065 in 1897, an increase of $795,551, notwithstanding the fact that the British preferential tariff was in full force during the latter month. The total revenue from the beginning of the fiscal year to the end of August, 1898, amounted to $7,313,337, as against $5,184,484 for the same period of last year, an increase of $2,178,753. The customs revenue increased from $1,734,856 in August, 1897, to $2,062,924 in August, 1898, a difference of $238,068 in favor of the month just ended, during which the preferential rate in British goods has been operative. The total increase in customs receipts to the end of August, 1898, is $1,379,403 over the similar portion of the fiscal year of 1897. Excise revenue for August, 1898, amounts to $779,562, as against $478,851 for August, 1897, there being an increase of $300,000.

A DASTARDLY OUTRAGE.

A Thief Throws Carbolic Acid in the Face of a Toronto Woman.

Toronto, Sept. 17.—A dastardly outrage was perpetrated on Esther street yesterday, when an unknown man threw a quantity of carbolic acid into the face of Mrs. William Newman, seriously burning the left side of her face and her hands.

William Newman is a driver for the Sheddien Manufacturing Company and leaves for his work early.

When the scoundrel threw the acid on her Mrs. Newman fainted, but to secure himself the intruder gagged her with a handkerchief. He then proceeded to search the house rapidly, and took $35 in cash from a vest of Mr. Newman's. He left by the rear way, and escaped, taking with him the bottle and the handkerchief he used as a gag.

FIRE NOT INCENDIARY.

The First Insurance Cheques in New Westminster Fire Paid.

Vancouver, B.C., Sept. 17.—Incendiarism had nothing to do with the New Westminster fire. The man Sheppard, who was arrested on the charge, was released yesterday, it being obvious that he had no connection with the outbreak. The first cheques from the insurance companies were presented Thursday and paid.

B. C. Mining Village Burned Up.

Vancouver, Sept. 17.—The little mushroom mining village at Bickley Bay, some 150 miles up the coast, was destroyed by fire at 3 a.m. Thursday. Eighteen people were in the hotel and escaped in their night shirts. The steamer Comox took them all on board, arriving there at 4 a.m. The village is the property of the Channel Mining Company. The loss is $5,000, with very little insurance.

Col. Bryan Will Resign.

Washington, Sept. 17.—Col. William Jennings Bryan will, it is understood, soon end his war service. Reluctant as he is to resign his commission, in the face of pending orders to proceed to Cuba for garrison duty, his ambition to get back to his State in time for the fall campaign is seemingly paramount to all other considerations.

Mangled by a Roller.

Embro, Sept. 17.—Fred. Smith, who is in the employ of Mr. Alex. Sutherland, 10th line, East Zorra, was terribly mangled by a roller. The team ran away. He was found lying in a creek, and was thought to be dead, but revived, and is now in a critical condition.

Women's Worst Enemy

Some hesitate before giving an answer, but those who know best will immediately say HEADACHE.

Thousands of women live in misery day after day, and week after week, suffering untold agony from these dreadful headaches. Husbands are disheartened, children neglected, and happy homes ruined. Most women strive to bear in patience the suffering which they consider part of life without looking into the cause or searching for relief. Food cannot digest without the bile which the liver supplies and hence the necessity of keeping the liver in good working order. To cure the headaches you must cure the liver and thus remove the cause of disease.

Dr. Chase spent years of his life in perfecting a medicine which acts directly on the kidneys and liver. Thousands of grateful women have testified during the past ten years to the effectiveness of this remedy for sick headaches. Many a home has been restored to happiness as a result.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, the greatest discovery of this great scientist, are put up to sell 25 doses for 25c. All dealers.

THEY WANT RECIPROCITY.

Buffalo People Are Pulling Wires to Influence Quebec Conference.

Buffalo, N.Y., Sept. 17.—A petition, signed by a number of this city's most influential citizens is being circulated among the members of the Merchants' Exchange, asking that body to take decisive action on the question of reciprocity with Canada in time for the next meeting of the Quebec conference. The petitioners are strongly in favor of reciprocity in trade, and point out that Buffalo, being the terminating point of important Canadian railways, would be sure to benefit from a free exchange of the products of the two countries.

BIG FIRE AT HOCHELAGA.

Street Railway Car Shops and a Number of Cars Go Up in Smoke.

Montreal, Sept. 17.—The street railway car shop at Hochelaga, with 50 new and a great many old cars, was burned yesterday. The total loss is from $75,000 to $100,000. Business will proceed without interruption, Mr. McDonald stated. There were 28 closed cars destroyed, and, as the company have twenty building at present, they will be eight short of their winter stock.

Meagher Didn't Show Up.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 17. — Thomas Meagher, the alleged smuggler, whose arrest by Deputy Collector of Customs Henry Avery at St. Clair flats about a month ago has developed into a case of international importance, yesterday failed to appear before U. S. Commissioner E. W. Harris, and his bail bond was forfeited. Meagher had been released on a $1,000 bail bond, with Messrs. Craig and Webber of the flats as securities. He is understood at present to be at his home at Port Lambton, Ontario.

The Anglican Synod.

Montreal, Sept. 17.—At the Anglican Synod yesterday the consideration of Mission work was continued. After a long debate it was decided to recommend the giving of the offering of the Women's Auxiliary for Chinese work on the Pacific Coast.

The election of officers resulted in the re-election of Rev. Canon Spencer of Kingston as secretary, and Mr. A. E. Elliott of Ottawa as treasurer of the Mission Board.

Bishop Thornloe of Algoma presented a satisfactory report of the work in his diocese.

Law on Plebiscite Day.

Ottawa, Sept. 17.—The Hon. R. W. Scott, Secretary of State, has given the opinion that no liquor can be sold on polling day without being subject to a penalty of $100 fine and imprisonment. The sixth section of the Plebiscite Act shows that the Dominion Elections Act applies to the conduct of all proceedings in submitting the questions.

HUMAN SACRIFICES

On the Altar of Diabetes, Saved by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

Hardly a family in the country is free from Diabetes. Great thirst, failing sight, numbness in the thighs, bleeding gums, swollen ankles, emaciation, nervousness, pale or turbid urine, loss of sexual power, decaying teeth, pains in the loins or small of the back, are all positive signs that Diabetes is in the system.

Do you know how it ends? IN DEATH. A premature, horrible, agonized, pitiful death. The victim has no peace, no ease in life. His days are filled with tortures. His nights are waking dreams of agony. He longs to die, yet fears the terrors of his end. He dies, a bloated, fetid, repulsive mass of corruption. That is the only end of unchecked Diabetes. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it. They drive it out of the system thoroughly, create new, clean blood, rebuild the diseased kidneys, and restore robust health.

STREET GAMIN IN REAL LIFE.

Not So Noble In Character as the Story Writers Picture Him.

"I have read a good many stories," said the city man, "about the honest newsboy who chases a man three blocks to return the $5 goldpiece given in mistake for a nickel, the sympathetic bootblack who protects the widow's son, or the heroic street gamin who gets run over by a dray while rescuing another boy and murmurs, 'Is Jimmy all right?' and then dies. I have come to the conclusion that these stories are written by girls fresh from school or refined old maids who live in a village, and they are read by men who thoughtfully stick the tongue into the cheek while reading. Yet there are men who read and believe.

"I saw one of this class the other day who went to the rescue of a bootblack who was trying to fix his broken box.

"'My lad,' said the good man—they always call them 'lads' in these stories—'you are in trouble. Let me assist you.'

"Then he knelt on the sidewalk in his good clothes, used a half brick for a hammer, raked up some twine from his pocket and after 15 minutes' hard work made a creditable job. Meanwhile about 30 street boys gathered around. One slipped a piece of old iron into his pocket, the grateful bootblack with a bit of chalk decorated his back with a hideous caricature, his hat was knocked into the gutter as he arose, and one of the boys accused him of stealing a 'dabber.'

"The man flushed with natural indignation, and immediately there arose a whoop of derision, and as he strode away he was guyed by the whole crowd for two blocks. While in this frame of mind it would have done him good to have interviewed some of the ladies who write the picturesque tales about the imaginary street boys."—Chicago Times-Herald.

TOO WEAK TO WORK.

A Collingwood, Ont., painter tells how Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills strengthened his heart, invigorated his nerves, and restored his health.

Weak heart and weak nerves mean weak body. No one can be strong and vigorous with the heart and nerves disordered or diseased. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills not only overcome all danger due to irregularity of the heart beat, but through regulating that organ, strengthening the nerves and enriching the blood they give new vitality and energy to the whole system.

Mr. Geo. Gray, the well-known painter, corner of Napier and Simcoe Sts., Collingwood, Ont., says: "For fifteen years past I have been afflicted with very weak nerves and heart trouble. I never could obtain sufficient sleep and felt as tired when I got up in the morning as when I went to bed. In addition to this I suffered much from palpitation of the heart and shortness of breath. My blood was thin and watery and I soon lost flesh and became debilitated. It was a great task for me to walk any distance or follow my usual occupation.

"In March last I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and they did me so much good that I bought another box. The great change for the better they have worked on me is wonderful. My nervous system is now as strong as ever, my blood has been enriched and my heart beats strong and natural. I now walk and work as well as ever I did and am only too glad to recommend these pills to all who suffer as I did."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills 50c. a box or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all druggists. T. Milburn & Co., Toronto, Ont.

ASSURANCE CO.

OFFICE OF W. A. MURRAY & CO., 17 to 27 King St., East, Toronto.

Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, N. A. L.:

DEAR SIR.—In answer to your request for me to decide upon one of the following options offered me for settlement of my 15-payment Life Investment Policy for $5,000 which has matured this year, viz:

1st to take the value of the Policy in Cash	$5,000.00
2nd, or fully paid-up insurance for	3,280.00
3rd, or take the profits in cash and continue my policy without further payments being required from me, such policy participating in future profits.	2,050 25

I find it somewhat difficult to make a decision either of the three options being so satisfactory. I am certainly very much pleased with the results offered me, and as I find many others are giving full testimony to the profit-earning power of this company. I do not hesitate to give my endorsement as well, that the North American Life is one of our strongest Canadian institutions to day giving first class results on Investment Policies, on a safe and conservative basis. I find that my policy, which was originally a Life by fifteen payments, has become an Endowment at the end of the Investment period.

A more pitiful sight than a mother and her child, both captives and shackled in a dungeon, could not well be imagined. There are thousands of mothers and their babes who lie shackled by disease in the dungeon of death.

Without knowing it, or having the faintest comprehension of it, the fault lies with the mother. Too many women enter upon the responsibilities of wifehood and motherhood while suffering from weakness and disease of the delicate and important organs that make wifehood and motherhood possible. A woman who suffers in this way cannot be a capable wife and a competent mother. Before entering upon the duties and responsibilities of these positions, she should see to it that her health, both general and local, is thoroughly restored. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all medicines for this purpose. It acts directly on the sensitive organs concerned, making them strong, healthy and vigorous. It promotes regularity of the functions, allays irritation and inflammation, heals ulceration, checks unnatural and exhausting drains and soothes pain. It tones and builds up the shattered nerves. It turns the dangers and pains of maternity into safety and ease. It is a medicine that is intended for this one purpose only and is good for no other. Dealers sell it and no honest dealer will suggest a substitute.

"Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription did me so much good that to-day I am well again and stronger than I have been for years," writes Mrs. Alex. Lockie of Wise, Isabella Co., Mich. "I have a baby one year old and as fat and healthy as one could wish to see. I took two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription.' I keep Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets in the house all the time. My family take no other kind of pills."

INDIAN AND TIGER.

A Clever Trick by Which the Former Outwitted the Latter.

According to a good and true tiger story in Cornhill, an Indian who had learned some of the elementary principles of jugglery and contortion went out one evening to walk upon a ridgy plain. When he reached the top of one of the mounds, he saw a tiger ahead of him, 500 or 600 yards away. Before the man could hide behind a mound the tiger had seen him and began to bound toward him at its topmost speed.

Having no means of defense, there was nothing for the man to do but to race for the nearest tree, but though he tried it and put forth his utmost strength the tiger steadily gained upon him.

What was he to do? In sheer desperation he resolved upon an unusual scheme. Just as he disappeared for an instant from the tiger's sight in running over a ridge he halted, stretched out his legs at right angles, curled down his head so as to look between his legs to the rear and extended his arms upward in a fantastic manner, like the sails of a windmill.

In a few seconds the tiger hove in sight, and at that instant the face of the object assumed a hideous grimace. A prolonged yell arose, such as had perhaps never before pierced the ear of any tiger, and the sails of the windmill began to revolve backward and forward as if a sudden whirlwind had burst upon the scene.

The tiger recoiled. What, he evidently thought, is this? There stood a ferocious star shaped monster, gigantic against the sky. Its hideous head was situated in the very center of its body—nay, its visible jaws, between which those fiendish roars were issuing, were actually placed above its two fiery eyes. Its limbs were furiously clamoring for action, and the man he had been chasing, where was he? Already devoured by this terrible beast? The tiger could not pause to reflect. He turned tail, and as he disappeared over a friendly ridge a last awful yell caused him to redouble his pace. He was conquered by the unknown.

THE POWER OF SHADOWS.

A Gloomy View of the Power of Certain Popular Superstitions.

As antique runners passed from hand to hand the sacred torch, so the generations transmit to the generations which succeed them all that they have of light and knowledge, leaving them as a heritage the care of continuing the divine work of enfranchisement and of helping to dissipate the shadows of ignorance.

Little by little these clouds are vanquished and disappear, and the touch of intelligence flames the more radiantly in the midst of the travailing masses.

But all of a sudden a veil covers the torch—something surges up which seems like the darkness of another age. One feels that in a corner of this civilization monstrous things have place. Here they burn a woman accused of sorcery; there in Suabia a tribunal condemns to four days of imprisonment a laborer who had disinterred the corpse of an infant. He wanted to make bracelets of its finger nails, which, according to a belief held in that country, constitute a sovereign remedy against colic.

And all the stories of vampires, of elfs, return to the mind with all the victims they have made and are making still.

It seems in reading such things that the "power of shadows" is still impenetrable to all that science has done and that, as I have said, the effort is vain.—Figaro.

APPALLING DEATH

From Kidney Disease Prevented by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

"Kidney Disease." Do you know what it means? It means that the kidneys are either rotten, or rotting; the blood is full of poisonous, death-dealing corruption; that the Kidneys can't do their work; that the victim is a walking charnel-house; that his hours are numbered; that the victim MUST take Dodd's Kidney Pills if he does not want to die.

Have you Kidney Disease? Is your skin hot and dry; memory failing; breath short; urine, reddish, or pale colored; does it scald when passing; is your appetite changeable; do your ankles swell; have you bitter taste in the mouth on getting up mornings; is there a brick-dust deposit in your urine?

Any of these signs is proof positive of Kidney Disease. Will you be cured, or will you die? Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only means on earth that will cure you. They never fail.

On the Eating of Loons.

Man is a creature of prejudice. In Scotland he will not eat eels; in Connecticut he will not eat sturgeon, the royal fish of England, where the first one taken in the Thames goes to the queen's table; in New York he will not eat lampreys, miscalled "lamper eels," which are delicacies in Connecticut, and in England some old king—I never could keep a record of kings—died from a surfeit of lampreys. With these prejudices in mind, and I hate all prejudices except those which I entertain, I decided to eat the loon.

There may be differences among loons, as there are between pigeons and squabs. I prefer an adult pigeon to a squab, there is better chewing on it, but if a man wants real hard chewing, with a flavor of raw fish, let him tackle an adult loon. That bird could not be picked. It was skinned, and in its stomach there was a catfish recently swallowed, one partly digested and the bones of another. The triggers of the pectoral fins of the catfish were set, but the stomach of the loon did not seem to be troubled by that fact.—Fred Mather in Forest and Stream.

A Baldheaded Reply.

A naval officer, very well and favorably known in London, has for some unknown reason been advanced in his profession very slowly, though he has grown gray in the service and indeed lamentably bald. Recently one of his juniors was bold enough to question him as to his remarkable absence of hair.

"How comes it that you are so very bald?"

The officer replied promptly and with much vindictiveness:

"You, man, you would be bald, I think, if you had had men stepping over your head for years in the way I have."—London Judy.

Different Ideas as to Clothes.

If the native women of Sumatra have their knees properly covered, the rest does not matter. The natives of some islands off the coast of Guinea wear clothes only when they are going on a journey. Some Indians of Venezuela are ashamed to wear clothes before strangers, as it seems indecent to them to appear unpainted.

A PRICELESS NECESSITY.

Kidney Disease Cannot Hurt when Dodd's Kidney Pills are Used.

Healthy kidneys are absolutely necessary for the production of pure blood.

Pure blood is absolutely necessary for good health—yes for life itself.

If the kidneys are weak, or diseased, the blood is impure, poisonous, and the general health breaks down, before the attack of specific disease.

Dodd's Kidney Pills restore weak and diseased kidneys to health and strength. They stimulate them to proper action, enabling them to filter the poison out of the blood.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only medicine known that can and will do this. Therefore, they are priceless and indispensable. All forms of Kidney Disease are cured by them.

Dodd's Kidney Pills have a unique record—Twenty thousand cures, not one failure. You should try a box.

Crossing the Threshold.

Crossing the threshold was and is the most critical period of the wedding day with all races, not even excepting the Anglo-Saxon.

The superstitious fears of the many, always particularly alert on the occasion of a marriage, culminate in this final act of the drama. The lifting of the bride over the threshold or her stepping across it is the signal in Persia, Arabia and among the Copts of Egypt for the sacrifice of a goat or a sheep. Among the Aenezes, according to Burckhardt, the bridegroom simply kills a lamb in front of his father-in-law's tent, and the ceremony, but for the running of the bride from one tent to another, is complete. Perhaps the purest symbolical act is that of the Transylvanian Saxon bridal pair, who step over the threshold with their hands tied together. Some of these Transylvanian customs are remarkable and must be survivals from a very ancient period. The bridegroom never wears the shirt made for him by the bride except on his wedding day and at his burial, just as the veil of the Japanese bride becomes one day her shroud.—London Spectator.

He Got the Mustard.

It was in the army. The boys had a meal of beef that had been corned by a bath in a salt horse barrel. It was quite a treat. They all thought so until one of the party remarked, "A little mustard wouldn't go bad."

"That reminds me," said another. "You just wait a few minutes." A quarter of an hour later he returned and, producing a screw of paper, he said: "Oh, yes. Here's that mustard."

"Where did you get it?" said the others in chorus.

"Up at the surgeon's. The sick call, you remember, sounded as we were talking about the mustard. It occurred to me that a little mustard for my lame back would be just the thing."

"But you haven't got any lame back."

"But I have got the mustard."—Philadelphia Press.

SUMMER COMPLAINT.

One of the Commonest and most Dangerous of Diseases.

Everyone should be prepared for it with a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

Very few people escape an attack of summer complaint. It may be slight, or it may be severe, but nearly everyone is liable to it.

You cannot tell when it seizes on you, how it may end.

Let it go for a day only, and see how weak and prostrated it will leave you.

Your only path of safety lies in providing yourself with a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

It's the only remedy known that can be relied on to cure you.

It settles the stomach, has a soothing influence on the irritated bowels, a stimulating action on the weakened system and is a powerful disinfectant of the whole intestinal tract.

Mrs Daniel Smith, Lunenburg, N. S., writes: "Last summer my little boy was dangerously ill with diarrhoea. He grew very weak so that he could hardly stand. I concluded to try Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry and very soon after he began taking it he started to mend, so that in a short time he was as well as ever. I shall never be without it in my house." Price 35c, all dealers.

RHYME OF RHYMES.

Wild on the mountain peak the wind
Repeats its old refrain,
Like ghosts of mortals who have sinned
And fain would sin again.

For "wind" I do not rhyme to "mind."
Like many mortal men.
"Again" (when one reflects) 'twere kind
To rhyme as if "agen."

I never met a single soul
Who spoke of "wind" as "wined,"
And yet we use it, on the whole,
To rhyme to "find" and "blind."

We say, "Now don't do that agen,"
When people give us pain.
In poetry, nine times in ten,
It rhymes to "Spain" or "Dane."

Oh, which is wrong or which is right?
Oh, which is right or wrong?
The sound in prose familiar quite
Or those we meet in song?

To hold that "love" can rhyme to "prove"
Requires some force of will,
Yet in the ancient lyric groove
We meet them rhyming still.

This was our learned fathers' wont
In prehistoric times.
We follow it, or if we don't
We oft run short of rhymes.
—Andrew Lang in Longman's Magazine.

DICK'S GOOD TIME.

A Very Human Boy Enjoying His Well Earned Reward.

A portly gentleman sat on the porch and smiled while a small boy, also smiling, painted the front fence.

"Look at that boy," the portly man remarked to a visitor. "He thinks he is having a good time. A small boy is surely the drollest creature on earth. When I was a youngster, I remember that there were certain kinds of work I considered play, and one of them was painting. I was always crazy to paint. Many times I have taken a bucket of muddy water and an old paint brush and have spent a whole half day putting a thick coat on the side of my father's barn.

"So with my boy Dick, the little chap painting the fence. He has always been crazy to paint. He is enjoying himself now—you can see he is, and he will paint that whole fence, too, just as well as he knows how. I don't care if it is a trifle smeared. He's getting joy, solid joy, thicker than the paint on his hands and clothes.

"There's a mean side to it too. He wanted to paint the fence, and I wanted the weeds pulled out of the yard. So, like an underhanded rascal, I bargained with him. I told him that if he would pull all the weeds out I would let him paint the fence. He went through the other job like a soldier—he hates to pull weeds; all boys do—and now he thinks he is getting his reward. It is a downright shame to fool him that way, don't you think so?"

The portly gentleman chuckled again, and the small boy, wild with joy, went on plastering paint on the fence.—Detroit Free Press.

The Medical Profession Recommend Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. C. M. Harlan, writing in the American Journal of Health, February 10th, says:—"Among the proprietary medicines deserving recognition is Dr. Chase's Ointment as a remedy for piles, eczematic skin eruptions of all kinds, for which it has been used with marked success and has effected remarkable cures in many obstinate cases which seem to baffle the skilful medical attendant."

Martyr To Heart Trouble.

Mrs. Selina E. Core, Amherst, N. S., says: "At times I suffered intensely from palpitation and fluttering of my heart. I was weak and my nerves shattered, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have regulated my heart, toned my nerves and built up my health."

How to Cure all Skin Diseases.

MARCH WINDS.

Far herald from the frozen north,
The green of grasses bringing,
With violets on the wayside slopes
And sounds of bluebirds singing,
How shall we joy to find thee here
When spring has slipped her tether,
Swift scattering from her, far and near
Winds and the windy weather.

By night the wild goose phalanx lone
To polar zone is flying,
By day the killdee plover thrills
The pastures with his crying,
The white light flung from faroff skies
Drifts downward like a feather
And bending marsh grass signifies
Winds and the windy weather

The orchard sap begins to stir
As swift the March wind passes,
The primrose and the wild flower meet
Where cool wood shadow masses,
And o'er the hills the rain and sun
Troop down the days together,
With weaving maze of blossoms spun,
Winds and the windy weather.

CAPTURED A RUNAWAY TEAM.

A Belmont Boy Shows His Nerve in the Far West.

The following refers to Mr. Frank Purdy, son of Mr. J. F. Purdy, of Belmont, and is copied from a recent issue of the Nanaimo, B.C., Free Press:—

Mr. Purdy, of the furnishing department of C. E. Stevenson & Co.'s establishment deserves credit for the able manner in which he stopped a runaway team which came down Wentworth street and turned the corner at Mitchell & Rummings' Soda Works. Mr. Purdy was on the crossing and as the team was passing him, he made a cat like leap over the tail board, and to the seat where he safely got hold of the lines and stopped the horses in their mad career before Fitswilliam street was reached. Joe Martin, the driver, came along and took charge, and Mr. Purdy jumped out of the wagon, brushed his clothes and went on to his business in less than two minutes from the time he first jumped into the wagon.

CHURCH CHIMES.

Rev. Mr. Kilgour conducted service in the Charlotte street church last evening.

The George street choir rendered Beirley's anthem, "Praise the Lord," in a very acceptable manner yesterday morning.

The offertory anthem in the Charlotte street Methodist church last evening was entitled "Nearer Home." It was most charmingly rendered.

"What Shall I Render unto the Lord" was the title of the evening anthem in the Charlotte street church. It was well handled by the full choir.

Rev. Mr. Richardson, of Ingersoll, occupied the pulpit in the George street church yesterday, and spoke strongly in favour of prohibition when referring to the plebiscite.

The anthem "I will Promise Thee" was well sung in the Charlotte street Methodist church last evening. Mr. A. L. Davis took the solo and Miss Flora Hall, with Mr. W. J. Squires, sang the duet.

In connection with the temperance sermon in the George street church yesterday Mr. Walden sang a solo entitled "'Twas rum that spoiled my boy." Owing to a misunderstanding he had to sing without accompaniment, but thoroughly pleased the congregation by the able manner in which he handled the selection.

Rev. O. C. Elliott, of the Park street Baptist church, preached a forcible sermon on prohibition last evening from the text, "Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make His paths straight." The liquor traffic was represented as being one of the chief obstacles in the path, and Mr. Elliott's remarks on the subject were to the point and well expressed.

PLENTY OF FOOD AT DAWSON.

It is stated that the Canadian police have completed a thorough investigation of the food supply for the coming winter. They report that the amount on hand is more than sufficient to carry the camp through the winter.

UNIVERSITY SENATE ELECTIONS.

A Newspaper in Arts Graduate a Deserving Candiate.

The Toronto University Senate elections, which are held every three years, are pending, and the ballots are now being distributed. This year the graduates in arts have a candidate in the person of Mr. W. H. Bunting, who received his degree in 1893, and has since been prominently identified with The Toronto Mail and Empire. A large number of those who are actively concerned in the welfare of the university, among them being many of the faculty and present senate, are of the opinion that the interests of the University would be better served if the younger generation of graduates were represented on the governing board, and it is on this account that Mr. Bunting has offered himself as a candidate. It is expected that he will poll a very large vote, and, if elected, will certainly be a very useful and energetic senator. Even so high an educational institution as Toronto University, will be benefitted by adding to its Council the services of a representative if one of the most important educational forces of the age—the press.

PLEBISCITE MEETING.

Held on Friday Evening Last in Baillieboro—Two More Monaghan Meetings.

A meeting was held on Friday evening in the Methodist church, Baillieboro, as arranged by the executive of the South Monaghan temperance workers in the interests of the plebiscite.

Mr. Alfred Dawson, chairman of the township organization, was in the chair. The first speaker was the Rev. Mr. Porter, of Keene, who spoke of the evil traffic and the cure for it. After directing a few words to the different classes of voters, Mr. Porter discussed the revenue question and showed what the country would gain financially even though the $8,000,000 received from the liquor traffic be cut off. After speaking some forceful words to arouse any who were affected by apathy, Mr. Porter concluded a helpful address.

After an invitation had been given for any to speak on the opposite side and finding no response, the Rev. Mr. McIntosh was introduced. Mr. McIntosh spoke principally to the voters on the subject, "The benefits of the Plebiscite." He made it very clear that it was the duty of every citizen to vote on this question as a mark of patriotism and the recognition of a trust committed to him. The point of duty was shown from this being a question of tremendous importance, and because the government has asked a straightforward question regarding the liquor traffic which the electors have a right to answer. If any one was in doubt concerning the wisdom of prohibition, he was advised to seek light and to weigh calmly and impartially the points in favour and against, then decide. Mr. McIntosh concluded by answering some objections and by making a searching appeal to voters.

The Rev. Messrs. Steele and Kirkpatrick being called upon, responded briefly.

This meeting is to be followed by one at Bensfort on Wednesday evening, 22nd inst, and at Fraseryille on Thursday evening, 23rd inst.

MURDER IS STILL A MYSTERY.

Miss Grace Perkins Walks in as Her Coffin Is Delivered.

Middleboro, Mass., Sept. 19.—Charles Bourne, the young man whose name has been used in connection with the Bridgeport murder case, returned here Saturday. Bourne was accompanied by Miss Grace Perkins, the young lady who was supposed to have been murdered. Their arrival created a great sensation and the identity of the mutilated remains found in the mill pond still remains a mystery.

So positive had Mr. Perkins been that his daughter had been the victim of the crime that he had gone to Bridgeport to get the remains and had sent word from there to his family to make every arrangement for the funeral, which was to have taken place Sunday. Just across the street from the Perkins house is a little cemetery and only Saturday morning, in response to the request of the uncle of Miss Perkins, a grave had been dug by the sexton in the family lot and the new earth thrown up beside could be plainly seen from the home. Half an hour after Miss Perkins arrived home a local undertaker's wagon drove up to the house and in it was the coffin which had been ordered by the family. The funeral arrangements had even gone so far that the family minister had been asked to conduct the service.

Neither Miss Perkins nor young Bourne will say a word as to their recent movements. Miss Perkins declares that she knew nothing of the sensation created over her suspected murder until Friday, when she read of it in a Providence paper.

Mr. Perkins arrived at his home at a late hour Saturday night. The meeting with his daughter was very affecting and was more than the old man could stand. He is reported as being completely broken down and in a serious condition.

Meanwhile the police are endeavoring to trace the whereabouts of Dr. Nancy Guilford, who on Saturday bought a ticket from Elmira to Montreal.

Not Located in Montreal.

Montreal, Sept. 19.—Nothing has yet been discovered to warrant the belief that Mrs. Guilford, who is wanted in connection with the mystery at Bridgeport, Conn., case, is in Montreal. The authorities, however, have received a wire from Bridgeport to be on the lookout for her.

ONTARIO'S BIRTH RATE.

Anglican Synod at Montreal Passes Resolution for Committee.

Montreal, Sept. 19.—The motion made by the Rev. Dr. Williams for a committee to enquire into the causes of the low birth rate in Ontario was considered by the Anglican Synod Saturday. Mr. Williams, in support of the motion, made some very strong statements. He said that from enquiries he had made from people in a position to know he had been informed that the low birth rate was largely due to many women in Ontario doing things they should not do, and using means to prevent their having children. He had been informed that this practice was alarmingly common, and he thought the matter should be looked into.

The motion for a committee to enquire into the subject was carried.

Champagne Gets the Decision.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 19.—Governor Tanner has decided that the battleship Illinois shall be christened in champagne and he has sent a letter to Mrs. Matilda B. Carse, Jessie Brown Hilton and Helen L. Wood, the committee of the W.C.T.U., who protested against christening the battleship with wine, in which, after complimenting them, he said: "In the matter, however, of following the time-honored custom of christening battleships there is no desecration of the laws of temperance. The ceremony is not one from which any evil could possibly be set forth, and the most sacred religious ordinance, 'the sacrament,' the world commemorates with deepest solemnity and honor, is one in which wine is used as a symbol. Therefore, I dismiss the subject as one unworthy of so much agitation. Therefore the battleship Illinois will be christened according to the time-honored custom."

Mabel Alford, a Greensville teacher, struck Alice Durand, a nine-year-old pupil, over the shoulders fully 16 times, because she would not hold out her hand to be punished. Judge Snider found that Miss Alford's punishment of the child was only slightly excessive and, considering the publicity given to her case, in itself a punishment, he acquitted defendant.

The vicinity of Barrie has had a plague of thieving, and as a first instalment Magistrate Ross has sent Mrs. McAuley and her fourteen-year-old daughter, named Ferrier, to the Mercer Reformatory for six months. James Handy, on whose place a large amount of the stolen goods was found, will be tried at the Assizes in connection with the thefts.

CORRECTING A MISTAKE—Who sells the cheapest goods — themerchant who is compelled to buy in one higgling market, and is tied down to one grasping manufacturer, or the merchant who has the freedom of all the competing markets and manufacturers of the world? Do men buy Hats cheaper where nothing but Hats are sold, or Boots cheaper where nothing but Boots are sold, or Clothing cheaper where nothing but Clothing is sold? Might as well expect a farmer to do as well for his family by raising nothing but Pumpkins as if he raised a mixed crop.

WAYS OF THE BLUE CRAB.

Some of Its Peculiarities as Observed at New York's Aquarium.

While the blue crab is not commonly thought of as a swimmer and does in fact spend the greater part of its time on the bottom, yet it can very easily sustain itself in the water and swim at a very fair rate of speed. It swims endwise, and when swimming it carries one big claw thrown forward and bent back at the middle joint, making a point projecting at that end of the body, while the other big claw trails straight out astern. If it changes direction, it crooks the claw it had been carrying straight and lets the other go free. If it sustains itself in the water without progressing, it carries its big claws in front of itself as it would naturally do under ordinary circumstances on the bottom, but it has to keep its little claws in motion to sustain itself, and in swimming the little claws are kept actively at work. Besides making a good degree of progress through the water in swimming the blue crab can change its course or swim to a higher or lower level with facility. When frightened, the blue crab moves off sideways, but when moving about at home and undisturbed it may move straight forward. Its body may be inclined at any angle to the line of progress, but its motion still be forward, the big claws carried crooked around in front. It may be seen moving thus in one of the larger tanks at the aquarium, in which there are blue crabs, lobsters and other things. The temperature of the water now just suits the crustaceans, and they are very lively. Blue crabs may be seen swimming here, and also walking about, stepping down from stones that are as high as they themselves are wide with perfect dignity, if not grace of manner, and walking or carrying their claws before them.—New York Sun.

The First Teacups.

Even after tea was introduced into Europe and had come into general use teacups were scarce. At the same time coffee was introduced; but, apart from Constantinople, the first coffee cups in Europe date back only as far as 1645 in Venice, 1659 in Paris, 1652 in London and 1694 in Leipsic. From the first, however, the conventional oriental coffee cup, without stem or handle, was little used, and in Germany not at all. The Chinese teacup was used for tea, coffee and chocolate as well. Specimens of porcelain were undoubtedly introduced into Europe in the middle ages, yet not till the sixteenth century were cups imported from China in any great quantities, and even then it was as articles of vertu. Most of those found their way back into China again, as collecting porcelain is a lasting fad there, and high prices are paid for good specimens. The collection of Chinese porcelain, if only the genuine specimens are desired, requires immense study and knowledge, as the Chinese are skillful imitators and put numerous falsifications on the market.

Individual Odors.

Every human being has a specific odor of his own, according to A. Bethe in the Archiv der Gesammten Physiologie, by which he can be recognized not merely by dogs but by persons with sensitive organs of smell. The case is mentioned of a man who blindfolded could pick out each individual in a company of 20 by his odor.

A VICTIM OF REVENGE

Dreyfus Entrapped by Those He Was Employed to Watch.

MAJOR ESTERHAZY TO CONFESS

Out of 1,000 Papers Relating to the Case Convicting Dreyfus, Over 600 of Them Were Forged — An Imaginative Journal Says Dreyfus Was Rescued Two Years Ago.

London, Sept. 20.—David Christie Murray publishes in the Morning yesterday a long story regarding the Dreyfus affair. The author vouches for the truth of the story, but declares that he cannot disclose the source from which he got his information. The article states in effect that Dreyfus was engaged as a spy, in the employment of a secret department of the French army, against those suspected of trafficking with Germany and other powers. His zeal here, so the story goes, led him to become the victim of revenge on the part of Col. Henry, Comte Esterhazy and Col. Paty du Clam, who themselves were concerned in treasonable practices.

Was Dreyfus Released?

George R. Sims, the playwright, maintains that Dreyfus was released from Devil's Island two years ago, and a substitute found, by a French syndicate organized to secure the liberation of prisoners in penal settlements who can pay heavily for their freedom. Sims says: "The real difficulty of the French Government is to find Dreyfus, who is in South America under an assumed name. His wife dares not quit France to join him; that would mean a plot for his re-arrest or assassination. Dreyfus does not yet feel sufficient confidence in the authorities and the French people to put his head in the lion's den."

ESTERHAZY'S CONFESSION.

The Major, Who Is Now in London, Tells a Tale of Astounding Forgeries to Convict Dreyfus.

Buffalo, Sept. 20.—The Courier has the following special cable from London: Major Esterhazy is about to make a full confession of his connection with the plot to disgrace Dreyfus. The Major has been safely staying in London for some days. Shaving off his moustache was his only attempt at disguise, but this has proved sufficient, as his whereabouts remained undiscovered by private detectives, both English and French, who have been hunting him in the interest of the Dreyfus family.

The Alleged Statement.

The Major has authorized the following statement: "There is no longer any justice for me in my own country, and the time has arrived to make a full disclosure of the part I played in the Dreyfus affair. I intend to make this disclosure in the interest of truth, regardless of its result to Dreyfus personally. I can no longer allow myself to be made a scapegoat. The responsibility must be fairly distributed.

"Everything I did was in blind, unquestioning obedience to my superior officer. I am a professional soldier. I know no law but the law of absolute obedience to my superiors.

"If I were ordered to take a gun and shoot my own brother, I would do so without the slightest hesitation. I have now only my own honor to consider. My military chiefs have abandoned me. I owe them no further allegiance.

"You ask me if I was a spy, a secret agent, employed by the French military staff to watch the attaches of the foreign powers. I answer that I acted loyally under orders. My justification shall be made plain at the proper time, which is very near at hand.

Six Hundred Forgeries.

"You want to know whether my disclosures will clear Dreyfus. I answer that out of a thousand documents making up the Dreyfus dossier papers in the case, I know that six hundred are forged. I am prepared to show by whom and under what circumstances these forgeries were committed. Whether Dreyfus is the innocent his champions suppose remains to be seen. That can be safely left to the public to judge when they are in possession of all the facts."

Started for Devil's Island.

London, Sept. 20.—A despatch to the Daily Mail from Paris says that La Cecile has started for Devil's Island, with a view to the return of Dreyfus to France for retrial. France is in a ferment over the later developments in the case and the reported interview with Major Esterhazy, which was cabled from London last night, and which has caused the wildest excitement. There is a hesitancy on the part of the Paris press to accept the interview as true, until Comte Esterhazy himself comes from hiding and makes it good. Yet the people are ready to believe the story, and it is generally thought that Esterhazy, seeing the futility of denial in the face of trial of Dreyfus, is ready to turn against those who, with him, aided in the conviction of Dreyfus, hoping thereby to save his own skin.

British Barque in Trouble.

Yokohama, Sept. 20.—British barque Heathfield, from Shanghai for Tacoma, which put in here on Sept. 13, suffering from the effects of heavy weather, as previously reported, is found to be extensively damaged. Her repairs, it is estimated, will cost £1,800.

Many People Injured.

Bradford, Eng., Sept. 20.—An electric street car was derailed while descending a hill here yesterday. Fifty persons were seriously injured. Several of them are dying.

Tried to Drown His Daughter.

London, Sept. 20.—Edward Havens, Lord of the Manor of East Donyland, near Colchester, was remanded at Harwich yesterday on the charge of attempting to drown his 12-year-old daughter from a quay.

Jago Gets Eight Years.

London, Sept. 20.—J. W. Jago, formerly chief officer of the White Star Line steamer Britannic, and John Kynaston, who was the second officer of the same steamer, both of whom have been convicted of robbing the mails on board the Britannic, were sentenced yesterday, the former to eight years and the latter to one year's imprisonment at hard labor.

NIU CHWANG RAILWAY LOAN.

The Tsung Li Yamen Authorizes Its Conclusion With British Syndicate.

London, Sept. 20.—The Pekin correspondent of the Times says that as a result of the British protests, the Tsung Li Yamen has authorized the conclusion of the Niu Chwang Railway loan with a British syndicate.

THE SULTAN YIELDS.

Candian Ruffians Are Now Surrendering Their Arms.

Candia, Island of Crete, Sept. 20.—The disarmament of the Mussulmans has been delayed, Djevad Pasha, the Turkish military commander, demanding that the arms be delivered on board a Turkish warship. Admiral Noel, the British naval commander, insists what they be handed to a British guard.

Edhem Pasha, the Turkish Governor, has just had a proclamation publicly read, saying that by order of the Sultan all arms must be surrendered to the committee formed for that purpose. The surrender has already begun. There is no disorder.

DEFENDS HIMSELF.

Rev. Mr. Thompson, Known in Toronto, Gets After the Editor of the Kamloops Standard.

Vancouver, B.C., Sept. 20.—Rev. Mr. Thompson, recently in Toronto, Baptist Minister, who the newspapers commented on as burying one wife one day in Boston and marrying again the next day, his child dying suddenly shortly after, has sued the editor of the Standard of Kamloops, who announced Thompson's arrival at Kamloops with his pretty wife. The editor recorded Thompson's history and headed the article "Wanted in Boston." Mr. Thompson took no notice till a St. John's paper came out with his history there, when he sued the Standard for criminal libel. The editor of the Standard was bound over in $500 to stand trial.

Suspected of Stealing $8,000.

Several miners discharged from the Golden Cache mine on Saturday are suspected of stealing 800 ounces of gold amalgam, valued at $8,000, from the company's safe at the mines in Lillooet representing a thirty day clean-up. The police are scouring the country for the robbers, who are thought to be crooks who passed themselves off as miners.

Church of England Synod.

Montreal, Sept. 20.—Nearly the whole of yesterday's session of the Church of England Synod was occupied with the consideration of the scheme proposed by the General Synod at its last meeting in Winnipeg to merge the Domestic and Foreign Mission Society of the Provincial Synod into that of the General Synod. The scheme met with strong opposition from many of the delegates, and no decision was reached by the hour of adjournment.

Must Pay Protest Costs.

Toronto, Sept. 20.—The Court of Appeal gave judgment yesterday morning against the South Ontario Conservatives, who will thereby have to pay the costs of the election protest.

FILIPINO CONGRESS.

McKinley Will Be Asked to Establish a Protectorate.

A MESSAGE FROM AGUINALDO.

The Philippine Insurgent Chief Says He Has Confidence in the United States—Spain, Through the Peace Commission, Will Try to Retain the Islands — Has Germany Schemed?

London, Sept. 20.—The Hong Kong correspondent of the Daily Mail says:

The Philippine Congress has favorably impressed the Europeans who have witnessed the proceedings. It is believed that its deliberations will result in a petition to President McKinley to establish a protectorate. The attitude of the American army officers towards the insurgents is causing much unfavorable criticism among Europeans who have returned from Manila. Aguinaldo has obeyed every order, whether accompanied by threats or not.

Aguinaldo's Explanation.

Manila, Philippine Islands, Sept. 20.—The Philippine Government desires to inform the American Government and people that the many rumors circulated regarding the strained relations between the Philippine and American forces are base, malicious slanders of the enemy to both parties, are without any truth and are circulated for the purpose of prejudicing the appeal of the Philippines for their release from the oppression and cruelty of Spain. The relations of our people and yours have been and will continue to be of the most friendly nature, and we have withdrawn our forces from the suburbs of Manila as an additional evidence of our confidence in the great American Republic.

(Signed), Aguinaldo.

President Reads With Pleasure.

Washington, Sept. 20.—The despatch conveying Aguinaldo's message to the American people was regarded with much interest at the White House. The President read the statement with evident appreciation of its importance, but did not volunteer any information as to the attitude of this Government. Officials very near him spoke of the message as a "very important document."

SPANISH PEACE COMMISSION

Instructed to Defend Retention of the Philippines by Spain.

London, Sept. 20.—The Daily Mail's Madrid correspondent says a long conference was held between Senor Sagasta, the Premier, and Senor Montero Rios, the President of the Spanish Peace Commission, yesterday, which resulted in the decision that the Peace Commission shall strenuously defend the retention of the Philippine Islands by Spain.

Has Germany Been Scheming?

New York, Sept. 20.—A special to the Herald from Washington says: As an indication that Germany has been scheming to share in the disposition of the Philippines, the authorities have learned that, acting under instructions from Berlin, the German Commander-in-Chief of the Asiatic station has made an exhaustive investigation of the coal deposits of the islands.

Aware of Germany's proceedings, the authorities are taking precautions to prevent the consummation of any plan which will enable them to reach fruition. The report made by the German engineer explains to the officials here why the German vessels were stealing among the islands.

Attempt to Poison Aguinaldo.

Manila, Philippine Islands, Sept. 20.—The Republica Filipina asserts that an attempt was made to poison Aguinaldo on Friday night. A steward, it is added, saw a Spanish prisoner, who had been allowed his freedom, make a movement which appeared like tampering with a bowl of soup intended for Aguinaldo, whereupon the steward tasted a spoonful of the soup and fell dead.

Eleven Franciscan friars are alleged to have been engaged in the conspiracy.

The populace, it is further stated, attempted to lynch all the Spanish prisoners, but Aguinaldo intervened.

Troops for Manila.

Washington, Sept. 20.—Five regiments now at San Francisco have been ordered to Manila. Arrangements for their transportation will be made at once.

Correa Incensed at Toral.

Madrid, Sept. 20.—The Minister of War, General Correa, has issued instructions for the return of the Spanish troops in the West Indies. The sick are to leave first and the archives, especially those relating to the war, will be brought to Spain with the arms, ammunition, flags and material stored in Cuba and Porto Rico.

The Minister is greatly incensed at General Toral sending him a despatch on the latter's arrival at Vigo (Spain) from Santiago de Cuba, and said Toral already ought to be court-martialled for his conduct as Governor of Santiago.

Ten Per Cent. Die on Board.

Madrid, Sept. 20.—There is considerable indignation here at the fact that there were 123 deaths during the voyage among the 1,000 Spanish soldiers who have just arrived in Spain on board the Spanish transport San Ignacio de Loyola, from Santiago de Cuba. The Spaniards attribute this heavy death rate to the "inhumanity of the Americans in obliging the sick Spaniards to embark and make room in the hospitals for Americans."

Birth Rate Low. Why?

Toronto, Sept. 20.—Dr. Bryce, Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, admits that the birth rate of Ontario is very low, too low, but gives as the chief reason for it the poor registration system in use. When this is made more perfect the rate, he thinks, will rise. In rural counties it is impossible to get satisfactory returns.

OUR AGRICULTURAL INTERESTS.

No one will for a moment deny that the interests of agriculture are the most important of all the industries of any country. Therefore it deserves at the hands of a government the greatest attention. That this fact was recognized by Sir Wilfrid Laurier in the composition of his Cabinet, was shown by the fact that he selected for the very important post of Minister of Agriculture a practical farmer, who possessed all the other qualifications for effectively discharging the duties of such an office. His prescience was not at fault in the choice of Hon. Sidney Fisher, of Brome, as the Minister of Agriculture. His course in the office for the past two years has shown, to use the trite language so often employed, that he is the right man in the right place. Never before since the office was created has it been filled by a gentleman, not only so amply qualified, but possessing so earnest a desire to promote in every way possible the well being and advancement of every department of agricultural activity. Time and again his services have been recounted and even movements that have called forth the jeers and jibes of his opponents have made for this end. Hon. Mr. Fisher's trip to Great Britain was denounced as a holiday jaunt by the organs of the Opposition. But it was no holiday; the Minister was busy setting forth the advantages to be derived by the mother land dealing in the agricultural products of Canada, in demonstrating the agricultural resources and activity of the Dominion, and in showing that no other country can produce better qualities of these products than this country. Files of Dublin papers to hand gives full reports of his visit. The Dublin Express prints a column interview with Mr. Fisher, in which is evident in every line his earnest determination to set forth the advantages of Canadian products in a manner to commend them most effectively to the attention of the Irish people, and the same paper prints a lengthy report of a speech delivered by Mr. Fisher at an important local agricultural gathering. The same note of loyalty to Canadian agricultural interests pervaded this address, which was listened to with the deepest interest and attention and greeted with warm applause. While abroad Mr. Fisher sowed good seed, which will, it is certain, bring forth much fruit in promoting the founding of a profitable market for agricultural products in the mother land. The Laurier Government is sneered at as a "business" Government. It can well afford to enjoy the taunt, for its administrative policy possesses an aggressive business quality indicating that the Government recognizes that its duty is to practically deal with public questions, to initiate and direct the course of affairs by intelligent methods rather than pursue a policy of drift and laissez-faire; and in no department of the Government is this spirit more conspicuous than in the department presided over by Hon. Sidney Fisher.

If the prisons of Canada are going to do its manufacturing, then honest labour, to make a living for the family, must become dishonest, violate the law, go to prison to get work, while his family must go to destruction.—London Free Press.

This is rather severe, remarks the Advertiser, on Col. Matheson, M. P. P., the Conservative financial critic. He proposed that the school books of the Province be made by prison labour.

THE Dominion revenue this year rose to $40,275,704. The Government's critics say this is an increase of taxation. This is untrue, an exchange asserts. Under the N. P. the tariff diverted much of the taxes into the pockets of the combines instead of the public treasury. Under the new conditions the people are paying less taxes and securing more revenue.

FROM a volume of statistics issued by the labour department of the British Board of Trade, it appears that there was an advance of wages last year over the increase which had occurred in 1896. The wages of 500,707 persons were advanced in the aggregate by £31,507 per week. In the case of only 13,585 were wages reduced. The hours of labour were reduced in the case of 60,572 persons, and increased in 1,000 cases, the net weekly reduction being 284,675 hours. More than four times the number of persons who obtained an eight-hour day in the previous four years obtained it last year.

THE WORLD'S WHEAT SUPPLY.

Sir Wm. Crookes, the eminent scientist, speaking at Bristol, advanced the opinion that the wheat supply of the world could not keep pace with the world's needs beyond the year 1931. He said starvation might be averted if the problem of the fixation of the supply of nitrogen in the air was solved. He thought the solution would be the burning of the nitrogen in the atmosphere by a powerful electric current, which would result in raising the average crop from 12.7 to 20 bushels per acre.

At first sight Sir Wm. Crookes' scheme for replenishing the wheat crop looks like a fanciful bit of scientific speculation, but in this age who shall say what is impossible in science? When Sir Wm. Crookes predicts that the wheat supply will have fallen below the world's needs by 1931, he is on more debatable ground. The statement may be based upon some recondite scientific calculation, but the average person, who knows more about wheat than nitrogen, will not believe it. No doubt the population of the world, and consequently the consumption of wheat, will have been enormously increased by 1931, but there is every indication that wheat production will not fall behind it in so short a period. For instance, it has been estimated that the wheat belt of Russia is capable of supporting 5,000,000,000. The present population of Russia is 130,000,000. The country is is growing fast, but it will hardly reach the 500,000,000 mark for a good many generations.

It may be that Sir Wm. Crookes had chiefly the United States in view when he made his prophecy, because it is the greatest wheat exporting country. The conditions in the United States are more favourable to his theory. The wheat lands are pretty well filled up, and with the great growth of population, the home consumption of wheat must, in the near future, advance at a greater ratio than the home production, leaving less for export.

But did Sir Wm. Crookes consider Canada at all—the finest wheat growing country in the world, with millions of fertile acres yet untouched? It seems not. Canada has not even commenced to do what she can do in the matter of wheat. Like Russia, she is a strong argument against Professor Crooke's wheat philosophy. The day of a permanent universal wheat shortage may be coming, but Canada will help to postpone it. If it should come to pass that the rest of the world needs more wheat than the rest of the world produces, Canada can make good the deficiency. That is a contingency we can look forward to with pleasure. It would soon fill up our vacant lands, and we should realize Sir Charles Tupper's vision of the teeming millions. But looking at the uncultivated areas the world over, there is no reason to believe that Sir Wm. Crookes' nitrogen process will be required by 1931.

SOIL AND CLIMATE OF CANADA.

The soil of Canada is not excelled by that of any land where the people follow farming. But fertility of soil alone is not a source or assurance of wealth to the people who live on it. It must be managed by skilful, industrious, economical farmers, with methods adapted to meet the changed, and still changing, demands for such markets as are accessible.

Canada has a climate admirably adapted for growing very large quantities per acre of such plants as are suitable for the cheap production of cattle products. No country is superior to Canada as a home for cattle, swine, poultry, horses and sheep. The bracing weather of Canadian winters is followed by the warmth and humidity of genial summers, under which crops grow in almost tropical luxuriance. At the same time the cool evenings and nights give to plants a robustness of quality which are not to be found in tropical regions, and also make life for the people comfortable and healthful.

All the world knows that Canadian-grown wheat is the finest for bread-making that is to be found anywhere. The oats and oatmeal of Canada are unsurpassed in substance and flavour, and the pease, beans and rye are second to none. While the matchless quality of Canadian cereals is acknowledged, the superior character of many other Canadian food products has been overlooked. Wheat, flour, oatmeal and pease, are not perishable food products, and have found their way into distant markets in a condition as good, or almost as good, as when they left the granary and the mill. It has been quite otherwise with many other things. Until the cold storage system was introduced, the damaging influence of warm weather on animal products such as butter, eggs, meat, cheese and poultry, was not adequately guarded against.

In all the settled districts of Canada lying eastward of the great lakes and westward of the Rocky Mountains, apples of the finest quality in flavour, in substance, in colour and in size can be grown; and in areas containing hundreds of square miles, pear, peaches and grapes are grown in large quantities in the open air. Everywhere the climate is favourable to the growth of small fruits, such as strawberries, raspberries, currants, gooseberries and many others.

It is thus possible to follow such mixed or diversified farming as will best maintain the fertility of the soil, give employment to a large rural population for the area occupied, and permit the sale of concentrated or relatively high-priced products. It can be profitable in proportion to the wisdom and skill with which the intelligence and energy of the people are applied.

A MOTORMAN'S ESCAPE.

How Benjamin Bacon Escaped From a Terrible Position.

Toronto, Sept. 19—Mr. Benjamin Bacon, motorman, No. 150, in the employ of the Toronto Street Railway Co. tells the following story of his escape from a situation in which death menaced him daily.

"I have, for a year past been a great sufferer from severe pains in my back. My doctor told me I had the first stage of Bright's Disease. He could not help me, nor did the many advertised medicines do me any good. At length, I gave Dodd's Kidney Pills a trial. The result is that today I am a new man, sound and well and strong in every respect."

What Users of Diamond Dyes Say.

Opinions Worth Considering by Those Who Have Never Done Home Dyeing.

Mrs. N. Wood, Campbellford, Ont., says: "Having a carpet to make and a great deal of colouring to do, I thought I would give the Diamond Dyes a trial. I used them and they produced most beautiful colours, and I was pleased with the effects in the carpet. I am a farmers' wife and after this will use only the Diamond Dyes."

Mrs. M. R. Ball, Victoria Harbor, Ont., says: "I find great pleasure in dyeing with the wonderful Diamond Dyes. They make old clothes, dresses, silks, feathers, and wool goods look as good as new."

Mrs. T. Spence, Emigrant Road, N.B., says: "I have used your Diamond Dyes for ten years for all kinds of colouring. I spin, weave cloth and dye all the clothes we wear for every day, besides making rugs and carpets."

Mrs. B. B. Tobin, Brandon, Man., says: "Diamond Dyes are used in our homes every month for the colouring of dresses, ribbons, hose, etc., and they give the very best results. We save many dollars year by year using your celebrated dyes."

CARRYING AMERICAN STEEL

The Grand Trunk's Contract With the Illinois Steel Company—Rates to Alaska.

The Grand Trunk Railroad is said to have secured a contract for the transportation of one hundred thousand tons of steel plates from the Illinois Steel Company of Chicago. These plates are to be shipped to Belfast, Ireland, and are being brought to Midland, handed over to the Grand Trunk there and shipped to Montreal for export to Belfast. A portion of the 100,000 tons has already been received and sent forward and frequently pass through the town.

An effort is being made by parties interested in iron mines to have the Grand Trunk Railway open up the El dorado and Madoc branch of the road, which has been closed for some time. The parties interested desire to develop the iron mines there and want railway connection.

The Grand Trunk Railway has issued a tariff from Pacific coast points to Alaska and the Yukon. The rates to Wrangel will be $15 first and $10 second class; to Juneau, $20 and $12, and to Sitka, Skagway and Dyea, $25 and $15.

I CANNOT SLEEP!

Is the Complaint of the Unhappy Victim of Starved Nerves.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets Bring Sweet, Sound Sleep by Ensuring Perfect Digestion, Which Means Plenty of Rich Blood to Feed and Soothe the Nerves.

"I can't sleep!"

How often we hear this expression!

And, if you will notice, you'll see that every person who uses it is pale-faced, haggard, with blood-shot eyes, trembling hands and a generally "used-up" look.

His nerves are unstrung. Why?

Because his stomach is out of order.

The nerves must have rich, nourishing blood to feed on, or else they become weak, and incapable of doing their proper work.

If the stomach is out of order, it cannot, and does not digest the food properly. That is, it cannot, and does not, change the food into rich, nourishing blood.

So the nerves are starved. Then the condition known as nervous prostration follows.

And when the nerves are starved, they inflict the most unbearable torture on their victim. Thousands of young men and women are swept into untimely graves, as a result of nerve starvation, or in other words, indigestion.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets exert a powerful but gentle influence on the stomach. They bring it back from weakness to strength; from uselessness to usefulness. They put it in shape to do its work—to digest the food, and that means to change the food into rich, red blood.

When the food is changed rapidly and regularly, into rich blood, every part of the body benefits from it. The nerves grow strong, sleep returns to the longing eyes, rest brings strength and vigour and good health. There are no more long, sleepless, wretched nights; no more nervous headaches. You are made strong in every way.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will work this change. If you don't believe it, try them. They'll prove it to you.

OUR DIFFERENCES.

Senator Faulkner Appointed to Quebec Commission in Place of Senator Gray —All Points May Be Settled.

Washington, Sept. 20.—Senator Faulkner, who has been appointed U.S. Commissioner in place of Senator Gray, will leave to-night with the expectation of reaching Quebec on Thursday. It is his understanding that the next session of the commission, which is to begin to-day, will continue only until about Oct. 8 or 9, and that there will be an adjournment until some time in November, when the commission will meet in Washington. There is a general desire among the Washington authorities to conclude the work of the commission before the convening of Congress in December, and it is understood that the President shares in this anxiety. He told Senator Faulkner yesterday that he was desirous of facilitating the commission's labors to as great an extent as possible, and dwelt upon the importance of both countries arriving at an early understanding of the settlement of the differences which have arisen between them. There are 15 points of disagreement which the commission will try to settle, and Senator Faulkner says his information is to the effect that there is a fair prospect of reaching a settlement.

On Behalf of the Government.

Toronto, Sept. 20.—Hon. A. S. Hardy and Hon. G. W. Ross have gone to Quebec to see that the interests of Ontario are not neglected by the International Commissioners, who re-assemble to-day. Mrs. Hardy and Mr. S. F. Bastedo, the Premier's private secretary, are also of the party.

Hon. N. C. Wallace will represent the interests of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association at the conference.

THE METHODIST CONFERENCE.

The Members Put in a Day Considering the Missions.

Toronto, Sept. 20.—The Methodist Conference spent yesterday morning and afternoon in listening to what the Committee on Missions had to say, after some preliminary business of a final nature had been disposed of. A motion to enforce the discipline respecting dancing, card playing, etc., by removing the offending members from the Methodist Church, was snowed under. The president decided the constitutional point raised on Saturday by saying "a two-thirds vote of the conference" meant of those present and voting. The Missionary Committee's report was then discussed and as amended in minor particulars was adopted. At the evening session a communication from the Prisoners' Aid Society was referred to the Sociological Committee. Miss Scott, with four of her assistants, was heard respecting the deaconess movement. As a result of her speech the course of study will be left alone. The question of amalgamating the Guardian and the Wesleyan roused an acrimonious discussion, but it and the Epworth League special paper matter were finally tabled. The conference adjourned till 11 o'clock to-day.

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills ALWAYS CURE.

Sunday's Storm at Kingston.

Kingston, Ont., Sept. 20.—The severest electrical storm within memory passed over the city Sunday, doing considerable damage. Five churches suffered from lightning and hailstones: All Saints', St. James', Sydenham Street Methodist and Zion. The house of L. Simmons, superintendent of the Light, Heat & Power Company, was struck, a chimney wrecked, the stove in the kitchen smashed and the stovepipes scattered around the room. A number of private residences also suffered damage. A very heavy rainfall accompanied the electrical display.

Lord Minto and His Staff.

Montreal, Sept. 20.—A Star special cable from London says: Lord Minto's staff is now complete. It is composed thus: Major Lawrence Drummond, Scots Guards, just returned from the Soudan, military secretary; Lieut. W. F. Lascelles of the Scots Guards and Y. H. C. Graham of the Coldstream Guards are his aides-de-camp. Mr. Arthur Guise is private secretary. Mr. Guise sails on Oct. 22 and Lord Minto, Countess Minto and the rest of the staff sail on the Scotsman on Nov. 3.

Took the Pastor to Task.

Kington, Sept. 20.—In Cooke's Presbyterian Church, Kingston, on Sunday morning the pastor, Rev. S. Houston, announced from his pulpit that a meeting in behalf of the cause of prohibition would be held in the building after evening service. John Orr, a member of the congregation, arose from his seat and took the minister to task for making such an announcement, saying that such a question should not be discussed on the Sabbath and not in a church.

Threw Pepper in His Eyes.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 20.—As the result of an attempt by non-union men to enter the works of the American Wire Company yesterday, where a strike has been on for some time, a pitched battle took place between the strikers and the non-union workmen. It is alleged that the trouble was started by non-union men throwing pepper into the eyes of a striker who was endeavoring to prevent the former from entering the works.

Large Increase in Corn.

Montreal, Sept. 20.—The corn that has been received in Montreal this season already amounts to 16,430,626 bushels, against 9,829,326 bushels for the whole of last year, an increase of over 7,000,000 bushels, so that the increase of the whole year is likely to equal the entire trade of 1897. There are also increases in oats, barley and rye, so that the trade of the port in cereals this year will be unprecedented.

Dear Sirs:—I think it a duty to write to you regarding the benefits derived by my daughter and myself from use of your Paine's Celery Compound.

For years I was troubled with rheumatism and nervousness. I was treated by doctors, and tried medicine after medicine without any good results. Fortunately a friend of mine advised me to try Paine's Celery Compound. I did so, and after using four bottles I found I was stronger and better than I had been for years. My daughter was cured of kidney disease after suffering for twelve years, by using a few bottles of Paine's Celery Compound. I advise all suffering from rheumatism, nervousness and kidney troubles to give the compound a trial.

Yours sincerely,

$80,000 FOR THE WM. HAMILTON M'F'G CO.

It is to be Loaned by the Town for Twenty Years.

PROPERTY OWNERS VOTE ON OCT. 18

The Steam Roller Question is not Settled Yet—The Mayor Rules Out a motion to Purchase a Russel on the Ground that no Notice was Given and so Expenditure of Money Would be Illegal.

The town council held a special meeting last evening, with Mayor Davis presiding, and the following members present:—Councillors Best, W. H. White, Robertson, Denne, Allen, Hamilton, Dawson, Cobb, McWilliams, Langford and J. M. White.

The first business taken up was the reading of the bylaw empowering the town to loan to the William Hamilton Co. the sum of $30,000 for a term of 20 years.

The matter of making the company this loan has been thoroughly threshed out at a number of committee meetings, and the council is a unit in the wish to accomodate the company in this respect. As explained at the previous meetings the company's premises are becoming too small, and as it is impossible under the circumstances for further additions to be made to the present buildings, a proposition from Belleville to accept inducements and move the works to that city was taken into serious consideration. At this juncture the council became aware of the turn which and asked the Company before closing up the deal with Belleville, to lay an alternative before the Peterborough council. The directors of the company met the council in Committee of the Whole and agreed to stay in Peterborough provided they were loaned the sum of $30,000 to invest in new buildings, pointing out that the present structures could not be remodelled to suit and that as the ground was swampy the foundations would have to be erected on piles. The company also asked that Downie street be closed in the rear of their premises in order that the new building might run across it to a lot belonging to them on the other side. Before getting the money they guaranteed to erect a solid brick building 100x300 feet and to fit up and equip the same, at a cost of $40,000. As security for the money advanced a twenty year mortgage would be given on the new building for $30,000, bearing interest at 3½ per cent. and payable in yearly instalments of $1,060.84, being the amount necessary to liquidate the debt in twenty instalments. As pointed out in the committee meetings all that the town is to do for the company is securing for them a loan at a smaller rate of interest than the company could secure the money for itself. As the buildings are to be insured to the amount of the loan, the town is running no risks in the matter.

The money is to be raised on debentures bearing interest at 3½ per cent., and will vote on a bylaw authorizing the issue of these debentures on Oct. 18th. The bylaw was read twice in the council last evening, and if endorsed by the people, will then receive its third reading and be passed.

After the bylaw had been disposed of, Councillor Dawson introduced another matter by stating that the Dickson Company instead of building the abutments and piers of the new bridge across the raceway on London street of wood, were willing to construct them of concrete if the town was agreeable to lending them the stone crusher. The company were willing to supply all the stone and haul it to and from the crusher.

Mayor Davis stated that he had called the meeting for a special purpose and he did not propose that general business should be taken up.

Councillor McWilliams suggested that a meeting of the Street and Bridge Committee be called before the next council meeting, when Mr. Hazlitt or Mr. Hall could be present, on behalf of the Dickson Co'y, and the matter could be settled much easier.

Councillor Dawson—The mayor has no right to decide matters of this kind in such a manner. If there was something which he wanted to bring up at a special meeting there wouldn't be a word said about it. Since I have been in the council, Mr. Mayor, such a thing has and I would like to know the meaning of it. My request is that the company be given the use of the crusher, and there is not a member of the council against me. It is not ten o'clock yet and I want to know the reason you wish the council to adjourn.

Councillor Allen—It isn't this motion the Mayor objects to but he wants to knock us out of introducing some other business that he knows of.

Councillor Dawson—If the Mayor is in a hurry to get away early, let him go, and we will appoint another chairman to act in his place.

The Mayor decided that general business could be taken up if the members were anxious to do so.

Councillor Langford stated that if the Dickson Company were allowed to use the crusher other citizens might also, with reason, ask for the same privilege. It would therefore not be well to decide the matter off hand, but instead refer it to a committee where it could get full consideration.

Councillor Dawson agreed to this and the request was referred to the Street and Bridge Committee.

On motion of Councillors W. H. White and Robertson the Property Committee was authorized to for coal for the town buildings.

About forty tons will be required this year.

Councillors W. H. White and Hamilton moved that the new bridges across Sherbrooke and Dalhousie street be constructed the full width of the street.

Councillor Langford represented that he had looked into the matter of cost and considered that the new bridges could be constructed for fully one-third less than the amount mentioned in the tenders which had been sent in.

Councillor McWilliams reminded the council that the matter of all the new bridges had been referred to a committee, and he asked Mr. White to let his motion stand until the relative cost of constructing bridges of different widths be ascertained.

Councillor White consented, although anxious to have the question settled and bridges erected as soon as possible.

THE TROUBLE BEGAN.

Councillor J. M. White seconded, by Councillor Allen moved,—"That in view of the motion passed at the last committee of the whole council, this council agree to take the Sawyer Massey street roller at the figure given, namely $3,000, payable in one month after delivery of roller, provided that it gives satisfaction. The company agreeing to make roller equal in thickness to the Buffalo Pitts, and also to put in solid picks."

Councillor McWilliams was immediately on his feet to state that in expending so large a sum of money he thought that a bylaw should be passed, more especially as the machines were guaranteed for a year. The council should be sure of what it was doing before it finally decided on which roller to take.

Councillor Langford, who was away from town when the committee of the whole decided to take the Russell roller, asked to be enlightened as to the circumstances. He understood that the Pitts machine was $50 cheaper, and that the Russell had to be changed to make it as good as the Pitts. From information which he obtained, he believed that a good deal of fault had been found with the Russell roller, and these things should be investigated. It would be better to be unanimous in buying a roller than do it by a majority of one—besides, a cheaper offer might yet come in. Mr. Langford objected to the action of the committee of the whole in selecting a roller at a meeting which was not called in a legal manner. He did not have sufficient notice and was not able to be present and vote.

Councillor Allen pointed out that even if Councillor Langford had been present his vote could not have changed the decision of the committee. If it had been decided to take the Pitts roller by one vote Councillor Langford would not be heard asking for unanimity on the question. The council had gone to Hamilton and taken Mr. Andrew Macfarlane with them as an expert. He had seen both rollers and pronounced in favour of the Russell, stating it was ten per cent. better than the Pitts. The council was unanimous in deciding on the Russell, but since their return home some of them had CHANGED THEIR MINDS.

He would like to hear an explanation of why such a change in their opinion had taken place. The Russell had come down to the Pitts price, which was only $50 cheaper, and as Mr. McWilliams had said that he was voting for the Pitts on account of the difference in price, he should now, to be consistent, give his vote to the Russel, but for some reason he refused to change.

On motion of Councillor Best a letter was read from Commissioner Jones of Toronto, stating that an English roller used in Toronto gave good satisfaction.

Councillor W.H. White stated that when the council went to Hamilton and heard Mr. McFarlane's decision, all were in favour of the Russel roller, even Mr. McWilliams. Mr. Macfarlane had thoroughly examined both rollers. Mr. McWilliams was present when his report was read to the council in favour of the Russel. He was then in accord with the others and favoured the Russel. What had made the change?

Councillor Robertson in replying to Councillor Langford statement that some points of the Russel had to be changed to resemble the Pitts, stated that this was not the case. Mr. White's motion asked that the rim of the roller be three inches thick.

THIS WAS DONE

because Mr. Dewey, representing the Pitts, had said that the Russel rim was only 1⅞ inches thick. Mr. Robertson did not believe this, but to be sure about the matter the thickness of the rim was mentioned in the motion.

Councillor McWilliams urged that as both companies had reduced their first offer considerably if the council waited a further reduction might be made.

Councillor Robertson—You weren't in favour of that idea when you thought the Pitts roller was to be bought.

Councillor McWilliams—I have had documents placed in my hands in regard to this matter which it would be well for the council to see before an order is placed and I am prepared to object to the buying of the roller to-night on a point of order. It will be an expenditure of money and requires a two-thirds vote of the council.

Councillor Hamilton held that the matter of the expenditure of money had been decided by the citizens long ago when they voted for the bylaw authorizing the purchase of a roller.

HE INSISTED

on Councillor White's motion being voted upon.

Councillor Dawson stated that he was voting for the Russell roller because he believed it was the best. Councillor McWilliams and Langford had thought it was the best in Hamilton also. At first the speaker had thought that the Russell was not thick enough in the rim to hold the picks, but when the agent agreed to make the rim according to order, he favoured the Russell. The council had procured in Mr. Macfarlane the best machinist obtainable from the best works in the country, to examine the two rollers and he had decided in favour of the Russell.

Mayor Davis addressed the meeting from the chair, saying that after he had called the meeting he had met Councillor Hamilton, who told him that he had heard that he (the Mayor) intended fighting the Russel roller. He had replied saying that not he, but the whole council would fight it. The matter, however, would stand over for the present as there was other very important business to get through first. He had further told Mr. Hamilton that the question of the roller would not come up on Friday, but that when it did come up both sides should know of it beforehand so that there would be

NO ADVANTAGE TO EITHER.

Mr. Meldrum did not know of the meeting and was away, so it would not be fair to take the matter up. When an expenditure of money was involved it should be done legally, and if no notice had been given a vote of eight members would be necessary to carry it.

Councillor Dawson—"That rule does not apply in this case. The money is not to be expended for eight or nine months."

Councillor Hamilton stated that Mr. Meldrum was prepared to vote for the Russell roller. He had told him so that morning.

The mayor decided that the motion was out of order. Councillor J. M. White then gave notice that at the next meeting of the council he would move in accord with his motion of the evening.

Councillors Best and Langford moved that new tenders be asked for steam roller.—Lost.

Moved by Councillors Dawson and Langford, that a bylaw be prepared to regulate the height of awnings on the streets.—Carried.

Councillor Langford drew attention to the cutting away of the roadway on George street, raising the pavements to so great a height as to be dangerous. Councillor Dawson promised to attend to the matter.

Moved by Councillors Denne and Dawson that the Bell Telephone Co.'s franchise be renewed on the former terms.—Carried.

Scotch Tweed Suitings

This season, in Fancy Suitings, novel colourings play a more important part than novel designs—although the latter are very unique and effective.

Heather mixtures, with a good deal of green, also greyish greens and grey olives take the lead. They are mixtures of an uncommon nature, and present a very handsome appearance when made up in our usual first class style.

Report of the Annual Meeting.

At the annual meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union held recently at the residence of Mrs. Geo. Paton, the following report was read by the President:

Peterborough, Sept, 7th, 1898.

Dear Sisters—Another year has come to a close; another year gone that we can't recall. Another year we have been spared to meet together to plan and discuss the work which has come to our hands "in His Name." God has spared us all to see its close in health and strength. We ought to say "Bless the Lord, O My soul, and forget not all His benefits." We have observed a great many things in the course of the year that would make our town better. One of its curses for women is the liquor stores, and one for boys and men is the cigar and tobacco stores. There are so many man traps in the shape of saloons and hotels. See how many of our men, both old and young, are trapped in it, if it is nothing more than the foul smell of the liquor as they pass that makes mothers say many times, How long is this thing going to last?

Vote for prohibition. How can you pray, "Thy Kingdom Come," and vote to keep 300,000 dram shops under the protection of the law?

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE.

Mr. Bogue Made a Mistake in his Tender For Sewer Work.

At a meeting of the Committee of the Whole Council last evening Mr. Jas. Bogue stated that in sending in his tender for sewer contracts he had made an error of $155 in his estimate of the cost of the pipe. He asked that the council make allowance for this; which would still have him the lowest tenderer, or else that the town supply the material and allow him to do the construction work at the amount of his tender for that. It was decided to allow him $300 for the error, which he consented to accept.

Councillor Langford stated that the clause which was being put in the town contracts to pay $1 25 per day to labourers was a mistake. It barred out the old men who were not worth $1 25. If the contractors were forced to give this price, they would only employ strong young men.

Councillor McWilliams stated in reply that the bylaw worked all right in Toronto, Hamilton, London and other western cities.

The committee agreed to exempt the new Light & Power House from all taxes, but school taxes, for a term of ten years. The new building will cost $15,000 and be placed on the Dickson raceway just north of the old Brodie mill.

BONANZA AND ELDORADO.

THE GREATEST GOLD MINES IN THE WORLD TO-DAY.

The Two Great Gold Producing Sections Accurately Described—Difficulties of Approach to Them—Prospects for Hydraulic Mining.

Dawson City, N.W.T., August 6.—Probably never before has any mining ground been more aptly named than the two great tributaries of the Klondike river—Bonanza and Eldorado Creeks. The names have been used before, but never have they been associated with the ground that carries more gold to the cubic yard than these two wonderful gulches. Men who have mined in every quarter of the globe, who have been on every gold field that has been opened up within the last twenty years, have come here this year to see the two creeks, whose fame for richness became world wide within a few months of their first discovery; and none of these men have been disappointed. All are unanimous in the opinion that, whatever the destiny of the Yukon as a whole may be, the wealth of these two creeks is already demonstrated beyond dispute, and the annals of gold-mining have been enriched with a matter of fact, modern story that reads like a chapter of the Arabian Nights.

In company with a mining engineer, Mr. E. G. Woodford, late State engineer in the Transvaal, a gentleman who for the last twenty-five years has worked in almost every gold field from Western Australia to the Guianas, and from the Rand to British Columbia, I recently spent a week leisurely examining both Bonanza and Eldorado. Both of us were strangers in a strange land; neither of us interested one way or the other, and, therefore, whatever I may have to say is the result of the dispassionate judgment, on the one hand of an expert of many years' experience, and on the other of a man of some practice in making the most of his faculty of observation.

In summer the mines can be reached only afoot—any kind of vehicle is impossible. There is a rough pathway, locally known as a trail, but it is like the roads to all good things, and in this respect has no nearer parallel than the road in Pilgrim's Progress. In all parts it is a straight and narrow way, and sloughs of despond are of painfully frequent occurrence.

The fun begins in earnest at a short distance from the confluence of Bonanza Creek with the Klondike river, about three miles from Dawson. The golden paving of Bonanza is unfortunately overlaid with a frozen, black substance, locally designated "muck," and to my mind very aptly so. On top of this black muck is a layer of heavy moss, some two feet thick, and as during the whole summer the muck is constantly and slowly thawing out, the moss is ever wet and the surface of the ground is truly muck in every sense of the word. The low spots—and I never saw so many low spots in any place were everything else is so exorbitantly high—the water lies in pools across the straight and narrow way that leads to fortune. Unless one is an acrobat, and can balance himself on the needle-like points of small boulders or the slender stems of fallen saplings, or can jump like a spring-heeled Jack, one is likely to sink in the mud up to the knees.

The trail is by no means lonely. All the way along are bunk-houses, restaurants and lunch-tents, where for the modest sum of one dollar the footsore pilgrim can get the luxury of a bare plank and a pair of dirty blankets to sleep upon, or a tin cupful of coffee and a greasy doughnut for fifty cents, and a more pretentious meal, where even such a delicacy as fresh moose meat may figure conspicuously on the bill-of-fare, for two dollars and a half. Many fellow-pilgrims pass you on the road; miners and prospectors, roughly clad, tanned, sturdy pedestrians, in ninety-nine cases of a hundred burdened with a "pack" of some kind, to which are almost invariably strapped a long-handled shovel, a pick and a gold-pan. A few women in short frocks and long boots will also be encountered; for later experience will show that the comfortable cabins on the digging in many cases are in charge of a "housekeeper."

For the first few miles up Bonanza the trail is cut through heavy timber—spruce, pine, poplar and birch—among which trees of from eighteen inches to two feet in diameter are not uncommon. Here the valley is wide; the enclosing hills are fully five hundred feet high; and at this time of the year the whole surroundings are green and picturesque. Soon the prospectors' stakes become conspicuous, and an examination of one will show that the claims belong to the "nineties," that is to say, that they are ninety or more below "Discovery Claim," or the claim that was staked by the man who made the first discovery of gold upon the creek. Wide, well-wooded flats are characteristic of the lower part of Bonanza; and until the sixties are reached very little evidence of mining will be seen on the claims. Even here the work amounts only, as a rule, to the building of a cabin and some prospecting. At No. 60 Below, the valley begins to get narrower, and evidences of something more like mining make themselves apparent. From here upwards, all along Bonanza, as far as No. 5 above Discovery, or for a distance of about ten miles, the whole creek has been worked more or less. In most cases—and the same is true of Eldorado—the system of mining is of a primitive nature. The commonest method has been to sink shafts at haphazard to bed-rock by "burning" or thawing out the frozen ground by means of fires made with cordwood, and when bed-rock is reached to drift along what is supposed to be the pay-streak. On many of the claims the whole ground is honey-combed with holes and tunnels, the sinking and drifting having been done entirely without plan or principle; and the owner knowing practically nothing as to the quantity or nature of the ground still unworked. At the top of each shaft is a rough wooden windlass, by means of which, slowly and laboriously, a poor half-frozen miner hoists the gravel in a wooden box.

This work is only possible in winter, when the creek and the gravel are frozen, as the claim is probably entirely innocent of a pump, or of any kind of power except that possessed by the muscular arms of a fifteen-dollar-a-day miner. As the gravel is thus slowly hoisted to the surface it is thrown on to a "dump" where it remains in a frozen mass until spring arrives to gradually thaw it out, and release the water of the creek from the iron grip of the arctic winter. It is usually about the middle of May before sluicing is possible and then all is hurry and scurry to get the flumes and sluice boxes in position, and shovel in the dump before the hot, dry weather of June and July reduces the water supply so much that this most interesting part of the whole year's operations becomes impracticable.

With such primitive methods of working, with miners' wages at $15 a day, lumber for sluices and flumes at 30 to 40 cent a lineal foot, and every expense in proportion, many of the owners of their claims having made fortunes, and are even making large profits now in spite of a reduction in their output of ten per cent., which is extorted by the Government for royalty. Nothing but the richest kind of ground could stand such conditions, and the most convincing argument that can be brought forward in evidence of the natural richness of the famous tributaries of the Klondyke is the fact that at present it is possible to work many of the claims upon

PEOPLE GETTING OLD.

As age advances, vitality retreats. Old people find themselves tired, listless, dyspeptic and lacking in strength. They lose interest in the active affairs of life, and may either become chronic complainers, burdening their friends, or they may, by using Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills be made bright, cheery, happy and healthy, as witness the following interesting example. The words of those who have lived many years carry wisdom with them. Why not profit by them?

WISE WORDS.

Nothing does a right-thinking man more good than helping his neighbors, especially the sick and weary. In recommending Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, and helping to bring them before the public, I feel that I am truly helping my neighbors. Both my wife and myself have used these Pills and derived great benefit from them. We are getting along in years, and like many others feel the need of a tonic and strengthening medicine. My blood was thin and impoverished, and my wife was miserable with general debility, brought on by dyspepsia. We used many kinds of medicine, but nothing did so much good as the Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills.

Yours very truly,
Signed, MR. & MRS. CLARK, Victoria St., Glencoe, Ont.

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents per box, 5 boxes for $2.00, at druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by The Dr. Ward Co., 71 Victoria St., Toronto. Book of information free.

THE ROYAL BOX.

Kaiser Wilhelm treated 40 British and 48 German naval cadets to beer on his yacht Hohenzollern while at Trondhjem.

An accomplishment of Queen Victoria of which but little is known, but of which she is very proud, is that of being able to write with either hand.

Prince Maximilian of Saxony, who became a priest a few years ago, has been appointed Bishop of Kulm, in west Prussia. The prince is 25 years of age.

The Duke of York is sitting regularly to Sargent that he may figure in the great picture of the house of lords which Sargent is painting. It is said that no royal personage in the world has sat for his portrait so few times.

DIEDRICHS.

As to Admiral Diedrichs' guns we cannot say, but as to Diedrichs himself he is a smooth bore.—Chicago Post.

Admiral Diedrichs, having nothing else to do just now, might buy a lexicon and try to get into the conversation next time.—Washington Star.

Before Admiral Diedrichs insists on getting in the game again he might take a look at Dewey's base hit and error columns.—Richmond Times.

A business man is not the most patient creature in the world. He cannot wait to hear any long-drawn-out story of the cause of his ailment. He doesn't care two straws about a fine spun theory of how he should treat himself. He may be predisposed to scrofula or consumption. "That," he will tell you, "has nothing to do with the case." He wants to be well. If he can be cured, write out a prescription and send in your bill. So here's the first part of the proposition.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a microbe hunter ad killer. Many persons of scrofulous blood encourage the breaking out of unsightly sores, to prevent the disease going to the lungs. There is no need of this state of dread and discomfort. Purify the blood. It can be done. "Golden Medical Discovery" will cure 98 per cent. of all consumptive cases, also of all lingering bronchial, throat and lung diseases.

Persistency.

Persistency is characteristic of all men who have accomplished anything great. They may lack in some particular, may have many weaknesses and eccentricities, but the quality of persistence is never absent in a successful man. No matter what opposition he meets or what discouragements overtake him, he is always persistent. Drudgery cannot disgust him, labor cannot weary him. He will persist, no matter what comes or goes. It is a part of his nature. He could almost as easily stop breathing. It is not so much brilliancy of intellect or fertility of resource as persistency of effort, constancy of purpose, that gives success.—Keystone.

Improved on Solomon.

In a Pontiac (Mich.) Sunday school a little girl told the story of Solomon and the disputing mothers in this wise: "Solomon was a very wise man. One day two women went to him, quarreling about a baby. One woman said, 'This is my child,' and the other woman said, 'No, 'tain't; it's mine.' But Solomon spoke up and said: 'No, no, ladies; don't quarrel. Give me my sword, and I'll make twins of him, so you can both have one.' "—Exchange.

The Medical Profession Recommend Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. C. M. Harlan, writing in the American Journal of Health, February 10th, says:—"Among the proprietary medicines deserving recognition is Dr. Chase's Ointment as a remedy for piles, eczematic skin eruptions of all kinds, for which it has been used with marked success and has effected remarkable cures in many obstinent cases which seem to baffle the skilful medical attendant."

Doan Cures a Manitoba Man.

Mr. Alexander Fraser, Miami, Man., writes: "I cannot refrain from recommending Doan's Kidney Pills to any person troubled with kidney disorder, for I believe if they could cure me they could cure any case."

Regular action of the bowels is necessary to health. Laxa-Liver Pills are the best occasional cathartic for family or general use. Price 25c. Any druggist.

SMOKING IN EUROPE.

American Devotees of the Weed Have a Hard Time of It.

The smoking American has a hard time of it on the continent. In several of the countries, notably in France, Spain and Italy, the trade is in the hands of the government, or so enormously taxed that it is virtually a government monopoly. Whatever may be the benefits to the national exchequer, there are certainly none to the consumer, and if a nationalist or state socialist wants arguments to support his theories let him shun the subject of European tobacco.

Pipe smokers will find no plug tobacco abroad. They can get American brands of long cut or fine cut only at exorbitant prices. Where the monopoly prevails the common smoking tobacco offered for sale will cure the habit if anything will. Italian cigars are about the meanest cigars man ever perpetrated on a suffering community. French cigars are not much better. Havanas can be bought in the Latin countries at high rates.

The Germanic races come nearer understanding what is good in the tobacco line. Cigars are cheap in Switzerland, cheaper in Germany and dog cheap in Holland. In fact, Holland is the paradise of smokers. Tobacco is absolutely free of duty there, if I understand right, and partly by reason of the fact that Sumatra is a Dutch possession. Holland leads the world in some branches of the tobacco trade. So the discreet smoker will bring home from Holland as many cigars as he can. In Rotterdam or Amsterdam he may buy for 2 cents apiece cigars that in many American cigar stores would retail at 10 cents straight, and for 5 cents he can get luxury that in America a millionaire would deem extravagance.

The cigarette habit prevails in France, Italy and Spain, so decent cigarettes can be bought, but Turkish or Egyptian cigarettes are not given away. In Germany and Austria pipe smoking is more common, and in Great Britain it would seem as if most men smoked a pipe, both indoors and out.—Robert Luce in "Going Abroad."

HORSES IN BATTLE.

How They Act When Wounded or Left Without Their Riders.

When horses are hit in battle, they stop, tremble in every muscle and groan deeply, while their eyes show wild astonishment. During the battle of Waterloo some of the horses, as they lay on the ground, having recovered from the first agony of their wounds, fell to eating the grass about them, thus surrounding themselves with a circle of bare ground, the limited extent of which showed their weakness. Others of these interesting animals were observed quietly grazing in the middle of the field between the two hostile lines, their riders having been shot off their backs, while the balls that flew over their heads and the tumult behind and before and around them caused no interruption to the usual instincts of their nature.

It was also observed that when a charge of cavalry went past, near to any of the stray horses mentioned, they would set off, form themselves in the rear of their mounted companions, and, though without riders, gallop strenuously along with the rest, not stopping nor flinching when the fatal shock with the enemy took place.

At the battle of the Kirb, in 1754, Major Macdonald, having unhorsed an English officer, took possession of his horse, which was very beautiful, and immediately mounted it. When the English cavalry fled, the horse ran away with his captor, notwithstanding all his efforts to restrain him, nor did the animal stop until it was at the head of the regiment of which, apparently, its master was the commander.

The melancholy and at the same time ludicrous figure which Macdonald presented when he thus saw himself the victim of his ambition to possess a fine horse, which ultimately cost him his life upon the scaffold, may be easily conceived.—New York Tribune.

Modern Chivalry.

Sir Walter Raleigh's cloak has been a symbol of chivalry for many years, but the little street boy's cap in the following story, from The Sunday Magazine, deserves an equally honorable place:

The best story I know of an Edinburgh street boy was told me by a lady who witnessed the incident. There was a Christmas treat given to poor children at a mission hall, and hundreds of little ones were assembled at the doors in advance of the hour of admittance, many of them barefoot.

Among the number was a sweet faced little girl, who seemed less hardened than most to the cold, for she shivered in her poor jacket and danced from one foot to the other on the cold, hard stones. A boy not much older watched this performance for a few minutes and then, with a sudden impulse of protection, took off his cap, put it down before her and said:

"Ye maun stand on that."

Animals and Music.

Tarantulas do not dance to the sound of the violin, but let the people they bite do the dancing. Scorpions, however, enjoy fiddling, according to The Quarterly Review, and lizards go crazy for music of any kind. As for serpents, the boa constrictor and python are senseless to melody, but the cobra is fascinated by the flute and still more by the fiddle. Polar bears enjoy the violin, so do ostriches. Wolves will stop in the chase to listen to a cornet. Elephants are fond of the flute, especially the upper notes. Tigers, while appreciating violin and flute, cannot stand the harmonium, while the musical seal shows no emotion on hearing any instrument, not even the bass drum.

RIVALS A MIRACLE.

Mr. George C. Chalker's Terrible Sufferings Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Howsey's Rapids, Sept. 12—Mr. George C. Chalker, of this place, tells a remarkable story of restoration to sound health, that rivals the far-famed St Anne de Beaupre cures.

Briefly Mr. Chalker's story is as follows: "I suffered horribly for years, from Kidney Disease. I could do no heavy work. My pain was almost unendurable. No remedy did me the least good till I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Six boxes of this wonderful medicine have cured me completely—made a new man of me. I cannot speak highly enough of them. I can state with the utmost confidence that Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure the very worst case of Kidney Disease.

High Praise.

A story told by John Ross Dix in his "Pulpit Portraits" shows how strong a current of life ran in the veins of Dr. Lyman Beecher when he had passed the allotted threescore years and ten.

When about 75 years of age, he spent a fortnight in the eastern part of Maine. A party of gentlemen at Calais went with him some 30 miles up a series of lakes to Indian territories.

When about to embark upon a chain of lakes in the birch canoes, the Indian guide, Etienne, rather objected to so old a man attempting the adventure, fearing that he would give out.

The doctor paddled with the best of the youngsters; caught more trout than all the party together and returned each day from the various tramps in the lead; ate his fish on a rock, with a sea biscuit for a trencher and fingers for knives and forks; slept on the ground upon hemlock branches under the tent, and at length the Indian guide went from the extreme of depreciation to the highest expression of admiration in his power, saying:

"Ah, old man, all Indian!"

It Was a Pretty Hat.

A young lady of the east end had just received several proofs of different styles of photographs of herself and had kept them until the usual semiweekly visit of her best gentleman friend. He was punctual in arriving that night, but he never imagined that it was to be his last call for an indefinite period.

He had no sooner seated himself in the parlor than the young lady brought in the photographs for his inspection. He looked them over very carefully and finally selected the only one of the several pictures showing a hat on the subject. It was a pretty big hat and beautifully trimmed. The piece of millinery caught his eye at first glance, and he most innocently remarked:

"I think this is the best photograph. The hat is so pretty. It is a very fine picture of the hat."

The young man did not notice his fatal error until too late. His visit was short and uninteresting that evening, and now he wishes that the art of photography had never been discovered.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

The English Army.

In the 40 years that elapsed between the battle of Waterloo and the fighting in the Crimea the British army attained a maximum of inefficiency. It is only now, when the chief actors in the great drama of the struggle with Russia are dead, that the public is beginning to learn the extent of the incapacity and inefficiency of the men responsible for the equipment and training of the British army. But for the courage of the British private the Crimean campaign would have been a disastrous failure. Indeed but for the accident of a fog on the morning of the battle of Inkerman, which enabled a handful of British troops to impress 40,000 Russian soldiers with the idea that they were more numerous and better supported than they really were, the English army would have been driven into the Black sea and the subsequent history of Europe altered beyond recognition.—London Standard.

RAILWAY RUMBLES.

By the year 1903 the Swiss government will have again secured control of the five leading railways in the country.

The fare for the trip from Matadi to Stanley Pool on the new Kongo railway is $70, though the time is only 30 hours.

Its time table folders cost the Boston and Maine railroad last year $180,000. Simpler and cheaper forms are being used this year and give, it is said, better satisfaction to the patrons of the road.

London's underground electric Waterloo and City railroad has been opened for traffic. The road is a mile and half long, ending at the Mansion House, and shortens to five minutes a journey that takes half an hour in the crowded streets.

Dickens In Evening Dress.

When Charles Dickens was to make his first appearance in Boston before an American audience as a reader, an immense crowd awaited him. The enthusiasm of the people for the most popular novelist then living had risen to fever heat. One of the most ardent of his admirers afterward told this little incident of the evening:

"With a few gentlemen who wished to welcome and show him attention I was in the little room at the back of the platform when Dickens entered it. He was a rather stout man with a somewhat red face, and I saw to my surprise, that he was dressed in an exaggerated servility to the extreme fashion.

"More than this, he wore a boutonniere in each buttonhole, and two watches, the chains of which were strung aggressively across his chest. There was a gaudy bad taste in his appearance which his friends regretted, knowing how distasteful it would be to most of his admirers who appreciated his genius and enjoyed his writings.

"No one, of course, could broach the subject to him, and he appeared that night and every other night of his engagement in the same attire. The universal comment was, 'Why, this is a petit maitre.' How can a man with such tastes be the creator of Tiny Tim and Sam Weller!"—Youth's Companion.

North American Life
ASSURANCE CO.

OFFICE OF W. A. MURRAY & CO., 17 to 27 King St., East, Toronto.

Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, N. A. L.:

DEAR SIR,—In answer to your request for me to decide upon one of the following options offered me for settlement of my 15-payment Life Investment Policy for $5,000 which has matured this year, viz:

1st to take the value of the Policy in Cash	$5,000.00
2nd, or fully paid-up insurance for	3,280.00
3rd, or take the profits in cash and continue my policy without further payments being required from me, such policy participating in future profits.	2,050 25

I find it somewhat difficult to make a decision either of the three options being so satisfactory. I am certainly very much pleased with the results offered me, and as I find many others are giving full testimony to the profit-earning power of this company. I do not hesitate to give my endorsement as well, that the North American Life is one of our strongest Canadian institutions to day giving first class results on Investment Policies, on a safe and conservative basis. I find that my policy, which was originally a Life by fifteen payments, has become an Endowment at the end of the Investment period.

A horse in the lead pulls in vain when the wheel horse lays back in the breeching. A man's body is a good deal like a team of horses, and must work harmoniously. The head may want to work, and strive ever so hard to work, but if the body is balky and sick the head will make no progress.

The man who is out of condition physically may as well give up trying to work mentally. He will not be able to do good work, or satisfactory work, and in the endeavor to do so will only do himself further harm. The reason that men have nervous exhaustion and prostration is that they try to work the brain when the body is balky. The right thing for a man to do when he finds he is out of sorts physically is to give the mind a little rest, and promptly resort to the right remedy for his physical ailments. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best of all medicines for a balky body. When the head aches, the appetite is poor, the sleep is restless, the nerves are shaky and both body and brain suffer from dullness and lassitude, it is time to resort to this great remedy. It restores the appetite, corrects all disorders of the digestion, makes assimilation perfect, invigorates the liver and purifies and nourishes the blood. It is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder. It is the best of nerve tonics and restoratives. It makes both body and brain alert and active. Medicine dealers have nothing "just as good."

"I suffered five years with an ulcer and the doctor here could not do me any good," writes Mr. John Jenkins, of Haywood, Madison Co., Va. "I took twelve bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and I am well. I would have been in my grave if it had not been for your medicine."

For constipation and indigestion, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most natural and perfect cure ever devised. They act gently but surely, and effect a permanent cure.

LOVE'S TIME TABLE.

Oh, Margery sweet, in your daffodil gown,
You pause at the turn of the stair
Beside a wee lassie with lashes of brown
Who cons the old table with care.

"Sixty seconds a minute," I hear her repeat.
"Nay, not for a lover," I call.
"'Tis an hour I would swear when I'm waiting, petite,
For Margery here in the hall.

"But when on the sofa, with lights dim and low,
She hears my sweet story again
Too soon the old clock will be bidding me go.
Sixty minutes a second make them."
—Virginia Duncan in Mother's Magazine.

AFTER YEARS.

"It—seems—to—me, Estelle," said Ferdinand Essex after a moment or two of grave observation, "that you're about old enough to leave off playing with dolls."

"Playing with dolls, indeed!" echoed Estelle, drawing herself up, with infinite scorn expressed in the graceful curves of her lissome shape. "I playing with dolls!"

"Well, what are you doing, then?"

"Why, I am dressing 15 of them for the church fair!" and Estelle held up one completed fairy, gorgeous in pink crape and spangles, with a floating sash and ends of gauze ribbon.

"The church fair!" said Major Essex, curling his lip. "Of all absurd nonsense, devised to stir up quarrels among the womankind and rob the men by wholesale, that is the most ridiculous!"

"But you are going, Major Essex?"

"Going! No, I should rather think not."

"Why?"

"Haven't I just told you? Because I disapprove of the whole thing."

"Major Essex," said Estelle, her voice quivering with indignation and two vivid scarlet spots starting out upon her cheeks, "I do believe it is just as Aunt Marion says!"

"And what does Aunt Marion say?" demanded Essex, rather amused.

"She says that you are getting to be a selfish, narrow minded old bachelor!"

"I can't be so very old. I am not 30 until the New Year!" pleaded Essex.

"I call that very old indeed," said Estelle haughtily. "And she says you are settling down into a set groove of thought and feeling, and unless"—

"Stop, stop," said the major, whimsically arching his eyebrows. "Don't give too heavy doses of bitter medicine, Estelle. I've heard quite enough for the present."

"I don't suppose Aunt Marion meant that it should be repeated to you," said Estelle, sewing vigorously away at a doll's skirt and pricking her taper fingers mercilessly, "but I believe it's every word of it true."

"You believe it?"

"Yes, I do," nodded Estelle emphatically.

"That's hard on me," said Major Essex, with an attempt at pathos which was contradicted by the sparkle of his mischievous brown eyes. "Do you suppose I could retrieve my character if I were to go to the church fair and buy the biggest doll you have been dressing?"

Estelle was silent, but the compressed lips and crimsoning cheeks betokened her inward indignation.

"Come," persisted Major Essex, half lifting himself from the sofa to get a better view of the young face in the corner. "You know I'm going away next week, and I shall want some kind of a souvenir to remind me of you when I'm away on the other side of the habitable globe. Shall we say $5 for that doll?"

"I couldn't sell it to you for $500," broke out Estelle, with flashing eyes and coloring temples. "It's just as Aunt Marion says—you are a disagreeable, cross, tormenting old bachelor!"

"Why, Stella, I thought we used to be such good friends!"

"So we used," said Estelle, "but not since you have begun to tease and torment me."

The major watched her with languid, half closed eyes.

"Estelle, I believe you are crying."

"I am not crying!" flashed Estelle, and to hide the bright, gathering drops she caught up all the pile of dolls, satin, tarlatan and glittering ribbon into her frock and darted out of the room like an arrow.

"The little firefly," laughed Major Essex. "But I'll make it up with her yet. Stella and I mustn't part unreconciled. As for Aunt Marion, who has such a very derogatory opinion of me, it's hardly worth my while to attempt to undeceive her."

And Major Essex dragged the chintz cushions into a heap directly underneath his head and composed himself for a comfortable nap before dinner.

When the next week came, he packed his valise as nonchalantly as if he were going to Baltimore or Philadelphia and started for Calcutta, and when he returned the south had passed through the terrible pangs of war. He went to the old Dayton place. The velvet lawn was plowed up and planted in rice. The orange grove, where the mocking birds used to sing their merry roundelays, lay leveled to the ground, and only a ruinous stone chimney, half overgrown with a rank poison vine, remained of the hospitable old mansion.

For a moment Essex gave way to natural emotions. He sat down on the ruined doorstep and wept.

And then he went back to Baltimore, where his home was to be for the future, all efforts to discover any trace of the Dayton family having proved futile and vain.

"By Jove, I wish I had staid in Calcutta," he said to himself. "Home is not home with all these changes around it."

Mrs. Colonel Changhley had returned from India in the same vessel with him—a plump, handsome widow, who had lost her lamented colonel in a sepoy mutiny among the jungles and was on the qui vive for a successor to him—and Mrs. Colonel Changhley gave Major Essex no peace of his life. He must ride with her. He must escort her hither and yon. He must go with her to select her new pony phaeton. In fact, she found herself unable to transact the commonest item of business without Major Essex.

So it happened that when she went to buy a set of ermine furs Major Essex was her unwilling companion.

"It's the last time," thought the major to himself; "it must be the last time or she will marry me before I know it."

Mrs. Changhley was very hard to suit in the matter of furs, and when at last she found a set which she liked it proved to be too small round the neck.

"We can have it altered in a minute, ma'am," said the polite salesman. "One of our young women can fix it while you wait. Miss Carson—here—send Estelle to me!"

And a light, pretty little figure glided in, dressed in somewhat shabby mourning. Major Essex sat by the window, looking absently out into the street, but as the work girl attempted to remove the fur wrapping from Mrs. Colonel Changhley's neck a pin at her wrist caught in the widow's lace collar.

"You awkward, clumsy thing!" almost screamed Mrs. Colonel Changhley, and then she checked herself abruptly, remembering the presence of Major Essex.

"I am very sorry, ma'am—indeed—indeed I did not intend it," faltered a sweet, low voice, which made Essex start round as if a finger of fire had smitten his ear.

"Estelle Dayton!"

"Oh, Major Essex, is it you?"

Estelle colored and then grew pale—the snowy little circlet of fur dropped from her fingers to the floor.

"Miss Dayton—if you please!" began Mr. Mink of the firm of Mink & Furtail. And Estelle, catching up the ermine collar, murmured a word or two of apology and escaped from the room.

"So you're acquainted with the young woman!" said Mrs. Colonel Changhley a little superciliously.

"The young lady's father," said Essex coldly, "was one of my oldest friends and one of the wealthiest citizens of Florida before this unhappy war desolated all ranks of life. Mr. Mink, will you oblige me with Miss Dayton's address?"

And Mrs. Changhley wished she had not insisted on Major Essex's company during the fur seeking expedition.

He went, as soon as he had reason to suppose business hours were over, to the place named by Mr. Mink, but his expedition was in vain. Miss Dayton was not at home.

"Home," what a contrast was this to the cool veranda and wide halls of Dayton's place. Essex's heart sank within him as he looked round at the carpetless floors and rickety stairs of the third rate boarding house.

Half an hour later he was sitting in his private parlor at the De L'Orme hotel smoking a meditative cigar when the waiter knocked at the door and ushered in a slender figure in black. Essex flung his cigar into the fire and sprang up with a glad countenance.

"Estelle! I have been to your house to find you, but without success."

"We worked late tonight," she said quietly, "and the late hours and constant confinement are killing me. Major Essex, I have a favor to ask of you for the sake of old times."

He had drawn forward a chair for her, into which she wearily sank.

"It is already granted, Estelle."

"I wish to beg of you to use your influence to obtain me the situation of companion or seamstress—to—to your wife."

"To my wife, Estelle? But I am not married."

The rosy scarlet suffused Estelle Dayton's cheek.

"That lady in the black silk dress—was she not your wife?"

"No, nor likely to be, I hope," Essex answered, with a slight grimace. "But, Estelle, though I do not happen to be married, that's no reason why I should not want a companion and a seamstress. Dear Estelle, will you come to me and be my wife?"

"But, Major Essex"—

"I know I am 15 years older than you, but I am not an old man yet, and I believe I have loved you longer than I can remember."

"It is not that—oh," sobbed Estelle, "it is not that! But only I am not good enough for you, dear friend."

Mrs. Colonel Changhley was highly scandalized at the whole affair and positively declined to attend the wedding or visit the bride, but Mrs. Major Essex somehow has contrived to survive her neglect and has grown fairer than ever in the sunshine of her husband's love, and the shadows through which she has passed only added new brightness to her present life.—Exchange.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment...

Endorsed by Dr. C. M. Harlan of the American Journal of Health

NOT A PATENT MEDICINE....

He says:—Among the proprietary medicines recognized is Dr. Chase's Ointment, compounded by Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto, as a remedy for Piles, Eruptions and Eczematic Skin Diseases, for which it has been used with marked success and has effected remarkable cures. It is not the practice of the Medical Profession indiscriminately to use proprietary medicines, but there are hundreds of physicians throughout this country who are using Dr. Chase's Ointment in their practice. We handed out during the last month 2,700 boxes of free samples of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and the thankful results have been something astonishing. Here is what one of the cures says:

Mr. O. P. St. John, 246 Shaw St., Toronto, in his letter states: I suffered for some years from Itching Piles, at times being unable to sleep for the annoyance caused by them. After trying almost every remedy known, I was induced to try Dr. Chase's Ointment, and can say one box entirely cured me. I cannot speak too highly of it, and have recommended it to several of my friends, all whom have been cured by its use.

"For the past six years I have suffered with kidney disease and sciatica. The pain was so intense that frequently I had to have hypodermic injections of morphine to relieve it.

"I had constant pain in my back and all the dangers and distressing symptoms of kidney disease as well. I have taken three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, and am now, much to my joy, cured of all kidney trouble.

"To my wonder the sciatica also disappeared. These pills have made me strong and well, and I cannot recommend them too highly."

A remarkable plant has recently been discovered in New Guinea. It is green leaved, with spikes of gorgeous crimson flowers, 20 to 30 inches long, and as thick as an ordinary walking stick.

A strange tree, styled the "moosanga," grows in the Kongo. It belongs to the order "urticaceæ." When the tree is cut at a height of about five feet, a large quantity of water is observed to flow from the section.

BONANZA AND ELDORADO.

them at a splendid profit. Individual claims may be seen, to-day, upon both Bonanza and Eldorado that have made the fortune of the owner, have enriched several men who have had "lays" upon them or worked small portions of the ground on shares—that have paid a ten per cent. royalty to the Government, and that still possess in the tailings and the unworked ground enough gold to make more than one man rich. Such results have, of course, been obtained only on the richest claims, and it must not be forgotten that on the other hand, there are many claims, which, under such disadvantages, it is now impossible to work at a profit. Even many of these, without the tax of a ten per cent. royalty, on the gross output, would pay, and certainly the whole of both creeks, or a length of some seventy miles, would be payable if properly worked, and with wages and other expenses at the reasonable rates that are already near at hand.

Discovery Claim is about ten miles up Bonanza, a little way below the mouth of Eldorado, or the "Forks," as it is locally named. Both above and below Discovery for forty or more claims each way the ground is very rich, and is being extensively worked, having already produced several million dollars. The gold is very coarse, and small nuggets are common, though really large ones appear to be comparatively rare. During my stay on Eldorado a nugget worth about $460 was discovered on claim No. 26, and this was said to be the second largest ever found in the district. On some of the dumps I panned several dishfuls of dirt, taken by myself at haphazard, and I found anything less than a dollar to the pan exceptional, and on the best claims panning would run as high as from three to five dollars. In every second or third dishful at least one small nugget, of from half a pennyweight up, would be sure to reward my efforts, and as the generous owners insisted on my retaining these little keepsakes the occupation became decidedly interesting and I was stimulated to make my investigation as thorough as possible. In every case I ran about the dump from place to place; and I can guarantee that anything in the way of "salting" was impossible.

At the "Forks" there is quite a village, consisting of the cosy log dwellings of the mining inspectors, a doctor or two, a few tradesmen and several hotels, saloons and restaurants. Everything costs money here, and by comparison Dawson prices appear quite moderate. A telephone line has recently been completed, connecting this point with Dawson, and the cost of a message is a dollar a minute, with the minimum charge of five dollars. Even at these prices, many a miner amuses himself by cracking jokes with a "pal" in Dawson, or sending greetings to his best girl. Eldorado differs little in appearance from Bonanza. It is a little narrower, with lower hills, and is not quite so heavily timbered. Both creeks could be worked to much better advantage if there were a better flow of water. At the time of my visit the supply was very short on Eldorado, and some dumps will have to remain unwashed this season unless there are some heavy rains very soon. On both creeks the depth to bed-rock comes from fifteen to thirty feet. Upon this there is about three to five feet of gold-bearing gravel, mostly worth sluicing even under the prevailing primitive conditions, and a very rich layer immediately on top of bedrock. The pay streak varies in width from five to as much as three hundred feet, or clear across the valley. On some claims there are as many as three or four separate so-called pay streaks, though probably under more favourable conditions the whole of the gravel would be worth sluicing. Bedrock is often much broken up, and it pays to dig into it for some feet, or until the true solid rock is reached. The gold on Eldorado differs slightly from that on Bonanza, being more nuggety, but assaying somewhat lower in value.

Many of the claims on Eldorado, and some on Bonanza, are now being developed by what is known as "open work." This is a great improvement on the old badger-like system of burrowing. It is done entirely in summer, and Mr. Woodford was of the opinion that it is the proper system of working the ground here, and that it could be successfully carried on for fully five months in the year. The black muck is stripped away by means of water, which is conducted through it in ditches. When pay gravel is reached sluices are constructed, a pump is put in, and the rest is done with the pick and shovel. The removal of the moss and top soil allows the ground to thaw out quickly, and the shovelling proceeds without any hindrance until bed-rock is reached. Several rich claims on both creeks have been opened up in this way this summer, and if the royalty be removed their output will be very large next year.

As all roads lead to Rome so every subject in connection with mining in the Klondike seems to lead to the royalty question. At the present moment several owners have left this season's output in the dumps, where they would rather have the gold than in the treasury department of the Dominion Government, and where, they assert, it will remain until the royalty is either entirely removed or very largely reduced. If it be maintained the probability is that very little mining will be done during the ensuing season, whereas, if it were removed, there is no doubt that on Eldorado and Bonanza alone, fully a hundred of creek claims, and a still larger number of bench claims, would be actively worked, giving constant employment to over a thousand men, and producing something in the neighbourhood of ten million dollars at least in gold. When in addition it be remembered that such promising creeks as Dominion, Sulphur, Hunter, Quartz, Bear and many others, which are now being prospected, or "represented," in a half-hearted way, would be immediately put under active development, it can readily be understood of what vital concern this matter of the royalty is to all interested in the progress of the Klondike. In other words, if the royalty be maintained, as it exists at present, the probability is that the total output of next season for the whole Klondike and Indian river mining divisions will shrink to something less than five million dollars, whereas if the royalty be removed the total output of the two districts will certainly reach twenty millions next year, and possibly will even exceed that respectable amount.

One of the most remarkable features in connection with mining here, this summer has been the unexpected richness betrayed by work on the hill and bench claims. The most notable instance has occurred on a hill at the confluence of French Gulch with Eldorado, just opposite to claim No. 17 on the latter creek. Here, right on the brow of the hill, fully three hundred feet above the level of the creek, a new comer this spring struck rich pay gravel within a few feet of the surface. The strike of course soon became widely known, and the whole hillside was quickly staked, and now there is as much work going on on this hill as on any spot of equal area in the whole Klondyke district. As the size of bench claim is only 250 feet square, there is room for quite a large number of miners, and on the top of French hill there is now a camp of considerable size. These claims are worked to best advantage in summer, entirely with the pick and shovel, and the gold is extracted by means of the primitive machine known as the "rocker" or "cradle." The greatest obstacle to mining at this elevation is want of water, and as a barrel full is sufficient to keep a cradle going all day, it is the best means of working available at present. Each claim is worked in this way by two men, and as the best of them have rocked out over a thousand dollars in a day, and a hundred dollars a day is a not uncommon average, it will be seen how exceedingly rich this ground must be.

The discoveries on French Hill set every one agog for bench claims. Similarly rich discoveries have been made at Skookum Creek and elsewhere, and now along the whole length of both Bonanza and Eldorado the "rock-rock, rock-rock" of the cradle is heard all day long, and much of the night. The ground on these hill-sides is certainly very "spotty," but it is easily prospected, and there appears now to be little doubt that the hills will eventually prove in many places as valuable as the valley. Countless theories are announced to account for the deposit of alluvial drift at such an elevation, but the best of them are no more reliable as a guide to the prospector than the forcible hypothesis advanced by a miner, whose education had been conducted on an exclusively practical basis, to wit, that these deposits had been "picked up by a volcanic corruption."

It is now within a few days of exactly two years since the first discovery was made on Bonanza. The story of the first rush to this creek has been told many times; but one has to be on the ground itself to thoroughly appreciate how wonderful were the chances of good and bad luck that occurred to so many of the simple-minded prospectors. On the Klondyke in those days fortune was blinder even than love. Many of the present owners of the richest claims had them practically forced upon them by what they then deemed misfortune. Even after some work had been done on them, some of the owners were so ignorant and inexperienced that they actually parted with their claims for less money than was lying in the dumps at the time of the sale. Around the camp-fires on the trail, or in the cosy cabins on the creeks old-timers love to pass these stories round. On these occasions one hears, for instance, of Charlie Anderson, the present owner of No. 26 Eldorado, with enough gold in sight to keep him in luxury all the rest of his life. He bought his claim one night in Dawson, when he was drunk, paying $800 for it, and the next morning cried like a woman because the last dollar he had in the world was gone, and he was left stranded, as he thought, with a worthless claim. An even more remarkable instance of what is popularly known as "miner's luck" is the story of a Mr. Mallory and his partners at a little later date when Eldorado claims had already given some practical evidence of their real value. The party had between them about five thousand dollars in cash, and they bought an option on a certain claim for this amount of cash, and $50,000 at fifteen days. In order to raise the $50,000 they went to work at once upon the claim, working day and night to try and take as much as possible out of the ground before the option expired. In the meantime they got a Dawson man to guarantee to make up any deficit in return for an eighth interest in the claim. Before the fifteen days had elapsed they had actually taken out of the ground the whole amount required, and thus practically every partner in the transaction got his interest in one of the most valuable mining claims in the whole district for nothing.

Such opportunities, indeed, as existed a couple of years ago have never probably occured in any other mining camp in the world. Any man with a little knowledge of mining, and a few thousand dollars, could then have made his fortune a dozen times over. But things are very different now. All the rich creeks have been staked and re-staked, and staked again. The country is swarming with prospectors, many of whom have have had a world wide and life-long experience at the business. If new ground be discovered it will be quickly gobbled up by men who can adequately estimate the value of it.

The days are past when men who could not even wash out a dishful of dirt owned the richest diggings in the world. In a word, this is no longer a "a poor man's camp." For a certain number of poor men there will always be work at remarkably good wages, but as at present there are fully ten men for every job available. Conditions must change considerable before a poor man can be certain of even a livelihood. There may be new discoveries, but presumably nobody wants to put himself in the position of a starving horse waiting for the grass to grow. But while the days of the poor man's opportunities have passed, the time of comparatively equal opportunities for the capitalist, large and small, is now at hand. There are here miles and miles of ground that cannot possibly be worked at a profit by individual claim owners, but which, taken up in blocks by capitalists, and operated by means of hydraulic machinery, would be exceedingly profitable. No individual digger here, even on the creeks where flowing water is available, attempts to work ground that goes less than from twenty-five to thirty cents to the pan, and on the hills and benches very much richer ground necessary to enable the ordinary digger to operate profitably. As a consequence, there are many miles of ground carrying from one to twenty-five cents to the pan that must remain unless it can be operated in large blocks by means of hydraulic machinery. Herein lies the ultimate destiny of this country, and it is in this way only that its vast stores of wealth will be extracted. The time will come when the benches and hill sides of the Klondyke and all its tributaries, and even the abandoned tailings of the old-fashioned digger will be worked by the steam navy and hydraulic machinery. Throughout the whole district of Yukon are many hundreds of miles of rivers and creeks now spurned by the digger, that would pay big profits to companies operating with machinery. Take, for instance, a stream like the Indian river, one of the principal tributaries of the Yukon. Under present conditions the banks of this important stream, though for many miles they carry gold bearing gravel, must remain completely useless because the gold is not in sufficient quantities to make it possible for the individual digger to operate profitably. I have the evidence of prospectors and miners of many years experience who have tested the ground on the banks and bars of the river that for many miles there is gravel carrying for a depth of several feet from one to five cents worth of gold to the pan. This is of course absolutely useless to the digger, but what better ground could be desired by a company operating with hydraulic machinery?

Above all things it would be well for those adventurous men who are easily carried away by gold excitement to remember that certainly, as far at least, as the Klondike is concerned, the days of the digger are numbered.

CORRECTING A MISTAKE—Who sells the cheapest goods — themerchant who is compelled to buy in one higgling market, and is tied down to one grasping manufacturer, or the merchant who has the freedom of all the competing markets and manufacturers of the world? Do men buy Hats cheaper where nothing but Hats are sold, or Boots cheaper where nothing but Boots are sold, or Clothing cheaper where nothing but Clothing is sold? Might as well expect a farmer to do as well for his family by raising nothing but Pumpkins as if he raised a mixed crop.

HON. WILLIAM MULOCK

Postmaster-General Honored by His North York Constituents.

A BANQUET TO HIM AT AURORA

A Home Demonstration That Was Peculiarly Grateful to the Statesman Who Has Done So Much for Imperial and Colonial Interests —The Speakers of the Evening.

Aurora, Sept. 21.—The yeomen of West York, irrespective of political leanings and associations, gathered here in large numbers last night to do honor to the Postmaster-General, Hon. Mr. Mulock, who has long been associated with the riding, the agricultural and commercial interests of which he has done much to promote. The banquet which was tendered Mr. Mulock was a spontaneous recognition by the people of the riding of the great service which the guest of the evening has rendered in his official capacity not only to the Dominion but to the British Empire, in securing the adoption of the Imperial penny postage, whereby a distinct forward step in the direction of that Imperial unity which is the dream of millions of Britons the world over has been taken, and its ultimate accomplishment brought within measurable distance.

A Home Demonstration.

The Postmaster-General has of late received many cordial evidences of appreciation of the signal service he has rendered to the State from gatherings composed of those influential in the social, political and commercial life of the Empire. But of all these demonstrations of approval, none have been more enthusiastic and sincere in their nature, and none certainly could have been more gratifying to the recipient, than that accorded to him last night by those to whom he is best known, among whom he has lived for many years, and who have upon so many occasions honored him with their confidence. It was an occasion when party politics were obliterated, and men united in the recognition of the ability and the dogged persistence which has characterized the administration of his department, and which, in the face of apparently insurmountable obstacles, enabled him to render a great service to the Empire.

Reception and Banquet.

The guest of the evening arrived on the evening train from Toronto, and was received at the station by the local Reception Committee and conducted to the Queen's Hotel. Among those who accompanied Mr. Mulock were: Hon. William Paterson, Hon. E. J. Davis, Messrs. Aemilius Irving, Q.C., Toronto; Thomas Bain, M.P., Dundas; Dr. George Landerkin, Hanover; William Gibson, M.P., Beamsville; D. C. Fraser, M.P., New Glasgow, N.S.; T. H. MacPherson, M.P. Hamilton; E. E. Sheppard, Toronto; D. F. McWatt, Barrie; J. J. Threlkeld, Toronto, and Master Cawthra Mulock.

The banquet was served in the Mechanics' Hall, which was appropriately decorated for the occasion. The decorations were composed entirely of Dominion flags and Union Jacks, which covered the walls and the ceiling. There was an entire absence of banners or mottos, a fine portrait of the Queen forming the central feature on the wall above the chairman's seat. Covers were laid for 250, and an excellent menu was served. The tables were, however, found insufficient to accommodate all those who desired to participate in the gathering, and special provision had to be made to supply them. Around the tables sat the men of North York, prominent in the social, commercial, industrial and agricultural life of this thriving and populous district. Every part of the riding was well represented.

The Speeches.

After the formal toasts, the chairman, Mr. A. Yule, ex-Reeve of Aurora, proposed the health of the guest of the evening, the Postmaster-General, and Mayor Fleury of Aurora, on the conclusion of Mr. Yule's remarks, read an address to the hon. gentleman which expressed their sentiments. Hon. Mr. Mulock made a magnificent speech in reply, and he was followed in excellent speeches by Hon. William Paterson, Hon. E. J. Davis, Mr. Fraser, M.P. of Guysborough, Dr. Landerkin, Messrs. Arch. Campbell, M.P., William Gibson, M.P., and Thomas Bain, M.P. Mr. E. E. Sheppard responded to the toast of "The Press."

METHODIST MISSIONS.

Lay Workers in Isolated Sections to Be Empowered to Celebrate Marriages.

Toronto, Sept. 21.—The time was mainly occupied yesterday morning at the General Conference in dealing with the educational report. This report decided against the making of Stanstead College, Quebec, a connectional institution, but, after considerable controversy, the clause was voted down, and Stanstead College is made an educational department of the church. St. John's Wesleyan College, Newfoundland, was also taken under the protection of the church.

The item which made a special annual collection for the Educational Fund from the Sunday schools obligatory was warmly discussed and, though at first adopted, was finally deferred.

At the afternoon session the Indian mission report was considered at length. A clause of the report empowered lay workers at isolated stations to perform the rite of matrimony, and was adopted. The consideration of the report on medical missionaries followed and was adopted. After Rev. M. Takagi, the native delegate from Japan, had read a greeting from the Orient, the report on Japan was submitted.

The evening session developed much want of unanimity with respect to the mission in Japan, so much so that Mr. Joseph Tait gave notice of a motion to the following effect: "That, in view of our conflicting opinions and evident lack of confidence in the management of our missions, at least in so far as Japan is concerned, we withdraw our missionaries and attend to our affairs at home, with which we are better acquainted."

Conference resumes this morning at 9 o'clock.

A DUST EXPLOSION

Causes Fire Which Cremates Eight Men and Fatally Burns Eight Others—Mourning in Toledo.

Toledo, O., Sept. 21.—Eight men were cremated and eight more fatally burned last night in the most disastrous fire that ever occurred in Toledo. The spontaneous combustion of dust in the grain elevator owned by Paddock, Hodge & Co. caused this terrible destruction of life and none of those who were taken out after the fire were far enough from death's door to tell any of the details.

William J. Parks, the superintendent, was blown through the window of the lower story. He said that about 8.30 a terrible explosion occurred on the south side of the elevator and he knew that there were about 20 men at work in the enormous building. None of the injured will survive their burns and bruises.

Besides those regularly employed at the elevator, the three children of Superintendent Parks were visiting him at the time. One of these may recover from his burns, but Grace, a 17-year-old girl, is burned almost beyond recognition, and Harold, the third child, has not been found.

The explosion caused a panic all over the neighborhood, houses were shaken as in an earthquake, and windows were shattered for blocks around. It was but a few minutes till the fire department of the city began the work of rescue, which was rendered difficult by the terrific heat.

It was learned that of the force of 20 men expected to load 8,000 bushels of grain during the night, not one of the entire number could be seen in any part of the building, and it was impossible to reach them in any way.

William Parks was found first. He was 20 feet from the building, frightfully burned, and his clothing almost entirely torn off. He had been hurled from his place in the main room through a window.

Another employe, John Carr, was hurled from the fifth floor of the building and was found bleeding and burned with many bones broken. He did not long survive.

Fireman David Kemp and Charles Keifer, the engineer, were found at their places in the engine rooms. They were wounded by falling timbers, and their faces were charred to a crisp.

The little daughter of William Parks was sitting near the desk in the office at the time of the explosion, and she was hurled out of the door. She walked down the elevation on which the building stands and then fell unconscious, suffering from wounds, from which she cannot recover.

John Smith was fatally burned.

The missing men are, doubtless, all dead. No trace of them has been found, and, as they were employed at [illegible] of the elevator, their chances for escape were slight.

The heat was so great that a number of cars on sidings near the burning building were added to the loss. Outside of the loss of the elevator, the damage, however, is slight. Mr. Paddock, a member of the firm owning the plant, said that there was between 500,000 and 600,000 bushels of grain in storage at the time, most of it being winter wheat. The property and the grain is an entire loss and will reach $450,000. Insurance, $135,000 on the building, and the grain is covered with $50,000 insurance.

Much Sickness at Santiago.

Washington, D.C., Sept. 21.—Nearly [illegible] of the American troops at Santiago are on the sick list and General Lawton reports 88 new cases of fever yesterday and 7 deaths.

QUEBEC CONFERENCE.

One Short Session Only Held on Tuesday.

PREMIER OF ONTARIO PRESENT.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Greets the American Delegates With His Characteristic Courtesy—A Refining Process to Be Worked by the Commission—The First Question Will Be the Fisheries.

Quebec, Sept. 21.—The International Commission resumed its sessions yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, but because of the absence of Senator Faulkner, Sir James Winter and Mr. Charlton the session was shortened, and the commissioners adjourned about 1 o'clock. Contrary to the general expectation, in view of statements of a semi-official sort sent out from Washington, no mention was made at the meeting of an adjournment in mid-October to resume again at Washington, and the Canadian commissioners, at any rate, are proceeding on the assumption that the negotiations will be completed during the present session at Quebec.

The American commissioners in attendance are: Senator Charles W. Fairbanks, Hon. T. Jefferson Coolidge, Mr. John A. Kasson and Hon. Nelson Dingley. Hon. John W. Foster arrived during the afternoon and Senator Charles J. Faulkner, who succeeds Senator Gray on the Commission, is expected on Thursday. The American contingent is accompanied by a staff of American officials, who will act in an advisory capacity.

The delegates are stopping at the Chateau Frontenac, whose crowded lobbies, owing to the presence of the well dressed ladies, present animated pictures of entrancing color. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, with characteristic courtesy, extended the Americans a warm welcome and spent an hour or two in the morning in exchanging greetings.

Sir Richard Cartwright and Sir Louis Davies were also in evidence. Mr. John Charlton, M.P., has not yet put in an appearance. Numerous Canadian and American delegates are expected to-day. The refining process of the Commission will be to sift representations more or less selfishly urged.

Premier Hardy of Ontario has also arrived, and one or two of his colleagues are on their way here to urge upon the Commission the Ontario view of the lumber duties and on the fisheries of the Great Lakes.

Mr. C. H. Babcock of Rochester, chairman of the Committee on Fisheries, Game and Fish Culture, of the Fish and Game Commission of the State of New York, is here to appear before the American commissioners.

The secretary of the American commissioners wrote officially to Governor Black, informing him that the question of the fisheries in the Great Lakes between Canada and the United States would be one of the subjects to be taken up by the Commission when it reassembled.

The Governor was reminded of the Joint Commission relative to the preservation of the fisheries in waters contiguous to the United States and Canada which sat in 1892, and asked to send a representative in case any opinions were to be expressed in respect to the recommendations of that commission. It is likely that Mr. Babcock may urge some changes in the laws respecting close seasons, and the netting which is permitted on the Canadian side of Lake Ontario, especially in view of the fact that the State of New York places 21,000,000 of whitefish fry in the lake every year. At all events, it is known that there is some feeling on this matter in the State of New York.

It is understood that the fishery matter will be one of the first questions to be taken up by the Commission, and that the question of reciprocity in agricultural and other natural products will be considered next. Strong representations from American sources are expected against the lowering of American duty on Canadian barley imported into the States.

In regard to trade questions, the Canadians will have the benefit of the counsel of Mr. Parmalee, Deputy Minister of Trade and Commerce.

British Warships at Quebec.

Quebec, Sept. 21.—A portion of the British North American and West Indies squadron arrived here at 10.30 o'clock yesterday to take part in and add eclat to the Champlain monument festivities. The vessels are: H.M. battleship Renown, bearing the flag of Vice-Admiral Sir John A. Fisher, K.C.B., and the cruisers Talbot and Indefatigable.

At 5 p.m. Their Excellencies the Governor-General and the Countess of Aberdeen called on the Admiral on board the flagship.

Lieut.-General Lord William E. Seymour, commanding the Imperial forces at Halifax, is the guest of Vice-Admiral Sir John Fisher, K.C.B., on board H.M.S. Renown.

THE BODY BURIED.

Dr. Nancy Guilford Sailed From Montreal for England.

Bridgeport, Conn., Sept. 21.—The body of the victim was buried yesterday, but not in its entirety. The ghastly head remains at the Morgue preserved in alcohol, with a pane of clear glass between it and the hundreds of people who come to study it. It will be kept above ground indefinitely in the hope that somebody will come who can identify it. There were no other new developments yesterday.

Has Gone to England.

New York, Sept. 21.—Dr. Nancy Guilford sailed from Montreal on the Dominion Line steamer Vancouver, which is due at Liverpool next Monday night. She travels under the name of Mrs. Wilbur.

The Svantians, who live in the inaccessible mountain range between the Black and Caspian seas, are probably the laziest people in the world. They have made no advance toward civilization in 2,500 years. It is their invariable rule to observe holidays four times a week, with saints' days as extras.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

What does it do?

It causes the oil glands in the skin to become more active, making the hair soft and glossy, precisely as nature intended.

It cleanses the scalp from dandruff and thus removes one of the great causes of baldness.

It makes a better circulation in the scalp and stops the hair from coming out.

It Prevents and It Cures Baldness

Ayer's Hair Vigor will surely make hair grow on bald heads, provided only there is any life remaining in the hair bulbs.

It restores color to gray or white hair. It does not do this in a moment, as will a hair dye; but in a short time the gray color of age gradually disappears and the darker color of youth takes its place.

Would you like a copy of our book on the Hair and Scalp? It is free.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the use of the Vigor write the Doctor about it.

Address, DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.

Daily Examiner.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1898.

IT WON'T WORK.

The city of Belleville is naturally anxious to increase its commercial prosperity and its anxiety takes extraordinary directions. The city sent up a deputation to ask the Ontario Government to favour a private bill which would give the city power to bonus manufacturers in order to induce them to remove thither from other towns. The representatives of the city must have failed to grasp the fact that the granting of such a request involved the repeal of the anti-bonus sections of the municipal act. For this the public are not prepared. They will not be willing to bring back a system that will permit the proprietors of manufactories to play off one municipality against another in the way of practically putting up an industry at auction, the highest bidder to get the location. In the case of Belleville the Government wisely refused to entertain the proposition. No Government could stand that would attempt to introduce legislation that runs counter to public opinion so strongly—legislation that would result in paralysing business enterprise by inviting dependence upon the liberality or folly of municipalities, instead of upon industry and business enterprise. The thing won't work.

It is said that the Pelee Islands, in the western end of Lake Erie, will grow cotton as well as grapes. Tobacco thrives on these islands, and in view of the soil being adapted to these generally associated crops, one would think that the idea of their cultivation should be cultivated. If the plebiscite ends in prohibition the growing of Pelee Island grapes for wine production will be unprofitable.

The cost of the Soudan war, which lasted two years, has been about $13,000,000, of which $5,000,000 was spent in building a railway, which will be of permanent advantage. The cost to the Americans of the Spanish-American war, which lasted only four months, will be more than $100,000,000. And the Globe might have added that the British soldier was surrounded with every comfort consistent with military conditions, while the more expensive American campaign was administered with a carelessness, or indifference, that inflicted upon its brave soldiers more suffering, and was responsible for more deaths, than the bullets and bombs of the Spaniards.

HON. MR. DRYDEN AND SOUTH ONTARIO.

The determination of Mr. Dryden to bring on the bye-election in South Ontario with all possible speed is easily accounted for. He naturally wants to be once more in possession of the seat of which he has been deprived for six months, as it is now proved, by means of barefaced fraud and corruption. It is to be gathered from the Ontario Reformer that it is not at all certain that there will be any contest at all. Under existing circumstances Mr. Calder is, not unnaturally, chary of risking any more of bar'l—and it was due simply to his bar'l and the use the Tories wanted to make of it, that he was a candidate last March. He was, as the Reformer states, merely "the dupe of crafty and designing people schooled in the vices of the lowest of ward politicians," and the journal named repeats what was noted at the time, that the "only reason ever heard advanced for the nomination of Mr. Calder was that he was a man of some financial strength." It is now seen how the money was to be used and it proved the chief factor in determining the result. Mr. Calder will, if he acts wisely, be valoursly discreet and retire to private life, and it may reasonably be expected that no other South Ontario Tory will be foolish enough to risk a fall. The return of the Minister of Agriculture may, therefore, be looked for by acclamation. The Reformer recalls the criticisms of the Tory papers on March 2nd on the defeat of Mr. Dryden. One ran as follows: "All day Monday and Tuesday until the close of the poll, money was spent lavishly, and so open that every particular of several cases of flagrant bribery is public property." The Tory paper was correct, their candidate is unseated and Mr. Dryden will enjoy his own again—Ottawa Free Press.

ONTARIO FRUIT IN MANITOBA.

Manitoba has opened a new and promising market for Ontario fruit. Ontario fruit growers and shippers can make it a profitable and permanent one if they study its requirements. Hitherto California fruit has had the call in Manitoba; Ontario did not even cater for it. A few days ago the first consignment of Ontario fruit reached Winnipeg in good condition. The experiment fully justified expectations, and will now be repeated on a larger scale. Our shippers must understand that if they are to seize and hold the market the greatest care must be given to packing. That is one secret of the American fruit. The Winnipeg Free Press reads this lesson to Ontario fruit dealers, who, it says, are probably not alive to the importance of the Manitoba trade. The Free Press adds: "The market in the city of Winnipeg alone reaches $400,000 each season, and at the present time 80 per cent. of the fruit consumed in Winnipeg comes from the United States.

Western Ontario fruit has recently found a good market in Montreal, where, thanks to cold storage railway facilities, it is landed in perfect condition in less than 24 hours from the time of shipment. The railway and express companies have paid particular attention to this traffic, and may be relied on to aid in developing the Manitoba fruit trade.

COPPER AT PARRY SOUND.

The Parry Sound Canadian has the following item regarding the McGown copper mine, which is a couple of miles only from Depot Harbour:

"This week there is considerable excitement amongst the mining men, over the big streak of luck at McGown mine. A shot was put in at a point in the water which is believed will turn out to be the spot wanted, an immense block was blown up, proving to be the richest in copper yet found, it yielding over eighty per cent. of that metal, besides gold and silver. The smaller lake is to be drained off, when it is expected that free gold will be found in the sand at the bottom. The larger lake is also to be lowered so that work can be carried on. Specimens have been sent to Toronto of the new find and no doubt this is one of the richest mines on the continent. We have not been able to find out exactly what the company intends doing, but it will give a strong impetus to mining in this section, and there will likely be a rush to the Parry Sound mines."

The Laog annual picnic was held on Friday afternoon in Mr. Nelson's grove. This little picnic is looked upon with great favour and anxiously looked forward to as a source of real pleasure. All present highly appreciated the inviting spread provided by the ladies and did ample justice to the meal. A football match, in connection with the picnic, between Laog and Westwood, was hotly contested, and although both teams did some excellent work, yet neither succeeded in scoring. After the match quite a number indulged in a quiet little dance under the shadows of the maples, even until the wings of night had folded over them.

The old spirit of sport so characteristic of our boys seems again to have awakened and we hope this time to stay awake. A match with Norwood High School football team is arranged for Saturday, Sept. 24th. Our boys have got out to practice and the game promises to be interesting. The public generally should show their appreciation of this manly sport by attending these matches, and by giving the boys such encouragement as is due them.

MARCHAND ORDERED TO RETIRE.

Told to Leave Fashoda in the Hands of the Anglo-Egyptians.

Paris, Sept. 21.—The report is published here, but not officially confirmed, that Major Marchand has been ordered to retire from Fashoda, leaving that place in possession of the Anglo-Egyptian forces.

Le Matin discredits the report, declaring that there is no reason why such a course should be taken.

On the other hand, a telegram received from a French source in Cairo says there is no information confirming Major Marchand's occupation of Fashoda. The French newspapers say the Minister of Foreign Affairs has received no news confirming the presence of Major Marchand in Fashoda. The rumors circulated by the English press regarding alleged instructions sent to Marchand are therefore false.

MR. COSTE'S REPORT.

He Reports the Stikine-Teslin Route Practicable to the Yukon.

Ottawa, Sept. 21.—Mr. Louis Coste, Chief Engineer of the Department of Public Works, has returned from the Klondike. In March last Mr. Tarte instructed this official to make an inspection of the Stikine-Teslin route to the Yukon, and he has come back with a report confirming what has been said as to its practicability. While he brings this report, he also brings news of disaster to the boats plying between the head of Teslin Lake and Fort Selkirk, one result of which is that the second detachment of the Yukon military force is stranded on the Hootalinqua River, and because of the lack of sufficient transportation facilities its progress may be delayed for a month. Mr. Coste, having navigated Teslin Lake, the Hootalinqua, Lewes and Yukon to Dawson, came out by way of Skaguay. He reports that the provisions for the Yukon force, which were delayed at St. Michael's, are now on their way up the Yukon River to Dawson and will soon reach their destination.

Church Treasurer Under Arrest.

Hamilton, Sept. 21.—Henry J. Healey, Herkimer street, was arrested yesterday on the serious charge of appropriating to his own use the sum of $432 39, funds of the Immanuel Congregational Church. He pleaded not guilty before the magistrate and the case was adjourned, bail being fixed at $1,000.

Not Infallible.

Harriet Martineau, the English author, was shrewd and practical and had what men are pleased to call a "masculine intellect." But she was not always correct in her deductions, a fact illustrated by the following anecdote, told in her "Memoirs," by Sir Charles Murray, who was then the English consul general in Egypt:

One afternoon we met at the villa of my old friend, S. W. Lorking, on the banks of the Mahmoudieh canal. In the course of our stroll through the garden we came to a small gate, the pattern of which was new to Miss Martineau, who was walking in front.

She stopped and looking at the gate in an attitude of [illegible] exclaimed:

"[illegible]! What wonderful [illegible] Pharaohs have in England!"

She went on, and as Lorking and I followed through the gate he whispered to me, "I got it out last week from Birmingham."

Where Hearing Ceases.

Lord Rayleigh, in a lecture, said that experiments had shown that a vibration of sound having an amplitude of less than one-twelve-millionth of a centimeter could still affect the sense of hearing.

Such a vibration would be so short that it would have to be enlarged 100 times before the most powerful microscope could render it visible, supposing that it were susceptible of being seen at all.

Old people, he said, do not hear high notes which are audible to young persons, and there is reason to believe that babies hear notes which are inaudible to their elders.—London Mail.

An Awful Cold.

Mrs. Wm. Darkes, Pine Grove, Ont., says: "I recommend Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup for coughs, colds, hoarseness and sore throat. I had an awful cold and could hardly speak. One bottle of Norway Pine Syrup cured me completely."

Piles! Piles! Itchin Piles.

Symptoms—Moisture intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumour. All druggists or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia. NEW POLICY IN CHINA.

The Chinese Emperor Has Discovered That Occidental Civilization Is Superior to the Oriental.

Pekin, Sept. 21.—A remarkable series of Imperial edicts have been published during the past few days. The edicts have startled the officials, while making a favorable impression upon the old foreign residents, who are usually sceptical as to the practical value of such orders.

The Emperor has addressed to the people a long explanation of his new policy, declaring that, in many respects, western civilization is superior to the existing order in his dominion, and announcing his intention to adopt its good features and discard the bad ones. The most radical edict establishes a postal service throughout the Empire. In it the Emperor asks the people to co-operate with him in making the newly established system a success, assuring them that they will thus aid in strengthening the resources of the Empire.

A fresh edict followed, extending practically to everybody the right to memorialize the throne, a privilege heretofore restricted to certain classes.

The latest edict commands that monthly accounts be rendered to the Government of the receipts and expenditures everywhere, and that these accounts be published.

The Emperor directs that the edicts be posted throughout the country, in order that the people may see the endeavors to promote their welfare which he is making.

HIS HEART QUIVERS.

Due d'Orleans Accuses the Ministers of Seeking a Revision While Convinced of Dreyfus' Guilt.

Paris, Sept. 21.—The Due d'Orleans has issued a manifesto denouncing the Dreyfusites. The manifesto begins thus: "At last the promoters of the odious plot against the honor and security of the fatherland have thrown off their mask. Intimidated by them, the Ministers have lowered themselves so far as to become their accomplices."

The Duc d'Orleans accuses the Ministry of seeking a revision of the Dreyfus proceedings while convinced that Dreyfus was guilty, under pretext of calming the public, for their own profit. He declares that the prospect makes his heart quiver, and concludes his manifesto in these words: "Frenchmen, we are masters of our own country. Your servants, subject to occult and pernicious power, presume to impose upon you the will to which they submit under pretext of proving the innocence of a man whom the military tribunals have condemned as a traitor. It is the army they are trying to destroy and France they are striving to ruin. Frenchmen, you will not allow it."

NINE NEW CRATERS.

Immense Quantities of Lava Belching Forth From Vesuvius.

Naples, Italy, Sept. 21.—Frightful misery and immense damage will be caused if the eruption of Mount Vesuvius continues on the alarming scale it has reached the last few days. Nine new craters were counted yesterday around the central crater, but even this extra vent does nothing toward checking the flow of lava, although there is a marked cessation in the more violent belchings of fire and smoke.

The lava torrent near the crater, which has a width of half a mile, is dividing into three principal streams, each 70 to 80 yards wide. These, as they pour down the mountain side, again subdivide into numerous smaller streams.

The slope of the mountain is one of the most thickly populated districts in the world. The fertility of the soil is celebrated, and in the best parts four crops a year are gathered. But one great aid to this fertility, the enormous wells, are beginning to dry up, and the farmers are in despair.

Coughs and Colds are always promptly cured by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. 25c.

THE ONLY HOPE!

For Victims of Bright's Disease is Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Not a day passes on which the newspapers do not record the death of one or more persons from Bright's Disease. Already its victims number hundreds of thousands. Day by day the awful total grows larger. No class is safe from this destroyer.

War and intemperance, with all their miseries and fatalities, are not responsible for as many deaths as have been caused by Bright's Disease. Yet, there is a way of resisting it; of drawing its poisoned fangs, and making it as harmless as a summer breeze. That great medicine, Dodd's Kidney Pills, has cured thousands of the worst cases. It never fails to cure, hopeless as the case may seem.

Would you safely shield your loved ones from the fatal grip of this curse of mankind—Bright's Disease? Then use Dodd's Kidney Pills, the only cure on earth for this disease.

THE LABOR CONGRESS.

British Columbia Delegates Wanted an Interprovincial Alien Law.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 21.—The British Columbia delegates raised much excitement at the Trades Congress yesterday morning. A resolution was moved to do away with interprovincial contracts being made between employers and employes.

Mr. Wilkes explained that they sought to prohibit a worker in one province making an agreement with an employer of another to work for him.

Messrs. Belanger and O'Donoghue opposed the motion, favoring a law like the Ontario one, which gave a man the privilege of annuling his agreement if he finds it is a bad one, and has been signed by him as a result of false representations. The mover then withdrew his resolution.

Following this came the resolution which referred to the Alien Labor Law. The principle of this motion was to take steps to represent to the Quebec Conference that this law was entirely unsatisfactory to the working people of this country, inoperative in its machinery, and not wanted by organized labor. It further proclaimed that what was wanted by Canadian workingmen was a law to remove importation into Canada of persons under contract to work.

The resolution carried unanimously on the understanding that if the Quebec Conference did not result in the abolition of the Alien Labor Law in both countries, the Congress would move to have the Canadian law made workable.

President Carey, in reply to a question of privilege, gave a denial to the statement that he was not a member of a labor organization.

Ralph Smith of Nanaimo, B.C., was elected president.

Montreal was chosen as the next place of meeting.

A banquet was held last night, which closes the convention.

A CEREAL ADVANCE.

Wheat Goes Up in Liverpool and Chicago—A Big Cattle Market in Toronto—The Prices.

Tuesday Evening, Sept. 20.

The Liverpool wheat market was steady to-day, and at the close spot red winter was unchanged in price. This month's delivery made a net gain of 1d per cental for the day, and the December option rose ½d, while the March futures eased off ½d.

Strong cables, light Northwest receipts, higher figures at Minneapolis and Duluth, and a good export enquiry at seaboard caused the Chicago market to rule buoyant from start to finish to-day, and at the close this month's delivery had appreciated in price 1⅝c per bushel, the December and March options showing advances of 1⅛c and ⅝c respectively.

Sheep and Lambs—The supply of fresh sale was light—five loads—but the accumulation of 28 loads made a heavy market. Toes Being Stubbed.

The Reception Committee will see to this. Members and non-members and their friends, come along!

A Naval Play.

"Under the Dome," the most pretentious of the Carter plays, will be presented at the Opera House Saturday evening, Sept. 24th. As a play it is said to be far superior to anything turned out by this successful author hertofore. It is a high class naval comedy drama, absolutely free from cheap sensationalism and palpable appeals to the gallery. Not a short is fired throughout the play, with the exceptions of the admiral's salute fired by the United States man-of-war in honour of the flagship Trenton. The scenery is both effective and abundant and the play is being interpreted by a competent cast. Seats now on sale.

Unique Silk Spool Cabinet.

A very handsome silk spool cabinet has just been added to the Golden Lion's excellent store furnishings. It stands on the counter at the entrance to the millinery, dress and cloak department. It is constructed of very fine polished quartered oak, richly mounted and set with nickel-plated trimmings. The arrangement of the cabinet is such as will afford a very great convenience in the selection of the numerous varied tints and shades of silk spools—the colours being harmoniously combined so as to effect a saving of labour to the buyer and seller. The cabinet is from the great silk spool manufacturing company of Belding, Paul & Co., Montreal.

Special Announcement.

Mr. Bradburn makes the announcement to his patrons that he has succeeded in securing at a great expense the Columbia Stock Company, headed by the popular young romantic actor, Mr. Paul Casenuve. They will appear here during the entire week, commencing Sept. 26, producing in an artistic manner a number of well known standard plays. This company must not be confounded with the usual repertoire attraction, as they are a first class company, playing as a rule only the large cities. And it is through the efforts of Mr. Bradburn that they will produce the plays at popular prices. Read the special advertisement.

LOST AN EYE.

And Was Otherwise Badly Burned Yesterday by Contact With Molten Iron.

Mr. Ed. Carr, Aylmer street, an employee of the Peter Hamilton Manufacturing Company, was the victim of a bad accident yesterday in the moulding shop, through which he lost an eye and was otherwise badly injured.

The accident occurred in the afternoon as Carr was plunging a ladle into a cauldron of iron in a liquid state, when a portion of the molten metal flew out, burning him badly about the body and injuring one of his eyes to such an extent as to destroy the eyesight.

It is supposed the ladle was wet, which would account for the iron flying out of the cauldron.

Dr. McCullough was summoned and the injured man conveyed to his home in a carriage. To-day he is reported to be improving, but still suffering great agony.

BOARD OF TRADE MEETING.

It Was Decided to Invite the Minister of Public Works to Take a Trip Over the Trent Valley Canal.

At the postponed meeting of the Board of Trade last evening the President, Mr. John Carnegie, occupied the chair and read the following letter from Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P.:

John Carnegie, Esq., President Board of Trade, Town:

DEAR SIR:—At the request of the Directors of the Peterborough Central Exhibition I communicated with Hon Tarte, Minister of Public Works of Canada, with regard to his visit to Peterborough to formally open the Exhibition on Friday, Sept. 30th, and I received a reply to-day stating that he would be in Peterborough on the morning of the 30th and that he would be willing to make himself agreeable to the wishes of the Directors during his stay in Peterborough.

I pointed out to him that after breakfast he might take a drive over the Trent Valley Canal as far as Lakefield and see the work that is constructed and under construction and that after opening the Exhibition he might have some time to visit the public buildings under his charge, and I believe it is the intention of the citizens to give a public banquet in the evening.

In connection with our conversation of yesterday I have to-day communicated with Mr. Tarte, with a view to his remaining in this district on Saturday, taking a run over the route of the canal from Bridgenorth to Balsam Lake, and it seems to me that he would be more likely to remain over Saturday if invited by the Board of Trade, and I should be glad if the Board would formally invite the minister to remain in Peterborough on Saturday and take the trip.

It would be in the interests of the construction of the canal if while the minister is in this locality he be induced to visit the work constructed and under construction, with a view to securing, if possible, his endorsation and support to this important public work.

I merely suggest that the Board of Trade take formal action in extending an invitation to the minister to take the trip on Saturday, believing that it would be in the interests of the canal and thinking that the minister would be more likely to accept an invitation from the Board of Trade than myself.

Yours very truly,
J. R. STRATTON,
President Trent Valley Canal Association.

Mr. Carnegie then called upon Mr. Stratton to address the meeting on the matter. The latter in response stated that he had written to Mr. Tarte, asking him to remain over Saturday in Peterborough, but he thought that the Minister would more readily accept if the Board of Trade extended a formal invitation to him. If they would do so, the Trent Valley Canal Association would lend its assistance, and Mr. Tarte could be taken over the route in Mr. Boyd's private yacht. It would not be an excursion—not more than half a dozen or so from town accompanying the minister. No reply had been received to his letter to Mr. Tarte yet. In regard to the progress being made by the Trent Valley Canal Association, he could report that the County council had made them a grant of $200 conditional on the town doing the same and the town was prepared to fall into line. The townships and counties all along the line would do their share and Mayor Morrison, Vice-President of the Association, had written that Trenton was ready with its contribution whenever it was needed. The county of Simcoe had sent in a cheque for $50. Steps had already been taken in preparing a pamphlet such as had been spoken of to inform the public of the benefits to be derived from the opening out of the route.

This report was received by the Board with a great deal of satisfaction. In reference to the invitation it was moved by Mr. B. Shortly and Mr. T. E. Bradburn, "That the Board invite the Hon. the Minister of Public Works, Mr. Tarte, to take a trip over the route of the T. V. C. from Bridgenorth to Balsam Lake on the occasion of his visit to Peterborough to formally open the Peterborough Central Exhibition and in the event of the Minister accepting, the President of the Board, Mayor Davis, Mr. T. E. Bradburn and Mr. J. R. Stratton to be a committee to make the necessary arrangements for the trip."—Carried.

Mr. Carnegie stated that arrangements had been completed for the Board of Trade excursion to Balsam Lake on Friday first. The train would leave Peterborough at 8:05 and dinner and tea could be obtained at Fenelon Falls.

The Board then adjourned.

COFFER DAM GIVES WAY.

The Lower End of the Canal Flooded From the Little Lake.

Monday afternoon the coffer dam, which was erected at the lower end of the canal for the purpose of keeping out the waters of the Little Lake, gave way and in a moment the work of weeks was undone.

Deep excavations had been made in the hope of finding rock on which to build the abutments for a lock, and it had just been decided that piles would have to be used for a foundation and the work of driving undertaken when the excavation was suddenly inundated with a flood of water from the lake, completely submerging the engines used for supplying the power for the pile driver.

The men had barely time to escape.

THE DOURO MISSION.

Of what the "Congregation of the Most Holy Redeemer" Consists.

The Congregation of the Most Holy Redeemer, two members of which are conducting a Mission at St. Joseph's, Douro, was founded by St. Alphonsus in 1732, and was approved by Pope Benedict XIV on Feb. 25th, 1749. St. Alphonsus was born at Naples on Dec. 27th, 1696. When only 16 years old he received the degree of Doctor of Canon and Civil Law. He began his career as a lawyer but on a certain occasion that deceit had been practised before him, he left the court saying, "O, world, I know thee now." He became a priest, and afterwards a bishop. He died Aug. 1st, 1787.

The mission at St. Joseph's, Douro, will close on Sunday, Sept. 25th inst. The Mass, followed by a sermon, will be at 9 a.m. People of all denominations and no denomination heartily welcomed.

CITIZENS TO BANQUET HON. MR. TARTE.

ON THE OCCASION OF HIS VISIT TO TOWN.

The Minister of Public Works Will be Honoured by the Citizens as a Whole, and Politics will be Buried for the Occasion.

Amongst those present last evening at a meeting held for the purpose of arranging a banquet in honour of the presence of the Minister of Public Works, on the 30th, were Mayor Davis, John Carnegie, J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., E. H. D. Hall, T. H. McClelland, H. LeBrun, W. Salisbury, J. B. McWilliams, B. Shortly, T. E. Bradburn, W. H. Hill, H. S. McDonald, T. A. S. Hay, A. McClellan, W. J. Green and H. Cluxton.

After the mayor had been asked to take the chair, Mr. J. R Stratton explained that when it was learned that Hon. Mr. Tarte was to be present on the 30th to open the Peterborough Exhibition, many citizens of both political parties had expressed a wish to do honour to the minister on the occasion of his visit and prove to him the hospitality of the town, feeling that it was not desirable for him to come and go without receiving some attention, occupying as he did the position of Minister of Public Works of the Dominion.

Mayor Davis endorsed Mr. Stratton's remarks, stating that the only correct and hospitable thing to do under the circumstances was to show the distinguished visitor that both parties could unite in Peterborough to do honour to the high office which he held. He was sure the town generally would support such a suggestion.

Mr. T. E. Bradburn urged that, as Mr. Tarte was coming to Peterborough in his public capacity the citizens should and no doubt would do honour to the gentleman who occupied, for the time being, so important a position.

After further discussion along the same line, it was unanimously decided, on motion of Messrs. E. H. D. Hall and W. H. Hill, that a banquet be tendered to Mr. Tarte on Friday evening. The following committee was named to arrange the details: Mayor Davis, John Carnegie, T. A. S. Hay, George E. Elliott, G. W. Fitzgerald, W. J. Green, J. B. McWilliams, H. LeBrun, J. H. McClellan, E. H. D. Hall, Peter Hamilton, Richard Hall, Henry Best and J. R. Stratton, M. P. P., with power to add to their number.

A number of preliminaries were afterwards discussed concerning the details of the banquet.

His Worship Mayor Davis was appointed Hon. Chairman of Committee and Mr. J. R Stratton, M. P. P., Hon. Secretary of Banquet Committee.

Subsequently the committee conferred, and decided that the banquet should be given at the Oriental on Friday evening, Sept. 30th, at 8 o'clock. The tickets are placed at $1.50 each, and as only 125 are issued those desirous of attending are advised to secure tickets promptly of either the chairman or secretary of the committee.

THE PROPOSED HAMILTON LOAN

From lack of space yesterday, reference was deferred to the proposed loan to the William Hamilton Manufacturing Company. The merits of the proposition are very simply stated. It is well known that the extensive demand for the products of the company have demonstrated that the company's present buildings and equipments are inadequate to meeting these demands with the facility which the keen competitive conditions of the day call for. The ponderous character of the work turned out by the company requires commodious buildings and corresponding machinery. To meet the demands of the occasion the company wish to erect suitable buildings and equip them with suitable machinery. To do this it is necessary to raise money by loan, and the town, which is in a position to make better terms than a private individual or corporation, is asked to advance the money to the company and to secure the loan by a twenty year mortgage for $30,000.00 on the proposed new building, and its fixed machinery, which, with its equipment is to cost $40,000. The principal sum of the loan is to be repaid by annual instalments of $1,069.84, constituting a sinking fund that will, with interim interest accruing, wipe out the principal at the end of twenty years.

There does not seem to be any reason to doubt the security offered the town in respect of its advancing the $30,000, which is to be raised by debentures at 3½ per cent. The people, who will be asked to vote for the bylaw on Oct. 18th, know for themselves the situation and the claims of the company, which has now for the first time asked a substantial favour from the town, where it has been in active operation for the past thirty years, during which time it has paid in wages to citizens to be spent in the town, over a million of dollars — the annual wage bill averaging $60,000 a year for the past ten years. The people might regard with less favour a similar proposition in respect of a new company, whose stability was largely of a speculative character; but it seems that there can not be any doubt of the security for the loan to an established company, with a grand business connections and an extensive business clientale. Added security is afforded by the condition that the company is to keep the buildings insured to the amount of the liability of the company to the town. The new buildings are to be of solid brick 100 x 300 feet, and in every way enduring and substantial. The ratepayers can see for themselves in the proposal a well-deserved encouragement to one of our most important industries that will cost the town nothing; and that it is not an unreasonable request on the part of a company that has done so much for the advancement of Peterborough, to be allowed the use of the credit of the town for the purpose of aiding and extending its operations in a manner to make it a still more important factor in the promotion of the town's substantial advancement.

The Widow Brown.

The dashing Widow Brown was at home to a large company of citizens last night at the Opera House, and if tumultuous laughter could be construed into a breach of the peace, the riot-act should have been read. It was a continuous laugh for two and a half hours. The play itself was splendidly performed by everybody, and the musical and dancing specialties were among the best ever put on here. Manager Bradburn deserves especial credit for bringing so excellent an entertainment to the people of the town.

REV. MR. CROSSLEY IN BELLEVILLE.

He was Present at the Re-opening Services of the Tabernacle on Sunday Last.

The re-opening services of Belleville Tabernacle were very successful. The song sermon of Rev. D. O. Crossley, of the Charlotte street church, was much appreciated. The Belleville Intelligencer of Monday gave an extended report of the service in which it says:

The evening services began shortly after 6 o'clock with sacred selections by an orchestra, and by 7 o'clock the seats were all taken and many had to go away unable to gain admission. The pastor, Rev. Newton Hill, made the opening prayer, after which the anthem, "My Shepherd is the Living God," was taken by the choir, Mr. Irwin Gordon taking the solo with excellent taste and expression. In introducing Rev. Mr. Crossley of Peterborough, as the speaker of the evening, he took occasion to welcome him on behalf of the Tabernacle congregation, and to congratulate him on his restoration to health.

Mr. Crossley's subject was, "The ministry of Angels," during the presentation of which he sang four sacred songs bearing on the subject, two of which was with guitar accompaniment.

At the conclusion of the sermon the reverend gentleman sang a duet with Mrs. W. H. Gordon, "Say, will the angels come," and it was a very harmonious termination to an inspiring discourse. During the service the choir sang three hymns, "Come, let us join our cheerful songs," "What equal honour shall we bring," "Mortals awake, with angels join." Mrs. Caverly Nash, who was in splendid voice, sang "The Pilgrim," by Stephen Adams. Prof. Dingle played a beautiful accompaniment. During the offertory the same gentleman played a delightful voluntary, "Home, sweet home," with variations, and Schuberts "Serenade."

The improvements to the church cost nearly six hundred dollars, all of which was raised at the re-opening services.

And Elders Thos. Spence, Cobourg; Robert Robertson, Cold Springs; John Stewart, Centreville; Alex. Pringle, Port Hope.

Rev. Alex. Laird was chosen treasurer of the Presbytery Fund in room of the late Rev. Jas. Cleland.

Very interesting reports were received from the delegates who had visited the several mission fields and augmented congregations and suitable action taken upon them.

The clerk was instructed to give a letter of transfer to Rev. Dr. Smith, who is about to remove to the bounds of the Presbytery of Toronto. The following resolution was adopted in connection with the death of the late Rev. Jas. Cleland: "The Presbytery of Peterborough desire to express their sense of the deep loss which they have sustained in the death of their venerable father, the Rev. Jas. Cleland. Since coming within the bounds of the Presbytery in 1875, until his death on July 4 h, 1898 he had been a prominent member of the Court and had endeared himself to all by his many noble qualities. He took a great interest in all that concerned the welfare of the church and was ever ready to sacrifice himself to promote its well being. Modest and unassuming, he was a man of wide reading and scholarship. Sound in judgment, wise in counsel and unswerving in his allegiance to the Word of God.

A committee, consisting of Rev. J. G. Potter and the clerk, were appointed to draw a minute expressive of the feelings of the Presbytery towards the late Robert Tully.

The following were appointed as standing committees:—

Home Missions—Rev E F Torrance, Rev J G Potter, Rev Wm Bennett, Peterborough; Rev Mr McMullen, of Springville, and Messrs Graham, Lakefield, and the St. Andrew's elder.

Augmentation—Rev J Hay, Cobourg; Revs Andrews, Keene; Rev McLeod, Brighton; Rev Hunter, Baltimore; and Messrs Spear, Cobourg, and Robertson, of Baltimore.

Church Life and Work—Rev J G. Potter, Peterborough; Rev P Duncan, Colborne; Rev W Johnston, Millbrook; Rev J W McIntosh, of Centreville; Messrs McNeily, of Port Hope, and Mr. Collins, of Peterborough.

Sabbath Schools—Rev D. A Thompson, Hastings; Rev Richard Hyde, Warsaw; Rev R Laird, Campbellford; Rev O C Reeves, Lakefield, and Messrs Roxburgh, Norwood, and Butters, Hastings.

Young People's Society—Rev A C Reeves, Lakefield; Rev J V Tanner, Omemee; Rev J Ross, Roseneath; Rev D A Hamilton, Havelock, and the representative elders of Grafton and Colborne.

Superintendence of Students—Rev C S Lord, Grafton; J F Somerville, Norwood; R Laird, Campbellford; and Messrs John Clark, Campbellford, and R Stewart, Centreville.

Statistics—Rev A Laird, Port Hope; Rev Wm Bennett, Peterborough; Rev B Iunis, Bobcaygeon; Rev D P Oswald, Janetville; Rev A Cameron of Port Hope, and the Millbrook elder.

Steps were taken to effect a union between the two congregations in Port Hope recommending a conference to be presided over by the Moderator of the Presbytery.

The next meeting of the Presbytery will be in St Paul's church, Peterborough, on the second Tuesday in December at 9 o'clock.

LIVERY BARNS BURNED.

Wolstenholm's Stable on Charlotte Street Reduced to Ashes This Afternoon.

Fire started this afternoon a few minutes before three o'clock in the loft of Wolstenholm's Charlotte street livery stables. Fortunately it was noticed in time for a rescue of the horses and carriages to be effected, but the barns, with the rest of the contents, were completely gutted. By great efforts the firemen were able to prevent the fire spreading to other buildings.

The residence and stables were insured through Mr. W. H. Hill in the Queen's Fire Insurance Co. for $450, and the loss will therefore be a heavy one for Mr. Wolstenholm.

Walking on Air.

The feeling of buoyancy produced by the action of Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills is remarkable. One feels bright and active, energetic and full of snap and vim. Rich red blood fills the veins, and the nerves tingle with the sensation of youthful life and vigor.

TREMBLING HANDS AND SHAKY MEMORY.
A HAMILTON MAN'S EXPERIENCE WITH A NEW MEDICINE.

DEAR SIRS,—
I have spent half a fortune in doctors' bills, all to no avail. These Pills seemed to reach the seat of disease at once, and they also seemed to possess a remarkable influence over me. The violent palpitation of the heart, the trembling of the hands, the loss of masculine vigor, the frightful dreams, the loss of memory and general collapse of the entire system, have yielded to Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills. Great were the results from the use of four boxes of these Pills. I am enjoying the very best of health. I fully believe they are able to do for others as much as they have done for me. Before using them I was a miserable wreck. To-day I am a well man.

Yours truly,
THOS. FLYNN, 51 Elgin St., Hamilton, Ont.

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents per box, 5 boxes for $2.00, at druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by The Dr. Ward Co., 71 Victoria St., Toronto. Book of information free.

THE HORSE SHOW.

Susette, 2:16, is now at the head of Nelson's (2:09) trotting list.

Addie De, by Nutwood, 2:18¾, out of old Adelaide, 2:19¾, paced to a record of 2:10¼ recently.

Conde, 2:19¼, by Abbotsford, who is well on toward 20 years old, is to be raced in Oregon and Washington this fall.

Little Dan Q, 2:08¼, is winning all his races in New England. He stepped to his record quite handily at Dover, N. H.

Otis Baron, 2:17¼, the fast pacing gelding, by Baron Wilkes, who came out green this spring, has been let up and turned out for a run to grass.

Bellwood A, John Hussey's expectedly phenomenal pacing mare, has not quite come up to expectations. She has all kinds of speed, but is unsteady.

The 4-year-old trotter Nico, by Arion, 2:07¾, is expected to beat 2:10 this year. He has worked the last quarter of a mile below 2:14 in 29½ seconds.

No man ever before had three such pacers in his stable at once as Tom Keating now boasts: Searchlight, 4, 2:04¾; Klatawah, 3, 2:06¼, and Anaconda, 5, 2:04¾.

Charley De Ryder went the 2:27 trot at Davenport recently in three heats with Minnie Birchwood, by Birchwood, reducing her record to 2:17¼. She beat 2:18 three times.

Joe Patchen has speed to burn. The other day Peter Johnston worked him five heats at Joliet, two of them in 2:07¼, 2:06¾. He stepped one-half in 58¾ seconds and a quarter in 28¼.

Anglina, 2:11¾, by Anteeo, and Lurline McGregor, 2:11¾, by Robert McGregor, who divide the honors as fastest green trotter of the year, are both owned by W. F. Redmond of New York city.—Horse Review.

A business man is not the most patient creature in the world. He cannot wait to hear any long-drawn-out story of the cause of his ailment. He does'nt care two straws about a fine spun theory of how he should treat himself. He may be predisposed to scrofula or consumption. "That," he will tell you, "has nothing to do with the case." He wants to be well. If he can be cured, write out a prescription and send in your bill. So here's the first part of the proposition.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a microbe hunter ad killer. Many persons of scrofulous blood encourage the breaking out of unsightly sores, to prevent the disease going to the lungs. There is no need of this state of dread and discomfort. Purify the blood. It can be done. "Golden Medical Discovery" will cure 98 per cent. of all consumptive cases, also of all lingering bronchial, throat and lung diseases.

A Deadly Grudge.

"No, he is a wolf in sheep's clothing."

"Why, what did he ever do to make you conceive such an opinion of him?"

"Made me believe I ought to take my bicycle apart for the purpose of cleaning it."—Chicago News.

The Foolish Advice Given.

"I hate to see a man who has sense enough to give good advice," said Mr. Bifferly, "but not sense or strength enough to follow and profit by it himself, but it is a fact that many a man has got rich on a hint from somebody else who has staid poor."—New York Sun.

The Medical Profession Recommend Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. C. M. Harlan, writing in the American Journal of Health, February 10th, says:—"Among the proprietary medicines deserving recognition is Dr. Chase's Ointment as a remedy for piles, eczematic skin eruptions of all kinds, for which it has been used with marked success and has effected remarkable cures in many obstinent cases which seem to baffle the skilful medical attendant."

MRS. GUILFORD IN MONTREAL.

She Was Seen There, But Has Again Flitted—Gone to Europe.

Montreal, Sept. 20.—Reporters yesterday traced Mrs. Nancy A. Guilford, the suspect in the Bridgeport mystery, to the Place Viger Hotel here, where she had registered under an assumed name, and from there to a private boarding house on St. Denis street.

She left the latter place at 8.30 p.m. Friday, taking her trunk with her on the driver's box, which is the last trace obtained of her up to date. The police believe she caught a Liverpool steamer here and that she has gone to Europe.

Northwest Legislature Prorogued.

Winnipeg, Sept. 20.—The Northwest Legislature prorogued at Regina yesterday, and new elections will be held at once. Before adjourning the following resolution was passed:

"That, in the opinion of this House, immediate action should be taken by the Federal Government to force the location of and issue of patents for all lands in the Territories to which railway colonization companies are entitled, so that these lands may bear their just proportion of taxes for schools, local improvements and other purposes."

In the absence of Lieutenant-Governor Cameron through illness, the Legislature was prorogued by Judge Richardson, Administrator.

FLUCTUATING.

Wheat Receipts From the Northwest Were Heavy and the Increase in the Visible Supply Was Large.

Monday Evening, Sept. 19.

On the Liverpool board to-day spot wheat closed off 1d in price, and late futures after showing a little weakness, closed ½d per cental above Saturday's final figures. Paris futures to-day rose 15 to 25 centimes.

The Chicago wheat market to-day was irregular, with a weak tendency. Good buying for foreign account and an advance in the cash article at Duluth had a steadying influence, but the statistics regarding the visible supply, together with large Northwest receipts and a lack of speculative buying, caused a net recession at the close of ¾c to ⅞c per bushel for the day.

Visible and Afloat.

As compared with a week ago, the visible supply of wheat in Canada and the United States has increased 1,782,000 bushels, that of corn has increased 1,867,000 bushels, and that of oats has increased 424,000 bushels.

To recapitulate, the visible supply of wheat in Canada and the United States, together with that afloat to Europe, is 27,228,000 bushels, against 23,846,000 bushels a week ago, and 40,000,000 bushels a year ago.

Half cent advance in cheese over last week.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

East Buffalo, N.Y., Sept. 19.—Cattle—There were 225 loads on sale, including 23 loads of Canadian stockers. There was a good demand for fat, well-finished cattle at steady prices, the supply being proportionately small. The supply of the export kind was small, the bulk being of medium quality. There was a good demand for the Canada stockers at a decline of 15c to 20c on the common kind and 10c to 15c lower on the top grades. There was the largest run of sale cattle for some months and considering the general state of the trade the market was in good position. Calves were in moderate supply, good demand and steady. Eyeglasses and Spectacles.

"You say you never wore spectacles?" said the near sighted man. "Well, if you ever put on a pair you'll never wear anything else. I wore eyeglasses for years. I thought they looked better on me, and then I imagined that they were more convenient; that I could take them off and put them on more readily and all that. But after wearing a pair of spectacles once for a few days—I had put them on, as I thought at first, temporarily—I discovered that spectacles were the glasses for comfort.

"There are, to be sure, people who do not wear glasses all the time, but only for reading or writing, and so on, to whom eyeglasses may be more convenient, and then I believe that eyeglasses are made nowdays that have more scientifically adjusted grips, and all that sort of thing, but I tell you that the thing for real comfort is spectacles."—New York Sun.

Serious Shooting Affray.

Montreal, Sept. 20.—A serious shooting affray has occurred at 34 Donegani street, necessitating the removal of two colored persons to the General Hospital. It is said that a quarrel arose between a man named W. H. Renfrew and a woman known as Annie Nelson, at the house mentioned, where the latter resides. The latter then took a revolver from a bureau, it is further reported, and fired at Renfrew, the bullet lodging in the abdomen. She shortly afterwards turned the weapon on herself, inflicting serious injury.

The French Shore Commission.

St. John's, Nfld., Sept. 20.—The British Royal Commission to inquire into the French shore question started yesterday for a cruise along the treaty coast. The Colonial Government has scored a signal victory by inducing the commissioners to accept the co-operation of the colony's representative, Receiver-General Morine. The commission did not wish to have colonial officers accompany them, but the Colonial Ministry insisted that their representative should go in order that the settlers' case should be fairly presented.

Against the Chinese.

Winnipeg, Sept. 20.—At yesterday's meeting of the Labor Congress the Chinese question was taken up and occupied the attention of the members all day, being discussed at length. It was resolved that the Congress again urge upon the Dominion Government to increase the present head tax upon Chinese immigrants entering this country from $50 to $500; also to prohibit their employment as steamer stokers or other responsible positions. This latter will include the Japanese also.

Another Octogenarian Gone.

Cornwall, Sept 20.—Another of the old landmarks of Gengarry has been removed in the person of Catharine McKinnon, relict of Angus McDonald, who died at the residence of her son, Donald McDonald, Alexandria, in her 86th year. She was born in Knoydart, Invernesshire, Scotland, and came to Canada with her husband and family in 1853, and has since resided in Glengarry. Her husband died in 1859. Two sons and two daughters survive her.

ASSURANCE CO.

OFFICE OF W. A. MURRAY & Co.,
17 to 27 King St., East, Toronto.

Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, N. A. L.:

DEAR SIR.—In answer to your request for me to decide upon one of the following options offered me for settlement of my 15-payment Life Investment Policy for $5,000 which has matured this year, viz:

1st to take the value of the Policy in Cash	$5,000.00
2nd, or fully paid-up insurance for	3,280.00
3rd, or take the profits in cash and continue my policy without further payments being required from me, the policy participating in future profits.	2,050 25

I find it somewhat difficult to make a decision either of the three options being so satisfactory. I am certainly very much pleased with the results offered me, and as I find many others are giving full testimony to the profit-earning power of this company, I do not hesitate to give my endorsement as well, that the North American Life is one of our strongest Canadian institutions to day giving first class results on Investment Policies, on a safe and conservative basis. I find that my policy, which was originally a Life by fifteen payments, has become an Endowment at the end of the Investment period.

Two hearts can make a love affair, but it takes three, at least, to make a home, and one of them must be that of a baby. The young married couples that start out in life with the idea that children are nuisances, and that they do not want and will not have them, are the kind that you read about every day in the newspapers—in the divorce column. A home without children is not a home. God and Nature never intended that there should be a place called home that did not resound with the patter of childish footsteps.

There are tens of thousands of homes that are childless because of the ill-health of the wife and would-be mother. There are tens of thousands of other homes childless because the little ones have died almost as soon as they were born. In both cases Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a sovereign remedy. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs that make wifehood and motherhood possible. It makes them well, strong, vigorous, virile, and elastic. It does away with the dangers of maternity. It banishes the usual discomforts of the expectant period and makes baby's advent easy and almost painless. It insures the little new comer's health and an ample supply of nourishment. The prospective mother prepares herself for maternity by taking the "Favorite Prescription" and gives her child a fair start in life by giving it a strong and well developed body. Thousands of homes that were childless, to-day echo with babies' laughter, and bless this great medicine. Thousands of women who were weak, nervous, despondent invalids, are to-day happy, healthy wives and mothers because of this medicine. Medicine dealers sell it.

Constipation kills slowly—but it kills. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure it.

A PHILANTHROPIST.

"Whom do you think I saw driving with Gerald Morton this morning?" asked Mrs. Morris of her great friend, the doctor's wife, as the two ladies were enjoying 5 o'clock tea and the general gossip of the parish together one afternoon.

"Beatrix Harcourt," Mrs. Maynard answered promptly.

"Ah, you saw her, too, then. I must say I was astonished! It is well known that young Morton bears the character of being the fastest man in the neighborhood."

"I have long ceased to be surprised at anything Beatrix Harcourt does," the other lady answered significantly. "If Mr. Kenrick does not mind, I do not see why any one else should trouble their heads about her eccentricities."

"Certainly not," Mrs. Morris agreed. "But really, Rose, she was laughing and talking in the most familiar manner, and Gerald was bending toward her until his face nearly touched hers!"

"And that is our future vicar's wife! Well, I shall take care my daughters do not see much of her." And Mrs. Maynard drew herself up with a kind of lofty indignation as some fresh visitors were shown into the room.

Poor Beatrix! Her numerous delinquencies were the subject of many afternoon tea gossips, and had been ever since she came to Hillchester, four years ago. She certainly was unlike other girls, for in addition to being a "blue stocking" and having taken her degree at Oxford she had a most unreasonable interest in the working classes—not a mere ladylike interest, which contented itself with calling at their cottages with a few words of good advice and a tract. Ah, no; she had always some plan or "craze," as the good people of Hillchester called it, for their benefit on hand—classes for the young girls, ambulance lectures, concerts, teas, what not.

For the conventionalities of society she cared not at all. She never attended the afternoon teas, therefore she heard no gossip. She was not even particular about being in the fashion—in fact, the black serge dress she usually wore looked, from constant exposure to the weather, as if it had seen better days.

She had been known even to take the broom off the lame old crossing sweeper at the corner of the road and work away in earnest until there was a passage fit for a queen to walk over.

And in spite of all the vicar of Hillchester had asked Beatrix Harcourt to be his wife. Well, as the leaders of society in Hillchester remarked with ominous sighs, wonders would never cease.

Nevertheless it must be confessed that Rev. John Kenrick was in no very enviable frame of mind as a week later he wended his way somewhat slowly toward his ladylove's abode.

The gossip which had begun in Mrs. Maynard's drawing room had spread all over the parish, until a version of it, highly exaggerated and colored, had reached even the vicar's ears.

Beatrix soon discovered something was amiss, and after the first greetings were over she asked almost anxiously: "What is the matter, John? You do not look well."

For a full minute Mr. Kenrick did not answer. Instead he looked down at her as she stood with one small hand resting upon his black coat sleeve, the sunlight falling with loving touch upon her fair hair, which was cut short (another point which met with the disfavor of the Hillchester matrons), and curled naturally all over her head like a child's.

"Trix, it is silly perhaps, but something I have heard today has troubled me greatly."

"About me?" Trix asked gayly. "Of what fresh enormity am I accused, John?" and a sudden gravity crept into the sweet voice. "I thought you said that you minded none of these things."

"I do not," the vicar answered quickly. "Indeed," gently stroking the soft, yet strong looking hand, "I love you all the better for them; but—it is better to speak out. Trix, have you been driving with Gerald Morton lately?"

The next moment Mr. Kenrick would have given much never to have asked the question, for Trix turned to him quickly, a whole world of scorn shining in her blue eyes.

"And so, John, this means that you cannot trust me, and you choose rather to believe any idle story people may tell."

"Tell me there is no truth in it, Trix," Mr. Kenrick said quietly, though his eyes had clouded with a deep look of pain beneath her implied rebuke, "and I promise you I will believe it."

But Beatrix had removed her hand, and all the sunshine had died out of her bonny face as she said wearily: "Mr. Morton has driven over to Castlefields twice this week. Is there anything else you want to ask me?"

No, there was nothing else. Mr. Kenrick felt it was almost sacrilege with those pure eyes looking into his to breathe the doubts which now seemed to him so unworthy.

It was a month later, and Beatrix Harcourt was walking swiftly along the dusty road leading to Castlefields, carrying a small basket containing some delicacy for the sick woman she was going to see. The sound of wheels made her turn her head, and the next moment a deep, musical voice said pleasantly: "Miss Harcourt, are you again bound on the same journey? Now do let me have the pleasure of giving you a lift."

Beatrix hesitated one moment; then she answered frankly: "Thank you so much. You know Jennie, that poor crippled child I told you about. Well, I have had a note from her this morning to say her mother is very ill, and there is no one to do anything for her."

Gerald Morton looked admiringly down at the fair face beside him. It was the young men of Hillchester who had given Beatrice Harcourt the name of "the fair philanthropist," and it spoke well for the girl that even in the fastest circle her name was never mentioned but with respect.

When Beatrix reached the little cottage, which lay close to a wood five miles from Hillchester, she found everything in a state of confusion. One glance at the poor woman showed her to be in a high state of fever and slightly delirious, while an ominous crimson rash was beginning to make its appearance on her face and neck.

"Why, Jennie, your mother has the fever!" Beatrix exclaimed rapidly. "Haven't you sent for a doctor, child? And is there no neighbor who would come and help to nurse her?"

"I wrote to the doctor, miss, when I sent your note, but he has not been here yet, and as to neighbors, miss, there are none for a mile or more."

All the morning Beatrix waited, doing all she could for the poor sick woman, and the afternoon was well on its way when the welcome rap, which surely told of the doctor's appearance, sounded at the door.

Beatrix literally flew to open it and found herself face to face not with the doctor, but with the vicar.

For the last month, ever since the gossip about Gerald Morton—in fact, matters had been rather strained between the vicar and his fiancee, but all was forgotten now as in the impulse of the moment Beatrix exclaimed: "You must not come in here, John, or touch me. Mrs. Carr has the fever!"

For a moment a look of keen anxiety darkened his grave blue eyes, and the next Mr. Kenrick had folded the slight form close in his arms as he murmured brokenly, "Trixie, my own brave darling, would you have me a greater coward than yourself?"

With his arms still about her she told him how Gerald Morton had driven her to the cottage in the morning, adding, "It was well he did, for I should have been an hour later, and Jennie and her mother were quite alone."

"Trix, will you forgive me for letting that horrid scandal trouble me even for one moment. Dear heart, I feel I shall never forgive myself."

"Yes. I will forgive you," Trix answered gayly, the last shadow gone from her honest eyes, "only you must never do it again, as the children say."

A fortnight later all Hillchester was thrown into a state of dire consternation by the news that Beatrix Harcourt had scarlet fever and was, moreover, so dangerously ill that the local doctor almost despaired of her life.

It happened during one of the worst days of Beatrix's illness that Mrs. Morris and her friend, Mrs. Maynard, were walking by the drive gate leading to Beatrix's home. To their astonishment they saw a large crowd of people waiting just outside the door—women with babies in their arms, girls who had stolen a few minutes out of their dinner hour, even one or two tall youths and laboring men.

In a moment the door opened, and a maidservant spoke a few words to the anxious watchers. Evidently it was good news, for with one accord they slowly and silently turned to go away, and as they passed the two ladies one woman exclaimed in a broken voice, which showed tears were not far off:

"Ah, well, if we lose her, our best friend is gone, and that's certain. There ain't many in this world like our Miss Beatrix. Bless her sweet face!"

Mrs. Maynard and Mrs Morris walked on in silence. The lesson was learned, though it was bitter, for each felt, "What would these people have cared had I been in Beatrix Harcourt's place?"

But Beatrix, dangerous as her illness was, did not die, and six months later Hillchester was the scene of a greater rejoicing than had been known for many a long year, while the wonderful arches with their various devices, the glad faces of the people, the children with their flower laden baskets and the church bells ringing out their sweet messages far and wide all combined to show the love and respect which their vicar and his bride had so deservedly gained in the hearts of their people.—Madame.

Mortality In War.

The question of the possible mortality among those engaged in military operations is one of great interest just now to insurance companies in America, and efforts have been made to learn the proportion of the losses to the total number of troops in the American civil war. It appears that the number of enlistments (reduced to a three years' basis) is estimated at 2,320,272, and that the mortality is summed up as follows: Killed and died of wounds, 110,070, or 47 per 1,000; died of disease, 224,586, or 97 per 1,000; died from accident and all other causes, 24,782, or 11 per 1,000; total, 359,528, or 155 per 1,000 for the three years' term. Thus the average death rate per year among those enlisted works out roughly at 52 per 1,000.—Hospital.

A MOTORMAN'S ESCAPE.

How Benjamin Bacon Escaped From a Terrible Position.

Toronto, Sept. 19—Mr. Benjamin Bacon, motorman, No. 150, in the employ of the Toronto Street Railway Co. tells the following story of his escape from a situation in which death menaced him daily.

"I have, for a year past been a great sufferer from severe pains in my back. My doctor told me I had the first stage of Bright's Disease. He could not help me, nor did the many advertised medicines do me any good. At length, I gave Dodd's Kidney Pills a trial. The result is that today I am a new man, sound and well and strong in every respect."

Nothing Broken.

A recent bride in Washington, who received many handsome pieces of glassware and china among her wedding gifts, is exceedingly proud of her treasures and has a perfect jewel of a maid, who hasn't broken a single piece. One afternoon not long ago the mistress came home and found the maid out. An hour or so later the domestic returned. Her arms were full of bundles, and she carried a basket. Her face was radiant.

"Oh," she said, "the table was perfectly lovely! It was just exactly the way you fix yours when you have company—candles and everything. It was just too sweet! Everybody thought so."

"What are you talking about?" asked the mistress.

"Why," answered the maid, "the luncheon my sister gave today. I didn't have time to ask you, but I knew you wouldn't mind. Nothing's broken." And unwrapping her bundles, she disclosed to her mistress' astonished eyes the very pick of all the cherished wedding china and glass, not to mention sundry pieces of silver. They had adorned the luncheon, and the table was "perfectly lovely"—Exchange.

ILL FATED.

This came to pass: The sky grew dark,
A wondrous wind swept o'er the sea,
And rude waves smote a laboring bark
And roared like fiends in revelry.
Then loud above the creaking spars,
The furious hell of storm's discord,
A cry rang out that sought the stars—
The frenzied cry, "Man overboard!"

The beetling seas bore hard behind,
Their summits capped with glistening foam,
And screaming furies in the wind
Forbade the ship in "stays" to come,
And, bobbing there within the deep,
The rushing waters in his ears,
The man essayed to climb the steep,
The vast and yielding hemispheres.

And there he swam alone with death.
Beneath, the water sobbing slips.
How fiercely drawn his quick'ning breath
Between his bloodless lips!
And, lo, like one who views the past,
Sweet vistas soon to be forsook,
He turned his head and for a last
Heartbroken, lingering look.

* * * * * * *

A sun kissed stretch of yellow sand,
A dimpling waste of sunlit sea,
That lately roared when wizard's wand
Disturbed the summer harmony.
A ravaged form there, dark and still,
Unmoved, unknown, forsook, forgot,
Yet once it braved the tempest's will,
Creature of circumstance—or what?

A Long Walk.

The longest walk one could take in a straight line on solid land would be from the eastern side of the Red sea, not far from Mecca, to the Bering strait, a promenade of about 6,600 miles. In the western hemisphere the walk would not exceed 4,500 miles, owing to the irregular shape of the American continent.

A Demand For a Waistcoat.

At Struthfieldsaye there are (or were) llamas. A good story is told of the Duke of Wellington that years ago the first llamas brought there were shorn and a waistcoat made for the duke, but a late frost set in, and they had to make flannel waistcoats for the llamas instead of their own wool.—Notes and Queries.

HUMAN SACRIFICES

On the Altar of Diabetes, Saved by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

Hardly a family in the country is free from Diabetes. Great thirst, failing sight, numbness in the thighs, bleeding gums, swollen ankles, emaciation, nervousness, pale or turbid urine, loss of sexual power, decaying teeth, pains in the loins or small of the back, are all positive signs that Diabetes is in the system.

Do you know how it ends? IN DEATH. A premature, horrible, agonized, pitiful death. The victim has no peace, no ease in life. His days are filled with tortures. His nights are waking dreams of agony. He longs to die, yet fears the terrors of his end. He dies, a bloated, fetid, repulsive mass of corruption. That is the only end of unchecked Diabetes. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it. They drive it out of the system thoroughly, create new, clean blood, rebuild the diseased kidneys, and restore robust health.

ONLY A POOR OLD TRAMP.

A "Knight of the Road" Drops into Poetry—The Situation from His Point of View.

"Only a tramp!" said the rich old man,
As a stick of wood in the stove he ran,
"Why doesn't he work, the lazy old sinner,
In the place of begging each day for his dinner?
His legs are strong, his shoulders are broad,
He had better be working than tramping the road.
With a look on his face like a hungry Turk,
Why doesn't the lazy old sinner get work?"

Thus the rich old man to himself he spoke,
As a tramp up to his door did walk,
In rustling rags and tatters was he—
A pitiful sigh he was for to see.
His trousers—if trousers you could them call—
Were nought but a pair of old overalls;
He shivered and shook—he was nearly froze,
And from his old shoes peeped out his toes.

The rich old man had plenty to eat,
With fine soft slippers to cover his feet.
And a fine soft carpet on which he could tread,
And a fine soft pillow for to lay his head.
No sharp cold winds could on him blow,
And for the want of food he did not know;
For gold and silver he had in the bank,
So what cared he for the poor old tramp

"Excuse me," the poor old tramp, he said,
"I have come to ask for a little bread:
"All I have asked have said me nay,
"And I have not had one bite to-day.
"And the factories too are all shut down,
"And we are all out of work in town;
"And my wife is sick too, in her bed,
"And my children all are in want of bread."

The rich man stood in his door
And said, "I have heard this tale before,
But upon my life, and likewise my word,
You will get nothing here you tramping dog;
So if you would take here your dinner—
Well, go and work you lazy sinner."
And are one word the tramp could say
Slam went the door and he walked away.

At last the rich old man he died,
And the gates of the warm world opened wide;
From the king of the realm the rich man got,
As he well deserved, a reception hot—
"In the world above you enjoyed your gold
"And your heart to the poor old tramp was cold.
"And now, old man, you must even the score,
"If it takes forever and ever more."

And at last the poor old tramp did die
And the gates of heaven did open fly,
And there the angels did him meet
And lead him through the golden street—
"Take off those dirty, old ragged things,
"And put on the golden and shining wings,
"And sit down at that table and eat away,
"For you are sure now of three square meals a day.

THE EPWORTH LEAGUE CONVENTION.

Methodist Young People to Meet in Peterborough on October 4th.

The fourth annual convention of the Young People's societies of the Methodist church of the district of Peterborough, will be held in the Charlotte street Methodist church on Tuesday, October 4th.

Two interesting sessions will be held—in the afternoon and evening. The prominent speaker will be Rev. A. C. Crews, General Secretary of Epworth Leagues. Among others who will take part are Rev. D. O. Crossley, who will have charge of the evening song service, Rev. N. Drew, Bethany, W. D. Harrison, Bridgenorth, W. J. Gardiner, Millbrook, and Miss Sherin, Lakefield.

Two representatives are expected from each league in the district. The names of delegates should be sent to Mr. G. H. Williamson, Box 340, Peterborough, as soon as possible.

LASSWADE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

We are having beautiful weather at at present.

The people are busily engaged bringing in their marsh hay.

John McFadden and the Messrs. Weaas are getting better.

Mr. Daniel Carl is talking of moving to Burleigh.

The threshing is nearly done in this part of the country and grain is turning out well. The farmers are well pleased with all their crops except potatoes. There are very few that have any potatoes at all. Mr. Youman is one of the lucky men, he having a fine crop.

On Friday evening there was a party of young people gathered at Mrs. Dingman's, to call on Maud. The party included Mr. E. Willson and sister Bertha, Mr. A. McFadden and sister Cassie, Mr. J. Bullied and sister, E. A. and Miss Bertha Hales. They spent a very evening and had lots of music.

MILLBROOK EXHIBITION.

The prominent position occupied bp the annual exhibition of the East Durham Agricultural Society held in Millbrook, has been on the lips of every visitor to the Fair for some years. What has contributed largely to its success has been the faithful aim kept before the minds of the directors, to give every exhibitor and visitor prizes worth contending for and attractions delightful to the eye and at the same time of practical usefulness. The exhibition this year will be held Thursday and Friday, Oct 6th and 7th. The great aim of county and township fairs should be to cultivate a higher standard of farm stock and agricultural products, as well as manufactured and domestic articles, and Millbrook annual exhibition is doing good work along that line. There will be many special attractions this year of an interesting character, and on the evening of the second day a grand concert in the town hall. Large prizes for horse races are being offered. Those who attend Millbrook Fair on the above dates will be grateful and amply repaid.

BATTALION NOTES.

It is hardly probable that inspection will take place before next month.

AWFUL SKIN HUMOR
CURED BY CUTICURA

A MOTHER'S SWORN STATEMENT

My little daughter May's head and face broke out in one solid mass of bleeding sores, and one of her ears was so affected, that the doctor thought that it would slough off. Her suffering was intense, getting no rest at all, unless under the influence of opiates. The physician tried every known remedy, but instead of getting better, they seemed to get worse all the time. Distracted with her condition, I was advised to try CUTICURA REMEDIES. I administered CUTICURA RESOLVENT inwardly, I bathed her with CUTICURA SOAP, and used CUTICURA (ointment) freely. Before the first week I noticed that the little sufferer was beginning to get relief. In less than two months my little darling was entirely cured and well, she got as fat as a little pig, and no marks whatever are to be seen from the effects Mrs. JAS. In person appeared before me, Edgar H. Orr a Justice of the Peace in and for the 19th District, G. M., State and county aforesaid, J. G. AHERN, who, being duly sworn, deposeth and saith, that the above testimonial is, to his best knowledge and belief, true in every detail.

INFORMATION WANTED.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

DEAR SIR:—There's something peculiar about the delay in deciding upon the purchase of the steam road roller the town voted for last July. As a ratepayer who will be called upon to pay no small share of the cost of the proposed roller I think I have a right to demand of our inscrutable town councillors some explanation of the peculiar delay that is going on. We all know that the whole council except, I believe, Councillor Meldrum, went to Hamilton to see the rival rollers—the Russell or Sawyer-Massey and the Buffalo Pitts machine. They took with them one of the best practical machinists in the town and after a thorough test of the two rollers, this gentleman was of the opinion that the Russell roller was ten per cent. better than the opposing roller, the Pitts, and all the councillors agreed with him and came home expressing their preference for the Russell roller. But since that time several of the councillors have unaccountably (to me) changed their opinion and are now decidedly in favour of the Pitts roller. Myself with other ratepayers would like to know what has caused this change of front. The conditions remain the same. The Russell roller is still, as the expert machinist declared, 10 per cent. better than the Pitts. Neither one has in the meantime become better or worse. What feeling has produced the change in the city fathers? If it is not due to the merits of the machine, what is it? The people have a right to know. We want the best roller for the money, and now that both are the same in price why should we not have the roller that Mr. Macfarlane said was 10 per cent. the better, and which the whole of the councillors up to a few days ago considered the better machine? An explanation will be very acceptable to the ratepayers, who have a right to demand it, as well as to

Yours truly,
ANOTHER RATEPAYER.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Interesting Items of Local and General Interest.

LACROSSE.

The senior team left on the midnight train for Perth, where they play this afternoon. The game will be a close one, as Peterborough is the only team which has defeated the Perth boys this year. The Peterboroughs will line up as follows: Goal, Dobbin; point, Lynch; cover point, Brown; 1st defence, Glover; 2nd defence, McWilliams; 3rd defence, McDonough; centre, Hogarth; 3rd home, King; 2rd home, McCabe; 1st home, Phelan; outside home, Dolan; inside home, Mooney.

Orillia won at lacrosse from Markham yesterday by six goals to three, thus winning the Eastern championship, as in the previous game the score was a tie. It is odd that whilst the Markhams were able to tie the Orillias on Orillia grounds they were unable to hold their own in Markham.

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

There will be Rugby football practice to-morrow afternoon at 4.30 on the P. A. A. Grounds.

THE WHEEL.

The annual road race of the Canadian General Electric Company, will be held on Saturday afternoon next. The start will be made from the corner of Water and Simcoe streets, the course being to the goose's neck on the Lakefield road, back to Nassau, across the river and down to the Nicholls Park on the Douro side. Twenty entries had been received up to last evening.

HAVELOCK.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Miss Pengelly, of Norwood, is visiting at Mrs. J. M. Watson's, Havelock.

On Friday evening next a lecture will be given by Rev. Henry McQuade in the basement of the Methodist church. Subject will be "My trip to the Northwest." Refreshments will be served by the ladies. Admission 25 cents.

Miss McQuade, of Belleville, is visiting her brother, Rev. H. McQuade.

Mr. Mark, of Georgina Island, Lake Simcoe, who is at his sons, Mr. Jas. Mark, of town, is quite ill, but hopes are entertained of a speedy recovery.

Several of the Baldwin Compound C.P.R. engines of this division are being replaced by the Mogul engines, which is very satisfactory to the employees.

Mr. A. Coulter, of Toronto, is spending a few days in town.

Three weddings are expected to take place here before the week ends.

Mr. Jas. Patton, C.P.R. engine driver has gone to Rat Portage.

Mrs. (Dr.) Jeffs is quite ill.

A concert will be given in the I.O.O.F. Hall on the evening of Oct. 25th. The concert will consist of music and elocution of the highest order. A sumptuous repast will follow the programme.

From the CROWN of the Head To the SOLES of the Feet!

WE COVER ALL.

Men's Hats, Men's Shoes, Men's Clothing, Men's Underwear, Men's Furnishings, All Under One Roof!

The first calendar month of Autumn, 1898, will bring us up to the greatest business we have ever known. Measure it by bulk, weight, dollars or transactions, we get the same great result—BIGGER THAN EVER BEFORE.

What makes Gough Bros. so distinctly Gough Bros. is the SPIRIT that actuates their business—all the time striving to serve our customers better and better—shortening the road from producer to consumer, and saving to buyers every penny of cost.

We maintain our well earned title of "THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MEN"—our fixed aim has been and will contiuue to be, to sell a $20 suit for $15. The suit you paid $17.50 for we can duplicate for $12.50. You may think our prices are sometimes too low—too low for good clothing—but if special prices or unusual discounts are given us, we take them off to you to make larger sales.

First Instalment of Fall Goods.

66 CASES—14 Huge Cases of Clothing and Furnishings, 40 Cases of Boots and Shoes, 12 Cases Hats and Caps.

Clothing—everything is brand new, fresh and clean—the handsomest and best Tailored Ready-to-Wear Clothing ever shown in Peterborough—selected for Peterborough's best trade.

HATS and CAPS.

We're able to discount the trade, because of unusual buying power. We go direct to the makers and insure fine qualities by knowing what to buy and what to let alone. If you're a judge of quality, it won't take any talking from the salesmen.

—On the finest Fur Fedora Hats we take off 35c., and ask only $1.65.
—On the best Fur Felt Stiff Hats we take off 50c., and ask only $2.00.
—On Men's Knockabout Hats we take off 20c., and ask only 35c.
—On Men's Silk Hats, latest styles, we take off 50c. and 75c., and ask only $3.00 and $3.75.
—Youths and Boys in same proportion.

BOOTS and SHOES

Warranted not to crack, nor take in washing. Ours isn't the common kind of Boots and Shoes. If anybody can beat the quality, the style, the price, we'll quit the business.

—On the best $3 Men's Selected Shape Balmoral or Congress, we take off 40c, and ask only $2.60.
—On the best Men's Fine Hand-Made Balmorals we take off 35c., and ask only $1.65.
—On the best Fine Patent Leather Oxford Shoes, turn soles, we take off 45c., and ask only $1.40.
—On the best French Dongola Kid Button (common sense) we take off 30c., and ask only $1.60.
—Misses', Boys' and Children's in same proportion.

CORRECTING A MISTAKE—Who sells the cheapest goods — themerchant who is compelled to buy in one higgling market, and is tied down to one grasping manufacturer, or the merchant who has the freedom of all the competing markets and manufacturers of the world? Do men buy Hats cheaper where nothing but Hats are sold, or Boots cheaper where nothing but Boots are sold, or Clothing cheaper where nothing but Clothing is sold? Might as well expect a farmer to do as well for his family by raising nothing but Pumpkins as if he raised a mixed crop.

P. O. THIEF SENTENCED.

The Caretaker of Berlin Post Office Caught by a Decoy Letter and Goes to Penitentiary.

Berlin, Ont., Sept. 21.—The first case up yesterday at the Assizes was Aumann v. Everett, an action for slander. Verdict of $1 for plaintiff.

The Queen v. Lyons occupied the time of the court the greater part of the day. This is an action brought against Ed. Lyons formerly caretaker of the post office, for stealing money from letters. Last June Inspector Burnham came up and, in conjunction with Postmaster Niehaus, placed a decoy letter in one of the boxes on the evening of June 16.

Next morning the letter was missing, when Lyons was accused of stealing the same. He had the money in his possession, which was marked, but claimed he had found it on the floor and purposed returning it. The defence tried to show that Lyons really found the money and brought forward a witness who swore Lyons had told him the morning before being arrested that he had found $4.

The defence also brought evidence to prove good character of prisoner. The jury brought in a verdict of guilty, with a recommendation to mercy. Judge Rose sentenced him to two years in the Provincial Penitentiary.

The North Waterloo Agricultural Society's Fall Exhibition opened here yesterday and promises to be highly successful.

THE EGYPTIAN FLAG

Now Flying Over Fashoda Marks Another Era.

MUSSULMANS' SLOW RESPONSE.

Only 1,600 Firearms Yet Surrendered to the British Demand—About 25,000 Rifles Yet in the Ruffians' Hands —Belgium's Capital May See the Peace Congress— Cable News.

London, Sept. 22.—It is reported in Government circles that news has been received that the Egyptian flag is flying over Fashoda. The fact, however, has not yet been officially announced.

A despatch to the Daily Graphic from Paris says that Sir E. J. Monson, the British Ambassador, in the course of an interview with M. Delcasse, Minister of Foreign Affairs, casually referred to the reports that Major Marchand, at the head of a French expedition, was at Fashoda on the Nile.

M. Delcasse assured the Ambassador in the most friendly manner that the Government was absolutely ignorant of Major Marchand's whereabouts. He added that if the expedition was in the neighborhood of the Nile its object was geographical rather than political, but he begged the Ambassador not to regard this as an official communication on behalf of the Government.

The correspondent recalls that M. Delcasse was Minister of Colonies when the Marchand expedition was equipped, and that he made a motion in the Chamber of Deputies that the sum of $400,000 be appropriated for the expenses of the expedition. It is consequently presumable that he is aware of the objects of the expedition.

Paris, Sept. 22.—The Paris press generally holds the opinion that the settlement of the question of occupation of Fashoda ought to be brought about through diplomacy and not by force of arms.

ARMS COMING IN SLOWLY.

Much Difficulty in Getting Them All in Expected.

Candia, Sept. 23.—About 1,600 firearms have thus far been surrendered by the Mussulmans in response to the demand of the British admiral. The most credible reports place the number of rifles in possession of the Mussulmans at about 25,000, which is exclusive of 5,000 Martinis, which are the property of the Turkish Government. Much difficulty in compelling the surrender of all these arms is expected. Sir A. Biliotti, the British Consul, has visited the Christian chiefs and informed them that Great Britain had undertaken the protection of the disarmed Moslems and warned the chiefs that any attack on the Moslems would be regarded as an attack on the British. The chiefs promised to abstain from attacking the Moslems.

FRENCH CONVICTS MUTINY.

Within the Probabilities That the Guards Have Killed Dreyfus.

London, Sept. 23.—A special despatch from Paris says the deputy representing French Guiana in the Chamber has received a despatch announcing that a mutiny has taken place among the convicts at Cayenne, the capital of French Guiana. The mutineers, it appears, overpowered and murdered their guards, then stormed the military storehouse and seized the arms and ammunition there. They are now, according to the despatch, besieging the principal prison and it is feared they may succeed in freeing the four thousand convicts confined in the building. Reinforcements have been telegraphed for to the Island of Martinique, but, it is said, they will not arrive in time to suppress the mutiny.

Dreyfus, the former captain of French artillery, whose alleged unjust conviction in 1894 on the charge of selling important French military secrets to the agent of a foreign power is seemingly on the point of being investigated at Paris, is kept in solitary confinement on Devil's Island, a small place not far from Cayenne, where the mutiny of convicts has just taken place, and it is not improbable, therefore, that he may be shot by his guards, as it is understood that the latter had strict instructions to kill their prisoner if any attempt is made to release or if there is any possibility of escaping.

PICQUART ON TRIAL.

Before Being Led Away He Says He Does Not Intend to Suicide.

Paris, Sept. 22.—The trial of Colonel Picquart and M. Lablois, a lawyer, on the charge of revealing documents concerning the national defense, commenced yesterday before the correctional tribunal, but the public prosecutor asked for an adjournment on the ground that the prosecution of Colonel Picquart on the charge of forgery and using forged documents had been ordered by the Minister of War.

M. Labori, who was counsel for M. Zola during the latter's famous trial, indignantly opposed the adjournment, which, he said, was an attempt to hand over Colonel Picquart into the clutches of the military authorities.

Col. Picquart then rose and made a statement which caused a sensation. He said: "This is, perhaps, the last that I shall speak in public. I shall sleep, perhaps, in the military prison of Cherche Midi. Therefore, I wish to declare that if I am found there with the strangling cord of Lemercier Pickard or the razor of Colonel Henry, it will be murder, for I have no idea of committing suicide!"

The audience was intensely moved and shouted "Vive Picquart."

The judges, however, after a short deliberation, decided to indefinitely adjourn the case, and Colonel Picquart was led away between two policemen.

Picquart to Be Prosecuted.

Paris, Sept. 22.—The papers here say the Minister of War, Gen. Chanoine, has examined the documents in the Dreyfus case and has ordered the prosecution of former Colonel Picquart, on the charge of forgery and using forged documents.

Leopold Wants the Congress.

London, Sept. 22.—A despatch from Brussels to a local news agency says that King Leopold has addressed an autograph letter to the Czar, urging the designation of Brussels as the meeting place of the peace congress.

SPANISH TROOPS FOR HOME.

Departure From Porto Rico of Soldiers Both Sick and Well.

San Juan, Island of Porto Rico, Sept. 22.—The repatriation of the Spanish soldiers began yesterday. Four hundred men, of whom 200 were sick and 200 belonged to the engineer corps, sailed for Havre on board the French steamer Chateau Lafite.

1,000 Sick Soldiers on Board.

Havana, Sept. 22.—The Spanish mail steamer Alfonso XIII. sailed for Spain yesterday carrying besides the 1,200 passengers, mostly women and children who it was announced would sail on her, 1,000 sick soldiers.

A Backward Step.

London, Sept. 23.—The Pekin correspondent of the Times says:

"The recent Imperial decrees are mainly due to the Cantonese reformer, Kang Yu Moi, who had the Emperor's private ear. Now Kang Yu Moi has been ordered to leave Pekin, and the Empress Dowager has assumed charge of the Government. She will attend all Cabinet meetings and audiences, see all memorials and approve all edicts before they are issued.

"This is equivalent to a virtual restoration of the Regency, and will probably result in the reinstatement of Li Hung Chang."

The Autocratic German Officer.

London, Sept. 23.—A despatch to the Daily News from Berlin says that at the recent army manoeuvres in Alsace-Lorraine Capt. Count Stollberg-Wernigerode reprimanded Sergt. Scheinhardt for bad cooking. The Sergeant is alleged to have answered rudely, whereupon the Count boxed his ears. The Sergeant turned sharply when he was hit, and then the Count drew his sword and pierced his subordinate's neck, killing him. The Count was arrested.

Bounced on Russia's Protest.

Yokohama, Sept. 22.—Advices from Seoul say the Corean Cabinet has decided to cancel the engagement of the nine Americans, nine British, five Germans, five Frenchmen and two Russians who were enlisted in Shanghai to act as an Imperial guard, Russia having protested that their engagement was a breach of the promise made when Russia withdrew the Russian adviser and instructors from Corea.

Socialist Meetings Prohibited.

Berlin, Sept. 22.—The police authorities have prohibited the holding of five projected socialist meetings in Hamburg, called for the purpose of discussing Emperor William's recent speech here regarding the imprisoning of the provokers of strikes.

Parsonage and Barns Burned.

Scotland, Ont., Sept. 22.—The Methodist parsonage and barn at Oakland village, and also Mrs. Charlotte Mills' barn, were burnt yesterday at noon. Cause unknown.

Among the passengers on the steamer Lahn, which arrived at Southampton from Bremen for New York, was Miss Toronta of Toronto, Canada.

OLD CITY REJOICES

In Unveiling a Statue to Its Founder, Champlain.

SIR WILFRID WAS THE ORATOR.

A Magnificent Spectacle at the Ceremony —Possible Only to a People Whose Origin Was La Belle France—35,000 Delighted Spectators—Bluejackets and National Societies Take Part.

Quebec, Sept. 22.—Quebec has seen many brilliant pageants in the three centuries of its history, but none more magnificent than that which marked the unveiling of the monument erected by the people of the city in honor of Samuel de Champlain, the great French captain who founded Quebec in 1608. It is only among a population having its origin in France, home of the arts and the graces, that such a celebration can be carried out with the completeness and felicity in every detail that marked yesterday's great event. When to the gaiety and fine artistic taste of the French, which rendered possible the splendid scene, with its fluttering banners, its fine central feature of bronze and carved stone, and its five and twenty thousand delighted and vivacious spectators drawn from all parts of the province, are added the massive characteristics of the Anglo-Saxon, represented by the grim warships in the harbor, the booming of cannon of the Citadel and the impassive ranks of bluejackets and marines, English and American, standing shoulder to shoulder as the guard of honor, it will be seen that the pageant had all the elements of greatness.

A Magnificent Mass Sung.

The weather was fine, and Quebec prepared itself for the more frivolous occupations of the afternoon and evening by attending the very elaborate and magnificent Mass sung in the grand church in the suburbs. Among the invited guests were the Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Provincial Ministry, the Mayor and City Council, etc., and the different labor oragniations and benevolent societies joined with banners and regalia in the procession.

The procession, which numbered many sections, was divided in seven divisions, each preceded by band and banner and gay with insignia and badges.

The initial preparations for the ceremonial of the day commenced with the landing of a detachment from the ships, who formed on the Queen's Wharf, and preceded by the band of the Ninth Battalion, marched to the terrace to form a guard of honor in conjunction with a squad of Royal Canadian Artillery under command of Major Rutherford.

At 1.45 His Honor the Lieut.-Governor and party arrived and took their seats, followed by M. Kleczkowski, Consul-General of France, and officially representing the French Republic.

The Monument Unveiled.

At 2 p.m. Their Excellencies the Earl and Countess of Aberdeen, escorted by Q.O.C.H., arrived and took their seats, the bands playing the National Anthem. Hon. Judge Chauveau, President of the Monument Committee, read an elaborate address, at the conclusion of which the monument was unveiled, amidst the cheering of the assembled thousands.

At this moment the guns from the Citadel, manned by a detachment of "B" Field Battery, under command of Capt. Benyon, boomed out a royal salute, and as the echoes of the second gun were heard the warships replied with their salvoes.

At the conclusion of the salute, the cantata "Laval Champlain" was sung by the scholars of the seminary, who occupied a platform specially prepared for them.

Sir Wilfrid Chief Orator.

His Excellency the Governor-General then delivered a very happy reply. His Excellency was succeeded by Mr. Kleczkowski, Lieut.-Governor Jette and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. Messrs. Marchand, Duffy and Judge Routhier, all of whom delivered eloquent and appropriate addresses.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, whose voice carried far over the crowd, delivered the chief oration of the occasion.

Brilliant Illuminations.

Last night a brilliant illumination took place. The monument, all the principal public and many private buildings were handsomely illuminated, as were also the warships in the harbor, which made a magnificent spectacle and was viewed by thousands of people on both sides of the river.

The ball tendered by the citizens to the International Commissioners took place in the new City Hall and was a brilliant affair.

Lieut.-Governor Jette is to receive the grand cross, Premier Marchand will be named officer, and Judge Chauveau, Chevalier of the Legion of Honor, in commemoration of yesterday's proceedings.

STAMPING OUT HOG CHOLERA.

Inspector James Says the Piggeries Near Ottawa Were Unclean.

Ottawa, Sept. 22.—Dr. A. E. James is still engaged in stamping out hog cholera in Carleton County. Altogether he has slaughtered 35 hogs and has quarantined 157. Since the hog cholera was first discovered over 350 hogs have died. The greater number of these are not more than four miles out of the city. All the piggeries under quarantine will be kept so until the diseased hogs are killed off. The piggeries will be disinfected and thoroughly cleansed. The hogs which are being killed will be cremated. The inspector states that the state of these piggeries was most unwholesome, and that such should not be allowed to exist at or near a city.

Who Knows of This Canadian?

Buffalo, Sept. 22.—Sidney L. Marshall, a night foreman in the employ of the Buffalo Railway Company at the Niagara street power house, was found dead in his bed at his boarding house yesterday afternoon. Death was due to natural causes. Marshall was a single man about 32 years old, and has been in the employ of the Buffalo Railway Company about 15 years. His former home was in Canada, but no one knows where his relatives live.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

What does it do?

It causes the oil glands in the skin to become more active, making the hair soft and glossy, precisely as nature intended.

It cleanses the scalp from dandruff and thus removes one of the great causes of baldness.

It makes a better circulation in the scalp and stops the hair from coming out.

It Prevents and It Cures Baldness

Ayer's Hair Vigor will surely make hair grow on bald heads, provided only there is any life remaining in the hair bulbs.

It restores color to gray or white hair. It does not do this in a moment, as will a hair dye; but in a short time the gray color of age gradually disappears and the darker color of youth takes its place.

Would you like a copy of our book on the Hair and Scalp? It is free.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the use of the Vigor write the Doctor about it.

Address, DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE Mail and Empire says that Mr. Calder, the unseated of South Ontario, is again to be a candidate—"He places himself in the hands of the party." That's a little change from the last election, when the party placed itself in Mr. Calder's hands.

ONE of the most prominent factors in excess in drink is the treating system, Chicago is boasting of an anti-treating society, recently established there, as an innovation. As a matter of fact such societies have been in existence in Canada for many years. It is stated that so long as twenty years ago, Rev. Arthur Baldwin took an active part in promoting their formation, with great success, and the first he was instrumental in forming at Toronto is, it is said, still in existence. And there are others.

THERE isn't much new under the sun. Operations on the making of a canal across the Isthmus of Panama belong to recent years, but the idea is nearly three hundred years old. Two hundred and ninety years ago Samuel de Champlain laid the foundations of Quebec, and was the pioneer of Christianity and civilization on this continent, and in recognition of this a splendid monument was unveiled in the City of Quebec yesterday. Champlain, even as long as two hundred and ninety years ago, pointed out to the French Government the value a canal across the Isthmus would be in the interests of communication between the east and the west.

MR. A. F. MCLAREN, M.P., is made to say that Canada is not sufficiently known in Great Britain, and that it would pay to send missionaries to that country to make it and her resources public. This is very hard, the Ottawa Free Press thinks, on his friends who were so long in power, and spent large sums on the High Commissioner's office. It is also hard on the Tory leaders who have always boasted that they had made Canada known in Britain "as she was never known before," etc. We venture to say that more has been accomplished in the past year in making Canada and her products known in Britain than since confederation. There has not been a paper which has not exploited it, and the Minister of Agriculture and Prof. Robertson have brought the consumers, as well as the dealers, in the Mother Country in direct touch. And the work so effectively commenced will be continued.

THE RIPENING OF THE CREAM.

The following is clipped from the report of Prof. J. W. Robertson, Dominion Commissioner of Agriculture and Dairying:

15. The cream from the centifugal should be cooled quickly after it is received from the machine.

16. The cream from the setting method should be kept cold and sweet until the quantity intended for one churning has been gathered.

17. "Fermentation starter" is the designation applied to the portion of fermented or sour milk, buttermilk or cream, which is added to the cream to ripen it for churning. The ripening of the cream consists of the development of the ferment or ferments which are added to it, or which get into it from the atmosphere, from contact with vessels or utensils, or from other sources.

18. It is quite important that every butter-maker should have on hand a fermentation starter of pure, clean flavour, and a uniform smooth consistency.

19. The following is the way in which a culture of lactic ferment was made at the Central Experimental Farm dairy, from which "fermentation starters" were prepared:

A quantity of about two quarts of skim-milk was heated to 205 deg. Fahr. The temperature was maintained at that point for ten minutes, after which, and while exposed to the atmosphere of the butter-making room, by stirring, dipping or pouring from one vessel to another, it was cooled to 80 deg Fahr. It was left in a closed glass-stoppered bottle at the ordinary temperature of the dairy-room, from 60 deg. to 70 deg. Fahr. for five days. It was then found to be coagulated and to possess a mild pure lactic acid flavour, which became more distinct after it had been kept in cold water at a temperature of 40 deg. Fahr. for three days. That was the culture. The flavour of it was such as was characteristic of cream from which fine flavoured butter had always been obtained; and "fermentation starters" for the ripening of sream were prepared from it. A culture of ferments can be prepared successfully by that method only when the atmosphere in which it is exposed has no undesirable odour. Otherwise a similar odour is likely to be developed from the use of the culture.

20. A "fermentation starter" may be prepared from skim milk which is pure, sweet and free from taint. It should be heated to 450 deg. Fahr. and left at that temperature for ten minutes. It may then be cooled to a temperature of 80 deg. Fahr., when a portion of the culture, as described above, at the rate of ten per cent. of the quantity of the skim-milk should be added to it. That becomes the "fermentation starter."

21. The "fermentation starter" should be left to ripen at a temperature not exceeding 80 deg. Fahr. for twenty hours. When the flavour and odour are distinctly acid it should be placed in cold water at a temperature of 40 deg. Fahr. In order to arrest a further development of the ferment.

22. The bacteria cultures for the making of "fermentation starters" may now be obtained also in the market from firms who deal in dairy supplies.

23. Where no undesirable flavour exists and no difficulty has been experienced in churning, some buttermilk of pure, nice flavour may be used as a "fermentation starter" for the cream. If at any time the flavour of the butter seems to be deteriorate from that method, a new "fermentation starter" should be secured.

24. The "fermentation starter" may be added to the cream at the rate of from five to ten per cent. of the quantity of cream.

In any case where the cream has become somewhat tainted, if the taint be of fermentation origin, a larger quantity than usual of the fermentation starter should be added. This may in a great measure check the development of the taint and leave the particular fermentasion of the starter, which is added, to be the prevailing one in the cream and butter.

During the winter months particularly, but also at other times, butter of a better quality and more regular flavour can be obtained by pasteurizing the cream before the fermentation stater is added, than by ripening it without that treatment. To pasteurize cream, it should be heated to a temperature of about 155° Fahr. It may be heated by an apparatus specially constructed for the purpose; or it may be heated in an ordinary cream vat by the application of steam in the usual way. On a small scale it may be heated by immersing a tin vessel containing the cream into hot water, and stirring it occasionally until the temperature of 155° Fahr. is reached. It may be left at that temperature for five minutes, after which it should be cooled to under 50° Fahr.

Cream for butter-making should not be pasteurized if it is so sour as to be at all coagulated. The heating would harden the curd and prevent particles of it from being separated from the butter.

25. The temperature of the cream, when set to be ripened, may vary from 65 to 80 degrees Fahr, according to the season; the higher temperature is used during the late fall and winter.

26. The temperature at which the cream is set for ripening should be maintained about six hours, during which time it may be stirred occasionally. After that, it should be left undisturbed until ripe for churning. No close cover over the cream vat need be used. A clean canvas cover is sufficient. Care should be taken to purify the canvas or other cover frequently.

27. If for any reason it is desired to churn the cream while sweet, the churning should be commenced at a temperature of five to eight degree colder than for the churning of sour cream. In all our examinations, the butter from sweet cream has been rated from two to three points lower in valuable commercial flavour than butter from a portion of the same cream which had been ripened or soured.

28. Although it is usually not desirable that turnips should be fed to milking cows, when they are fed, the odour and flavour may be prevented from appearing in the butter.

In a trial which was made from the milk of cows which were being fed the excessive quantity of ninety pounds of turnips per head per day, the odour and flavour of turnips was not perceptible in the butter which was made after the following treatment was given to the cream:

The cream was heated to 150° Fahr. and and stirred at that temperature for ten minutes while it was still sweet. It was afterwards cooled, ripened and churned in the usual way. A portion of the cream from the milk of the same cows was ripened and churned in the usual way without being heated above 68° Fahr.

The butter obtained from the cream which was not heated above 68° Fahr. had a distinct odour and flavour of turnips; while the butter obtained from the cream which was heated to 150° Fahr. was excellent in odour, flavour and grain, and was without any perceptible odour or flavour of turnips.

From the cream heated to 150° Fahr. before being ripened for churning, eight-tenths of one pound less of milk was required to yield each pound of butter, than from the cream from a portion of the same milk which was not heated above 68° Fahr.

29. It has not been found advantageous to thin the cream by adding a quantity of water to it before it is churned or before it is ripened. Quantities of water were added to cream at the different rates of ten, twenty, twenty-five and thirty per cent. of water added; and the conclusions were that (1) the churning was slightly less efficient in the recovery of the butter-fat, (2) the quantity of marketable butter obtained per 100 pounds of milk was one ounce less, (3) the butter was not so firm or solid in the grain, and (4) the churning period at an equal temperature was longer by from one minute to thirty minutes, when water was added to the cream than when cream was churned without the addition of water.

Old England's Flag. vs. Dr. A. W. Chase

The virtues of Dr. Chase's remedies are known the world over and like old England's flag the sun on them never sets.

Dr. Chase's Ointment, Kidney-Liver Pills Catarrh Cure, Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine and Liver Cure enjoy the confidence of everybody. They have won their way into the public favor on merit. THE DIRECTION OF PROGRESS IN AGRICULTURE.

Prof. Robertson in his report says that the revenue and profits from the labours of the farmer may be greatly increased:

(1.) By larger crops from the same amount of labour and area of land, through the use of selected varieties of seeds. (One variety of oats may yield ten bushels per acre more than another variety under similar circumstances.)

(2.) By improvements in the methods of cultivation in the fields. (A crop of Indian corn under one method of cultivation may yield four tons of fodder per acre more than it would under another method in the same field during the same season.)

(3.) In conserving the fertility of the soil by growing such crops as clover, pease, horse beans and others which seem to gather plant food from the free nitrogen of the atmosphere. (The roots of the clover plant when ploughed up and under, and the manure from other crops on which animals have been fed, add much to the fertility of farms.)

(4.) By making one kind of live stock, suited to their taste, their farm and markets, the especial stock of the farm with several other kinds subordinate to it. (Cattle should be the live stock on most farms, with swine, poultry, horses and sheep of relative importance in the order named. On other farms each of the other kinds may be the special one.)

(5) By the selection, breeding, feeding and management of the various breeds of animals in such a way as to obtain the largest value in product per head; (the profit-making performance of each individual should be watched as far as practicable.)

(6.) By adding to the number and variety of products which they have to sell, and by having these for sale at the seasons of the year most advantageous for selling at comparatively good prices;

(7.) By further improvements in the quality and condition of all they have to sell; (In cereals, plumpness and cleanness add to the value per bushel; and in all animal products, such as milk, butter cheese, beef, pork, poultry, eggs, mutton, lamb and wool, the best quality in the best condition will fetch about one hundred per cent. more per pound than poor quality in barely saleable condition. The same is true of fruits.)

(8.) By the use of means for protection against injury from insects and fungous diseases; and

(9.) By the use of cold storage for all perishable food products, so that they may be delivered to the ultimate consumer in a state of perfect preservation. (The market value of all fine foods depends chiefly upon their condition, and their production is not and cannot be made profitable unless such means are taken for their preservation that the consumers, no matter where they live, will get them without being spoiled.)

In these and other parts of their work, the Department has been endeavouring to help the farmers with information and illustrations.

CAPT. PAGET'S REPORT.

The British Naval Attache, Who Watched the Cuban War, Busy in Preparing His Records.

Washington, Sept. 22.—Captain Paget, British Naval Attache, assigned to observe operations during the recent campaign in the West Indies, is engaged here in assembling the large mass of material gathered in Cuba, and is supplementing this with the official data now being supplied by the Navy Department. He will spend most of the fall in getting together the material for his report to the British Admiralty, which will be an exhaustive treatment of the naval branch of the campaign, with considerable attention to the military branch.

Captain Paget's report will devote much attention to the destruction of Admiral Cervera's fleet, as this was the main incident of the war. He is securing from the Navy Department complete reports of the gunnery of the American ships, with a view of showing the importance of "the man behind the gun." Captain Paget's personal view is that Admiral Cervera's sortie was a most foolhardy venture, which cannot be justified by naval standards, even though ordered by the Admiral's superiors.

According to Captain Paget's view, the most effective use Admiral Cervera could have made of his squadron was to have dismantled them of all the lighter guns, particularly the quick-firers, and turned over guns and men to General Toral for use in defending the city. These quick-fire guns, some hundred or more, distributed along the entrenchments and handled by the trained men of the squadron, would have been able to sustain a deadly fire on the American advance. Captain Paget expressed the belief that such a move would have made Santiago practically impregnable. He has no doubt starvation and disease would have broken down the Spanish defence in time, but Cervera's guns could have held the town from a defeat by assault. In case of a sortie from the harbor, Captain Pagat shares the view of American naval officers, that the sortie should have been made at night.

If attempted in daylight the Spanish ships should have directed their attention to the American transports, as they furnished a vulnerable point where great havoc could have been wrought. In any event, whether terrific fire of our warships were attacked Captain Paget maintains that the retreat to Spain should have been to run for our ships, taking them unawares before steam could be got up, and taking the risk of loss, so long as some damage was inflicted. Had this plan been adopted he thinks it might have resulted in the ramming and sinking of one or more of our ships. Captain Paget speaks highly of our new battleships and cruisers, particularly those now on the stocks, which he has examined critically through the plans and specifications. He does not admit, however, that the American ships yet excel, or even equal, those of British build. In this connection a prominent American naval officer recently told Captain Paget that the new cruiser New Orleans, bought in England during the early stage of the war, was a revelation to the authorities here in so far as her guns and armament are concerned.

RIVALS A MIRACLE.

Mr. George C. Chalker's Terrible Sufferings Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Howsey's Rapids, Sept. 12—Mr. George C. Chalker, of this place, tells a remarkable story of restoration to sound health, that rivals the far-famed St Anne de Beaupre cures.

Briefly Mr. Chalker's story is as follows: "I suffered horribly for years, from Kidney Disease. I could do no heavy work. My pain was almost unendurable. No remedy did me the least good till I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Six boxes of this wonderful medicine have cured me completely—made a new man of me. I cannot speak highly enough of them. I can state with the utmost confidence that Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure the very worst case of Kidney Disease.

ASSURANCE CO.

OFFICE OF W. A. MURRAY & Co., 17 to 27 King St., East, Toronto.

Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, N. A. L.:

DEAR SIR,—In answer to your request for me to decide upon one of the following options offered me for settlement of my 15-payment Life Investment Policy for $5,000 which has matured this year, viz:

1st to take the value of the Policy in Cash	$5,000.00
2nd, or fully paid-up insurance for	8,280.00
3rd, or take the profits in cash and continue my policy without further payments being required from me, the policy participating in future profits.	2,050 25

I find it somewhat difficult to make a decision either of the three options being so satisfactory. I am certainly very much pleased with the results offered me, and as I find many others are giving full testimony to the profit-earning power of this company, I do not hesitate to give my endorsement as well, that the North American Life is one of our strongest Canadian institutions to day giving first class results on Investment Policies, on a safe and conservative basis. I find that my policy, which was originally a Life by fifteen payments, has become an Endowment at the end of the Investment period.

APPALLING DEATH

From Kidney Disease Prevented by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

"Kidney Disease." Do you know what it means? It means that the kidneys are either rotten, or rotting; the blood is full of poisonous, death-dealing corruption; that the Kidneys can't do their work; that the victim is a walking charnel-house; that his hours are numbered; that the victim MUST take Dodd's Kidney Pills if he does not want to die.

Have you Kidney Disease? Is your skin hot and dry; memory failing; breath short; urine, reddish, or pale colored; does it scald when passing; is your appetite changeable; do your ankles swell; have you bitter taste in the mouth on getting up mornings; is there a brick-dust deposit in your urine?

Any of these signs is proof positive of Kidney Disease. Will you be cured, or will you die? Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only means on earth that will cure you. They never fail.

THE ELECTION TRIALS.

Stormont to Be Abandoned—East Simcoe Protest to Be Pursued—West Victoria Postponed.

Toronto, Sept. 22.—It is definitely stated that the protest in East Simcoe against Mr. A. Miscampbell, the Conservative member, will be continued by the Liberals. Some mention was made on Friday at Osgoode Hall of changing it to Toronto, where it would be abandoned, but this will not be done.

The trial of the West Victoria petition will not go on next Tuesday at Lindsay, having been postponed. The particulars are due to be filed against Mr. Fox by Tuesday.

The particulars of the charges against Mr. Aylesworth, the Liberal member for Lennox, will be filed by Tuesday next.

The latest petition to be changed to Toronto is that of Stormont, where the member is Mr. J. McLaughlin, a Conservative. This has been transferred from Cornwall, where it was to come to trial on Saturday. It will be disposed of here on that day, when no evidence will be offered.

The East Lambton trial, where Mr. H. J. Pettypiece is the respondent, will, unless something unforeseen turns up, come to trial at Sarnia on October 4.

A CRIME OF THE KLONDIKE.

An Exhausted Man Brutally Shot to Death.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 22.—George Bowman of Bridgeport, Conn., was murdered in Alaska last winter during a terrible snow storm by a companion named Johnson of Springfield, Mass. He was almost in sight of the golden Mecca when his strength failed him and he sank down in the soft snow. Johnson, who was the leader of the party, went back to him and with an oath blew out the unfortunate man's brains with a revolver. This is the terrible story that is told for he first time by J. C. Sachs, who has just returned from Alaska. His partner, Edward T. Calhoun of Yonkers, N.Y., witnessed the deed, which was committed a short distance from Dawson. Calhoun, too, nearly lost his life from a bullet from Johnson's revolver. Nothing was ever heard of Johnson. It is presumed he perished in the snow storm.

"PURE CUSSEDNESS."

This Is How Chauncey Depew Describes the Railway Rate Wars.

New York, Sept. 22.—The Times says: The rate situation in St. Louis territory is causing deep concern among railroad men, both east and west. The attention of the Joint Traffic Association has been called to the threatened trouble in a number of ways, and efforts are making in the direction of harmony. Conditions have assumed so serious an aspect in St. Louis territory, however, that President Chauncey M. Depew of the Joint Traffic Association is going out there early next month for the purpose of investigation, and of mediation, if possible. Mr. Depew remarked yesterday that he did not believe that any one of the railroads engaged in the ratecutting was profiting by the operation. He thought that "pure cussedness" was at the bottom of the trouble.

MARRIAGE OF DIVORCEES.

Anglican Synod Discusses the Question and Votes Down Dr. Langtry's Motion on the Subject.

Montreal, Sept. 22.—At yesterday morning's session of the Anglican Synod the report favoring the creation of three new bishoprics, two in Ontario and one in Nova Scotia, was considered. No decision has yet been reached as to the names of the new dioceses, but it is likely they will be known as Owen Sound, or Collingwood, and Peterboro in Ontario, and Sydney in Nova Scotia.

Rev. Dr. Langtry of St. Luke's Church, Toronto, in the Church of England Provincial Synod yesterday, in moving a resolution with regard to the re-marriages of divorced persons, ridiculed the idea that such marriages should be allowed as a matter of justice to the innocent parties, declaring that there was very seldom an innocent party. On the authority of Judge MacDonald, a well-known County Court Judge of Ontario, and a member of the Synod, Dr. Langtry asserted that very often the divorces obtained in Canada were got by collusion between the two parties, in order to free themselves of the marriage bonds. Rich men not infrequently suborned witnesses to prove their wives guilty, and then masqueraded as the innocent ones. In other cases the husband forgot his vows, and when, tired of his neglect and desertion, the wife broke hers, he sued for a divorce. In his own eyes and the eyes of his friends he might be the innocent and aggrieved party, but at the last judgment it would not be so decided. Dr. Langtry foresaw a train of evils following from easy and general divorces which far outweighed any which might be caused by forbidding really innocent persons from marrying again. On behalf of the clergy, too, he asked that they should be protected from the temptation of large fees, such as he was once offered.

The question was warmly discussed.

The Synod rejected the motion requesting that the clergy in its jurisdiction be ordered to abstain from marrying divorced persons.

SEPTEMBER WEDDINGS.

Record of Several of These Happy Events in Town and County.

BATTEN—PARSONS.

A very pretty wedding took place last evening at the residence of Mr. Joseph Batten, McDonel street, when his daughter, Miss Lottie Batten, was united in marriage to Mr. J. E. Parsons.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. O. Crossley of the Charlotte street church, in the presence of a large number of invited guests.

Miss Minnie Batten attended her sister through the important service, and Mr. Alfred Prest of Hastings did like service for the groom. After the ceremony the wedding dejunier was served to the guests by Mrs. Batten.

The many useful and valuable presents received evinced the esteem and affection in which the young couple are held by their admiring friends.

They will take up residence on Stewart street, and their many friends will wish for them a long and happy married life.

Among the numerous presents received by Miss Batten and Mr. Parsons on the occasion of their marriage was a magnificent and costly lamp, the gift of the Canadian General Electric Company.

THE M'KEE—ROSBOROUGH NUPTIALS.

Yesterday a very pretty wedding was celebrated at the residence of Mr. Alex. Rosborough, North Smith, when his daughter, Nina, was united in marriage to Herbert E. McKee, youngest son of Mr. George McKee, Smith. The ceremony was performed in the drawing room of the residence by Rev. G. R. Clare, of Pickering, in the presence of the immediate friends of the contracting parties. The bride, who was charmingly gowned in a dress of cream silk, with garniture or pearl passementerie and chiffon, carried a bouquet of cream roses, and had for ornament a beautiful amethyst brooch, the gift of the groom, was assisted by Miss Lily Armstrong, gowned in white organdie, and carrying pink roses. Gracie, daughter of Mr. John Madill, Lakefield, attired in white organdie over green, and carrying a basket of roses, made a sweet little maid of honour.

Mr. Albert Garbutt performed the duties of groomsman.

At the conclusion of the marriage ceremony the guests sat down to a sumptuous wedding breakfast, after which followed the usual congratulations and admiration of the many beautiful presents, which signified the popularity of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. McKee left for the west on the afternoon C. P. R. express, followed by abundant good wishes. After a ten-days' wedding tour, which will include Niagara Falls and other points of interest, they will return home and take residence at the McKee homestead, Smith. The hearty congratulations and good wishes of a very wide circle of friends are extended on the happy occasion.

FRASERVILLE — THE HUTCHINGS-HUTCHINGS NUPTIALS.

A quiet wedding took place at the home of Mrs. John Hutchings, of Fraserville, on Tuesday evening, Sept. 20th, 1898, when her daughter, Rose, was united in marriage to Mr. Charles Hutchings, of Port Hope. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. P. Steel. The bride was attended by Miss Edna Roddie, of Cavan, while Mr. David Smythe, of the same place, was the groom's best man. A few near friends witnessed the ceremony and heartily congratulated the happy pair. The bride is one of our most popular young ladies and will be greatly missed in the neighbourhood. The groom is a highly esteemed citizen of Port Hope, having a prosperous business in that town. We wish them many years of happy wedlock.

FOX—M'MAHON.

A pretty wedding took place Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock in St. Peter's Cathedral, when Miss Maggie Fox, daughter of Mr. Henry Fox, was united in matrimony to Mr. Matthew McMahon, of Ashburnham.

The ceremony was performed by Venerable Archdeacon Casey.

The bride was attired in a cream coloured costume and carried a showar bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Minnie Lynch, of Hastings, was also dressed in cream and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The groom was assisted by Mr. J. T. O'Connell.

After the ceremony the wedding party repaired to the residence of the bride's father, where a sumptuous repast was partaken of. The bride was the recipient of many useful and handsome presents. The happy couple left on the 5 o'clock G.T.R. express for Toronto and points west. Their many friends extend their congratulations.

FLETCHER—NEWALL.

A quiet wedding took place yesterday afternoon at the Charlotte street parsonage, when Rev. D. O. Crossley united in marriage Mr. A. M. Fletcher, of Peterborough, and Miss Maggie J. Newall, of Smith. The young couple were attended by Mr. W. J. Tremain and Miss Newall. May there be many bright and happy days before them is the wish of their many friends.

Under the Dome.

It is said that Lincoln J. Carter, author of "Under the Dome," the immensely successful naval comedy drama which will be the attraction at the Opera House Saturday night, spent two years in perfecting the ferry boat scene. As a result it is as near the "real thing" as it is possible to make it. Not a single detail of such a trip has been omitted. Every sound of a boat or of the water and all the appearances of lessening distances are correctly imitated. So perfect is the result that the audience seems to be carried with the boat across the river, the characters being grouped in the front and the audience having possession of the rear. Seats now on sale.

LAST NIGHT'S FIRE.

A Dwelling on Aylmer Street Breaks Out Into Flames Twice During the Evening.

The brigade was called to the residence of Mr. Courier, No. 63 Aylmer street, last evening at about half past eight o'clock, where the fire was discovered to be located in one of the bedrooms, having broken out in the absence of the family from home. The flames were extinguished before they could spread to any of the other rooms, but at half past eleven the fire broke out again. It was once more extinguished without much damage being done.

The premises are owned by Mrs. Bailey.

SEWERAGE COMMITTEE.

Moved by Councillors Denne and W. H. White, "That the Town Engineer be instructed to deposit with the Town Clerk tracings of all sewer plans, including plans of details, and showing sewer connections, etc., that have been made in connection with the services that have been connected and that have not already been furnished, and that in future tracings of all plans drawn by the Engineer in connection with any town work shall be at once deposited in the Town Clerk's office."—Carried.

Moved by Councillors Denne and W. H. White, "That the committee be authorized to engage the best inspector for the sewer work that can be procured."—Carried.

The committee then adjourned.

FOR THE MUSEUM.

Curios From the Indian Reserve of Hiawatha Contributed by Johnston Paudash.

Mr. Johnston Paudash, of Hiawatha, son of Chief Paudash was in town yesterday and gave Mr. J. B. McWilliams, a number of valuable curios for the Victoria museum, consisting of old coins and Indian relics.

The coins are six in number, four of copper and two silver ones. Of the copper pieces one is dated 1811, and was evidently coined in commemoration of the battle of Tippecanoe, in which Major-General W. H. Harrison figured, as did the famous Indian chief, Tecumseh. An old Roman coin looks to be valuable, although considerably disfigured. Then there is an English halfpenny of 1812, and one bearing the inscription "Ships, Colonies and Commerce," with a ship under full sail on reverse side. The silver coins are a Geo. III. piece of 1816 and a French coin dated 1862.

The Indian relics consist of five stone axes and one stone gouge and are considered quite an acquisition to the collection of Indian curios at the Museum.

Young Paudash has an ancestry of which he may well be proud, being able to trace his descent from the great chief Bald Eagle, of which he is a great great grandson. It would be well if more young men of the present day would follow in the young chief's footsteps and take an interest in such matters as the Victoria Museum.

The Best Liniment for Horses.

Messrs. Ritchie & Co., the large ranchers of B. C., write: We consider Griffiths' Veterinary Menthol Linement unequalled for horses. One of ours had a bad sprain on its left leg, which was swollen to an enormous size. Griffiths' Menthol Liniment was applied two days, When the swelling and soreness entirely left it. We consider it superior to any other liniment. 25 cents. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

THE HALIBURTON GOLD MINES.

The Prospects Here and at Cardiff—A Boom Ahead in Mining Operations—Great Improvements in Roads—The Dairying Future in the District.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Carver, of North Monaghan, have returned after a ten days' visit to Haliburton. Mr. Carver went up for a little hunting and while north, became very much interested in the mining operations now carried on in the mountain in rear of the town hall in that village by the company. Blasting operations were going on in preparation for the crusher, which is by this time installed and working. A shaft has been sunk forty feet where ore was found to assay $15 to the ton. A boarding house is being erected to accommodate a large number of workmen. Mr. Carver brought down numerous samples of what is pronounced valuable gold bearing quartz and also several samples from the W. J. Austin mine in Cardiff, about twenty miles north of Haliburton. The feeling of the people is that there will be a big mining boom in this district next summer. Both mines are practically on a line of railway—the Haliburton on the Victoria Division of the Grand Trunk and the Cardiff mine on the line of the Irondale, Bancroft and Ottawa Railway.

Mr. Carver reports that the Colonization roads in the district are getting into splendid shape. The roads upon which the Government has expended money are in excellent condition, equal, and in many cases, superior to the average roads in the district surrounding Peterborough. The settlers are well satisfied and very grateful for the boon of good roads, which are an immese benefit to the cheese industry which is growing in importance, and receives great assistance from good roads for the conveyance of milk from farm to factory.

While Mr. Carver does not regard this northern district as of much good for mixed farming, he thinks it is splendidly adapted to dairying, sheep breeding and general stock raising.

HE TOOK A BAD RISK.

Dangerously Liberal Offer of an Insurance Man.

The instances where an insurance agent is found napping, are about as rare as finding, according to the proverbial saying, "a weasel asleep."

But a day or two ago an instance was afforded where a life insurance agent, one who has reached the top of the hill in his profession, contrary to his custom, accepted a dangerous risk. In company with another prominent local business man he was wheeling down Charlottee street, when they overtook a gentleman who resides in the suburbs. Both dismounted from their wheels and the trio enjoyed a little chat. The conversation turned on wheels and the insurance man urged the pedestrian member of the trio to get a wheel.

"It's the grandest thing in the world, etc."

"I would, if I thought I could learn to ride."

"O, there would be no trouble about that—I'm sure you would learn in a short time."

Finally the insurance man, thinking he was making an impossible offer, said:

"If you'll ride this wheel to my office on ——— street the wheel is yours."

After becoming hesitation, the gentleman, with many doubts as to his ability to perform the feat, mounted the wheel and serenely bowled along, speedily disappearing in the distance from the startled view of the insurance man. The latter followed at his best sprinting pace and reached his office breathless and found the "novice" as fresh as a daisy after his spin. But the wheel was not there. It had been safely stowed in the bicycle racks of a neighbouring hotel. The gentleman who had easily won the wheel, was profuse in his expressions of gratitude and a little thanksgiving ceremony, which will become obsolete when prohibition becomes the law, was proposed. During the ceremony the insurance man quietly entered the room where his erstwhile bicycle was stored, replevined his property, mounted and rode away home on his recovered mount.

The joke of the affair consists in the fact that the gentleman mentioned had some time before bought a wheel, practised on it at home quietly and became a fairly expert rider.

The joke was kept alive by a mutual friend putting the local wheel agents upon the trail of the too generous insurance man. After the visit of a score of these persistent gentlemen, the next bicycle agent who visits the insurance office to sell a machine, had better take out a life or accident policy before he begins to talk wheel.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Interesting Items of Local and General Interest.

LACROSSE.

The lacrosse team returned from Perth this morning, and state that though the official score was announced as five to five yet that the Peterboroughs had one goal scored against them which should never have counted, and the match was prolonged from the hour and a half agreed upon, to two hours in order to give Perth an opportunity of tallying one more goal and tieing the score. But by even playing a tie game with Perth the local boys must have played a whirlwind of a game, as Perth has only been defeated once before this season and that was in Peterborough on July 1st, by the close score of 4 goals to 3. Since then Perth has won nine games and borne off the Matheson trophy in the district from Smiths Falls, when the latter club played Durkin, Ralph, Donaldson and Murphy of the Capitals.

Yesterday Perth scored the first game, then Peterborough got three in succession. The next goal was the disputed one and Perth got two more, putting them one one ahead. Peterborough got the next two and Perth the last one. For Peterborough Bert Dolan scored two game and Jim McCabe three. Glover is described as playing his best game of the season, and the two juniors, Dolan and McWilliams, held up their end like veterans and will run some of the old seniors a hard race for a place on the first team next year.

The boys enjoyed themselves to the full limit after the game, although some of them were rather roughly used, as their marks show to-day.

TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

The Work is Progressing Toward Completion at Hastings.

While the work on the channel above the dam is progressing favourably, and the stone being removed by the dredge, the work on the dam and sluiceways is nearing completion near Hastings. The sluiceways proper are completed, and the timbers and planking over the same will be finished by the end of the week. The old frame over the side has also been removed, and another erected in its place, on a level with those on the new part.

Its removal was none too soon, as the decayed state of the timbers would soon have fallen of their own accord. The work when finished will not only look well, but have a very substantial appearance, and no doubt hereafter the spring freshets can be controlled with perfect ease.

The work has been pushed with much vigour, no delays or mishaps having occurred from beginning to finish. When the cost is known, no doubt it will be much below the estimate. Irrespective of the comments by the prejudiced to the work being done, and the unsalutary complaints about work, by those who did not want employment, the work has considerably improved the appearance of the place and been a great benefit to the village, in furnishing employment to many, and the circulation of considerable ready cash in the place.

Whatever complaints there may have been at first as to getting work, has become a thing of the past, as all who were willing to and wanted work got it when their service was needed. Much credit is due Overseer Gordon in the distribution of the work and its successful completion in so short a time.—Hastings Star.

AN UP-TO-DATE FIRM.

Fruit Cleansed by Motor Power at the Metropolitan Grocery.

A humming industry has been in full blast since last February in the third story of the Metropolitan Grocery premises, and although not many of the citizens were aware of it, yet this accounted for the superiority of the raisins and currants purchased from W. H. Hamilton & Co., and which has created such a popular demand for them.

It is in the third story that the fruit is subject to a cleansing process such as is received in no other store east of Toronto. As has been noticed by hundreds of housewives the currants and raisins purchased in Hamilton's are perfectly free from stems, grit or dirt of any kind, and are ready for use as soon as required, without even having to be washed.

The machine which accomplishes this most desirable end is well worth inspection and does the work required of it most thoroughly. The fruit is fed into it from the top and subjected to a spraying process, afterwards passing through a long circular sieve, inside which a brush revolves at the rate of two hundred and fifty revolutions to the minute. The water has softened the fruit and the stems and grit are removed, as it passes over the sieve. After being treated a second time in the same manner not a particle of foreign matter can be discovered. The amount of refuse which is washed out of a few pounds of currants or raisins, particularly the former, is almost incredible until the box below the sieve is examined. The loss in weight of course is considerable, but the extra demand which the cleansed fruit occasions, makes up for the loss which is sustained in the washing. After being thoroughly cleansed and dried, the fruit is put up in neat one and three pound folder boxes stamped with the thistle design. Considerable expense was entailed in procuring the plant, the machine alone being worth $250, but Mr. Hamilton is apparently determined in this, as in all other, branches of his business, to have the best of everything. The machine is operated by a two horse motor, the power being supplied by the Auburn Power Co. On the same shaft is the firm's coffee mill and roaster which turns out the best coffee in Peterborough.

A meeting has been called for to-morrow night, in the Opera House, to discuss Prohibition from a non-partizan standpoint. The independent vote will decide this question "what shall the 29th say?"—the most important date in Canadian History. Ten cents admission. Chair to be taken at 8 o'clock.

NAPANEE BANK CASE.

The Crown has Applied for a Change of Venue.

In connection with the trial of Mr. W. H. Ponton, charged with complicity in the Napanee bank robbery, the Crown has applied for a change of venue. The ground for the application is the statement that the popular feeling in the County of Lennox and Addington is so strongly convinced of the innocence of Ponton that a fair trial would be impossible, and that no jury could be found that would weigh the evidence impartially. The trial is set down to take place in October. The application is supported by affidavits from the following parties: The counsel and the solicitor for the Dominion Bank in the civil action; Mr. F. B. Osler, junior partner in Mr. B. B. Osler's firm; Mr. W. S. Herrington, County Crown Attorney; County Constable E. H. Sills; a Crown witness; an uncle of Mr. Aylesworth, counsel for the bank; assistant constable John Libesby; Edward Scott, a Crown witness; Edward Clancy and Jas. Leskey, farmers.

The motion is returnable before Mr. Justice Meredith in Toronto on Friday next.

The action of the Crown in applying for a change of venue is unprecedented in the history of criminal jurisprudence in this country. In a few instances a change has been allowed on behalf of a prisoner who is to be tried in a place where the crime charged had recently been committed, and where the populace was aroused against him, but for the Crown to make such an application was unheard of until now. The application seems to be in opposition to the principle that the person charged should have every possible chance to clear himself.

CAN'T EAT.

FOOD is the fuel that feeds the fires of life. Digestion is the process that turns the fuel into energy. Few possess perfect digestion. If your digestion is imperfect, if you cannot eat what you like without discomfort, if you cannot eat when you ought to eat, the time has come when you should take Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills. Hunger is the best Sauce. Take these Pills and get hungry. You may eat what you want if you take Dr. Ward's Pills.

WHAT THEIR MERITS ARE:

My system was entirely rejuvenated by the use of Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, and I consider them a marvellous strength and nerve builder for dyspepsia. I was so sick and miserable that I seemed to have no life or energy left in me. I suffered so at times that I thought death would be better for me. I had tried Doctors and different kinds of medicines, but all failed to do me any good. I am in every way now a well woman, and have been for months. Before using these Pills I was so sick that I could not keep anything in my stomach. I was under the opinion that dyspepsia could not be cured, but now I am satisfied it can be cured, for I am able to eat like any healthy woman and feel better in every way. They have built me up also.—I now weigh several pounds more than I ever did before. In conclusion, I would advise every woman afflicted with poor digestion to give Dr. Ward's Pills a trial.

MRS. L. E. WATSON, Port Colborne, Ont.

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents per box, 5 boxes for $2.00, at druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by The Dr. Ward Co., 71 Victoria St., Toronto. Book of information free.

MOTHER OF SHIPS.

The Ark Was the First Vessel Within Human Sympathy.

The ark is the first ship, then, to appeal to human sympathy. Let her be called the mother of ships. Though we need not too curiously consider her, it is a strange fact nevertheless that the dimensions of this ship, taking the cubit about 18 inches, correspond very nearly with the proportions of a sailing ship of today. Her burden was 15,000 tons. The Great Eastern was 7,000 tons larger than the ark. Noah when he laid his keel designed with strict reference to the animals and to the living sheets of water that were to descend from the heavens. He would have need to build with great caution nevertheless, for unless animals were stalled a sudden panic among them would occasion a dangerous "list." Noah seems to have provided against this by building his extraordinary stables upon a gigantic spoon shaped hull. He required neither sails nor helm. When the ark was once awash, she lifted easily to the tremendous weight of rain and floated off into the gray vapors of steam, which rose hissing midway to heaven from the fierce stroke of God's pitiless storm.

Sir Thomas Browne, a genius of gloriously quaint imaginations, who saw things, as Coleridge puts it, by the light of the halo of genius that shone about his head, wonders whether Noah might not have been the first man that compassed the globe. "Since," says he, "if the flood covered the whole earth and no lands appeared to hinder the current, Noah must be carried with the wind and current according to the sun, and so in the space of the deluge might even make the tour of the globe. And since, if there were no continent of America, and all that tract sea, a ship setting out from Africa without help would at last fall upon some part of India or China."—Pall Mall Magazine.

A business man is not the most patient creature in the world. He cannot wait to hear any long-drawn-out-story of the cause of his ailment. He doesn't care two straws about a fine spun theory of how he should treat himself. He may be predisposed to scrofula or consumption. "That," he will tell you, "has nothing to do with the case." He wants to be well. If he can be cured, write out a prescription and send in your bill. So here's the first part of the proposition.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a microbe hunter ad killer. Many persons of scrofulous blood encourage the breaking out of unsightly sores, to prevent the disease going to the lungs. There is no need of this state of dread and discomfort. Purify the blood. It can be done. "Golden Medical Discovery" will cure 98 per cent. of all consumptive cases, also of all lingering bronchial, throat and lung diseases.

Trying the Wrong Man.

An unusual verdict was rendered by the jury in a case tried in a California town 25 years ago. The question was as to the ownership of several head of cattle which the defendant was accused of having stolen from the plaintiff.

As the case proceeded and different witnesses gave their evidence it became apparent to all listeners that the defendant was an innocent man. When it came time for the jury to retire to consider their verdict, they did so, but returned to the courtroom in a few moments.

The foreman looked the judge straight in the eye and said with a drawl and twang which betrayed his New England origin:

"Judge, we find the plaintiff guilty."

"The court is not trying the plaintiff, but the defendant," said his honor hastily, and, the matter being explained, the foreman was at length induced to express the jury's opinion that the defendant was "not guilty."

"Howsomever," added the foreman solemnly, "'pears to me we're considering the wrong man, your honor!"—Youth's Companion.

MAN'S ODD NIGHT HABIT.

What We Unconsciously Do to Insure the Quick Visit of Sleep.

What is the first thing you do after the lights are out and you have retired for the night?" asked the physician who is fond of psychological investigation.

"Try to sleep, of course," I replied. "Is it a riddle?"

"No," said he, "but I want you to tell me what little trick you resort to—what particular disposition of your anatomy you make in order to woo the dream god?"

I failed to answer satisfactorily, so, with a gratified smile, the physician continued: "I scarcely expected you would know. In fact, there are few persons who can tell off hand just what positions they assume to invite sleep, and yet there is not an individual in the world who has not some favorite, esoteric little plan, some trick of distributing limbs and trunk, to insure slumber's blissful spell which he practices unconsciously. This is a night habit, as perpetual and immutable under normal conditions as the succession of the seasons.

"No sooner are we really off for the land of nod than the night habit asserts its dominion. Our hands and arms seek the same parts of the bed or the same portions of our bodies upon which they have nightly rested since infancy, our feet and legs stretch at the same angles or loosely entwine in comfortable relaxation, as commanded by unconscious will. It is seldom of our own deliberate volition that we place our bodies in position for sleep, as you will find tonight on going to bed if you remember my words. In truth, if you do not seek to combat the inclinations of your mysterious instincts you will be surprised at the disposition of the various members to voluntarily made.

"If you endeavor to go to sleep by a new arrangement of the body and limbs, you will also be surprised by the revolt against slumber which will surely ensue, but even before the struggle is well begun you will probably surrender and permit the all masterful night habit to reinstate those little details of position which long practice has made necessary to your comfort."—New York Herald.

Cockatoos.

The cockatoos constitute a branch of the great parrot family, and, with the exception of the species which inhabits the Philippine islands, are peculiar to the Australasian region.

Leadbeater's cockatoo is one of the most beautiful of the group, his white plumage being tinged with rose color—W. T. Greene, the great authority on cage parrots, describes it aptly as "raspberry and cream" color—but as his mental endowments are by no means equal to his personal attractions he is less popular as a pet than species with more intelligence than good looks. One point in his favor must be mentioned—he is a less determined screamer than the majority of cockatoos. This, however, is not saying much. In his native woods of South Australia Leadbeater's cockatoo is very shy and difficult to approach. The birds sent to Europe, no doubt taken as nestlings in the majority of instances, remain usually wild and suspicious, though they bear confinement well and do not suffer from the cold.

At home in Australia the cockatoo is not beloved of the farmer, and it can be well imagined that a flock of these big birds, amounting often to thousands, commit fearful havoc upon the crops. Hence it is shot down as remorselessly as the sparrow in England when it grows too numerous to be acceptable to the agriculturist. Like the rest of the genus, this cockatoo usually makes its nest in a hollow tree, where the hen lays two pure white eggs.—St. Louis Republic.

Male Felinity.

"Talking about the humanity of man and the felinity of woman," said the independent woman, "let me tell you a little story of a man and a cat. The story was told to me by the wife of the man, who is a domesticated woman. It seems that the family cat, besides being of a sportive disposition, had more ingenuity than most cats or understood better how to relieve the tedium of a domestic existence. This cat caught a mouse. Being well fed, her sporting instinct came into play, and she kept the mouse to amuse herself with. That is a feline custom, as you are aware, but where this cat showed superior mentality was in hitting upon a place to hide the mouse, thus protracting the amusement. She kept it in an old shoe in a storeroom. The man of the house discovered the proceeding, and was almost as much amused as the cat. Did he put a stop to it? No, indeed. For several days he fed both the cat and the mouse, after which the cat would take the mouse out for its daily exercise, to the delight of both conspirators. Then the man's wife found them out. She took the mouse away and let it go."—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Sport as a Developer of Character.

Every now and then there crops out in this republic the notion that if our more cultured citizens were our rulers that we should be much better off. We very much doubt it. If our more manly citizens could rule us, then no doubt we should be better off. But there is a freakiness and finicalness, an inability to give and take, a general rubbing and creaking of machinery among men developed only on the one side of the mind, which always everywhere makes them objectionable as rulers. Boxing is just as likely to make a man meek as books, but if you have a bull to deal with neither the boxing nor the books will avail anything, and he becomes almost more objectionable as an editor than as a prizefighter. Of course sport will fail, just as every other agency will fail, with certain men. On the other hand, for the great majority of men, well conducted sport will teach them fortitude, gentleness, meekness and fair play as no other agency yet invented by man can do.—Outing.

Uncle Sam's Unruly Soldiers.

Honolulu, Sept. 18, via San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 21.—The American soldiers in Honolulu are causing the good people of this once peaceful community much worry. Acts of vandalism are becoming frequent and General King has issued orders for a court of enquiry to investigate alleged lawless acts committed by soldiers, and to assess the amount of damage caused. Chinese fruit growers and vegetable gardeners have been favorite victims of the soldiers and the cigar dens have been raided and destroyed.

The Black Hole of Calcutta.

A scientist, writing of the black hole of Calcutta and its atmosphere, says:

"On the 20th of June, 1756, about 8 o'clock in the evening, 146 men were forced at the point of the bayonet into a dungeon 18 feet square. They had been but a few minutes confined in this infernal prison before every one fell into a perspiration so profuse that no idea can be formed of it. This brought on a raging thirst, the most difficult respiration and an outrageous delirium. Such was the horror of their situation that every insult that could be devised against the guard without and all the opprobrious names the viceroy and his officers could be loaded with were repeated to provoke the guard to fire upon them and terminate their sufferings. Before 11 o'clock the same evening one-third of the men were dead, and before 6 next morning only 23 came out alive, but most of them in a high putrid fever. All these dreadful effects were occasioned by the want of atmospheric air and by their breathing a superabundant quantity of nitrogen emitted from their lungs."

A Fatal Coon Hunt.

Windsor, Sept. 21.—Frank Finnert, aged 17, who lives on the Goddard road, Ecorse, went coon hunting day before yesterday with his brother George. He shot a coon, but the animal was still alive when he reached it, and to finish the job he struck at it with the butt of the gun. The stock struck the ground and broke off, at the same time discharging the barrel. The charge struck young Finnert in the abdomen, passing through his body. George took his wounded brother on his back, and carried him about a mile to his home, where he died an hour later.

What nobler, better ambition can a young couple have than to live loving, helpful lives, and then, in a green old age, look back over a life that has been mutually self-sacrificing, useful and successful? The one great stumbling block that stands between most married couples and this ideal married career is ill-health. If both husband and wife would take proper care of their health, there would be more hale, hearty and happy old people in the world. If, when a man suffers from the little ills of life, he will resort to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the chances are that he will avoid the big and fatal illnesses. This great medicine gives a man a healthy hunger, facilitates the flow of digestive juices, invigorates the liver, purifies and enriches the blood and builds firm, muscular, healthy flesh tissue.

It is an old saying that women are hard to kill. There is some truth in this, as far as the majority of illnesses are concerned. There is one class of disorders, however, that quickly undermine any woman's general health. No woman can retain her strength who suffers from weakness and disease of the delicate and important organs that make girlhood and motherhood possible. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is an unfailing cure for all disorders of this description. It acts directly on the sensitive organs concerned, in a natural, soothing way. It makes them strong, healthy and vigorous. It prepares them to bear the burdens of maternity. It is the greatest of nerve tonics. The woman who uses it will bear healthy, happy children, and live to a ripe old age.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. By all medicine dealers.

BILLY THE BULLY.

The German emperor would doubtless like to inaugurate an international copyright law which would do something to protect his lese majesty interests.—Washington Star.

The emperor of Germany says he will preserve with all his power the peace so dear to him. And if he meets many more naval commanders of other nations of Dewey's class it is more than likely that he will carry out this harmonious resolution.—Baltimore American.

The pronoun "I" appears 11 times in the Emperor William's short speech at Mayence. He mentioned his grandfather twice and included "my dear cousin." The emperor then shook the burgomaster's hand and the family celebration was over. —St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A Deadly Gas.

Millers and the owners of grain elevators look upon the bisulphide of carbon as one of their most useful agents. When a mill, an elevator or a granary becomes infested with weevil, bisulphide of carbon is the cheapest and most effective thing to exterminate the pest. So deadly is the gas, however, and so rapidly does it act that the utmost care must be taken in applying the bisulphide. It is usually sprinkled over the grain from watering pots. The liquid is rapidly converted into a gas, and the latter sinks through the grain, carrying death to the weevil and even to the unhatched eggs.

So long as the persons applying the liquid stand above the point of application they are pretty safe from the fumes, but occasionally the workmen breathe a little of the gas and have to be removed at once to the open air, as the heart is quickly paralyzed by the action of the bisulphide. It is usual to treat the lower floors of a granary first, so that those employed in the work may keep constantly above the gas. Any animal, as a cat or a dog, shut up in an apartment where the bisulphide is doing its work is found dead when the place is opened.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

A Cuban Milkman.

"How many cows there are about the streets!" somebody exclaims, and then he is calmly informed that the morning's milk is simply being delivered. A bunch of cattle and their driver stop before a house, and the portero comes out with a cup for the morning's supply. It is seen then that the cows are being milked from door to door by the dairymen, for this is the way the acute Cuban housewives have taken to assure for their tables a lacteal supply which is entirely fresh and absolutely pure.

Even with the cows milked before the door one must continue to watch the milkman, for I have even heard of their having a rubber bag of water concealed under their loose frocks and connected with a rubber tube running down inside of the sleeve, its tip being concealed in the hollow of the milking hand. Only a gentle pressure upon the bag of water within is needed to thus cause both milk and water to flow into the cup at the same time. The milk venders of Italy and India have also learned their trade to perfection, for they practice this identical trick.—Edward Page Gaston in Woman's Home Companion.

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

Dodd's Kidney Pills ALWAYS CURE.

A Singular Calculation.

In a recent number of Power a singular calculation is presented by J. A. Renie. It would require, according to Mr. Renie's figures, the power of a 10,000 horsepower engine about 70,000,000,000 years to lift the earth a foot in height, and to do this work, allowing 13 pounds of water per horsepower per hour, would require some 20,000,000,000,000,000,000 gallons of water, or more than would be discharged at the mouth of the Mississippi in 60,000 years. This would be enough, the writer estimates, to cover the entire surface of the earth to a depth of about 300 feet, to convert which into steam, using good boilers, would require some 4,000,000,000,000,000,000 tons of coal. If the latter quantity of the mineral was loaded on cars of 30 tons each, it would demand 200,000,000,000,000,000 such cars. If the latter were 30 feet long and all coupled together in one train, it would reach around the earth 45,000,000 times and, if running 25 miles per hour, would consume 23,000,000 years in running the length of itself. So much for "figures."

An Editor's Hard Lot.

There are always those who will kick. For instance, if you publish jokes with whiskers on them some will say that you ought to be in a lunatic joint. If you don't print something to smile at, they say you are a pantheistic fossil. If you spread yourself and write a good, original article, they will say it is stolen. If you reprint an article, they say you can't write. If you say a deserving word for a man, you are partial; if you compliment the women, the men are jealous, and if you don't the verdict of the women is to the effect that your paper is not fit to use in the construction of a bustle. If you stay in your office, you are afraid to remain on the streets; if you do, you are lazy. If you look seedy, you are squandering your money; if you wear good clothes, you are a dude, and don't pay for them. If you play a social game of any kind and get stuck, you are a fish; if you win, you are a tin horn, and so it goes through one continual round of pleasant complications.—Roslyn (Mich.) Sentinel.

A MOTORMAN'S ESCAPE.

How Benjamin Bacon Escaped From a Terrible Position.

Toronto, Sept. 19—Mr. Benjamin Bacon, motorman, No. 150, in the employ of the Toronto Street Railway Co. tells the following story of his escape from a situation in which death menaced him daily.

"I have, for a year past been a great sufferer from severe pains in my back. My doctor told me I had the first stage of Bright's Disease. He could not help me, nor did the many advertised medicines do me any good. At length, I gave Dodd's Kidney Pills a trial. The result is that today I am a new man, sound and well and strong in every respect."

An Emperor's Attic.

The winter palace of the czar surpasses any other palace in Europe. It is on the banks of the Neva and owes its existence to the Empress Catherine II, that most extraordinary woman, extraordinary in ability and in vice, the surprise of all her contemporaries and the wonder of all who have studied her character. The building is four stories high, of a light brown color and highly ornamental in architecture. It is a wilderness of halls, stairways and apartments. The Nicholas hall and the St. George's hall will never be forgotten by those who have seen them.

One of the most interesting rooms is that where Nicholas I died. It is in the upper story of the northeast corner of the building and is approached by four doors and finally by a narrow passage. It is a small room, only about 18 feet long and 12 feet wide, with two small windows, and is the place where the emperor spent most of his time when not officially employed. It is the room in which he died, some say by poison administered by himself in a fit of melancholy induced by the outcome of the Crimean war. The room remains just as he left it. Near the center is a plain iron bedstead. Some chairs and a few cheap pictures adorn the room, and a dilapidated, down at the heel pair of slippers complete the furnishings of the attic room in the palace.

The Ashantees See Sights.

The natives of these Jaman villages had never seen a white man before, and I noticed at first with some surprise that those of our actions which interested them most were the simple and commonplace ones. To such matters as eating and dressing they gave the closest attention. Every morning when I emerged from my tent I found a large audience waiting patiently for the performance to begin, and when I took my place at the washstand a crowd closed round, forming a large circle. They followed the whole process with the greatest enjoyment, discussing and explaining to one another the various details and now and again raising shouts of applause as some peculiarly amusing feature of the performance (such as the use of the nailbrush) occurred. When I produced my toothbrush and proceeded to put it to its natural use, there was much anxious discussion, and when I brushed my hair up and made it stand on end they yelled with delight.

As for the opening of a bottle of champagne, which occurred on one occasion after an unusually long march) it simply brought down the house, although the spectators somewhat abruptly dispersed and viewed the remainder of the performance around the corners of adjacent huts.—"Freeman's Travels and Life In Ashanti."

Three Years in Bed.

From Kidney Disease—Although a Man of Three-Score and Ten, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills gave him back perfect health.

This is to certify that I was sick in bed the most of the time for three years with kidney disease. I began to take Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and since that time have been working every day, although a man nearly 70 years of age. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have cured me.

THE COOKBOOK.

Never boil anything that can be cooked by steaming.

Add lemon juice to the water in which rice is boiled, as it causes the grains to separate.

If you have a good recipe for Boston brown bread, try stirring in a half cup of seeded and partly chopped raisins just before putting the batter in the baking pans.

In roasting beef, dredge with flour, salt and pepper, then sear quickly in hot oven or in suet on top of stove, put in a cool oven and finish roasting, allowing ten minutes to a pound.

If you want to have chopped jelly for garnishing dishes, remember to chop or cut it with a knife which has been dipped in ice water and have the jelly on paper which has also been dipped in water.

Two small hints on the word of a cooking authority are that a few grains of salt sprinkled on coffee before adding the water bring out and improve the flavor, and that apples are not so apt to break when the attempt to core them is made, if that is done before they are peeled.

Shore Cargoes Shifted.

"Once in awhile we read," said Mr. Bozzle, "that the ship So-and-so or the steamer So-and-so has returned to port, or has arrived perhaps with 'a decided list; cargo shifted.' Sometimes we see a land craft, a truck, with cargo shifted—a big pile of boxes, towering high, shaken over to one side or the other by continued jolting along on the side of the street on the slope.

"A load thus shifted can't be shaken back by running along on the opposite slope of the road. It is like a stick of wood that has been bent and kept bent till the grain is set. Whatever you do with it the crook stays in.

"If care is exercised in turning corners and in navigating generally, the shifted load can usually be carried to its destination as it is without upsetting, though it may work harder. The experienced truckman knows just what can be done with it, and whether it has shifted as far as it will go, and all that. If it is so badly shifted as to make the operation of the truck difficult or dangerous, he hauls to one side by the curb and anchors—that is to say, he halts and unloads the shifted top courses of his cargo and then reloads and makes everything trim and secure and sets out again."—New York Sun.

Practical, but Cold Blooded.

I have a friend here in town, a young business woman, whose common sense is enough to make one's blood run cold at times. I went to see her new flat a few days ago, and I was delighted with a cushioned divan in one corner of her sitting room. It was, as many divans that belong to young business women are, a box with a hinged lid, but as it had handles on it and was bound with iron bands and was altogether so much stronger and more desirable than divan boxes usually are, I asked her where she bought it.

"I didn't buy it," said she. "It was given to me. You know the woman where I boarded last year came into a lot of money through the death of her grandfather. The old gentleman died in Florida, and the remains were sent here. They were in a mahogany coffin, and the coffin—well"—and she kicked the divan with her heels—"the coffin was in this. I didn't see any reason for letting the box go to waste, and it makes a lovely couch. Don't you think so?"

And of course it does, but then—after all, it's well to be practical like that.—Washington Post.

The Magic of a Word.

A party of gentlemen but recently returned from a metropolitan city tell a new story on the leisurely bellboy. They were stopping at a big hotel, and on the first evening of their visit were seized with a mighty thirst, but which they believed plain ice water would assuage. One of them stepped to the bell-push. It was one of those new fangled things built on the principle of a dollar typewriter. You turn the hand around the dial till it points to what you want, then you press the button, and the business office is supposed to do the rest. The instrument was caused to register ice water a number of times in the regions below, but there was no response. The thirst kept on increasing and the gentlemen got hot in the collar. One of them spoke of going down and challenging the clerk and the bellboys to a boxing match.

"No, don't do that," remarked one of the gentlemen. "Just watch me—I'll bet I'll get 'em."

He pranced over to the bell, yanked the crank around to "champagne" and let it drive. In an incredibly short time there was a knock at the door, and the boy stuck his head in.

"Champagne, gentlemen?"

"No, just bring us some plain, everyday, common water with ice in it. We rang for champagne just to catch you napping. Now get a move on you."—Galveston News.

THE COUNTY FAIR.

Now the pumpkin grows resplendent
'Mid the rows of ripened corn ;
Now the hunted vernal chicken
Wishes he had not been born ;
Now the suave machine collectors
Every day the farmers greet ;
Now the roads are blocked with wagons
Hauling sixty-two cent wheat.
And the merchant advertises
"Winter clothing—cheap, but neat!"

Now the farmer, from his harvest,
Lays his largest pumpkin by,
Softly smiling af he thinks how
It will strike the judge's eye :
Now his thrifty wife is building
Piece by piece rare patchwork quilts,
And his daughters paint on canvas
Brick-red boys in purple kilts,
Crimson leaves and pale-green berries,
Steel-gray storks on yellow stilts.

Now the racehorse trainer gravely
Walks the bob-tailed plug around,
And each day the trusty jockey
Rides him swiftly o'er the ground.
Both the trainer and the jockey
Work him early, work him late ;
While his owner's nether limb they
Regularly elongate ;
And the fondly trusting owner
Credulously pays the freight.

Now the bumps upon the racetrack
Flat beneath the roller fall ;
Loud the hammers of the workmen
Echo in the floral hall.
Oft the country-fair directors
Sit in solemn conclave drear,
Planning for the grand occasion,
Glory of the passing year !
All these portents plainly teach us
County-fair time's drawing near !

Now the conscious fair directors
Lay their Sunday best apart,
Ready for the opening function
Held by Joseph Israel Tarte,
And the secretary toileth
Far into the autumn night
With the grand address of welcome—
Bound to have it read just right.

County fair ! Event auspicious !
Heralded both far and near
In our guileless rustic circles
As the climax of the year !
Joyfully we hail thy coming ;
Never with thy charm can vie
Marble-palaced expositions,
Though their temples kiss the sky.
Dearer far the signs that tell us
County-fair time's drawing nigh.

CHEESE AT THE INDUSTRIAL.

Quantity Below That Shown Last Year—Flavour Poor, Quality and Texture Far From Perfect—A Danger That Makers Are Becoming Over-Confident.

Not only was the quantity of cheese exhibited at the Toronto Industrial Fair smaller than last year, but the quality was inferior as well. In fact, the judge, who is an exporter, in making his report stated that he believed, on the whole, the quality of the cheese made in factories during the present season was not equal to what it was three or four years ago, or, in other words, the cheesemakers instead of improving had been receding. Of course there are sections and individual factories where great advancement had been made, but, taking the factories as a whole, they have not made the advancement they should have done along the line of improvement in the quality of the product. This is to be regretted, and we trust that everyone connected with the industry, from the patron to the maker, will take warning and not rest until the very highest point of excellence is reached. The trouble seems to be that our dairymen are too confident and are relying upon their reputation. Then, again, we do not believe that one quarter of the patrons take the care of the milk they should. They expect a maker to make a first class article out of an inferior quality of milk.

The chief fault with the cheese shown this year was in the flavour. In the whole exhibit of 300 cheeses it was the exception to find a cheese with anything near a perfect flavour. This may be due to the makers receiving poor milk on account of the hot weather prevalent when the exhibition cheese were made. The quality and texture were better than the flavour, but even these in many instances were very poor. The point in which the exhibit excelled was in finish. There has been a gradual improvement in this respect during the recent years, and the cheeses on exhibition this year were the best we have ever seen—Farming.

THE SMOKING LAMP.

A Time Honored Institution of the British and American Navies.

One of the time honored institutions of the American and British navies is the smoking lamp. Without the smoking lamp the modern sailorman would be like a fish out of water. He would mutiny. A failure by the galley cook to light the smoking lamp without the loss of a second's time after the word has been given arouses Jack's temper, and whatever limited stock of invectives he is possessed of is made public with promptitude and emphasis.

To landsmen the mention of a smoking lamp has no more significance than a mention of the Jack-of-the-Dust. But both are a necessary part of the equipment of any warship, be she first rate or fourth rate. Upon the smoking lamp the crew, including that mysterious adjunct of the paymaster's department, Jack-of-the-Dust, depend for a light for their pipes. Jack-of-the-Dust dives down into the depths of the hold and brings up the navy plug, which, being cut into bits and crumbled between the hands, is put into a pipe and fired at the smoking lamp.

The need for the smoking lamp arises from the necessity of guarding the ship to the utmost from danger of fire. Precautions which seem ridiculous and unnecessary to a landsman have been found by sad experience to be absolutely necessary on board a ship of war. The naval regulations provide severe punishment for any seaman caught with matches on his person. Could it have been proved by the Spanish board of inquiry that the sailors of the Maine had been guilty of carrying matches about with them they would have been justified by naval experts the world over in declaring that the destruction of the Maine was due to the carelessness and lack of discipline on board.

Such was not the case, however. No sailor on the Maine carried matches. He lit his pipe at the smoking lamp, and he only smoked during those times that the smoking lamp was lit. He never dared to go below decks with a lighted pipe. If he had, Jimmy Legs would have had him aft at the stick, and the executive officer would have deprived him of shore leave for a month at least.

The smoking lamp is constructed upon the same lines as a lantern, but the globe is made of sheet iron instead of glass. In the side there is a small round hole through which Jack may stick his pipe in order to catch the flame. It is the duty of the ship's cook or one of his assistants to light the lamp when the word is given by the proper officer, who is generally the chief boatswain's mate. He in turn gets his orders from the officer of the deck.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

All parties favourable to the cause of Prohibition, who can assist in the way of work and furnishing conveyances for polling day will please leave their names and addresses with the Secretary, Water Street, next to Mrs. Appleby's store.

THE BRIDGEPORT MYSTERY.

The Police Have Caused an Arrest—Another Identification.

Bridgeport, Conn., Sept. 22.—For the first time since the discovery of the dismembered portions of a woman in the Yellow Mill Pond on the afternoon of Sept. 12 the police have shown their hand, but the result has been so startling that it is believed that the mystery is about to be solved.

Superintendent of Police Birmingham is positive that the dead girl is Emma Gill, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gill of Southampton, and acting under instructions from him Detective Smith of Hartford arrested in that city yesterday morning Walter C. Foster of Hartford for alleged complicity in the girl's death. The identification that thoroughly satisfied the police that they had at last reached the solution of the mystery was made by a brother of the murdered girl.

When her brother reached here, accompanied by a companion, he went at once to police headquarters and was immediately admitted to the office of the chief and then the entire party proceeded to the morgue. The similarity of the features of the dead woman and living man was too striking to admit a doubt. The brother said: "If you can show me a brown mole on one side of the neck, I will believe it is my sister."

An examination was made and for the first time the mole was observed. The young man then broke down completely.

JAPAN MISSIONS.

Report Passed and Powers of Council and Superintendent Defined.

Toronto, Sept. 22.—Yesterday a purse of $500, collected privately, was presented to Rev. J. E. Betts of British Columbia in aid of the fire sufferers at New Westminster. At the morning session of the conference the attention of members was occupied with the balance of the report of the Committee on Japan Mission, which was adopted, after a great many amendments, to bring the clauses into a harmonious whole, had been adopted. The powers of the Council and Superintendent to be appointed were also defined.

At the afternoon and evening sessions the election of the Mission Board and the discussion on the report on discipline were conducted concurrently. The General Board of Missions elected is composed of Rev. T. G. Williams, Dr. Briggs, Dr. Wakefield, Dr. S. F. Huestis, Dr. Ryckman and Rev. Leonard Gates, Messrs. J. J. McLaren, Q.C., George A. Cox, W. F. Hall, J. A. M. Aikins, A. Shaw and J. T. Moore.

Rev. John Scott, principal of Methodist College in Tokio, was appointed superintendent of the Japan Missions without a dissenting vote.

There is still much business to transact, and the conference will be kept busy for another day at least.

ONE MORE BODY FOUND.

The River a Mile Below Cornwall Gives Up a Victim.

Cornwall, Ont., Sept. 22.—The body of Harry Davis of Pittsburg, Pa., one of the victims of the recent O. & N.Y. bridge disaster, was found yesterday floating in the river about a mile below the scene of his death. The body was taken to Cornwall, and his mother, who lives in Pittsburg, was notified. He was a young man and a painter by occupation. Two bodies are still to be accounted for.

Blacksmith Robillard Killed.

P. Robillard, aged 23, a blacksmith, whose home is in Avonmore, left Millerroches last evening to drive home. This was the last seen of him in life. His horse was caught running away by a farmer near Avonmore, and this morning his body was found by the roadside about three miles from Millerroches. He had evidently been thrown from the rig and dragged some distance. Coroner Hamilton deemed an inquest unnecessary.

The International Conference.

Quebec, Sept. 22.—The report wired from Washington that the International Conference will adjourn in two weeks to meet in the American capital is unfounded.

There was no session yesterday, owing to the unveiling of the Champlain monument and other festivities.

Jones Gets a $3,750 Verdict.

Woodstock, Ont., Sept. 22.—Yesterday the jury in the case of Jones v. G.T.R., at the Assizes, returned a verdict of $3,750 damages and costs for the plaintiff, Charles W. Jones of Woodstock, who was struck by the engine of a freight train at a crossing in St. Mary's a year ago last month. Neither whistle nor bell was sounded by the trainmen, and Jones could not see the approaching train owing to a fence near the track and a field of high corn. A stay of proceedings for 30 days was granted.

A Speak Easy.

A Philadelphia policeman the other day received a letter informing him that a "speak easy," by which term an unlicensed saloon is designated, was in operation near Franklin and Spring Garden streets. His detective instinct was at once aroused, and he made an investigation, only to discover that he was the victim of some practical joker. The place referred to proved to be an Episcopal church for the deaf.—New York Tribune.

A Military Exquisite.

Marshal Ney, who was as handsome as he was brave, is said never to have appeared on the field at a great battle until he was dressed with scrupulous elegance and his beard carefully curled and perfumed. When he was led out to execution, he was cool and calm as though he were going to open a dance, only asking that the guns should be aimed low, that his face might not be disfigured after death.

CORRECTING A MISTAKE—Who sells the cheapest goods — the merchant who is compelled to buy in one higgling market, and is tied down to one grasping manufacturer, or the merchant who has the freedom of all the competing markets and manufacturers of the world? Do men buy Hats cheaper where nothing but Hats are sold, or Boots cheaper where nothing but Boots are sold, or Clothing cheaper where nothing but Clothing is sold? Might as well expect a farmer to do as well for his family by raising nothing but Pumpkins as if he raised a mixed crop.

THE COUNTY FAIR.

Now the pumpkin grows resplendent
'Mid the rows of ripened corn ;
Now the hunted vernal chicken
Wishes he had not been born ;
Now the suave machine collectors
Every day the farmers greet ;
Now the roads are blocked with wagons
Hauling sixty-two cent wheat.
And the merchant advertises
"Winter clothing—cheap, but neat!"

Now the farmer, from his harvest,
Lays his largest pumpkin by,
Softly smiling af he thinks how
It will strike the judge's eye :
Now his thrifty wife is building
Piece by piece rare patchwork quilts,
And his daughters paint on canvas
Brick-red boys in purple kilts,
Crimson leaves and pale-green berries,
Steel-gray storks on yellow stilts.

Now the racehorse trainer gravely
Walks the bob-tailed plug around,
And each day the trusty jockey
Rides him swiftly o'er the ground.
Both the trainer and the jockey
Work him early, work him late ;
While his owner's nether limb they
Regularly elongate ;
And the fondly trusting owner
Credulously pays the freight.

Now the bumps upon the racetrack
Flat beneath the roller fall ;
Loud the hammers of the workmen
Echo in the floral hall.
Oft the country-fair directors
Sit in solemn conclave drear,
Planning for the grand occasion,
Glory of the passing year !
All these portents plainly teach us
County-fair time's drawing near !

Now the conscious fair directors
Lay their Sunday best apart,
Ready for the opening function
Held by Joseph Israel Tarte,
And the secretary toileth
Far into the autumn night
With the grand address of welcome—
Bound to have it read just right.

County fair ! Event auspicious !
Heralded both far and near
In our guileless rustic circles
As the climax of the year !
Joyfully we hail thy coming ;
Never with thy charm can vie
Marble-palaced expositions,
Though their temples kiss the sky.
Dearer far the signs that tell us
County-fair time's drawing nigh.

CHEESE AT THE INDUSTRIAL.

Quantity Below That Shown Last Year—Flavour Poor, Quality and Texture Far From Perfect—A Danger That Makers Are Becoming Over-Confident.

Not only was the quantity of cheese exhibited at the Toronto Industrial Fair smaller than last year, but the quality was inferior as well. In fact, the judge, who is an exporter, in making his report stated that he believed, on the whole, the quality of the cheese made in factories during the present season was not equal to what it was three or four years ago, or, in other words, the cheesemakers instead of improving had been receding. Of course there are sections and individual factories where great advancement had been made, but, taking the factories as a whole, they have not made the advancement they should have done along the line of improvement in the quality of the product. This is to be regretted, and we trust that everyone connected with the industry, from the patron to the maker, will take warning and not rest until the very highest point of excellence is reached. The trouble seems to be that our dairymen are too confident and are relying upon their reputation. Then, again, we do not believe that one quarter of the patrons take the care of the milk they should. They expect a maker to make a first class article out of an inferior quality of milk.

The chief fault with the cheese shown this year was in the flavour. In the whole exhibit of 300 cheeses it was the exception to find a cheese with anything near a perfect flavour. This may be due to the makers receiving poor milk on account of the hot weather prevalent when the exhibition cheese were made. The quality and texture were better than the flavour, but even these in many instances were very poor. The point in which the exhibit excelled was in finish. There has been a gradual improvement in this respect during the recent years, and the cheeses on exhibition this year were the best we have ever seen—Farming.

THE SMOKING LAMP.

A Time Honored Institution of the British and American Navies.

One of the time honored institutions of the American and British navies is the smoking lamp. Without the smoking lamp the modern sailorman would be like a fish out of water. He would mutiny. A failure by the galley cook to light the smoking lamp without the loss of a second's time after the word has been given arouses Jack's temper, and whatever limited stock of invectives he is possessed of is made public with promptitude and emphasis.

To landsmen the mention of a smoking lamp has no more significance than a mention of the Jack-of-the-Dust. But both are a necessary part of the equipment of any warship, be she first rate or fourth rate. Upon the smoking lamp the crew, including that mysterious adjunct of the paymaster's department, Jack-of-the-Dust, depend for a light for their pipes. Jack-of-the-Dust dives down into the depths of the hold and brings up the navy plug, which, being cut into bits and crumbled between the hands, is put into a pipe and fired at the smoking lamp.

The need for the smoking lamp arises from the necessity of guarding the ship to the utmost from danger of fire. Precautions which seem ridiculous and unnecessary to a landsman have been found by sad experience to be absolutely necessary on board a ship of war. The naval regulations provide severe punishment for any seaman caught with matches on his person. Could it have been proved by the Spanish board of inquiry that the sailors of the Maine had been guilty of carrying matches about with them they would have been justified by naval experts the world over in declaring that the destruction of the Maine was due to the carelessness and lack of discipline on board.

Such was not the case, however. No sailor on the Maine carried matches. He lit his pipe at the smoking lamp, and he only smoked during those times that the smoking lamp was lit. He never dared to go below decks with a lighted pipe. If he had, Jimmy Legs would have had him aft at the stick, and the executive officer would have deprived him of shore leave for a month at least.

The smoking lamp is constructed upon the same lines as a lantern, but the globe is made of sheet iron instead of glass. In the side there is a small round hole through which Jack may stick his pipe in order to catch the flame. It is the duty of the ship's cook or one of his assistants to light the lamp when the word is given by the proper officer, who is generally the chief boatswain's mate. He in turn gets his orders from the officer of the deck.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

All parties favourable to the cause of Prohibition, who can assist in the way of work and furnishing conveyances for polling day will please leave their names and addresses with the Secretary, Water Street, next to Mrs. Appleby's store.

THE BRIDGEPORT MYSTERY.

The Police Have Caused an Arrest—Another Identification.

Bridgeport, Conn., Sept. 22.—For the first time since the discovery of the dismembered portions of a woman in the Yellow Mill Pond on the afternoon of Sept. 12 the police have shown their hand, but the result has been so startling that it is believed that the mystery is about to be solved.

Superintendent of Police Birmingham is positive that the dead girl is Emma Gill, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gill of Southampton, and acting under instructions from him Detective Smith of Hartford arrested in that city yesterday morning Walter C. Foster of Hartford for alleged complicity in the girl's death. The identification that thoroughly satisfied the police that they had at last reached the solution of the mystery was made by a brother of the murdered girl.

When her brother reached here, accompanied by a companion, he went at once to police headquarters and was immediately admitted to the office of the chief and then the entire party proceeded to the morgue. AN EMPEROR RESIGNS

China's Affairs in the Hands of the Dowager Empress.

SON OF HEAVEN REPORTED DEAD

Li Hung Chang Will Probably Be Recalled and Russian Influence Will Be Supreme—British Interests Bound to Suffer—The Mission of Japan's Envoy, Marquis of Ito.

Pekin, Sept. 23.—An Imperial edict just issued definitely announces that the Emperor of China has resigned his power to the Empress (dowager Empress), who has ordered the Ministers to deliver to her, in future, their official reports.

EMPEROR WAS TOO PROGRESSIVE

Therefore His Wings Were Clipped—His Adviser Had to Flee.

Pekin, Sept. 23.—It is difficult to obtain reliable information at the Palace in regard to the proceeding, but the recent reformatory edicts probably caused the change. While the Emperor was subservient, and a mere figurehead, the Dowager Empress permitted him to remain in peace, but so soon as he attempted to act on his own initiative his practical deposition was the result. His principal advisor, Kang Yumei, the Cantonese reformer, fled in spite of the vigorous attempts made to arrest him, and it is said he is now on his way to Shanghai

LATE EMPEROR AND WIFE.

The effect of the change must be great, and in all probability Li Hung Chang will be reinstated in power and Russian influence will increase. The hopes of reform so ardently cherished by the intelligent factions of the Chinese are now impossible of fulfilment. The suddenness of the coup is said to be due to the desire of the Dowager Empress to prevent the mission of the Marquis Ito from being successful. The Japanese statesman recently came to Pekin with the object of trying to bring about an alliance offensive and defensive between Japan and China.

Will Prejudice British Interests.

The new order of things will undoubtedly prejudice British interests in China. It is reported that the next edict will give the full reasons for the change. The wording of the present edict is not yet obtainable, but it is in effect that the Emperor requested the Dowager Empress to assume power, this being the third time the request has been made. The Marquis Ito, in an interview before the edict was issued, said the Emperor received him yesterday in the most cordial manner, and said he hoped to have the advantage of the advice of the Marquis in the reforms which His Majesty intended to undertake. The Marquis even then feared that the inaction and conservatism of the Chinese officials would nullify the reforms, although he believed the Emperor was acting in good faith.

Son of Heaven Reported Dead.

Shanghai, Sept. 23.—A local rumor is current here to the effect that the Emperor of China is dead. No details are obtainable, but it is said the gates of Pekin are closed.

Wild Rumors Afloat.

London, Sept. 23.—The Daily Mail's Pekin correspondent, telegraphing Wednesday, says:

"The Dowager Empress is greatly incensed over Russia's passivity over Li Hung Chang's degradation and Sir Claude Macdonald's attitude since Li Hung Chang's fall. She has granted to M. Pavloff, the Russian Charge d'Affaires, several lengthy audiences. Probably Li Hung Chang will return to power, but not to office. The wildest rumors are afloat. It is reported that the Emperor has had altercations with the Tsung Li Yamen and the Dowager Empress."

A German Rumor.

Berlin, Sept. 23.—The Zanzibar correspondent of the Frankfurter Zeitung records the prevalent belief existing that England will cede Zanzibar to Germany in return for German concessions regarding Delagoa Bay.

Ceded to the Russians.

London, Sept. 23.—A despatch to the Globe from Hong Kong, published yesterday afternoon, purports to give details of the secret convention signed at Pekin on March 27. It appears that Hau Ying Kiouei of the Chinese Foreign Office thereby concluded an agreement with St. Petersburg by which China ceded Port Arthur and Ta Lien Wan, stipulating that only Russian and Chinese warships enter or dock at Port Arthur.

Russia, it also appears, gets the exclusive use of the inner harbor of Ta Lien Wan, the sole administration of the ceded territories, and a tract of land north of Ta Lien Wan is designated as a buffer-belt.

Aguinaldo's Peace Commissioners.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 23.—Among the passengers on the steamer China from Hong Kong were Filopo Agoncillo and Jose Lopez, who are going to Washington as representatives of Aguinaldo. After a short stay at Washington the two men will proceed to Paris to attend the meeting of the Peace Commission.

Britain to Hold the Khyber.

London, Sept. 23.—There is a growing belief in Indian circles here that the Khyber Pass, the principal northern pass from Afghanistan into India, will probably be taken possession of by Great Britain.

It is doubtful whether Mrs. Curzon, wife of the newly appointed Viceroy of India, will be able to accompany her husband to India, the delicate state of her health making it desirable for her to remain in England for the present.

Alfred James Dyer, the first workingman to hold the office of magistrate in England, died at Southampton yesterday. He was formerly editor of the Hampshire Independent and the intimate friend of Charles Dickens.

GEN. AUGUSTI TALKS.

The Spanish General on the Philippine Situation—Fleet Was Composed of Old Wooden Ships.

Madrid, Sept. 23.—General Augusti, the former Captain-General of the Philippine Islands, who has just arrived at Vittoria, Spain, from Manila, in an interview remarked: "Before I left Spain I knew the situation in the Philippine Islands was grave. Senor Moret, the Minister of the Colonies in the last Cabinet of Senor Sagasta, remarked to me that if war with the United States broke out there would be a terrible state of things."

Continuing, General Augusti, described Admiral Montejo's fleet as "some old wooden ships," and said they came to Manila practically pursued by Dewey. He then said: "Our batteries fired at the Americans, but our guns were mounted on false plates, and, after the first shots, they became useless. At daybreak we were in the power of the Americans, and an hour afterwards the Spanish fleet had ceased to exist. Dewey summoned me to surrender. I refused and he threatened to raze the town. I replied: 'Raise it, but so long as I live the Spanish flag will float on the ruins of Manila.'

"Then began the terrible time of the siege and the anguish of the blockade. Famine stared us in the face. In the meantime hostilities were conducted throughout the provinces, but, save in isolated cases, humanely.

"Dewey repeated his summons to surrender and I again refused. Dewey then bombarded the town and Manila surrendered. I think I have done my duty as a soldier and a Spaniard."

MATTERS IN CRETE.

Admiral Noel Gives the Mussulmans More Time and Warns Christians.

Candia, Crete, Sept. 23.—Realizing the difficulties attending compliance with his demand for the surrender of the arms of the Mussulmans, Admiral Noel has extended the time for turning over of their arms to him.

The Christians have kept the letter of their promise not to attack the Moslems, but they have begun to devastate the olive groves owned by Mussulmans. Admiral Noel has warned them to desist. The Russian Admiral has suggested the disarmament of all the Cretans throughout the island.

Thieves Put a Woman on Ice.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—The wife of John Powers was in charge of her husband's saloon when robbers entered and announced their business. Mrs. Powers did not show any desire to hand over her money and it was necessary to choke her into submission. Then she was hustled to a big refrigerator and thrown in. Her husband returned and gave an alarm. The men escaped while keeping him covered with a revolver. One of the robbers wore a soldier's uniform.

TWO CHARGES PROVED

So Judges in North Waterloo Election Trial Announce.

CONSERVATIVES ARE DEPRESSED

George Wessler, a Constable, Received Two Dollars From Mr. Eden—There Was Treating After Meetings—The Evidence of This in Brief—Money Was Paid to Others.

Berlin, Sept. 23.—The North Waterloo election protest, which was expected to last some time, was rushed through in a few hours yesterday. According to Mr. Justice Rose's announcement from the bench he and Mr. Justice MacMahon hold that two charges of bribery have been clearly proved. Judgment is reserved on the treating charges. If judgment on the treating questions is against the respondent no further arguments will be necessary. The Liberals of Berlin and the remainder of the riding are highly delighted with the result of the trial, while the Conservatives are correspondingly depressed. When the court opened at 1 o'clock with their Lordships Justices Rose and MacMahon on the bench, the court room was crowded by witnesses and friends of the opposing candidates in the election held on March 1 last. No time was lost in opening the proceedings. Mr. E. F. B. Johnston, Q.C., and Mr. James C. Haight appeared for the petitioner, and Mr. A. B. Aylesworth, Q.C., and Mr. W. D. McPherson appeared for the respondent, Dr. Lackner, the successful candidate in the election.

Edmund Shantz the first witness examined by Mr Johnston, had some drinks at Grasser's Hotel, Bridgeport, after the meeting was over, which was held in the hall of the hotel. To Mr. Aylesworth he would not swear who ordered the drinks, but thinks Steiss and Janzen ordered them; did not see Dr. Lackner order any drinks; am a Reformer.

J. H. Zinkann was also present at meeting in question, and after the adjournment all went to the hotel; saw two treats going on; Steiss called for the drinks for the crowd; left Grasser's for Albert's Hotel, where we had one drink; Dr. Lackner was there; saw no money paid in for drinks that night; no one was trying to influence my vote; am a Reformer.

Roland Weber was present at Dr. Lackner's meeting; repaired to the bar with the rest after the meeting was over; had a drink with my partner, which I paid for; heard the drinks called for the crowd, but don't know who ordered them; left for my father-in-law's, Albert's Hotel, where I tend bar; several drinks were served, but don't remember who ordered or paid for them; don't remember seeing Dr. Lackner.

John Grasser, hotelkeeper, remembered the evening of the meeting in his hall; J. M. Scully treated the crowd. Before Scully left to attend another meeting at Bloomingdale, he told me to treat the boys well, and he would pay me, which he did when he came back. Scully never had left orders of this kind before at my hotel.

This closed the evidence on charge No. 1, and Mr. Johnston arose and submitted parallel cases to prove corrupt practices.

Mr. Aylesworth contended that the drinking which took place after the meeting was not a treating of the meeting, but a treating of some of those who were at it, and on the part of Mr. Scully.

The next witness was John Mackie. Was present at the meeting of Dr. Lackner at Winterbourne; Lackner and Eden spoke; Mr. Scully was also present; after the meeting the crowd went to Brohman's Hotel; Eden paid for drinks; Dr. Lackner drank with the crowd.

Other evidence of a similar nature respecting the treating after the meeting was adduced, when the charges of bribery were taken up. George Wessler swore that he got $2 from John Eden, through the treasurer. William Ross, at the latter's office. Other witnesses swore to having received different sums of money during the election.

Judgment was reserved. Argument will take place in Toronto.

NOT SO SERENE IN HAWAII.

The Congressional Commissioners Besieged by Contra Petitions and Memorials.

San Francisco, Sept. 23.—The steamship Alameda arrived yesterday from Honolulu, bringing news up to Sept. 14. The Congressional Commissioners were then finishing their work and expected to leave for Washington on Sept. 23.

The Commissioners are being deluged with petitions and memorials from the native Hawaiians. One faction desires the restoration of the Queen, while the other accepts the new order of things.

The natives who favor restoration, at a mass meeting on Sept. 12, adopted a memorial, which was presented to the Commissioners, alleging that the annexation treaty had failed and that the joint resolution was ineffective because it was not passed by the people of the Hawaiian Islands or the representative Legislature.

The memorial asks that the constitutional Government of Jan. 16, 1896, be restored under the protection of the United States.

The other faction of Hawaiians have presented a memorial asking for a territorial form of government, with full rights for the natives, and permission to make appropriations for ex-Queen Liliuokalani, Princess Kaiulani, and Queen-Dowager Kapiolani.

The Synod Meeting Closed.

Montreal, Sept. 23.—The Provincial Synod of the Church of England in the Ecclesiastical Provinces of Canada concluded its business yesterday, and adjourned to meet again in the same place at 2.30 o'clock on Wednesday, Sept. 11, 1901.

Essie Cudney of Galt Missing.

Toronto, Sept. 23.—Essie Cudney, whose parents live in Galt but who has a sister here, mysteriously disappeared on Farmers' Day of the Industrial Fair and has not been seen by one of her friends since. Her mother is prostrated with grief, and the police have been asked to locate her. She is 17 years of age.

LAKEFIELD HAS ITS USUAL GOOD SHOW

IN SPITE OF THE UNTOWARD WEATHER.

Usually Successful Exhibition—Large Increase of Entries—The Rain Held Off Till the Grounds Were Filled Notice of the Exhibits.

The annual exhibition at Lakefield Wednesday and Thursday did not apparently suffer from the change of date made in order to prevent conflicting with other exhibitions.

The energetic directors of the Smith, Ennismore and Lakefield Agricultural Society, though they are not often caught napping, were nevertheless caught in the rain, which, however, did not spoil their excellent exhibition, for the gate receipts showed an attendance equal to former years. However, the rain, which began falling falling about two o'clock, after the crowd had reached the grounds, prevented the carrying out of the special programme of speeding events as successfully and with as much enjoyment to the spectators as if dry weather had prevailed.

The exhibition was the usual annual success, in some respects better than that of last year. The number of entries was about one hundred more than last year, being 990.

In all departments except, perhaps, swine, and the different grains the exhibits were of a high quality and large in number. In sheep the competition was unusually keen in all classes. Lakefield and surrounding country has a taste for a good bit of horse-flesh, and the competition in agricultural and carriage horses was keen.

HORSES.

The principal exhibitors of horses, according to the several classes, were as follows:—

In Agricultural Horses the exhibitors were Gavin Preston, brood mare and foal; Geo Cockburn, span of horses in harness; Thos R Mann, span of horses in harness; Jos Trennum, mare and foal; John Fairbairn, two-year-old colt and brood mare, and foal and foal of '98; Milburn Bros, brood mare and foal and foal of '98; M Succee, pair of horses in harness; Wm Paul, span of horses in harness; G J Galvin, pair of horses in harness; Robert Garbutt, brood mare and foal and foal of '98; Fred Waldon, mare and foal; G W Mann, pair of horses in harness and year old colt; Fred McKee, pair of horses in harness; Samuel Wallace, pair of horses.

In Carriage Horses there was a fine entry list, the chief exhibitors being John Calder, single horse; McAllister Milling Company, span of horses and single horse; Fred McKee, single horse in harness; P C Sullivan, brood mare and foal; H W Scott, brood mare and foal; L G Steele, 1 year old colt; W A Hull, single horse under 15½, and road horse in harness; Fred Waldon, mare and foal; Robt Garbutt, mare and foal; Jas Blewitt, single horse in harness; H Garbutt, mare and foal, and single horse in harness; G W Fitzgerald, pair horses in harness; Jas Davidson, single horse in harness; W A McIntosh, single horse in harness; Fred Sweeting, single horse in harness; Peter Preston, single horse in harness; Wm. Abbott, pair horses in harness; S W McKibbon, single horse in harness; R H Little, single horse in harness; Thos Fitzgerald, single horse in harness; F E Kline, single horse in harness; Jas Hetherington, mare and foal; W McDonald, pair horses in harness and single horse; Milburn Bros, brood mare and foal; Hugh M Davidson, two year filly; Geo E Garbutt, pair carriage horses 15½ or over, and pair 15½ and under; Hattie Fitzgerald, single horse in harness; W H Down, two two year old colts; Geo Cockburn, brood mare and foal and two year filly; and Geo Allen, two year colt.

The exhibitors in the road horses and saddle class were Geo. Allen, one year colt; Gavin Preston, saddle horse; Geo. Cockburn, two-year filly; Thos R Mann, mare and foal; R Fairbairn, one-year colt; Milburn Bros, saddle horse; M Succee, three-year colt; Wm Bell, three-year colt; Wm Bell, three-year colt; S W McKibbin, yearling colt and two saddle horses; G J Galvin, saddle horse; Hayward & Co, saddle horse; John Preston, yearling colt and foal of 1898; W A Hall, brood mare and foal; G W Fitzgerald, mare and foal: H C Garbutt, H A Lempriere saddle, and horse, and Fred Walton, mare and foal.

CATTLE.

The show of cattle was not large, but several fine animals were on exhibition.

In Durhams, the principal exhibitors were: Robt Garbutt, J H Mann, H C Garbutt and Thos R Mann.

In Jerseys the exhibitors were Messrs J B Nelson, Jos Trennum, (7 heads) and T J Edmison.

In grade cattle the exhibitors were Isaac Watson, sr, A Fairbairn, H C Garbutt, John Fairbairn, Geo E Garbutt, W J White, W J Bullock, Ida E Bell, G J Galvin, Jos Trennum, Robt Garbutt and Fred Waldon.

SHEEP.

The competition in sheep was especially strong in some of the sections.

In Long Wool sheep the exhibitors were—Wm Abbott, E R Tate, Thos Fitzgerald, H M Davidson, H C Garbutt, W Forsythe (16 head) and A Fairbairn.

Short Wool sheep were represented by P C Sullivan, E R Tate, Fred Waldon, W Hall, W Forsyth.

PIGS.

In pigs the exhibitors were somewhat limited, though there were some excellent individual animals. The exhibitors were—W H Down, Thos R Mann, W Forsyth, R H Little and Fred Sweeting.

Poultry was very well represented, there being a large number of excellent coops.

THE INSIDE EXHIBIT.

Altogether the exhibit this year was up to the average of former years; better in some departmedts and not so good in others. Grains, though of good quality, were sparingly represented and the exhibit of cheese and dairy products were not up to the mark which a rich agricultural district should reach. Domestic manufactures were not large; owing, however to the early date of the exhibition as compared with former years, roots were hardly up to the mark.

THE SPECIAL PRIZES AND EVENTS.

The speeding racing was of course a centre of attraction, and although the rain came down with a will, yet the spectators pluckily braved the contributions of Jupiter Pluvius, and the equally plucky horsemen put their animals to the test in spite of the weeping clouds. The result of the special prizes was as below:

Span of agricultural horses in harness, 2,600 lbs. and over—Fred McKee, G J Galvin, Thos R Mann.

Span of agricultural horses in harness, under 2,600 lbs—Wm Hall, R Q Dench, Geo Cockburn.

Grafton's Special, for agricultural or general purpose horses, awarded—1, men's tweed suit, value $7 50, Gavin Preston; 2nd pair men's tweed trousers, value $2.50, Garet Galvin.

Span of horses in harness, 15½ hands and over—1st Wm Abbott, Lakefield; 2nd W J Bullock, Lakefield.

Span of horses in harness, under 15½ hands—1st Geo E Garbutt, 2nd McAllister Milling Co, 3rd G W Fitzgerald.

Single horse in harness, 15½ hands and over—1st McAllister Milling Co, 2nd Fred McKee, 3rd S W McKibbon.

SPECIAL EXHIBITS.

Among the special exhibits shown at the Fair extended reference is made to the following displays of merit:

THE LAKEFIELD CANOE WORKS.

The most interesting exhibit to canoe men was the excellent display of the products of the Lakefield Canoe Works. It consisted of one 15-foot longitudinal strip canoe, built of white cedar, fitted with patent silver-plated folding oar-locks, the invention of Mr. R. A. Strickland; one 15½ foot close rib and metallic joint canoe, built of cedar; one 20-foot "Klondike" special canoe, with patent bronze folding oar locks; and one very pretty dingey model, built after the celebrated Bombay pattern. There were also shown a number of handsome samples of paddles and oars, finished in a superior manner and made out of maple, butternut, spruce and pine. One paddle was especially worthy of note. It was curiously ornamented by a process known as poker burning, the etching being artistically executed with a platinum point.

The spectator is at once impressed with the skilful and artistic outlines of the canoes exhibited, their faultless construction, clever workmanship and superior finish. It was manifest to all that the Lakefield Canoe Works possess workmen of special experience, who are conversant with every skilful detail of canoe building, and who leave nothing lacking that is needful to ensure a perfect, light-water craft of the highest type.

In an interview with Mr. Robt. A. Strickland, the active business member of the Lakefield Canoe Works—who has been residing in London, England, during the past six years, but who has been back in his native home for some time in connection with important business matters—much of interest was learned of the origin and growth of the canoe-building interest in this canoe-loving locality. Mr. Strickland is the oldest Lakefield pioneer now living, having been only two years of age when his father became the first industrial settler nearly seventy years ago, and to whom the present prosperous village owes its growth.

"I made the first canoe," said Mr. Strickland, "that appeared on the waters of this section of country. It was a rude dug-out, or punt, hollowed out of a large log, with the assistance of Mr. Thos. Gordon, who was, at that time, employed by me as carpenter in building my residence, and it served a very useful purpose during its day and generation."

The growth of canoe building since that time was remarkably apparent by the excellent exhibit at this show. During Mr. Strickland's residence in England he has found time to interest some of the most influential people of London in Canadian-built canoes, with the result that within the past five years over 600 of the Lakefield Canoe Company's craft have been disposed of there. Lakefield has certainly made itself famous for canoe building. Mr. Strickland has introduced his canoes into almost all parts of the world. It was interesting to hear his story of his success in getting his first canoe into Africa. Anxious to procure a quantity of genuine African cedar direct from the very interior of the dark continent, he entrusted one of his canoes to a friend who was then operating in Africa, to be exchanged for some of this rare wood for canoe building. His friend succeeded in interesting an African chief in the canoe, for whom he received two great logs of this valuable wood. These were brought to England, shipped to Quebec and forwarded to Lakefield,

Notes on a Visit to the District—Story of the Rise and Decline of the Coe Hill Mines—An Arsenic Property—Opinion of an Authority.

(Belleville Intelligencer.)

On Sunday the visitors drove to Ormsby. A visit was paid to a claim near there, reputed to be valuable. The only mineral visible was pyrrhotite.

In the evening, sitting on the veranda of Mr. Stanlick's very comfortable little hotel, the visitors chatted about the present and future of North Hastings with Mr. C. S. Saunderson, local manager of the Anglo-American Iron Co. A few facts about Mr. Saunderson's company may be interesting Their headquarters are at Cleveland and their business is one of the most extensive in America. They own great mineral properties in different parts of the United States, are largely interested in Sudbury nickel, have just purchased great iron properties in Cuba, besides owning the C.O.R. and 80,000 acres of mining and timber lands in Hastings and Peterborough counties. Up to the present they have done very little mining, but they have shipped immense quantities of timber, and have paid out immense sums of money to the settlers for pulp wood and ties. On their lands is a great quantity of micaceous schist, containing a large proportion of garnets, and Mr. Saunderson believes this latter to be harder and of more commercial value than corundum.

Asked as to the reasons which had prevented the development of our north country he said that one great reason was that the country had been afflicted by a number of curb stone brokers whose only object was to dispose of properties at a profit. By means of persistent puffing and padded assays, they usually succeeded in selling properties at such prices that to work them at a profit was an impossibility. Newspapers had assisted these men by sending reporters through the district, whose only object was to fill columns with matter which would tickle the imaginations of their readers, and who were willing to listen to the stories of every oily tongued promoter instead of going to practical mining men for information.

The main difficulty, however, is the want of a proper process, suitable to the minerals found here, for the concentration of the ore, i.e. the separation of refuse from the pure mineral. There was no doubt that there was any quantity of minerals, but no process had yet been demonstrated which would enable his company to place them upon at a profit to themselves. "We are willing to pay any man as much as $5,000 a year who can come here and demonstrate to us that he can take even the low grade ore and convert into marketable products, and we would be satisfied with a small percentage on the outlay invested. We will supply, with any reasonable amount of money and hundreds, thousands, yes millions of tons of ore, if necessary to experiment with, the only condition being that he will give sureties that he will perform what he undertakes. We have had any number of men who alleged that they had such a process, but somehow or other they failed. Not long ago we spent $10,000 on an experiment on free milling gold quartz and received $400 returns and the rest of the money is in the tailings at the mill. On that account we insist upon security. At present we are negotiating with a Detroit firm who claim that they have a process by which the gold can be extracted. They claim to have experimented with the tailings of a North Hastings gold mine and to have realized $7 per ton. We should like to see some process for extracting the sulphur from the magnetite. We have millions of tons of iron ore on our properties, in fact I could take you back ten miles from here and show you a mountain of iron."

NOTES.

On the way home the visitors fell in with Mr. O. R. Sprague, Manager for the Sovereign Mining Co., of Toronto, and also for an American company. The former company are the owners of several promising claims in the vicinity of Malone, which are being developed. He showed some fine samples of free milling gold quartz and sulphurets containing gold.

Prof. Barlow of Toronto, and two students, Mr. Stephens of the Kingston School of Mines, and Mr. Ross of Toronto, on behalf of the Geological Survey of Canada, are working in Lake township.

Government Assayer Wells, when asked his opinion of what he had seen on the trip, said that he thought that Mr. Saunderson of the Anglo-American Co., was right when he said that the North Hastings ores required nothing but men of brains, with a technical knowledge and practical experience to place them upon the market. Mr. Wells would like to see some experiments on the separation of the sulphides from the magnetite of the Coe Hill iron ores. Such a separation would more than treble the value of the ore, and if Edison can make money out of a rock containing 8 per cent. magnetite, surely some process can be invented for a similar separation in the case of the Coe Hill ores.

HONEYMOON DISTURBED.

Couple From Michigan Followed to London, Ont., and Groom Arrested.

London, Ont., Sept. 23.—On Saturday a young couple registered at the Grigg House as Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Smith, Almont, Mich. They were well-dressed, good-looking and spent all their time in one another's society, and it was evident they were on their wedding tour. Yesterday afternoon Smith was taken to Port Huron in the custody of Detective Ryder of London and Sheriff Demorest of Lapeer County, Michigan, with the serious charges of burglary and forgery hanging over him. His weeping bride of a week accompanied him. Smith denies all knowledge of the crimes imputed to him, and says he is prepared to prove his innocence. He is a telegraph operator, and is well and favorably known to Almont and Lapeer. He is but 24 years of age. Mrs. Smith, who is completely prostrated by the arrest of her husband, is the daughter of a wealthy farmer, who owns 200 acres of land near Almont. The affair is likely to create a considerable sensation in Almont.

Buried In the Well Where He Died.

Speaking of strange and sad occurrences, none could be more remarkable than the death and burial of Charles Carter, a well known farmer residing near Russell. He was cleaning out an old well when the quicksand suddenly caved in on him, leaving only his head and chest exposed. When the alarm was given, hundreds of people assembled and went heroically to work to save their neighbor. It was found that nothing could be done toward removing the sand about Carter's body, so a parallel well was dug and a tunnel run from it into the old well, but even then the body could not be removed so closely was it grasped by the sands. It was found that a rope attached below Carter's arms would pull the body into parts without withdrawing its covered portion, and that method had to be abandoned. Carter was conscious and talked with his rescuers, but at the end of 58 hours he died. By this time an enormous crowd had gathered, and all sorts of plans were suggested for recovering the body, but finally it was determined to make the well the dead man's tomb, and it was filled up after religious services had been held upon its brink. The well was 48 feet deep, and perhaps no other Kansan ever found quite so strange a burial place.—Kansas City Journal.

BRIDGEPORT'S MYSTERY.

Emma Gill of Southington Said to Be the Victim—Dr. Nancy Guilford's Son Arrested.

Bridgeport, Conn., Sept. 23.—Chief of Police Birmingham said yesterday: "There is no reason to doubt any further that the mystery of the Yellow Mill Pond has been solved. The victim was, beyond the shadow of a doubt, Emma Gill of Southington.

"Her mother, we expect, will be here to-day to see the head and strengthen the identification. So will the dentist who looked after the girl's teeth. Outside of this, however, the identification is complete. Now, while we have Charles Plumb under arrest, I do not believe that he was implicated in the crime to any great extent, if at all. He may have known something about it, but not enough upon which we can hold him for anything."

Harry Guilford, son of Dr. "Nancy" A. Guilford, was arrested shortly before 3 o'clock yesterday. He was taken to the police station and locked up.

The Identity Established.

Bridgeport, Conn., Sept. 23.—At the inquest held yesterday afternoon by Coroner Doten it was fully established by relatives of Miss Emma Gill of Southington that the body found in Yellow Mill Pond, Sept. 12 and 13, was hers.

CONTRACT LET FOR MORE SEWER WORK.

PAVEMENT FOR THE SOUTH SIDE OF CHARLOTTE STREET.

The Chairman of the Street and Bridge Committee is Instructed to Remove all Trees and Poles From the Line of the Pavements.

A special meeting of the council was held last evening for the purpose of dealing with the sewer contract on section No. 5. Mayor Davis was in the chair, the members present being Messrs. Denne, Dawson, McWilliams, Best, J. M. White and W. H. White.

THE SEWERAGE COMMITTEE,

through its chairman, Councillor Best, reported as appended:

To the Mayor and Council of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Sewerage Committee beg leave to report as follows:

1 Your Committee advertised for tenders for the construction of sewers on Charlotte street from Aylmer to Park streets, on Hunter street, from Belmont avenue to Reid street, on Belmont avenue, from Homewood avenue to Hunter street, on Reid street, from Charlotte street to Hunter street, on Rubidge street, from Charlotte to Simcoe street, and on McDonsi street, from Water to Dickson street. Tenders were asked for construction, the town furnishing the pipe and cement, and also for construction and material. The following tenders were received:

	Construction only.	Whole work.
James Bogue	$3,583 38	$5,000 53
Connections, each	12 50	13 50
W J Gratt & Co	4,089 23	5,839 36
Connections, each	14 85	14 85
Clark & Connolly	4,451 20	5,854 20
Connections, each	13 90	16 20

2 Your committee recommend that the contract be given to James Bogue on his tender for construction and supplying all material, and that $300 additional be allowed him in the contract on account of an error in his tender in accordance with an amended tender submitted by him

3 Your committee also recommend that H LeBrun be permitted to connect with the Park street sewer, under the supervision of the Town Engineer, on the condition that he pay a proportionate tax on his Simcoe street frontage.

4. That the town engineer be instructed to make the assessment on Section 5, sewer contract, as soon as possible and return the assessment to the town clerk not later than Nov. 1st, next.

5. That the town engineer be instructed to deposit with the town clerk tracings of all sewer plans, including plans of details and showing sewer connections, etc., that have been used in connection with the sewers that have been constructed, and that have not already been furnished, and that in future tracings of all plans drawn by the town engineer in connection with any town work shall be at once deposited in the clerk's office.

6. That thir committee be authorized to engage the best inspector for the sewer work that can be procured.

7. That a cheque for $235.71 be issued to the Ontario Sewer Pipe Co. in settlement in full to date.

All of which is respectfully submitted.
H. BEST,
Chairman.

Councillor W. H. White objected to Mr. Bogue being allowed to change the figures in his tender after it had been accepted and the figures of the other tenders made known. He did not think it was business for the council to permit a change to be made. A bad precedent was being set.

Councillor McWilliams explained that this mode was adopted in preference to advertising for new tenders, which would take several weeks, thus delaying the work too long.

Councillor Best then introduced the by-law, formally awarding the contract to Mr. Bogue. It received its several readings and was passed.

THE STREET AND BRIDGE

Committee reported as follows through its chairman, Councillor Dawson:

To the Mayor and Council of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Street and Bridge Committee beg leave to report as follows:

1. Your committee recommend that the Street Inspector notify each company having poles on the street out from the sidewalk to move them into the sidewalk.

2. That a sidewalk be built east from Auburn footbridge out of old material, the work not to cost more than $10.

3. Your committee received offers for the iron work for the Sherbrooke street and Dalhousie street bridges as follows:
Hamilton Bridge Co—Dalhousie street bridge, $538; Sherbrooke street bridge, $415.
Dominion Bridge Co—Both bridges, $888.
The tenders were referred to a sub-committee for examination.
All of which is respectfully submitted,
ADAM DAWSON,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

Moved by Councillors Denne and Dawson, that the Street and Bridge Committee be authorized to arrange with the present contractors on the same terms as the present contract for granolithic pavement on the south side of Charlotte street, from George street to Bethune street, the contract to be let at the present time from George to Aylmer streets, when the petition is sufficiently signed.—Carried.

Councillor Denne moved that the town give the Dickson Company the broken stone and the iron girders for the London street bridge over the raceway.

It was pointed out that this matter was virtually in Councillor Dawson's hands already as chairman of the Street and Bridge Committee, to whom the request had been referred, when it was made by Mr. Richard Hall for the Company.

Councillor Denne inquired whether it was the intention of the Council to allow the contractors to construct the pavement on Charlotte street around the trees and posts. He was of the opinion that the trees in growing would tend to upheave the pavement.

Councillor McWilliams stated that the trees would eventually die anyway if surrounded by the granolithic and thought they should be removed before the pavement was constructed.

Councillors Dawson and Best moved that the chairman of the Street and Bridge Committee have power to order the removal of all trees and poles in the line of the pavement.—Carried.

Moved by Councillors McWilliams and Denne that the matter of employing an inspector of sewers be left in the hands of the chairman of the Sewerage Committee.—Carried.

A thoroughly competent man, well recommended by the Toronto Sewerage Engineers, will be communicated with at once.

Councillor W. H. White complained that the residents of the south end were walking in mud on George street near Dalhousie street, the sidewalk having been removed in front of the new Ackerman building and the new pavement not yet constructed.

The matter will be attended to as soon as the contractors have dumped the remainder of their material there.

To-morrow Night's Attraction.

"Under the Dome," one of the season's most successful plays, with its huge scenic and mechanical effects, will occupy the stage of the Opera House to-morrow night. It contains some remarkable scenes, notably the much-talked-of hurricane scenes, showing the beautiful coral reef harbour at Apia before the storm of March 15th, 1889. A view of the storm as seen from the consul's house late in the afternoon, a view of the shore at night during the storm, and the magnificent struggle of the Trenton against wind and wave. Another scene scarcely less worthy of mention is the perfect reproduction of a ferry boat trip from Jersey City to New York. Other scenes show the capitol at Washington, illuminated, and several familiar Washington localities. The interpeting company is a good one. Seats are now on sale.

—For lowest prices on peachs visit the "Spot Cash" to-day.

BOARD OF TRADE EXCURSION.

Those Who Took in the Trip Over the T. V. C. Route.

On account of the rain the Board of Trade excursion over the Trent Valley Canal route to Balsam Lake, via. Lindsay, was not as well patronized this morning, as it would otherwise have been.

About fifty or sixty citizens embraced the opportunity of seeing the northern portion of the canal, with which they are not so well acquainted as with the works in this vicinity. It was expected that a large number would join the party at Lindsay.

STREET OBSTRUCTION.

Pavement Contractors Do Not Take the Precaution of Hanging Out Danger Signals.

The fact that the pavement contractors or their employees do not place lights at night near the obstructions which they leave on the street is causing considerable comment, and instructions were issued last evening to the Street Inspector to see that this precaution be taken in future.
